

Privacy Statement

This privacy notice provides information about our processing of personal information on Local Plan and Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) examinations in England.

Our published Procedure Guide for Local Plan Examinations provides detailed information about the plans process. It can be found here:

<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/local-plans>

Who are we?

We are the Planning Inspectorate, an agency sponsored by the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government.

Our Inspectors are appointed by the Secretary of State for Housing, Communities and Local Government to carry out an independent examination of local plans which have been submitted. For CILs, our Inspectors are appointed by the charging authority to examine their Charging Schedule.

How do we collect information?

Local authorities submit information to us in respect of their proposed plan and CIL– including the representations that they received on it. This information is sent to the Inspector.

During the examination, the Inspector will also hear oral representations from the parties and consider any further written representations that are accepted during that examination.

The local planning authority will provide a programme officer to support the Inspector, and representations are exchanged between the local authority and the Inspector through the programme officer

What type of information do we collect?

Typically, the personal information will be your name, address and contact details plus any other personal information (if any) that you provide in your representation.

How is that information used?

The Inspector will examine the information submitted and will provide a report to the local planning authority setting out their recommendations.

Those participating in a Local Plan and CIL should note that the representations they provide in respect of an examination are normally required to be made available and/or published by the local planning authority. The local planning authority is also required to publish the Inspector's report.

What is the legal basis for our processing of information?

Our processing of personal information on plans and CIL casework is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest. There are also explicit statutory/legal obligations that underpin the examination of plans and CIL casework.

Our processing of any special category data (if any is provided) is on a similar basis, being necessary for reasons of the substantial public interest in exercise of our official function of administering and determining cases.

What are the consequences of failing to provide your information?

There is no statutory obligation on an interested party to participate in a case.

How long do we keep your information?

We normally keep the documents submitted on the plan and CIL for a period of approximately 3 months following the local planning authority's decision as to whether they adopt their proposed plan.

We keep the Inspector's report for approximately 5 years.

Who do we share information with?

As set out above and in our casework guidance, representations received on the plan and CIL are exchanged with the local planning authority through the programme officer, and are made publicly available by the local planning authority. We may also provide information to our sponsor department.

We may use third party service providers to assist us in the provision of our service – for instance through the provision of information technology services. Where we do so, contracts will be put in place to ensure that your personal information is processed only as instructed by us (unless otherwise required by law), and that appropriate measures are in place to ensure the security of information.

Transfer of information overseas

We do not transfer your information outside of the EU.

Your rights in respect of your personal information

Data protection legislation provides you with rights in respect of your personal information. Typically these are:

- the right to be informed;
- the right of access;
- the right to rectification;
- the right to erasure;
- the right to restrict processing;

- the right to data portability
- the right to object;
- rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling.

Given our lawful basis for processing information, your rights to erasure, data portability and to object to the processing of your information may not apply and we do not use automated decision making or profiling.

Your other rights may also not be absolute and, as our legal basis for processing information is not normally dependent on your consent, withdrawal of this is not normally applicable. However, if you have concerns over the use of your personal information, or wish to exercise your rights, then please contact us at the address below.

Complaints about the processing of your personal information

When we process your personal information we will comply with the Data Protection Act.

If you are unhappy with the way the Inspectorate processes your personal information then you should first contact the Inspectorate's Data Manager: dataprotection@planninginspectore.gov.uk.
