PILOT Forward Work Plans

Department of Energy &
Climate Change

The Department of Energy & Climate Change and Oil & Gas Industry purchasers (Operators and Contractors) have engaged with Achilles FPAL to provide an opportunity for forward work plans relating to potential business opportunities within the UK upstream sector.

Benefits of the work plans:

- Help provide an indication of future activity by participating Purchasers
- Act as a planning aid to help facilitate potential business opportunities for the supply chain
- Support the Supply Chain Code of Practice in communicating opportunities to the supply chain

Achilles FPAL is a community used by major buying organisations within the Oil & Gas sector. It enables the oil & gas sector to use Achilles' proven supplier pre-qualification system to identify, pre-qualify and assess suppliers for tender opportunities and minimise risk within their supply chains.

Providing a Forward Work Plan on Achilles FPAL website provides a window of opportunity to the Supply Chain and encourages suppliers to be proactive in seeking opportunities that they can provide for. This encourages the relevant suppliers to tender for work with major Operators and Contractors (purchasers/buyers) in the Oil and Gas Industry.

Forward Work Plans complements the annual Share Fair which is held in November at Aberdeen Exhibition and Conference Centre and participation in this initiative is a key part of the tiered compliance award for the Supply Chain Code of Practice.

If you want to add a new plan for the first time or update an existing plan then please contact craig.thompson@achilles.com or Telephone 01224 337528.

As a Purchaser you too can illustrate your contract opportunities in a Forward Work Plan.

The Forward Work Plans are a key part of the Supply Chain Code of Practice in demonstrating a Purchasers commitment to compliance with the code and operating a fair and ethical system in supply chain practice. All signatories of the code who are Operators or Contractors with a spend above £100 million in the supply chain must publish their plan on FPAL to achieve any of the industry compliance awards;

The following organisations have provided their forward work plans until the following dates and are published in this booklet (we have also illustrated their compliance award as above which also includes other criteria set out by the code of practice and more information on the compliance criteria can be found via contact details on the back page of this brochure):
