The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom
Her Majesty's Government

— and —

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families.

They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles Of The Armed Forces Corporate Covenant

1.1 We, Wolferstans Solicitors, will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- no member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen
- in some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 Wolferstans Solicitors recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- promoting the fact that we are an armed forces-friendly organisation and will promote the CC logo on our website;
- supporting the employment of veterans young and old by encouraging veteran employees to advance their careers;
- striving to support the employment of Service spouses and partners;
- offering a degree of flexibility in granting leave for Service spouses and partners before, during and after a partner's deployment;
- seeking to support our employees who choose to be members of the Reserve forces, including by accommodating their training and deployment where possible;
- actively participating in Armed Forces Day;
- offering expert high quality legal advice to the Armed Forces community with an understanding of the unique needs of serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families;
- offering weekly legal signposting clinics in conjunction with RN RM Welfare;

- offering an enquiries telephone number for the Armed Forces community where they can speak to a member of staff with in-depth background knowledge of the Armed Forces and the many Armed Forces protocols that exist;
- offering a dedicated area on the Wolferstans Solicitors website with information on the work we can do as well as general information pertinent to the Armed Forces community;
- aiming to expand the legal signposting clinics to include clinics at the local Armed Forces community support services such as Royal British Legion pop-in centre, Family Centres and Endeavour Recovery Centre;
- aiming to offer a discount to Armed Forces personnel and veterans throughout the firm.

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our literature and/or on our website, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
