The number and proportion of academies that have moved trust between 2013-14 and 2017-18

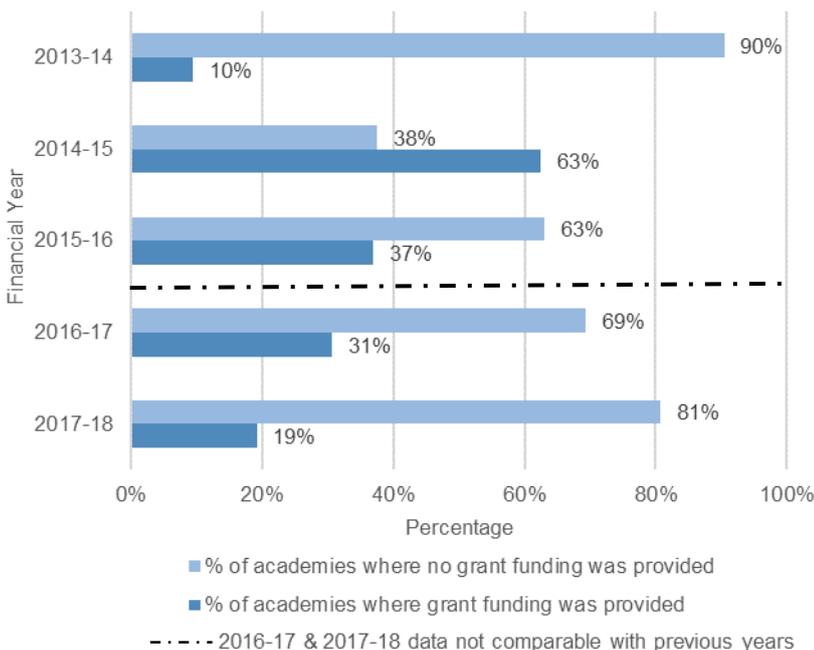

The total number of academies that have moved trust between financial years 2013-14 to 2017-18 was 628. The annual number of academies moving trust has increased from 21 academies in 2013-14, to 255 in 2017-18.

The proportion of academies that have moved trust over this time has increased from 0.5 per cent to 3.3 per cent of all open academies in England.

The percentage of academies moving trust with grant funding provided

Proportion of funding for academies moving trust between 2013-14 and 2017-18

Of the 628 academies that have moved trust between financial years 2013-14 to 2017-18, 185 (29%) have received a total grant funding of £22,892,700.00.

The proportion of academies moving trust and that have received grant funding has decreased from 31 per cent in 2016-17 to 19 per cent in 2017-18. Due to a break in the series, these figures cannot be compared to statistics for previous years.

A total of 255 academies moved trust in financial year 2017-18, 49 were provided with grant funding and 206 did not receive any grant funding.

About this release

This statistics publication provides information on the funding associated with the transfer of academies to a different academy trust or sponsor, whether this is initiated voluntarily by the academy or academy trust, or where the Regional School Commissioner has made a decision that this will be the best outcome for the academy. Grant funding is normally provided only in the latter scenario.

1. Number of academies moving trust

A total of 628 academies moved to a different academy trust between the five financial years 2013-14 to 2017-18. Of these, 185 (29%) received grant funding for the transfer.

The number of academies moving trust has increased from 21 in financial year 2013-14, to 255 in 2017-18. This represents an increase from 0.5% of all open academies in England in 2013-14, to 3.3% in 2017-18. More detail is available in Table 1 below.

2. Grant funding provided

In financial year 2013-14 grant funding of £566,000 was provided for academy transfers, this increased to over £4.2 million in financial year 2015-16. This increase in grant funding is driven by an increase in the number of academies transferring trust over these years.

In financial year 2016-17 total grant funding rose to £8.4 million, but decreased to about £5.7 million in 2017-18. However, the total number of academies transferring trust and receiving grant funding also decreased between the two years. More detail can be found in Table 2 overleaf.

The total grant funding provided to academies moving trust in financial years 2016-17 and 2017-18 are not comparable with earlier years due to differences in what it has been possible to include in the total costs compiled (see Technical Information).

