1. Foreword from the Minister of State for Business and Energy

On 31 July 2013, the Government launched a first stage consultation on updating the Assisted Areas Map for 2014-2020, in response to new European Commission guidelines on regional aid.

Assisted Area status allows small businesses and large enterprises in less economically advantaged locations to benefit from additional financial support under EU Regional Aid Guidelines. This support is offered to encourage business in these communities to grow, innovate and thrive.

It is important to stress though that regional aid is only one of the many ways in which we address areas of economic need across the country. In fact, many business support schemes do not depend on regional aid. Other types of funding are available aimed at tackling specific market failures that can occur regardless of geography, such as aid for R&D, risk capital, SME investments, training, or environmental protection.

In order to inform decisions about where regional aid can have the most impact, the Government sought local intelligence, as we believe that businesses and other local stakeholders should help set the strategic direction for their area. The responses we received to the first stage consultation have confirmed this belief. The assistance of local authorities, local enterprise partnerships and development agencies has helped identify those locations best placed to make an important contribution not only to their local economy, but also to UK growth.

Our priority is to secure the recovery and ensure sustainable growth in the economy. Updating the Assisted Areas Map for 2014-2020 delivers an opportunity to help rebalance the UK economy and drive sustainable growth. Rebalancing the economy is about spreading our success - both geographically and by sector - and supporting the world class industries we already have, as well as the new ones that we are developing.

The first stage consultation on updating the Assisted Areas Map ended on 30 September. The Government has carefully considered all the responses, and is grateful for the evidence which has helped shape the draft UK Assisted Areas Map. This document forms the second stage consultation, and contains our draft Map and Government's response to the first stage consultation. Over the next seven weeks, we will welcome your views on our conclusions and on the draft Map. The finalised Map will then be submitted to the Commission for approval in early spring 2014.

2. Introduction

1. This document sets out the Government's Response to the 2014-2020 Assisted Areas Map Consultation Stage 1: Common Principles and Local Intelligence (which ran between 31 July and 30 September 2013). It also includes the draft proposal for a new Assisted Areas Map for the period 2014-2020. Assisted Areas are those areas where regional aid can be offered to undertakings, typically businesses, under state aid rules.
2. The Government is consulting on the draft Map, which has been developed using: information submitted during Stage 1 of the Assisted Areas consultation; Government held intelligence on the potential to use regional aid to lever further investment and growth; and assessing economic need against a set of criteria. Stage 1 consulted on draft principles for defining the areas that should be included on the draft Map, and sought local intelligence and priorities on areas of economic opportunity and need. Local Enterprise Partnerships (LEPs) took the lead preparing responses in England, and Local Authorities (LAs) led on responses in Scotland and Wales. Almost 90% of respondents supported the Government's proposed principles for developing the draft Map¹. There was also widespread support for Government having localised the process for identifying economic opportunities for potential inclusion.
3. The draft Map has been developed in conjunction with both the Welsh Government and Scottish Government. The Government announced earlier this year that Northern Ireland should continue to benefit from 100% coverage for the medium term.
4. The purpose of this consultation is to seek views on the draft Assisted Areas Map, taking into consideration the Government's response to Stage 1 of the consultation, and the need to comply with the Commission's Regional Aid Guidelines. The closing date for responses to the Stage 2 consultation is Friday 7 February 2014.

3. Background to the Update of the Assisted Areas Map

The EU Regional Aid Guidelines

5. The new Regional Aid Guidelines² (RAG) were issued on 19 June 2013. The RAG is one part of a wider package of State Aid frameworks. All of these State Aid frameworks are being reviewed by the Commission through a 'State Aid Modernisation' programme which was launched in May 2012³. The modernisation programme aims to promote a more efficient use of public resources, ensuring that aid is well-designed and targeted, and fosters sustainable, smart and inclusive growth in a competitive internal market. Revision of the Procedural and Enabling Regulations, and the guidelines on Broadband and Regional aid, have been completed. Revision of the remaining guidelines, which includes those on Environmental and Energy aid; aid for Research & Development & Innovation and for Risk Capital, is on-going.
6. The new RAG will apply from 1 July 2014 to 2020, replacing the current RAG, due to expire on 30 June 2014. In line with the wider State Aid Modernisation process, the current RAG has been kept in force by the Commission for a further six months from its original expiry date of December 31st 2013. The 2014-2020 UK Assisted Areas Map must be drawn in accordance with the new RAG. The Stage 1 consultation provided a summary of the main changes from the current RAG.

