The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom
Her Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces.

Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles Of The Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We Artios Global Ltd will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- No member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen
- In some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 Artios Global Ltd recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- We will promote the fact that we are an armed forces-friendly organisation in a sensitive manner, this will include promoting our work, activities and events through digital & social media channels.
- Seeking to support the employment of veterans young and old. We will work with and advertise vacancies through the Career Transition Partnership (CTP), as well as advertising widely in the Armed Forces Community, to ensure employment opportunities are made available to Veterans. We will continue to welcome applications from Veterans who meet the criteria in the job specification, recognising the vital importance that military skills and qualifications bring to our company.
- Striving to support the employment of Service spouses and partners. We will work with and advertise vacancies with Recruit for Spouses, as well as advertising widely in the Armed Forces Community. We will continue to welcome applications from spouses/partners who meet the criteria in the job specification and offer a degree of flexibility in granting leave for Service spouses and partners before, during and after a partner's deployment.
- Seeking to support our employees who choose to be members of the Reserve forces, including accommodating their training and deployment where possible. Staff are actively encouraged to become Reservists. We will provide up to 1 week per year of special paid leave is available to attend annual training and make flexible accommodation of Reserve training commitments wherever possible. In the national interest we would fully support and accommodating mobilised deployment of Reservist employees.
- Offering support to our local cadet units, either in our local community or in local schools, where possible. Staff are actively encouraged to become members of the Cadet Forces and we will provide up to 1 weeks per year of special paid leave may be available to attend

annual training camps and courses. We will also accommodate of Cadet training commitments where possible and considering sponsorship bids to support worthwhile Cadet projects

- Aiming to actively participate in Armed Forces Day and will encouraging employees to take part in Reserve Forces Day, Uniform to Work Day and any Flag Raising Ceremonies; assisting with case studies and stories.
- Offering a discount to members of the Armed Forces Community and offering bespoke continuing and/or limited time offers to Defence personnel

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our literature and/or on our website, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
