HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN has been graciously pleased to approve the following revised ‘The Queen's Regulations for the Army’ and to command that they be strictly observed on all occasions.

They are to be interpreted reasonably and intelligently, with due regard to the interests of the Service, bearing in mind that no attempt has been made to provide for necessary and self-evident exceptions.

Commanders at all levels are to ensure that any local orders or instructions that may be issued are guided and directed by the spirit and intention of these Regulations.

By Command of the Defence Council

Ministry of Defence
January 2019
1. The Queen's Regulations for the Army lay down the policy and procedure to be observed in the command and administration of the Army. They provide commanding officers with direction on the command and administration of their units, on the efficiency of which depends the effectiveness of the Army as a whole.

2. All general matters concerned with a commanding officer's responsibilities have been grouped in one chapter - Chapter 5 - Unit Command, Control and Administration. Chapters 1 to 4 set out the framework of command and administration above the unit level.

3. Subjects such as Manning and Conditions of Service, Legal Matters and Ceremonial are, however, large enough to merit separate chapters, and these have been placed after Chapter 5. There are also further chapters, of a general nature, common to all three services and already as Joint Service chapters, for example the Press and Public Information.

4. The letter 'J' preceding a paragraph number indicates that the paragraph in identical form (apart from the number and from necessary differences in relation to ranks, cross-references, etc) is published normally in The Queen's Regulations for each of the three Services. In the case of the Army certain of these paragraphs appear not in The Queen's Regulations but in other specialized regulations, and appropriate references are made in The Queen's Regulations for the Army to those publications. The text of 'J' paragraphs may not be amended without inter Service agreement.

5. In general, abbreviations are not used in these regulations, except when referring to Ministry of Defence directorates. Any other abbreviation used, unless its meaning is obvious, is shown in brackets after the term to which it applies, on its first appearance.

6. Unless the contrary intention appears, words importing the masculine gender include the feminine.

7. Text that is known to be out of date and awaiting sponsor review has been highlighted in grey and will be updated in the next amendment.
CHAPTER 1

GOVERNMENT, COMMAND AND COMPOSITION OF THE ARMY

Government and Command of the Army

J1.001. The government and command of each of the fighting Services is vested in Her Majesty The Queen, who has charged the Secretary of State with general responsibility for the defence of the Realm and established a Defence Council having command and administration over Her armed forces.

J1.002. The Defence (Transfer of Functions) Act 1964 transferred to the Secretary of State the statutory functions of the previous Secretaries of State for War and Air and (except for certain specified functions relating to command and administration) of the former Board of Admiralty. The Act transferred to the Defence Council the statutory functions of the former Army Council and Air Council and corresponding statutory functions (including the excepted functions referred to above) of the former Board of Admiralty.

J1.003. The Letters Patent of the Defence Council are produced in Annex A(J) to this Chapter. The Council are given the prerogative functions of the former Board of Admiralty, Army Council, and Air Council, are given administrative functions, are given command of all members of the forces and are directed to set up an Admiralty Board, Army Board, and an Air Force Board.

J1.004. The Directions of the Defence Council setting out the composition and duties of the Army Board are at Annex B to this Chapter. The Board have, under the Defence Council, command over the officers and soldiers of the Army; subject to the orders and directions of the Defence Council, they are charged with the administration of matters relating to the Army.

J1.005. The Defence (Transfer of Functions) Act 1964 empowers the Army Board to discharge the statutory functions of the Defence Council, subject to any Directions of the Council. The effect of the above Directions is to confine this power, in the main, to statutory functions relating to the military forces. Certain prerogative functions under Orders in Council relating to the Royal Navy and Royal Marines were transferred to the Secretary of State who in practice is advised on such matters by the Admiralty Board. The Army and Air Force Boards have been empowered by Royal Warrant to exercise concurrently certain prerogative functions.

Composition of the Army

1.006. The Army is composed of officers and soldiers of various arms and services as follows:

a. The Regular Army Forces, whose composition is shown in para 8.001 (table, serials 1-24).

b. The Reserve Forces, comprising:

   (1) The Regular Army Reserve of Officers.

   (2) The Army Reserve.

   (3) The Long Term Reserve.

   (4) Army Pensioners.

   (5) The Territorial Army.
1.007. The corps shown in para 8.001 are divided into units, which are defined as those elements having a separate Establishment (see para 1.008). Thus the term 'unit' may apply to a battalion or any equivalent lieutenant colonel's command; to an independent smaller body, commanded by an officer of the rank of major or below (normally referred to as an 'independent sub unit'); to a depot or to a training establishment. Any headquarters above the unit level is, for the purposes of administration, regarded as being itself a unit. The Gibraltar Regiment is also a unit for the purposes of this regulation.

1.008. Individual units and headquarters of the Army are organized according to specific establishments which lay down authorized strengths by ranks and trades, and numbers of vehicles, weapons and animals. There are three types of organization:

a. Deployable Component (DC) Organizations. DC is that required to deploy away from the home base on the more likely routine operations, capable of self-sufficient combat without augmentation. If the organization is given a category of DC it means that it permanently exists within the hierarchy, and may receive augmenting CC positions (see below). The default category for an organization will be DC. It is to be used for Regular and TA Army Establishment Tables. It will also apply to those units that are likely to deploy, and those establishments that will never deploy as an organization (e.g. MOD Central Staffs, HQLF).

b. Contingent Component (CC) Organizations. CC is that required to augment the DC organization to provide for the additional requirements of the most demanding operations. If an organization is given a category of CC it means that it only exists within the hierarchy for the most demanding operations, and will comprise solely of CC positions and materiel. There are few instances where CC organizations will occur – it is likely to be where Regular units receive entire organizations as CC at Large Scale Direct Intervention (LSDI).

c. Enabling Component (EC) Organizations. EC is that required to enable the unit to deploy on operations by providing for home base support. It comprises two elements – the unit Rear Party to cater for the administration of the unit's home base and welfare support for unit families, and the Infrastructure element which is required to provide security and maintenance support. An organization is only given the category of EC if it solely fulfils the role of enabling component for the most demanding operations. An EC organization should only have EC positions attached to it.

COMMAND WITHIN THE ARMY PART 1 - HIGHER COMMAND

Definition of Command

2.001. The term ‘Command’ is used in different ways in these regulations and it is therefore necessary to explain how these may apply according to the context in which they appear. The different uses of this term are:

a. As a military order by any person whose rank, position, appointment or duty entitles them to give it.

b. As applied to the authority of an officer, warrant officer or non-commissioned officer (NCO) deriving from their military status. This is normally expressed as ‘power of command’.

c. To describe a geographical area, of given boundaries, in which troops are stationed. It may contain districts, areas, or further subdivisions. In practice this covers those units and formations grouped together under a commander in chief (CinC) or general officer commanding (GOC) who is themselves not subordinate to another general officer. In peace time geographical commands should not be referred to as ‘theatres’ (which is an abbreviation for ‘theatres of war’).

d. To refer to a body of troops over which an individual has direct authority, eg in the case of a battalion commander, their unit.

Higher Commanders

2.002. Under the existing organization, the higher commanders of the Army are as follows:

a. CinCs. General officers who in conjunction with their other duties are operationally responsible to the Defence Council for the command of all British Army personnel in their area. For administrative matters, they are responsible through the Army Board. In certain respects, as members of a commanders in chief committee, they are directly responsible to the Chiefs of Staff.

b. GOCs. GOCs corps, divisions and districts, responsible to a superior commander.

c. Commanders.

(1) Commanders (general or other officers) of independent overseas commands, responsible to the Army Board.

(2) General and other officers, commanding British Army or multi-Service staffs in certain overseas territories, who are responsible directly to the Defence Council, such as Commander British Forces Cyprus.

(3) Officers, not above the rank of brigadier, in command of brigades, field forces, groups, areas or garrisons normally responsible to a GOC.
Unified Command

J2.003. Unified commanders normally command all British forces allocated to their operational area, subject to the terms of any directives which may be issued to them. The single Service commanders in the area exercise command of the allocated naval, land and air forces under the overall command of the unified commander. Single Service commanders are normally responsible direct to their respective Boards for matters of single Service administration and finance, but the commander of the unified command is nonetheless expected to exercise the oversight and co-ordination necessary to ensure the most efficient functioning of the command and maximum economy in its administration.

Command within the United Kingdom and Overseas

2.004. The command of all regular and reserve units and formations is exercised through the Commander in Chief Land Forces (CinC LF). In addition some units with a wider defence role come under command of the Vice Chief of the Defence Staff (VCDS). These commanders then delegate powers of command to subordinate commanders within operational and functional areas of responsibility.

Subordinate Commanders

2.005. Division and/or district commanders exercise administrative command directly over all regular and reserve independent units and sub units within their division and/or district. Where units or independent sub units form part of a formation outside the division and/or district, operational command will be exercised through formation headquarters. Local administration for all units and sub units within a division and/or district is the direct responsibility of the GOC.

2.006. In the particular case of London District the GOC is the Major General, Household Division, who has under their command for all purposes all units of the Household Division and Establishments peculiar to them in London District, and the Kings Troop, Royal Horse Artillery. These include all units of the Household Division at Windsor, Pirbright and Caterham. In respect of the units of the Household Division and Kings Troop, Royal Horse Artillery, the Major General will be considered an independent commander under the Ministry of Defence. (See paras 13 – 21 of Annex A to this Chapter.)

2.007. Command of Ministry of Defence controlled units and establishments comprising units of the static training organization, central administrative installations and establishments controlled by the Master General of the Ordnance will be governed by the principles implicit in para 2.005. The GOC of the division and/or district in which they are located will be their local military commander.

Command in other Independent Overseas Commands

2.008. Commanders of independent commands overseas, responsible to VCDS, command directly the formations or independent units within their area of command. Responsibilities to, and relationships with, the civil authority (HM Representative) (see para J11.003b) vary between commands, and are laid down specifically in the directive for each of the commanders concerned.

2.009 - 2.015. Reserved.
PART 2 - LOWER COMMAND

Command of Units (see Manual of Service Law (MSL) Chapter 2)

a. An officer appointed to command a unit, is (see also para 1.007), irrespective of seniority, to exercise command over all personnel serving therein.

b. An officer holding an authorized appointment of second in command of a unit is, irrespective of seniority, to exercise command over all personnel therein except the officer appointed to command that unit. Appointment as second in command of a unit in no way implies that the officer will be appointed to command the unit permanently if the appointment of commanding officer becomes vacant.

c. In the absence of both the officer appointed to command a unit and the officer appointed second in command of that unit the senior officer present of the arm or service of which the unit forms part (normally other than a late entry commissioned officer) is to exercise command over all personnel serving therein. A late entry commissioned officer appointed second in command will normally assume command in the absence of the officer appointed to command that unit.

Command of Sub Units

2.017. Command of sub units (companies, platoons, sections and equivalents) is to be exercised by the person appointed to command or, in their absence, by the senior member of that sub unit belonging to the arm or service concerned.

Command in Special Circumstances

a. In relation to command of medical and dental units see MSL, Vol 1, Ch 2, para 15.

b. For embarked forces see MSL, Vol 1, Ch2, para 21-23.

c. In circumstances where the exercise of command is not covered by the preceding paragraphs, command is to be exercised by the most appropriately qualified senior officer, warrant officer or NCO present, but during operations is not to be exercised by medical and dental officers or chaplains, except over personnel of medical and dental units and patients.

d. For the avoidance of doubt, the commanding officer of the Gibraltar Regiment exercises disciplinary powers of command over all personnel serving in or attached to the Regiment.

e. For command in custody see MSL, Vol 1, Ch 2, paras 11 -14.

Special Considerations

a. When units or detachments of different corps are employed together on any duty, each unit and detachment is, subject to the orders of the officer commanding the whole body, to act under the immediate authority of its own commander in matters of purely regimental character.

b. When officers or soldiers become prisoners of war the ordinary military relations of superior and subordinate, and the military duty of obedience, remain unaltered. Any such prisoner who is guilty of insubordination or any breach of discipline in respect of their superior will be required to answer for their conduct when released (see also Part 21 of Chapter 5).

c. The situation with regard to command when members of two or more Services are serving together is dealt with in paras 2.041 – 2.043.

Command in Relation to Her Majesty's Army Vessels

a. In this paragraph 'qualified officer' means an officer who holds a command certificate issued by the Director of Transport and Movements (Army) (DTM(A)) and 'vessel' means any of Her Majesty's Army Vessels.

b. When two or more vessels are in company the senior qualified officer present will exercise command in respect of all matters relating to the manoeuvring and safety of the vessels as a formed squadron. They are responsible for their tactical control and is particularly to ensure that all vessels keep their correct station.

c. Command over a vessel is to be exercised by the qualified officer appointed captain. They are responsible at all times for the safety and proper navigation of their vessel and for this purpose commands all persons on board. In the absence of the captain, command is to be exercised by the senior officer or warrant officer present who holds a Watch Keeping Certificate issued by the Director of Transport and Movements (Army).

d. Subject to any orders which they may receive from the captain, the officer of the watch is responsible for the safety of the vessel in all its aspects. In the performance of their duties they may exercise command over all persons other than the captain, the first lieutenant and any qualified officer senior to the captain.

e. An officer who is not a member of a vessel's company and who is not a qualified officer is not to exercise any command in relation to the navigation, manoeuvring or safety of any vessels or vessel. In relation to these matters they are under the authority and command of the captain of the vessel.