Relevance to Growth Policy in the UK

7. The Government announced its 'Plan for Growth'⁴ in 2011, which included an objective to achieve sustainable and balanced growth that is more evenly distributed across the country and sectors. The Government wants to ensure that regional aid helps geographically and sectorally rebalance the economy, addresses local economic need, increases productivity and raises employment rates. In addition to the UK Government's Growth Plan, the Devolved Administrations - Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland - also have regional development plans.
8. The Government's approach to Industrial Strategy⁵ was announced in September 2012, and builds on the 'Plan for Growth'. It explores how the Government can work with the private sector to encourage economic growth. It analyses which industrial sectors could make the greater contribution to future economic growth and employment in the UK, and then considers which Government action could add most value. Sectors considered include parts of advanced manufacturing, including aerospace, automotive and life sciences. Manufacturing is considered particularly relevant to the granting of regional aid, given its capital intensive nature and its deep, sometimes local, supply chains.

Assisted Areas and Use of Regional Aid

9. Assisted Areas are those areas where regional aid can be offered to undertakings, typically businesses, under Commission state aid rules. In Great Britain the main examples of schemes offering regional aid are:

- Regional Growth Fund - operates in England and supports projects and programmes that are using private sector investment to create economic growth and sustainable employment.
 - Regional Selective Assistance - primary Scottish scheme under the RAG and is administered by Highlands and Islands Enterprise and Scottish Enterprise. Grants may be given in conjunction with support under other aid frameworks, for example R&D or skills and training.
 - Welsh Government Business Finance - offers discretionary financial support to eligible businesses in key business sectors and certain strategically important projects outside these. It helps fund capital investment, job creation, research, development and innovation and certain eligible revenue projects throughout Wales.
- Business Premises Renovation Allowance (BPRA) is predicated on Assisted Area status. It gives an incentive to bring derelict or unused properties back into use, by giving an initial allowance of 100% for expenditure on converting or renovating unused business premises in a disadvantaged area.
 - The Enhanced Capital Allowances permitted at some Enterprise Zones are reliant on Assisted Area status.

Parameters for the Draft 2014–2020 Map

10. Under the new RAG, the maximum proportion of the UK population covered by the Assisted Areas will be 27.05%, compared to 23.9% covered on the 2007-2013 Map.
11. The following UK NUTS areas will automatically qualify for Assisted Area status under the new RAG:
 - Cornwall and Isles of Scilly and West Wales and the Valleys. These areas qualify as 'a' areas under the RAG on grounds of having a GDP per capita of less than 75% of the EU average.
 - Caithness & Sutherland and Ross & Cromarty, Lochaber, Skye & Lochalsh, Arran & Cumbrae and Argyll & Bute and Eilean Siar. These areas are predefined as 'c' areas under the RAG on grounds of being sparsely populated, with a population density below 12.5 persons per square kilometre.
12. In addition, in June 2013 the Government announced that Northern Ireland will maintain its 100% coverage⁶ (at least until any mid-term review of 2014-2020 Assisted Areas coverage), owing to its unique circumstances.
13. When preparing the draft Map, Government took account of:
 - Responses to Stage 1 of the consultation
 - National economic datasets
 - Commercial and economic intelligence
 - Government strategy and policies e.g. the UK Industrial Policy and the location and nature of Enterprise Zones
 - The views of key national teams responsible for policies supported by regional aid

⁶ Building A Prosperous And United Community, June 2013

- Regional economic plans and priorities were also considered in Scotland and Wales.

