Independent sector places for the termination of pregnancy

The Secretary of State for Health and Social Care has a power under Section 1 (3) of the Abortion Act 1967, as amended, to approve places for the purpose of treatment for termination of pregnancy (abortion). All places operated by non-NHS bodies must be approved.

The Secretary of State will consider the approval of places for the purposes of section 1(3) of the Abortion Act 1967 if proprietors undertake to comply with:

- The requirements set out in regulations under the Health and Social Care Act 2008, and.
- The Department of Health’s Required Standard Operating Procedures (RSOPs) published in 2018, incorporating new guidance relating to the legal requirements of the Abortion Act

Approval is granted on the basis of provider’s declaration to comply with and maintain the standards required by the Secretary of State for Health in the RSOPs and confirmation that monitoring arrangements are in place to ensure that these requirements are met. Failure to comply with the requirements of the Abortion Act and associated regulations, the Health and Social Care Act 2008 and/or the RSOPs may lead to withdrawal of Secretary of State’s approval. All current approvals are now valid until the 31 July 2022.

As a matter of good practice, we have asked all providers to display a certificate of approval in a prominent position within the clinic/hospital. This will help and patients and clinicians better understand the licensing system.