Command in Relation to Army Department Vessels Military Manned

a. This paragraph applies to vessels other than Her Majesty's Army Vessels and in this paragraph the expression 'qualified' means an officer or soldier who has been qualified by the Army School of Transport to command a vessel.

b. Command over a vessel is to be exercised by the qualified officer or soldier appointed captain. They are responsible at all times for the safety and proper navigation of their vessel and for this purpose commands all persons abroad. In the absence of the captain, command is to be exercised by the senior qualified officer or soldier present.

c. When two or more vessels are in company the senior qualified officer or soldier present will exercise command in respect of all matters relating to the manoeuvring and safety of the vessels in a formed squadron. They are responsible for their tactical control and is particularly to ensure that all vessels keep their correct station.

a. When officers and soldiers are embarked on Royal Fleet Auxiliaries (RFAs) they are to comply with any instructions given to them by, or with the authority of, the Master, for the proper working or management of the ships.

b. Commanding officers are to bring this regulation to the attention of all officers and soldiers concerned, and reference to it is to be made in the standing orders for parties embarked on RFAs.

2.023 - 2.030. Reserved.
PART 3 - RANK AND PRECEDECENCE

General Principles

a. Officers holding substantive rank are to take precedence over all those holding acting or local rank of the same grade. They are to take precedence among themselves according to their date of promotion to that rank.

b. Officers of the TA or Regular Officers on Home Service Part Time terms of service holding brevet rank are, when employed outside their regiment or corps, to take precedence with officers holding substantive rank of the same grade, according to date of promotion. When serving regimentally they are to take precedence within their regiment or corps in accordance with the date of their promotion to substantive rank.

c. Officers holding acting rank are to take precedence over all those holding local rank of the same grade and are to take precedence among themselves according to the date of their appointment to acting rank.

d. Officers holding local rank are to take precedence among themselves according to the date of their appointment to that local rank.

e. Precedence among warrant officers and NCOs is to follow the principles in sub-paras a, c and d above but is to be governed also by the precedence of corps (see para 8.001) and in some cases by the appointment held. This aspect is dealt with in detail in Chapter 9, Part 3.

General Officers, Brigadiers and Substantive Colonels

a. The seniority of officers promoted to the substantive rank of general and lieutenant general is to be determined by the Chief of the General Staff. On promotion to the substantive rank of lieutenant general relative seniority will normally be that which pertained in the rank of major general, but if any antedate is given it will not exceed one year.

b. Officers promoted to the substantive rank of major general are to take seniority among themselves as shall be determined by No 1 Selection Board.

c. Officers promoted to the substantive rank of brigadier or colonel are to take seniority among themselves as determined by No 2 Selection Board. (See also para 9.010.)

Regimental Officers

a. All regimental officers serving in units, other than commanding officers and seconds in command where appointed, are to take rank according to their dates of appointment to that rank, except in cases (other than those of voluntary exchange or transfer) in which the Defence Council may give officers special precedence.

b. All officers serving together with officers of other branches are to take rank according to their respective dates of appointment to that rank in the Army. (See current Army List, Part 1.)
Equivalent Ranks of Chaplains

2.034. The equivalent ranks of Chaplains of the RACd are as follows:

Chaplain General - Major General Deputy Chaplain General - Brigadier

Chaplain
- 1st Class - Colonel
- 2nd Class - Lieutenant Colonel
- 3rd Class - Major
- 4th Class - Captain

Relative Precedence - Regular and TA

a. Officers of the regular forces are, except as stated in sub-para b below, to take precedence over officers of the TA of the same rank.

b. Officers of the regular forces on the posted strength of a unit of the TA are, subject to the provisions of para 2.031, to take precedence in accordance with their date of promotion to that rank with TA officers of the same rank on the posted strength of, or attached to, that unit.

c. Officers of the TA who have previous service with the regular forces, are to take precedence, in accordance with their date of promotion to that rank, over those TA officers of the same rank who do not have previous service.

2.036. Officers of the TA are to take rank and precedence among themselves as laid down in Territorial Army Regulations 1978 (TA Regs) (AC 14955). For the particular case of TA officers holding brevet rank (see para 2.031b).

Honorific Colonels

a. Regimental Governance. Regiments and Corps select Honorific Colonels to exercise internal governance. Honorific Colonels are variously known as Masters, Colonels Commandant and Colonels of Regiment. In addition the Royal Armoured Corps, the Infantry and the Divisions of Infantry also have Colonels Commandant. Honorific Colonels are not part of the chain of command from the Defence Council.

b. Access. The Adjutant General is the normal conduit for Colonels to the Army Command Group and the Executive Committee of the Army Board. However Colonels retain the right of direct access to the Chief of the General Staff as a safeguard to ensure the integrity of the regimental system.
c. Purpose and Subordinate References. The functions of honorific Colonels are: to cultivate the soul and ethos of the Regimental/Corps family; to maintain esprit de Corps; and to promote Regimental/Corps interest. Further details can be found in: MS (Hons) Notes for Colonels and Colonels Commandant of Regiments, Divisions of Infantry and Corps; and the Promotion and Appointments Warrant (PAW) 09. As Colonels are performing a duty function they may reclaim travel and subsistence from the public purse within the limits laid down in JSP 752.

2.038 - 2.040. Reserved.
PART 4 - NAVAL, MILITARY AND AIR FORCES ACTING TOGETHER

Command over Members of other Services

J2.041. Under the provisions of the Armed Forces Act 2006, when members of one Service are co-operating with one or both of the other Services they enjoy like power of command over members of another Service as the members of that Service of ‘corresponding rank’ insofar as power of command depends upon rank or rate. The expression ‘corresponding rank’ is defined in the Act by reference to The Queen's Regulations. Thus when members of different Services are acting together the superior officers of one Service become, in accordance with the scale of corresponding ranks prescribed by these Regulations at the Table in para J2.042, superior officers of members of the other Services of lower corresponding rank or less seniority and can, consequently, give lawful commands to them. These provisions and these circumstances do not, however, bestow upon any member of one Service the power or right to assume command over any body of Her Majesty's forces or over any ship, aircraft, unit, formation or establishment of another Service unless it is specifically placed under their command.

Corresponding Ranks

J2.042. The corresponding ranks, solely for purposes of command, of the three Services are:

ANNEX B TO CHAPTER 3
VALUES AND STANDARDS OF THE BRITISH ARMY

Foreword by the Chief of the General Staff

“The British Army has a worldwide reputation for excellence, a strong reflection of its soldiers and officers. This reputation derives from, and depends upon, unequivocal commitment, self-sacrifice and mutual trust. Our Values and Standards are vital to operational effectiveness - they are the lifeblood that sustains the Army. They have to be more than just words, we must believe in them and live by them. Therefore, it is the effective and coherent translation of these Value and Standards into actions that must penetrate every command and organization until they are instinctive.

Commanders create their command ethos and must ensure that Values and Standards are at the centre of it, through personal example and by educating and training their subordinates. The responsibility of commanders to be at the heart of this process cannot be delegated, and I hold you all accountable for it. The Values are about character and spirit: the Standards define our actions and behaviour: I expect everyone in the Army to abide by these Values and Standards.”

Chief of the General Staff

Introduction

1. The reputation of the British Army is extremely high. This tradition of excellence - and the public support it engenders - depends in large part on the operational effectiveness of the Army that results from the high standards of professionalism, individual behaviour and self-discipline of the British soldier, both on and off operations. These qualities cannot be taken for granted and are only possible if they are underpinned by a robust and clearly understood framework of Values and Standards. It requires all of us to understand and live by them; and for all commanders - from the most senior to the most junior - to show emphatic leadership.

2. Land operations are complex, dangerous and demanding - both physically and mentally. Soldiers have the responsibility and legal right to use lethal force, and may be required to lay down their own lives and risk those of their comrades. It is operational effectiveness that requires the Army to have values and standards that are different from society - 'need to be different' not right to be 'different'. However, the Army is not immune from changes in society, and this is reflected in the attitudes and behaviour of those who enlist. Therefore we must explain why our Values and Standards are more demanding of the individual; and why such demands are equally necessary on and off duty.

3. The Army’s Values and Standards are not abstract concepts whose origins lie solely in the demands of battle. Values are the moral principles - the intangible character and spirit - that should guide and develop us into the sort of people we should be; whereas Standards are the authoritative yardsticks that define how we behave and on which we judge and measure that behaviour. They reflect, and are consistent with, the moral virtues and ethical principles that underpin any decent society. It is important that they are explained within that wider context, for it is vital that soldiers understand these Values and Standards and are able to apply them in today’s complex operations. To that end, the articulation of these Values and Standards needs to be accompanied by a continuous and appropriate example; by all commanders, junior and senior alike. Our Values and Standards apply at all times: whether on operations, in barracks, in our homes or off duty.

1 The Commanders’ version of Values and Standards of the British Army - AC 63813. This is the text of the most recent version (June 2012).
2 Foreword - January 2008 – by the then CGS, General Sir Richard Dannatt.
The Operational Imperative

4. For the Army, the consequences of winning or losing on operations are profound, for the Nation, the Army and for the individual. Consequently British Military Doctrine states that operational effectiveness is the standard by which the Army will be judged, and defines it in terms of fighting power. Within the hierarchy of fighting power it lays emphasis on the moral component: the ability to get people to fight. For the Army, this is achieved in the Land environment where operations are at their most complex.

5. Soldiers are required to close with the enemy, possibly in the midst of innocent bystanders, and fight; and to continue operating in the face of mortal danger. This is a group activity, at all scales of effort and intensities. Soldiers are part of a team, and the effectiveness of that team depends on each individual playing their part to the full. Success depends above all else on good morale, which is the spirit that enables soldiers to triumph over adversity: morale linked to, and reinforced by, discipline.

6. Morale consists of many factors, including confidence in equipment, good training and sound administration; but ultimately it is the confidence between commanders and subordinates and between individual soldiers. Such confidence is a product of leadership and comradeship. High morale cannot be created overnight, but requires the forging of close bonds of professional and personal trust, which will withstand the stresses imposed by the demands of operations. It requires commitment and self-sacrifice and to put the interests of the team and the task ahead of one’s own.

7. Values and Standards directly contribute to the Army’s ethos and to fighting power. They are a moral requirement and have functional utility. Upholding them is the collective responsibility of all members of the Army. They are the foundations of teamwork, and are interdependent. If any one of them is lacking, the team and the mission are threatened. They are fostered and enhanced by good leadership, training and man-management, throughout the chain of command.

‘The military virtues are not in a class apart; “they are virtues which are virtues in every walk of life ... none the less virtues for being jewels set in blood and iron.” They include such qualities as courage, fortitude and loyalty. What is important about such qualities as these ...is that they acquire in the military context, in addition to their moral significance, a functional significance as well. The essential function of an armed force is to fight in battle. Given equally advanced military techniques a force in which the qualities I have mentioned are more highly developed will usually defeat a stronger force in which they are less. Thus while you may indeed hope to meet these virtues in every walk of life and a good deal of educational effort is spent on developing them as being generally desirable, in the profession of arms they are functionally indispensable. The training, group organizations, the whole pattern of life of the professional man at arms is designed in a deliberate effort to foster them, not just because they are morally desirable in themselves, but because they contribute to military efficiency.’

“The Profession of Arms” - The 1962 Lees Knowles lectures, Lt Gen Sir John Hackett

Values

Courage

8. All soldiers must be prepared to use lethal force to fight: to take the lives of others, and knowingly to risk their own. They may need to show restraint, even when doing so involves personal danger. They may witness the injury or death of their comrades but still continue with the task in hand. This requires physical courage, and soldiers will depend on each other for it. Moral courage is equally important. That is the courage to do what is right even when it may be unpopular, or risk ridicule or danger, and to insist on maintaining the highest standards of decency and behaviour at all times. This earns respect and fosters trust. Courage - both physical and moral - creates the strength upon which fighting spirit and success on operations depend. It is a quality needed by every soldier, but it is especially important for those placed in positions of authority, because others will depend on their lead and respond to it.

Discipline

9. To be effective on operations, the Army must act as a disciplined force: commanders' orders carried out, everybody confident that they will not be let down by their comrades. Discipline is the primary antidote to fear and maintains operational effectiveness: it is supported by team loyalty, trust and professionalism. Discipline instils self-control and breeds self-confidence. Good discipline means that all soldiers will obey orders, under the worst conditions of war, and to do so with imagination and resource. The best discipline is self-discipline: innate, not imposed. The Army expects self-discipline from every soldier, and training aims to strengthen it. Discipline requires clearly understood rules and a military legal system to enforce it. This discipline system must be fairly applied both on and off duty by all those in positions of authority.

Respect for Others

10. Respect for others is a hallmark of the British Army: it comes from the duty to put others first and means that there is no place for prejudice or favouritism. Like loyalty, respect for others goes both up and down the chain of command and sideways among peers. The Army’s recruiting motto ‘Be the Best’ can only have meaning if all members of it have equality of treatment and opportunity.

11. Respect for others also extends to the treatment of all human beings, especially the victims of conflict, the dead, the wounded, prisoners and civilians, particularly those we have deployed to help. All soldiers must act within the law and the nature of modern, complex, land based operations makes it essential that they maintain the highest standards of decency and fairness at all times, even under the most difficult of conditions. This includes behaviour when off duty including towards family members. External scrutiny, including intense media interest, is now an attendant part of all aspects of military life. Soldiering is about duty: so soldiers should be ready to uphold the rights of others before claiming their own.