Public Sector Equality Duty

14. BIS, as a public authority, must, in the exercise of its functions, have due regard to the need to:

- (a) eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by or under the Equality Act 2010;
- (b) advance equality of opportunity between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic (which include, amongst other characteristics, age, disability, race and sex) and persons who do not share it;
- (c) foster good relations between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it.

BIS has had (and will continue to have) due regard to these principles.

6. Analysis of Responses and Government Response to the First Stage Consultation

25. Stage 1 of the consultation began on 31 July 2013, with publication of '2014-2020 Assisted Areas Map - Consultation Stage 1: Common Principles and Local Intelligence'.

26. 72 completed response forms were returned to Government. A further 32 responses were received in other formats before the deadline; almost all of these were in support of LEP or LA responses for their area. The analysis of location and type of organisation below concentrates on the official Form 1 and Form 2 response forms returned to BIS. The Government response takes into account all views expressed, in all types of response received, that engaged with the questions posed by Stage 1 of the consultation. A full list of respondents is in Annex F.

27. Local Authorities (LAs) in Scotland and Wales and Local Enterprise Partnerships (LEPs) in England were asked to return response Form 1, which offered more questions to encourage the return of prioritised local intelligence. All other respondents were asked to complete response Form 2. Tables 1 and 2 show the broad types of organisations that returned completed response forms and their locations. Where organisations submitted joint responses, these have been included as a single response in the tables and map below.

28. Government is seeking to refresh the Map, not simply to add coverage to those places that already have it. Economic geography evolves, as have the rules under which the Map is drawn including the nature of projects that regional aid can be granted to. Assisted Area status does not benefit every ward in the country that currently has the designation and could be economically beneficial to many wards that currently do not. Even with increased population coverage, difficult decisions have had to be made as to which areas are included on the draft Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020. The overwhelming majority (41 out of 49) of Form 1 responses by LEPs and local authorities made cases for increased coverage in their area.

6a. Common Principles

29. Question D01 asked, Do you broadly support the principles for developing the 2014-2020 Assisted Areas Map set out in paragraphs 108-116 of the [Stage 1] consultation document? Of the completed response forms received, 89% said yes. Only 8% did not broadly agree. The remainder did not answer the question.
30. Question D02 asked respondents, if there are any principles you do not support, please specify which ones you do not, evidencing why. While 89% said yes to D01, 64% (46 returns) offered further views about the principles for developing the 2014-2020 Assisted Areas Map. The comments returned were often technical in nature; some suggested the removal or altering of particular principles, others were supportive or sought further explanation. Principle 7 garnered the most comments from respondents, with Principles 3 and 4 each being commented on in around 10% of returns. Fewer than 10% of respondents commented on each of the other principles.

Principle 1: Assisted Areas in the UK should reflect opportunities to support businesses with regional aid in locations that will support the economies of economically disadvantaged places.

31. The Government has analysed the consultation responses carefully and considered where Assisted Area status could be used to lever in investment that supports growth in less economically advantaged areas. Updating the UK's Assisted Areas Map for 2014-20 is an opportunity to help to rebalance the UK economy, helping to drive strong sustainable growth at geographical scales ranging from the local to the national. This has been done against a background of increasing overall population coverage, allowing scope for new areas to have the opportunity for inclusion on the Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020. No respondents challenged this principle.

Principle 2: A combination of quantitative and qualitative economic evidence and intelligence (such as consultation responses), and relevant economic policy considerations should be used by Government to determine a place's relative economic need and economic opportunity in terms of the potential to use regional aid to support economic convergence objectives.

