Note on methodology

Candidates originally stood for election in one of eight current RSC regions. In order to provide members for nine new advisory boards, successful candidates were allocated in two stages.

First, the four highest polling candidates in the current eight-region structure were placed on one of the new nine advisory boards, according to the location of their academy (or majority of academies).

Where this distribution meant that a new advisory board had more than four successful candidates, the additional member(s) will be ‘appointed’ to the board rather than elected. This includes Mark Farmer (Bridge Academy Trust) in the East of England and Rowena Hackwood (Astrea Academy Trust) in Yorkshire and the Humber. All advisory board members have equal standing.

Second, any remaining elected places were filled by the next highest polling candidates within the new region’s boundaries.

This ensures that all new board members have appropriate local knowledge and experience, relative to the new regional boundaries.

All candidates have accepted the place offered.
Annex A – voting information

A total of 9,786 academies were eligible to vote.

2,517 academies voted, with 5,751 votes received (each academy had up to four votes each, with no more than one vote per candidate).

The table below sets out a full breakdown of this information by region.