Integrity

12. Soldiers must be welded into strong and robust teams in order to achieve success on operations, where individual needs and desires are subordinated to those of the team, however unpalatable or dangerous. Therefore, integrity has a unique significance to soldiering, it is essential to trust: soldiers must have complete trust in each of their comrades for their lives may ultimately depend on it. Integrity means being honest and truthful. All forms of deceit and dishonesty constitute a lack of integrity: they call into question whether an individual can be relied upon, damaging the team and therefore operational effectiveness. All commanders are responsible for defining and maintaining standards of personal behaviour in the Army by example, direction and education. Integrity also demands that those who are in positions of authority, at whatever level, set the highest standards and are fair and consistent to their subordinates. A leader’s example in personal behaviour is vital, and this responsibility increases with rank.

Loyalty

13. Loyalty binds all ranks of the Army together: it goes both up and down. It turns individuals into teams, creating and strengthening the formations, units and sub-units of which the Army is composed. The Nation, the Army and the chain of command rely on the continuing allegiance, commitment and support of all who serve: that is, on their loyalty. Equally important is that all soldiers, and their families, must be confident that the Army and the Nation will treat them with loyalty and fairness. The Army’s loyalty to the individual is expressed in the Military Covenant - it manifests itself in justice, fair rewards, and life-long support to all soldiers.

14. Those in authority must be loyal to their subordinates: representing their interests faithfully, dealing with complaints thoroughly and developing their abilities through progressive training. Subordinates must be loyal to their leaders, their team, and their duty. Being loyal to ones’ leaders or subordinates does not mean that wrong-doing should be condoned or covered up: this is misplaced loyalty and questions a soldier’s integrity. Loyalty, though expected, must be earned through commitment, self-sacrifice, courage, professionalism, decency and integrity. These qualities are required both on and off duty as they are enduring characteristics that cannot be turned on and off at will.

Selfless Commitment

15. The British Army is structured and trained for operations, not for the convenience of administration in barracks. On joining the Army soldiers accept a commitment to serve whenever and wherever they are needed, whatever the difficulties or dangers may be. Such commitment imposes certain limitations on individual freedom, and requires a degree of self-sacrifice. Ultimately it may require soldiers to lay down their lives. Implicitly it requires those in positions of authority to discharge in full their moral responsibilities to subordinates. Selfless commitment is reflected in the wording of the Oath of Allegiance which is taken on attestation. In it, soldiers agree to subordinate their own interests to those of the unit, Army and Nation, as represented by the Crown:

“I swear by almighty God that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, her heirs and successors and that I will as in duty bound honestly and faithfully defend her Majesty, her heirs and successors in person, crown and dignity against all enemies and will observe and obey all orders of her Majesty, her heirs and successors and of the generals and officers set over me.”

16. Irrespective of private beliefs, this Oath embodies the context within which the British Army fights and operates. It expresses the loyalty of every soldier to the Sovereign as Head of State. These relationships find expression in the Colours, Standards and other emblems of Regimental and Corps spirit, which derive from the Sovereign. Personal commitment is the foundation of military service. Soldiers must be prepared to serve whenever and wherever required and to do their best at all times. This means putting the needs of the mission and of the team before personal interests.

The Army’s Standards

17. The Values outlined above underpin the ethos of the Army and contribute directly to achieving operational effectiveness. In sustaining these Values, every soldier must strive to achieve and maintain the highest professional and personal standards. It is impractical to identify here every standard required in every aspect of a soldier’s professional and private life. The Army’s Standards are designed to ensure that all behaviour is lawful; appropriate; and totally professional. Domestic abuse and domestic violence is not tolerated by the Armed Forces. Commanders have to understand the context and set out the Standards in sufficient detail required by the situation; clear communication on what is expected and why is essential. Officers and soldiers must avoid behaviour that risks degrading their professional ability or which may undermine morale by damaging the trust and respect that exists between individuals who depend on each other. For this reason the Army takes a different and more demanding approach towards certain types of behaviour and relationships that might, in society, be regarded as a matter of individual choice or morality, and of no concern to the wider community.

3 Those who do not believe in God “I solemnly, sincerely and truly declare and affirm that …”
Lawful

18. All soldiers are subject to the criminal law of England wherever they are serving, and they have a duty to uphold it. In that respect they are no different from other citizens, and all civil offences have been fully embraced within military law. When deployed on operations soldiers are subject to international law, including the laws of armed conflict and the prescribed rules of engagement, and in some cases local civil law. Taken together, such laws establish the baseline for the standards of personal conduct of the soldier as a citizen.

19. The Role of Officers. Leadership is the principal duty of all officers; those holding Commissions, Warrants and non-commissioned officers. Commissioned officers in the British Army have a special responsibility for leadership. The Queen’s Commission means that it is always the duty of a commissioned officer to take moral responsibility for the task and those subordinate in rank, whether they are in their direct chain of command or not. This includes setting an example both on and off duty. In the heat of battle, and in an environment sometimes dominated by high emotion and the pernicious effects of boredom and complacency, officers should have a strong enough moral compass and sufficient backbone to avoid over-familiarity and favour. They are required to prevent breakdowns in standards, ethics and the law; or simply to grip a deteriorating situation, failures in battlefield discipline, dress or bearing. The pressures or achievements of operations should not be used as an excuse to ignore or tolerate poor discipline or low professional standards. That would be a failure of moral courage and professional obligation and a breach of trust.

“You are, in such manner and on such occasions as may be prescribed by us, to exercise and well discipline in their duties such officers, men and women as may be placed under your orders from time to time and use your best endeavours to keep them in good order and discipline…in pursuance of the Trust hereby reposed in you.”

20. All soldiers have the right to live and work in an environment free from harassment, unlawful discrimination and intimidation. Any unjustifiable behaviour that results in soldiers being unfairly treated is fundamentally incompatible with the ethos of the Army, and is not to be tolerated. Discrimination and harassment may also contravene civil and criminal law: any form of discrimination or harassment undermines trust and confidence, especially in those in positions of authority.

21. Operational effectiveness requires the Army to be physically robust and, when necessary, to display controlled aggression: this requires rigorous and demanding training. However, the use of physical strength or the abuse of authority to intimidate or victimize others, or to give unlawful punishments is unacceptable and will undermine trust and respect. It is also illegal. It is the responsibility of commanders to protect others from physical and mental bullying, and to deal with it promptly.

Appropriate Behaviour

22. The operational imperative to sustain team cohesion and to maintain trust and loyalty between commanders and those they command imposes a need for a standard of social behaviour more demanding than those required by society at large. This is equally necessary both on and off operations, on and off duty. It is important to acknowledge in the tightly knit military community the need for mutual respect and the requirement to avoid conduct that offends others.

23. Social misbehaviour can undermine trust and cohesion and, therefore, damage operational effectiveness. It is not practicable to list every type of conduct or relationship that may constitute social misbehaviour⁶, but it includes: unwelcome sexual attention; over-familiarity with the spouses or partners of other Service personnel; displays of affection which might cause offence to others; behaviour which damages or hazards the marriage or personal relationships of Service personnel or civilian colleagues within the wider defence community; and taking sexual advantage of subordinates. The seriousness with which misconduct will be regarded will depend on the individual circumstances that prevail at that time and the potential for adversely affecting operational effectiveness. Nevertheless, misconduct involving abuse of position, trust or rank, or taking advantage of an individual's separation will be viewed as being particularly serious.

5 Extract from the Queen’s Commission (to all commissioned officers).

Total Professionalism

24. It is accepted that all soldiers must exercise the highest standards of professionalism, as befits their rank and appointment, at all times to both safeguard operational effectiveness and also the Army's reputation.

25. Members of the Army are not permitted to disclose Service information or express views on official matters or experiences to any media organization without prior approval from the Ministry of Defence, sought through the chain of command; this includes leaking official information to the media. Besides being contrary to regulations, it is unprofessional and can damage the reputation and interests of the Ministry of Defence and the Armed Forces and, whether intentional or not, undermines the Army's apolitical position.

26. The effects of excessive drinking are severe: impaired judgement, endangered health, degraded performance and are the major cause of ill discipline. It generates a loss of self-control, which can lead to unacceptable behaviour accompanied by criminal violence. Personnel under the influence of alcohol cannot be relied upon to perform their duties competently; putting their own lives and those of others at risk. Excessive alcohol consumption is not to be tolerated; drunkenness is a military offence. Commanders are to ensure that social functions take place in a controlled environment, where alcohol is consumed responsibly and that there is no degeneration into excessive drinking. They must also set an example through their own moderation. Failure to do so will call into question their self-discipline and moral courage, and their ability to exercise the responsibilities of their rank. Help will be offered to those willing to reform, but those who do not respond to rehabilitation will be considered for discharge. Driving under the influence of alcohol is a particularly serious offence that endangers others and displays a lack of judgement and self-discipline: a conviction will almost certainly affect an individual’s employment and career in the Army.

27. Drug misuse is not only illegal, it poses a significant threat to operational effectiveness. Drug misusers are a liability to themselves and to their colleagues: their judgement is impaired; their health damaged; and their performance degraded. In short, they can be neither trusted nor relied upon. The Army’s policy for those who commit a drug offence is based on dismissal.

28. Those entrusted with public and non-public funds must adhere to, unswervingly, the appropriate financial regulations. Dishonesty and deception in the control and management of these funds is not a ‘victimless crime’ but show a lack of integrity and moral courage which have a corrosive effect on operational effectiveness through the breakdown in trust.

29. Officers and soldiers also are expected to manage their own financial affairs responsibly. Such matters are usually regarded as personal, but where the Army becomes involved, administrative or disciplinary action may be taken. Unmanageable or irresponsible indebtedness displays a lack of judgement and self-discipline. It may create an administrative burden, and could lead to an individual becoming a security risk. Cases involving those in a position of responsibility are particularly serious because they call into question their ability to manage the welfare of subordinates and public funds. Whilst the Army will counsel and advise personnel who are in debt, irresponsible indebtedness is likely to affect an individual’s employment and career.

Application

30. Inculcating and maintaining the Army’s Values and Standards is the responsibility of all commanders. It requires more than a single period of instruction (MATT 6) per year; it must pervade all training activity, career development and be the focus of all leaders on what example their subordinates also should concentrate. As with mission command, commanders must give direction, delegate and then supervise. Where the ‘bottom line’ is not profit and loss, but the death or maiming of people including comrades, all soldiers must understand why they have to behave in a particular way, rather than following a set of rules blindly. Although Values and Standards can be imposed and regulated through discipline, it is self-discipline that will encourage all ranks to adhere to the Values and Standards, recognizing the inherent value of such qualities and conduct.

31. Commanders must recognize that this is challenging, requiring them to provide leadership and example. Therefore, all commanders must lead by example: they are responsible for explaining, instilling and ensuring that these Values and Standards are understood and adhered to by their subordinates. Effective and timely communication between commanders and subordinates is crucial to this process.

The Service Test

32. The Service Test applies to everyone in the Army, at all times (both on and off duty) regardless of rank. Individuals who fail to uphold the Values and Standards should have their failings made clear to them and issues such as lack of moral courage or integrity should be reported as characteristics in mid-year and annual appraisals. More serious failures may be subject to disciplinary or administrative action. Unacceptable conduct requires prompt and positive action to prevent damage: timely advice and informal action can often prevent a situation developing to the point where it could impair the effectiveness of a unit. A decision on what action is taken and the extent of that action will depend on the circumstances of each case, measured against the Service Test outlined below. In assessing whether to take action, commanders must establish the seriousness of the misconduct and its impact on operational effectiveness, and, in turn the appropriate and proportionate level of sanction. In particularly serious cases, or where an individual persists with, or has a history of acts of misconduct, commanders should consider the termination of service.

33. When considering possible cases of misconduct, and in determining whether the Army has a duty to intervene in the personal lives of its soldiers, commanders at every level must consider each case against the following Service Test:

“Have the actions or behaviour of an individual adversely impacted or are they likely to impact on the efficiency or operational effectiveness of the Army (unit)?”

Administrative Action is not taken to impose one person’s morality on another: simple disapproval is not enough to justify Administrative Action; an Originating Officer must state and a Deciding Officer must be satisfied, on a balance of probabilities, of a real or potential impact on efficiency or operational effectiveness.

34. Commanders are required to make a judgement of actions, set against the context of character and circumstances based on objective fact. Implicit in this is that in order to make a judgement, a commander’s commitment to Values and Standards must be beyond reproach and they must play a dynamic role in the adherence to Values and Standards in their command.
Conclusion

35. The Army’s Values and Standards demand a degree of commitment and self-sacrifice from officer and soldiers, which goes beyond that normally expected from other citizens. All officers and soldiers in the British Army are required to commit themselves to achieving and maintaining these Values and Standards. This commitment is essential to the ethos of the Army and contributes directly to the maintenance of operational effectiveness. It is the duty of all commanders to ensure that these Values and Standards are accorded the highest priority, are fully explained to their soldiers, and are applied consistently. Commanders at every level must lead by example and ensure their subordinates live by the Army’s Values and live up to its Standards.
CHAPTER 4
THE STAFF AND SERVICES

Organization and Appointments

  a. The staff of the Army consists of:

    (1) The General Staff who are the Army component of the Ministry of Defence (MOD) Head Office (HO) either located in HO or elsewhere.