32. There were no direct challenges to this principle, although some respondents requested further information as to the nature of the evidence and intelligence used. The starting point from which the draft Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020 has been drawn are the responses received from Stage 1 of the consultation, specifically the mapping exercises respondents were asked to carry out.
33. Government has also taken into account national economic intelligence, policies and data. Policy examples include the UK Industrial Strategy, including its sector strategies, and in Scotland and Wales, regional and local economic plans and priorities. Enterprise Zones (EZs) with Enhanced Capital Allowances (ECAs) are predicated on Assisted Area status, as is Business Premises Renovation Allowance (BPRA). All EZs with ECAs are included on the draft Map as key drivers of future economic growth with policy aims consistent with those of the Regional Aid Guidelines. Also included are many areas containing key business premises that could benefit from BPRA.

34. Economic data that has been considered in terms of highlighting potential economic opportunities includes fields from the Business Register and Employment Survey (BRES), the Inter-Departmental Business Register (IDBR), and Business Enterprise Research and Development (BERD) data.

Principle 3: In some circumstances, the primary purpose of designating some wards as Assisted Areas may be to link together other wards containing the characteristics sought for Assisted Area status – i.e. significant economic opportunities that could catalyse disadvantaged economies – within a minimum contiguous population (typically 100,000 people).

35. While the aim of this principle is to make it clear that some wards may be included as 'link' wards ensuring contiguity, the few comments made were typically in disagreement with the minimum population sizes and contiguity requirements as set out in the Commission's Regional Aid Guidelines. An example of one such return included, "Principle 3: We are content with the idea of a broadly contiguous area, but, we would like the flexibility to have within this area an 'island' of wards without AA status. We understand the argument from BIS that any areas within nominated wards are likely to have economic need, and this would be true of the wards we would want to omit. But the issue for us is that it would be at the expense of wards with even greater economic need and opportunity."
36. Government is bound by the minimum population size and contiguity of Assisted Areas as expressed in the Regional Aid Guidelines and as such cannot deviate from these. Further, in line with the Commission's general requirement for Assisted Areas to have a minimum population of 100,000, BIS considers that the Commission is unlikely to approve any zones of Assisted Area coverage that wholly enclose areas without coverage, if the area enclosed has a resident population of fewer than 100,000 residents.
37. Queries were also received asking why the UK is building its non-predefined Assisted Areas from wards and not from statistical units such as Super Output Areas and Data Zones. This was because the Commission's Regional Aid Guidelines state that Member States must use their LAU2 units (Local Administrative Unit – Layer 2) as the building blocks for their non-predefined Assisted Areas. In the UK, the LAU2 units are the ward boundaries used in preparing the draft Map.

Principle 4: The 2007-2013 Assisted Areas Map should be a material consideration when developing its 2014-2020 successor.

38. Around 10% of respondents commented on this principle, and the majority of comments interpreted the principle to mean that the starting point for developing the Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020 should be the inclusion of wards currently on the 2007-2013 Assisted Areas Map, and to either argue for or against this. Government has not used the individual wards included in the 2007-2013 Assisted Areas Map as a starting point for developing the draft Map presented for consultation at Stage 2. However, the current Assisted Areas Map 2007-2013 has been of use when asking areas with current coverage to assess and prioritise their coverage. In developing the draft 2014-2020 Map, Government has recognised that many areas that have benefitted from Assisted Area status in 2007-2013 should continue to do so in 2014-2020. The Government therefore concludes that the 2007-13 Assisted Areas Map has been a consideration when developing the 2014-2020 Map, but this does not signal an automatic entitlement for any Assisted Areas to remain on the Map unchanged.

Principle 5: Providing eligibility to support large firms with regional aid should be a consideration of the 2014-2020 Assisted Areas Map given there are fewer constraints on Government to support small and medium sized enterprises with capital investment under other forms of state aid.

39. Changes to regional aid rules mean that Government has also refined its approach to the new Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020. For the UK Assisted Areas Map 2007-2013 Government viewed a major purpose of Assisted Area coverage as giving flexibility to support larger companies. With further restrictions on regional aid to large enterprises under the new Regional Aid Guidelines, Government is taking a balanced approach. For the 2014-2020 Map, the aim is to support a range of small, medium and large sized enterprises. A range of industrial and commercial development sites have also been included to help future businesses flourish.