It is not possible to calculate an average payment per financial year as some trusts can receive grant funding for an academy over several years.

5. Official Statistics

These are Official Statistics and have been produced in line with the Code of Practice for Official Statistics.

This can be broadly interpreted to mean that the statistics:

- meet identified user needs;
- are well explained and readily accessible;
- are produced according to sound methods, and
- are managed impartially and objectively in the public interest.

Once statistics have been designated as Official Statistics it is a statutory requirement that the Code of Practice shall continue to be observed.

The Department has a set of statistical policies in line with the Code of Practice for Official Statistics.

6. Technical information

An academy can change trust arrangements only with the agreement of the Regional Schools Commissioner (RSC) acting on behalf of the Secretary of State (prior to 2014 decisions were taken by the Secretary of State). The academy may apply to do so voluntarily – for example, a single academy may apply because it wants to benefit from the greater capacity and school improvement that is offered from being part of a multi-academy trust; or the transfer may be initiated by the RSC because of concerns about the performance of the academy or the academy trust responsible for it. The latter scenario is sometimes referred to as re-brokerage and is similar to intervention in local authority maintained schools, which sees them transformed into sponsored academies.

The sponsored academy process, which began in the early 2000s, is now well established. The first re-brokerage of an academy was carried out in 2012. Much like the early sponsored academies, funding for trust transfers was agreed on a case-by-case basis according to the particular circumstances and needs of the case.

However, as academies moving trust has become more systematically implemented, the process has changed to align more closely with that used for establishing sponsored academies. This includes establishing guidelines for grant funding so that it is applied to re-brokerage cases in a similar way to the grant funding that is applied to sponsored academy projects.

These changes were introduced in Autumn 2016.

The indicative grant funding levels are: a basic, fast track level (£70,000 primary, £80,000 secondary); an intermediate level (£90,000 primary, £110,000 secondary) and a full level (£110,000 primary, £150,000 secondary). The amounts of the awarded grant are typically offset against any surplus that will transfer with the academy to the new sponsor. The grants tend to be paid in one instalment rather than claimed annually, however on occasion some transfers will be paid in multiple instalments both before and after the academy is transferred to a new academy trust.

The data in this release has been compiled by the Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA) and the Academies Regional Delivery Group (ARDG) within the Department for Education (DfE). In the financial year 2016-17 budget responsibilities transferred from ESFA to the ARDG in the DfE. Legacy and current Management Information and Finance systems are used as well as ESFA and Academies Group documentation in compiling these statistics.

Academies will only be listed in this publication if the academy trust transfer has concluded during that financial year which is being reported on (i.e. when a new funding agreement has been issued concluding a re-brokerage). Therefore, in cases where trusts receive an advance payment ahead of the transfer concluding, the case will not be listed until it has concluded which could be in the next financial year. Where trusts receive payments over more than one year, the separate payments are shown in each financial year. This can mean that in future year's publications, revisions to the previous year's figures are highly likely.

Academies operate under a strict system of oversight and accountability and RSCs will require the new trusts to provide details on how the re-brokerage grant will be used and the impact that it is expected to have. They will monitor the academy's performance to ensure the necessary improvements are made and that value for money is achieved.

Academies may receive funding for transfer in the financial year that it joins a new trust or in the years pre or post a trust move, in this publication we are not including costs paid out to academies in 2017-18 which have not yet joined a new academy trust yet.

Following the publication of an ad-hoc statistical release in September 2017, a full data cleanse has been completed on management information relating to academies that have moved academy trust between financial years 2013-14 and 2016-17. Following this, some academies were excluded from the ad-hoc release which have now been included in this release, therefore numbers of academies moving trust will vary compared to the first publication.

Due to differences in the way data was recorded in legacy systems compared to the current system the grant funding for financial years 2013-2014, 2014-2015 and 2015- 2016 are not comparable with the grant funding in financial years 2016-2017 and 2017-2018. The grant funding included for each financial year are set out below:
