

Promoters of Tax Avoidance Schemes and DOTAS

Who is likely to be affected?

The measure will affect promoters who are monitored under the measure, the intermediaries that continue to represent the promoter after the monitoring has commenced and clients using the monitored promoter's products.

General description of the measure

The measure will allow HMRC to issue conduct notices to promoters and monitor promoters who breach a conduct notice. Monitored promoters will be subject to new information powers and penalties which will also apply to intermediaries that continue to represent them after the monitoring commences. The monitored promoter will be named by HMRC (the naming details will include information on why the conduct notice was breached) and required to inform its clients that it is being monitored by HMRC. Clients of monitored promoters will also be subject to certain obligations (which have a penalty for non-compliance) and extended time limits for assessments. The measure also includes a new requirement under the Disclosure of Tax Avoidance Schemes (DOTAS) for further information to be provided by a promoter when requested by HMRC.

Policy objective

The measure is part of the Government's strategic response to avoidance and is to deter the use of avoidance schemes through influencing the behaviour of promoters, their intermediaries and clients. It is aimed at changing the behaviour of promoters of tax avoidance who potentially could be monitored. A monitored promoter will be subject to new information powers so HMRC obtains better information about their products and clients and can use that information to target its compliance work in combating avoidance. Naming a monitored promoter should deter intermediaries from acting for them and clients and potential clients from using their products. Including the reason the conduct notice was breached will also act to inform clients and potential clients of the risks posed by using the promoter's schemes. The DOTAS aspects of the measure are to ensure that HMRC has adequate information to allow it to analyse schemes disclosed under DOTAS.

Background to the measure

This measure was announced in Budget 2013.

A consultation called Raising the Stakes on Tax Avoidance ran from 12 August until 4 October 2013.

Detailed proposal

Operative date

The measure will have effect from the date that Finance Bill 2014 receives Royal Assent. It will allow promoters to be monitored after that date.

Current law

Currently there are obligations on promoters of avoidance schemes to provide details of their schemes under the Disclosure of Tax Avoidance Scheme (DOTAS) rules in Part 7 of Finance Act 2004. DOTAS operates by using certain criteria, known as "hallmarks" to identify the schemes that need to be disclosed to HMRC. Some hallmarks are generic others are specific to particular taxes. If a scheme is discloseable then the promoter has to provide HMRC with information on the avoidance scheme and their clients that have used that scheme.

Proposed revisions

Firstly, the measure allows HMRC to request further information on schemes disclosed under DOTAS in addition to the information already disclosed. Secondly, legislation will be introduced to tackle the behaviour of certain promoters. A promoter who triggers a threshold condition may be issued with a conduct notice with a period of up to two years. Breach of the conduct notice may lead to the promoter being monitored by HMRC. The monitored promoter will have a right of appeal against the monitoring notice. A monitored promoter will be subject to specific information powers and penalties for non-compliance of up to £1 million. In addition HMRC will have the power to name the monitored promoter and require it to inform its intermediaries and clients. The naming details will include information on why the conduct notice was breached. A higher standard for the defences of reasonable excuse and reasonable care will apply to the monitored promoter.

Intermediaries who continue to act for a monitored promoter will be subject to the same information powers and penalties. Clients of a monitored promoter will be supplied by the monitored promoter with a reference number that they have to report to HMRC so that the clients can be identified and compliance action by HMRC accurately targeted. Clients of a monitored promoter will also be subject to an extended assessing period of 20 years if any tax is lost because they fail to pass on the reference number and a penalty. The measure will be introduced in Finance Bill 2014.

Summary of impacts

Exchequer impact (£m)	2013-14	2014-15	2015-16	2016-17	2017-18
	nil	+5	+35	+35	+35
	These figures are set out in Table 2.1 of Budget 2013 and have been certified by the Office of Budget Responsibility. More details can be found in the policy costings document published alongside Budget 2013.
Economic impact	The measure is not expected to have any significant economic impacts.
Impact on individuals and households	The measure will mainly impact on those individuals who are, or work for, designated promoters. There may also be an impact on the users of avoidance schemes. Individuals who use avoidance schemes will generally be higher rate taxpayers.
Equalities impacts	HMRC does not hold information about the projected characteristics of designated promoters but there is no reason to suppose that there is any particular equality impact. It is not expected that the measure would impact adversely or disproportionately on equality groups.
Impact on business including civil society organisations	HMRC estimates that there are approximately 20 businesses that potentially could be designated. The measure is to encourage behavioural change and so some businesses will not incur any additional compliance or administrative costs under this measure. It will impose some additional reporting obligations on those firms subject to the information powers. For the businesses affected it is expected that the impact will be negligible.

Operational impact (£m) (HMRC or other)	Dealing with the additional information and reporting of information will have negligible impact on HMRC.
Other impacts	Small and Micro-Business assessment (SMBA): businesses of any size develop market and use tax avoidance schemes. We expect this measure will have little, if any impact on small businesses either in absolute terms (considering the overall effect on them) or in relative terms (considering the effect on specific businesses). Other impacts have been considered and none have been identified.

Monitoring and evaluation

The measure will be monitored using information collected from the limited population of designated promoters and their users.

Introduction

1 Meaning of “relevant proposal” and “relevant arrangements”

- (1) “Relevant proposal” means a proposal for arrangements which (if entered into) would be relevant arrangements (whether the proposal relates to a particular person or to any person who may seek to take advantage of it).
- (2) Arrangements are “relevant arrangements” if they –
 - (a) enable, or might be expected to enable, any person to obtain a tax advantage, and
 - (b) the main benefit, or one of the main benefits, that might be expected to arise from the arrangements is the obtaining of that advantage.
- (3) “Tax advantage” includes –
 - (a) relief or increased relief from tax,
 - (b) repayment or increased repayment of tax,
 - (c) avoidance or reduction of a charge to tax or an assessment to tax,
 - (d) avoidance of a possible assessment to tax,
 - (e) deferral of a payment of tax or advancement of a repayment of tax, and
 - (f) avoidance of an obligation to deduct or account for tax.
- (4) “Arrangements” includes any agreement, scheme, arrangement or understanding of any kind, whether or not legally enforceable, involving a single transaction or two or more transactions.

2 Meaning of “promoter”

- (1) “Promoter” means a person who is a promoter –
 - (a) in relation to a relevant proposal (see subsection (2)), or
 - (b) in relation to relevant arrangements (see subsection (4)).
- (2) A person (“P”) is a promoter in relation to a relevant proposal at any time when P meets any of the conditions in subsection (3).
- (3) The conditions are that, in the course of a business P –
 - (a) is to any extent responsible for the design of the proposed arrangements;
 - (b) makes, or has made, a firm approach to another person (“C”) in relation to the relevant proposal with a view to P making the proposal available for implementation by C or another person;

- (c) makes, or has made, the relevant proposal available for implementation by other persons.
- (4) A person is a promoter in relation to relevant arrangements at any time when it meets either of the following conditions –
 - (a) the person is, by virtue of subsection (3)(b) or (c), a promoter in relation to a relevant proposal which is implemented by the arrangements;
 - (b) the person is responsible to any extent for the design, organisation or management of the arrangements in the course of a business.
- (5) For the purposes of this Part a person makes a firm approach to another person in relation to a relevant proposal if –
 - (a) the person communicates information about the relevant proposal to the other person at a time when the proposed arrangements have been substantially designed,
 - (b) the communication is made with a view to that other person or any other person entering into transactions forming part of the proposed arrangements, and
 - (c) the information communicated includes an explanation of the tax advantage that might be expected to be obtained from the proposed arrangements.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5) proposed arrangements have been substantially designed at any time if by that time the nature of the transactions to form part of them has been sufficiently developed for it to be reasonable to believe that a person who wished to obtain the tax advantage mentioned in subsection (5)(c) might enter into –
 - (a) transactions of the nature developed, or
 - (b) transactions not substantially different from transactions of that nature.

3 Meaning of “intermediary”

For the purposes of this Part a person is an intermediary in relation to a relevant proposal if –

- (a) that person communicates information about the relevant proposal to another person in the course of a business,
- (b) the communication is made with a view to that other person, or any other person, entering into transactions forming part of the proposed arrangements, and
- (c) that person is not a promoter in relation to the relevant proposal.

4 Meaning of “client”

- (1) For the purposes of this Part, a person is a client at a particular time –
 - (a) in relation to a promoter of a relevant proposal if, at that time, the person is a person to whom the promoter provides services in connection with the proposal,
 - (b) in relation to a promoter of relevant arrangements if, at that time, the person is a person to whom the promoter provides services in connection with the arrangements, or
 - (c) in relation to a person who is an intermediary in relation to a relevant proposal if, at that time, the person is a person to whom the intermediary provides services in connection with the proposal.

- (2) A person who is an intermediary in relation to a relevant proposal may be a client—
 - (a) in relation to the promoter of the relevant proposal;
 - (b) in relation to another person who is an intermediary in relation to the proposal.

5 Duty to give conduct notice

- (1) This section applies to a person (“P”) at any time when—
 - (a) P is a promoter in relation to a relevant proposal or relevant arrangements,
 - (b) no conduct notice has effect in relation to P, and
 - (c) P has, in the period of 3 years ending with that time and while P was a promoter, met one or more of the threshold conditions (see Schedule 1).
- (2) The Commissioners must determine whether, in view of the purposes of this Part, P’s meeting of the condition (or all the conditions) mentioned in subsection (1)(c)—
 - (a) should, or
 - (b) should not,be regarded as insignificant.
- (3) The Commissioners must give P a conduct notice if they—
 - (a) make the determination mentioned in subsection (2)(b), and
 - (b) do not determine that, having regard to the significance (or lack of significance) of the impact that P’s activities as a promoter are likely to have on the collection of tax, it is inappropriate to give P a conduct notice.
- (4) The Commissioners may not reach the conclusion mentioned in subsection (2)(a) if the condition mentioned in subsection (1)(c) is (or all the conditions mentioned in subsection (1)(c) are) in any of the following paragraphs of Schedule 1—

6 Contents of a conduct notice

- (1) A conduct notice is a notice requiring the person to whom it has been given (“the recipient”) to comply with conditions specified in the notice.
- (2) Before deciding on the terms of conduct notice, the Commissioners must give the person to whom the notice is to be given an opportunity to comment on the proposed terms of the notice.
- (3) A notice may include only conditions that it is reasonable to impose for any of the following purposes—

- (a) to ensure that the recipient provides adequate information to its clients about relevant proposals, and relevant arrangements, in relation to which the recipient is a promoter,
 - (b) to ensure that the recipient provides adequate information about relevant proposals in relation to which it is a promoter to persons who are intermediaries in relation to those proposals;
 - (c) to ensure that the recipient does not fail to comply with any duty under a specified disclosure provision;
 - (d) to ensure that the recipient does not discourage others from complying with any obligation to disclose to HMRC information of a description specified in the notice;
 - (e) to ensure that the recipient does not enter into an agreement with another person (“C”) which relates to a relevant proposal or relevant arrangements in relation to which the recipient is a promoter, on terms which impose a contractual obligation on C which falls within paragraph 11(2) or (3) of Schedule 1 (contractual terms restricting disclosure);
 - (f) to ensure that the recipient does not promote relevant proposals or relevant arrangements which rely on, or involve a proposal to rely on, one or more contrived or abnormal steps to produce a tax advantage;
 - (g) to ensure that the recipient does not fail to comply with any stop notice which has effect under paragraph 12 of Schedule 1.
- (4) References in subsection (3) to ensuring the adequacy of information about proposals or arrangements include –
- (a) ensuring the adequacy of the description of the arrangements or proposed arrangements;
 - (b) ensuring that the information includes an adequate assessment of the risk that the arrangements or proposed arrangements will fail;
 - (c) ensuring that the information does not falsely state, and is not likely to create a false impression, that HMRC have (formally or informally) considered, approved or expressed a particular opinion in relation to the proposal or arrangements.
- (5) In subsection (3)(c) “specified disclosure provision” means a disclosure provision that is specified in the notice; and for this purpose “disclosure provision” means any of the following –

- (6) The Treasury may by regulations amend the definition of “disclosure provision” in subsection (5).
- (7) In subsection (4)(b) “fail”, in relation to arrangements or proposed arrangements, means not result in a tax advantage which the arrangements or (as the case may be) proposed arrangements might be expected to result in.