Principle 6: Offering UK public bodies the flexibility to invest regional aid in expanding and developing UK manufacturing should be a key goal when developing the Assisted Areas Map.

40. Manufacturing as an industry is well placed to benefit from regional aid, typically in the form of capital investment. Expanding and developing manufacturing can assist in Government's broader objective of rebalancing the UK economy both geographically and by sector due to the frequent presence of localised supply chains. No respondents challenged this principle.

Principle 7: The metrics of economic need that should be used to inform the Map's development are:

- a) Low Employment Rate
- b) Low Skills Rate
- c) High Working Age Benefit Claimant Count Rate
- d) Low population growth/ net out-migration of working age population
- e) High rates of manufacturing

41. Most responses to Question D02, 'If there are any principles you do not support, please specify which ones you do not, evidencing why' focused on Principle 7.

42. For Principle 7, there were 9 responses commenting negatively on low population growth/ net out-migration of working age population (metric 'd') and 3 responses commenting negatively on high rates of manufacturing (metric 'e'). No other metric proposed in Principle 7 received more than 2 negative comments.
43. Respondents from areas with high population growth raised the issue that this can also be a cause for increased economic need. In addition it was expressed that in certain areas out-migration of working age population could be 'masked' by immigration of a population that is elderly or in need of social housing. Government recognises that Principle 7 'd' could be perceived as an inconsistent indicator of need and, while Government has had regard generally to population changes and migration in preparing the draft Map, has therefore decided not to use this metric when assessing economic need.
44. In relation to high rates of manufacturing, responses focused on the fact that this metric would not highlight potential for new manufacturing jobs and could be skewed by a single recent closure of a major manufacturing firm. Government accepts that this metric will not always capture the potential for new manufacturing jobs. Rather this metric can be used as an indicator of an area's current ability to benefit from regional aid, a key aim of the Assisted Areas Map, with new opportunities captured elsewhere in respondents' returns.
45. In summary, the metrics used in considering potential areas for inclusion on the Map are as follows:
- Employment rate, excluding full time students - compared across Great Britain (2011 census data).
 - Skills levels, the proportion below Level 2. Given inconsistencies between Scottish census data and that for England and Wales, for this metric only, the assessment is not at the GB level and evaluates Scottish areas within Scotland and England and Wales areas within England and Wales (2011 census data). There was a slight misalignment between paragraph 82 of the Stage 1 guidelines, which noted that Government proposed to define a low skills rate at level 2 and below, and paragraph 83, where it suggests that Government planned to define low skills as being below level 2. We have used the latter measure, although of course, there will be a strong correlation in any case between data for below Level 2 and data at Level 2 or below.
 - Working age benefit claimant count rate - compared across GB (May 2013 DWP data).
 - Proportion of employment in manufacturing, taken from the 2012 Inter-Departmental Business Register, being the most complete source at detailed geographical level. Again, this is compared across GB.
46. At the time of testing, the data used was the most recent available at the required level of detail. Please note that some of the 2011 census data is not yet publically available.

Principle 8: It is proposed that relative economic need will be considered at two spatial scales:

- 1) at the Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP) level in England, and at the Local Authority (LA) level in Wales and Scotland; and
- 2) at the potential Assisted Area level or in its constituent wards

47. Two responses were received on this principle, one arguing that the LEP area is too large and economically diverse to be used as a spatial unit when considering economic need; the other supporting the use of the LEP as a unit given that whole sub-regional economies need to be considered not just individual wards.
48. After evaluation, we believe that considering economic need at the Assisted Area level is the most appropriate geographical scale. The zone of Assisted Area coverage is the spatial unit used on the Map and employing it well aligns the UK process with the Commission's Regional Aid Guidelines. Using the Assisted Area as a zone of consideration also streamlines the method, focuses on the areas under consideration, and smoothes any potential inconsistencies that might be found in individual ward level data.