    (2) The staff of Headquarters Land Forces (HQLF), together with the static divisions and/or districts, agencies, areas and garrisons at home and overseas.

    (3) The staff of operational commands, deployable divisions and brigades (including, as appropriate, arms and service commanders or advisers) as covered by approved establishments.

    (4) Army personnel filling staff appointments elsewhere are not strictly speaking the staff of the Army but are Army staff in the meaning of paras 4.002 - 4.003 below. These include Army tied or defence staff appointments within:

      (a) The Central Staff.

      (b) Permanent Joint Headquarters (PJHQ), Defence Equipment and Support and Defence, which are all tri-service organizations but are not part of MOD Head Office.

      (c) NATO, RN, or RAF headquarters.

      (d) Embassies, military missions or attached to foreign armies.

  b. The distribution of staffs and services in the static chain of command is given in the Army List.

4.002. Appointments to the staff of the Army in the rank of colonel and above will be made by the Secretary of State on the recommendation of the military members of the Army Board. The names of officers selected to hold appointments in the rank of major general or above are submitted to The Queen for approval. Appointments to the Staff of the Army in the rank of lieutenant colonel and below will be made by the relevant selection board.

4.003. An officer holding a regular commission is not qualified to hold a staff appointment until they have been six years in the Service, unless special authority has been obtained. This does not apply to the appointment of ADCs.

4.004 - 4.005. Reserved.

Duties in the Ministry of Defence

4.006. The distribution of duties in the Ministry of Defence for those listed in paras 4.001a(1) and 4.001a(4)(a)-(b) (less PJHQ) is shown in Annex A to this Chapter.

4.007. Reserved.
Command and Civil Secretaries

4.008. Command and Civil Secretaries\(^1\) are the senior civilian advisers appointed on the staff of Commanders in Chief, GOCs and certain other Commanders as Senior Finance Officers/Advisers\(^2\), Budget Managers and Civilian Personnel Advisers. They should also provide advice to these Commanders on the Parliamentary, political and presentational aspects of business, on the interests of other Government departments and, where appropriate, on the politico-military and presentational aspects of operational issues. They are particularly required to ensure that proper advice is given to budget holders on matters of propriety, regularity and value for money. Their duties\(^3\) embrace the following:

a. Budget Management, including forecasting outturn and preparation of the Short Term Plan. In this the Command or Civil Secretary supports his/her Commander in Chief (as Budget Holder) in carrying out the functions delegated to them by the Permanent Under Secretary (PUS). Of particular importance is the Command or Civil Secretary's responsibility to the Budget Holder for financial scrutiny.

b. Senior Finance Officer (SFO) responsibilities through the Finance Director (Principal Finance Officer (PFO)), to the PUS. The Command Secretary is formally appointed as an SFO and is responsible for the integrity of the financial system in the Top Level Budget (TLB) area, including as it affects regularity and propriety of expenditure, value for money, writes off and charging for services to outside bodies.

c. Personnel Management responsibilities through the Personnel Director to PUS. The Command Secretary is formally appointed as Senior Civilian Personnel Adviser and is responsible for the career management of civilian mobile staff, non-mobile, non-industrial, industrial civilian staff and Locally Engaged Civilian staff Overseas.

d. Parliamentary, political and presentational issues, the interests of other Government departments, relations with local authorities and, where appropriate, the provision of advice on the politico-military and presentational aspects of operational issues.

Duties in Commands

4.009. The Staff. The distribution of staff duties given below is designed to meet peace requirements. The duties of the staff of an army in the field, which may be different, are dealt with in Army Tactical Doctrine manuals and formation Standing Operating Procedures (SOPs).

4.010. Chief of Staff. In those commands to which a chief of staff is appointed their primary function will be:

a. To co-ordinate the work of the staff.

b. To enable the commander to give all their attention to command, tactical and strategic matters and the training of troops.

   (1) Competent Army Authority and Inspectorate (CAA&I). DEME(A) is the CAA&I for ES and for preserving the maintenance airworthiness of all Army aircraft, including Unmanned Air Vehicles (UAVs). These areas have a higher than normal degree of risk associated with them and are subject to discrete legislation. As CAA&I, DEME(A) is responsible for the provision of Functional Advice\(^{10}\) to the Chain of Command and for monitoring compliance with that advice, on behalf of the Adjutant General as the Army Inspector, through formal reporting, consultation and inspection.

   (2) Equipment Availability Management. The anticipatory planning required to mitigate operational availability factors and maximize the probability that the required equipment availability is sustained for the specified period or operation. It includes the co-ordination of Whole Fleet Management within formations and the matching of equipment availability to training and operational requirements.

   (3) ES Materiel\(^{11}\) Management. The management of spares to ensure they are available as required to support maintenance, thus enabling the sustainment of the necessary level of combat power for the duration required. REME is responsible for setting and prioritizing the ES Materiel requirement.

   (4) Maintenance Support. All action to retain materiel in, or to restore it to, a specified condition. It includes inspection, testing, servicing, and classification as to serviceability, repair, rebuilding and reclamation. Maintenance includes recovery.

b. Integration of ES contractors, Contractor Logistic Support (CLS) and Integrated Logistic Support (ILS) in conjunction with IPT staff, both deployed and in-barracks.

c. Co-ordination of the Equipment line of the Defence Lines of Development (DLODs) within formations\(^{12}\) in order to deliver a coherent equipment plan.

d. Support to the delivery and sustainment of EC and the integration of equipment Urgent Operational Requirements (UORs), particularly with the emergence of ‘fitted for, but not with’ solutions.

e. Co-ordination of the integration of UORs within the formation whilst deployed.

24. As CAA&I for ES, DEME(A)\(^{13}\) is responsible for the following specific tasks:

a. Provision of policy, training and ES Materiel and performance management to enable efficient and effective management of ES.

\(^{10}\) Functional Advice includes the development of policy, standards, training requirements, doctrine and Tactics, Techniques and Procedures in accordance with statutory and regulatory requirements.

\(^{11}\) ES Materiel is defined as Level 2 and 3 spares in support of maintenance. Levels of repair are defined in AC 71877 Battlefield Equipment Support Doctrine.

\(^{12}\) On behalf of the formation COS.

\(^{13}\) The precise delineation of responsibility for defining Land Systems ES Policy between Royal Engineers, Royal Signals and REME is detailed in JSP886 Volume 5 Part 202.
b. Provision of Level 1 (User) maintenance and Equipment Care policy and standards for all Army equipment excluding specialist equipment maintained by the Royal Signals.

c. Provision of Level 2-4 maintenance policy and standards for all Army equipment excluding specialist Royal Engineers and Royal Signals operated and maintained equipment.

d. Provision of policy and doctrine for equipment operated by REME.

e. Provision of policy, doctrine and standards for reliability and maintainability of all Army equipment excluding specialist Royal Engineers and Royal Signals operated and maintained equipment.

f. Provision of the doctrine for cranes and recovery equipment used for recovery tasks.

g. Provision of policy and doctrine for recovering Land equipment.

h. Setting the policy and standards for conducting recovery assessments for all Land platforms.

i. Provision of policy on the maintenance of all Army Aircraft including UAVs.

j. Maintenance of aviation engineering flight safety standards and investigation into aviation accidents and occurrences.

24A. Within the overarching functions, REME is responsible for the following specific tasks:

a. In conjunction with the User, servicing of equipment (cleaning, lubrication, replenishment, examination and minor repairs required to keep equipment in operational condition).

b. Recovery of abandoned, disabled or immobilized vehicles and, if necessary, their removal to maintenance points.

c. Backloading (the rearward movement to a suitable place for repair) of equipment casualties.

d. Repair of equipment or repairable components (the technical operation to restore operational functions by adjustment, manufacture or the replacement of defective components). Repair tasks may include any of the following:

   (1) Repair by replacement (the replacement of major assemblies, components and Line Replaceable Units (LRUs) to restore functionality).

   (2) Repair by repair (the restoration of equipment functionality by manufacture, recalibration, adjustment or sub-component replacement).

   (3) Expedient repairs undertaken to return equipment to the current mission or to allow it to move itself to a location for a more permanent repair. This includes both Battle Damage Repairs (BDR) usually conducted to rectify damage arising from enemy action, and temporary repairs carried out, on operations, to rectify faults developed through normal use.

17 Servicing tasks are shared between REME and the User. Further details are contained in LEUMS.
e. Modification (fleet-wide modifications to rectify design faults or improve operational effectiveness, or specific-to-theatre modifications embodied before deployment or by in-theatre ES force elements).

f. Reclamation (the process whereby materiel declared worn or scrap is restored to a condition which renders it fit for further use).

g. Salvage (an operation consisting of taking one or more sub-assemblies or spare parts from unrepairable equipment for supplies).

h. Provision of Engineering and Technical Policy to the commander in order to advise how best to preserve, restore and enhance the mission capability of their equipment.

J24B. The role responsibilities of REME personnel in fulfilling these duties are defined by the following agreed joint engineering definitions:

a. Principal Engineer\textsuperscript{18}. Principal Engineers (PEs) are authorized by the relevant Front Line Command or IPTL and will be the senior engineers responsible for the engineering standards and practices within a ship, unit, station, establishment or theatre of operation. PEs are to have direct access to the appropriate commander to whom they are responsible for all professional engineering matters and act as the single point of contact for engineering advice for the scope of their responsibility, including activity not necessarily under their direct command. In addition to any command responsibilities, delegated Preservation of Airworthiness responsibilities where applicable and specific items detailed in their Terms of Reference or contract, PEs are responsible for:

1. The establishment and operation of an organizational structure, in terms of personnel, procedures and geographical layout that provides a sound framework for safe, efficient and effective engineering activity.

2. The management, care, custody and security of all personnel and equipment assets within their charge.

3. The professional management of engineering resources under their control.

4. Ensuring that the required engineering standards and authorized practices are employed.

5. Compliance with the relevant orders and instructions issued by higher formation, contracting authority or Host Nation.

6. The efficient engineering management of technical equipment including aircraft for which they are responsible.

7. Ensuring that an integrated Quality Management System and Quality ethos exist across all support activities.

b. Subordinate Engineers\textsuperscript{19}. Subordinate Engineers (SE), are engineer officers, warrant officers, or civilians of equivalent status and exceptionally SNCOs, who are responsible to the PE for the performance of their engineering duties. SEs may include personnel not directly under command of the PE. They are responsible for:

\textsuperscript{19} For RN read ‘Subordinate Air Engineers’.
(1) Advising the PE on all engineering matters appropriate to their appointment.

(2) The professional management of engineering resources under their control.

(3) Ensuring that the required engineering standards and authorized practices are employed.

(4) The efficient engineering management of technical equipment including aircraft for which they are responsible.

c. Engineering Tradesmen\(^\text{20}\).

(1) Managers. Managers\(^\text{21}\) are responsible to their immediate superiors, service or civilian, for the efficient management of resources within their area of control and for controlling the quality and quantity of work produced. These responsibilities apply also to NCOs who are placed in charge of bays, sections or flights.

(2) Supervisors. Supervisors\(^\text{22}\) are responsible to the appropriate managers, service or civilian, or subordinate engineer where no managers are established, for the engineering administration, appropriate to their ranks and appointments, of the duties of their trades. They are responsible for supervising the work done by the tradesmen under their control, for ensuring that correct engineering standards and practices are used, for assuring the quality and completeness of the work undertaken, and for the further development of the skills and knowledge of their subordinate tradesmen.

(3) Operatives. Operatives\(^\text{23}\) are to be employed in the maintenance of technical equipment including aircraft. Supervisors may also be employed as operatives, as circumstances require. Operatives are responsible to their supervisors, service or civilian, for carrying out tasks as directed and in accordance with correct trade practices and the relevant regulations and procedures. Operatives are also responsible for the quality and completeness of their work and where authorized to self-supervise will have responsibility for the work they undertake when acting as a self-supervisor.

Adjutant General’s Corps

25. Adjutant General's Corps (AGC) is responsible for the effective and efficient provision of ‘A’ services, less medical, to the Army in peace and war. The constituent branches of the AGC are:

   a. Staff and Personnel Support Branch (SPS).

   b. Provost Branch (Pro).

   c. Educational and Training Services Branch (ETS).

   d. Army Legal Services Branch (ALS).

Staff and Personnel Support

26. The Staff and Personnel Support branch is responsible for the efficient and smooth delivery of personnel administration to the Army.

\(^\text{20}\) For RN read ‘Air Engineering Technicians’.

\(^\text{21}\) For RAF normally OR7 to OR9 subject to appointment.

\(^\text{23}\) For RAF normally OR2 or OR3.
27. The Director Staff and Personnel Support (Army) is responsible to the Director General Adjutant General's Corps for the direction, provision and inspection of professional and efficient staff and personnel support for the Army, and advice thereon.

28. The functions carried out by the Staff and Personnel Support Branch are:

   a. Staff Support.

      (1) Clerical support in headquarters in peace and war.

      (2) The development of clerical procedures in line with advances in technology and procedures in commerce and industry.

   b. Personnel Administration.

      (1) The maintenance and updating of individual personnel records in accordance with the Unit Documentation Manual.