7 Section 6: supplementary

- (1) The following provisions have the following meanings in section 6.
- (2) “Adequate” means adequate having regard to what it might be reasonable for a client or (as the case may be) an intermediary to expect; and “adequacy” is to be interpreted accordingly.

- (2) The Commissioners may at any time amend the notice.
- (3) The Commissioners –
 - (a) may withdraw the notice if they think it is not necessary for it to continue to have effect, and
 - (b) in considering whether or not that is necessary must take into account the person’s record of compliance, or failure to comply, with the conditions in the notice.

9 Duration of conduct notice

- (1) A conduct notice has effect from the date specified in it as its commencement date.
- (2) A conduct notice ceases to have effect –
 - (a) at the end of the period of two years beginning with its commencement date, or
 - (b) if an earlier date is specified in it as its termination date, at the end of that day,(and ceases to have effect if withdrawn by the Commissioners under section 8).

Monitoring notices: procedure and publication

10 Monitoring notices

- (1) This section applies where a conduct notice has effect in relation to a person and an authorised officer determines that the person has failed to comply with a condition in the notice.

- (2) The officer must give the person a notice stating that the person’s activities as a promoter are to be monitored under this Part.
- (3) Subsection (2) does not apply if—
 - (a) the condition that the person has failed to comply with was imposed under subsection (3)(a), (b) or (c) of section 6, and
 - (b) the authorised officer considers that the failure is so minor that it should be disregarded for the purposes of this section.
- (4) A notice under subsection (2) is referred to in this Part as a “monitoring notice”.
- (5) A monitoring notice must—
 - (a) state the reasons for the decision under subsection (1) and must, in particular, state which condition the officer has determined that the person has failed to comply with;
 - (b) explain the effect of the monitoring notice and specify the date from which it takes effect;
 - (c) inform the person of the right to appeal under section 11 and of the right to request the withdrawal of the monitoring notice under section 12.

- (7) A person in relation to whom a monitoring notice has effect is referred to in this Part as a “monitored promoter”.

11 Appeal against monitoring notice

- (1) A person may appeal against a determination under section 10(1) that the person has failed to comply with a condition in a conduct notice (“the monitoring determination”).

- (5) The tribunal may confirm or set aside the monitoring determination.
- (6) If the notice of appeal includes a statement under subsection (3)(b), the tribunal must set aside the determination if it is satisfied that it was not reasonable to include the condition mentioned in subsection (1) in the conduct notice (but see subsection (7)).

- (7) If the notice of appeal includes a statement under subsection (3)(b) and the monitoring determination is a determination that the person has failed to comply with more than one condition in the conduct notice—
 - (a) subsection (6) does not apply, and
 - (b) in making the determination under subsection (5), the tribunal is to assume, in the case of any condition that the tribunal considers it was not reasonable to include in the conduct notice, that the person did not fail to comply with that condition.
- (8) Subject to this section, the provisions of Part 5 of TMA 1970 relating to appeals have effect in relation to an appeal under this section.

12 Withdrawal of monitoring notice

- (1) A person in relation to whom a monitoring notice has effect may, on or after the date mentioned in subsection (2), request that the notice should cease to have effect.
- (2) That date is the later of—
 - (a) the last day of the period of 13 months beginning with the day on which the monitoring notice takes effect, or
 - (b) in cases where an appeal is made under section 11, the last day of the period of 12 months beginning with the day on which the appeal is finally determined, withdrawn or otherwise disposed of.
- (3) A request under this section is to be made in writing to HMRC.
- (4) Where a request is made under this section, an authorised officer must within 30 days beginning with the day on which the request is received determine either—
 - (a) that the monitoring notice is to cease to have effect, or
 - (b) that the request is to be refused.
- (5) The matters to be taken into account by an authorised officer in making a determination under subsection (4) include—
 - (a) whether or not the person subject to the monitoring notice has, since the notice took effect, engaged in behaviour of a sort that conditions included in a conduct notice in accordance with section 6(3) could be used to regulate;
 - (b) whether or not it appears likely that the person will in the future engage in such behaviour.
- (6) If the authorised officer makes a determination under subsection (4)(a), the officer must also determine that the person is, or is not, to be given a follow-on conduct notice.
- (7) “Follow-on conduct notice” means a conduct notice taking effect immediately after the monitoring notice ceases to have effect.

13 Notification of determination under section 12

- (1) Where an authorised officer makes a determination under section 12(4), that officer, or an officer of Revenue and Customs with that officer’s approval, must notify the person who made the request of the determination.

- (2) If the determination is that the monitoring notice is to cease to have effect, the notice must –
 - (a) specify the date from which the monitoring notice is to cease to have effect, and
 - (b) inform the person of the determination made under section 12(6).
- (3) If the determination is that the request is to be refused, the notice must inform the person who made the request –
 - (a) of the reasons for the refusal, and
 - (b) of the right to appeal under section 14.

14 Appeal against refusal to withdraw monitoring notice

- (1) A person may appeal against a refusal by an authorised officer of a request that a monitoring notice should cease to have effect.
- (2) Notice of appeal must be given –
 - (a) in writing to the officer who gave the notice of the refusal under section 12, and
 - (b) within the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which notice of the refusal was given.
- (3) The notice of appeal must state the grounds of appeal.
- (4) On an appeal that is notified to the tribunal, the tribunal may –
 - (a) confirm the refusal, or
 - (b) direct that the monitoring notice is to cease to have effect.
- (5) Subject to this section, the provisions of Part 5 of TMA 1970 relating to appeals have effect in relation to an appeal under this section.

15 Publication by HMRC

- (1) An authorised officer may publish the fact that a person (“P”) is a monitored promoter.

 - (b) its business address or registered office;
 - (c) the nature of the business it carries on;
 - (d) any other information that the authorised officer considers it appropriate to publish in order to make clear the monitored promoter’s identity.
- (3) Publication under subsection (1) may also include a statement of which of the conditions in a conduct notice it has been determined that the person has failed to comply with.
- (4) Publication may not take place –
 - (a) before the end of the 30-day period for making an appeal under section 11, or
 - (b) if an appeal is made under section 11, until that appeal has been finally determined, withdrawn or otherwise disposed of.

- (5) If an authorised officer publishes the fact that a person is a monitored promoter and the monitoring notice is withdrawn, the officer must publish the fact of the withdrawal in the same way as the officer published the fact that P was a monitored promoter.
- (6) Publication under this section is to be in such manner as the authorised officer thinks fit; but see subsection (5).

16 Publication by promoter

- (1) A person who is given a monitoring notice (“P”) must give the persons mentioned in subsection (3) a notice stating –
 - (a) that it is a monitored promoter, and
 - (b) which of the conditions in a conduct notice it has been determined that the person has failed to comply with.
- (2) But if P makes an appeal under section 11, subsection (1) does not apply until that appeal is finally determined, withdrawn or otherwise disposed of.
- (3) The persons to whom a notice must be given under subsection (1) are –
 - (a) any person who is the monitored promoter’s client at the time the monitoring notice takes effect, and
 - (b) any person who becomes its client while the monitoring notice has effect.
- (4) Notice under subsection (1) must be given –
 - (a) within the period of 40 days beginning with the day on which the monitoring notice takes effect, or
 - (b) in a case where subsection (2) applies, within the period of 10 days beginning with the day on which the appeal is finally determined, withdrawn or otherwise disposed of.
- (5) But in the case of a person falling within subsection (3)(b), notice under subsection (1) may be given within the period of 10 days beginning with the day on which the person first became a client of the promoter if that period would expire at a later date than whichever is the relevant period under subsection (4).
- (6) Notification under this section is to be in such form and manner as is prescribed.
- (7) Regulations under subsection (6) may require publication on the internet.

Allocation and distribution of promoter reference number

17 Monitored promoter to be given reference number

- (1) Where a monitoring notice is given to a person (“the monitored promoter”) HMRC must (but only after the relevant date) –
 - (a) allocate a reference number to that person, and
 - (b) notify the person of that number.
- (2) “The relevant date” is the later of –
 - (a) the last day of the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which the monitoring notice was given under section 10, and

- (b) in a case where an appeal is made under section 11, the day on which the appeal is finally determined, withdrawn or otherwise disposed of.
- (3) The duty in subsection (1) does not apply if the monitoring notice is set aside following an appeal under section 11.
- (4) A number allocated to a person under this section is referred to in this Part as a “promoter reference number”.

18 Duty of monitored promoter to notify clients of number

- (1) This section applies where a person (“P”) is notified under section 17 of a promoter reference number.
- (2) P must, within 30 days beginning with the day of that notification, notify P’s current clients of the promoter reference number.
- (3) P’s “current clients” are those persons who were clients in relation to P at any time in the period –
 - (a) beginning with the day on which the monitoring notice took effect, and
 - (b) ending with the day on which the notification mentioned in subsection (1) occurred.
- (4) If any other person becomes a client in relation to P during the time when the monitoring notice in relation to P has effect, P must within 30 days of the relevant date notify that person of P’s promoter reference number.
- (5) The “relevant date” is the earliest of the following –
 - (a) the date on which P first makes a firm approach to the person in relation to a relevant proposal,
 - (b) the date on which P makes a relevant proposal available for implementation by the person,
 - (c) the date on which P first becomes aware of the person entering into any transaction forming part of any relevant arrangements in relation to which P is a promoter, or
 - (d) the date on which P first takes part in organising or managing arrangements which are relevant arrangements to which the person is a party.

19 Duty to notify others of number

- (1) In this section “notified person” means a person who is notified of a promoter reference number under section 18.
- (2) A notified person must within 30 days of being notified as described in subsection (1), provide the promoter reference number to any other person who the notified person might reasonably be expected to know is, or is likely to be, at that time a client in relation to the monitored promoter concerned.
- (3) Where the notified person is an intermediary in relation to the monitored promoter concerned, the notified person must also, within 30 days, provide the promoter reference number to any person who, at that time, falls within subsection (4).
- (4) A person falls within this subsection if the person is a client in relation to the notified person by reason of section 4(1)(c) and –

- (a) the relevant proposal concerned is a proposal of the monitored promoter to which the promoter reference number relates, or
- (b) the notified person might reasonably be expected to know that the person has entered into, or is likely to enter into, transactions forming part of relevant arrangements in relation to which that monitored promoter is a promoter.

