In your group

- read the family case study you have been given and complete the Adolescent Wellbeing Scale as far as possible on the basis of the information provided

- explore how early experiences might have affected the young person today.

Feedback your views to the large group

You will then hear the young person’s own story and discussion will continue focusing on:

- How would you respond to this information?

- How could practitioners work together to improve Liam or Michelle’s life?