

The Independent Review of the Financial Reporting Council: Advisory Group

The Financial Reporting Council review is led by Sir John Kingman.

He is supported by an Advisory Group that will advise on the direction of the review and sources of evidence and will help to scrutinise and challenge emerging findings and recommendations.

The advisory group comprises:

- Lucinda Bell: Formerly CFO at British Land; Non-Executive Director and Audit Chair, Rotork plc; Non-Executive Director Crest Nicholson Holdings plc and Derwent London plc; Treasurer Citizens Advice
- Mark Burgess: Deputy Global Chief Investment Officer, and Chief Investment Officer EMEA, Columbia Threadneedle
- John Cridland: Chair, Transport for the North, leading the State Pension Age review; formerly Director-General, Confederation of British Industry (CBI)
- Amelia Fletcher: Professor of Competition Policy, University of East Anglia; Non-Executive Director, Financial Conduct Authority, Payment Systems Regulator, and Competition and Markets Authority
- Simon Fraser: Chair of F&C Investment Trust and the Investor Forum; Chairman of Fidelity Funds (SICAV) and The Merchants Trust plc, formerly Chief Investment Officer of Fidelity International Ltd
- Sir Peter Gershon: Chairman, National Grid plc; Chairman of the Aircraft Carrier Alliance and Chairman the Dreadnought Alliance, formerly Chair, Tate & Lyle plc
- Teresa Graham: Chair, Salix Finance, Chair, HMRC Administrative Burdens Advisory Board; Chair Lexi and Nomad Cinemas, previously Deputy Chair of the Government's Better Regulation Commission (BRC), and a Partner at accounting firm Baker Tilly (now RSM)
- Dame Mary Keegan: Former chair, Accounting Standards Board, previously partner at PwC, and HM Treasury's former Managing Director for Government Financial Management Development
- Nikhil Rathi: Chief Executive Officer, London Stock Exchange Plc at London Stock Exchange Group plc
- Anne Richards: Chief Executive Officer Fidelity International, formerly CEO at M&G Investments