Guidance to local authorities and Local Health Boards

4.—(1) The National Medical Examiner is to have the function of issuing guidance to local authorities(a) and Local Health Boards in relation to—
   (a) the qualification requirements for medical examiners and medical examiners’ officers;
   (b) the job description of medical examiners and medical examiners’ officers; and
   (c) the training expected to be completed by a person before that person may be appointed as a medical examiner.

   (2) The National Medical Examiner must obtain the consent of the Secretary of State before issuing any guidance under paragraph (1)(c).

   (3) In paragraph (1), “medical examiners’ officers” means individuals appointed by a local authority, in England, or Local Health Board, in Wales, to act on behalf of or assist medical examiners in the exercise of their functions.

Standards and levels of performance of medical examiners

5.—(1) The National Medical Examiner is to have the function of—
   (a) preparing and publishing the standards or levels of performance that medical examiners are expected to attain in exercising their functions;
   (b) keeping any such published standards or levels of performance under review; and
   (c) following any such review, preparing and publishing any revised standards or levels of performance that medical examiners are expected to attain in exercising their functions.

   (2) The National Medical Examiner must obtain the consent of the Secretary of State before publishing any standards or levels of performance under this regulation.

Reports to the Secretary of State

6. The National Medical Examiner is to have the function of providing to the Secretary of State reports and information covering a specified period in relation to—
   (a) the exercise of the functions of the National Medical Examiner;
   (b) the exercise of the functions of local authorities and Local Health Boards under section 19(2) of the Act (medical examiners);
   (c) the exercise of the functions of attending practitioners under the section 20 Regulations; and
   (d) the exercise of the functions of medical examiners under the section 20 Regulations or the section 19(4) Regulations, including in relation to the meeting of any standards or levels of performance published under regulation 5.