20 Duty of persons to notify the Commissioners

- (1) If a person (“N”) is notified of a monitored promoter’s promoter reference number under section 18 or 19, N must notify the Commissioners of that number if N expects to obtain a tax advantage from relevant arrangements in relation to which that monitored promoter is the promoter.
- (2) Notification under this section must be made –
 - (a) in each tax return made by N for a period for which the arrangements enable N to obtain a tax advantage, or
 - (b) if no tax return falls within paragraph (a), in such form and manner and containing such information and within such time as is prescribed.
- (3) Where N expects to obtain the tax advantage referred to in subsection (1) in respect of stamp duty land tax, stamp duty reserve tax or petroleum revenue tax, notification under this section in respect of that tax must be in such form and manner and containing such information and within such time as is prescribed.
- (4) In this section “tax return” means any of the following –
 - (a) a return under section 8 of TMA 1970 (income tax and capital gains tax: personal return);
 - (b) a return under section 8A of TMA 1970 (income tax and capital gains tax: trustee’s return);

EXPLANATORY NOTE

CLAUSES 1-39: PROMOTERS OF TAX AVOIDANCE SCHEMES

SUMMARY

1. These clauses and the related Schedule introduce new legislation applying to certain promoters of tax avoidance schemes. In broad outline, the provisions define promoters of avoidance schemes, identify when they have triggered “threshold” conditions targeting specified behaviours, and provide for a “conduct” notice to be applied to these promoters. Those who fail to comply with a conduct notice may be issued with a “monitoring” notice, which can be appealed. Names of promoters subject to a monitoring notice will be published by HMRC, including details of how the conduct notice was breached, and the promoter will be required to publish its monitored status to clients. Information requirements will apply to monitored promoters, and intermediaries and clients of monitored promoters.

DETAILS OF THE CLAUSES

2. Clause 1 is the first of a series of clauses defining terms in the legislation. It deals with the types of schemes - “relevant arrangements” and “relevant proposal” falling within the scope of the provisions. “Relevant arrangements” enable, or might be expected to enable, someone to obtain a tax advantage. Obtaining the tax advantage must be the main benefit or one of the main benefits of entering into the arrangements. “Tax advantage” is defined in subsection (3). “Arrangements” is widely defined to include agreements, schemes, arrangements and understanding, whether or not they are legally enforceable. “Relevant proposal” is a proposal for something which, if entered into, would be relevant arrangements and may relate to a single person or to a number of people.
3. Clause 2 defines “promoter” in similar terms to sections 306 and 308 Finance Act 2004 (Disclosure of Tax Avoidance Schemes), but is not restricted to providers of tax or banking services. A person is a promoter only in respect of relevant proposals and relevant arrangements. Subsections (2) and (3) provide that a person is a promoter in respect of a relevant proposal if at any time the person is responsible for the design of the proposed arrangements and makes a “firm approach” to someone either with a view to making the proposal available for implementation, or makes the relevant proposal available for implementation by others.
4. Subsection (4) of clause 2 defines a promoter in relation to relevant arrangements as a person who at any time is a promoter for a relevant proposal which becomes the relevant arrangements, or is responsible for the design, organisation or management of the arrangements.

FINANCE BILL 2014

5. Subsection (5) of clause 2 defines “firm approach”. This is concerned with communicating information about the relevant proposal, at a stage when it has been “substantially designed” and includes an explanation of the expected tax advantage, to another person with a view to that person entering into the arrangements.
6. Subsection 2 (6) of clause 2 explains when proposed arrangements have been “substantially designed”. This is when the transactions forming part of the proposed arrangements have been sufficiently developed so that it someone wanting to obtain the tax advantage could enter into those or similar transactions.
7. Clause 3 defines intermediary for the purposes of these provisions. Again, this is concerned with information communicated to someone else with a view to the other person entering into transactions that are part of the proposed arrangements. Anyone who does this is an intermediary unless they are also a promoter. A person who communicates information about a scheme to someone else will only be a promoter under clause 2 (3) (b) where the communication includes an explanation of the tax advantage the scheme is expected to provide.
8. Clause 4 defines client, a client is the person to whom the promoter or intermediary provides services in connection with a proposal or arrangements. An intermediary can be a client of both a promoter and an intermediary.
9. Clause 5 describes the circumstances under which the Commissioners can issue a conduct notice. A conduct notice can be issued if the promoter has, within the previous three years, triggered a threshold condition, and there is not an extant conduct notice. The threshold conditions are described in the related Schedule. Subsections (2) and (3) allow the Commissioners to ignore insignificant breaches of threshold conditions or cases where little tax is at risk. However, breach of a threshold condition cannot be considered “insignificant” if it is one of those listed in subsection (4).
10. Clause 6 is concerned with the contents of the conduct notice. When a conduct notice is issued the recipient must comply with the conditions specified in the notice (subsection (1)). Subsection (2) allows the potential recipient an opportunity to comment on the proposed terms of the notice. Subsection (3) lists the purposes for which issues can be included as conditions in the conduct notice. Each conduct notice will be tailored to the promoter. For example, if the promoter does not provide sufficient information about its proposals and arrangements to its clients there may be a condition in the conduct notice that it does so. If the promoter requires clients to enter into confidentiality agreements or contribute to a fighting fund while preventing them from settling their cases independently with HMRC, then a condition to address that may be included in the conduct notice.
11. Subsection (4) of clause 6 defines whether or not information provided to clients and intermediaries is adequate. One of the purposes in subsection (3) is ensuring that duties under “specified disclosure provisions” are complied with. Subsection (5) lists these provisions and provides for the list to be amended by regulations – subsection (6).

12. Clause 7 provides definitions of “adequate” and “promote”.
13. If a promoter abides by its conduct notice so that some conditions are no longer required or there is evidence that the underlying reason for the conduct notice has been addressed, clause 8 gives the Commissioners the power to amend or withdraw the conduct notice. Clause 9 provides that the maximum length for a conduct notice is two years.
14. If a promoter fails to comply with a conduct notice then clause 10 allows HMRC to issue a monitoring notice. If the breach of the conduct notice related to the provision of information to customers or intermediaries, or to the promoter’s duty to supply information to HMRC then a monitoring notice need not be issued if the breach is insignificant (subsection (2)). The monitoring notice will state the reasons for its issue, in particular the condition in the conduct notice that the promoter breached. An effect of a monitoring notice is that the promoter may be subject to specific information notices with penalties for non-compliance.
15. Clause 11 contains the appeal right against a monitoring notice. The appeal must be given in writing within thirty days. Subsection (3) allows the monitored promoter to include in its grounds of appeal its view that a condition in the conduct notice was unreasonable. The tribunal can only confirm or set aside the monitoring notice (subsection (5)). If the tribunal decides that a condition is unreasonable subsections (6) and (7) operate so that a monitoring notice cannot be upheld for a breach of only that condition. If the monitoring notice identifies a breach of more than one condition of the conduct notice then the monitoring notice can only be set aside if the tribunal holds that all of the conditions are unreasonable (assuming it is accepted that there was a breach on the facts).
16. Clause 12 allows monitored promoters the right to request that the monitoring notice should be withdrawn. For example the promoter may consider that it now satisfies the conditions of the monitoring notice and the preceding conduct notice, so that the monitoring notice is no longer necessary. Subsection (2) ensures that a monitoring notice runs for at least 12 months (where it has not been overturned on appeal). HMRC has 30 days to respond to the request and when considering whether or not to reject the request, the authorised officer must take into account the behaviour of the promoter while it was being monitored (subsection (5)). In addition the authorised officer can, when deciding to withdraw the notice, decide to issue a follow-on conduct notice so that the promoter continues to be subject to some supervision.
17. The notification of the authorised officer’s decision on withdrawal of the monitoring notice is made under clause 13. The authorised officer may decide to accept or reject the request for withdrawal, but if the latter they must give their reasons. A right to appeal against a refusal to withdraw a monitoring notice is in clause 14.

FINANCE BILL 2014

18. Clause 15 allows HMRC to publish the fact that a person is a monitored promoter. Publication can include the promoter's name, address, the nature of its business and other appropriate information, including the conditions in the conduct notice that the promoter breached. A promoter's details cannot be published until their appeal rights have been exhausted (subsection (4)). Additionally if a monitoring notice is withdrawn it is incumbent on HMRC to publish the fact of the withdrawal in the same way.
19. Clause 16 complements clause 15 by requiring a promoter to publish to its clients that it is a monitored promoter and which of the condition in the conduct notice it has breached. The monitored promoter only has to publish this information once its appeal rights are exhausted (subsection (2)). Subsections (4) and (5) give the time limits for providing this information to its clients. Publication will be in a form and manner prescribed in regulations and may include publication on the internet.
20. Once a monitored promoter's appeal rights are exhausted, clause 17 requires HMRC to issue it with a promoter reference number. The promoter reference number will enable HMRC to identify the monitored promoter's clients so that its compliance efforts can be suitably directed. Within thirty days of receipt of the promoter reference number from HMRC, clause 18 requires the promoter to pass on the promoter reference number to its clients. There are two time limits for passing on the promoter reference number depending on whether or not the client is a current client or a new client of the promoter.
21. Clause 19 requires clients of a promoter, within thirty days of receiving the promoter reference number, to pass on the promoter reference number to anyone who they know, or might reasonably be expected to know, is likely to be a client of the monitored promoter. This obligation also applies to intermediaries. This requirement will ensure that as many clients or people likely to be clients are given the promoter reference number.
22. Clause 20 requires the person notified of the promoter reference number to report the number to HMRC if they expect to obtain a tax advantage from the monitored promoter's relevant arrangements. If the person makes a tax return then the promoter reference number should be included on the return. If the person does not make a tax return or the tax advantage arises in respect of stamp duty land tax, stamp duty reserve tax or petroleum revenue tax then the promoter's reference number should be notified to HMRC in the form and manner prescribed in regulations. Notification of the promoter reference number will enable HMRC to track taxpayers who have used the monitored promoter's products and to target their compliance efforts accordingly.
23. Clause 21 defines "monitored proposals" and "monitored arrangements" for the purposes of the information requirements that apply to monitored promoters. Monitored proposals and arrangements are those where certain actions take place after the date that the monitoring notice comes into effect. For example subsection (1) partly defines monitored proposals as proposals for which the promoter makes a firm approach to another person after the date that the monitoring notice took effect. In addition, where the specified actions take place after that date, arrangements may also be “monitored arrangements” where the tax advantage they generate arises on or after the date that the monitoring notice took effect (subsection (2) (c)). These provisions ensure that the promoter only has to provide information on its monitored proposals and arrangements while being monitored and not for any prior period.

24. Clause 22 is the targeted information power for monitored promoters and relevant intermediaries. It is to be operated by, or with the approval of, authorised HMRC officers only and applies only if the information or documents are requested in writing. The information or documents requested must be reasonably required to meet certain purposes, specified in subsection (3), which include considering the tax consequences of implementing a monitored proposal and to check the “tax position” of any person who is reasonably believed to have implemented monitored proposals or monitored arrangements. Only intermediaries who, having been notified of the promoter’s reference number, continue to communicate the promoter’s proposals are subject to the information requirement (subsection (4)). “Tax position” is widely defined in subsections (6) and (7). The time limits for providing the information or documents is a minimum of ten days but may be longer as directed by the officer giving the notice.
25. If an HMRC officer wished to use clause 22 to obtain information which related to a person other than the monitored promoter or their intermediary, clause 23 requires the officer to obtain the prior approval of the tribunal. This is similar to paragraph 3 of Schedule 36 to Finance Act 2008.
26. Clause 24 provides for the ongoing duty of the monitored promoter to provide information to HMRC. It takes effect once HMRC has notified the monitored promoter. This enables HMRC to obtain information about all monitored proposals and monitored arrangements that were in existence at the time the monitoring notice comes into effect and throughout the period that the promoter is monitored. Unlike DOTAS, which relies on identifying proposals or arrangements using hallmarks, this power is not limited to specific proposals or arrangements. The time limit for provision of the information and documents is variable, and will be specified in the notification from HMRC.
27. If the monitored promoter is offshore and has failed to provide the information required under clauses 22 and 24 about monitored proposals or monitored arrangements then HMRC may approach the intermediary to provide the information clause 25. In the absence of an intermediary then HMRC may require the person who has implemented the monitored proposal or all or part of the monitored arrangements to provide the information. The minimum period for the provision of the information is ten days.
28. Clause 26 is concerned with the provision of information about the clients of the monitored promoter. HMRC may serve a notice under this clause, after which time the monitored promoter has to make returns supplying names and addresses for its clients as well as other prescribed information on a quarterly basis. The first return must contain details about current clients, and thereafter there is an on-going duty to file returns with details of new clients. The clients are those that have entered into relevant arrangements for which the monitored promoter was the promoter or which implement a relevant proposal of the monitored promoter (subsection (4)). Whether a client is “current” or “new” depends on when the individual first became a client and when the monitoring notice was issued. The information provided by the monitored promoter can be cross-checked against its client’s returns and notifications to HMRC for compliance purposes. Once the HMRC notice has been issued the duty to make returns continues until the promoter is no longer monitored.

