A GUIDE TO ELIGIBILITY FOR STANDARD CERTIFICATES FOR REGISTERED BODIES AND EMPLOYERS

This will help you work out whether you can legally request a standard DBS check for potential or existing staff.

It is important to make sure that the law allows a DBS application to be submitted. As an employer or regulator, and as a registered body, you have a legal responsibility to make sure you can submit applications. You also have a duty to know what parts of legislation support each application in case we need you to explain why eligibility exists. An individual cannot request a standard or enhanced DBS check for themselves and so as a registered body you must not submit applications from individuals where there is no employer to make the suitability decision.

Disclaimer: This is not legal advice. If you need help with making sure you are complying with the law, you should speak to a legal advisor.

Decisions on when and if to request a DBS check are for the employer or regulator to make based on what the law allows. This means considering the activities being carried out by the post-holder and if they are eligible for DBS checks. DBS provides an electronic eligibility tool which can help you with this.

It's important that you understand your legal responsibilities before you ask anyone to apply for or provide you with a standard or an enhanced DBS certificate.

The tables below list positions, professions, employments, activities, and licences that are eligible to be submitted for standard DBS checks. These have been taken from the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act (ROA) 1974 (Exceptions) Order 1975, as amended.

You can use the tables to find the entry that relates to the position or role you are recruiting or carrying out a recheck for. The hyperlinks under each entry will take you to the legislative wording.

If your position or role is not included here you can use the DBS workforce guides to find out if eligibility exists for an enhanced DBS certificate, including whether barred list checks are available. Some roles and types of work that are included in these tables may also be eligible for a higher check. We have indicated in the relevant sections if this is the case.

If your position or role is not covered by this guidance or the DBS workforce guides, you can still ask that a basic DBS check is provided by anyone wanting to be considered to work in the role.

Remember: Paper applications for standard DBS checks must also contain the relevant workforce on the application form.
