Useful Information

About the return

The purpose of this return is to collect quarterly information about the new build dwelling that you inspect for building control reasons. Completed forms for Apr-Jun 2019 should be submitted by 26th July 2019.

New build dwelling figures should exclude dwellings created through conversion of existing dwellings and by change of use such as commercial buildings to residential. Extensions and alterations to existing dwellings should be excluded.

New build dwellings should include houses and flats and student cluster flats and self-contained retirement accommodation. Communal accommodation such as traditional student halls of residents and care homes should not be included.

The data collected is used to provide estimates of all new house building activity in England and in your local authority area after it is combined with parallel data from the National House Building Council, private Approved Inspectors and other Local Authority Building Control. Figures for your authority are added to others to produce the National Statistics on house building; new build dwellings. Please note, if you are part of a strategic (multiple local authority) building control partnership, all figures must still be provided for each local authority area in which the new build dwelling starts and completions occurred. This is key information which informs Government policy, promotes public transparency and democratic accountability, and is used by the public, businesses, academics and the media to assess housing market and economic conditions generally. These statistics are published quarterly in a National Statistics release and set of tables on the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government website at the following link:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/house-building-statistics>

Contacts for help

If you have any problems providing the data required in the return please contact housingdata@communities.gov.uk, and a member of the team will get back to you.

If you experience any technical issues with the DELTA system, please contact the DELTA Helpdesk via email on DELTA@tso.co.uk or call 0333 202 5084.

Please visit <https://delta.communities.gov.uk/login> to login to DELTA using the username and password provided to you previously. If you have not received log in details, please contact DELTA@tso.co.uk or call 0333 202 5084.

Revisions

Despite local authorities' best efforts, it is unlikely that all data submitted are completely accurate, whether through the receipt of subsequent information not available at the submission deadline, errors in calculation, or another reason. As such, our Revisions Policy allows for local authorities to correct errors found, to maximise the quality of our published data. Most revisions see only minor changes made to data, with little to no impact on published national statistics. These changes will be published at the next scheduled release, with no specific announcement, and the previously released data is not revised.

Should you need to make revisions to your submitted data covering the previous nine quarters, we encourage you to make these when completing the April-June quarter (which is collected in July), as revisions going back this far are only published annually. As standard, during each collection window we open 10 quarters (including 9 quarters with previously submitted data) to enable you to make revisions to previous quarters where necessary. These can be accessed via your collection requests. Should you have any issues, please email housingdata@communities.gov.uk.

In contrast, some revisions are considered major revisions. These might date further back than the previous year's figure and have a notable impact at the national level. They might arise from substantial errors in the statistical process, or other major methodological issues, whether by local authorities or central government. Major revisions may require a non-scheduled revision of the statistical release to be published, along with a correction notice explaining the error. We aim for transparency in such cases, to maximise the perception of quality in all official statistical releases. If you think that you need to make a major revision, please get in touch with our team at housingdata@communities.gov.uk. We will then arrange access to the relevant form so you can make the required corrections. You will receive an email, with a link to the data you have previously submitted and requested to revise. Following this link will allow you to amend the data for that year and re-submit.

The policy on revisions has been developed in accordance with the UK Statistics Authority Code of Practice for Statistics and the Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government Revisions Policy (found at <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/statistical-notice-dclg-revisions-policy>).

Column 1 (Private Enterprise dwellings):

Include all new dwellings financed and built by private developers. This includes any such dwellings built on local authority land, but not dwellings built on behalf of Registered Social Landlords. Include here all dwellings for which the tenure is not known. This might include dwellings started by a private builder under a Section 106 agreement, where as yet no registered social landlord has been found for the social housing component.

Include all new dwellings provided for statutory purposes other than under the Housing Act 1985, or for an authority other than the housing authority, e.g. for a Government Department, Police, Fire or other public authority.

Include any new dwellings for which the tenure is not known. For example, where some schemes have mix of private and affordable housing, the final tenure may be unknown.

Column 2 (Private Registered Providers [Housing Association] dwellings):

Include all new dwellings built by or on behalf of Private Registered Providers (housing associations). Construction is most likely carried out by private builders. Include also new dwellings built by or on behalf of housing associations not registered with Homes England. Dwellings should also be included if the housing association is not registered with the Housing Corporation, or if it was set up following a Large Scale Voluntary Transfer of dwellings out of local authority control. Exclude the rehabilitation of dwellings. Exclude dwellings purchased by housing associations or local housing companies from private sector after the dwellings concerned have been completed.