29. Clause 27 only applies where a client return has been provided under clause 26 and an authorised officer suspects that a person not included in the return is party to transactions implementing a proposal or arrangement. In these circumstances the officer can require the monitored promoter to provide prescribed information about that person. This will allow the officer to confirm or dismiss relevant suspicions. The minimum time for the provision of the information is ten days.
30. Clause 28 is the final information requirement on promoters; it applies to promoters who are subject to a conduct notice. The clause allows HMRC to request information or documents that are reasonably required to enable HMRC to monitor the conduct notice. Any information or documents provided under clause 28 may provide evidence to support the amendment or withdrawal of the conduct notice.
31. If a promoter provides information under clauses 22, 24, 25, 26, 27 or 28 but an authorised officer suspects that not all of the information or documents has been provided then clause 29 enables the authorised officer to apply to the tribunal for an order requiring the promoter to provide specified information or documents. The tribunal needs to be satisfied that the authorised officer has reasonable grounds for suspecting that the information or documents are reasonably required or will support or explain information already required.
32. Clause 30 is equivalent to a similar DOTAS provision requiring a client to provide the promoter with their national insurance number and unique taxpayer reference. This will enable the promoter to provide this information to HMRC if required to do so under clause 26 and will assist HMRC in tracking the promoter’s clients. Appeal rights against the information notices are provided for in clause 31. The time limit for an appeal is thirty days and the tribunal can confirm or vary the notice or its requirement or set aside the notice.
33. Clauses 32 to 35 are administrative provisions for the information notice clauses 22 to 29. They are equivalent to similar provisions in Schedule 36 Finance Act 2008. Clause 32 allows the Commissioners to specify the form and manner in which information and documents are to be provided. Clause 33 allows the person who has received the notice to provide a copy of a document unless required to provide the original. Clause 34 exempts certain documents from the information notice and clause 35 limits the production of documents to those in the person's possession or power and excludes certain old documents.

34. Clause 37 enables clients and intermediaries to ignore any non-disclosure agreement they have with the monitored promoter if they want to provide specified information to HMRC. The information can be about the monitored promoter itself or its relevant proposals and relevant arrangements. The information is not restricted to proposals and arrangements that the client or intermediary have used or communicated about; it can be about other proposals or arrangements of the monitored promoter.
35. Clause 38 allows regulations to be made for the purposes of the legislation. Apart from statutory instruments to make regulations to add new disclosure provisions to section 6 or to make changes to the threshold conditions in the Schedule, which are made under the affirmative procedure, all other regulations are made under the negative procedure. Finally clause 39 provides a number of definitions to support the clauses.

BACKGROUND NOTE

36. This legislation is designed to tackle particular behaviours which have been identified amongst certain promoters of tax avoidance schemes (e.g. failure to comply with DOTAS or respond to HMRC information notices) and in doing so improve the transparency of certain promoters with HMRC with appropriate sanctions of the promoter does not wish to comply. voluntarily.
37. The "Raising the Stakes" consultation in summer 2013, made proposals to tackle the behaviour of this particular group of promoters. These clauses are the outcome of the consultation and the responses.

BACKGROUND NOTE

15. 16. The promoters of such schemes pose a significant risk to the Exchequer. The legislation introduces a range of sanctions that can be used against high-risk promoters in order to improve their conduct.
17. If you have any questions about this change, or comments on the legislation, please contact Lesley Hamilton on 03000 585670 (email: lesley.hamilton@hmrc.gsi.gov.uk).

 - (b) a ruling of any other court or tribunal in circumstances where –
 - (i) no appeal may be made against the ruling,
 - (ii) if an appeal may be made against the ruling with permission, the time limit for applications has expired and either no application has been made or permission has been refused,

- (iii) if such permission to appeal against the ruling has been granted or is not required, no appeal has been made within the time limit for appeals, or
 - (iv) if an appeal was made, it was abandoned or otherwise disposed of before it was determined by the court or tribunal to which it was addressed.
- (5) Where a judicial ruling is final by virtue of sub-paragraph (ii), (iii) or (iv) of sub-paragraph (4)(b), the ruling is treated as made at the time when the sub-paragraph in question is first satisfied.

Content of failure notices

- 5 (1) A failure notice must –
- (a) identify the judicial ruling in respect of which Condition C in paragraph 1 is met,
 - (b) explain why HMRC considers that the ruling meets the requirements of paragraph 4(3), and
 - (c) set out the requirements, and explain the effect, of paragraphs 6 to 9 and 13.
- (2) A failure notice given by virtue of paragraph 1(2)(a) (notice given during an enquiry) must also –
- (a) specify the amount of the accelerated payment for the purposes of paragraph 20 (accelerated payment of disputed tax), and
 - (b) set out the requirements, and explain the effect of, paragraphs 19 to 21.
- (3) “The accelerated payment” means such amount as a designated HMRC officer may determine, to the best of that officer’s information and belief, as the additional amount that would become due and payable in respect of tax on the assumption that –
- (a) the explanation given under sub-paragraph (1)(b) is correct, and
 - (b) the necessary corrective action is taken under paragraph 6(2)(a) in respect of what that officer so determines as the denied advantage.
- (4) A failure notice given by virtue of paragraph 1(2)(b) (notice given pending determination of an appeal), in the case of an initial appeal (rather than a further appeal), must also specify the amount of any charge to tax arising in consequence of –
- (a) the amendment or assessment appealed against, or
 - (b) where the appeal is against a conclusion stated by a closure notice, that conclusion,
- which, in the opinion of HMRC, is required to ensure the counteraction of the denied advantage.
- (5) In this Part of this Schedule “the denied advantage” means the asserted advantage (see paragraph 1(3)), or the part of that advantage, denied by the application of the principles laid down in the relevant judicial ruling.

Effect of giving a failure notice

- 6 (1) This paragraph applies where P has been given a failure notice and that notice has not been withdrawn.

- (2) P must—
- (a) take the necessary corrective action in respect of the denied advantage, and
 - (b) give HMRC a notice which—
 - (i) states that P accepts that the judicial ruling is relevant and has taken the necessary corrective action, and
 - (ii) specifies the denied advantage and (where different) the additional amount which has or will become due and payable in respect of tax by reason of the necessary corrective action being taken.
- (3) But if P makes representations to HMRC in accordance with paragraph 7, sub-paragraph (2) ceases to apply until HMRC notifies P that the failure notice has been confirmed (with or without amendment) under that paragraph.
- (4) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2), P takes the necessary corrective action in respect of the denied advantage if (and only if)—
- (a) in the case of a failure notice given by virtue of paragraph 1(2)(a), P amends a return or claim before the end of the tax enquiry to counteract the denied advantage;
 - (b) in the case of a failure notice given by virtue of paragraph 1(2)(b), P takes all necessary steps to enter into an agreement with HMRC (in writing) for the purpose of relinquishing the denied advantage.
- (5) For the purposes of determining the additional amount which has or will become due and payable in respect of tax for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(b)(ii), in a case where P takes all those necessary steps it is to be assumed the agreement is entered into.
- (6) No enactment which limits the time during which amendments may be made to returns or claims operates to prevent an amendment of a return or claim being made in accordance with this paragraph.
- (7) See paragraph 22 (appeals against final rulings made out of time) for circumstances in which the duty in sub-paragraph (2) is suspended.
- (8) No appeal may be brought, by virtue of a provision mentioned in sub-paragraph (9), against an amendment made by a closure notice in respect of a tax enquiry to the extent that the amendment takes into account an amendment made by P to a return or claim in accordance with this paragraph.
- (9) The provisions are—
- (a) section 31(1)(b) or (c) of TMA 1970,
 - (b) paragraph 9 of Schedule 1A to TMA 1970,
 - (c) paragraph 30(3) or 34(3) of Schedule 18 to FA 1998,
 - (d) paragraph 35(1)(b) of Schedule 10 to FA 2003, and
 - (e) paragraph 35(1)(b) of Schedule 33 to FA 2013.

Request for reconsideration by HMRC of a failure notice

- 7 (1) Where a failure notice is given, P has 90 days beginning with the day the notice is given to send representations to HMRC objecting to the notice on the grounds that—

- (a) Condition A, B or D in paragraph 1 was not met, or
 - (b) the judicial ruling specified in the notice is not one which is relevant to the applied arrangements.
- (2) HMRC must consider any representations made in accordance with sub-paragraph (1).
- (3) Having considered the representations, HMRC must –
- (a) confirm the failure notice (with or without amendment), or
 - (b) withdraw the failure notice,
- and notify P.

Penalty for failure to take the necessary corrective action

- 8 (1) This section applies where a failure notice has been given and not withdrawn.
- (2) P is liable to pay a penalty in the following cases.
- (3) The first case is where –
- (a) no representations objecting to the failure notice are made by P in accordance with paragraph 7 during the 90 day post-notice period, and
 - (b) P fails to comply with paragraph 6(2) before the end of that period.
- (4) The second case is where –
- (a) P makes representations in accordance with paragraph 7 objecting to the failure notice,
 - (b) the notice is confirmed under that paragraph (with or without amendment), and
 - (c) P fails to comply with paragraph 6(2) before the later of –
 - (i) the end of the 90 day post-notice period, and
 - (ii) the end of the 30 day post-representations period.
- (5) In this Part of this Schedule –
- “the 90 day post-notice period” means the period of 90 days beginning with the day on which the failure notice is given;
- “the 30 day post-representations period” means the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which P is notified of HMRC’s determination under paragraph 7(3).

The amount of the paragraph 8 penalty

- 9 (1) The penalty under paragraph 8 is X% of the value of the denied advantage.
- (2) Where, before the relevant time, P –
- (a) amends a return or claim to counteract part of the denied advantage only, or
 - (b) takes all necessary steps to enter into an agreement with HMRC (in writing) for the purposes of relinquishing part of the denied advantage only,
- in sub-paragraph (1) the reference to the denied advantage is to be read as a reference to the remainder of the denied advantage.
- (3) “The relevant time” means –

- (a) in a case within paragraph 8(3), the end of the 90 day post-notice period, and
 - (b) in a case within paragraph 8(4), the later of –
 - (i) the end of the 90 day post-notice period, and
 - (ii) the end of the 30 day post-representations period.
- (4) See paragraphs 10 to 13 for provision about the value of the denied advantage for the purposes of calculating penalties under this paragraph.

Value of denied advantage: normal rule

- 10 (1) For the purposes of calculating penalties under paragraph 9, the value of the denied advantage is the additional amount due or payable in respect of tax as a result of counteracting the denied advantage.
- (2) The reference in sub-paragraph (1) to the additional amount due or payable includes a reference to –
- (a) an amount payable to HMRC having erroneously been paid by way of repayment of tax, and
 - (b) an amount which would be repayable by HMRC if the denied advantage were not counteracted.
- (3) The following are ignored in calculating the value of the denied advantage –
- (a) group relief, and
 - (b) any relief under section 458 of CTA 2010 (relief in respect of repayment etc of loan) which is deferred under subsection (5) of that section.
- (4) This paragraph is subject to paragraphs 11 and 12.

