Background

Fee Paid Judicial Pension Scheme: Regulations

1. In light of the O'Brien and Miller judgments in respect of fee-paid pension entitlement, the department is implementing a scheme for reckonable fee-paid service from 7 April 2000 to 31 March 2015 for eligible fee-paid judges. Transitional or tapering arrangements may apply in respect of service after 31 March 2015, where the fee-paid judicial office holder meets the relevant criteria for transitional protection. There is a recent judgment from the employment tribunal (McCloud v MoJ) in which the judge found that transitional provisions in the Judicial Pensions Regulations 2015 were not lawful under EU equality law and under the Equality Act 2010. The Lord Chancellor is currently appealing that judgment. The Lord Chancellor, considers that it is right to make these Regulations now in light of the importance of providing a remedy to the claimants in O'Brien v MoJ. If the appeal against the employment tribunal judgment is ultimately unsuccessful steps will be taken to remove that incompatibility.
2. The Fee-paid Judicial Pension Scheme (FPJPS) is being designed as a remedy to provide specified fee-paid judges with a pension entitlement that is comparable to that of their salaried comparators in respect of service in an office listed in Schedule 1 to the Regulations in the relevant period.
3. The pension scheme for eligible fee-paid judges will mirror the current scheme for salaried judges, established by the Judicial Pensions and Retirement Act 1993 (JUPRA), as far as possible, on a pro-rata basis. Where it is not possible to mirror the arrangements under JUPRA, the intention is that the FPJPS will be no less favourable than JUPRA.
4. Proposals for the scheme were fully consulted upon. The consultation paper on the Regulations for the Fee-paid Judicial Pension Scheme (FPJPS) was published on 15 September 2016. It invited comments on the proposed Regulations which will create the FPJPS. An addendum to the consultation was issued on 10 October 2016 as the department had found that the initial draft Regulations did not give effect to the MOJ's policy, as set out in the consultation document itself, regarding eligibility in relation to time limits. As such, the consultation period was extended to 31 October 2016. A further consultation was issued on 24th January 2017 and ended on 8th February 2017 in relation to one draft regulation for the Fee Paid Judicial Added Years Scheme (FPJAYS) for retired members only.
5. The consultation on the underlying policy for FPJPS was published on the 19 September 2014 with the response to that consultation published on 23 March 2015.

Timing

6. By the Regulations, the department will establish the FPJPS for eligible fee-paid judges in England and Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.
7. There is ongoing litigation in respect of the entitlements of some fee-paid judicial office holders to a pension. To ensure that judges are not without pension provision longer than is necessary, the department has decided to go ahead and establish the FPJPS now. If the legal position changes the department will make amendments to these Regulations to comply with any new obligations.

8. From 1 April 2015, serving judges joined the Judicial Pension Scheme 2015 in respect of both salaried and fee-paid service from that date, subject to any applicable transitional provisions.

Consultation responses

9. This response also sets out how the consultation process influenced the final shape of the department’s proposals for the establishment of the FPJPS. This response also considers the four responses received on the subsequent FPJAYS consultation.
10. The department received 77 responses in total. The majority of these were submitted by either active or retired fee-paid judges. In addition to this, eight responses were received from Judicial or Legal associations and a list of these respondents is provided at Annex A.
11. A number of respondents agreed with the comments provided by a respondent who is a retired salaried judge. We have provided a breakdown of respondents in the table below.

Breakdown of responses

Summary of responses

This section summarises responses by theme and sets out the department's position on each of these issues.

Eligibility / Schedule 1

Five responses queried the eligibility requirements for the scheme, in particular the position of lay and medical members.

The Northern Ireland Departments and the Scottish Government both provided clarification of eligible offices, and the divisor for some offices, to be used within their respective jurisdictions.

It was suggested by one respondent, whose views were supported by others, that the conditions for membership of the Scheme, as set out in regulation 8, were not clear. In particular, the response stated that it was not clear that those part-time judges, who had applied to the Judicial Pensions Claims Team at MoJ (JPCT) rather than making a claim to the employment tribunal within the relevant time-period, would be treated in the same way as tribunal claimants.

One respondent mentioned that group A judges are not specifically mentioned in the Regulations, in particular in regulation 4(2).

Government position

The position on eligibility remains as set out in the response to the consultation dated 23 March 2015. The FPJPS is designed to provide a pension to those fee-paid judges who have brought (or could bring) a successful tribunal claim for less favourable treatment under the Part-Time Workers Regulations, in relation to their lack of pension entitlement. An element of a successful tribunal claim is that the fee-paid judge can identify a salaried judge who was engaged in the same or broadly similar work as the claimant and who had a pension entitlement – a 'salaried comparator'. Any office that is determined as eligible for a pension is included in Schedule 1 to the Regulations creating the FPJPS. People who hold those offices will therefore be able to accrue pension benefits under the FPJPS.

Regulation 8 has accordingly been amended to make clearer exactly which judges are entitled to be members of the FPJPS, and to ensure that it is not necessary for those judges whose claims have been accepted by the JPCT to provide any further notification to the appropriate Minister.

The categories used in the communication issued in January 2015, regarding the 2015 scheme (the options exercise) e.g. Group A, have not in themselves been reflected in the Regulations, instead regulation 4(2) provides for the conditions for eligibility.

Opting out

One respondent raised the issue that individuals who have retired, or Personal Representatives of members who have died before commencement of the scheme, should have the option to opt out of the FPJPS.

Government position

Regulation 9(2) has been amended to allow individuals to opt out before scheme commencement. The department does not believe it is possible to provide in the Regulations for the Personal Representatives of members who have died before the scheme commences to opt out of the scheme retrospectively.

Entitlement to FPJPS arrangements

Four respondents raised concerns about the pension entitlement for some offices taking account of service from a date later than 7 April 2000. They stated that the FPJPS arrangements should apply for all their service from 7 April 2000 or date of appointment if later.

An example of a comment is as follows: “For the avoidance of doubt it is my case that for TC’s [Ticketed Chairs [and for Criminal Injuries Compensation Tribunal Judges (‘TJ’s’)], an appropriate judicial pension must be provided for the whole of TJ/TC service for any such work [i.e. Ticketed Chair or Tribunal Judge within the Criminal Injuries Compensation chamber] after 7 April 2000 until retirement”.

Government position

The FPJPS is intended to provide a remedy for those fee-paid judicial office holders who are entitled to a pension that is no less favourable than that in JUPRA. Some other judicial office holders are entitled to a different type of pension remedy, which is not within the scope of the FPJPS and will be provided separately. Further, some judicial office holders are entitled to different pension remedies in respect of different periods of time. This is set out at paragraphs 7–10 of the consultation of 15 September 2016. In particular:

- Legal chairs in the Criminal Injuries Compensation jurisdiction are eligible for a pension under the FPJPS in respect of service from 3 November 2008. This is the date when salaried judicial office holders in their jurisdiction generally became eligible for JUPRA membership.
- Non-legal chairs in the Criminal Injuries Compensation jurisdiction are eligible for a pension only from the date when they were first ticketed to chair hearings. They do not have any pension entitlement in respect of the earlier period. Further, for the same reasons as for legal chairs, they are only entitled to a pension under the FPJPS in respect of service from 3 November 2008. This the date when salaried judicial office holders in their jurisdiction generally became eligible for JUPRA membership.

The department’s position remains as set out in its consultation of 15 September 2016. Where there is ongoing litigation about the details of the pension entitlement in respect of a particular office or period, an appropriate remedy will be provided when that litigation is resolved.

Retirement benefits

Seven respondents raised the issue of partial retirement (that is continuing to sit in one office after retiring from another). They all contended that the proposed provisions for partial retirement were contrary to the position for the salaried judiciary.

One respondent, supported by others, said “What is needed to avoid less favourable treatment is a simple rule applying to those who hold more than one fee paid office. A fee paid judge who retires from any fee paid office will be entitled on retirement to a pension based on his reckonable pensionable service in respect of that office either preserved, actuarially reduced, or full depending on his age at retirement. As the Regulations provide, no day of reckonable pensionable service will be counted more than once”.

Another respondent said the distinction between the treatment of concurrent and consecutive offices was arbitrary and unfair on the treatment of overlapping days in two appointments.

One respondent asked how the scheme would deal with individuals who were assigned to another Chamber and the treatment of service for qualifying purposes. For example, in the First-tier Social Security and Child Support jurisdiction a number of fee paid tribunal judges were assigned for a limited period to the First-tier Immigration Chamber.

A further respondent questioned how the fee paid scheme would apply for a judge who moved to a salaried appointment.

Government position

The department has carefully considered all of the comments and concluded that fee-paid office holders should be allowed to take partial retirement in relation to a particular office when they leave that office, if this is what they wish to do.

The Regulations have therefore been amended to allow an office holder to give notice that they wish to take partial retirement upon leaving a judicial office, whilst continuing to sit in a different judicial office that they held concurrently. The benefits provided will depend upon the age of the member at the date of leaving and the amount of qualifying service. For example, they could be zero if there is insufficient qualifying service, or could involve preserved benefits which would become payable at normal pension age, actuarially reduced but immediately payable benefits, or full retirement benefits in relation to that office. If the office holder does not wish to take the benefits at the point of leaving the particular office s/he can instead take them on finally leaving all judicial offices. In such a case the appropriate annual salary for that office will be the rate applicable at that time, not when the individual left the office.

The position of consecutive offices, where there is no overlap of the appointments, will remain as outlined in the Regulations, in view of the changes to allow partial retirement. The effect of this is that only where the offices are truly consecutive can, if the office holder so wishes, all service be aggregated and the final annual salary be used. However, the Regulations have been amended to ensure that where a judge holds a particular office for part of the time as one of a number of judicial offices, and for part of the time as his or her only judicial office. In such circumstances the judge’s reckonable service in that office during the period when it was not held with other offices will be aggregated with the judge’s reckonable service in other offices held consecutively. Example 4 below illustrates this point.

It should be noted that where a salaried judge retires from office and then sits in a fee paid office the public service pensions’ policy on abatement applies. The principle of this policy is that an individual can receive no more in pension and fees per year than the salary they previously received in salaried office. To ensure equality of treatment between the salaried and fee paid judiciary the abatement policy will apply if a fee paid judge chooses to take partial retirement and so is in receipt of a pension. In practice this will require a restriction on the number of days that a partially retired fee-paid judge can sit. This will be monitored by the Region/Tribunal in which the member sits.

Where a First Tier Tribunal judge has been assigned to another Chamber only one office is held and so service in all chambers count towards qualifying service. The pension is payable when they retire from the office of First Tier Tribunal judge rather than when they cease sitting in a particular chamber. To ensure that where different rates of fees are payable benefits are calculated per chamber using the appropriate annual salary for that chamber and a combined pension is payable. Example 7 provided below illustrating this point. This also applies where a judge sits in the Upper Tribunal.

When a judge moves to salaried appointment s/he will cease to be a member of the FPJPS and commence membership of the appropriate scheme for the salaried judiciary. Upon leaving Fee-paid office the member would have the choice of taking partial retirement in respect of those benefits or to leave them, in which case FPJPS pension would then be payable on leaving the salaried office. Entitlement to the relevant benefits under the FPJPS would take into account the amount of qualifying, reckonable service and age when calculating benefits.

Examples of retirement options

Except where stated otherwise below:

- where the examples include two or more eligible offices, the office holder does not, at any time, hold multiple First-tier Tribunal appointments or multiple Upper Tribunal appointments.
- the total reckonable service across all appointments (taking into account any service in a salaried appointment that is reckonable for the purposes of JUPRA) is less than 20 years.

Example 1 – single eligible Office

Benefits are calculated using:

- Reckonable service accrued during service in Office 1
- Appropriate annual salary for Office 1 as at point X (date of leaving / retirement).

Example 2 – two consecutive eligible Offices

Options

Option 1: partial retirement from Office 1 at date X and then immediate appointment to Office 2

- At date of leaving / retirement from Office 1, pension in respect of Office 1 is calculated by reference to the reckonable service accrued during service in Office 1 at X and the appropriate annual salary for Office 1 at point X
- Separate pension entitlement is calculated for Office 2 using reckonable service for Office 2 and the appropriate annual salary for Office 2 at point Y

Option 2:

- Judge does not partially retire at point X
- Pension calculated by reference to the combined reckonable service in Offices 1 and 2 (aggregated service) and the appropriate annual salary of Office 2 at point Y

Example 3 – two simultaneous eligible Offices

- Two separate pensions. One pension is calculated by reference to the reckonable service in Office 1 and the appropriate annual salary of Office 1 at point Y. A separate pension is calculated by reference to reckonable service in Office 2 and the appropriate annual salary of Office 2 at point Y.

Example 4 – two overlapping eligible Offices

Options

Option 1: partial retirement from Office 1 at point Y

- For Office 1, benefits are calculated at point Y, using reckonable service in Office 1 and the appropriate annual salary for Office 1 at point Y.
- Separate entitlement is calculated for Office 2 using reckonable service from Office 2 and the appropriate annual salary for Office 2 at point Z.

Option 2:

- Defer Office 1 benefits and take combined pension for Office 1 and 2 at point Z.
- The calculation treats the two periods when one office is held separately from the period when the offices are held simultaneously. Office 1 is split into Sub-Office 1A (up to point X) and Sub-Office 1B (from point X to point Y). Similarly Office 2 is split into Sub-Office 2A (from point X to point Y) and Sub-Office 2B (from point Y to point Z). The reckonable service for each sub-office is calculated by splitting the reckonable service in the office between the two sub-offices, in proportion to the period of time. For example, if Office 1 was held for three years in total and it was the only office held for one year and then held simultaneously with Office 2 for two further years, then one third of the reckonable service in Office 1 would be allocated to Sub-Office 1A and two thirds of the reckonable service in Office 1 would be allocated to Sub-Office 1B. The same principle applies to service in Office 2.
- The annual pension in respect of Sub-Office 1B (which was held simultaneously with Office 2A) is calculated by reference to the reckonable service allocated to Sub-Office 1B and the appropriate annual salary for Office 1 at point Z.
- The annual pension in respect of Sub-Office 2A (which was held simultaneously with Sub-Office 1B) is calculated by reference to the reckonable service allocated to Sub-Office 2A and the appropriate annual salary for Office 2 at point Z.
- The annual pension in total in respect of Sub-Offices 1A and 2B (neither of which was held simultaneously with any other office) is calculated by reference to the aggregate reckonable service allocated to Sub-Offices 1A and 2B and the highest appropriate annual salary of Office 2 as at point Z.

Example 5 – combination of consecutive and simultaneous offices

Options

Option 1: partial retirement from Office 1 at point X

- For Office 1, benefits are calculated at point X using service in Office 1 and the appropriate annual salary for Office 1 at point X
- Benefits for Offices 2 and 3 are calculated at point Y, using the method set out in example 3 above for simultaneous eligible offices.

Option 2:

- No partial retirement from Office 1 at point X.
- The pension for Office 1 is calculated at point Y and the calculation method depends on whether Office 2 or Office 3 has the highest appropriate annual salary at point Y. If Office 2 has the highest appropriate annual salary, a pension is calculated for the aggregated reckonable service in Offices 1 and 2 by reference to the appropriate annual salary for Office 2 at point Y; and in addition, a pension is calculated for Office 3 by reference to reckonable service in Office 3 (only) and the appropriate annual salary for Office 3 at point Y. If Office 3 has a higher appropriate annual salary than Office 2 at point Y, then a pension is calculated for the aggregated reckonable service in Offices 1 and 3 by reference to the appropriate annual salary for Office 3 at point Y; and in addition, a pension is calculated for Office 2 by reference to reckonable service in Office 2 (only) and the appropriate annual salary for Office 2 at point Y. If the appropriate annual salary for Offices 2 and 3 is the same at point Y, then all reckonable service is aggregated and calculated by reference to that appropriate annual salary at point Y.

Example 6 – combination of consecutive and overlapping offices

Options

Option 1: partial retirement from Office 1 at point X

- For Office 1, benefits are calculated at point X using reckonable service in Office 1 and the appropriate annual salary for Office 1 at point X
- For Offices 2 and 3, benefits are calculated at point Y using the method for overlapping eligible offices as set out in example 4 above.

Option 2:

- Pension calculated using combined service in Office 1 and 2 (aggregated service) with the appropriate annual salary of Office 2 at point Y
- Plus pension for Office 3 is calculated separately using reckonable service for that Office and appropriate annual salary at point Y for Office 3

Example 7 – two eligible Offices in the First-tier Tribunal (whether or not separate assignments)

- Both are First-tier Tribunal offices and therefore benefits are calculated only when leaving final First-tier Tribunal Office (point Y). It is not possible for the judge to partially retire from Chamber 1. The same rule applies if both appointments are to the Upper Tribunal.
- Benefits are calculated by reference to the aggregated reckonable service in Chambers 1 and 2 and the appropriate annual salary for Chamber 2 at point Y.

Medical retirements

We reviewed the Regulations for the calculation of medical retirement enhancement in certain circumstances i.e. where there is a limit on the amount of reckonable service due to the 20 year limit. The Regulations as drafted did not enhance benefits appropriately; they have therefore been redrafted to rectify the position. There is no detriment in the value of the pension value to the pension benefits provided.

As a result of this clarification the example in the consultation (page 23) has been updated below in accordance with the newly drafted Regulations. There is no detriment in the value of the pension value to the pension benefits provided.

Example Judicial office holder B was appointed as a Deputy District Judge on 5 April 2007 and retires on 31 March 2019, this office holder has full transitional protection and therefore is eligible to remain in the FPJPS until retirement. During that time Judge A sat 435 pensionable days (R). The divisor for a DDJ is 215 days (N) If Judge B was aged 63 at the time of their ill health retirement the enhancement would cover the period from aged 63 to aged 65 divided by 2. [As per Regulation 22 (9)]

Calculation of medical retirement benefits

R = the reckonable service in the relevant office

S = the appropriate annual salary of the judicial office held immediately before retirement as calculated by  $F \times N$  [Regulation 7]

E = period of service enhancement, which is half the period between date of ill health retirement and 65th birthday

Method of calculation is determined in accordance with the following steps

Step 1

Determine the rate of ordinary pension as per regulation 13

$$R/40 \times S$$

R is 2.0233 years

S is  $495 \times 215 = \text{£}107,070$

$$2.0233 / 40 \times \text{£}107.070 = \text{£}5,415.87$$

Step 2

Determine the rate of the enhancement

$$E / 40 \times S$$

$$E = F \times X/Y$$

F is the period between age 63 to aged 65 divided by 2

X is Reckonable service which is the same as R

Y is qualifying service (2007 – 2019) 12 years

Calculation is

$$E = 1 \times 2.0233 / 12 = 0.1686$$

$$0.1686 / 40 \times 107,070 = \text{£}451.30$$

Step 3

Add together the results from steps 1 and 2

Step1 £5,415.87 + Step 2 £451.30 = £ 5,867.17 enhanced annual ill health pension

Miscellaneous Regulation Issues

10 respondents raised miscellaneous issues about the scheme and the Regulations.

- a) Two commented: “that all fee paid and salaried members of the judiciary should be members of the same scheme” and “it should mirror it word for word and only vary when it comes to actuarial calculations on retirement to reflect time spent in service”
- b) One Respondent said “HMG should in fairness have provided such benefits to all fee paid tribunal members – legal or otherwise. That was the proper course for a responsible employer and would have represented the moral high ground. Instead HMG attempted to delineate and avoid its liabilities by means of a minimalist, penny pinching approach using legal sophistry”.
- c) Three comments picked up minor drafting points e.g. clarification of a date and an unnecessary comma.
- d) A non-judicial respondent commented that it is a more favourable scheme than the 2015 scheme for Civil Servants
- e) One requested clarification on how the transitional protections were reflected in regulation 4, in particular where the individual was entitled to remain in FPJPS and did not have to join the 2015 scheme.
- f) One requested clarification on how the FPJPS interacts with the salaried scheme, commented that the consultation period was too short in view of the complexity and also that JUPRA does not have a 5 year qualifying period.
- g) One asked for clarification on whether the Regulations should refer to SERPS.
- h) One asked for the definition of dependant to be widened akin to the 2015 scheme.
- i) One raised the omission of Deputy Judge (EAT), and Recorder (authorised to sit in the EAT) from the schedule of eligible offices

Government position

Dealing with each point in turn:

- a) The department’s position remains as set out in the consultation. That acknowledges that it would have been possible to amend JUPRA to allow fee-paid judges to accrue benefits under the same scheme as the salaried judiciary. However, JUPRA would need to be extensively amended to ensure that its provisions would work in the context of part-time judges, and amending JUPRA in this way would have required a complex and lengthy legislative process. This would have resulted in further delay in eligible fee-paid judges receiving their pensions. The objective of FPJPS is to mirror as far as possible JUPRA allowing for the unique features of fee-paid office. Where it is not possible to mirror the arrangements under JUPRA, the intention is that the FPJPS will be no less favourable than JUPRA.
- b) The department believes that the FPJPS does deliver comparable pro rata benefits to those fee paid offices determined as eligible by the employment tribunal to those received by the salaried judiciary. The department does have a responsibility both to taxpayers and judicial office holders, whether they be salaried or fee-paid, to ensure that it pays what is due but no more or less.

- c) The Regulations have been amended to reflect the drafting points that were made.
- d) The purpose of FPJPS is to mirror as far as possible the provisions of JUPRA, subject to the modifications necessary to ensure that the scheme fits the circumstances of fee-paid judges. The scheme, like JUPRA, is closed to new appointees. Only service from 7 April 2000 to 31 March 2015 is within its scope, unless a member has transitional or tapering protection (which mirrors that in JUPRA). Service from 1 April 2015 is reckonable under the new Judicial Pension Scheme, instead of either JUPRA or the FPJPS, for those judicial office holders who do not benefit from transitional or tapering protection.
- e) The conditions set out in Regulation 4(2) reflect the conditions for eligibility for the 2015 scheme. A protected member who is not eligible to be a member of JPS 2015 can remain in FPJPS, provided the other conditions in 4(2) are met.
- f) JUPRA does have a five year qualifying period, it is set out in section 2(1)(b) of the 1993 Act. The department accepts that pensions are a complex matter, however, the scheme policy was consulted on in 2014; this consultation period was over six weeks. The department does not accept that that was an inadequate consultation and wishes to avoid any further delay in commencing the scheme. JUPRA and FPJPS are separate schemes and benefits will be payable under both where both salaried and eligible fee paid offices have been held. The schemes do interact in that, for example, there is a 20 year cap on reckonable service that applies across both schemes and a judicial office holder can rely on a combination of fee-paid and salaried service as qualifying service for both schemes.
- g) State pensions are not part of FPJPS which is classed as an occupational scheme. It would not therefore be appropriate or possible to include a reference to SERPS. The consultation of 15 September 2016 did refer to the contracting out of the FPJPS prior to 6 April 2016. An application will be made to contract out the scheme when it commences. This will mean for the period the scheme is contracted out the lower rate of national insurance contribution should have been payable. As a consequence there is no entitlement to the second state pension for that period. The department is in discussion with HMRC, who are responsible for national insurance contributions, in respect of any refunds which may be due.
- h) The objective of the FPJPS is to mirror, as far as possible, the provisions in JUPRA not the 2015 scheme. It is not, therefore, possible to include any scheme benefits equivalent to those solely payable under the 2015 scheme.
- i) The Deputy Judge (EAT), and Recorder (authorised to sit in the EAT) were old titles (pre-April 2000) for a Recorder sitting in the EAT. MOJ have accepted that a Recorder sitting in the EAT has a salaried comparator in the EAT and is paid at a higher daily rate for that work. The title for this fee paid role in the EAT is "Temporary Judge in the Employment Appeal Tribunal" and has been added to the schedule of the Regulations.

Taxation and scheme status

One respondent asked for clarification about the tax status of the Additional Voluntary Contributions element of the schemes.

Government position

The department can confirm, as outlined in the consultation document of 15 September 2016, that the “principal scheme” under FPJPS will be non-registered for tax purposes. This is both in respect of service from when the scheme commences and also retrospectively from the 7 April 2000. This means that benefits accrued in the scheme do not count towards either the Annual Allowance or Lifetime Allowance limits. Nor is any tax relief available on contributions made into the scheme. The Additional Voluntary Contribution arrangements (Judicial Additional Voluntary Contributions, Judicial Added Years and Judicial Added Surviving Adults’ Pension elements of the scheme), however, are separate schemes which will be registered schemes. That means that the contributions will attract tax relief and the Annual Allowance and Lifetime Allowances do apply.

Judicial Service Award

Five respondents asked that the service award be included in the Regulations and queried why 45% was used as the rate to be applied when taxing the lump sum.

Government position

A sum equal to the tax paid on this lump sum payment will be paid to the scheme member as a ‘service award’ when he or she retires from office. Eligible fee-paid judicial offices are listed in Schedule 1 to the Regulations.

The automatic lump sum payable on retirement is subject to tax, the department has an arrangement with HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) that all lump sums will be taxed at the highest rate of taxation (currently 45%). This ensures that payment can be made at the time of retirement. Currently this arrangement applies to the salaried judiciary but will be extended to the fee paid judiciary once the scheme becomes operational. The service award will be a fee payment, not a pension payment. This means provision for the service award is not included in the scheme Regulations, which can only deal with the provisions of the pension scheme. This mirrors the position for the salaried judiciary.

For all offices where the Lord Chancellor is responsible for paying a fee, the MoJ will be responsible for the payment of the service award, including both the retrospective and forward looking liabilities.

For all devolved offices, the MoJ considers that it is responsible for the retrospective aspect (based on past pensionable service) but the relevant devolved departments will be responsible for the forward looking liabilities once the scheme commences.

For any other eligible offices the MoJ is responsible for the retrospective aspect (based on past pensionable service) but the relevant departments will be responsible for the forward looking liabilities.

Example

An example calculation of how the service award works is below. This shows that where the judge owes contributions to the scheme these are deducted before the amount of income tax is calculated:

Gross Pension Lump Sum: £20,000

Outstanding contributions: £500

Lump sum liable to tax: £19,500

Tax at 45%: £8,775

Net pension lump sum: £10,725

Service award: £8,775

Pensionable pay

Five individuals responded. Two raised the issue of the treatment of statutory pay and in particular the treatment of maternity pay. One asked whether the Regulations dealt sufficiently with pensionable service which was not a sitting day. The third concerned the calculation of the benefits and the fee/salary that was used in that calculation and that the last 3 years were not being taken into account as they are for the salaried judiciary and in particular that the JUPRA scheme provided a scheme based on the highest salary in the 3 years before retirement. "This is not the case in the FPJPS scheme. This provides that the salary calculation is based on one day's fee whereas the JUPRA is on an annual salary". The final query concerned the treatment of fees earned for writing up after retirement and whether these were pensionable.

Government position

The department believes that the Regulations achieve the policy aim of ensuring that where a fee has been paid in respect of service, irrespective of why it has been paid (e.g. writing up), that the amount of time relating to that fee should count as reckonable service. Only fees received in respect of work undertaken whilst holding office i.e. before retirement, can count towards pensionable pay. This only includes fees relating to service and not other types of payment that the judicial office holder may have received. In particular, statutory payments relating to sick pay, maternity pay, paternity pay, adoption pay and shared parental pay do not count as judicial fees for this purpose.

In respect of (non-statutory) maternity pay the approach under the FPJPS is to credit pensionable service for any maternity pay paid during maternity leave (or any maternity pay which would have been payable if the policy had been in place at the material time). The Regulations have been amended to reflect this (see regulation 4). This means that for maternity pay which was paid in accordance with the policy in place from 2010 onwards, the department will convert the maternity pay into an equivalent number of days' pay, and credit this number of days as pensionable service. For the period prior to 2010, the intention is to provide pensionable service credit for any guaranteed minimum sittings, or pre-booked sittings, which were cancelled due to maternity leave (and which would therefore have been payable as maternity pay under the post 2010 policy if it had applied at the time). The department will also apply the qualifying service thresholds which applied to salaried judges in relation to maternity pay at the relevant time.

Regulation 7 prescribes how the appropriate annual salary is calculated and an example is below which shows that the appropriate annual salary used to calculate benefits is equal to the salary equivalent. The Regulations do also provide for the highest level of fees paid in the last 3 years of service to be taken into account when calculating benefits.

Regulation 7 uses the formula  $F \times N$  to determine the appropriate annual salary to be used in calculating benefits. F is equal to the fee and N is the annual divisor for that office. For example for a Deputy District Judge where the highest fee was £498.14 (daily fee rate from 1 April 2016) and the divisor is 215 then the appropriate annual salary would be £107,100.10.

The annual salary for a District Judge from 1 April 2016 is £107,100

Pensions increase

There were 3 responses on this topic. All three questioned whether specific reference should be made to the Pensions Increase Act 1971 for the payments made under Part 7 (benefits in respect of period before commencement) of the Regulations. In addition one comment concerned pension increases for pensions in payment for subsequent years after retirement.

Government Position

Pension increases for pension's payable under the FPJPS are governed by the overarching legislation of the Pensions Increase Act 1971 and the corresponding Northern Ireland legislation. There is therefore no need for this to be specifically provided for in the Regulations in respect of either the interim payments or the pensions payable. The Pension Increase will apply to all pensions in a payment under this scheme. There is reference in the Regulations to Pensions Increase Act 1971 but this is only where the Act does not apply directly e.g. when calculating a transfer value.

Additional Voluntary Contributions

Six respondents raised issues relating to ancillary benefits. The majority said that the prohibition on individuals being able to make additional voluntary contributions (AVCs) because they had contributed to another pension scheme was unfair. One asked that the limit on the ability to make lump sum payments for future contributions be abolished. Two sought clarification on the tax treatment of AVC contributions paid.

In addition a detailed technical response was received from Prudential (the current providers of the Judicial AVC scheme) who also sought clarification on the administration of the AVC elements of the FPJPS.

Government position

The department has removed the restriction which would have prohibited those who had paid into another scheme making AVCs. The Regulations have also been amended to provide that the restriction on making lump sum contributions for future payments of AVCs has been removed.

The tax treatment of contributions is governed by HMRC rules, and when contributions are made they are taxed in the tax year that they are made. The undertaking at Annex III of the consultation of 15 September 2016 acknowledges that the fee paid judiciary did not have the right to make contributions at the material time because they did not have any pension entitlement. It also confirms that the department will compensate any individual who can demonstrate a loss. The department is working with Prudential to clarify roles and responsibilities in the administration of the AVC elements of the FPJPS.

Transfers in / out

Four respondents commented on transfers into and out of the scheme. The comments covered the ages (stopping at age 64) covered by the table used to calculate the transfer value; the ability to use a transfer value to buy added years in the principal scheme; the tax status of transfers into the scheme and interest for delay.

There was some confusion over the understanding of the Regulations in relation to transfers and the definitions used including the amount that can be transferred.

Government position

FPJPS members who have more than one year until they reach normal pension age i.e. aged 64 will have the option to transfer benefits into or out of the scheme, consistent with provision for salaried members in JUPRA. In addition, members who had more than one year to normal pension age on 6 February 2013, but had less than one year to normal pension age on the scheme commencement date, will still be able to transfer benefits. Having obtained advice from Government Actuaries Department (GAD), the Ministry of Justice has decided that such members will be able to nominate a date ('the relevant date') between 6 February 2013 and the scheme commencement date on which they would have transferred benefits (and such that they would have had more than one year to normal pension age on that date, as required). The transfer will be calculated as at the relevant date. This means that there will be no need for factors for ages above age 64. In the case of transfers out of the scheme, interest will be added in respect of the period between the relevant date and the date of payment.

The Regulations include a provision for delayed payment. However this is for transfers post commencement as opposed to transfers which would have taken place prior to the scheme coming into force. In the latter cases the department would pay interest at the Preston rate, which is the method by which interest is calculated as agreed by the employment tribunal in other aspects of the fee-paid litigation.

The Regulations provide for transfers from a registered pension scheme into the FPJPS. A transfer from a registered pension scheme to the unregistered FPJPS scheme would be an unauthorised payment for the purposes of the Finance Act 2004. Such a transfer may therefore incur a tax charge to the member and a sanction charge to the registered pension scheme which made the transfer to the FPJPS. The registered pension scheme would need to agree to pay the transfer value to the unregistered FPJPS. Paragraphs 4 and 5 of the Undertaking as set out in the consultation published on 16 September 2016 states the department's position where an individual may suffer a tax disadvantage. Any transfer in of other pension funds can only be made into the principal scheme to secure additional benefits. Transfers in cannot be made into the added years scheme. To be consistent with the salaried judiciary no limit is to be applied to the amount that may be transferred in.

Contributions

Four respondents had comments on contributions. Three of these comments concerned the interaction between the interim payments made and the historic contributions owed by an individual. The other comment sought clarification on the calculation of contributions.

Government position

As the scheme commences the pension administrators will calculate pension benefits for all those who have already retired in accordance with these Regulations. This will include calculating the contributions that are owed by the individual. Once that calculation is complete the correct amount of contributions due will be deducted from the lump sum payable. Any interim payment will be offset from the arrears of pension benefits due and any additional sum due will be paid.

For those who are still in active service, a calculation of what is owed will be supplied after the scheme commences. There is no time limit for paying staged deductions from fees in respect of the historic amount of contributions owed.

In accordance with the schedule of rates, set out in paragraph 56 of the consultation, the calculation of the amount owed is the amount that would have been payable had the individual been able to pay the contributions as if the scheme had been in existence at the relevant time.

Contracting out the State retirement benefits

On respondent asked should the Regulations address the position where a fee paid judge contributed to the State Earnings Related Pension Scheme (SERPS). If yes, do they, and in which regulation?

Government position

FPJPS will be a contracted out pension scheme for the purposes of the Pension Schemes Act 1993, until 5 April 2016. At that date, contracting out ceased for all pension schemes. For this period scheme members will therefore pay reduced National Insurance contributions and will not accrue additional state benefits beyond basic state pension entitlements.

As this is covered in the overarching DWP legislation therefore there is no necessity to include any reference to the contracting out status of FPJPS in the scheme Regulations.

An application for contracting out can be made once the Regulations have been made by Parliament. The MoJ is in discussion with HMRC on the process to enable refunds of overpaid National Insurance contributions once the scheme commences. It should be noted that the retrospective contracting out of service before 6 April 2016 may reduce the member's entitlement to state pension.

Trivial Pensions

27 respondents had comments on the facility to allow trivial commutation which could allow for individuals with a small pension benefit to take a one-off lump sum instead of continuing payments. Most agreed that such a facility could be useful, however, opinion was split as to whether it should be optional or compulsory. There was also no consensus on the values that should be used or the manner of calculation.

Government position

As the views of respondents were so mixed, and there was no clear majority on what should be done, the department will defer the decision on whether to include the facility for trivial pensions in the Regulations. The position will be reviewed once the scheme has been in operation for one year. If such a facility is thought to be relevant then an appropriate consultation will be undertaken and the Regulations will be amended. As part of the review the views of the Judicial Pension Board will be sought.

Additional Voluntary Contributions Scheme Consultation

No comments were received on the change to the method of calculating from the original consultation. Comments however were made on other aspects of the AVC arrangements.

We received four comment. One response stated “The Regulations need to provide – in respect of both retired and serving (salaried and fee paid) members of the FPJPS – an equivalent regime to that which would have been available had a fee-paid judge been able to join the JUPRA scheme before the added years element of that scheme was withdrawn”.

Two responses asked the meaning of an added year and the financial value of the benefits being purchased. In addition if there is a service award payable on the additional pension purchased.

In addition one Association responded with no comments.

Government position

The consultation covered how the cost of purchasing additional years was calculated, with a revised example being provided by GAD.

The JAYS scheme closed to new salaried applicants on 5 April 2006. For equality of treatment the FPJPS will offer eligible fee-paid office holders, who were in service on or before 5 April 2006, the same opportunity as if they had been an active scheme member, or for those who have retired, the option to purchase within the first year of the scheme's operation.

Contributing to JAYS allows the purchase of an added year (or part year) of pension and pension lump sum. As the JAYS is a registered scheme the lump sum is not taxed and therefore no service award is payable on this element.

2015 Scheme Amendment Regulations

No substantive comments were received on these Regulations except from one respondent who wanted confirmation that service in FPJS would count as qualifying service into the 2015 scheme.

Government position

The department can confirm that service in FPJPS will count as qualifying service for the 2015 scheme.

It should be noted that the Regulations now contain other provisions amending the 2015 Judicial Pension Scheme. These are separate to this consultation and have where appropriate been consulted upon separately. There have been a small number of technical changes to the Regulations consulted on that do not affect their substance. One substantive change however is that the provision permitting relevant amendments to the 2015 Regulations, to be taken into account when calculating past benefits, is now included in the FPJPS Regulations. There is no substantive change to the benefits which individuals will be entitled to receive.

Provisions include:

- To amend a drafting error in regulation 1(3) of the 2015 Regulations.
- To enable the Lord Chancellor to determine the eligibility of particular Scottish judicial office holders to join the pension scheme created by the 2015 Regulations.
- To remove negligence as a basis for forfeiture or set off.
- To make a correction to the definition of index adjustment for revaluation purposes by substituting a reference to the scheme year with the previous scheme year.
- To apply full and tapering protection to those judges who were fee-paid but who have subsequently been appointed to salaried office.

Impact Assessment

An Impact Assessment and an Equality Statement have been prepared for the Judicial Pensions (Fee-Paid) Judges Regulations 2017 and can be found at:

Conclusion and next steps

The draft FPJPS Regulations have been laid before Parliament for approval under the affirmative resolution procedure, as prescribed by the Judicial Pensions and Retirement Act 1993. Subject to Parliamentary approval, the intention is for the FPJPS Regulations and the amendment Regulations to come into force in April 2017.

3.—(1) In these Regulations—

(a) “judicial office” means an office specified in column 1 of the Schedule (“a specified office”), an office which has been replaced by a specified office, or an office specified in Schedule 1 to the Judicial Pensions and Retirement Act 1993(a);

(a) The definition of “guaranteed minimum pension” in Schedule 2 to the Judicial Pensions and Retirement Act 1993 was amended by paragraph 46 of Schedule 8 to the Pension Schemes Act 1993 (c.48), and paragraph 43 to Schedule 7 to the Pension Schemes (Northern Ireland) Act 1993 (c.49).

(b) “fee-paid judicial office” means a judicial office held by a person whose service in that office is remunerated by the payment of fees (as opposed to the payment of salary).

(2) For the purposes of these Regulations, a fee-paid judicial office held by a person (“P”) is an “eligible fee-paid judicial office” if P satisfies the conditions for membership of the principal scheme under regulation 8(1) or (5) (members) in respect of that office.

(3) For the purposes of these Regulations, P “retires” at the time when P, having held one or more judicial offices—

- (a) ceases to hold all such offices, other than by reason of P’s death; and
- (b) is not immediately afterwards appointed to another judicial office.

(4) In these Regulations, a reference to a member taking “partial retirement” in respect of a fee-paid judicial office is to the member giving notice in relation to that office under regulation 27(2).

Qualifying fee-paid days and qualifying fee-paid service

4.—(1) For the purposes of these Regulations, a day (“the relevant day”) is a “qualifying fee-paid day” worked by a member (“P”) in an eligible fee-paid judicial office, if—

- (a) P received a fee, in P’s capacity as the holder of that fee-paid judicial office, in respect of the relevant day; and
- (b) the following conditions are met.

(2) The conditions are—

- (a) that P is not an opted-out member of the principal scheme on the relevant day;
- (b) that the relevant day is on or after 7th April 2000;
- (c) that P is not eligible to be a member of the pension scheme established by the Judicial Pensions Regulations 2015(b) in relation to the relevant day.

(3) In these Regulations “qualifying fee-paid service”, in relation to an eligible fee-paid judicial office held by P, means (subject to paragraph (5)) the total number of qualifying fee-paid days worked by P in that office.

(4) Where the fee paid to P in respect of a qualifying fee-paid day was not paid at the full daily rate for the fee-paid judicial office in question but at a proportion of that rate, only that proportion of the qualifying fee-paid day is to be taken into account under paragraph (4) in determining P’s qualifying fee-paid service.

(5) For the purposes of this regulation, “fee” does not include statutory sick pay, statutory maternity pay, statutory paternity pay, statutory adoption pay or statutory shared parental pay.

(6) Where at any time after 1st April 2010 P takes maternity leave during P’s appointment to an eligible fee-paid judicial office P’s qualifying fee-paid service is to be increased by adding Z days in relation to each period of maternity leave taken by P after that date, where Z is determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$W \times \frac{A}{52}$$

where—

- (a) W is the number of weeks of P’s maternity leave;
- (b) A is the number of qualifying fee-paid days worked by P in the twelve months ending with the day before the fifteenth week before the date notified by P to the Ministry of Justice as P’s expected date of childbirth.

(a) Schedule 1 was amended by paragraphs 39 and 40 of Schedule 11 to the Access to Justice Act 1999 (c.22); section 37 of, and paragraphs 226 and 229 of Schedule 4 to the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 (c.4); S.I. 2015/109.
(b) S.I.2015/182.

(7) For the purposes of paragraph (6), “maternity leave” includes compulsory maternity leave and ordinary maternity leave as defined in section 213 of the Equality Act 2010(a).

Reckonable service

5.—(1) In these Regulations, “reckonable service”, in relation to an eligible fee-paid judicial office (“the relevant office”) held by a member (“P”), means the period, expressed in years and any fraction of a year, determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$\frac{M}{N}$$

where—

- (a) M is P’s qualifying fee-paid service in the relevant office;
- (b) N is the annual divisor for that office specified in column 2 of the Schedule.

(2) But where P’s reckonable service in relation to the relevant office, as determined under paragraph (1), is greater than the maximum amount in relation to that office, P’s reckonable service is instead that maximum amount.

(3) Paragraph (4) applies where, on the reckonable service date, the only eligible fee-paid judicial office in which P has qualifying fee-paid service is the relevant office.

(4) The maximum amount in relation to the relevant office is the amount determined in accordance with the formula—

$$20 - A$$

(5) Paragraph (6) applies where—

- (a) on the reckonable service date, P has qualifying fee-paid judicial service in more than one eligible fee-paid judicial offices, but
- (b) the relevant office is the only such office that P holds on that date.

(6) The maximum amount in relation to the relevant office is the amount determined in accordance with the formula—

$$20 - (A + B)$$

(7) Paragraph (8) applies where P ceases to hold one or more eligible fee-paid judicial offices on the reckonable service date.

(8) The maximum amount in relation to each of those eligible fee-paid judicial offices is to be calculated separately by taking the following steps.

Step 1

Calculate the maximum amount for the eligible fee-paid judicial office with the highest appropriate annual salary in accordance with the formula—

$$20 - (A + B)$$

Step 2

Calculate the maximum amount for each of the other eligible fee-paid judicial offices in turn, taking the judicial office with the next highest appropriate annual salary before judicial offices with a lower appropriate annual salary, in accordance with the formula—

$$20 - (A + B + C)$$

(9) For the purposes of this regulation, A is—

- (a) where P is not entitled to a pension under Part 1 of the Judicial Pensions and Retirement Act 1993 on the reckonable service date and will not become entitled to such a pension at any time after that date, nil;
  - (b) otherwise, the smaller of—
    - (i) the aggregate length of P’s service in qualifying judicial office (within the meaning of that Part of that Act), and
    - (ii) 20.
- (10) For the purposes of this regulation, B is—
- (a) where—
    - (i) A is 20, or
    - (ii) P has not, before the reckonable service date, ceased to hold an eligible fee-paid judicial office in respect of which P has taken partial retirement, nil;
  - (b) otherwise, the smaller of—
    - (i) the aggregate length of P’s reckonable service in eligible fee-paid judicial offices which P ceased to hold before the reckonable service date and in respect of which P has taken partial retirement, and
    - (ii)  $20 - A$ .
- (11) For the purposes of this regulation, C is—
- (a) where  $A + B \geq 20$ , nil;
  - (b) otherwise, the smaller of—
    - (i) the aggregate length of P’s reckonable service in the eligible fee-paid judicial offices which P ceased to hold on the reckonable service date for which the maximum amount of P’s reckonable service has already been calculated under paragraph (8), or
    - (ii)  $20 - (A + B)$ .

(12) For the purposes of paragraphs (10)(b)(i) and (11)(b)(i), the aggregate length of P’s reckonable service in the eligible fee-paid judicial offices referred to in those paragraphs is to be determined in accordance with the formula in paragraph (1) as though paragraph (2) does not apply.

(13) Where paragraph (6) or (8) do not permit all P’s reckonable service to be taken into account, P’s reckonable service in judicial offices with a higher appropriate annual salary is to be taken into account before P’s reckonable service in judicial offices with a lower appropriate annual salary.

(14) Where the maximum amount in relation to the relevant office would (apart from this paragraph) be negative, it is instead nil.

(15) In this regulation “the reckonable service date” means the day on which P ceases to hold the relevant office.

Qualifying judicial service

6.—(1) In these Regulations, “qualifying judicial service”, in relation to a member (“P”), means the period during which P holds a judicial office.

- (2) For the purposes of determining P’s qualifying judicial service—
- (a) it does not matter whether P holds a judicial office before or after the commencement day;
  - (b) where there is more than one period during which P holds a judicial office, all such periods are to be aggregated;
  - (c) where P holds more than one judicial office during any period, the period is to be counted only once;

- (d) any period during which P is an opted-out member of the principal scheme is to be disregarded; and
- (e) any period during which P held a fee-paid judicial office which is not an eligible fee-paid judicial office is to be disregarded.

Appropriate annual salary

7.—(1) References in these Regulations to “the appropriate annual salary” of a judicial office (“the relevant judicial office”) held by a member (“P”), are to be construed in accordance with paragraphs (2) and (3).

(2) Where the relevant judicial office is a fee-paid judicial office, the references are to the amount determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$F \times N$$

where—

- (a) F is the higher of—
  - (i) the highest daily fee payable to a holder of that office within the period of 3 years ending with—
    - (aa) where P takes partial retirement in relation to the relevant judicial office, the day on which P takes partial retirement,
    - (bb) otherwise, the day on which P retires, or
  - (ii) the daily fee in relation to the period referred to in paragraph (i) which has been determined by an employment tribunal or accepted by the appropriate Minister to be payable to a holder of that office; and
- (b) N is the annual divisor for that office specified in column 2 of the Schedule.

(3) Where the relevant judicial office is a salaried judicial office, the references are to the highest salary payable to P in respect of any continuous period of 12 months falling within the period of 3 years ending with—

- (a) where P takes partial retirement in relation to the relevant judicial office, the day on which P takes partial retirement,
- (b) otherwise, the day on which P retires.

(4) In determining the highest daily fee payable to the holder of a judicial office, no account is to be taken of—

- (a) a daily fee which is only payable to a single holder of a particular office at that time, unless that fee was payable to P in respect of the office in question,
- (b) any amount added to the fee by way of a London weighting, unless P was at any time in the period referred to in paragraph (2)(a)(i) entitled to a London weighting in respect of the office in question.

(5) In this regulation—

- (a) for the purposes of paragraph (2)(a), First-tier Tribunal Judges holding office in different chambers of the First-tier Tribunal are to be treated as holding different judicial offices (but P is not to be treated as taking partial retirement from a relevant office if P leaves a chamber of the First-tier Tribunal, if P continues to be a First-tier Tribunal Judge);
- (b) “salaried judicial office” means a judicial office held by a person which is remunerated by payment of a salary.

PART 2

PRINCIPAL SCHEME MEMBERSHIP

Members

8.—(1) A person (“P”) is a member of the principal scheme if P held a fee-paid judicial office at any time in the period beginning with 7th April 2000 and ending with 31st March 2015 and either—

- (a) P did not cease to hold that office before the relevant date;
- (b) P ceased to hold that office before the relevant date and condition A is met; or
- (c) P died before the relevant date without having ceased to hold that office and condition B is met.

(2) Condition A is that—

- (a) P presented a claim under the Part-time Worker (Prevention of Less Favourable Treatment) Regulations 2000(a) that P is entitled to a pension by virtue of holding that office (“a relevant claim”) to an employment tribunal or an industrial tribunal, and—
  - (i) the claim was presented before the end of the period of 3 months beginning with the date on which P ceased to hold that office; or
  - (ii) the tribunal has determined, or the appropriate Minister has accepted, that it is just and equitable to extend time for the presentation of the claim; or
- (b) the appropriate Minister has accepted that if P presented a relevant claim, that claim would be in time (taking into account any extension of time).

(3) Condition B is that—

- (a) P’s personal representatives made a claim to an employment tribunal or an industrial tribunal before the end of the period of 3 months beginning with the date on which P died that benefits are payable in respect of P’s death by virtue of P having held that office and that claim has not been rejected before the commencement day, or
- (b) an employment tribunal or an industrial tribunal has determined, or the appropriate Minister has accepted, that P’s personal representatives are entitled to bring a claim that benefits are payable in respect of P’s death by virtue of P having held that office.

(4) Where P ceased to hold a fee-paid judicial office before the relevant date and also died before the relevant date, but—

- (a) P had presented a relevant claim which would have satisfied paragraph (2)(a) before death, Condition A is to be treated as satisfied, or
- (b) P’s personal representatives had made a claim before the end of the period of 3 months beginning with the date on which P ceased to hold that office that benefits are payable in respect of P’s death by virtue of P having held that office, Condition B is to be treated as satisfied.

(5) P is also a member of the principal scheme if—

- (a) P did not hold a fee-paid judicial office before 1st April 2015;
- (b) P is a person in whose case section 18(1) of the 2013 Act or section 18(1) of the 2014 Act (restriction of existing pension schemes) does not apply in relation to an existing scheme by virtue of provision made under section 18(5) or (5A)(b) of the 2013 Act or section 18(5) or (6) of the 2014 Act (transitional protection under existing schemes); and
- (c) within the period of 5 years beginning with the final day of service in respect of which P is entitled to benefits under the existing scheme mentioned in sub-paragraph (b), P is appointed to a fee-paid judicial office.

(a) S.I. 2001/1107.

(b) Subsection (5A) of section 18 was inserted by section 512 of the Pensions Act 2014.

- (6) In paragraph (5)—
- “the 2013 Act” is the Public Service Pensions Act 2013(a);
  - “the 2014 Act” is the Public Service Pensions Act (Northern Ireland) 2014(b);
  - “existing scheme” has the meaning given by section 18(2) of the 2013 Act and section 18(2) of the 2014 Act.
- (7) For the purposes of this regulation, “the relevant date” is—
- (a) 1st February 2013 where P only held a fee-paid judicial office—
    - (i) whose jurisdiction is exercised exclusively in relation to Northern Ireland,
    - (ii) which is not one of the offices referred to in paragraph 11 of Schedule 2 to the Northern Ireland Act 1998(c);
  - (b) 2nd December 2012 in all other cases.

Opted-out members and active members

- 9.—(1) A member (“P”) is an “opted-out member” of the principal scheme on any day if P—
- (a) has, on or before that day, opted out of the principal scheme under regulation 10; and
  - (b) has not opted back in under regulation 11.
- (2) If P retired before these Regulations came into force and opts out under regulation 10(1)(b), P is treated as always having been an opted-out member.
- (3) P is an “active member” of the principal scheme on any day if—
- (a) P is not an opted-out member;
  - (b) P holds an eligible fee-paid judicial office on that day; and
  - (c) if P had received a fee in P’s capacity as a holder of that office in respect of that day, the day would have been a qualifying fee-paid day.

Opting out

- 10.—(1) A member who—
- (a) has not retired, or
  - (b) retired before these Regulations came into force,
- may opt out by sending a notice to the appropriate Minister.

(4) If the appropriate Minister is satisfied that P is in good health, the appropriate Minister must allow the application.

(5) The appropriate Minister must, within the period of 3 months beginning with the date on which the application is received, send a notice to P specifying—

- (a) whether the appropriate Minister has allowed the application; and
- (b) the date on which the decision was made.

(6) If the appropriate Minister has allowed the application, the member opts back in on the date specified under paragraph (5)(b), or (if earlier), the date three months after the date on which the application was received.

PART 3

RETIREMENT BENEFITS

Retirement aged 65 or over: entitlement to ordinary pension

12.—(1) This regulation applies where—

- (a) a member (“P”) retires (whether before, on or after the commencement day); and
- (b) on the day on which P retires, P—
  - (i) has reached the age of 65;
  - (ii) has at least 5 years’ qualifying judicial service, and
  - (iii) has accrued reckonable service in relation to an eligible fee-paid judicial office.

(2) On the pension start day, P becomes entitled to the payment for life of a pension.

(3) In this regulation “the pension start day” means—

- (a) the day after that on which P retires; or
- (b) if later, the commencement day.

Annual rate of ordinary pension

13.—(1) The annual rate of a pension to which a member (“P”) becomes entitled under regulation 12 is determined under paragraph (3), (5) or (7) (whichever applies).

(2) Paragraph (3) applies where, on retirement, P has reckonable service in only one eligible fee-paid judicial office (“the relevant office”).

(3) The annual rate is determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$\frac{R}{40} \times S$$

where—

- (a) R is P’s reckonable service in the relevant office;
- (b) S is the appropriate annual salary of the judicial office held by P immediately before retirement.

(4) Paragraph (5) applies where—

- (a) on retirement, P has reckonable service in more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office; and
- (b) P did not, at any time before retirement, hold two or more eligible fee-paid judicial offices simultaneously.

(5) The annual rate is determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$\frac{AR}{40} \times S$$

where—

- (a) AR is the aggregate length of P’s reckonable service in eligible fee-paid judicial offices;
- (b) S is the appropriate annual salary of the judicial office held by P immediately before retirement.

(6) Paragraph (7) applies where—

- (a) on retirement, P has reckonable service in more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office (“the relevant offices”); and
- (b) at any time before retirement, P held two or more relevant offices simultaneously.

(7) The annual rate is determined by taking the following steps—

Step 1

Determine the annual rate under paragraph (3) in relation to each relevant office which P held simultaneously, as if—

- (i) that office were the only office in which P had reckonable service on retirement (except in determining the maximum amount in relation to that office under regulation 5); and
- (ii) P held that office (and held no other judicial office) immediately before retirement.

Step 2

Determine the annual rate under paragraph (5) in relation to those relevant offices which P did not hold simultaneously with another relevant office, and for these purposes, in paragraph (5), S is—

- (i) where P held a single judicial office immediately before retirement, the appropriate annual salary of that judicial office;
- (ii) where P held more than one judicial office immediately before retirement, the highest appropriate annual salary of those offices.

Step 3

Add together each of the rates found under Step 1 and the rate found under Step 2.

(8) Paragraph (9) applies where—

- (a) during one or more parts of the period for which P held an eligible fee-paid judicial office (“office A”), P held one or more other eligible fee-paid judicial offices simultaneously, and
- (b) during one or more parts of that period P held no eligible fee-paid judicial office other than office A.

(9) For the purposes of paragraph (7)—

- (a) office A is to be treated as two different relevant offices—
  - (i) the first of which (“the first office”) is held for the period (or the aggregate of the periods) mentioned in paragraph (8)(a), and accordingly, is taken into consideration in Step 1 in paragraph (7), and
  - (ii) the second of which (“the second office”) is held for the period (or the aggregate of the periods) mentioned in paragraph (8)(b) and, accordingly is taken into consideration in Step 2 in paragraph (7), and
- (b) P’s reckonable service in office A is to be apportioned between the first and the second offices in the same proportion as that between the period P held the first office and the period P held the second office.

Retirement between the ages of 60 and 65: entitlement to reduced pension

14.—(1) This regulation applies where—

- (a) a member (“P”) retires (whether before, on or after the commencement day); and
- (b) on the day on which P retires, P—
  - (i) has reached the age of 60 but not the age of 65, and
  - (ii) has at least 5 years’ qualifying judicial service.

(2) On the pension start day, P becomes entitled to the payment for life of a pension.

(3) In this regulation “the pension start day” means—

- (a) the day after that on which P retires; or
- (b) if later, the commencement day.

Retirement under age of 60 on removal from judicial office: entitlement to reduced pension

15.—(1) This regulation applies where—

- (a) a member (“P”) retires (whether before, on or after the commencement day) by virtue of having been removed from all judicial offices held by P;
- (b) on the day on which P retires, P has not reached the age of 60; and
- (c) the appropriate Minister recommends to the administrators that P’s accrued rights under the principal scheme be given immediate effect.

(2) The administrators must notify P of the recommendation under paragraph (1)(c).

(3) If P elects in writing to the administrators within 3 months of receiving the notice that P wishes to receive benefits under this regulation—

- (a) P becomes entitled, on the day on which the administrators receive the election, to the payment for life of a pension; and
- (b) P also becomes entitled, on that day, to the amount P would have been entitled to if P had been entitled under this regulation to the payment of a pension in respect of the period beginning with the pension start day and ending with the day before the day mentioned in sub-paragraph (a).

(4) In this regulation “the pension start day” means—

- (a) the day after that on which P retires; or
- (b) if later, the commencement day.

Annual rate of reduced pension

16.—(1) The annual rate of a pension to which a member (“P”) becomes entitled under regulation 14 or 15 is determined under paragraph (3), (5) or (7) (whichever applies).

(2) Paragraph (3) applies where, on retirement, P has reckonable service in only one eligible fee-paid judicial office (“the relevant office”).

(3) The annual rate is determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$\left( \frac{R}{40} \right) \times \left( A + \left( \frac{B}{365} \times (C - A) \right) \right)$$

where—

- (a) R is P’s reckonable service in the relevant office;
- (b) S is the appropriate annual salary of the judicial office held by P immediately before retirement;
- (c) A is the actuarial reduction factor set out in the Table corresponding to P’s age on P’s birthday preceding the retirement day;

- (d) B is the number of days in the period beginning with P’s birthday preceding the retirement day and ending with the retirement day;
- (e) C is the actuarial reduction factor set out in the Table appropriate to P’s age on P’s birthday following the retirement day.

(4) Paragraph (5) applies where—

- (a) on retirement, P has reckonable service in more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office; and
- (b) P did not, at any time before retirement, hold two or more eligible fee-paid judicial offices simultaneously.

(5) The annual rate is determined in accordance with the following formula—

where—

- (a) AR is the aggregate length of P’s reckonable service in eligible fee-paid judicial offices;
- (b) S is the appropriate annual salary of the judicial office held by P immediately before retirement;
- (c) A is the actuarial reduction factor set out in the Table corresponding to P’s age on P’s birthday preceding the retirement day;
- (d) B is the number of days in the period beginning with P’s birthday preceding the retirement day and ending with the retirement day;
- (e) C is the actuarial reduction factor set out in the Table appropriate to P’s age on P’s birthday following the retirement day.

(6) Paragraph (7) applies where—

- (a) on retirement P has reckonable service in more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office (“the relevant offices”); and
- (b) at any time before retirement, P held two or more relevant offices simultaneously.

(7) The annual rate is determined by taking the following steps:

Step 1

Determine the annual rate under paragraph (3), in relation to each relevant office which P held simultaneously, as if—

- (i) that office were the only office in which P had reckonable service on retirement (except in determining the maximum amount in relation to that office under regulation 5), and
- (ii) P held that office (and held no other judicial office) immediately before retirement.

Step 2

Determine the annual rate under paragraph (5), in relation to those relevant offices which P did not hold simultaneously with another judicial office, and for these purposes, in paragraph (5) S is—

- (i) where P held a single judicial office immediately before retirement, the appropriate annual salary of that judicial office;
- (ii) where P held more than one judicial office immediately before retirement, the highest appropriate annual salary of those offices.

Step 3

Add together each of the rates found under Step 1 and the rate found under Step 2.

(8) In this regulation—

- (a) “the retirement day” means the day on which P retires;

- (b) “the Table” means the Table in the Schedule to the Judicial Pensions (Miscellaneous) Regulations 1995(a), as it has effect on the retirement day.
- (9) Paragraph (10) applies where—
- (a) during one or more parts of the period for which P held an eligible fee-paid judicial office (“office A”), P held one or more other eligible fee-paid judicial offices simultaneously, and
  - (b) during one or more parts of that period P held no eligible fee-paid judicial office other than office A.
- (10) For the purposes of paragraph (7)—
- (a) office A is to be treated as two different relevant offices—
    - (i) the first of which (“the first office”) is held for the period (or the aggregate of the periods) mentioned in paragraph (9)(a), and accordingly, is taken into consideration in Step 1 in paragraph (7), and
    - (ii) the second of which (“the second office”) is held for the period (or the aggregate of the periods) mentioned in paragraph (9)(b) and, accordingly is taken into consideration in Step 2 in paragraph (7), and
  - (b) P’s reckonable service in office A is to be apportioned between the first and the second offices in the same proportion as that between the period P held the first office and the period P held the second office.

Retirement under the normal pension age: entitlement to preserved pension

- 17.—(1) This regulation applies where—
- (a) a member (“P”) retires (whether before, on or after the commencement day);
  - (b) if P retires by virtue of having been removed from all judicial offices held by P—
    - (i) the appropriate Minister makes a recommendation under regulation 15(1)(c), and
    - (ii) P does not make an election under regulation 15(3); and
  - (c) on the day on which P retires, P—
    - (i) has not reached normal pension age,
    - (ii) has at least 2 years’ qualifying judicial service; and
    - (iii) is not entitled to a pension under regulation 14.
- (2) On the pension start day, P becomes entitled to the payment for life of a pension.
- (3) In this regulation “the pension start day” means—
- (a) the day on which P—
    - (i) reaches the age of 65, or
    - (ii) (if later) would have completed five years’ qualifying judicial service, if P had continued to hold a judicial office; or
  - (b) if later, the commencement day.

Annual rate of preserved pension

- 18.—(1) The annual rate of a pension to which a member (“P”) is entitled under regulation 17 is determined under paragraph (3) or (5) (whichever applies).
- (2) Paragraph (3) applies where, on retirement—
- (a) P has reckonable service in one or more eligible fee-paid judicial offices, and

(a) S.I. 1995/632. The Table in the Schedule to these Regulations was substituted by S.I. 2015/533.

(b) P did not, at any time before retirement, hold two or more eligible fee-paid judicial offices simultaneously.

(3) The annual rate is determined in accordance with the following formula—

where—

(a) R is the maximum amount of reckonable service which P would be able to accrue if P continued in eligible fee-paid judicial office until the date on which P reaches normal pension age, assuming that P would have accrued reckonable service each year until that date equal to—

$$\frac{N}{Z}$$

where—

(i) N is the reckonable service which P accrued before the date on which P retired, calculated under regulation 5(1) as though regulation 5(2) did not apply;

(ii) Z is the period, or the aggregate of the periods, expressed in years and any fraction of a year during which P held one or more eligible fee-paid judicial offices, disregarding any day in respect of which the conditions in regulation 4(2) (qualifying fee-paid days) are not met;

(b) S is the appropriate annual salary of the judicial office held by P immediately before retirement;

(c) Z has the meaning given in sub-paragraph (a)(ii);

(d) Y is the period, expressed in years and any fraction of a year, beginning with the day on which P retired and ending with the day on which P reaches normal pension age.

(4) Paragraph (5) applies where—

(a) on retirement P has reckonable service in more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office (“the relevant offices”), and

(b) at any time before retirement, P held two or more relevant offices simultaneously.

(5) The annual rate is determined by taking the following steps—

Step 1

Determine the annual rate under paragraph (3) of this regulation in relation to those relevant offices which P did not hold simultaneously with another relevant office, and for these purposes, in paragraph (3)(b), S is—

(i) where P held a single judicial office immediately before retirement, the appropriate annual salary of that judicial office;

(ii) where P held more than one judicial office immediately before retirement, the highest appropriate annual salary of those offices.

Step 2

Determine the annual rate under paragraph (3) of this regulation, in relation to each relevant office which P held simultaneously, as if—

(i) that office were the only office in which P had reckonable service on retirement (except in determining the maximum amount in relation to that office under regulation 5), and

(ii) P held that office (and held no other judicial office) immediately before retirement.

Step 3

Add together the rate found under Step 1 and each of the rates found under Step 2.

- (6) Paragraph (7) applies where—
  - (a) during one or more parts of the period for which P held an eligible fee-paid judicial office (“office A”), P held one or more other eligible fee-paid judicial offices simultaneously, and
  - (b) during one or more parts of that period P held no eligible fee-paid judicial office other than office A.
- (7) For the purposes of paragraph (5)—
  - (a) office A is to be treated as two different relevant offices—

Step 2

Determine the annual rate of the enhancement (see paragraph (2)).

Step 3

Add together the rate determined under Step 1, and the rate determined under Step 2.

(4) The service enhancement is determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$F \times \frac{X}{Y}$$

where—

- (a) F is the period, expressed in years and any fraction of a year, which is one half of the period—
  - (i) beginning with the day after that on which P retires, and

$$A \times 2.25$$

where A is the annual rate of the pension payable to P under this Part.

Multiple retirements

26.—(1) This regulation applies where a member (“P”) retires and subsequently resumes judicial office.

(2) The resumption of judicial office does not affect the entitlement of P to any payment under the principal scheme in respect of any period before the resumption.

(3) No amounts are payable to or in respect of P under the principal scheme as a result of the retirement mentioned in paragraph (1) in respect of any period after the resumption.

(4) On P’s retirement after resuming judicial office—

(8) Where P dies before the commencement day after having retired, the rate of P's pension is the annual rate of the pension to which P would have become entitled under Part 3 on the commencement day if P were still alive on that day.

(9) Where P dies before the commencement day without having retired, the rate of P's pension is the annual rate of the pension to which P would have become entitled under Part 3 on the commencement day if—

- (a) on the day on which P died, P had not died but had instead retired,
- (b) the ill-health certification condition were met in relation to P, and
- (c) P had survived until the commencement day.

Payment and application of an eligible child’s pension

44.—(1) A pension to which a person is entitled under regulation 42 is payable at such intervals, not exceeding 3 months, as the Treasury may determine.

(2) A person to whom a pension or part of a pension under regulation 42 is paid must apply the pension for the benefit of—

- (a) all eligible children of the deceased member; or
- (b) such eligible children of the deceased member as the Treasury may direct.

Lump sum on death: death in service

45.—(1) Paragraph (2) applies where—

- (a) a member (“P”) dies (on or after the commencement day) without having retired; and
- (b) P is (immediately before death) an active member of the principal scheme.

(2) On the day after that on which P dies, the relevant person becomes entitled to a lump sum.

(3) The amount of the lump sum to which the relevant person becomes entitled under paragraph (2) is determined under paragraph (5), (7) or (9), whichever applies).

(4) Paragraph (5) applies where, on P’s death, P has reckonable service in only one eligible fee-paid judicial office (“the relevant office”).

(5) The amount of the lump sum is to be determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$S \times 2 \times \frac{M \div N}{JS}$$

where—

- (a) S is the appropriate annual salary of the judicial office held by P immediately before P’s death, determined as if P had retired on the date of P’s death;
- (b) M is P’s qualifying fee-paid service in the relevant office; and
- (c) N is the annual divisor for that office specified in column 2 of the Schedule;
- (d) JS is P’s qualifying judicial service after 6th April 2000, expressed in years and any fraction of a year.

(6) Paragraph (7) applies where—

- (a) on P’s death, P has reckonable service in more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office; and
- (b) P did not, at any time before death, hold more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office simultaneously.

(7) The amount of the lump sum is to be determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$S \times 2 \times \frac{AM \div N}{JS}$$

where—

- (a) S is the appropriate annual salary of the judicial office held by P immediately before P’s death, determined as if P had retired on the date of P’s death;
- (b) AM is the aggregate length of P’s qualifying fee-paid service in eligible fee-paid judicial offices;

(c) JS is P's qualifying judicial service after 6th April 2000, expressed in years and any fraction of a year.

(8) Paragraph (9) applies where—

- (a) immediately before death P held more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office (“the relevant offices”), and
- (b) at any time before retirement, P held two or more eligible fee-paid judicial offices simultaneously.

(9) The amount of the lump sum is determined by taking the following steps.

Step 1

Determine the lump sum under paragraph (5) in relation to each relevant office which P held simultaneously, as if that office were the only eligible fee-paid relevant office held by P.

Step 2

Determine the lump sum under paragraph (7) in relation to those relevant offices which P did not hold simultaneously, and for these purposes, in paragraph (7)(a), S is—

- (i) where P held a single eligible fee-paid judicial office immediately before P's death, the appropriate annual salary of that judicial office, determined as if P had retired on the date of P's death;
- (ii) where P held more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office immediately before P's death, the highest appropriate annual salary of those offices, determined as if P had retired on the date of P's death.

Step 3

Add together each of the lump sums found under Step 1 and the lump sum found under Step 2.

(10) Paragraph (11) applies where—

- (a) during one or more parts of the period for which P held an eligible fee-paid judicial office (“office A”), P held one or more other eligible fee-paid judicial offices simultaneously, and
- (b) during one or more parts of that period P held no eligible fee-paid judicial office other than office A.

(11) For the purposes of paragraph (9)—

- (a) office A is to be treated as two different relevant offices—
  - (i) the first of which (“the first office”) is held for the period (or the aggregate of the periods) mentioned in paragraph (10)(a), and accordingly, is taken into consideration in Step 1 in paragraph (9), and
  - (ii) the second of which (“the second office”) is held for the period (or the aggregate of the periods) mentioned in paragraph (10)(b) and, accordingly is taken into consideration in Step 2 in paragraph (9), and
- (b) P's reckonable service in office A is to be apportioned between the first and the second offices in the same proportion as that between the period P held the first office and the period P held the second office.

(12) In this regulation “the relevant person” means—

- (a) the person nominated by P for the purpose of this regulation by notice in writing to the administrators; or
- (b) in default of such nomination, P's personal representatives, on behalf of P's estate.

Lump sum on death: death after retirement of member with preserved pension

46.—(1) Paragraph (2) applies if—

- (a) a member (“P”) dies (on or after the commencement day) having retired (whether before, on or after the commencement day);
- (b) where P retires on or after the commencement day, P is not, on retirement, an opted-out member; and
- (c) if P had not died P would, on reaching normal pension age have become entitled to a pension under regulation 17.

(2) On the day after that on which P dies, P’s personal representatives become entitled to a lump sum on behalf of P’s estate.

(3) The amount of the lump sum is to be determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$A \times 2.25$$

where A is a notional annual rate of pension determined in accordance with regulation 18 as though P had reached normal pension age on the day P died.

Lump sum on death: death soon after retirement of member entitled to pension

47.—(1) Paragraph (2) applies if—

- (a) a member (“P”) dies (on or after the commencement day) having retired (whether before, on or after the commencement day);
- (b) where P retires on or after the commencement day, P is not, on retirement, an opted-out member;
- (c) immediately before death, P was entitled to the payment of a pension under Part 3 (retirement benefits); and
- (d) the total benefits received are less than the minimum benefits amount.

(2) On the day after that on which P dies, P’s personal representatives become entitled on behalf of P’s estate to a lump sum equal to the difference between the total benefits received and the minimum benefits amount.

(3) In this regulation “the total benefits received” means the amount determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$A + B + C - D$$

where—

- (a) A is the interim payments amount (if any) in relation to P;
- (b) B is the amount (if any) paid or payable to P under regulation 50;
- (c) C is the total of the sums paid or payable to P under Part 3 on account of the pension (including any increases under the Pensions (Increase) Act 1971(a)), and by way of lump sum, in relation to the period after commencement day;
- (d) D is the amount (if any) paid or payable by P under regulation 51.

(4) In this regulation “the minimum benefits amount” means the amount determined in accordance with the following formula—where E is the annual rate of the pension payable to P under Part 3 immediately before P’s death.

$$E \times 5$$

PART 7

BENEFITS IN RESPECT OF PERIODS BEFORE COMMENCEMENT

Application of Part

48.—(1) This Part applies where—

- (a) a member (“P”) retired, or died without having retired, before the commencement day, and
- (b) condition A or B is met.

(2) Condition A is that amounts were paid to any person during the pre-commencement period in respect of P’s retirement or death under arrangements made for the purpose of providing benefits during the pre-commencement period corresponding to those under Part 3 or 6.

(3) Condition B is that, if these Regulations had come into force on the day before the day on which P retired or died, amounts would have been payable during the pre-commencement period—

- (a) to P under Part 3, or
- (b) to another person under Part 6, in respect of P’s retirement or death.

(4) In this Part—

- (a) “the pre-commencement period” means the period—
  - (i) beginning with the day on which P retired or on which P died without having retired, and
  - (ii) ending with the day before the commencement day.
- (b) references to “P” are to a member mentioned in paragraph (1)(a).

Meaning of “the interim payments amount” and “the pre-commencement benefits amount”

49.—(1) In these Regulations “the interim payments amount”, in relation to any person, means the total amount (if any) that was paid to that person under arrangements made for the purpose of providing benefits during the pre-commencement period in respect of P’s retirement or death corresponding to those under Part 3 or 6.

(2) In this Part “the pre-commencement benefits amount”, in relation to any person, means, subject to paragraph (3), the total amount (if any) that would have been payable to that person under Part 3 or 6 during the pre-commencement period in respect of P’s retirement or death if these Regulations had come into force on the day before the day on which P retired or died without having retired.

(3) Where—

- (a) the amount payable to a person in respect of P under paragraph (2) includes a lump sum payable under regulation 45 or 46, and
- (b) P would have been liable to pay the pre-commencement contributions amount referred to in regulation 53(1) if P had survived until the commencement day, the pre-commencement benefits amount payable to that person is to be calculated after deducting the pre-commencement contributions amount (within the meaning of regulation 53(1)) which would have been payable by P if these Regulations had come into force on the day before the day on which P died.

(4) Paragraph (5) applies for the purposes of calculating the pre-commencement benefits amount where P is a transition member (within the meaning of paragraph 1 of Schedule 2 to the Judicial Pensions Regulations 2015) who has continuity of service (within the meaning of paragraph 2 of Schedule 2 to those Regulations).

(5) The pre-commencement benefits amount is to be calculated as though the amendments made to the Judicial Pensions Regulations 2015 by the Judicial Pensions (Amendment) Regulations 2017 (“the 2017 Regulations”) (save for regulations 4, 6, 15 and 16 of the 2017 Regulations) had come into force on the day before the day on which the member retired or died without having retired.

Additional payment where no or insufficient interim payments made

50.—(1) Paragraph (2) applies where the interim payments amount in relation to a person is less than the pre-commencement benefits amount in relation to that person.

(2) The administrators must pay to the person the amount of the difference between the two amounts mentioned in paragraph (1).

Deduction of any excess interim payments

51.—(1) Paragraph (2) applies where the interim payments amount in relation to a person is greater than the pre-commencement benefits amount in relation to that person.

(2) Where the person is entitled to the payment of a pension under Part 3 or 6, the amounts mentioned in paragraph (1) may be deducted from payments of the pension in such instalments as the administrators may decide.

PART 8

CONTRIBUTIONS IN RESPECT OF PRE-COMMENCEMENT SERVICE

Interpretation

52. In this Part—

“fee period” means a period specified in column 1 of the Contributions Table;

“the pre-commencement contributions amount” has the meaning given by regulation 53(1);

“P” means a member who is not an opted-out member;

Liability to pay pre-commencement contributions amount

53.—(1) P must pay to the appropriate Minister an amount (“the pre-commencement contributions amount”), being the sum of—

(a) the pre-commencement personal contributions amount (see regulation 54), and

(b) the pre-commencement dependants’ contributions amount (see regulation 55).

(2) Paragraph (1) is subject to paragraphs (3) and (4).

(3) P is not required to pay the pre-commencement contributions amount if P—

(a) retired before the commencement day, and

(b) had on retirement less than two years qualifying judicial service.

(4) P is not required to pay so much of the pre-commencement contributions amount as is represented by the amount mentioned in paragraph (1)(b) if P—

(a) retired before the commencement day,

(b) was not married or in a civil partnership at any time during the period—

(i) beginning with the day on which P first held an eligible fee-paid judicial office, and

(ii) ending with the day on which P retired; and

(c) did not have a qualifying child at any time during that period.

Calculation of pre-commencement personal contributions amount

54. The pre-commencement personal contributions amount in relation to P is determined as follows—

Step 1

For each fee period, find the total of the fees paid to P in respect of qualifying fee-paid days falling within the period.

Step 2

Multiply the total found under Step 1 for each fee period by the percentage specified in relation to that fee period in column 2 of the Contributions Table.

Step 3

Add together the amounts found under Step 2.

Calculation of pre-commencement dependants' contributions amount

55. The pre-commencement dependants' contributions amount in relation to P is determined as follows—

Step 1

For each fee period, find the total of the fees paid to P in respect of qualifying fee-paid days falling within the period.

Step 2

Multiply the total found under Step 1 for each fee period by the percentage specified in relation to that fee period in column 3 of the Contributions Table.

Step 3

Add together the amounts found under Step 2.

Qualifying fee-paid days disregarded if they do not add to reckonable service

56.—(1) A qualifying fee-paid day worked in an eligible fee-paid judicial office is disregarded for the purposes of regulations 54 and 55 if P's reckonable service in relation to that office would have been equal to or greater than the maximum amount in relation to that office, had P retired on the day before that day.

(2) The reference in paragraph (1) to the maximum amount in relation to an office is to that amount as determined in accordance with regulation 5 (reckonable service).

The Contributions Table

57.—(1) The Contributions Table is as follows.

Fee Period	Contribution (personal)	Contribution (dependants)
7th April 2000 to 31st March 2012	0%	1.80%
1st April 2012 to 31st March 2013	1.28%	1.80%
1st April 2013 to 31st March 2014	2.56%	1.80%
1st April 2014 to 31st March 2015	3.20%	1.80%
1st April 2015 to 31st March 2016	X%	1.80%
1st April 2016 to 31st March 2017	Y%	1.80%

(2) In the entry in that table for the fee period beginning on 1st April 2015, "X%" means the percentage specified in column 2 of the table in paragraph (4), in the row relating to P's annualised fees for that period.

(3) In the entry in that table for the fee period beginning on 1st April 2016 (“the final fee period”), Y% means the percentage specified in column 2 of the table in paragraph (5), in the row relating to P’s annualised fees for that period.

(4) The table mentioned in paragraph (2) is as follows—

Annualised fees	Contribution (personal)
Up to but not including £15,001	0.96%
£15,001 to but not including £21,001	0.96%
£21,001 to but not including £47,001	1.47%
£47,001 to but not including £150,001	2.61%
£150,001 and above	4.43%

(5) The table mentioned in paragraph (3) is as follows—

Annualised fees	Contribution (personal)
Up to but not including £15,001	0.96%
£15,001 to but not including £21,211	0.96%
£21,211 to but not including £48,472	1.47%
£48,472 to but not including £150,001	2.61%
£150,001 and above	4.43%

Payment of pre-commencement contributions amount

58.—(1) The pre-commencement contributions amount, or any part of it, may be paid—

- (a) by way of a lump sum at any time during the period of 6 months beginning with the commencement day;
- (b) by way of such deductions from fees paid to P in respect of fee-paid days as may be specified in an agreement between P and the appropriate Minister, and for the purposes of paragraph (b), a “fee-paid” day means a day in respect of which P receives a fee in P’s capacity as a holder of an eligible fee-paid judicial office.

(2) The deductions specified under paragraph (1)(b)—

- (a) must be of fixed monetary amounts, and
- (b) must be the same for each fee.

(3) A new agreement under paragraph (1)(b) may be entered into at any time after the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the day on which the previous agreement was entered into.

(4) Except to the extent that the pre-commencement contributions amount has already been paid under paragraph (1), it is to be paid by way of a deduction from—

- (a) the lump sum payable to P under Part 3, or
- (b) where P dies before retiring, the lump sum payable in respect of P under Part 6.

PART 9

CONTRIBUTIONS IN RESPECT OF SERVICE ON OR AFTER COMMENCEMENT DAY

Interpretation

59. In this Part—

“fee year” means the period beginning with 1st April in any year and ending with the 31st March in the following year; and

Liability to pay contributions on fees in respect of qualifying fee-paid days

60. P must pay a contribution to the appropriate Minister on any fee paid to P in respect of a qualifying fee-paid day where the day is, or is after, the commencement day.

Qualifying fee-paid days disregarded if they do not add to reckonable service

61.—(1) Regulation 60 does not require P to pay a contribution in respect of a qualifying fee-paid day worked in an eligible fee-paid judicial office if P’s reckonable service in relation to that office would have been equal to or greater than the maximum amount in relation to that office, had P retired on the day before that day.

(2) The reference in paragraph (1) to the maximum amount in relation to an office is to that amount as determined in accordance with regulation 5 (reckonable service).

Amount of contribution

62.—(1) The amount of the contribution payable on a fee under regulation 60 is the sum of—

- (a) the personal benefits contribution, and
- (b) the dependants’ benefits contribution.

(2) The amount of the personal benefits contribution is the amount of the fee multiplied by the percentage specified in column 2 of the table in regulation 63 for the relevant fee year, in the row relating to P’s annualised fees for that year.

(3) The amount of the dependants’ benefits contribution is the amount of the fee multiplied by the percentage specified in column 3 of the same row of the same table.

(4) P’s annualised fees for the relevant fee year are determined in accordance with the following formula—

$$F \times \frac{365}{N}$$

where—

- (a) F is the amount of the fee;
- (b) N is the number of days in the applicable payment period.

(5) For the purposes of paragraph (4) the “applicable payment period” means—

- (a) where the qualifying fee-paid day in respect of which the fee is paid is the first qualifying fee-paid day to occur in the relevant fee year, the period—
  - (i) beginning with the first day of the relevant fee year, and
  - (ii) ending with the day before the qualifying fee-paid day;
- (b) where the qualifying fee-paid day in respect of which the fee is paid is the second, or a later, qualifying fee-paid day to occur in the relevant fee year, the period—
  - (i) beginning with the most recent previous qualifying fee-paid day, and
  - (ii) ending with the day before the qualifying fee-paid day.

(6) If the relevant fee year is a leap year, the formula in paragraph (4) has effect as if for “365” there were substituted “366”.

(7) In this regulation “the relevant fee year” means the fee year in which the qualifying fee-paid day in respect of which the fee is paid falls.

Contribution rates for fee years

63.—(1) The table for the fee year 1st April 2017 to 31st March 2018 is—

Annualised fees	Contribution (personal)	Contribution (dependants')
Up to but not including £15,001	0.96%	1.80%
£15,001 to but not including £21,423	0.96%	1.80%
£21,423 to but not including £51,006	1.47%	1.80%
£51,006 to but not including £150,001	2.61%	1.80%
£150,001 and above	4.43%	0%

(2) The table for the fee year 1st April 2018 to 31st March 2019 is—

Annualised fees	Contribution (personal)	Contribution (dependants')
Up to but not including £15,001	0.96%	1.80%
£15,001 to but not including £21,637	0.96%	1.80%
£21,637 to but not including £51,516	1.47%	1.80%
£51,516 to but not including £150,001	2.61%	1.80%
£150,001 and above	4.43%	0%

Payment of contribution

CHAPTER 2

TRANSFERS OUT

Transfers out

72.—(1) Where the conditions set out in paragraph (2) are met, regulations 73 to 82 apply to P—

- (a) to or in respect of whom benefits are payable under one or more of the relevant schemes; and
- (b) the last day which counts towards P's reckonable service ("last day of reckonable service") or the last day on which P held an eligible fee-paid judicial office is on or after the commencement day.

(2) The conditions are that—

- (a) P has not retired;
- (b) on P's last day of reckonable service—
  - (i) P has accrued rights to benefits under the principal scheme; or
  - (ii) P would have such rights if P's qualifying judicial service had also ended on that date, and
- (c) either—
  - (i) P's age on 6th February 2013 was more than one year under normal pension age, and P exercises the option within twelve months of the commencement day; or
  - (ii) P's age on the date P exercises the option is at least one year under normal pension age.

Qualifying member's right to a transfer payment

73.—(1) On P's last day of reckonable service, P acquires a right to the cash equivalent at the relevant date of any benefits which have accrued to, or in respect of P, under the relevant schemes.

(2) In this Chapter "the relevant date" means the date of any application which P has made under regulation 80 and which has not been cancelled.

Method of taking cash benefit

74.—(1) P may only exercise the right in regulation 73(1) by exercising the option conferred by this paragraph ("the option").

(2) The option is that of requiring the Treasury to use the cash equivalent in whichever of the following ways P chooses—

- (a) for acquiring transfer credits allowed under the rules of another occupational pension scheme—
  - (i) whose trustees or managers are able and willing to accept the transfer; and
  - (ii) which satisfies the requirements in regulation 75;

- (d) for subscribing to other pension arrangements which satisfy the requirements in regulation 75.

(3) P may exercise the option in different ways in relation to different portions of P’s cash equivalent.

(5) In this regulation, “transfer credits” has the meaning given by section 181(1) of the Pension Schemes Act 1993, or in relation to Northern Ireland, section 176(1) of the Pension Schemes (Northern Ireland) Act 1993(a).

- (b) a pension arrangement that is a qualifying recognised overseas pensions scheme for the purposes of Part 4 (pension schemes etc) of the Finance Act 2004.

Calculation of cash equivalents

76.—(1) The cash equivalent of accrued benefits is to be calculated in accordance with the formula—

- (a)  $MLA \times (p \times PF + I \times L + w \times SF - (2 \times g78 + g88) \times GMP)$  where P is married or a civil partner at the date of leaving the relevant schemes; or
- (b)  $MLA \times (p \times PF + I \times L + (g78 + 2 \times g88) \times SF - (2 \times g78 + g88) \times GMP)$  where P is male and neither married nor a civil partner at the date of leaving the relevant schemes;
- (c)  $MLA \times (p \times PF + I \times L + g88 \times SF - (2 \times g78 + g88) \times GMP)$  where P is female and neither married nor a civil partner at the date of leaving the relevant schemes.

(2) For the purpose of the calculations in paragraph (1)—

Delayed payments

77. When the transfer payment is, without good reason, not made within 6 months of the relevant date, the transfer payment is the greater of—

- (a) the value of the cash equivalent as at the relevant date increased with interest on a daily basis over the period from the relevant date to the date of payment at the rate set out in regulation 10(2) of the Occupational Pension Schemes (Transfer Values) Regulations 1996(c) or, in relation to Northern Ireland, regulation 10(2) of the Occupational Pension Schemes (Transfer Values) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1996(d), as amended from time to time; and

Calculation of market level adjustment

78.—(1) For the purposes of regulations 76 and 88 the market level adjustment is the figure calculated in accordance with the formula—

$$A \times B + (1 - A) \times C$$ rounded up to four decimal places, where—

- (a) A is the decimal part of the yield on index-linked stocks;
- (b) B is the adjustment factor set out in Table 1 in the row relating to P's age last birthday as at the relevant date and in the column headed by the full percentage figure immediately above the percentage figure for the yield on index-linked stocks; and
- (c) C is the adjustment factor set out in Table 1 which is in the row relating to P's age last birthday as at the relevant date and which appears in the column headed by the full percentage figure which is equal to or immediately below the percentage figure for the yield on index linked stocks.

(2) In this regulation “the yield on index-linked stocks” means the real yield to redemption on the Financial Times-Actuaries Index of index-linked Government securities with 5 or more years to redemption assuming 5% inflation, in respect of the first working day of the month in which the relevant date falls as published in the Financial Times.

Time within which option must be exercised

79.—(1) P may only exercise the option on or before the last option date.

(2) The last option date is the later of—

- (a) the date which falls one year before the date on which P reaches normal pension age;
- (b) the last day of the period of 6 months beginning with the day after P's last day of reckonable service.

(3) P loses the right to any cash equivalent under this Chapter if—

- (a) P's pension under these Regulations becomes payable before P reaches normal pension age; or
- (b) P fails to exercise the option on or before the last option date.

Option to be exercised in writing

80.—(1) P may only exercise the option by making an application in writing to the administrators for submission to the Treasury.

(2) If the Treasury receive an application under this regulation, the Treasury must do what is needed to comply with the choice made by P in exercising the option—

- (a) within 12 months of the date on which it receives P's application, or
- (b) no later than the date on which P attains normal pension age, whichever is earlier.

Options: discharge of responsibility

81. In any case where—

- (a) P has exercised the option, and
- (b) the Treasury have done what is needed to comply with the choice made by P in exercising the option, the Treasury are discharged from any obligation to provide benefits to which the cash equivalent related.

Cancellation of exercise of option

82.—(1) P may cancel the exercise of the option by giving the Treasury notice in writing that P no longer wishes it to be exercised.

(2) A notice given under paragraph (1) does not have effect if it is given to the Treasury at a time when, in order to comply with the choice made by P in exercising the option, the Treasury have entered into an agreement with a third party to use the whole or part of P's cash equivalent in a way specified in regulation 74(2).

(3) The cancellation of the exercise of an option by P under paragraph (1) does not affect P's right to make another application under regulation 80.

CHAPTER 3

TRANSFERS IN

Application of Chapter and interpretation

83.—(1) This Chapter applies in relation to P if—

Manner of accepting payment

86. Payments into the principal scheme must be made directly from the trustees or administrators of the registered pension scheme and in no other manner.

Benefits to be provided

(2) In this regulation—

- (a) the guaranteed minimum pension used in the calculations is that provided by the Department for Work and Pensions, or, in relation to Northern Ireland, the Department for Communities which corresponds to the application of revaluation orders under section 148 of the Social Security Administration Act 1992(a) or section 130 of the Social Security Administration (Northern Ireland) Act 1992(b);

(3) The additional pension in respect of a transfer payment is to be calculated in accordance with the formula—

- (a)  $\left( \frac{TP}{MLA} + (2 \times g78 + g88) \times GMP \right) \div (PF + 2.25 \times L + 0.5 \times SF1)$  where P is married or a civil partner at the relevant date; or
- (b)  $\left( \frac{TP}{MLA} - (g78 + 2 \times g88) \times SF2 + (2 \times g78 + g88) \times GMP \right) \div (PF + 2.25 \times L + 0.5 \times SF1)$  where P is male and neither married nor a civil partner at the relevant date; or
- (c)  $\left( \frac{TP}{MLA} - g88 \times SF2 + (2 \times g78 + g88) \times GMP \right) \div (PF + 2.25 \times L + 0.5 \times SF1)$  where P is female and neither married nor a civil partner at the relevant date.

(5) The lump sum payable under regulation 25 in respect of the transfer payment is  $2.25 \times$  the additional pension.

(6) The surviving adult's pension payable under regulation 36 in respect of the transfer payment is  $0.5 \times$  the additional pension.

(7) The children's pension payable under regulation 42 in respect of the transfer payment bears the same proportion to the additional pension as the rate of the children's pension payable under that regulation under the principal scheme bears to the rate of the P's pension under that scheme as set out in regulation 43.

Refusal to accept

89. Where the additional pension available to be transferred into the scheme is less than twice the aggregate accrued annual rate of the guaranteed minimum pension (if any) of P at the relevant date, the transfer payment must be rejected by the administrators.

(2) Where the authorised provider offers more than one type of investment the JAVC member must elect that those sums be paid into particular types of investments.

(3) The administrators are not required to give effect to an election made under paragraph (2) if it is not reasonably practicable to do so.

(4) The investments made in respect of a JAVC member with the authorised provider may be realised and reinvested with the authorised provider at the request of the JAVC member, in such amounts, at such times, and in such manner as may be specified by the administrators with the approval of the authorised provider.

(5) The administrators may require an authorised provider to surrender the whole or part of the value of the sums referred to in paragraph (1).

(6) The administrators must re-invest a sum surrendered under paragraph (5) in accordance with paragraph (1).

Benefits which may be provided

98.—(1) A JAVC member is entitled to the benefits attributable to the scheme assets.

(2) The administrators must provide only benefits authorised by or under Chapter 3 of Part 4 of the 2004 Act.

(3) Where the JAVC member wishes, from time to time, to take benefits under this scheme the member must give notice in writing to the administrators.

(4) A notice under paragraph (3) must specify—

- (a) the proportion of the JAVC member's benefits referred to in paragraph (1) to which the notice relates;

(a) Amended by paragraph 36 of Schedule 10 to the Finance Act 2005 (c.7), paragraph 66(a) and (b) of Schedule 16 to the Finance Act 2011 (c.11), section 53(3), (4), (5), (6) and (7), of the Finance Act 2013 (c.29), paragraph 92 of Schedule 1 and paragraph 23(a) of Schedule 7 to the Finance Act 2014 (c.26), and paragraphs 8 and 92 of Schedule 1 and paragraph 4 of Schedule 2 to the Taxation of Pensions Act 2014 (c. 30).

- (b) the JAVC member's preference as to the benefits to be provided under paragraph (2) in relation to that proportion; and
- (c) if the JAVC member wishes a combination of benefits to be provided, what proportion of the JAVC member's benefits the member wishes to be allocated to each type of benefit.

Death

99.—(1) Where a JAVC member dies, any lump sum payable to that JAVC member under the JAVC scheme must be paid to the person (if any) nominated by that JAVC member for the purposes of this paragraph by notice in writing to the administrators.

(2) If no such nomination is made, the administrators must pay the amount payable to the personal representatives of the JAVC member.

Transfers out

100.—(1) A JAVC member may cease to be a member of the JAVC scheme in relation to all or part of the scheme assets at any time before those benefits are provided under regulation 98.

(2) Subject to Chapters 1 and 2 of Part 4ZA of the Pension Schemes Act 1993(a), or Chapters 1 and 2 of Part 4ZA of the Pension Schemes (Northern Ireland) Act 1993(b), the JAVC member must, on leaving the JAVC scheme, request the administrators (in such manner as may be specified by the administrators) to take one or more of the following actions—

- (a) to transfer all or part of the JAVC member's scheme assets to any other registered pension scheme or a qualifying recognised overseas pension scheme in which the JAVC member may be participating (provided that the other pension scheme is willing and able to accept such a transfer value);
- (b) to use all or part of the value of the JAVC member's scheme assets to purchase one or more insurance policies of the type described in section 95(2)(c) of the Pension Schemes Act 1993(c) or section 91(2)(c) of the Pension Schemes (Northern Ireland) Act 1993;
- (c) if the JAVC member's reckonable service, together with any service whilst a member of another registered pension scheme or a qualifying recognised overseas pension scheme from which a transfer value has been paid to the JAVC scheme is less than 2 years, to pay the JAVC member the value of the JAVC member's scheme assets;
- (d) to use all or part of the JAVC member's scheme assets in any other way which is not an unauthorised payment within the meaning of section 160(5) of the 2004 Act(d).

Tax

101. Whenever the appropriate Minister is liable for any tax in respect of any payment made to any person under this Part, the administrators must deduct sums equal in total to such tax out of the realisable value of any investments made by the authorised provider with the JAVC member's scheme contributions under regulation 94 and any transfer payment accepted under regulation 96.

Administrative expenses

102. Any administrative expenses incurred by an authorised provider by virtue of acting as such under this Part may be defrayed, to the extent agreed by the administrators, out of the realisable

“active FPJAYS member” means an FPJAYS member who is an active member of the principal scheme;

“equivalent value of any retained benefits” means a period of time expressed in years and any fraction of a year determined by the FPJAYS actuary to represent the value of any retained benefits;

“FPJAYS” is the scheme constituted by this part of the Regulations;

“FPJAYS actuary” means the actuary appointed by the appropriate Minister under paragraph (2) of this regulation;

“FPJAYS member” means a member of the FPJAYS;

“judicial pension scheme” means the scheme constituted by the Judicial Pensions Regulations 2015(a), or any scheme constituted by the 1995 Regulations;

“retained benefits” are benefits determined by the administrators as satisfying the definition of that expression for the purposes of the 1995 Regulations as those Regulations were first in force;

(2) The appropriate Minister must appoint an actuary who appears to the Minister to be appropriately qualified to act as the FPJAYS actuary for the purposes of this Part.

Membership

104.—(1) Membership of the FPJAYS is open to active and retired members of the principal scheme (but not to opted-out members) who held an eligible fee-paid judicial office before 6th April 2006.

(2) A person to whom membership of the FPJAYS is open may become an FPJAYS member by giving notice in writing to the administrators within 12 months of the commencement day (or by such later date as the administrators may agree).

(3) Subject to the provisions of this Part, an FPJAYS member has the right to purchase pension credits in the form of added years.

Assumed dates etc

105.—(1) For the purposes of this Part, an FPJAYS member must nominate a date (“the assumed contribution commencement date”) from which contributions are assumed to have been payable by the member in relation to those credits.

(2) The date nominated under paragraph (1) must be no earlier than the date on which the FPJAYS member first held an eligible fee-paid judicial office and in any event must be between 7th April 2000 and 5th April 2006.

(3) For the purposes of this Part, an active FPJAYS member must nominate an age between the age of 60 and the member’s compulsory retirement age at which that member intends to retire (“the assumed retirement age”).

CHAPTER 2

RETIRED FPJAYS MEMBERS

Purchase of added years by retired FPJAYS members

106.—(1) A notice given under regulation 104(2) by a retired FPJAYS member (“R”) must specify—

- (a) R’s assumed contribution commencement date;
- (b) the date R retired; and
- (c) the number of added years R would like to purchase.

(2) The maximum number of added years that R may purchase under the FPJAYS is to be determined in accordance with the formula  $20 - (A + B + C)$  where—

- (a) A is the aggregate length of R’s reckonable service in eligible fee-paid judicial offices held by R;
- (b) B is the aggregate length of R’s service in qualifying judicial office (within the meaning of Part 1 of the Judicial Pensions and Retirement Act 1993); and
- (c) C is the equivalent value of any retained benefits to which R was entitled at the assumed contribution commencement date.

(3) Where the maximum number of added years would (apart from this paragraph) be negative, it is instead nil.

Contributions by retired FPJAYS members

107.—(1) The contribution to the FPJAYS for a retired FPJAYS member (“R”) must be made by lump sum payment to the administrators, within 12 months of the date on which R served notice under regulation 104(2).

(2) The total contribution to the FPJAYS which R must make is to be calculated in accordance with this regulation, subject to the limit on the level of contributions in regulation 108.

(3) Where on the date R retired, R had a spouse, civil partner or qualifying child, the contribution is to be determined in accordance with the formula—

where—

- (a) A is the relevant benefits figure (see paragraph (4));

- (b) B is the amount of reckonable service which R accrued in the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the date on which R retired, calculated in accordance with regulation 5(1) as though paragraph (2) of that regulation does not apply;
- (c) C is the total of the fees paid to R in respect of qualifying fee-paid days in the period referred to in B;
- (d) D is the number of added years R would like to purchase.

(4) The relevant benefits figure is determined by taking the following steps—

Step 1

Use the salary which would have been R’s appropriate annual salary on the assumed contribution commencement date (or if R held more than one eligible fee-paid judicial office on that date, the salary which would have been the highest appropriate annual salary) if R had retired on that date to determine which is the applicable salary group for R specified in Table 1.

Step 2

From the part of Table 1 for R’s salary group, determine which entry in column 1 describes the period referred to in B (ignoring the heading of the column).

Step 3

Add together the personal benefits and family benefits percentage figures corresponding to the entry in column 1 referred to in Step 2.

(5) Where R did not have a spouse, civil partner or qualifying child at any point in the period beginning with R’s assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the date R retired, the contribution is to be determined in accordance with paragraphs (3) and (4) as if Step 3 were—“Use the personal benefits figure corresponding to the entry in column 1 referred to in Step 2”.

(6) Where R did not have a spouse, civil partner or qualifying child on the date on which R retired, but did at some point in the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the date R retired, the contribution due is to be determined in accordance with the formula  $E + F$  where—

- (a) E is the contribution for the period beginning with R’s assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the date on which R last had a spouse, civil partner or qualifying child, determined in accordance with paragraphs (3) and (4), as if in paragraph (3)(c), “C” refers to the total of fees paid to R in respect of qualifying fee-paid days in that period;
- (b) F is the contribution for the period beginning with the day after the date R last had a spouse, civil partner or qualifying child (“the start date”) and ending with the date R retired, determined in accordance with paragraph (5) as if the period referred to in paragraph (3)(c) as applied in paragraph (5) started on the start date.