Column 3 (Local Authority dwellings):

Include all new dwellings being built by, or on behalf of, your authority within your authority's boundaries, on land owned or held on a long lease by your authority. Include in your figures those being built by another local authority within your authority's boundaries. Include any new housebuilding which is part of a larger scheme of local authority dwellings; even if this new-build is only to replace the loss of dwellings arising from the demolition or conversion of existing local authority stock. Exclude all new dwellings provided for statutory purposes other than under the Housing Act 1985, or for an authority other than the housing authority, eg. For a Government Department, Police, Fire or other public authority. Exclude all new dwellings built on local authority land by housing associations, or by private developers for eventual sale.

Column 4 (Total):

Please include all new dwellings started and completed during the quarter. These totals must equal the sum of the three boxes to the left.

Confirm Please confirm that this return is based on LA Inspected New Build properties only.

Sign off Please confirm the level of audit the data submitted has been subjected to.

Additional Comments Please use this box if you wish to provide additional comments about the entries made in this return. You should use this box to explain data entries detailed in any non-mandatory errors (where the data does not need to be changed to clear them, and the error is in orange). Errors will appear, both as you complete the form and after validation. All errors need to be resolved before submission is possible.

Viewing, Saving and Submitting

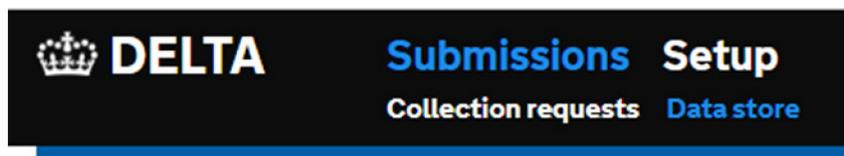

The final part of the form offers three options, which each perform different functions.

Submitting Data:

Selecting Submit submits the finalised data to DELTA. Users should receive a confirmation email once submission is confirmed and the green message will appear at the bottom of the screen, as below. If the submission contains any entry errors, these will be flagged, and users will need to address each before submission can be confirmed. Please be aware that it may take several seconds for submission to be confirmed.

Once submission has been confirmed, users are taken to their Data Store, where they can view all the data submitted. To submit data for a different site, users will need to navigate back to the Collection Requests by clicking on the navigation bar at the top of the page, as above, and selecting the same form again to enter more data.

Viewing and Saving:

Selecting PDF takes users to a separate window within their web browser which allows them to view their entry and print or save it to their desktop.

Selecting Save allows users to save their entry in the personal Data Store. This can be reviewed and submitted at a later date. To access the Data Store, users will need to either select 'Submissions' and then 'Data Store' after logging in, or they can access from the navigation bar at the top of the page, as below.

Definitions

Dwelling:

A dwelling is defined as a self-contained accommodation. Self-contained is where all the rooms (including kitchen, bathroom and toilet) in a household are behind a single door which only that household can use. A permanent has a design life of over 60 years. Communal housing and establishments providing managed residential accommodation should not be included in the P2 return. These cover university and college halls of residence, hospital staff accommodation, hostels/ homes, hotels/holiday complexes, defence establishments (except marriage quarters) and prisons. However, purpose-built student housing should be included if it is self-contained (e.g. Self-contained flats clustered into units with 4 to 6 bedrooms) rather than communal. Each self-contained unit should be counted as a dwelling.

Starts (commencement of construction):

For house building starts we are seeking to capture when building of each unit commences. A dwelling is counted as a start on the date work begins on the laying of the foundation, including 'slabbing' for houses that require it, but not including site preparation. Thus when foundation work commences on a pair of semi-detached houses two houses are counted as started, and when work begins on a block of flats all the dwellings in that block are counted as started.

In the instance of a single house this would be the foundation inspection but on multi-unit apartment buildings this would be the foundation for the whole structure. This is to allow a more accurate and timely representation of the number of dwelling units under construction at any given time. This is particularly relevant on large housing sites encompassing large numbers of individual units on a single Building Regulation Application or Initial Notice and large apartment blocks covering many hundreds of units spanning a long construction period.

Completions:

In principle, a dwelling is regarded as complete when it becomes ready for occupation or when a completion certificate is issued whether it is in fact occupied or not.

Dwellings should be reported as completed when they become ready for occupation. This will be the quarter in which notice of completion or occupation is given, whichever is the earlier. If full information is not available for all dwellings please provide estimates.

On apartment blocks the release of a partial completion certificate or occupation certificate would indicate completion of a unit of housing for the purpose of Government Housing Statistics only (not to be confused with or supplement the common definition of a completion or final certificate of building works under the Building Regulations). Again this is to allow a more accurate and timely representation of the number of dwelling units available for occupation at any given time.

Location of starts and completions:

Totals should be shown by the English local authority (district or unitary), in which they are located. Where local authorities have grouped together as 'building control partnerships, the starts and completions should be shown by each district or unitary.