Value of denied advantage: losses

- 11 (1) To the extent that the denied advantage has the result that a loss is wrongly recorded for purposes of direct tax and the loss has been wholly used to reduce the amount due or payable in respect of tax, the value of the denied advantage is determined in accordance with paragraph 10.
- (2) To the extent that the denied advantage has the result that a loss is wrongly recorded for purposes of direct tax and the loss has not been wholly used to reduce the amount due or payable in respect of tax, the value of the denied advantage is –
- (a) the value under paragraph 10 of so much of the denied advantage as results from the part (if any) of the loss which is used to reduce the amount due or payable in respect of tax, plus
 - (b) 10% of the part of the loss not so used.
- (3) Sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) apply both –
- (a) to a case where no loss would have been recorded but for the denied advantage, and
 - (b) to a case where a loss of a different amount would have been recorded (but in that case sub-paragraphs (1) and (2) apply only to the difference between the amount recorded and the true amount).
- (4) To the extent that a denied advantage creates or increases an aggregate loss recorded for a group of companies –

- (a) the value of the denied advantage is calculated in accordance with this paragraph, and
 - (b) in applying paragraph 10 in accordance with sub-paragraphs (1) and (2), group relief may be taken into account (despite paragraph 10(3)).
- (5) To the extent that the denied advantage results in a loss, the value of it is nil where, because of the nature of the loss or P's circumstances, there is no reasonable prospect of the loss being used to support a claim to reduce a tax liability (of any person).

Value of denied advantage: delayed tax

- 12 (1) To the extent that the denied advantage is a deferral of tax, the value of that advantage is –
- (a) 25% of the amount of the deferred tax for each year of the deferral, or
 - (b) a percentage of the amount of the deferred tax, for each separate period of deferral of less than a year, equating to 25% per year, or, if less, 100% of the amount of the deferred tax.
- (2) This paragraph does not apply to a case to the extent that paragraph 11 applies.

Reduction of paragraph 8 penalty for co-operation

- 13 (1) Where –
- (a) P is liable to pay a penalty under paragraph 8 of the amount specified in paragraph 9(1),
 - (b) the penalty has not yet been assessed, and
 - (c) P has co-operated with HMRC,
- HMRC may reduce the amount of that penalty to reflect the quality of that co-operation.
- (2) In relation to co-operation, “quality” includes timing, nature and extent.
- (3) In sub-paragraph (1), the reference to P having co-operated with HMRC is to P having done one or more of the following –
- (a) counteracted the denied advantage;
 - (b) provided HMRC with information enabling corrective action to be taken by HMRC;
 - (c) provided with information enabling HMRC to enter an agreement with P for the purposes of paragraph 6(4);
 - (d) provided reasonable assistance to HMRC in quantifying the tax advantage;
 - (e) allowed HMRC to access tax records for the purpose of ensuring that the denied advantage is fully counteracted.
- (4) But nothing in this paragraph permits HMRC to reduce a penalty to less than Y% of the value of the denied advantage.

Assessment of penalties

- 14 (1) Where a person is liable for a penalty under paragraph 8, HMRC may assess the penalty.
- (2) Where HMRC assess the penalty, HMRC must –

- (a) notify the person who is liable for the penalty, and
 - (b) state in the notice a tax period in respect of which the penalty is assessed.
- (3) A penalty under paragraph 8 must be paid before the end of the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which the person is notified of the penalty under sub-paragraph (2).
- (4) An assessment –
- (a) is to be treated for procedural purposes in the same way as an assessment to tax (except in respect of a matter expressly provided for by this Schedule),
 - (b) may be enforced as if it were an assessment to tax, and
 - (c) may be combined with an assessment to tax.
- (5) No penalty under paragraph 8 may be notified under sub-paragraph (2) later than –
- (a) in the case of a failure notice given by virtue of paragraph 1(2)(a) (tax enquiry in progress), the end of the period of 90 days beginning with the day the tax enquiry is completed, and
 - (b) in the case of a failure notice given by virtue of paragraph 1(2)(b) (tax appeal pending), the end of the period of 90 days beginning with the earliest of –
 - (i) the day on which P takes the necessary corrective action in accordance with paragraph 6(2),
 - (ii) the day on which a ruling is made on the appeal, or any further appeal, which is a final ruling (see paragraph 4(4)), and
 - (iii) the day on which the appeal, or any further appeal, is abandoned or otherwise disposed of before it is determined by the court or tribunal to which it is addressed.
- (6) In this paragraph –
- (a) “tax period” means a tax year, accounting period or other period in respect of which tax is charged, and
 - (b) a reference to an assessment to tax, in relation to inheritance tax, is to a determination.

Aggregate penalties

- 15 (1) This paragraph applies where –
- (a) two or more penalties are incurred by the same person and fall to be determined by reference to an amount of tax with which that person is chargeable,
 - (b) one of those penalties is incurred under paragraph 8, and
 - (c) the remaining penalties are incurred under a relevant penalty provision.
- (2) The aggregate of the amounts of those penalties, so far as determined by reference to that amount of tax, must not exceed –
- (a) the relevant percentage of that amount, or
 - (b) in a case where at least one of the penalties is under paragraph 5(2)(b) or 6(3)(b), (4)(b) or (5)(b) of Schedule 55 to FA 2009, £300 (if greater).

- (3) In the application of section 97A of TMA 1970 (multiple penalties) no account is to be taken of a penalty under paragraph 8.
- (4) “Relevant penalty provision” means –
- (a) Schedule 24 to FA 2007,
 - (b) Schedule 41 to FA 2008, or
 - (c) Schedule 55 to FA 2009.
- (5) “The relevant percentage” means –
- (a) 200% in a case where at least one of the penalties is determined by reference to the percentage in –
 - (i) paragraph 4(4)(c) of Schedule 24 to FA 2007,
 - (ii) paragraph 6(4)(a) of Schedule 41 to FA 2008, or
 - (iii) paragraph 6(3A)(c) of Schedule 55 to FA 2009,
 - (b) 150% in a case where paragraph (a) does not apply and at least one of the penalties is determined by reference to the percentage in –
 - (i) paragraph 4(3)(c) of Schedule 24 to FA 2007,
 - (ii) paragraph 6(3)(a) of Schedule 41 to FA 2008, or
 - (iii) paragraph 6(3A)(b) of Schedule 55 to FA 2009,
 - (c) 140% in a case where neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) applies and at least one of the penalties is determined by reference to the percentage in –
 - (i) paragraph 4(4)(b) of Schedule 24 to FA 2007,
 - (ii) paragraph 6(4)(b) of Schedule 41 to FA 2008,
 - (iii) paragraph 6(4A)(c) of Schedule 55 to FA 2009,
 - (d) 105% in a case where none of paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) applies and at least one of the penalties is determined by reference to the percentage in –
 - (i) paragraph 4(3)(b) of Schedule 24 to FA 2007,
 - (ii) paragraph 6(3)(b) of Schedule 41 to FA 2008,
 - (iii) paragraph 6(4A)(b) of Schedule 55 to FA 2009, and
 - (e) in any other case, 100%.
- (6) When determining the relevant percentage under sub-paragraph (5), any reduction of a penalty by HMRC is to be ignored.

Alteration of assessment

- 16 (1) After the notification of an assessment has been given to a person under paragraph 14(2), the assessment may not be altered except in accordance with this paragraph or on appeal.
- (2) A supplementary assessment may be made in respect of a penalty if an earlier assessment operated by reference to an underestimate of the value of the denied advantage.
- (3) An assessment or supplementary assessment may be revised as necessary if it operated by reference to an overestimate of the denied advantage; and, where more than the resulting assessed penalty has already been paid by the person to HMRC, the excess must be repaid.

Appeals against a penalty under paragraph 8

- 17 (1) P may appeal against a decision of HMRC that a penalty is payable by P under paragraph 8.
- (2) P may appeal against a decision of HMRC as to the amount of a penalty payable by P under paragraph 8.
- (3) An appeal under this paragraph must be made within the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which notification of the penalty is given under paragraph 14(2).
- (4) An appeal under this paragraph is to be treated in the same way as an appeal against an assessment to the tax concerned (including by the application of any provision about bringing the appeal by notice to HMRC, about HMRC's review of the decision or about determination of the appeal by the First-tier Tribunal or Upper Tribunal).
- (5) Sub-paragraph (4) does not apply –
- (a) so as to require a person to pay a penalty before an appeal against the assessment of the penalty is determined, or
 - (b) in respect of any other matter expressly provided for by this Schedule.
- (6) In this paragraph a reference to an assessment to tax, in relation to inheritance tax, is to a determination.
- 18 (1) On an appeal under paragraph 17(1), the tribunal may affirm or cancel HMRC's decision.
- (2) On an appeal under paragraph 17(2), the tribunal may –
- (a) affirm HMRC's decision, or
 - (b) substitute for HMRC's decision another decision that HMRC had power to make.
- (3) In this paragraph "tribunal" means the First-tier Tribunal or Upper Tribunal (as appropriate by virtue of paragraph 17(4)).

Representations about HMRC's determination of the amount of disputed tax

- 19 (1) This paragraph applies where a failure notice has been given and not withdrawn.
- (2) P has 90 days, beginning with the day the notice is given, to send representations to HMRC objecting to the amount specified in the notice under paragraph 5(2)(a) or (4).
- (3) HMRC must consider any representations made in accordance with sub-paragraph (2).
- (4) Having considered the representations, HMRC must –
- (a) confirm the amount specified in the notice, or
 - (b) determine that a different amount ought to have been specified and amend the notice accordingly,
- and notify P.

Accelerated payment on account where failure notice given and tax unpaid

- 20 (1) This paragraph applies where a failure notice –
- (a) has been given by virtue of paragraph 1(2)(a) (notice given during an enquiry), and
 - (b) has not been withdrawn,
- (and applies whether or not P is liable to a penalty under paragraph 8).
- (2) P must pay to HMRC the accelerated payment specified in the failure notice under paragraph 5(2)(a).
- (3) The accelerated payment is to be treated as a payment on account of the additional amount of tax which would become due and payable by P on the assumption that –
- (a) the explanation given in the failure notice under paragraph 5(1)(b) is correct, and
 - (b) the necessary corrective action is taken under paragraph 6(2)(a).
- (4) The accelerated payment must be made before –
- (a) the end of the payment period, or
 - (b) if later, the date on which that additional amount in respect of tax would become due and payable.
- (5) “The payment period” means –
- (a) if P made no representations under paragraph 19, the 90 day post-notice period, and
 - (b) if P made such representations, whichever of the following periods ends later –
 - (i) the 90 day post-notice period;
 - (ii) the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which P is notified under paragraph 19 of HMRC’s determination.
- (6) See paragraph 22 (appeals against final rulings made out of time) for circumstances in which the duty in sub-paragraph (2) is suspended.

Penalty for failure to make accelerated payment on time

- 21 (1) If any amount of the accelerated payment is unpaid at the end of the payment period, P is liable to a penalty of 5% of that amount.
- (2) If any amount of the accelerated payment is unpaid after the end of the period of 5 months beginning with the penalty day, P is liable to a penalty of 5% of that amount.
- (3) If any amount of the accelerated payment is unpaid after the end of the period of 11 months beginning with the penalty day, P is liable to a penalty of 5% of that amount.
- (4) “The penalty day” means the day immediately following the end of the payment period.
- (5) Paragraphs 9 to 18 (other than paragraph 11(5)) of Schedule 56 to FA 2009 (provisions which apply to penalties for failures to make payments of tax on time) apply, with any necessary modifications, to a penalty under this paragraph in relation a failure by P to pay the accelerated payment as they apply to a penalty under that Schedule in relation to a failure by a person to pay an amount of tax.

