DATA PROTECTION ACT 1998 – SUBJECT ACCESS APPLICATION

How to apply for access to information held on the Police National Computer (PNC)

This form should be used to obtain a copy of your conviction history record. By completing this form you will receive a list of criminal convictions, cautions, juvenile reprimands and final warnings or a letter confirming that no information is held. If you require access to other information that may be held about you on any other police records system please contact the Data Protection Office at your local police force for further assistance or view the data protection pages on their website. This will enable the force to coordinate your request and to ensure that you only pay the maximum £10 fee for the information.

Please Read These Instructions Carefully - Your rights
You have a right to be told whether any information is held about you and a right to a copy of that information, unless certain exemptions apply. This must be provided to you within 40 calendar days. You will be provided with that information only if you have provided satisfactory proof of your identity.

Chief Constable’s rights
The provisions of the Data Protection Act mean that in certain circumstances some personal data will not be provided. For example you will not be provided with personal data if releasing it to you would be likely to prejudice a criminal investigation, and we may not provide you with information that identifies other individuals. The information you provide on this form will be used for processing your request and for any other policing purpose.

Requests for information for Employment purposes
ACRO does not provide PNC disclosures for employment vetting purposes. If you require a disclosure for employment purposes, please contact Disclosure Scotland on: 0800 609 6006 or via their website www.disclosurescotland.co.uk Currently, certain employers, loss adjusters and other organisations exploit the subject access process by requiring individuals to use it to obtain a copy of their criminal convictions (or evidence that there is nothing held) as part of recruitment, insurance claims or emigration processes. This process is contrary to the spirit of Section 7 of the Data Protection Act 1998 which allows individuals to access information held about themselves for their own purposes. This practice will become an offence once section 56 of the Data Protection Act 1998 is enacted.

Applications for the purpose of employment with Children, the Elderly or the Vulnerable should be directed to the Criminal Records Bureau via a registered body.

Requests for Information for immigration purposes
If you need a Visa to travel to Australia, Belgium, Canada, New Zealand, South Africa or the United States of America you will need to apply for a Police Certificate. Applications should be made to ACRO by visiting the following website: www.acpo.police.uk or by calling tel: 0845 60 13 999 (Mon-Fri 8.30-22.00) or acro.policecertificates@acro.pnn.police.uk. If calling from outside the UK, please call +44 1962 871111. If you require a disclosure for immigration to a country other than those listed above you should contact the relevant Embassy or High Commission for advice regarding whether an ACRO Police Certificate is acceptable.

Third Party Applications
ACRO can only supply your personal data to you. Should you be making an application on behalf of any other person (third party), please ensure you enclose an original letter of authorisation from that individual (the person who the information is about). Please also ensure that this individual has signed the application form and provided their identification documents.
