1. Foreword

1.1 Statutory Background

The Scotland Act 1998 conferred upon the Secretary of State for Scotland the power to make by Order provisions as to the conduct of elections for membership of the Scottish Parliament. Under this power the Secretary of State made the Scottish Parliament (Elections etc) Order 1999 which provided for the making of regulations to set out the range and scale of fees and expenses which will apply to elections to the Scottish Parliament. Subsequently, the Secretary of State made the Scottish Parliamentary Elections (Returning Officers' Charges) Order 1999 which came into force on 12 April 1999.

In preparation for the second elections to the Scottish Parliament in May 2003, the Secretary of State made the Scottish Parliament (Elections etc) Order 2002 which consolidated amendments made to the legislation since 1999. This Order also provided for the making of regulations to set out the range and scale of fees and expenses which will apply to elections to the Scottish Parliament. Subsequently, the Secretary of State made the Scottish Parliamentary Elections (Returning Officers' Charges) Order 2003 which came into force on 22 January 2003.

In preparation for the third elections to the Scottish Parliament in May 2007, the Secretary of State made the Scottish Parliamentary Elections (Returning Officers' Charges) Order 2007 which came into force on 24 April 2007.

1.2 History of the Account

The account came into effect in February 1999 in order to provide the necessary funding for Returning Officers to conduct the first elections to the Scottish Parliament held on 6 May 1999 and subsequent Scottish Parliament Elections. The elections are financed from the Scottish Block and funds are drawn as required to provide sufficient advances for necessary preparations to be put in hand. Other calls on the account are made by the payment of postal charges to Royal Mail for the delivery of poll cards, the free election material permitted under the Representation of the People legislation, and payments for printing and storage of election stationery. Finally, when Returning Officers' accounts have been approved, any outstanding balances are received or disbursed as appropriate.

The Scotland Office Finance and Elections Team actively encouraged Returning Officers to submit outstanding Scottish Parliament Election Accounts timeously, which has resulted in all outstanding 2007 Scottish Parliament Election accounts being settled by 31 March 2009.

1.3 Main Areas of Receipts and Payments

Most of the payments in 2008-09 were final settlements to Returning Officers in relation to the 2007 Scottish Parliament Election in May 2007 which totalled £750,581.09. A payment of £77,079.14 was paid in relation to the final settlement of a 1999 Scottish Parliament Election account and a payment of £30,741.73 was paid in respect of a Scottish Parliament by-election. A transfer of £500,000 was also undertaken between the Scottish Parliament Election account and the UK and European Election account to cover the costs of two Westminster By-elections in 2008. Monies returned to the Consolidated Fund in respect of bank interest for the 2007 election totalled £49,371.60.

The main areas of income were final settlements of £267,346.86, refunds of surplus advances of £25,633.09 and bank interest of £50,626.42.

2. Statement of Accounting Officer's Responsibilities

Under the Government Resources and Accounts Act 2000, HM Treasury has directed the Scotland Office to prepare a statement of accounts for each financial year in respect of Returning Officers' expenses for the Scottish Parliamentary elections. The accounts are prepared on a cash basis and must properly present the receipts and payments for the financial year and the balances held at year-end.

In preparing the accounts, the Accounting Officer is required to observe the Accounts Direction issued by HM Treasury, including the relevant accounting and disclosure requirements, and prepare the accounts on a going concern basis.

HM Treasury has appointed the Head of the Scotland Office as the Accounting Officer for the Scotland Office. His relevant responsibilities as Accounting Officer, including his responsibility for the propriety and regularity of the public finances for which the Accounting Officer is answerable, for the keeping of proper records and for safeguarding the Office's assets, are set out in Managing Public Money published by HM Treasury.

3. Statement on Internal Control

3.1 Scope of Responsibility

As Accounting Officer, I have responsibility for maintaining a sound system of internal control that supports the achievement of the policies, aims and objectives of the Scotland Office, whilst safeguarding the public funds and departmental assets for which I am personally responsible, in accordance with the responsibilities assigned to me in Managing Public Money.

