Notes for Editors

1. In 1901 Frederick Horniman gave the Horniman Museum & Gardens as a free gift to the public for their recreation, instruction and enjoyment – this vision still remains central to the Horniman today. A blend of high quality collections spanning the natural, cultural and musical worlds; 16 acres of well-managed urban Gardens; community based educational and leisure programmes; and a wide range of exhibitions, performance events and activities provide an unrivalled opportunity to encounter and understand the richness and variety of the world in which we live. The Museum has recently obtained a grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund towards a £2.6m project to improve the Gardens, including linking them more closely with the collections and providing a building for educational activities related to the Gardens.
2. The post is not remunerated. Reasonable expenses can be claimed.
3. This appointment has been made in accordance with the Office of the Commissioner for Public Appointments' Code of Practice. Appointments are made on merit and political activity plays no part in the appointments process. Hilary Taylor has not undertaken any significant political activity during the last 5 years.