6b. Considering Economic Need

Commission Criteria

49. Paragraph 168 of the Commission's Regional Aid Guidelines states that a Member State may designate non-predefined 'c' areas on the basis of the following criteria:
- (a) Criterion 1: contiguous areas of at least 100 000 inhabitants located in NUTS 2 or NUTS 3 regions that have:*
 - a GDP per capita below or equal to the EU-27 average, or
 - an unemployment rate above or equal to 115% of the national average.
 - (b) Criterion 2: NUTS 3 regions of less than 100 000 inhabitants that have:*
 - a GDP per capita below or equal to the EU-27 average, or
 - an unemployment rate above or equal to 115% of the national average.
 - (c) Criterion 3: islands or contiguous areas characterised by similar geographical isolation (for example, peninsulas or mountain areas) that have:*
 - a GDP per capita below or equal to the EU-27 average, or
 - an unemployment rate above or equal to 115% of the national average.

- or less than 5 000 inhabitants.

(d) Criterion 4: NUTS 3 regions, or parts of NUTS 3 regions that form contiguous areas, that are adjacent to an 'a' area or that share a land border with a country outside the EEA or European Free Trade Association (EFTA).

(e) Criterion 5: contiguous areas of at least 50 000 inhabitants that are undergoing major structural change or are in serious relative decline, provided that such areas are not located in NUTS 3 regions or contiguous areas that fulfil the conditions to be designated as predefined areas or under Criteria 1 to 4.

Criterion 4 in the UK

50. Covering key economic assets in 'criterion 4 areas' can support economic growth in the 'a' areas demarcated by the Commission as being in the most need of support from Regional Aid. As such, areas eligible for criterion 4 can qualify for inclusion on the 2014-2020 Assisted Areas Map because of this adjacency factor. However, in line with the RAG, the UK Government considers that in locations bordering 'a' areas, where higher aid intensities are possible, localised distortions in the locational preferences of firms may occur. Therefore Government does not propose designating all wards that border 'a' areas as Assisted Areas as we are looking for the best opportunities to drive economic growth in these areas and in the 'a' areas they border.

Northern Ireland and Scottish Highlands & Islands

51. In recognition of their unique circumstances, the UK Government made representations for Northern Ireland and the whole of the Highlands and Islands to be predefined as 'c' areas by the Commission on the 2014-2020 Assisted Areas Map. Only some of the Highlands and Islands was subsequently predefined by the Commission (see paragraph 53). The UK Government has therefore decided that all of Northern Ireland; Inverness, Nairn, Moray, and Badenoch and Strathspey NUTS3; Orkney Islands NUTS3; and Shetland Islands NUTS3 should be granted 'c' coverage from the population coverage the UK has been awarded (at least until any mid-term review of the 2014-2020 Map)⁷.

52. Further details of Assisted Area coverage and the wider economic situation in Northern Ireland are available in "Building a Prosperous and United Community", issued by the UK Government and the Northern Ireland Executive in June 2013. This announced a package of measures to help rebalance Northern Ireland's economy.

53. Paragraph 158 of the Regional Aid Guidelines states that NUTS 2 regions with fewer than 8 inhabitants per km² or NUTS 3 regions with fewer than 12.5 inhabitants per km² can be predefined as sparsely populated 'c' areas by the Commission. Caithness & Sutherland and Ross & Cromarty; Lochaber, Skye & Lochalsh, Arran & Cumbrae and Argyll & Bute; and Eilean Siar (Western Isles) are to be pre-designated under this criterion. This is because the location incentive allowed under the RAG is frequently used to overcome natural barriers to development, such as distance from and time to reach main European markets, difficult topography, sparse population and a narrow labour market base, which are typical features of remoter mountain and island areas.

