Preparing for changes at the UK border if there's a no deal EU exit

Guidance for the automotive industry

English

What you need to know

Leaving the EU with a deal remains the Government's top priority and would give businesses stability and certainty to prepare for our new relationship after EU exit.

However, the government must plan for every possible outcome including no deal. Without a deal, businesses may need to take action.

Use this information to understand how leaving the EU may affect your business and what you can do to get ready.

Preparing for changes at the UK border if there's a no deal EU exit

What will change

At the UK border, there will be changes to UK-EU trade, including on:

- Customs, trade tariffs and VAT
- Document requirements
- Driving permits
- Controlled products

Actions to keep your goods moving across the border

Immediate actions

- Register for an EORI number
- Decide if you will handle new Customs and Safety and Security Declarations in-house or with a third-party
- Check if you are eligible for simplified customs procedure
- Check for updates on tariffs that apply to your goods, and consider using duty relief schemes
- Confirm if you need licences or certificates to bring your goods across the border
- Make sure drivers are aware of the documents they may need at the border
- Apply for UK vehicle type approval and check if you need to apply for certification to maintain your EC vehicle type approval

Recommended actions

- Discuss preparations with customers and suppliers, including responsibilities and Incoterms
- Tell your employees about changes to passport rules