Appeals against final judicial rulings out of time

- 22 (1) This paragraph applies where a final judicial ruling is the subject of an appeal by reason of a court or tribunal granting leave to appeal out of time.
- (2) If a failure notice has been given identifying the judicial ruling under paragraph 5(1)(a), the notice is suspended until such time as HMRC notify P that—
- (a) the appeal has resulted in a judicial ruling which is a final ruling, or
 - (b) the appeal has been abandoned or otherwise disposed of (before it was determined).
- (3) Accordingly the period during which the notice is suspended does not count towards the periods mentioned in paragraph 8(5) or 20(5)(b)(ii).
- (4) When a failure notice is suspended under sub-paragraph (2), HMRC must notify P as soon as reasonably practicable.
- (5) If the final ruling resulting from the appeal is not a judicial ruling which is relevant to the applied arrangements (see paragraph 4(3)), the failure notice ceases to have effect at the end of the period of suspension.
- (6) In any other case, the failure notice continues after the suspension and, in a case within sub-paragraph (2)(a), is treated as if it were in respect of the final ruling resulting from the appeal.
- (7) The notice given under sub-paragraph (2) must—
- (a) state whether sub-paragraph (5) or (6) applies, and
 - (b) where sub-paragraph (6) applies in a case within sub-paragraph (2)(a), make any amendments to the failure notice required to reflect the new final ruling.
- (8) No new failure notice may be given in respect of the judicial ruling which is the subject of the appeal, unless the appeal has been abandoned or otherwise disposed of before it is determined by the court or tribunal to which it is addressed.
- (9) Nothing in this paragraph prevents a failure notice being given in respect of a new final ruling resulting from the appeal.
- (10) Where the appeal is abandoned or otherwise disposed of as mentioned in sub-paragraph (8), for the purposes of the ruling mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) the period beginning when leave to appeal out of time was granted and ending when the appeal is disposed of does not count towards the period of 12 months mentioned in paragraph 5(1).

Partnership: introduction

- 23 (1) Paragraphs 24 to 29 make special provision about partners and partnerships.
- (2) In those paragraphs and this paragraph—
- “partnership failure notice” means a failure notice given by reason of—
 - (a) a tax enquiry being in progress into a partnership return, or

- (b) an appeal having been made in relation to an amendment of a partnership return or against a conclusion stated by a closure notice in relation to a tax enquiry into a partnership return;

“partnership return” means a return in pursuance of a notice under section 12AA(2) or (3) of TMA 1970;

“the representative partner”, in relation to a partnership return, means the person who was required by a notice served under or for the purposes of section 12AA(2) or (3) of TMA 1970 to deliver the return;

“relevant partner”, in relation to a partnership return, means a person who was a partner in the partnership to which the return relates at any time during the period in respect of which the return was required;

and references to a “successor”, in relation to the representative partner are to be construed in accordance with section 12AA(11) of TMA 1970.

Giving of failure notices in relation to partnership returns

- 24 (1) If the representative partner in relation to a partnership return is no longer available, for the purposes of paragraph 1 the return, or an appeal in respect of the return, is to be regarded as made by the person who is for the time being the successor of that partner (if that would not otherwise be the case).
- (2) Where, at any time after a partnership failure notice is given to P, P is no longer available, any reference in this Part of this Schedule (other than paragraph 1 and this sub-paragraph) to P is to be read as a reference to the person who is, for the time being, the successor of the representative partner.
- (3) For the purposes of paragraph 1(3) a partnership return, or appeal in respect of a partnership return, is made on the basis that a particular tax advantage results from particular tax arrangements if –
- (a) it is made on the basis that an increase or reduction in one or more of the amounts mentioned in section 12AB(1) of TMA 1970 (amounts in the partnership statement in a partnership return) results from those tax arrangements, and
 - (b) that increase or reduction results in that tax advantage for one or more of the relevant partners.
- (4) For the purposes of Condition D in paragraph 1(5) –
- (a) a notice given to a person in the person’s capacity as the representative partner of a partnership, or a successor of that partner, and a notice given to that person otherwise than in that capacity are not to be treated as given to the same person, and
 - (b) all notices given to the representative partner and successors of that partner, in that capacity, are to be treated as given to the same person.
- (5) In this paragraph references to a person being “no longer available” have the same meaning as in section 12AA(11) of TMA 1970.

Accelerated payments and partnership failure notices

- 25 (1) Where HMRC give a partnership failure notice, paragraphs 5(2) to (4) and 19 to 21 (which make provision for accelerated payments by P) do not apply in relation to the notice.

- (2) But see paragraph 28 and 29 for provision about partner payment notices and accelerated partner payments in such cases.

Effect of a partnership failure notice

- 26 In the application of paragraph 6 in relation to a partnership failure notice –
- (a) references to the denied advantage are to be read as references to the increase or reduction in an amount in the partnership statement mentioned in paragraph 24(2), and
 - (b) in sub-paragraph (2)(b)(ii) the words from “and (where different)” to the end are to be ignored.

Penalty for failure to take the necessary corrective action: partnership failure notice

- 27 (1) This paragraph applies in relation to a partnership failure notice.
- (2) Paragraph 8(2) applies as if the reference to P were to each relevant partner.
- (3) Paragraph 9 applies subject to the following modifications –
- (a) the total amount of the penalties under paragraph 8 for which the relevant partners are liable is Z% of the value of the denied advantage,
 - (b) the amount of the penalty for which each relevant partner is liable is that partner’s appropriate share of that total amount, and
 - (c) the value of the denied advantage for the purposes of calculating the total amount of the penalties is –
 - (i) in the case of a notice given under paragraph 1(2)(a), the net amount of the amendments required to be made to the partnership return to counteract the denied advantage, and
 - (ii) in the case of a notice given under paragraph 1(2)(b), the net amount of the amendments that have been made to the partnership return to counteract the denied advantage, (and, accordingly, paragraphs 10 to 12 do not apply).
- (4) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (3) a relevant partner’s appropriate share is –
- (a) the same share as the share in which any profits or loss for the period to which the return relates would be apportioned to that partner in accordance with the firm’s profit-sharing arrangements, or
 - (b) if HMRC do not have sufficient information from P to establish that share, such share as is determined for the purposes of this paragraph by an officer of HMRC.
- (5) Where –
- (a) the relevant partners are liable to pay a penalty under paragraph 8 (as modified by this paragraph),
 - (b) the penalties have not yet been assessed, and
 - (c) P has co-operated with HMRC,
- paragraph 13(1) does not apply, but HMRC may reduce the total amount of the penalties determined in accordance with sub-paragraph (3)(a) to reflect the quality of that co-operation.
- Paragraph 13(2) and (3) apply for the purposes of this sub-paragraph.

- (6) Nothing in sub-paragraph (5) permits HMRC to reduce the total amount of the penalties to less than Y% of the value of the denied advantage (as determined in accordance with sub-paragraph (3)(c)).
- (7) For the purposes of paragraph 15, a penalty imposed on a relevant partner by virtue of sub-paragraph (2) is to be treated as if it were determined by reference to such additional amount of tax as is due and payable by the relevant partner as a result of the counteraction of the denied advantage.
- (8) The right of appeal under paragraph 17 extends to—
 - (a) a decision that penalties are payable by the relevant partners by virtue of this paragraph, and
 - (b) a decision as to the total amount of those penalties payable by those partners,but not to a decision as to the appropriate share of, or the amount of a penalty payable by, a relevant partner.
- (9) Paragraph 18(1) applies to an appeal by virtue of sub-paragraph (8)(a), and paragraph 18(2) to an appeal by virtue of sub-paragraph (8)(b).
- (10) An appeal by virtue of sub-paragraph (8) may be brought only by the representative partner or, if that partner is no longer available, the person who is for the time being the successor of that partner.

Partner payment notices

- 28 (1) Where HMRC give a partnership failure notice, HMRC must, at the same time, give each relevant partner (other than an excluded partner) a notice (a “partner payment notice”).
- (2) The partner payment notice given to a relevant partner must—
 - (a) specify the amount of the accelerated partner payment for the purposes of paragraph 29, and
 - (b) set out the requirements, and explain the effect of, this paragraph and paragraph 29.
- (3) “The accelerated partner payment”, in relation to a relevant partner, means such amount as a designated HMRC officer may determine, to the best of the officer’s information and belief, as the additional amount that would become due and payable by that partner in respect of tax on the assumption that—
 - (a) the explanation given in the partnership failure notice under paragraph 5(1)(b) is correct, and
 - (b) what that officer may so determine as the denied advantage is counteracted to the extent that it is reflected in a return or claim of the partner.
- (4) A partner is “excluded” if the amount of the accelerated partner payment in respect of the partner is nil.
- (5) Paragraph 19 (representations about HMRC’s determination of the amount of disputed tax) applies in relation to an partner payment notice given to a relevant partner as it applies in relation to a failure notice given to P.

Payment of accelerated partner payments

- 29 (1) This paragraph applies where an partner payment notice has been given to a relevant partner and not withdrawn.
- (2) The relevant partner must pay to HMRC the accelerated partner payment specified in the notice under paragraph 28(2)(a).
- (3) The accelerated partner payment is to be treated as a payment on account of the additional amount of tax which would become due and payable by the relevant partner on the assumptions mentioned in paragraph 28(3).
- (4) The accelerated partner payment must be made before –
- (a) the end of the payment period, or
 - (b) if later, the date on which that additional amount in respect of tax would become due and payable.
- (5) “The payment period” means –
- (a) if the relevant partner made no representations under paragraph 19 (as applied by paragraph 28(5)), the period of 90 days beginning with the day on which the partner payment notice is given;
 - (b) if the relevant partner made such representations –
 - (i) the period mentioned in paragraph (a), or
 - (ii) the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which the relevant partner is notified under paragraph 19 of HMRC’s determination, whichever ends later.
- (6) Paragraph 21 (penalty for failure to make accelerated payment on time) applies to accelerated partner payments as if –
- (a) references in that paragraph to the accelerated payment were to the accelerated partner payment,
 - (b) references to P were to the relevant partner, and
 - (c) “the payment period” had the meaning given in sub-paragraph (5).
- (7) Where a partnership failure notice is suspended under paragraph 22 (appeals against final rulings made out of time) –
- (a) any partner payment notice given in relation to that notice is also suspended and, accordingly, the period during which the notice is suspended does not count towards the periods mentioned in sub-paragraph (5)(a) or (b)(ii), and
 - (b) HMRC must give a copy of any notice given under paragraph 22 to each relevant partner who has been given a partner payment notice.

- 34 In section 55 (recovery of tax not postponed), after subsection (8A) insert—
- “(8B) Subsections (8C) and (8D) apply where a person has been given a failure notice under Part 1 of Schedule 1 to FA 2014 (consequences of failing to take account of relevant judicial rulings) and that notice has not been withdrawn.

