A GUIDE TO ADULT WORKFORCE ROLES FOR REGISTERED BODIES AND EMPLOYERS

This will help you identify whether the position you are recruiting for falls into the adult workforce and where you can legally request access to a check of the adults' barred list. These are roles which relate specifically to working with adults.

It is important to make sure that the law allows a DBS application to be submitted. As an employer or regulator, but also as a registered body, you have a legal responsibility for making sure you can submit applications and must know the legislation that supports each application in case we need further clarification. An individual cannot request a standard or enhanced level DBS check for themselves and so as a registered body you must not submit applications from individuals where there is no employer to make the suitability decision.

Disclaimer: This is not legal advice. If you need help with making sure you are complying with the law, you should speak to a legal advisor.

Standard and enhanced DBS checks can only be undertaken if the specific role, or the specific activities carried out within the role, are included in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act (ROA) 1974 (Exceptions) Order 1975 (access to standard DBS certificates), and are also covered by the Police Act 1997 or Police Act 1997 (Criminal Records) regulations (access to enhanced DBS certificates). These laws only provide eligibility for DBS checks, they do not make them a requirement.

Decisions on when and whether to undertake a DBS check are for the relevant employer or regulator to make based on what the law allows. It is not discretionary as such, but a matter of considering the nature of the activities undertaken and if they are eligible for DBS checks. DBS provides an electronic eligibility tool which can help you with this. The Police Act 1997 \(Criminal Records\) \(Amendment\) Regulations 2013/1194 (the legislative definition of work with adults) and the Department of Health \(DH\) factual note on the definition of regulated activity with adults will also help.

When you request a DBS certificate to assess someone to carry out regulated activity with adults this means that you are a regulated activity provider (RAP). This brings obligations under the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006.

As a RAP, you have a legal duty to refer an individual to DBS when you believe a person has caused harm or poses a future risk of harm to vulnerable groups, including children. You must also provide information to DBS when we ask you to and may be fined unless you have a reasonable excuse for not providing the information. The conditions you must consider before making a referral or providing information to us can be found on the DBS website.

An employer or volunteer manager is breaking the law if they knowingly employ someone in a regulated activity with a group from which they are barred from working.

A barred person is breaking the law if they seek, offer or engage in regulated activity with a group from which they are barred from working.