      (2) Regimental Administrative Office procedures.

   c. Pay and Pensions. The assessment and issue of regulated pay and allowances (and recovery of charges) to all officers and soldiers of the Regular and Reserve Army, including the Gurkha forces and locally enlisted personnel.

   d. Service Funds. The development and implementation of policy for the management of service funds, including devising the methods of accounting and audit to be used throughout the Army and compiling the appropriate regulations and instructions.

   e. Public Fund Accounting.

      (1) Formal instruction on financial procedures.

      (2) Meeting the requirements of the Inland Revenue and other Government departments.

      (3) Making day to day payments as authorized, bringing receipts and payments to account and scrutinizing the financial regularity of such transactions.

      (4) Managing the Army's Feeder Suspense Budgets.

29. The Director Staff and Personnel Support (Army) is represented in commands and districts by Commanders AGC SPS.

Provost

30. The Provost Branch of the Adjutant General's Corps comprises the Royal Military Police (RMP), the Military Provost Staff (MPS), and the Military Provost Guard Service (MPGS). The mission of Provost is:

   “To provide the necessary military police, custodial and guarding service to the Army in order to ensure military effectiveness”\(^{24}\)

\(^{24}\) Military effectiveness is the standard by which the Army is judged in peace and war – British Military Doctrine (BMD), Chapter 4.
a. Provost contributes to military effectiveness by assisting in sustaining the environment within which military capability can be generated and fighting power applied, allowing the Army to fulfil its mission by maintaining its commanders’ freedom of action.

b. The major roles\(^{25}\) of Provost are:

(1) To regulate.
(2) To protect.
(3) To inform.

c. Regulation. The main tasks of regulation are:

(1) Traffic Control
(2) Law Enforcement.
(3) Custody.
(4) Command Support.

d. Protection. The main tasks of protection are:

(1) Crime Reduction.
(2) Security\(^{26}\).
(3) Close Protection.
(4) Force Protection\(^{27}\).

e. Information. The main tasks of information are:

(1) Incident Investigation\(^{28}\).
(2) Situational Information
(3) Provost Advice.
(4) Liaison.

31. The principles of employing Provost units and personnel are:

a. Legitimate Authority. All Provost activity must be underpinned by the appropriate authority. To ensure requires Provost representation within the staff at all levels.

\(^{25}\) In addition to the roles undertaken to ensure military effectiveness, Provost may be called upon to support other Government departments, when the tasks of the Branch have wider utility.

\(^{26}\) In this context, security tasks are those that contribute to limiting vulnerability to hostile activities and threats.

\(^{27}\) In this context, Force Protection tasks are those that contribute to the limiting of non-combatant losses.

\(^{28}\) a. Provost Marshal (Army) is the Competent Army Authority for RMP investigations being responsible for the conduct and direction of all such investigations, reporting to the Adjutant General, through the Deputy Adjutant General.

b. When conducting criminal investigations RMP act independently of the chain of command and are not to be subject to any undue interference or influence prior to concluding their investigation and reporting to a Commanding Officer. (See QR(Army) para 6.046).

c. Incident investigation also includes non-criminal investigations conducted by RMP on behalf of the Army.
b. Responsive Support. Provost is an enabler, focused on supporting the commander’s concept of operations. This determines the shift of emphasis within the roles and tasks. Thus, Provost support is provided in response to commanders’ demands, albeit how that support is provided is the decision of the Provost commander.

c. Central Command/Decentralized Execution. The execution of Provost tasks requires careful deployment and control of scarce assets. To meet this requirement, the Provost Concept of Operations is best developed at formation level, albeit effective execution will normally require considerable dispersal of assets and significant low level autonomy in order to achieve the necessary degree of flexibility in response to a rapidly changing situation.

d. Effective Communication. Provost support demands the ability to pass necessary information in a timely and effective manner. This requires extensive liaison, substantial patrolling and robust communications systems.

Education and Training Services

32. The function of the Educational and Training Services (ETS) Branch of the Adjutant General’s Corps (AGC) is to implement and give advice on the system of educational training and resettlement approved by the Army Board. To this end it is responsible for:

a. Providing career education and enabling personal development opportunities in line with current government educational policy.

b. Liaison with the Department for Education (DfE) and the Department for Business, Innovation and Skills (BIS), government educational and educational funding agencies, Regulatory authorities, Awarding bodies, Higher Education institutions and Further Education Colleges.

c. Contribution to the work of other Regulatory Authorities Inspectorates such as Qualification and Curriculum Authority (Compliance and Investigation) Department.

e. Educational and training research.

f. Providing facilities for voluntary educational and recreational activities in Army Education Centres (AEC) for troops world-wide and their dependants and United Kingdom based civilians overseas.

g. Language training for Army Personnel.

h. Training Unit Resettlement Staff, providing second line resettlement advice, liaison with the Directorate of Training, Education, Skills and Resettlement (TESR), assistance in the development of tri-Service policy on resettlement and the formulation of resettlement policy for the Army.

i. Policy for the provision of and arrangements for the education of Service children overseas.

j. Directing the Youth Service in support of service families in overseas commands.
k. Providing postgraduate training development advisors to fill designated training development consultancy posts in the Army.

l. The Army proponent for library and information services.

33. Details of the duties of the AGC (ETS) Branch are contained in the Manual of Army Education (AC 60178).

Army Legal Services

34. The Army Legal Services Branch of the Adjutant General's Corps is headed by the Director General of Army Legal Services (DGALS), who has five main functions:

a. DGALS is responsible to the Adjutant General for the provision of all legal advice to the Army. This includes legal support on discipline and administrative law policy and casework, international and operational law, employment law and legislation.

b. DGALS is the Army's Principal Legal Adviser to The Army Board and Service Complaint Panel.

c. DGALS provides legal support to the Adjutant General as the Army Inspector.

d. DGALS is responsible for providing Army prosecutors to the Tri-Service Service Prosecuting Authority.

e. Lastly, DGALS is responsible to the Adjutant General for the administration of Army Legal Services (ALS) and the recruitment and career management of all ALS officers as Service Director and Head of Arm for the ALS.

CHAPTER 5
UNIT COMMAND, CONTROL AND ADMINISTRATION

PART 1 - GENERAL

Introduction

5.001. The regulations in this chapter cover the duties, responsibilities and powers of officers commanding units (See para 1.007). All officers should make themselves familiar with its contents.

Responsibilities

5.002. In the exercise of the general responsibilities listed in para 3.001 a Commanding Officer (CO) is to comply with relevant regulations and instructions in a common sense manner. They must, by constant endeavour and advice, seek to promote high morale and encourage initiative within their unit.

5.003. An officer holding an authorised appointment of second in command of a unit is, irrespective of seniority, to exercise command over all other officers serving within that unit except the officer appointed to command. The second in command is to act for and take the place of the CO whenever necessary, and to be the CO's chief assistant in the training of the unit. They should not normally be responsible for administrative work such as control of the regimental institutes, or the sergeants' mess.

5.004. All officers are to make themselves thoroughly acquainted with the professional abilities and achievements of Service personnel (SP) placed under their supervision. They are also to bring to the timely notice of the CO any signs of deterioration of any aspect of unit life.

Security

5.005. A CO is responsible for the security of their command and for issuing security instructions in accordance with the provisions of JSP 440^{40} and the advice of security staffs.

Military aid to the civil authorities

5.006. When assistance is called for by the civil authorities, either for the maintenance of peace and public order or in peacetime emergencies, the procedure to be applied is to be as laid down in Chapter 11, as supplemented from time to time by Defence Instructions and Notices (DINs).

Interviews

5.007. It is to be regarded as a matter of importance that every SP is interviewed by the CO on leaving as well as on joining a unit. The keynote to be maintained is one of comradeship and appreciation, in recognition of Service given to the unit and to the Army.

Leave

a. Leave other than that granted as a terminal benefit on normal retirement, discharge or transfer to the Army Reserve, and as a statutory entitlement, is granted to serving SP at the discretion of COs in accordance with the rules laid down in the Army Leave Manual (AC 13216) as amplified periodically by DINs. The principles of financial assistance towards the cost of leave travel are laid down in Regulations for Army Allowances and Charges (AC10).

b. Leave should not be withheld without good Service reason. As far as possible, subject to the needs of the Service and the rules laid down for specific forms of leave, SP should be allowed to take leave for which they are eligible as and when they desire it.

Service inquiries

5.009. All regulations for Service Inquiries are contained in JSP 83241.

Absence

5.010. Procedures to follow concerning absence are to be found in JSP 83042 and Army Command Standing Order 3200.

Enquiries from Members of Parliament

a. All official enquiries made by Members of Parliament are to be referred to the Ministry of Defence (MOD) for reply. When, exceptionally, an immediate answer is necessary, eg where a Member of Parliament requests factual information in order to allay relatives’ anxiety, reference should be made in office hours to the Private Secretary to the appropriate minister if possible before a reply is given, otherwise as soon as possible afterwards. Urgent enquiries out of office hours are to be reported to the Resident Clerk, MOD, Main Building, Whitehall, who will notify the appropriate Private Secretary.

b. Written communications on official matters from Members of Parliament or from persons who state that they are prospective Parliamentary candidates must be acknowledged and the writer informed that the matter is being referred to the MOD for consideration and reply. The letter, or a full account of a conversation if applicable, together with a detailed report, is to be forwarded without delay to the appropriate Minister’s office in accordance with current instructions.

c. In this regulation, the term ‘Members of Parliament’ means members of both Houses of the United Kingdom Parliament, and of any other legislature, including foreign and Commonwealth legislatures.

Enquiries regarding SP

5.012. Addresses of serving or discharged SP, Army reservists or pensioners are maintained for administrative purposes. They are not normally disclosed to outside enquirers unless the SP’s consent has been obtained, legal proceedings are involved, or specific exception is made in DINs.

41 Guide to Service inquiries
42 The Manual of Service Law
Enquiries should be directed to the Disclosures 1 Section at the Army Personnel Centre (APC), Glasgow. When an address is refused an offer should be made to forward prepaid correspondence to the last recorded address.

5.013. Inquiries from close relatives or known friends of a SP who is on the sick list (Very Seriously Ill List or Seriously Ill List) are to be answered by an officer, who is to give the best available information about the SP’s progress but is not to disclose the nature of the medical condition. Divulging the nature of the wound, injury or illness is rarely necessary and, to comply with UK legislation, may only be done if Operational Effectiveness (OE) is not to be prejudiced. Replies to inquiries from SP not on the sick list should confirm this and the SP’s direction sought on further disclosure. A record of inquiries is to be kept and passed to the SP or next of kin at regular intervals.

5.014. In the case of death which occurred within 25 years of the date of the enquiry, the enquirer may be informed of the date and place but discretion must be exercised in disclosing the cause. Requests for information where death occurred more than 25 years ago should be answered in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 2000 and the MOD Publications Scheme. Where guidance is required in answering queries involving the death of a SP reference should be made to Head Army Personnel Services Group (APSG) or Chief Information Officer.

Visits by Members of Parliament to SP in Service custody or detention J5.015. At the discretion of the CO, a Member of a United Kingdom Parliament or devolved assembly may visit a SP who is in Service custody or detention. If in a particular instance the CO is in any doubt, or considers that the visit should not be permitted, or if the request to visit is made by a Member of any other legislature, the CO should consult Hd APSG.

5.016. Reserved.

Bands

J5.017. Instructions for Service band engagements and certain other general instructions applicable to bands in all three Services are contained in JSP 813.43

Education

5.018. COs are responsible for ensuring that the maximum possible use is made of the services provided by the Adjutant General’s Corps, Educational and Training Services Branch (AGC(ETS)), an outline of which is given in Annex A to this Chapter and Annex B to Chapter 4, paras 32 - 33. Details of the responsibilities for, and the conduct of, Army education, including language training, Service children’s education overseas, resettlement and library services, are contained in the JSP 822 and DINs.

Casualty procedures

5.019. Instructions concerning the reports of deaths of SP and of casualties in general are contained in JSP 751.46

43 Instructions for Service bands and military musicians 44 This Para and associated Annex are currently under review.
45 Defence direction and guidance for training and education
46 Joint Casualty and Compassionate Policy and Procedures Safety precautions for marching troops

J5.020. When formed bodies of more than five troops are moving on foot on public roads, they are to move on the same side and direction as the traffic. Where there is a need to use a busy route, a risk assessment is to be carried out. Markers, wearing the yellow high visibility vests, at all times, are to be posted at a suitable distance to the front and rear to warn drivers of approaching troops. Additional markers (similarly attired) may be required along the side of large bodies of troops. In darkness, or in conditions of poor visibility two white lights are to be shown to the front of the formed body and two red lights to the rear to indicate the width of the column. In poor visibility, a vehicle is to be driven behind the rear markers. Where the width of the road is restricted to single-flow traffic and movement is still essential, markers should be supplemented by vehicles. Signals given by markers are to be restricted to warning traffic that there is an obstruction ahead. On no account are markers to direct traffic. Instructions on the signals to be used should be given to the markers. Formed bodies are to obey all traffic regulations.

Registration of births, marriages and deaths

5.021. COs are responsible for ensuring that registration by SP of births, marriages and deaths is duly completed. (See paras 7.082-7.085).