- (8C) Nothing in this section enables the postponement of the payment of—
- (a) an amount due under paragraph 20 of that Schedule by reason of the failure notice (accelerated payment on account where failure notice given and tax unpaid), or
 - (b) an amount of tax identified in the failure notice in accordance with paragraph 5(4) of that Schedule or, where that notice has been amended under paragraph 19 of that Schedule, the amended notice.
- (8D) Accordingly, if the payment of an amount of tax within subsection (8C)(b) is postponed by virtue of this section, immediately before the failure notice is given, it ceases to be so postponed with effect from the time the failure notice is given, and the tax is due and payable—
- (a) if no representations were made under paragraph 19 of that Schedule in respect of the failure notice, no later than the end of the 90 day post-notice period (within the meaning of Part 1 of that Schedule), and
 - (b) if representations were so made, no later than the end of whichever of the following periods ends later—
 - (i) the 90 day post-notice period;
 - (ii) the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which HMRC’s determination in respect of those representations is notified under paragraph 19 of that Schedule.”

35 In section 56 (payment of tax where there is a further appeal), after subsection (3) insert—

 - (b) the assessment has effect, or partly has effect, to counteract the whole or part of the asserted advantage (within the meaning of paragraph 1(3) of that Schedule) by reason of which the notice was given.
- (3B) If, on the application of HMRC, the relevant court or tribunal considers it necessary for the protection of the revenue, it may direct that subsection (2) does not apply so far as the tax relates to the counteraction of the asserted advantage, and—
- (a) give permission to withhold all or part of any payment or repayment, or
 - (b) require the provision of adequate security before a payment or repayment is made.
- (3C) “Relevant court or tribunal” means the tribunal or court from which permission or leave to appeal is sought.”

asserted advantage (within the meaning of paragraph 1(3) of that Schedule) by reason of which the notice was given.

- (3) If, on the application of HMRC, the relevant court or tribunal considers it necessary for the protection of the revenue, it may direct that sub-paragraph (1) does not apply so far as the stamp duty land tax relates to the counteraction of the asserted advantage, and –
- (a) give permission to withhold all or part of any payment or repayment, or
 - (b) require the provision of adequate security before payment or repayment is made.
- (4) “Relevant court or tribunal” means the tribunal or court from which permission or leave to appeal is sought.”

(8B) Nothing in this paragraph enables the postponement of the payment of –

- (a) an amount due under paragraph 20 of that Schedule by reason of the failure notice (accelerated payment on account where failure notice given and tax unpaid), or
 - (b) an amount of tax identified in the failure notice in accordance with paragraph 5(4) of that Schedule or, where that notice has been amended under paragraph 19 of that Schedule, the amended notice.
- (8C) Accordingly, if the payment of an amount of tax within sub-paragraph (8B)(b) is postponed by virtue of this paragraph, immediately before the failure notice is given, it ceases to be so postponed with effect from the time the failure notice is given, and the tax is due and payable –
 - (a) if no representations were made under paragraph 19 of that Schedule in respect of the failure notice, no later than the end of the 90 day post-notice period (within the meaning of Part 1 of that Schedule), and

 - “(4) Paragraph 39(9) applies for the purposes of this paragraph as it applies for the purposes of paragraph 39.”
- (4) In paragraph 53 (payment of tax where there is a further appeal), after sub-paragraph (2) insert –

 - (b) the assessment to which the appeal relates has effect, or partly has effect, to counteract the whole or part of the asserted advantage (within the meaning of paragraph 1(3) of that Schedule) by reason of which the notice was given.
 - (3) If, on the application of HMRC, the relevant court or tribunal considers it necessary for the protection of the revenue, it may direct that sub-paragraph (1) does not apply so far as the tax relates to the counteraction of the asserted advantage, and –

- 41 (1) The amendments made by Part 1 of this Schedule have effect in relation to judicial rulings whenever made.

- (3) Accordingly, the reference in paragraph 22(10) to the period of 12 months includes a reference to the period of 24 months mentioned in the version of paragraph 1(6) set out in sub-paragraph (2) above.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

CLAUSE 1 SCHEDULE 1: CONSEQUENCES OF FAILING TO TAKE ACCOUNT OF RELEVANT JUDICIAL RULINGS

SUMMARY

1. Clause XX and Schedule YY introduce a new requirement for users of certain tax arrangements to amend their returns to relinquish the asserted tax advantage obtained by applying those arrangements when notified to do so by HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC). HMRC may issue such a notification when those tax arrangements have been shown in a relevant judicial ruling not to give the asserted tax advantage if applied to those tax arrangements. The measure provides for a penalty to be charged on those taxpayers who fail to make the required amendment or to satisfy HMRC that no such amendment is necessary. Taxpayers have a right of appeal against the penalty.

Taxpayers in receipt of a notice to amend their returns will also be notified of a requirement to pay the amount of the tax advantage to HMRC. This amount will only be payable if the taxpayer fails to amend the relevant return and pay the additional tax liability.

The measure applies to Income Tax (IT); Capital Gains Tax (CGT); Corporation Tax (CT); Inheritance Tax (IHT); Stamp Duty Land Tax (SDLT); and the Annual Tax on Enveloped Dwellings (ATED). The clause provides for further taxes to be added to the measure by Treasury Order.

DETAILS OF THE SCHEDULE

2. Paragraph 1 defines the conditions which must apply for HMRC to issue a failure notice to a person.
3. Paragraph 1(2) provides the first condition that there is an open tax enquiry into that person's return, or the person has made a tax appeal.
4. Paragraph 1(3) provides the second condition that the return or claim subject to the enquiry or to the appeal is made on the basis that the person obtains a tax advantage from the use of tax arrangements.
5. Paragraph 1(4) provides the third condition that there has been a judicial ruling relevant to the person's return, claim or appeal.
6. Paragraph 1(5) provides the fourth condition, that no previous failure notice has been given to the person in respect of the same tax arrangements and tax advantage, unless it was withdrawn.

Tax Advantage and Tax Arrangements

7. Paragraph 2(3) defines a tax advantage to include relief from or repayment of tax, avoidance or reduction of a charge or assessment to tax or a tax obligation, and a deferral of payment or an advance of repayment of tax.

Tax Returns and Enquiries

8. Paragraph 3(5) provides that certain defined statements, accounts and documents are to be treated as returns for the purposes of Inheritance Tax (IHT).

9. Paragraph 3(6) states that an IHT tax enquiry is deemed to be in progress from the time an account is delivered or other document produced, until the person is issued with a certificate of discharge.

Relevant Judicial Ruling

10. Paragraph 4(3) provides that a judicial ruling in another party's litigation is relevant to a person if the ruling relates to tax arrangements, the ruling lays down principles which, if applied to those arrangements, deny that advantage or part of it, and it is a final ruling.

11. Paragraph 4(4) defines a ruling as final if it is made by the Supreme Court, or if made by a lower court or tribunal, no appeal is made against it, permission to appeal is refused or if an appeal is made but is abandoned or otherwise disposed of before it was determined.

Failure Notices

12. Paragraph 5(1) provides that a failure notice must identify the judicial ruling on which it is based, explain why HMRC consider it is relevant to the person's tax arrangements, and set out what the person is required to do as a result of the notice.

13. Paragraph 5(2) provides that a failure notice will also notify the taxpayer of the amount of the "accelerated payment" which is due under paragraph 20, and explain the payment due date and the consequences of not making the payment.

14. Paragraph 5(3) provides that the amount of the accelerated payment will be that amount which is properly due, on the assumption that there is a relevant judicial ruling and the taxpayer takes the required corrective action (e.g. in amending the return). In effect it is the amount of additional tax HMRC maintains is due for the return now that the asserted tax advantage has been shown not to accrue as a result of the relevant judicial ruling. This subparagraph also provides that only a "designated" officer is authorised to determine the amount payable.

15. Paragraph 6(2)(a) provides that a person who is issued with a failure notice must take the required action correct the tax position.

16. Paragraph 6(2)(b) provides that the person notify HMRC when he has taken the corrective action and that he accepts the judicial ruling is relevant, and that he must notify HMRC of the amount of the asserted tax advantage and the tax that has now become payable.

17. Paragraph 6(4) defines the action required by the person as amending his return or claim to counter the tax advantage claimed if the failure notice is in respect of an open tax enquiry, or taking all necessary steps to reach agreement with HMRC to relinquish the denied advantage if the failure notice is issued in respect of a tax appeal.

18. Paragraph 6(6) provides that any time limit applied to prevent a taxpayer amending his return or claim is disregarded for the purposes of this measure.

19. Paragraphs 6(8) and (9) provides that a taxpayer may not appeal against a notice closing an enquiry into his return or claim where that notice gives effect to any amendment made by the taxpayer in response to a failure notice.

Request for Reconsideration by HMRC of a Failure Notice

20. Paragraph 7 provides that a person may make representations to HMRC within 90 days of a failure notice being issued. The person may object to a failure notice either because there is no open tax enquiry or appeal or no tax advantage was obtained by the return or claim; that he has already been given a failure notice in respect of the tax arrangements or tax advantage; or that the judicial ruling is not relevant to his circumstances. HMRC must consider the representations and notify the person that the failure notice is confirmed or amended, or withdrawn.

Penalties for Failure to Comply with Failure Notices

21. Paragraph 8(3) states that a person becomes liable to a penalty if he fails to comply with a failure notice within 90 days and makes no representations to HMRC.

22. Paragraph 8(4) states that when a person makes representations to HMRC about a failure notice he becomes liable to a penalty if he subsequently fails to comply with a failure notice within 30 days of HMRC amending or confirming it, or if later, within 90 days of the original date of the failure notice.

23. Paragraph 9 provides that if a person becomes liable to a penalty it will be charged at [X%] of the tax advantage claimed, or of that part of it remaining if the person complies in part with the notice before becoming liable to a penalty.

Value of Denied Advantage

24. Paragraph 10(1) defines the value of denied advantage as the additional amount of tax that would be due or payable if the advantage were counteracted.

25. Paragraph 10(3) excludes group relief and relief in respect of repayment of loans when calculating denied advantage in respect of Corporation Tax.

26. Paragraph 11(2)(b) provides that 10 per cent of any part of a loss not used to reduce the amount of tax due and payable shall be included in the value of denied advantage.

27. Paragraph 11(4) amends the calculation of denied advantage for groups of companies (for corporation tax) where the group has an overall loss, to the extent that a denied advantage results in an understatement of profit in one group company, the denied advantage is calculated in accordance with paragraph 10(1) and (2).

28. Paragraph 11(5) says that where the nature of the loss is, or the person's circumstances are, such that there is no reasonable prospect of the loss being used to reduce a tax liability of any person, there will be no penalty.

29. Paragraph 12 provides that where tax arrangements claim to result in tax being deferred, the denied advantage is calculated at 25% of the tax deferred for each year of deferral, or a proportionately reduced percentage if the deferment is less than a year.

Reductions for Co-operation

30. Paragraph 13(1) provides that before the penalty has been charged, HMRC may reduce the penalty if the taxpayer co-operates with HMRC to resolve the matter.

31. Paragraph 13(3) sets out the how the taxpayer must act to provide the co-operation required for HMRC to reduce the penalty. The penalty can be reduced if the taxpayer:

- Acts to counter the tax advantage;
- Provides sufficient information for HMRC to act to counter the tax advantage or to reach agreement with the taxpayer to relinquish the tax advantage;
- Gives reasonable help to HMRC to quantify the tax advantage; or
- Gives HMRC access to his records to allow them to ensure the advantage is countered.

32. Paragraph 13(4) sets the minimum rate of penalty at Y%.

Assessment of Penalties

33. Paragraph 14(2) requires HMRC to notify the taxpayer when a penalty is assessed and that the notice must state the tax period to which the penalty relates.

34. Paragraph 14(5)(a) provides that in the case of a Failure Notice issued in respect of an open tax enquiry, the penalty must be notified no later than 90 days after the enquiry is closed.