54. The UK and Scottish Governments consider that the Highlands and Islands as a whole is characterised by these features, with the only major concentration of population (Inverness) the same distance from London as London is from Stuttgart; the Shetland Islands are some 200 km from the Scottish mainland, and of course further from main markets; and all areas other than Inverness city itself with population densities in the extremely low range of the EU (ranging from 7 people per square km to 11.5 people per sq km). This is already implicitly recognised in the pre-designation of parts of the Highlands and Islands by the Commission rules. A consistent approach to the whole Highlands and Islands is ensured by the inclusion of the whole NUTS2 area on the Map.

Metrics of Economic Need

55. Economic need in other Assisted Areas with less singular characteristics has been demonstrated using a method similar to that used for creating the UK's current Assisted Areas Map 2007-2013, i.e. assessing areas according to a set of metrics and the difference of these metrics from the mean (as measured by standard deviations). There are two main differences compared to when this exercise was carried out for the 2007-2013 Assisted Areas Map:
- i. Firstly, we have a higher population for the Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020 as coverage has risen from 23.9% to 27.05% of the UK population.
 - ii. Second, in the 2007-13 Map, the whole country was divided up into Employment Opportunity Zones (EOZs) and standard deviations taken on this basis. The use of EOZs was in part a reflection of a historical requirement to evidence self-containment of economic areas by the Commission in 2000-2006. This time around, because we are not employing EOZs, and the proposed Assisted Areas, which are the units under considerations, do not cover the whole of Great Britain, ward level data has been used to generate the standard deviations to be used in combination with national averages. Because EOZs were aggregations of wards, quite a lot of the variation disappears and the standard deviation of EOZs is lower than the standard deviation of wards. This means that applying exactly the same assessment as last time would result in fewer potential areas meeting the standard, which would not be consistent with (i) above.
56. Consequently the manner in which the metrics set out in paragraph 45 have been deployed has been updated compared to the method used in the development of the 2007-2013 Map. An area qualifying under Criteria 1, 2, 3 or 5 (Regional Aid Guidelines, paragraph 168) when being assessed by the metrics of economic need is eligible for inclusion on the draft Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020 if it meets at least one of the following:

- a. More than one standard deviation away from the mean for at least one metric (in the direction that suggests inclusion);
- b. More than half a standard deviation away for at least two metrics (in the direction that suggests inclusion); or
- c. Above average for all four metrics (again, 'above' is used, but this is to mean in the direction supporting inclusion).

57. This last approach (c) is new, but supported by the fact that the others are, in effect, tighter than before. Analysis suggests that a similar number of individual wards would pass the above assessment as passed it when preparing the 2007-2013 UK Assisted Areas Map under the system using only (a) and (b) above.

58. Meeting the assessments set out in paragraph 56 does not mean that an area is necessarily added to the Map. As stated previously, when choosing wards to add to the draft Map, Government has typically sought ones that contain economic opportunities that could be unlocked by regional aid to support growth in less advantaged economies.

6c. Criterion 5 Applications

59. It is set out in the Regional Aid Guidelines that an area must meet one of five criteria for inclusion on a Member State's Assisted Areas Map (Regional Aid Guidelines, paragraph 168).

60. In order to provide Assisted Areas coverage to an area listed in Annex C below, special dispensation from the Commission is required evidencing major structural change or serious relative decline – as per criterion 5, RAG paragraph 168. In response to Stage 1 of the consultation, Cheshire and Warrington LEP have put forward a case for Ellesmere Port to be included on the Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020 by means of a criterion 5 application.

61. Cheshire and Warrington LEP provided evidence at Stage 1 that the returned wards are compliant with the principles set out in the Stage 1 consultation document and with paragraph 168 of the Regional Aid Guidelines. These wards have also both been assessed for their economic need as set out in paragraph 56 above. The returned wards in Ellesmere Port have been included on the draft Assisted Areas Map 2014-2020 in Annex B for consultation. This is ahead of a final decision from Government, after the Stage 2 consultation, on whether they are proposed to the Commission for inclusion on the 2014-2020 UK Assisted Areas Map.