Commercial sponsorship

Sponsor: Defence Authority for Financial Management and Approvals

J5.022. Commercial sponsorship has a useful part to play in the furtherance of certain Service activities, notably sporting events. However, in undertaking sponsorship arrangements, the overriding consideration is that the Services should not engage in the active sales promotion of any commercial product, or in any activity which could be regarded as bringing the Armed Forces into disrepute. Details are contained in JSP 462, Financial Management and Charging Policy Manual, Part 2, Chapter 7 Sponsorship.

Inventions, patents and awards

Sponsor: Defence Intellectual Property Rights

J5.023. Instructions on the administration of inventions, the control of patents and the grant of financial awards to SP or civilian employees in respect to inventions or suggestions of a technical or non-technical nature can be obtained from the Defence Intellectual Property Rights (DIPR).

A CO’s powers to authorize stop and search – SP, Service premises and belongings of SP

J5.024. See JSP 830, Vol 1, Ch 4.

5.025 – 5.060. Reserved.
PART 2 – PERSONAL CONDUCT AND EFFICIENCY

Attitudes towards subordinates

5.061. Officers, Warrant Officers (WOs) and Non Commissioned Officers (NCOs) are to adopt towards subordinates such methods of command and treatment as will ensure respect for authority and foster the feelings of self-respect and personal honour essential to military efficiency. They are not to use intemperate language or adopt an offensive manner. Officers and WOs are not to be reproved in the presence of subordinates. Similarly NCOs are not to be reproved in the presence or hearing of private soldiers.

Civil conviction

5.062. A SP who has been summonsed or ordered to appear before a civil court with a criminal offence is at once to report the circumstances to their CO (see AGAI 67 for action following a conviction). This paragraph does not apply to minor road traffic offences under the Road Traffic Act unless they result in disqualification. AGAI 65 should be consulted and COs should regularly repeat this requirement in unit routine orders.

Debt and bankruptcy

J5.063. A SP who has a receiving order in bankruptcy made against them or files a petition for bankruptcy or who is unable to meet their financial commitments is to report the facts immediately to their CO. The CO is, if necessary, to report the matter, with their recommendations, to Hd APSG, Personnel Services through the Chain of Command (CoC).

J5.064. The MoneyForce programme is aimed at SP and their specific problems and aims to assist the SP and their CO with financial concerns by providing sound guidance and education. All trainees will be introduced to MoneyForce in Phase 2 training and A Self-Help Guide to dealing with Personal Debt (Army Code 63968) is also available.

Resignation of rank and removal from appointment other than for disciplinary reasons

5.065. For the conditions under which a WO or NCO may voluntarily revert to a lower rank or be reduced for reasons other than disciplinary ones see Chapter 9, Part 3, which also lays down the administrative procedure to be followed.

Laudatory orders; testimonials

a. The publication of laudatory orders when a SP leaves their establishment or unit or when they relinquish an appointment is forbidden.

b. Written testimonials may be provided by COs and other senior officers only at the request of those who are about to leave the Service or who have recently left it, but see also 9.460 – 9.463.

c. (Army only). In preparing testimonials for officers, COs and other senior officers may have access to an expurgated copy of the manning card of the officer concerned which can

87 Administrative Action.
88 Civil offences and attendance at court and legal proceedings be obtained from the officer in question or through their Career Management Division. Officers writing testimonials should ensure that the under mentioned points are covered:

(1) The period during which the officer served under their command.

(2) A brief description of the duties on which the officer has been employed and the way in which they have carried them out. It is important that this should be in terms which will be intelligible and helpful to a civil employer, e.g., it is not sufficient merely to state ‘Employed as adjutant’ or ‘Employed as SO3 G3 (Ops O&D’).

(3) An assessment of the officer’s general character, with particular reference to such qualities as personality, address and tact, force of character, powers of command, resourcefulness etc. In this connection should an officer writing a testimonial feel obliged, exceptionally, to refer to a former disciplinary matter, they must ensure that they do not contravene the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (see 6.183). This Act makes it an offence to divulge certain civil and military convictions which are deemed ‘spent’ after a specified period of time (See 2014DIN01-216).

(4) Particulars of any special qualifications the officer may possess, and any special aptitude they may have shown in matters not directly concerned with their Service duties.

(5) A statement to the effect that the testimonial is given from personal knowledge of the applicant, and that a statement of Service based on the whole of the applicant’s Service career can be obtained from the applicant, or, if not in their possession, with their written consent, from Disclosures 1 at the APC quoting the officer’s personal number.

d. (Army only). Drugs discharge testimonials are to include the following words:

(1) Positive CDT – Service terminated for a positive drug test in respect of a Class A, B or C drug.

(2) Admit use of a controlled drug – Service terminated following the admission of taking a Class A, B or C drug.

(3) Civil conviction for possession of drugs – Service terminated following the possession of a Class A, B or C drug.

The corresponding grading of their Army Service is to be UNSATISFACTORY.

5.067. An officer is forbidden to forward testimonials relating to their Service or character with any application that they make to the MOD. If they wish for the opinions of officers under whom they have served to be obtained, they are to submit their names so that, if necessary, reference may be made to them.

Subscriptions and presents

J5.068. Subscriptions from SP for the purpose of a presentation should normally be permitted only when the SP concerned leaves the Service; in no case is the subscription fund to be the subject of official orders.
Acceptance of gifts, rewards and hospitality

a. SP, when acting in an official capacity, should not be placed in a position where their actions might give the impression to anyone, inside or outside the Service, that they may have been or might be influenced to show favour or disfavour to any person or organisation by the receiving of any gift, reward, hospitality, loan or other consideration. SP should have regard not only to whether they feel themselves to have been influenced, but also to the impression that their actions will create on others.

b. The acceptance of a gift, reward, hospitality or other consideration will be allowed only in exceptional circumstances and, when SP receive such offers, they should normally be refused. Hospitality books are to be kept by every MOD business area and military unit that has contact with outside individuals or organisations that currently hold (or could be expected to hold in future) Government contracts. Hospitality logs must record all offers of hospitality, gifts, complimentary vouchers and other incentives that are made whether the offer is accepted or declined. All military staff at 1* and above must maintain their own individual hospitality logs. Gifts or hospitality should only be accepted if:

1. Acceptance is in the defence interest and supports business objectives.
2. Personal judgement and integrity are not compromised, nor could be seen to be compromised.
3. Acceptance stands up to public scrutiny.
4. It has been cleared through line management or CoC if not 1* level or above. More senior Defence personnel are to exercise very careful judgement about the offers they receive.
5. Where refusal might offend (for example when a gift is offered by a foreign Head of State, Government or governmental organization) the item should be accepted and then surrendered to the MOD for disposal. If the donor is likely to pay a reciprocal visit it might be appropriate temporarily to retain and display the item. In these circumstances, TLB Corporate Governance staff should be notified that the gift has been retained.

c. Any offer that could be construed as an inducement or bribe (including an offer of lavish hospitality) is to be reported immediately to the CO.

d. The same considerations apply to offers made to relatives or friends, where those offers are made because of a relationship or association with a member of the Armed Forces.

e. MOD approval must be obtained before a presentation to, or exchange of gifts with, a representative of the government or armed forces of another country is initiated on behalf of Her Majesty's Government as a charge to public funds.

f. Overseas, and particularly in countries where gifts of appreciation are common, SP are to exercise great caution in accepting a gift and any gift must be reported. Where a CoC does not exist the Defence/Military Attaché should be informed or in their absence the British Embassy or High Commission. Where a presentation has been made on departure from a host country, at an airport or port, and the recipient is clearly unable to report the acceptance of a gift in the country where it was presented, the recipient should declare the gift to Customs and Excise on arrival in the UK, explain the circumstances of its presentation and that it is to be reported to TLB Corporate Governance staff. Whether the gift is described as personal or official the Customs and Excise will probably hold the gift in bond and give a receipt which should be forwarded to TLB Corporate Governance staff when reporting the acceptance of the gift. SP should not pay duty on the gift and retain it since it may later have to be surrendered and the SP cannot be reimbursed.

g. In any cases of doubt, SP should seek advice through their CoC to TLB Corporate Governance staff. Detailed instructions on the acceptance of gifts, rewards and hospitality are issued by the Army Corporate Governance Team in DINs.

Non-military activities

5.070. No member of the regular Army is permitted without the express permission of the Defence Council to use official knowledge to assist officially any private association that is not recognized by the Defence Councils as forming part of the Army or of the educational and training establishments.

5.071. SP may not give displays at local fetes or exhibitions without the permission of the district or divisional commander. An officer or WO is to be present at any such display.

Payments from government sources

J5.072. It is a well-established rule that when a Crown servant, particularly with the help of official information or official experience or in official time, produces or does something which, though not part of their official duties, is of value to the Government, they shall not receive the full price which would be paid to a person outside the public Service for the same activity. This rule has been modified to the extent that payments to Crown servants over and above the normal salary, for activities outside the scope of their duties and involving no use of official time, are calculated on the same basis as payments to persons outside the public Service for the same activity.

Payments for broadcasts, lectures and writing

5.073. Payments for broadcasts on official subjects on sound radio or television, or for lectures or written work for publication are dealt with in para J12.022.

Relationship with non-Service business

a. SP must at all times guard against being placed in such a position as may leave them open to the suspicion of being influenced in the discharge of their duty by other than purely public considerations. They must be scrupulously careful in their relationships and in any private dealings with Government contractors and their agents or employees. They are forbidden to furnish testimonials to any company, firm or person in respect of the quality of commodities supplied for Service purposes.

b. If a SP has, in the course of their duty, come into contact with any matter concerning a business organisation in which they have an interest they are to disclose that interest to their superior officer and ask that some other person may deal with the case. They should not be permitted to deal with the case without the approval of the MOD.
Acceptance of business appointments

J5.075. The Service will only restrict the off-duty activities of its SP where necessary and justifiable. The Services have a responsibility to the nation to provide immediate and constant operational capability. Such unique responsibilities require SP to work and operate in a way that may be different from those in civilian employment. In some circumstances therefore, it is necessary for the Service to place restrictions on the private lives of its members. This is to ensure that they can properly exercise their functions as SP and to protect the efficiency and/or OE of the Service as a whole. In accordance with the European Convention of Human Rights, a CO may only restrict the activities of a SP so as to protect or safeguard:

a. National security (which includes maintaining the OE of the Army).

b. Public safety or the economic well-being of the UK.

c. The prevention of disorder or crime.

d. The protection of health or morals.

e. The protection of the rights and freedom of others.

J5.076. SP wishing to take up business appointments or to seek off-duty employment, during Service are required to seek approval from their CO. Each application is to be considered fairly, impartially and separately by the CO of the applicant. COs are to give full weight to the unique nature and demands of the Service when assessing an application against the criteria set out below.

Guiding principles

Army sponsor for this para is AFPP

J5.077. Service duty takes precedence over all other forms of employment and SP may be required to be available for Service on demand. To ensure that the interests of the Service are protected, SP may not, without authority, accept any form of employment during Service. Certain types of employment may be barred to SP because of the potential for the duties of the employment to conflict with Service duty. However, SP may be authorised by their CO to hold business appointments, carry out a profession or trade, or undertake other employment where:

a. The activity does not involve the use of official time or affect the SP’s efficiency as a member of their Service or in any way interfere with any of their Service duties.

b. The activity does not involve the use of official information or resources.

c. Service uniform is not worn and the SP must not represent themselves as a member of the Armed Forces.

d. The activity will not bring the Service into disrepute.

Insurance covering civil employment

5.078. The MOD will in no circumstances accept any responsibility for injury, loss or damage to the applicants or other parties' property arising out of the SP's employment outside their official duties. The CO should therefore advise them to ensure that they are adequately covered by insurance.
Guidance to COs considering requests from SP to take up paid civilian employment during off-duty periods

J5.079. Requests to undertake civilian employment during off-duty periods will not be authorised where the activity will bring the Service into disrepute. In considering requests for such employment, COs must take into account not only whether such employment complies with the specific requirements at J5.076 – 5.078, but also how such employment may be perceived by the public and the media. In particular, they should consider:

a. Nature of the employment. For example, some private security roles require the regular deployment of physical force which may be adversely portrayed if it becomes apparent that serving members of the Armed Forces are involved.

b. Ethos of the organisation. For example, some organisations may be perceived as having a ‘political’ agenda because they adopt a campaigning stance on certain controversial issues. Care must be taken that a formal employment relationship with such an organisation does not appear to compromise the political neutrality of the Armed Forces.

c. Conflict of interest. There must be no conflict of interest between the SP’s Service duties and those required by their civilian employer.

d. Remuneration. SP will already be drawing a salary from the Armed Forces. Care must be taken to avoid the perception that civil employment during off-duty periods detracts from availability for military duties. At the more senior levels (1* level and above), including during terminal leave, an officer drawing significant remuneration from a civilian employer while still in receipt of a substantial salary from the Armed Forces may attract criticism. The perception may be compounded if their new employer is another public sector organisation, or defence industry partner. In the latter circumstances, the presumption is that permission will not be granted.

e. Other benefits. Care should be taken to ensure that there are no non-financial benefits resulting from a formal relationship with a civilian employer that could attract criticism.

If a CO judges that any of the factors above are likely to bring the Service into disrepute they should decline the request.

Business, professional and trade appointments

5.080. Subject to paras J5.080a - J5.080b below, a CO may approve applications for continuous, temporary or part-time employment where a SP wishes to:

a. Carry on a profession or a trade;

b. Be a member of a governing body of any corporation, company or undertaking, or any partnership engaged in any trade or carrying on any profession;

c. Assist, advise or act directly or indirectly as an agent for any corporation, company, partnership, undertaking or individual which or who is carrying on any profession or is engaged in trade or is profitably employed.

