EXPLANATORY NOTE
(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend regulation 7 of the Housing Benefit Regulations 2006 (S.I. 2006/213) (“the Housing Benefit Regulations”), regulation 7 of the Housing Benefit (persons who have attained the qualifying age for state pension credit) Regulations 2006 (S.I. 2006/214) and the State Pension Credit Regulations 2002 (S.I. 2002/1792) (“the State Pension Credit Regulations”).

Regulation 7(11) of the Housing Benefit Regulations provides that a person who enters residential accommodation on a trial basis for the purpose of ascertaining whether the accommodation satisfies his needs, can receive housing benefit in respect of his former dwelling for up to 13 weeks. Regulation 2(2) of these Regulations amends regulation 7(11) of the Housing Benefit Regulations to provide that that regulation will only apply where the person enters residential accommodation in Great Britain.

Regulation 7(13) of the Housing Benefit Regulations provides that a person can be treated as occupying a dwelling which they are temporarily absent from as their home, for a period not exceeding 13 weeks, provided that: the person intends to return to occupy the dwelling, the dwelling is not let or, as the case may be, sub-let, and the period of absence is unlikely to exceed 13 weeks. Regulation 7(13) currently makes no distinction between absences within and outside of Great Britain. Regulation 2(3) of these Regulations amends regulation 7(13) so that that regulation only applies to people who are temporarily absent from their home and who are absent within Great Britain.

Regulation 2(4) inserts new provisions into regulation 7 of the Housing Benefit Regulations which reduce the period that a person will be treated as occupying a dwelling from which they are temporarily absent as their home to 4 weeks when the person is absent from Great Britain beginning on the first day of their absence from Great Britain. However, if the absence from Great Britain is in connection with the death of: a partner, child or young person for whom they or their partner are responsible, their or their partner’s close relative, or a close relative of a child or young person for whom they or their partner are responsible, then the period of absence may be extended by up to 4 further weeks if the relevant authority considers it unreasonable to expect the person to return within the first 4 weeks.

Regulation 2(4) further provides that if the person is a member of the armed forces away on operations, a mariner or a continental shelf worker the person will be treated as occupying the dwelling as their home, whilst they are temporarily absent, for up to 26 weeks if they are absent from Great Britain beginning on the first day of their absence from Great Britain.

Regulation 2(5) of these Regulations amends regulation 7(16) of the Housing Benefit Regulations in two ways. Firstly, it substitutes “Great Britain” for “the United Kingdom” in paragraphs (iii),

(a) 2006 c.52.
(iv), (v) and (vii). Secondly, it amends paragraph (16)(d) to reduce the period that the absence is unlikely to exceed where the person is absent from Great Britain, to 26 weeks if the person is a person to whom any of sub-paragraphs (c)(ii), (iii) or (vii) apply or 4 weeks in any other case, beginning on the first day of their absence from Great Britain. The period remains at 52 weeks where the person is absent from the dwelling and remains within Great Britain.

Regulation 2(6) of these Regulations amends regulation 7(17) of the Housing Benefit Regulations to provide that where a person to whom regulation 7(16) applies is absent from Great Britain then they will be treated as occupying the dwelling as their home for up to 4 weeks unless they are a person to whom any of paragraphs (16)(c)(ii), (iii) and (vii) of regulation 7 of the Housing Benefit Regulations applies, in which case they can be treated as occupying the dwelling for up to 26 weeks beginning on the first day of their absence from Great Britain. The period remains at 52 weeks where the person is absent from the dwelling and remains within Great Britain.

Regulation 2(7) of these Regulations makes amendments to regulation 7 which are consequential to these changes.

Regulation 3 makes similar amendments to the Housing Benefit (persons who have attained the qualifying age for state pension credit) Regulations 2006.

Regulation 3 of the State Pension Credit Regulations currently allows for a claimant’s entitlement to State Pension Credit to continue where the claimant is outside of Great Britain for up to 13 weeks, the period of absence is unlikely to exceed 52 weeks and the claimant continues to satisfy the other conditions of entitlement during their absence. Regulation 4(2) inserts new regulation 3 into the State Pension Credit Regulations which replaces this 13 week period with a 4 week period providing that the absence is not expected to exceed, and does not exceed, 4 weeks. This 4 week period can be extended by a further 4 weeks where the absence is in connection with the death of the claimant’s partner, or a child or qualifying young person normally living with the claimant, or the death of a close relative of one of these. New regulation 3(3) allows for a claim to continue for up to 26 weeks where the claimant is undergoing medical treatment or is accompanying a partner or a child or qualifying young person normally living with the claimant for medical treatment.

Regulation 4(5) inserts a definition of “qualifying young person” into the State Pension Credit Regulations.

Regulation 5 of the State Pension Credit Regulations currently allows for a claimant’s partner to continue to be treated as being a member of the claimant’s household (and therefore for a claimant to claim State Pension Credit at the couple’s rate) for up to 13 weeks. Regulation 4(6) amends this so that the claimant’s partner is subject to the same rules on temporary absence as the claimant.

Regulation 4(7), 4(9) and (10) makes changes to certain Schedules to the State Pension Credit Regulations so that the definitions of “qualifying young person” and “child” cross-refer to regulation 4A of those Regulations and section 40 of the Welfare Reform Act 2012 (c.12) respectively.

Regulation 4(8) applies the provisions relating to polygamous marriages to regulation 3 of the State Pension Credit Regulations.

Regulation 5 makes transitional provision such that the amendments in Regulations 2 and 3 do not apply in respect of a person who is temporarily absent from Great Britain on 1 April 2016 until they return to Great Britain unless the person is a member of the armed forces away on operations, a continental shelf worker or a mariner. The amendments in regulation 4 do not apply to a person who is temporarily absent from Great Britain on 1 April 2016 until the person returns to Great Britain.
