Guy,

I have left a voicemail for you and would appreciate a call to discuss the current status of the neonicotinoid issue.

It has been relayed to me from one of our country teams that a key MS is now considering the alternative proposal but needs assurance from the UK that they also back the position as it is set out.

I hope that we can discuss today given the time line and the importance of the outcome of this vote for Britain's farmers.

My number is - [redacted]

Regards,
