Football-related arrests and football banning orders Season 2012-13

Statistical Commentary

During 2012-13 season the number arrests in connection with all international and domestic football (“regulated”) matches involving teams from, or representing, England and Wales was 2,456. This represents a slight increase of 4%, or 93 arrests, on the 2011-12 total – which was the lowest total on record. The general downwards trend in football-related arrests is continuing, although there remains a significant risk it will escalate if efforts to prevent and tackle football-related disorder are reduced.

The statistics cover all arrests designated in law under schedule 1 of the Football Spectators Act 1989 (as amended) reported by police to the Football Banning Orders Authority. This includes football specific offences (e.g. throwing missiles in a stadium, pitch encroachment) and a wide range of generic criminal offences committed in connection with a football match. This covers such arrests at any place within a period of 24 hours either side of a match. For the first time data was collated on a full season of football-related offence arrests made by British Transport Police (an additional 316 arrests). These arrests are included in Tables 7, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13.

Total attendance in excess of 39 million at regulated football matches. The total number of arrests represents less than 0.01% of the total, or 1 arrest for every 14,000 spectators.

During the season an average of less than 1 arrest made per match inside and outside of stadia (Premier League 1.90, Championship 1.13, League One 0.42, League Two 0.29).

No arrests at 75% of all regulated matches.

58% of all matches were police free – continuing to free up police resources to deal with local police and community priorities (police resources are utilised should it be necessary to make an arrest).

More than 100,000 English and Welsh club fans travelled to Champions League and Europa League matches outside of England and Wales. These 44 matches resulted in just 20 arrests of away fans.

The number of football banning orders decreased by 11% to 2,451 on 20th September 2013 from 2,750 on 9th November 2012. This includes 471 new banning orders imposed during the reporting period (589 orders imposed over a full 12 months). Orders are time limited and expiring all the time.

Statistics on football-related arrests and banning orders Season 2012-13

During the football season police Football Intelligence Officers submit a range of data, including arrest information, to the Football Banning Orders Authority (FBOA). FBOA also administer all football banning orders. Home Office collate and publish football-related arrest and banning order data annually.