6d. Population Reserve

62. Respondents were asked in Question D03, Do you consider that the country your area lies within (England, Scotland or Wales) should hold back a population reserve for it to add to the 2014-2020 Map at a later date?

63. As set out in the Stage 1 consultation, a population reserve could offer some flexibility for providing Assisted Area status for responding to as yet unknown opportunities or shocks over the life of the next Assisted Areas Map. This approach also provides flexibility to respond to any requests made by the Commission while the draft Map is being agreed - as we consider that it will be preferable to add coverage to the draft Map rather than rearrange wards at that stage. The drawback is that some coverage would not be applied for the whole lifespan of the Map.
64. Around three-quarters of respondents to Stage 1 asked for a reserve not to be kept. BIS can still see some merit in holding a reserve and will decide on whether to hold a small reserve after Stage 2 of the consultation, reflecting on economic circumstances and the perceived likelihood at that time of the Commission requesting any changes to the draft Map submitted to them for approval. Any remaining coverage could then be used to respond to as yet unknown opportunities or shocks over the life of the next Assisted Areas Map. Any reserve kept beyond the point that the UK Map is submitted to the Commission will total no more than 1/50th of the UK's allotted population coverage - a small proportion, reflecting the Stage 1 consultation responses.

7. Responding to the Consultation

65. The UK Government has prepared a draft UK 2014-2020 Assisted Areas Map for this Stage of the consultation, which can be found at Annex B and also online via <https://www.gov.uk/government/consultations/assisted-areas-map-2014-to-2020-stage-2>. This online version offers search, select, zooming and panning functionality.
66. If you have views on this draft Assisted Areas Map, please respond using the response form on the online map or in Annex G. Responses should provide supporting evidence and take into account the Government's response to Stage 1 and the need to comply with the Regional Aid Guidelines.
67. As in Stage 1, Local Enterprise Partnerships (LEPs) in England and Local Authorities (LAs) in Scotland and Wales are requested to play a lead role in working with local partners to collate responses for their areas.
68. Annex D contains a list of wards covered on the draft Map.

8. What Happens Next?

69. This consultation on the draft Map will close on 7 February 2014. This builds on Stage 1 of the Assisted Areas consultation which ran from 31 July to 30 September 2013.
70. The responses to this stage of consultation will, along with the responses to Stage 1, inform the final Assisted Areas Map which will be submitted to the Commission for approval in spring 2014.
71. Notice of the final Map (subject to changes by the Commission) will be published in places that include the .Gov website, the LEP Network website www.lepnetwork.org.uk, the Local Government Association website www.local.gov.uk, the Welsh Government website www.wales.gov.uk, and the Scottish Government website, www.scotland.gov.uk. All LEAs and LAs in Great Britain will also be contacted directly by letter to inform them of the final Map.

Annex D: Proposed Assisted Areas Coverage by Ward

This list does not include wards in those areas predefined by the European Commission ('Cornwall and Isles of Scilly NUTS2'; 'West Wales and the Valleys NUTS2'; 'Caithness & Sutherland and Ross & Cromarty, Lochaber, Skye & Lochalsh, Arran & Cumbrae NUTS3'; 'Argyll & Bute NUTS3'; and 'Eilean Siar NUTS3') or in Northern Ireland.

The ward boundaries used in England and Wales are sourced from the May 2011 Ordnance Survey Boundary-Line™ data. The 2011 census was based on this boundary set. In Scotland, to meet the RAG's requirement to use LAU2 units (RAG paragraph 169), 2006 single member wards had to be used.

The coastal extents of wards are made available by Ordnance Survey at two different resolutions: 'extent of the realm' (usually this is the Mean Low Water Mark but in some cases boundaries extend beyond this to include offshore islands) and 'clipped to the coastline' (Mean High Water Mark) giving the coastline a more orthodox appearance. If a coastal boundary on the draft Map appears differently to how you were expecting, this may be the reason. Contiguous areas can be formed using the 'extent of the realm' boundaries.
