You can have up to a maximum of four Advanced Learner Loans. If your courses start on or after 1 August 2016, you can take all of your loans at the same time.

For A levels, you can apply for up to four loans to cover the cost of your A level programme. However, if your A levels are undertaken by studying AS learning aims followed by A Levels, you can also apply for up to four loans for the AS learning aims. This means you can get up to 8 loans to undertake your A level programme.

If you're unsure of your course details you should confirm these with your college or training organisation. If you give incomplete or incorrect information we will not be able to confirm you're studying an eligible course and won't be able to pay your college or training organisation until we have the correct details.

Please note, loans taken to cover the cost of your A Level programme, up to a maximum of eight, will be treated as one single loan from your maximum entitlement of four Advanced Learner Loans.

You should enter the total fee amount including VAT, if applicable, being charged by your college or training organisation for your course. This is shown on your Learning and Funding Information Letter.

6 your loan request

6.1 Loan amount

You can decide to take a loan to cover the full fee amount being charged, or choose to pay all or part of the fee yourself. It's important you consider your own circumstances and look into all options for paying for your course before choosing to take out this loan. You can get impartial money advice from Money Helper at www.moneyhelper.org.uk/en

The amount you can get depends on your course, the fees charged by your college or training organisation and maximum amounts set by the government.

The fee charged by your college or training organisation may be less than the maximum loan amount available for your course. In this case you'd only need a loan to cover the amount being charged. For example, if the government maximum for your course is £1000 but your college or training organisation is charging you £800, you can take out a loan for £800 to cover the fee being charged.

Usually, the minimum loan you can apply for is £300. If your college or training organisation is charging less than £300, you should complete your application and we'll work out your eligibility.