Retired FPJAYS members: maximum contributions

108.—(1) The total contributions made by a retired FPJAYS member (“R”) under regulation 107 may not exceed the amount which is equal to the sum of the amounts determined for each tax year during the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the date on which R retired in accordance with the following formula—

where—

- (a) FI is R’s annual fee income for the tax year in question which is subject to income tax, or if lower, the permitted maximum for that tax year, and

- (b) C is the sum of any contributions made by R to any other judicial pension scheme in that tax year, excluding any contributions made by the member in accordance with regulation 3 of the Judicial Pensions (Contributions) Regulations 2012(a).

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(a), R's "annual fee income" is the total of the fees paid to R in respect of qualifying fee-paid days in the tax year concerned.

Valuation of benefits for retired FPJAYS members

109.—(1) Any pension credits in the form of added years that have been purchased by a retired FPJAYS member ("R") are to be treated for the purposes of paragraph (2) as if they were periods of reckonable service.

(2) If the addition of the years of reckonable service mentioned in paragraph (1) would, were they to be years of reckonable service accrued other than by the purchase of pension credits, lead to the payment of additional payments under the principal scheme, then benefits of an equivalent nature to those that would have been so payable under that scheme are to be paid under the FPJAYS instead.

(3) If the reckonable service which R accrued in the period between the assumed contribution date and the date on which R retired otherwise than by the purchase of pension credits ("R's existing reckonable service") includes reckonable service in two or more eligible judicial offices which R held simultaneously, the pension credits purchased by R shall be divided between the eligible fee paid offices held by R in that period in the same proportion as R's existing reckonable service.

CHAPTER 3

ACTIVE FPJAYS MEMBERS

Purchase of added years by active FPJAYS members

110.—(1) A notice given by an active FPJAYS member ("M") under regulation 104(2) must specify—

- (a) M's assumed contribution commencement date;
- (b) M's assumed retirement age;
- (c) the number of qualifying fee-paid days which M proposes to work each year to the period ending with the date on which M reaches M's assumed retirement age; and
- (d) the number of added years M intends to purchase.

(2) The date on which M is to start payment of periodic contributions ("the periodic contributions start date") must—

- (a) be within 12 months of the date on which M gives the notice, and
- (b) be agreed between M and the administrators.

(3) The maximum number of added years that M may purchase under the FPJAYS is to be determined in accordance with the formula  $20 - (A + B + C)$  where—

- (a) A is the aggregate length of reckonable service in eligible fee-paid judicial offices that M would have at M's assumed retirement date, assuming that M works the number of qualifying fee-paid days notified under paragraph (1)(c);
- (b) B is the aggregate length of service in qualifying judicial office (within the meaning of Part 1 of the Judicial Pensions and Retirement Act 1993) that M would have at M's assumed retirement date; and
- (c) C is the equivalent value of any retained benefits to which M was entitled at the assumed contribution commencement date.

(a) S.I. 2012/516. Regulation 3 was substituted by S.I. 2016/30.

(4) Where the maximum number of added years would (apart from this paragraph) be negative, it is instead nil.

Contributions by active FPJAYS members

111.—(1) The cost for an active FPJAYS member (“M”) of purchasing each added year is to be determined in accordance with the formula—

$$\frac{A}{100} \times B$$

- (a) A is the relevant benefits figure (see paragraph (2));
  - (b) B is the salary which would have been M’s appropriate annual salary on the assumed contribution commencement date if M had retired on that date.
- (2) The relevant benefits figure is calculated by taking the following steps—

Step 1

Use the salary that would have been M’s appropriate annual salary on the assumed contribution commencement date, if M had retired on that date, to determine which is the applicable salary group for M specified in Table 1;

Step 2

In the part of Table 1 for M’s salary group, determine which entry in column 1 describes the period expressed in years and any fraction of a year beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with M’s assumed retirement date (ignoring the heading of that column);

Step 3

Add together the personal benefits and family benefits percentage figures which correspond to the entry in column 1 referred to in Step 2.

- (3) M may make contributions to purchase added years by way of—
- (a) up to three lump sum payments, made within three years beginning with the date on which M gave notice under regulation 104(2) (but no more than one lump sum payment may be made in each calendar year), in respect of any contributions relating to the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the day before the periodic contributions start date; and
  - (b) periodic deductions from fees, which commence on the periodic contributions start date, in relation to contributions relating to the period beginning with the periodic contributions start date and ending with M’s assumed retirement date.
- (4) The aggregate amount of the lump sum payments M may make under paragraph (3)(a) is the smaller of—
- (a) the amount equal to the sum of the amounts determined for each tax year during the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the day before the periodic contributions start date in accordance with the following formula—

where—

- (i) FI is M’s annual fee income for the tax year in question which is subject to income tax, or if lower, the permitted maximum for that tax year, and
- (ii) C is the sum of any contributions made by M to any other judicial pension scheme in that tax year, excluding any contributions made by the member in accordance with regulation 3 of the Judicial Pensions (Contributions) Regulations 2012; and

(b) the amount determined in accordance with the formula—

where—

- (i) C is the cost of one added year, determined in accordance with paragraph (1),
- (ii) D is the number of added years which M has notified to the administrators under regulation 110(1)(c) that M intends to purchase,
- (iii) E is the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with M's assumed retirement date, expressed in years and any fraction of a year,
- (iv) F is the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the day before the periodic contributions start date, expressed in years and any fraction of a year.

(5) M's "annual fee income" for the purposes of paragraph (4)(a)(i), is the total of the fees paid to M in respect of qualifying fee-paid days in the tax year concerned.

(6) The maximum aggregate amount of periodic contributions M may make under paragraph (3)(b) is calculated in accordance with the formula—

where—

- (a) C is the cost of one added year, determined in accordance with paragraph (1);
  - (b) D is the number of added years which M has specified M intends to purchase;
  - (c) E is the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with M's assumed retirement date, expressed in years and any fraction of a year;
  - (d) F is the period beginning with the periodic contributions start date and ending with M's assumed retirement date, expressed in years and any fraction of a year;
  - (e) X is the difference between the maximum amount which M could have contributed under paragraph (3)(a) and the amount M actually contributed under that provision.
- (7) The requirement to make periodic contributions to the FPJAYS continues until M—
- (a) reaches the assumed retirement age;
  - (b) retires;
  - (c) notifies the administrators that M wishes the contributions to cease; or
  - (d) dies.

Valuation of benefits for active FPJAYS members

112.—(1) If an active FPJAYS member ("M") retires or otherwise leaves the principal scheme on or after reaching the assumed retirement age the administrators must—

- (a) calculate the amount of added years that M has purchased, by dividing the total contributions made by M under regulation 111(3) by the cost of an added year as determined under regulation 111(1); and
- (b) notify M of that amount.

(2) Any pension credits in the form of added years that have been purchased by or credited to M are to be treated for the purposes of paragraph (3) as if they were years of reckonable service.

(3) If the addition of the years of reckonable service mentioned in paragraph (2) would, were they to be years of reckonable service accrued other than by the purchase or credit of pension credits, lead to the payment of additional payments under the principal scheme, then benefits of an equivalent nature to those that would have been so payable under that scheme are to be paid under the FPJAYS instead.

(4) If M retires on the ground of ill-health or dies before the assumed retirement age, M must, for the purposes of calculating the benefits payable under paragraph (3), be credited with pension credits equivalent to the number of added years that M intended to purchase notified to the administrators by M under regulation 110(1)(c).

(5) Paragraph (4) does not apply during any period where M has ceased making periodic contributions.

(6) If M ceases to make periodic contributions M may apply to the administrators to resume making periodic contributions but any such application—

- (a) must not be accepted if M has reached the assumed retirement age;
- (b) must not result in M making contributions at a rate that is higher than the rate at which M was contributing before M ceased to pay periodic contributions; and
- (c) must be accompanied by a declaration signed by M stating that M has no reason to believe that health may prevent continuation of service until the assumed retirement age.

(7) If M's application under paragraph (6) is accepted by the administrators, this regulation and regulations 111 and 113 apply separately to those contributions and the value of benefits purchased with them.

(8) If an application by M under paragraph (6) to resume making contributions has been accepted and M subsequently—

- (a) retires on the ground of ill-health or dies within 12 months of the date on which M started to pay periodic contributions again; or
- (b) dies or retires on the ground of ill-health because of an incapacity to which M became subject within 12 months of that date, paragraph (4) does not apply unless the administrators are satisfied that the declaration given in accordance with paragraph (6)(c) was made in good faith.

(9) If M ceases making periodic contributions before reaching assumed retirement age for reasons other than death or retirement on the ground of ill-health—

- (a) the administrators must—
  - (i) calculate the amount of added years that M has purchased by the date of cessation, by dividing the total contributions made by M under regulation 111(3) up to the date of cessation by the cost of an added year as determined under regulation 111(1), and
  - (ii) notify M of that amount; and
- (b) at the date of cessation M must be credited by the administrators with pension credits equivalent to the number of added years M has purchased, as calculated under subparagraph (a).

(10) For the purposes of this regulation, parts of added years purchased by M must be valued on a pro-rata basis.

Refund of contributions

113.—(1) If an active FPJAYS member ("M") who is paying periodic contributions under the FPJAYS is neither married nor a civil partner and has no qualifying children at the time M retires, dies or otherwise leaves the principal scheme, M, or M's estate, is entitled to a refund in accordance with this regulation.

(2) The amount to be refunded must be determined in accordance with the formula

$$(A \div 100) \times S \times \frac{B}{C} \times D \text{ where—}$$

- (a) A is the relevant family benefits percentage (see paragraph (3));

- (b) S is the salary that would have been M's appropriate annual salary on the assumed contribution commencement date if M had retired on that date ("the relevant salary");
- (c) B is the period beginning with the day after the date M last ceased to have a spouse or a civil partner or qualifying child and ending with the date M ceased to make contributions, expressed in years and any fraction of a year;
- (d) C is the period beginning with the assumed contribution date and ending with the date M ceased to make contributions, expressed in years and any fraction of a year;
- (e) D is the number of added years M has purchased, calculated in accordance with regulation 112(1).

(3) The relevant family benefits percentage is determined as follows—

Step 1

Use the relevant salary to determine which is the applicable salary group for M specified in Table 1.

Step 2

In the part of Table 1 for M's salary group, determine which entry in column 1 describes the period mentioned in paragraph (2)(d) (ignoring the heading of that column).

Step 3

Use the family benefits percentage figure which corresponds to the entry in column 1 referred to in step 2.

(4) If M's total contributions to the FPJAYS exceed the smaller of—

- (a) the amount necessary to purchase the number of added years notified to the administrators by the member under regulation 110(1)(c); and
- (b) the amount necessary to purchase the maximum number of added years permissible under regulation 110(3) (calculated on the basis that the assumed retirement date referred to in that paragraph is M's actual retirement date),

M is entitled to a refund of the excess contributions.

(5) Where a refund is payable under this regulation, it must be paid together with compound interest at the rate announced annually in relation to the Principal Civil Service Pension Scheme.

CHAPTER 4

GENERAL

Limit on children's pension benefits

114. Any benefits that are paid under the FPJAYS in the form of a children's pension under regulation 42 cease to be payable on the date that the recipient attains the age of 23.

Reduction of benefits

115.—(1) This regulation applies where the administrators of the FPJAYS pay the whole or any part of the lifetime allowance charge arising on a benefit crystallisation event relating to the FPJAYS in relation to a FPJAYS member.

(2) The pensions or other benefits payable under this Part to or in respect of the FPJAYS member may (notwithstanding any other provision of these Regulations) be reduced by such amount as, in accordance with normal actuarial practice, reflects the amount of the payments made.

CHAPTER 2
RETIRED JASAPS MEMBERS

Notice to purchase added surviving adult's pension by retired JASAPS members

119.—(1) A notice given under regulation 117(2) by a retired JASAPS member (“R”) must specify—

- (a) R’s assumed contribution commencement date;
- (b) the date on which R retired; and
- (c) the number of units of added surviving adult’s pension which R would like to purchase.

(2) The maximum number of units of added surviving adult’s pension R may purchase is the number determined by the administrators which, after added years under Part 13 are taken into account, would provide a pension under these Regulations equal to a sum calculated in accordance with the formula—

$$\frac{A \times Y}{45}$$

where—

- (a) A is—
  - (i) where P held a single judicial office immediately before retirement, the appropriate annual salary of that judicial office;
  - (ii) where P held more than one judicial office immediately before retirement, the highest appropriate annual salary of those offices, and
- (b) Y is R’s reckonable service on the date R retired.

Cost of added surviving adult's pension for retired JASAPS members

120.—(1) If the date on which a retired JASAPS member (“R”) retired fell on R’s birthday, the contribution payable by R for each unit of £1,000 of added surviving adult’s pension is to be determined in accordance with the formula  $A \times 12$  where A is determined by taking the following steps—

Step 1

In Table 2 treat—

- (i) the reference to the age last birthday at the date of commencement of contributions as a reference to R’s age last birthday on the assumed contribution commencement date, and
- (ii) the reference to the assumed retirement age as a reference to R’s age on the date R retired.

Step 2

Use Table 2 to work out A by reference to R’s age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date and R’s age on the date R retired.

(2) If R’s retirement date did not fall on R’s birthday, A is determined in accordance with the formula—

where—

- (a) X is determined by taking the following steps—

Step 1

In Table 2 treat the reference to age last birthday at the date of commencement of contributions as a reference to R's age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date.

Step 2

In Table 2 treat the reference to the assumed retirement age as a reference to R's age on R's last birthday before R retired.

Step 3

Use Table 2 to work out X by reference to R's age last birthday at the assumed contributions commencement date and R's age last birthday before R retired; and

- (b) Y is determined as follows—

Step 1

In Table 2 treat the reference to age last birthday at the date of commencement of contributions as a reference to R's age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date.

Step 2

In Table 2 treat the reference to the assumed retirement age as a reference to R's age on R's next birthday after R's actual retirement date.

Step 3

Use Table 2 to work out Y by reference to R's age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date and R's age on R's next birthday after R's actual retirement date; and

- (c) Z is the number of complete months between R's last birthday before R retired and the date on which R retired.

(3) The contribution payable by R for each part unit of added surviving adult's pension is to be the amount calculated in accordance with the preceding paragraphs multiplied by the appropriate decimal fraction.

Contributions by retired JASAPS members

121.—(1) The maximum contribution that may be made to the JASAPS by a retired JASAPS member ("R") is the smaller of—

- (a) the amount determined in accordance with the formula—

$$N \times C$$

where—

- (i) N is the maximum number of units which R is entitled to purchase under regulation 119(2), and
- (ii) C is the contribution payable by R for each unit of £1,000 of added surviving adult's pension under regulation 120(1) or 120(2).
- (b) the amount equal to the sum of the amounts determined for each tax year during the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the day on which R retired in accordance with the following formula—

where—

- (i) FI is R's annual fee income for the tax year in question which is subject to income tax, or if lower, the permitted maximum for that tax year, and

- (ii) C is the sum of any contributions made by R to any other judicial pension scheme (including voluntary contributions schemes) in that tax year, excluding any contributions made by the member in accordance with regulation 3 of the Judicial Pensions (Contributions) Regulations 2012(a).

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1)(b)(i), R's "annual fee income" is the total of the fees paid to R in respect of qualifying fee-paid days in the tax year concerned.

(3) Contributions to the JASAPS by R must be made by lump sum payment made by R to the administrators within 12 months from the date on which R served notice under regulation 117(2).

Valuation of benefits for retired JASAPS members

122.—(1) When a retired JASAPS member ("R") who has purchased added surviving adult's pension dies, R's surviving spouse or surviving civil partner is entitled to receive additional pension under the JASAPS.

(2) Such additional pension is payable at the same time and intervals and in the same manner as the surviving adult's pension under the principal scheme.

(4) Part units of added surviving adult's pension purchased by R are to be valued on a pro-rata basis.

CHAPTER 3

ACTIVE JASAPS MEMBERS

Purchase of added surviving adult's pension by active JASAPS members

123.—(1) A notice given under regulation 117(2) by an active JASAPS member ("M") must specify—

- (a) M's assumed contribution commencement date;
- (b) M's assumed retirement age;
- (c) the number of qualifying fee-paid days which M proposes to work each year to the period ending with the date on which M reaches M's assumed retirement age; and
- (d) the number of units of added surviving adult's pension which M intends to purchase.