5.081. COs are to satisfy themselves that applications submitted under para J5.080 contain an undertaking that:

a. The conditions at para J5.077 a – d are met;
b. Applicants understand the importance of securing appropriate commercial insurance as outlined at para 5.078.

c. They will take no part in activities that could give rise to a reasonable suspicion that they have used or could use information gained as a result of their Service to further any business interest, be it their own or otherwise.

d. They will take no part in transactions between the firm or enterprise and the Services or any department or branches of the Government or any semi-public organization brought into being by the Government.

e. They understand that no special facilities such as leave of absence will be granted and that approval will not debar them being required to serve, whether afloat or ashore, at home or abroad.

f. They will inform their new CO of the nature and extent of their business activities each time they are posted/attached or following a change in the type of employment.

Applications general

5.082. Applications from SP should be submitted to COs through the normal CoC. The type of employment and the duties required to be carried out should be clearly described by the applicant. A CO when considering an application submitted in accordance with para 5.080 should exercise particular care where SP seek approval for employment in certain roles where interference or conflict with a SP’s ability to meet or carry out the full range of their duties may be reasonably anticipated. In addition to the general criteria at para 5.077, COs should pay particular attention to the following areas of employment:

a. Special constable. The duties of a special constable are such that they have clear potential to conflict with duties carried out as an element of military aid to the civilian authorities. It is, therefore, most unlikely that a police authority would seek to employ SP in such a position. Further, attestation as a constable will inevitably give rise to a conflict between police and Service duties. Special constables fall under the direction and control of the Chief Officer of police and provide a reserve capability to the police. Consequently, an application to become a special constable should not be approved.

b. Security staff. COs should be careful to ensure that the exact nature of the duties is described in the application. A CO would need to consider the likelihood that secondary circumstances, beyond the immediate requirements of the employment (e.g. court appearances as a witness following a fracas) might affect a SP’s ability to fulfil their operational commitments. Jobs where confrontation with members of the public may take place or the use of physical force is likely should be avoided.

c. Insurance or financial agent. The purchase of insurance or financial products requires careful thought and consideration and is best achieved following the acquisition of professional and independent advice. COs should consider carefully all applications for this form of employment and in particular they will wish to know if SP are to be potential clients. Because of the strict rank structure within the Service, COs will need to consider whether rank might have a bearing on some aspects of sales, or whether the product on offer may gain an endorsement or undue authority based upon the rank or position of the SP selling the product.

d. Commercial advertisements. Participation in commercial advertisements may have the potential to give the impression that the Service endorse or have a view on a commercial product, Service or political position. Applicants must therefore provide the fullest details so that a CO may consider whether:

(1) The SP would be identified as a serving member of the Service;

(2) The Service would be directly or indirectly associated with the advertisement;

(3) The SP’s participation might align them, or the Service, with any political position.

e. RAF fire-fighter. Trade Group 8 RAF fire-fighter may be employed as retained fire fighters by the local authorities; however, the employing authority must be made aware in writing that:

(1) An RAF fire-fighter employed as a retained fire-fighter must not be called out on local authority duties within the two hour period preceding their RAF start duty time.

(2) The RAF reserves the right to recall instantly a retained fire-fighter to duty, without recourse to reason, whilst they are on duty with a local authority.

f. Trade dispute. SP may become members of civilian trade union and professional associations in order to enhance their trade skills and professional knowledge and as an aid to resettlement into civilian life. They are not to participate in industrial action or in any form of political activity organized by civilian trade unions or professional associations where it is believed that a trade dispute is in progress, in order to safeguard the reputation of the Service, COs should not authorize, or should withdraw authorization given in respect of off-duty employment with that organization. Where there is doubt about the existence of a trade dispute, the CO should refer the matter through their CoC, with full details and recommendations.

5.083. Referral to APSG. Where uncertainty exists on any matter associated with an application the case should be referred through the local CoC to APSG (Conduct). Each case should be accompanied by full facts of the case and wherever possible, should include the CO’s recommendation. Once the application is approved a certificate of acceptance, at Annex B to this chapter will be forwarded to the applicant and is to be returned direct to APSG once completed.

J5.084. SP leaving the Regular Forces may accept permanent or temporary employment in accordance with the requirements set out above. These requirements apply to SP who wish to commence civil employment during terminal leave or other annual leave added to it. SP may not take up civil employment during:

a. Terminal leave in an operational theatre.

b. A resettlement course or civilian working attachment.

External employment covered by the business appointment rules

J5.085. The business appointment rules apply to SP (WO equivalent and above) who intend to take up an outside appointment or employment after leaving the Services. The operation of these rules is overseen by the independent Advisory Committee on Business Appointments (ACOBA). The approval process for applications under the rules differs depending on the applicant’s seniority. The rules continue to apply for two years after the last day of paid Service employment.

J5.086. Before accepting any new appointment or employment, whether in the UK or overseas, which they intend to take up after they have left the Services, all serving/former SP must consider whether an application under the rules is required. Applications must be submitted on HR Form 038: MOD Business Appointment Application. COs should take into account the guidance at Annex C (J) when considering a request for external employment prior to making a final decision.

Moneylending

J5.087. SP are forbidden to engage in moneylending or to borrow money from their subordinates.

Gambling

J5.088. Except as provided in paras J5.089 and J5.090 below, all forms of gambling and bookmaking (or acting as an agent for a bookmaker) are forbidden in units. The purpose of prohibiting gambling among SP is to prevent the disharmony or erosion in discipline that may occur where one SP is in debt to another SP, or where one SP makes a financial gain at the expense of another SP. In particular, where one SP is financially indebted to another SP this may lead to ill-feeling, conflict or the distortion of Command relationships.

J5.089. The advent of on-line gambling provides SP with the opportunity to gamble by electronic means. While on a Service establishment, SP are prohibited from gambling online or by other electronic means with other SP who are assigned to their unit or form part of their CoC.

J5.090. UK legislation prevents organisations or individuals from offering or running gambling facilities unless they are licensed by the Gambling Commission. Merely by providing Wi-Fi services, and thereby enabling SP to gamble on-line, establishments do not breach this legislation. So long as SP do not contravene para J5.089 above, SP may access on-line gambling facilities using Wi-Fi facilities provide by the Service. However, standing orders should highlight to SP the risks of engaging in gambling.

J5.091. Any proposal to hold a lottery or sweepstake or to permit any other form of gambling is to be referred to the CO. If they agree to the proposal they are to issue such instructions as they consider necessary to ensure that the provisions of the Gambling Act 2005 are complied with. Outside Great Britain they are to satisfy themselves that there is no infringement of local law.

Intoxicating liquor

5.092. It is forbidden to introduce intoxicating liquor into any part of Army barracks or camps, other than mess premises, institutes and married quarters, without the specific permission of the CO (see AGAIs 5349 and 6350).

Unacceptable behaviour

a. Every CO is to ensure that the behaviour of members of their unit is always maintained in accordance with the Army’s Values and Standards, and is to issue such orders as are necessary to achieve this.

b. Commanders may prohibit activities by SP that adversely affect good order and discipline. Such activities include any that may bring the Service into disrepute or cause offence to the public, local civilians, or other SP, or are otherwise inconsistent with the standards and good reputation of the Service.

49 Barrack regimes and living out by single SP.
50 Alcohol policy.
c. It is inconsistent with the responsibilities of military Service for SP to hold membership of, to receive literature from, to be present at an event connected with, or otherwise participate in the affairs or activities of extremist groups proscribed by the Home Secretary.

5.094. Any SP who behaves in a manner which their CO considers to be unacceptable is to be warned as to their future conduct in accordance with AGAI 67. The most recent version of Values and Standards of the British Army (AC 63813) is replicated at Annex B to Chapter 3, Part 4 and if necessary a report is to be submitted in accordance with JSP 440, Ch 2, Part 6, Annex C.

5.095. In aggravated cases, or cases in which SP persist in such activities after a warning has been given, those SP should be considered for administrative discharge. (See para 9.405 or 9.414 for soldiers and AGAI 67 for officers).

Misuse of drugs

5.096. The policy for dealing with substance misuse is in AGAI 6451. The Army message on substance misuse is very clear: SP who fail a drugs test, or are convicted of a drugs-related offence are to be discharged52. SP dismissed or discharged from the Service for drugs related conduct will not be allowed to re-join the Service except where a conviction is spent under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (ROA 74).

5.097 – 5.101. Reserved.

Compulsory Drug Testing (CDT)

J5.102. Tri-Service policy on drug testing is implemented by the Armed Forces CDT teams, who are authorized to supervise the taking of urine samples from SP. Samples are subsequently analysed by an independent laboratory for the presence of controlled drugs, and COs notified of the results. Units, detachments or SP, wherever they are in the world, are liable to testing, which may be with or without prior notification. The team supervising a test may comprise members drawn from any of the 3 Services although the Army has administrative control of the Joint Armed Forces CDT programme.

J5.103. If a unit or detachment is visited by a CDT Team, or when a devolved CDT is authorized to be conducted in a unit or detachment, each officer, WO, NCO, rating, marine, private or airman is required to provide a urine sample when requested to do so by a drug testing officer. The following are authorized as drug testing officers:

a. Any officer, WO or NCO appointed or drafted to have immediate authority over or to serve as a member of a CDT Team;

b. Any officer, WO, or NCO assisting in the supervision of tests on the authority of a drug testing officer authorized in accordance with sub-para a above.

J5.104. Failure to provide a sample of urine when requested to do so by a drug testing officer is an offence under the Armed Forces Act 2006 (AFA 06). Substitution, adulteration or corruption of a sample may be construed as being a refusal to supply a specimen for analysis. Conviction of such an offence is likely to result in the punishment of dismissal from Her Majesty's Service, which may be accompanied by a sentence of detention for up to 2 years or imprisonment for no more than 51 weeks. (Army only: See para 9.414 for soldiers and AGAI 67 for officers).

52 Unless the sentence for that conviction is spent under ROA 74.
J5.105. SP who provide a urine sample that tests positive for a controlled drug will be individually notified of the result. Subsequently, they will be subject to administrative discharge in accordance with single Service regulations. Moreover, if investigations reveal evidence of further offences, disciplinary action may also be taken, and this would normally take precedence over any administrative action. (Army only: See para 9.414 for soldiers and AGAl 67 for officers.)

5.106 - 5.120. Reserved.
PART 3 - ORDERS AND DUTIES

Orders

   a. Orders and instructions received by COs and which are for observance by SP under their command are to be the subject of routine orders. All routine orders of a unit are to be duly signed and posted on recognized unit and sub unit notice boards and in messes and institutes throughout the unit for all SP to read.

   b. It is the duty of every SP to acquaint themselves with regulations and orders relevant to their unit's role and its administration. They are to be afforded facilities to enable them to keep abreast of changes and amendments to these matters, and ignorance of them will not be accepted as an excuse for their non-observance.

   c. A complete file of routine orders, is to be kept in the orderly room and another in the regimental institute and these are to be available for perusal by any SP. Copies of standing orders when issued, are to be kept in the orderly room, in the regimental institute, and in such other suitable places as the CO may direct, and they will be deemed to be sufficiently published.

   d. Routine orders are to be published weekly as a minimum and are to notify SP of weekly duties, make official announcements and inform SP of upcoming events. Topics that need to be covered periodically are at Annex D to this chapter and a useful guide is published on the Pers Cap Discipline webpage.

5.122. On returning from leave SP are to make themselves acquainted with all routine orders issued during their absence.

5.123. The 2IC automatically has the authority to publish routine orders in the CO’s absence. Any other officer in temporary command of a unit is not to issue any standing orders, or make permanent alterations to those which are at the time in force, unless CO powers have been granted to them. An officer, while absent from and not in control of their command, is not to issue regimental or other routine orders relating to such command.

Duties

5.124. An officer or WO is to be detailed in each unit as orderly officer to superintend regimental duties. In a major unit there will also be a field officer of the day or week, to whom the officer or WO will be responsible. When an officer or WO is on such duty they are to be free from all other periodic duties that may fall to their turn. The orderly officer is to attend parades and to perform such other incidental duties as do not interfere with the special duties for which they have been detailed. Similar rules are to apply to NCOs appointed for duty as orderly sergeant or corporal.

5.125. An officer, WO or NCO detailed in orders is not to exchange their duty with another without the permission of the authority by whom they were detailed.

5.126. SP are to be warned for all duties by means of the unit daily orders referred to in 5.121d. These orders are to be posted as early as practicable to enable soldiers who desire to quit barracks to acquaint themselves with the duties for the following day.
Delegated custody powers

5.127. See JSP 830, Vol 1, Ch 5.

Guards, picquets and police

5.128. The number of guards and picquets is to be kept to the minimum. They are to be replaced, wherever possible, by regimental provost staff. The standing orders of guards are to be kept up to date and so worded as to meet the needs for which the guard is mounted. The routine orders of the guard are to be read and explained to the SP on mounting.

5.129. All guards and armed parties, before going on duty, are to be inspected by the staff duty officer or staff orderly officer of the unit.

