CONSTITUTION OF THE INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR MIGRATION¹

THE HIGH CONTRACTING PARTIES

RECALLING the Resolution adopted on 5 December 1951 by the Migration Conference in Brussels,

RECOGNIZING that the provision of migration services at an international level is often required to ensure the orderly flow of migration movements throughout the world and to facilitate, under the most favourable conditions, the settlement and integration of the migrants into the economic and social structure of the country of reception, that similar migration services may also be required for temporary migration, return migration and intra-regional migration, that international migration also includes that of refugees, displaced persons and other individuals compelled to leave their homelands, and who are in need of international migration services, that there is a need to promote the co-operation of States and international organizations with a view to facilitating the emigration of persons who desire to migrate to countries where they may achieve self-dependence through their employment and live with their families in dignity and self-respect, that migration may stimulate the creation of new economic opportunities in receiving countries and that a relationship exists between migration and the economic, social and cultural conditions in developing countries, that in the co-operation and other international activities for migration the needs of developing countries should be taken into account, that there is a need to promote the co-operation of States and international organizations, governmental and non-governmental, for research and consultation on migration issues, not only in regard to the migration process but also the specific situation and needs of the migrant as an individual human being,

that the movement of migrants should, to the extent possible, be carried out with normal transport services but that, on occasion, there is a need for additional or other facilities, that there should be close co-operation and co-ordination among States, international organizations, governmental and non-governmental, on migration and refugee matters, that there is a need for the international financing of activities related to international migration,

¹ The present text incorporates into the Constitution of 19 October 1953 of the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration (former designation of the Organization) the amendment adopted on 20 May 1987 and which entered into force on 14 November 1989.

DO HEREBY ESTABLISH

the INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR MIGRATION, hereinafter called the Organization, and ACCEPT THIS CONSTITUTION.

Chapter I

PURPOSES AND FUNCTIONS

ARTICLE 1

1. The purposes and functions of the Organization shall be:

 - (b) to concern itself with the organized transfer of refugees, displaced persons and other individuals in need of international migration services for whom arrangements may be made between the Organization and the States concerned, including those States undertaking to receive them;
 - (c) to provide, at the request of and in agreement with the States concerned, migration services such as recruitment, selection, processing, language training, orientation activities, medical examination, placement, activities facilitating reception and integration, advisory services on migration questions, and other assistance as is in accord with the aims of the Organization;
 - (d) to provide similar services as requested by States, or in co-operation with other interested international organizations, for voluntary return migration, including voluntary repatriation;