3.2. The Purpose of the System of Internal Control

The system of internal control is designed to manage risk to a reasonable level rather than eliminate all risk of failure to achieve policies, aims and objectives; it can therefore only provide reasonable and not absolute assurance of effectiveness. The system of internal control is based on an ongoing process designed to identify and prioritise the risks to the achievement of departmental policies, aims and objectives, to evaluate the likelihood of those risks being realised and the impact should they be realised, and to manage them efficiently, effectively and economically. The system of internal control has been in place in the Scotland Office for the year ended 31 March 2009 and up to the date of approval of the accounts, and accords with HM Treasury guidance.

3.3 Capacity to Handle Risk

I acknowledge my overall responsibility for the effective management of risk throughout the Scotland Office.

Registers that identify, assess and set out mitigating actions to significant risks are in place across the Scotland Office and are regularly reviewed by the Office Management Group. Risk management is incorporated into the planning and decision making processes, with assessment of risk to business objectives documented, along with mitigating actions and reported on through risk registers and other means which are regularly reviewed and updated.

3.4 The Risk and Control Framework

As part of the Ministry of Justice (MoJ), the Scotland Office applies the Ministry's Risk Management Policy and Framework document and the key elements are maintained in the Scotland Office as follows:

- A formal process for identifying, evaluating, managing and reporting risk;
- A system of analysis and reporting that identifies risk to objectives, risk impact and likelihood, current and planned mitigating action and individual risk owners; and
- Formal programme and project management disciplines, incorporating procedures for the management of risk.

The other key elements in the MoJ control system, which are followed, are: regular management information, financial and administrative procedures including segregation of duties, and a system of delegation and accountability. In particular it includes:

- Approval by the Management Group of the business plans;
- Comprehensive budgeting systems with an annual budget which is reviewed and agreed by the Management Group;
- Regular reviews by the Management Group of periodic and annual financial reports prepared to indicate financial performance against the forecasts;
- Target setting to measure financial and other performance;
- A formal system of financial and other controls, consisting of core control checks with an auditable trail of evidence, and a review and reporting mechanism to provide assurances from Budget Managers, that internal controls are in place and operating effectively; and
- Business Continuity Plans, ensuring that key activities can continue effectively following a disruption continue to be developed and refined.

During the year the Cabinet Office introduced a new Security Policy Framework setting out universal mandatory standards for physical, personnel and information/data security across Government. This included a mandatory requirement to report on any significant control weaknesses in the annual Statement on Internal Control. The Scotland Office has undertaken a review of all the mandatory requirements and is either compliant or well under way to be compliant. There are no significant weaknesses, nor were there any breaches of information that were required to be notified to the Information Commissioner during the year.

3.5 Review of Effectiveness

As Accounting Officer, I have responsibility for reviewing the effectiveness of the system of internal control. My review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control is informed by the work of the internal auditors and the executive managers within the Office who have responsibility for the development and maintenance of the internal control framework, and comments made by the external auditors in their management letter and other reports. I have been advised on the implications of the result of my review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control by the Management Group and the Audit Committee and a plan to address weaknesses and ensure continuous improvement of the system is in place.

I confirm that all key controls identified as a result of an assessment of my key business risks, in addition to the following key financial areas, are in place for the following and have been applied:

- all expenditure / income has been recorded and properly spent / received with regard to propriety and regularity;
- the expenditure / income spent and received comply with law and regulations including those which provide the legal framework within which the Office conducts its activities;
- expenditure has been properly classified and transfers of expenditure between expenditure classifications have only been made in accordance with the Finance Manual;
- there have been no breaches of delegated financial authority;
- budgets are monitored regularly, comparing actual expenditure to forecasts, and variances reported upon;
- controls are in place to ensure that assets of the Office are safeguarded against unauthorised use or disposal;
- there are adequate control procedures in place to guard against fraud;
- there have been no breaches of the Finance Manual regarding hospitality and gifts;
- all losses and special payments have been reported, authorised and recorded in accordance with the Finance Manual; and
- all instances of loss resulting from a weakness in internal financial control have been reported and any necessary remedial action taken.