35. Paragraph 14(5)(b) provides that in the case of a Failure Notice issued in respect of a pending appeal case, the penalty must be notified no later than 90 days after the taxpayer takes the necessary action to agree his case with HMRC or withdraws his appeal. If the litigation proceeds, the penalty must be issued within 90 days of the final ruling being made.

Aggregate Penalties

36. Paragraph 15(1) sets out that when a taxpayer becomes liable to both a penalty under this regime and also to a penalty calculated by reference to the same tax amount but assessed under different legislation, paragraph 15 will apply.

37. Paragraph 15(2)(a) sets the maximum amount at which penalties may be aggregated.

38. Paragraph 15(2)(b) applies if one of the penalties applying is issued under Schedule 55 to Finance Act 2009 (Penalty for Failure to Make Returns) because a return is more than 6-months or 12-months outstanding. In such cases the maximum amount of penalties aggregated under this section must not exceed the “relevant percentage”, or £300 if greater.

39. Paragraph 15(5) sets the “relevant percentage” applicable in each case by reference to the penalty provision under which the other penalty is imposed reflecting the seriousness of the default and whether the penalty concerns an off-shore matter.

Alteration of Assessment

40. Paragraph 16(2) provides that a supplementary penalty assessment may be issued if the earlier one was based on too low an amount of denied advantage.

41. Paragraph 16(3) provides that penalty assessments and supplementary assessments may be recalculated if they were based on too high an amount of advantage and that HMRC must repay any excess that the taxpayer has already paid.

Appeals

42. Paragraph 17(1) provides that a person may appeal against HMRC’s decision that a penalty is payable.

43. Paragraph 17(2) provides that a person may appeal against the amount of penalty charged.

44. Paragraph 17(5) states that a person is not required to pay a penalty before the appeal against it is determined.

45. Paragraph 18(1) provides that a tribunal may affirm or cancel HMRC’s decision that a penalty is payable.

46. Paragraph 18(2) provides that a tribunal may confirm the amount of the penalty charged, or vary it by changing any decision made by HMRC to any other that HMRC has the power to make.

Representations about HMRC’s determination of the amount of disputed tax

47. Paragraph 19 provides for the taxpayer to make representations about the amount of the accelerated payment or the additional amount of tax due. This includes, for example, circumstances relating to other reliefs and allowances that might affect the final amount of tax due, to the extent that they have not already been taken into account against other liabilities.

Accelerated payment on account

48. Paragraph 20 provides the rules regarding the payment of the accelerated payment.

49. Paragraph 20(3) explains that the accelerated payment is to be treated as a payment on account of the tax liability that will be determined on final resolution of the tax dispute.

50. Paragraph 20(4) ensures that the accelerated payment does not become due and payable before the time that the tax liability on which it is based would ordinarily become due and payable.

51. Paragraph 20(5) links the ‘payment period’ to the time limit for the taxpayer to take the necessary corrective action in response to the ‘failure notice’.

Penalty for failing to make accelerated payment

52. Paragraph 21 provides for a penalty which will be applied to any part of the accelerated payment that is not received by the due date. The amount of the penalty will reflect the degree to which the payment is late, and is based on the amount remaining unpaid.

53. Paragraph 21(6) imports the effect of a number of provisions in Schedule 56 to FA 2009. This includes the rule that where HMRC has agreed a structured ‘time to pay’ agreement, payment will be regarded as satisfied for the purposes of the late payment penalty, provided that agreement is being met.

Out-of-Time Appeals Against Final Rulings

54. Paragraph 22(2) provides for a failure notice to be suspended if an appeal is accepted by a court out of time in respect of a relevant ruling, until HMRC notifies the taxpayer that the appeal has been abandoned or has reached a final ruling.

55. Paragraph 22(3) states that the limits of 90 days, or where appropriate 30 days, for the taxpayer to comply with a failure notice take no account of the period that a notice is suspended. This also applies to the ‘payment period’ for an accelerated payment.

56. Paragraph 22(5) states that if the appeal results in a ruling which no longer applies to the circumstances of the taxpayer in receipt of the failure notice, the notice no longer has effect once the period of suspension is over.

57. Paragraph 22(6) provides that if sub-paragraph 22(5) does not apply, a failure notice continues once HMRC notifies the taxpayer that the suspension is over and if relevant that the new judicial ruling is now the final one for the purposes of the notice.

58. Paragraph 22(7)(b) requires HMRC to include in a notice issued under paragraph 22(2) any changes to the final notice needed to take account of a new final ruling.

59. Paragraph 22(8) prevents the issue of further failure notices being issued to other taxpayers in respect of the matter under appeal, unless that appeal is abandoned or otherwise disposed of before it is determined.

60. Paragraph 22(10) provides that when such an appeal is abandoned, the period between when the person was given leave to appeal and the abandonment of the appeal does not count towards the limit of 12 months from the date of the final ruling for HMRC to issue a failure notice.

Special Provision about Partnership Returns

61. Paragraph 24(3) states that in respect of partnership returns, a tax advantage arises from tax arrangements if the arrangements increase or reduce any of the items required to be included in a partnership return, and result in a tax advantage for at least one of the partners.
62. Paragraph 24(4)(a) provides that any failure notice given to a representative partner or his successor is not treated as a notice given to that person in any other capacity.
63. Paragraph 24(4)(b) provides that a representative partner and his successor are to be treated as the same person in respect of any failure notice given to them in that capacity.
64. Paragraph 25 disapplies certain provisions in the case of partnerships and instead substitutes paragraphs 28 and 29.
65. Paragraph 27(2) provides that a penalty for failing to comply with a failure notice is payable by each relevant partner.
66. Paragraph 27(3)(a) states that the total amount of penalties charged to relevant partners is Z% of the denied advantage.
67. Paragraph 27(3)(b) provides that each partner's share of the total penalty is the appropriate share.
68. Paragraph 27(4) defines the appropriate share as the same as the share of profits or losses apportioned to that partner in the accounting period but if that information is not available to HMRC, any such share as an officer of HMRC may determine.
69. Paragraph 27(5) provides that any reduction to the penalty for co-operation under paragraph 13 is calculated and applied to the total amount of penalties issued to the partners.
70. Paragraph 27(7) provides that for the purposes of applying the maximum sum of aggregated penalties under paragraph 15, a penalty charged to a relevant partner is to be treated as if it were calculated by reference to the amount of tax due from the partner as a result of counteracting the tax advantage.
71. Paragraph 27(8) states that an appeal may be made against a decision that the partners are liable to penalties or against the sum total of those penalties.
72. Paragraphs 28 and 29 apply the accelerated payment provisions to members of a partnership, with necessary modifications. These provisions apply to the partners individually and not to the partnership as a whole, except to the extent that the partner's tax liability results from matters determined at the partnership level.
73. Paragraph 28(4) provides that an 'excluded partner' is a partner who will have no additional tax liability that warrants an accelerated payment, for example, due to their residence status.

Part 2

Extension to Other Taxes

74. Paragraph 31 provides for the Treasury to make an order to add other taxes to the scope of the measure by statutory instrument.

Part 3

Consequential amendments

75. Paragraph 34 provides that in circumstances where a taxpayer has postponed the tax amount which is the subject of an accelerated payment, or might normally expect to be able to do so, that taxpayer will no longer be able to postpone the tax. Thus the position of taxpayers who are subject to a failure notice will be the same, regardless of where they are in the enquiry process.

76. Paragraph 35 provides that, whilst HMRC will normally repay any disputed tax it has received if the taxpayer is successful in litigation at any stage, they will not be obliged to do so if there is reason to think the revenue may be at risk and the matter is being appealed further.

77. Paragraphs 36 and 40 fulfil the same function as paragraphs 34 and 35 for the other taxes covered by this legislation.

78. Paragraph 37 disapplies the interaction provision in Schedule 24 to Finance Act 2007, penalties for errors, so that a penalty under that schedule is not reduced by the amount of a penalty charged under this schedule calculated by reference to the same amount of tax..

79. Paragraph 38 _disapplies the interaction provision in Schedule 41 to Finance Act 2008, penalties for failure to notify and certain VAT and excise wrongdoings, so that a penalty under that schedule is not reduced by the amount of a penalty charged under this schedule calculated by reference to the same amount of tax..

80. Paragraph 39 disapplies the interaction provision in Schedule 55 to Finance Act 2009, penalties for failure to make returns, so that a penalty under that schedule is not reduced by the amount of a penalty charged under this schedule calculated by reference to the same amount of tax.

Part 4

Commencement and Transitional Provision

81. Paragraph 41(2) provides that where a judicial ruling was made before the date the Act was passed, a failure notice may be issued no later than a date two years from the day the Act was passed or one year from the day the return or claim was submitted or appeal made, if later.

BACKGROUND NOTE

HMRC sometimes have to deal with a large number of taxpayers' returns that claim a tax advantage from the same or similar tax arrangements, or large numbers of appeals against HMRC's conclusion that the arrangements do not work. This measure has been introduced to encourage users of marketed or widely used avoidance schemes to settle their case with HMRC once a Tribunal or court has concluded in another party's litigation that the scheme does not work as asserted.

At the same time it removes the benefit for users of tax avoidance schemes in terms of the time value of money. Given the existence of a judicial precedent, the balance of the argument that the tax is due and payable tips significantly towards the Exchequer, even though the taxpayer continues to dispute the effectiveness of the tax scheme.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

CLAUSE 1: DISCLOSURE OF TAX AVOIDANCE SCHEMES: INFORMATION POWERS

SUMMARY

1. This clause gives HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) further powers to obtain information about tax avoidance schemes.

DETAILS OF THE CLAUSE

2. Paragraph 2 adds section 310A to Finance Act 2004 (section 310A) which provides that where a person has disclosed a tax avoidance scheme HMRC may require that person to provide documents or more information about the scheme.
3. Paragraph 2 also adds section 310B to Finance Act 2004 (section 310B) which provides that where a person has failed to provide information or documents required under section 310A HMRC may ask the tribunal for an order requiring the information or documents to be provided.
4. Paragraph 3 amends section 316(2) of Finance Act 2004 so that information required under section 310A has to be provided in the form and manner specified by HMRC.
5. Paragraph 4 adds a definition of “working day” to section 318(1) of Finance Act 2004 for the purposes of determining when information or documents have to be provided under section 310A or section 310B.
6. Paragraphs 5 to 10 amend section 98C of Taxes Management Act 1970 to provide for penalties where a person has failed to provide information or documents required under section 310A.
7. Paragraph 11 contains the commencement provisions.

BACKGROUND NOTE

8. The disclosure of tax avoidance schemes legislation in Part 7 of Finance Act 2004 (Part 7) is designed to give HMRC early warning of tax avoidance schemes, giving it opportunity to consider changes in the law to close loopholes or challenge schemes that it does not believe work.
9. Part 7 requires a person, usually the person who designs and sells a tax avoidance scheme, to disclose details of certain descriptions of schemes to HMRC.

FINANCE BILL 2014

10. Where a disclosure is made the existing information power in section 308A of Finance Act 2004 is limited to obtaining information or documents related to what should have been included in the disclosure.
11. This clause amends Part 7 to enhance the ability of HMRC to obtain information or documents to better understand and analyse the tax effect of a disclosed tax avoidance scheme. It would, for example, enable HMRC to obtain sample copies of the documents used in implementing the scheme and a full analysis of how the scheme achieves the expected tax advantage. It also broadens HMRC's ability to deal with incomplete compliance with a person's disclosure obligations under sections 309 and 310.
12. Following consultation the Government has decided that documents and additional information will not have to be provided in every case, but only when HMRC specifically request them.
13. The legislation also provides for a penalty for failing to comply with the new information power under section 310A of £600 a day, or of up to £1 million if that is considered necessary to deter future failures to comply.