(2) The maximum number of units which an active member may purchase in the JASAPS is the amount which the administrators determine would produce a pension equal to a sum calculated in accordance with the formula—

$$\frac{A \times (Y + Z)}{45}$$

where—

- (a) A is—
  - (i) where M held a single judicial office on the assumed contribution date, the salary which would have been M's appropriate annual salary if M had retired on that date;
  - (ii) where M held more than one judicial office on the assumed contribution date, the salary which would have the highest appropriate salary of these offices if M had retired on that date; and
- (b) Y is M's reckonable service between the date on which M first held eligible fee-paid judicial office (or 7th April 2000 if later) and date on which M reaches M's assumed retirement age (assuming that M works the number of qualifying fee-paid days notified under paragraph (1)(c)) expressed in years and fractions of a year to four decimal places;

(a) S.I. 2012/516. Regulation 3 was substituted by S.I. 2016/30.

(c) Z is—

- (i) if M is purchasing added years, the number of added years which M would have purchased by the date on which M reaches M's assumed retirement age, or
- (ii) if M is not purchasing added years, nil.

(3) The date on which M is to start payment of periodic contributions ("the periodic contributions start date") must—

- (a) be within 12 months of the date on which M gives the notice, and
- (b) be agreed between M and the administrators.

Cost of added surviving adult's pension by active JASAPS members

124.—(1) The contribution payable by an active JASAPS member ("M") for each unit of £1,000 of added surviving adult's pension is to be determined in accordance with the formula  $A \times 12$ .

(2) If M's assumed retirement date falls on M's birthday, A is determined as follows—

Step 1

In Table 2, treat the reference to the age last birthday at the date of commencement of contributions as a reference to M's age last birthday on the assumed contribution commencement date.

Step 2

Use Table 2 to work out A by reference to M's age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date and M's assumed retirement age.

(3) If M's assumed retirement date does not fall on M's birthday, A is determined in accordance with the formula—

where—

(a) X is determined as follows—

Step 1

In Table 2 treat the reference to the age last birthday at the date of commencement of contributions as a reference to M's age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date,

Step 2

In Table 2 treat the reference to the assumed retirement age as a reference to M's age last birthday before M's assumed retirement date,

Step 3

Use Table 2 to work out X by reference to M's age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date and M's age last birthday before M's assumed retirement date.

(b) Y is determined as follows—

Step 1

In Table 2 treat the reference to the age last birthday at the date of commencement of contributions as a reference to the age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date,

Step 2

In Table 2 treat the reference to the assumed retirement age as a reference to M's age next birthday after M's assumed retirement date,

Step 3

Use Table 2 to work out Y by reference to M's age last birthday at the assumed contribution commencement date and M's age next birthday after the assumed retirement date.

(c) Z is the number of complete months between M's last birthday before M's assumed retirement date and M's assumed retirement date.

(4) The contribution payable for a part unit of added surviving adult's pension is to be the amount determined in accordance with the preceding paragraphs multiplied by the appropriate decimal fraction.

Contributions by active JASAPS members

125.—(1) An active JASAPS member ("M") may purchase added surviving adult pension by way of—

(a) up to three lump sum payments, made within three years beginning with the date on which M gave notice under regulation 117(2) (but no more than one lump sum payment may be made in one calendar year), in respect of contributions relating to the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the day before the periodic contributions start date; and

(b) periodic deductions from fees, beginning on the periodic contributions start date, in relation to contributions relating to the period beginning with that date and ending with M's assumed retirement date.

(2) The aggregate amount of lump sum payments which M may make under paragraph (1)(a) is the smaller of—

(a) the amount equal to the sum of the amounts determined for each tax year during the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the day before the periodic contributions start date in accordance with the formula—

where—

(i) FI is M's annual fee income for the tax year in question which is subject to income tax, or if lower, the permitted maximum for that tax year, and

(ii) C is the sum of any contributions made by M to any other judicial pension scheme (including voluntary contributions schemes) in that tax year, excluding any contributions made by the member in accordance with regulation 3 of the Judicial Pensions (Contributions) Regulations 2012; and

(b) the amount calculated in accordance with the formula—

where—

(i) C is the cost of one unit of added surviving adult's pension (an "added unit"), determined in accordance with regulation 124(1);

(ii) D is the number of added units which M has notified to the administrators under regulation 123(1)(c);

(iii) E is the period between the assumed contribution commencement date and M's assumed retirement date, expressed in years and any fraction of a year;

(iv) F is the period beginning with the assumed contribution commencement date and ending with the day before the periodic contributions start date, expressed in years and any fraction of a year.

(3) For the purposes of paragraph (2)(a)(i), M's "annual fee income" is the total of the fees paid to M in respect of qualifying fee-paid days in the tax year concerned

(4) The maximum aggregate amount of periodic contributions M may make under paragraph (1)(b) is calculated in accordance with the formula—

where—

- (a) C is the cost of one added unit, determined in accordance with regulation 124(1);
- (b) D is the number of added units which M has notified to the administrators under regulation 123(1)(c);
- (c) E is the period between the assumed contribution commencement date and M's assumed retirement date, expressed in years and any fraction of a year;
- (d) F is the period beginning with the periodic contributions start date and ending with M's assumed retirement date, expressed in years and fraction of a year;
- (e) X is the difference between the maximum amount which M could have contributed under paragraph (2) and the amount M actually contributed under that paragraph.

(5) M may only make periodic contributions to the JASAPS during any period when M has a spouse or civil partner to whom benefits could be paid under the JASAPS.

Valuation of benefits for active JASAPS members

126.—(1) When an active JASAPS member ("M") who has purchased units of added surviving adult's pension dies, M's surviving spouse or surviving civil partner is entitled to receive additional pension under the JASAPS.

(2) When M dies, the administrators must calculate the number of units of added surviving adult's pension M has purchased by dividing the total contributions made by M under regulation 125(1) by the cost of a unit of added surviving adult's pension determined under regulation 124(1), and notify the surviving spouse or civil partner of that amount.

(3) The annual amount of additional pension per unit is £1,000.

(4) Added surviving adult's pension is payable at the same times and intervals and in the same manner as the surviving adult's pension under the principal scheme.

(5) If M retires on the ground of ill-health or dies before the assumed retirement age, M is to be credited with the number of units of added surviving adult's pension notified to the administrators by M under regulation 123(1)(c).

(6) Paragraph (5) does not apply during any period where M has ceased making periodic contributions.

(7) If M ceases to make periodic contributions M may apply to the administrators to make periodic contributions again but any application to start to make periodic contributions again—

- (a) may not be accepted if M has reached the assumed retirement age;
- (b) may not result in M purchasing more added units than were being purchased before M ceased to pay periodic contributions; and
- (c) must be accompanied by a declaration signed by M stating that M has no reason to believe that health may prevent continuation of service until the assumed retirement age.

(8) If M's application under paragraph (7) is accepted by the administrators, this Chapter applies separately to those contributions and the value of the surviving adult's pension purchased with them.

(9) If an application by M under paragraph (7) to resume making contributions has been accepted and M subsequently—

- (a) retires on the ground of ill-health or dies within 12 months of the date of starting to make periodic contributions again, or
- (b) dies or retires on the ground of ill-health because of an incapacity which M became subject to within 12 months of that date, paragraph (5) does not apply unless the administrators are satisfied that the declaration given in accordance with paragraph (7)(c) was made in good faith.

(10) If M ceases making periodic contributions before reaching assumed retirement age for reasons other than death or retirement on the ground of ill-health—

- (a) then the administrators must—
  - (i) calculate the amount of units of added surviving adult’s pension (“added units”) that M has purchased by the date of cessation, by dividing the total contributions made by M under regulation 125(1) up to the date of cessation by the cost of an added unit as determined under regulation 124(1);
  - (ii) notify M of that amount, and
- (b) at the date of cessation M must be credited with the number of added units of benefit calculated under sub-paragraph (a).

(11) For the purposes of this regulation, part units of added surviving adult’s pension purchased by a member must be valued on a pro-rata basis.

Refund of contributions

127. If M’s total contributions exceed the amount necessary to purchase the smaller of—

- (a) the amount of added surviving adult’s pension notified to the administrators by M under regulation 123(1)(c), or
- (b) the maximum amount of added surviving adult’s pension permissible under regulation 123(2), the administrators must refund the excess contributions to M’s estate.

CHAPTER 4

GENERAL

Reduction of benefits

128.—(1) This regulation applies where the administrators pay the whole or any part of the lifetime allowance charge arising on a benefit crystallisation event relating to the JASAPS in relation to a JASAPS member.

(2) The pensions or other benefits payable under this Part to or in respect of the JASAPS member may (notwithstanding any other provision of these Regulations) be reduced by such amount as, in accordance with normal actuarial practice, reflects the amount of the payments made.

PART 15

APPEALS

Appeals

129.—(1) If any person to whom this regulation applies is aggrieved by any decision of the administrators concerning—

- (a) the interpretation of the provisions of the 2017 schemes; or
- (b) the exercise of any discretion under the 2017 schemes, that person has a right of appeal to the appropriate Minister against that decision.

(2) On deciding an appeal under this regulation, the appropriate Minister may give to the administrators such directions as the appropriate Minister considers appropriate or expedient for implementing the decision.

(3) The administrators are entitled to appear and be heard on any appeal under this regulation.

(4) The persons to whom this regulation applies are the following—

- (a) a member of the principal scheme;
- (b) the surviving adult in relation to a deceased member;
- (c) the eligible child in relation to a deceased member;
- (d) where the decision relates to the question whether a person who claims to be a person mentioned in sub-paragraph (a), (b) or (c) is such a person, the person making that claim.

(5) In regulation 3 of the Judicial Pensions (Appeals) Regulations 1995(a) (application of regulations), after paragraph (i) insert—

“(j) regulation 129 of the Judicial Pensions (Fee-Paid Judges) Regulations 2017;”.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

These Regulations make provision for a pension scheme for the benefit of those people who have held an eligible fee-paid judicial office in the period between 7th April 2000 and 31st March 2015 (“the principal scheme”). The Regulations also establish the Fee-Paid Judicial Added Voluntary Contributions Scheme, the Fee-Paid Judicial Added Years Scheme and the Fee-paid Judicial Added Surviving Adult’s Pension Scheme to enable members of the principal scheme to pay voluntary contributions towards the costs of additional benefits under one or more of these additional schemes.

Part 1 (Preliminary matters: regulations 1 to 7) defines the main concepts used in these Regulations. In particular, “reckonable service”, which will determine the level of pension to which a fee-paid judge is entitled, is defined as the total number of qualifying fee-paid days the judge has worked in a fee-paid office, divided by the annual divisor specified in column 2 of the Schedule. This is subject to a maximum amount (provided for in regulation 5) of 20 years, less any other pensionable service to which the judge is entitled.

Part 2 (scheme membership: regulations 8 to 11) sets out who may be a member of the principal scheme and how a member of the scheme may opt out of it.

Part 3 (retirement benefits: regulations 12 to 26) provides for the benefits available under the principal scheme: a pension for life and a lump sum. It sets out how the annual rate of the pension is to be calculated. This will depend the age at which the judge retires, either voluntarily or on ill-health grounds (a judge who retires between the ages of 60 and 65 will be entitled to a reduced pension, and a judge who retires under the age of 60 will be entitled to a preserved pension). Where a judge retires due to ill-health the annual rate of their pension may be enhanced (see regulations 21 and 22). Provision is made for an ill-health certification condition (see regulation 23), and for the case where a judge retires and subsequently resumes judicial office (see regulation 26).

Part 4 (partial retirement: regulations 27 to 28) sets out how the provisions on retirement benefits will apply where a judge ceases to hold an eligible fee-paid judicial office and is immediately appointed to another judicial office, or a judge who holds more than one eligible fee-paid offices ceases to hold one of them.

Part 5 (benefits for persons entitled to pension credits: regulations 29 to 34) gives effect to pension credits created when a pension sharing order is made under Part 4 of the Welfare Reform and Pensions Act 1999 or the Welfare Reform and Pensions (Northern Ireland) Order 1999 following the end of a marriage or civil partnership in relation to rights of a member of the principal scheme. It sets out what benefits will be received by the beneficiary of such a pension sharing order.

Part 6 (death benefits: regulations 35 to 47) makes provision for the benefits which will be received by the surviving spouse or civil partner of a fee-paid judge who is a member of the principal scheme following the death of the judge. They also provide for the benefits which will be received in respect of a child if the judge dies.

Part 7 (benefits in respect of periods before commencement: regulations 48 to 51) concerns the amounts due to fee-paid judges who retired or died before these Regulations came into force. It applies where a judge has received interim payments to provide benefits during that period, or where a judge would have received benefits if these Regulations were in force before the judge retired or died.

Part 8 (contributions for pre-commencement service: regulations 52 to 58) makes provision for the contributions which would have been due in relation to pre-commencement benefits, identifying those members who are liable to pay such contributions, and setting out how the amount of the contributions is to be calculated.

Part 9 (contributions for service on or after commencement day: regulations 59 to 64) provides for the contributions which must be paid from fees earned by fee-paid judges in relation to service after the commencement of these Regulations.

Part 10 (repayment of dependants' benefits contributions: regulations 65 to 69) provides for contributions paid by a fee-paid judge in respect of dependants' benefits to be repaid where the judge has not married, entered a civil partnership or had an eligible child. It also provides for repayment for any such contributions paid after a judge ceased to be married, in a civil partnership or to have an eligible child.

Part 11 (transfers: regulations 70 to 89) set out the circumstances in which a member of the principal scheme is entitled to take the cash equivalent of their benefits under the scheme and transfer them to another scheme, or transfer rights accrued under a registered pension scheme into the principal scheme.

Part 12 (judicial added voluntary contribution scheme: regulations 90 to 102) provide for a separate pension scheme into which a member may choose to make additional voluntary contributions in return for additional benefits. Membership of the scheme is only open to active members of the principal scheme.

Part 13 (fee-paid judicial added years scheme: regulations 103 to 115) provides for another pension scheme which enables members to purchase additional years which will increase the length of their reckonable service (and therefore the amount of their pension). Membership of the scheme is open to retired and active members of the principal scheme (but not members who have opted out of that scheme) who held a qualifying judicial office before 6th April 2006 (and were not contributing to any other registered pension scheme before the commencement day).

Part 14 (the fee-paid judicial added surviving adult's pension scheme: regulations 116 to 128) provides for another separate pension scheme, which just like the added years scheme, is open to members of the principal scheme who held qualifying judicial office before 6th April 2006. The scheme enables members to buy added units of surviving adult pension. Each unit adds £1,000 to the value of the pension the member's surviving spouse or civil partner would receive on the member's death.

Part 15 (appeals: regulation 129) provides for a right of appeal to the Minister against any decision concerning one of the schemes provided for in these Regulations.

An impact assessment has not been produced for this instrument as no significant impact on the costs of business or the voluntary sector is foreseen.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend the Judicial Pensions Regulations 2015 (S.I. 2015/182) (“the 2015 Regulations”).

Regulation 4 amends an error in regulation 1(3) of the 2015 Regulations.

Regulations 5(a), 7 to 14, 17(2)(a) and (c) to (g), (3), (4) and (7) to (17) and 18 make provision consequential upon the making of the Judicial Pensions (Fee-Paid Judges) Regulations 2017 (S.I.xxx) (“the 2017 Regulations”) in order to ensure that, where relevant, pensions calculated under the 2015 Regulations take account of a person’s service in the scheme established by the 2017 Regulations as they would take account of a person’s entitlements under the scheme established by the Judicial Pensions and Retirement Act 1993 (c. 8).

Regulation 5(b) corrects the definition of index adjustment to ensure that adjustment of the opening balance of a member’s pension account is made using the index adjustment for the year it followed.

Regulation 6 provides the Lord Chancellor with a power to determine the eligibility of the Scottish judicial offices of part-time sheriff, part-time stipendiary magistrate, part-time summary sheriff, and temporary judge to participate in the scheme. Regulations 15 and 16 remove negligence as a basis for forfeiture or set-off of pension while regulation 17(2)(b) and (e), (5) and (6) apply full and tapering protection to fee-paid judges who have subsequently been appointed to salaried office and meet the required age conditions.

Regulation 2(1) provides that regulation 5(b) has effect from the 1st April 2015. It also provides that regulations 2(2) and 17(2)(b), (5) and (6) (which provide for an extension of full and tapering protection as set out above) have effect from that date. As those aspects of regulation 17(2)(e) which also relate to this provision form part of a wider amendment which comes into force separately regulation 2(2) makes transitory provision which modifies the definition of “tapered protection member” until regulation 17(2)(e) comes into force. Regulation 2(3) and (4) ensures that the pension entitlements of, or in respect of, individuals who have already retired or died and who would have been a member of the scheme established by the 2017 Regulations if they had been in force are calculated in the same way as those who die or retire after the coming into force of these Regulations. Section 3(3)(b) of the Public Service Pensions Act 2013 (c. 25) permits scheme regulations to make retrospective provision.

An impact assessment has not been prepared for this instrument as no impact on the costs of business or the voluntary sector is foreseen.
