The McCloud judgment and your LGPS pension

This factsheet summarises the McCloud judgment and changes the Government is making to the Local Government Pension Scheme (LGPS) in England and Wales.

The changes may affect you if:

- you were paying into the LGPS or another public service pension scheme before 1 April 2012
- you were also paying into the LGPS between 1 April 2014 and 31 March 2022
- you have been a member of a public service pension scheme without a continuous break of more than 5 years

What is the McCloud judgment? 2
How is the LGPS changing? 3
Am I affected? 4
What do I need to do? 7
Will my pension increase? 7
Do the changes affect me if I qualified for original underpin protection? 8
How can I find out more? 8
Key dates 9
What is the McCloud judgment?

When the Government reformed public service pension schemes in 2014 and 2015, transitional protections were introduced for older members. In December 2018, the Court of Appeal ruled that younger members of the judicial and firefighters’ pension schemes had been unlawfully discriminated against because the protections did not apply to them.*

This ruling is called the McCloud judgment, after a member of the Judicial Pension Scheme involved in the case. Because of the ruling, there will be changes to all public service pension schemes that provided transitional protection, including the LGPS.

The changes are called the McCloud remedy and are intended to remove the age discrimination found in the McCloud court case.

* Lord Chancellor and another v McCloud and others
Secretary of State for the Home Department and others v Sargeant and others [2018] EWCA Civ 2844
How is the LGPS changing?

In 2014, the LGPS changed from a final salary scheme (a pension based on your pay when you leave) to a career average scheme (a pension which builds up based on what you earn each year).

Older members who were closer to retirement were protected from the changes. This means when a protected member takes their pension, the benefits payable under the career average scheme are compared with the benefits that would have been built up, had the final salary scheme continued and they receive the higher amount. This protection is called the underpin.

To remove the McCloud age discrimination, qualifying younger members will now receive the underpin protection too. This change will come into force on 1 October 2023. Underpin protection only applies to pension built up in the remedy period, between 1 April 2014 and 31 March 2022. The underpin will have stopped earlier if you left the scheme or reached your final salary normal retirement age (usually 65) before 31 March 2022.

From 1 April 2022, there is no underpin protection. Pension built up after this date is based on the career average scheme only.
Am I affected?

You will qualify for underpin protection if:

- You were a member of the LGPS or another public service pension scheme before 1 April 2012,
- You were a member of the LGPS at any time between 1 April 2014 and 31 March 2022 and some or all of this membership was before your final salary normal retirement age (usually 65), and
- You do not have a disqualifying gap. A disqualifying gap is a continuous period of more than five years when you were not a member of a public service pension scheme.

If you have more than one period of LGPS membership, you do not have to join up or ‘aggregate’ these memberships to qualify for underpin protection.

If you have membership of another public service pension scheme before 1 April 2012, you will not have to transfer that membership to the LGPS to qualify for underpin protection.

You may qualify for underpin protection if you were a member of the LGPS or another public service pension scheme before 1 April 2012 and were a member of the LGPS at any time between 1 April 2014 and 31 March 2022.
You will also be protected if you join the LGPS after 1 April 2022 and transfer in membership from another public service pension scheme if you:

• Qualify for McCloud protection in the previous public service pension scheme rules, and
• You do not have a disqualifying break.

You can use the tool on the next page to see if the changes could affect you.
The McCloud judgment and your LGPS pension

Were you paying into the LGPS or another public service pension scheme before 1 April 2012?

- Yes
  - You are not affected

- No
  - You are not affected

Were you paying into the LGPS in the remedy period (1 April 2014 to 31 March 2022)?

- Yes
  - Have you had a disqualifying gap?
    - Yes
      - You are not affected
    - No
      - Were you under 65* during some or all of the remedy period?
        - Yes
          - You are not affected
        - No
          - Have you had a disqualifying gap?
            - Yes
              - You are not affected
            - No
              - Have you retired or are you planning to retire before October 2023?
                - Yes
                  - After 1 October 2023, your pension fund will work out whether the pension you built up in the remedy period would have been higher in the final salary scheme. If so, you'll receive an addition to your existing pension.
                - No
                  - When you take your pension, your pension fund will check whether the pension you built up in the remedy period would have been higher in the final salary scheme. If it would have been, you'll receive an addition to your pension.

- No
  - You are not affected

* Or under 60 if you had a protected normal retirement age in the final salary scheme of age 60.
† If you were a member of another public service pension scheme between 1 April 2015 and 31 March 2022, and you have transferred that membership to the LGPS, you will be protected.
What do I need to do?

You do not need to do anything. If you qualify for underpin protection, your pension fund will work out if an addition is due to be paid to you when you take your pension. If you have already retired, your pension fund will work out if you are due an addition to your existing pension. They will do this as soon as they can after 1 October 2023.

Will my pension increase?

This depends on the pension that you have built up when you take your pension. You don’t need to do anything – your pension fund will work out whether you are due any additional pension.

Many members won’t see an increase because the pension they build up in the career average scheme will be higher than what they would have built up in the final salary scheme.
Do the changes affect me if I qualified for original underpin protection?

If you already qualified for protection under the original rules for protection, your pension fund will work out if you are due an addition to your existing pension. They will do this as soon as they can after 1 October 2023.

How can I find out more?

This factsheet doesn’t cover all circumstances or provide a detailed explanation of the McCloud remedy, which will be set out in legislation. For more information on how the McCloud remedy may affect you, contact your pension fund. Contact details for all LGPS funds are available here: www.lgpsmember.org/contact-your-fund

For further information on how the McCloud remedy may affect you, please contact your pension fund.
Key dates

1 April 2012
Members in the LGPS or another public service pension scheme before this date may be in scope of protection

1 April 2014
The LGPS changes from a final salary scheme to a career average scheme

1 October 2023
The LGPS McCloud remedy regulations become law. Qualifying members’ pensions will be reviewed from this date onwards

1 April 2024 to 31 March 2022
The remedy period, during which underpin protection may apply for qualifying members

1 April 2022
The underpin protection ends, and all LGPS members build up their pension on a career average basis without underpin protection

31 August 2025
Annual benefit statements issued by this date will include information about underpin protection for all qualifying members