5.130. Every guard or armed party is at the end of its duty to be inspected and to have its arms examined before dismissal. In the case of an officer’s guard or armed party the SP will be dismissed by the commander after they have reported to any officer of superior rank present on the parade. If the commander of the guard is an NCO, a report will be made to the adjutant, orderly officer or warrant orderly officer before dismissal.

5.131 - 5.150. Reserved.
PART 4 - FIREARMS AND AMMUNITION
(for instructions concerning storage and accounting see Part 16)

Possession of firearms

a. Members of the Armed Forces, while serving, are exempt from the requirements of the Firearms Act 1968 as amended by the Firearms (Amendment) Act 1997 only in respect of firearms or ammunition held by them for use on duty in their capacity as members of the forces. SP are to take care to comply with the provisions of that Act in respect of any privately owned firearms or ammunition in their possession. (See Annex E(J) to this Chapter.)

b. (Army only). A SP is forbidden to carry, hold, or use a Service firearm except in connection with their duty as a SP, or to have Service ammunition in their possession unless authorised.

Issue of ammunition

5.152. Ammunition may be issued on the authority of the Duty Delivery Holder (DDH) for operations, training, guards and, when necessary, to escorts provided for arms and ammunition. It may also be issued when specially authorized by the Operating Duty Holder (ODH). For training purposes live ammunition is not to be issued if blank or drill ammunition or dummy loads will meet the need. An officer or WO is to be made responsible for the issue of ammunition and the return of surpluses in accordance with para 5.155.

Safety precautions

5.153. When a SP is in possession of Service firearms or ammunition they are personally to exercise special care over maintenance, the prevention of damage, and security from theft. They are also responsible for preventing unauthorized discharge by ensuring that firearms and ammunition in their possession are at all times handled according to current instructions. They are not to tamper with either firearms or ammunition, nor except in emergency conditions are they to use any combination of firearms or ammunition except those in which they have been trained.

5.154. When a firearm has been issued for a duty it is to be inspected, together with any ammunition which has also been issued, by an officer or WO (or, at the CO's discretion, an NCO) at the end of the duty or at least once every 24 hours in longer periods of continuous duty. Where the nature of operations or training prevents this frequency of inspection, COs must ensure inspection at the maximum possible frequency in order to minimise the risk of loss.

5.155. Before SP are dismissed from any duty for which ammunition has been issued, an officer or WO (or, at the discretion of the CO, an NCO) is to be made responsible for the withdrawal of any which remains unexpended together with accountable used components, and for their return to store. Where the ammunition cannot be returned to store they are to satisfy themselves that the arrangements for its safety and security are adequate. On all occasions they are to carry out such inspections as are necessary to enable them to render a certificate on AF B 159A/B. They are in particular to make certain that no ammunition remains in firearms, magazines, pouches or other containers and, having reminded all concerned that to retain ammunition is an offence, they are to order each SP to declare verbally at the time of individual inspection whether they have any ammunition or accountable components remaining in their possession. When vehicles have been used they are to ensure that no ammunition or accountable used components remain in them unless they are satisfied that the arrangements for their safety and security are adequate. In the case of fighting vehicles the inspection is to include armaments, deflector chutes, and receptacles or storage areas, both internal and external. A similar procedure for inspection is to be applied when ships, aircraft or hovercraft have been used.

a. Firearms are to be stored separately from ammunition. Drill ammunition may only be used with live ammunition as specifically laid down in infantry training pamphlets. In all other cases drill ammunition is to be kept separate from live ammunition, including blank, both in storage and in use.

b. When live ammunition is to be issued after blank ammunition has been used, the following procedure is to take place before the issue of live ammunition:

(1) All blank ammunition is to be withdrawn together with adaptor appliances where applicable.

(2) Weapons are to be inspected and declarations are to be obtained as in para 5.155 above that SP have no blank ammunition or components in their possession.

c. The same procedure is to be followed when blank ammunition is issued after live.

5.157. COs are to ensure that firearms and ammunition on their charge are inspected at least once a month. Responsibility for security of firearms and ammunition in storage or transit is dealt with in para 5.621.

PART 6 – DISCIPLINE

General

5.201. Discipline, comradeship, leadership, and self-respect form the basis of morale and of OE. Good discipline within the unit is the foundation of good discipline throughout the Army and is based on good personnel management. It is therefore essential that every SP should be brought to understand not only the importance, but the purpose of discipline; that indiscipline has no place in the Army, and that in war it may have serious effects or even lead to disaster. All officers, WOs and NCOs are to maintain discipline over SP of lower rank than themselves.

5.202. The essential ingredients of discipline and OE owe nothing to any unauthorized initiation or other rites aimed at terrifying or inflicting physical or mental degradation upon any SP. Such conduct would be directly contrary to the requirements of training, morale and good leadership. Although traditionally ceremonies have taken place in some units of the Army, such activities may take place only with the specific authority and under the supervisory arrangements of the CO of the unit concerned. Allegations of unauthorized activities are to be referred to the Special Investigation Branch for investigation with a view to the taking of disciplinary action under the AFA 06 against the instigators and other participants. The following text is to be repeated at least monthly in all routine orders.

5.203. The Army Leadership Code expects SP to live by the Army’s Values and Standards. Developing a Regimental ethos is encouraged, however this is to be achieved by applying appropriate and totally professional behaviour at all times. Any event in which one or more SP are expected to perform a task to initiate them into a group or as a means of gaining perceived credibility or status, and which is intended to humiliate or degrade them or has that effect, is strictly forbidden. This includes, as examples, any activity of that nature which involves nudity, physical harm or risk of such harm, eating and/or drinking any substance. This list is not exhaustive. Conducting, encouraging, allowing or failing to stop or report initiation ceremonies or such activity as described above is a breach of the Army's Values and Standards and is strictly forbidden. Any type of alcohol abuse, drinking games, any custom of ‘regimental cocktails’, or serving of alcohol in large measures, mixtures or in abnormally large glasses can be a danger to life or health. These types of behaviour are strictly forbidden. All allegations will be fully investigated and appropriate disciplinary action will be taken.

Underpinning Army's Values and Standards

5.204. Army’s Values and Standards are supported by the two components of the Army’s discipline system:

a. Disciplinary Action. This involves the Service Criminal Justice System. Disciplinary Action is action taken (to uphold good order and military discipline) by commanders using their statutory powers. It encompasses Service custody, summary hearing, CM and Appeal. The statutory Service Criminal Justice process involves investigation; charge; trial; conviction and sentence; review; and appeal. Sentences range from admonition and restriction of privileges to, in the most serious cases, imprisonment. The AFA 06 makes any offence under civil law an offence under Service law. Disciplinary action is a distinct and formal process, which is officially recorded and may result in SP receiving criminal and prison records. Service courts, but not summary hearings, are conducted in public.

b. Administrative Action. Administrative Action is action taken to safeguard or restore the OE and efficiency of the Army by commanders using their command authority under QR(Army). The effect of particular conduct and performance that may damage OE is assessed by applying the Service Test. Evidence of a failure to comply with the Army’s Values and Standards will always be considered when deciding whether or not the Service Test has been breached. Through the process of the Administrative Report sanctions may be applied to restore current OE and safeguard it in the future. The Administrative process involves investigation; reporting; determination; sanction and review. The SP’s right to complain about any matter relating to their Service remains unaffected. This process of self-regulation is familiar to most employers and employees. It is entirely separate from the Service criminal justice system. Administrative Action may result in a range of outcomes from a Censure (No Disc Entry) to, in the most serious cases, termination of Service. It is taken in accordance with the procedures set out in AGAI 67.

The Army’s discipline system comprises; AFA 06 (criminal law) and AGAI 67 (employment law). Any investigation, sanctions or punishments awarded without following the proper process set out in one or other of these components may be unlawful. Those who apply such unauthorised processes or award punishments outside the proper processes may themselves be subject to investigation to ascertain whether offences have been committed or the Service Test breached.

Explanation to soldiers

5.205. The disciplinary provisions of the AFA 06 (sections 1-49) are to be explained to soldiers by their officers as part of normal training. At the same time, soldiers are to be made aware of their legal rights as explained in the pamphlet ‘Your rights if you are accused of an offence under the Service Justice System’, JSP 830, Vol 1, Ch 6 Annex G, which is to be provided to them in case of need. The attention of all SP is to be drawn to this pamphlet, at least annually, in routine orders.

Illegal absence\(^\text{59}\) (for procedure connected with arrest, charge and trial, see Chapter 6)

5.206. A SP is classed as illegally absent if they are intentionally or negligently absent from their unit, or other place of duty and their absence has not been authorised. They may have either improperly left their unit or they may have failed to return to it at the required time. The absence commences from the moment that the SP should have been present on duty, and ceases at the point they return, or are apprehended. The detailed procedure for reporting and recording illegal absence is contained in ACSO 3200\(^\text{60}\) and the JPA Business Advice Guides.

J5.207. See JSP 830, Vol 1 Ch 10.

Fraudulent enlistment

5.208. When a SP has enlisted in the Army without having been discharged from their previous engagement, or that they have made a false answer on enlistment, the CO of the unit in which they are serving is to enter the particulars of their present Service in AFB 123 and is to send that form:

a. If the previous Service was in the regular forces (except the Royal Marines), to the appropriate Divisional Manning Branch.

b. If the SP has been transferred to the Army Reserve, to the appropriate Divisional Manning Branch.

\(^{59}\) Covering term for AWOL and Desertion

\(^{60}\) Absence without leave
c. If when they enlisted the SP belonged to any of Her Majesty’s Naval or Air Forces or to the Royal Marines, to the Navy or RAF as the case may be, asking if it is desired to claim them.

d. If the SP has been discharged from any of Her Majesty’s Naval or Air Forces or the Royal Marines, to the Navy or RAF as the case may be.

The officer who receives AFB 123 is, after completing it and adding any observations that they may wish to make, is to return it to the SP’s CO.

5.209. Once they have assembled the necessary evidence the CO is to consider what action to take. If disciplinary action appears appropriate they are to act in accordance with JSP 830, Vol 1, Ch 6.

5.210. If when they enlisted the SP belonged to the regular forces (except the Royal Marines), the CO, will decide in which corps they shall serve if it is decided to retain them. If, however, the SP is overseas and no portion of their former corps is serving at the same station they will be retained in their present corps. In making this decision the CO will take into consideration the length of the person’s Service in both corps and any requirements as to recruits or training in the arms or corps concerned.

5.211. If when they enlisted the SP belonged to the Regular Reserve the commander will decide whether they shall be transferred to the reserve or retained in their present corps, except that overseas they shall be retained in their present corps. If they are tried and sentenced to imprisonment or detention, transferred to the reserve will take effect from the date of committal; otherwise, from the date of the commander’s decision.

5.212. A report on the disposal of the case, with particulars of the class and section to which the SP belonged, the unit in which they served before transfer to the reserve, the date of their present enlistment and the date on which they are relegated to the reserve or retained in their present corps, is to be made by the CO to the enlistments/discharges wing of Personnel Records Division of Personnel, Pay and Pension Administration.

5.213. When the SP is tried and sentenced to imprisonment or detention and transferred to the reserve the CO is to inform the governor of the civil prison or commandant of the military corrective training establishment as to the corps in which the SP served before transfer to the reserve, and also inform the paymaster who maintained their account.

5.214. If when they enlisted the SP belonged to any of Her Majesty’s naval or air forces or to the Royal Marines they are to be retained in their present corps unless the Navy or RAF, as the case may be, wish to claim them for further Service, in which case the commander will give the necessary orders.

a. If a SP who has enlisted in the Army without having been discharged from their previous engagement is to be tried by CM they are, as a general rule, to be held in their present corps for trial and the necessary evidence is to be obtained from their previous corps. If they are to be transferred to their former corps after serving their sentence the CO of their present unit is to send the following information to the appropriate authority mentioned in para 5.211, who is to arrange for the SP to rejoin their former corps when their sentence has expired:

(1) The result of the trial.
(2) The civil prison or military corrective training establishment in which the sentence will be served.

(3) The date on which the sentence will expire.

b. If a SP who has enlisted in the reserve forces without having been discharged from their previous engagement is to be tried by CM they will be returned to their previous corps for trial.

5.216. The CO of the unit in which a SP is retained or to which they are transferred is to report to any other units in which they have Service, and to the appropriate Divisional Manning Branch in line with para 5.211 the details of any disciplinary action taken against them. The COs of such units are to enter those details on JPA.

5.217. When a SP is retained in their present corps they are to serve on their present attestation; when transferred to their former corps they are to serve on their former engagement.

5.218. If a CO wants to discharge a SP as a result of fraudulent enlistment they are to refer to para 9.381 – 9.382.

Civil courts and connected matters

5.219. For instructions relating to attendance at and conviction by a civil court and to soldiers released from detention under a custodial order. See AGAI 65. 61

5.220. In those exceptional circumstances where a SP is to be retained in the Army, having been convicted be a civil court or CM for a sexual offence, and being the subject of any of the notification requirements or civil orders set out in Part 2 of the Sexual Offences Act 2003, their appointments and postings are to be the subject of a review as directed by APSG, Personnel Services (See AGAI 62). 62

5.221. The policy for the enlistment/commissioning of SP with civil convictions is contained in AGAI 41. 63

Redress of complaints

J5.222. See JSP 831 and JSP 830, Vol 1, Ch 24.

Complaints to employment tribunals

a. SP also have the right to submit a complaint to employment tribunals under the Equality Act 2010. A complaint may not be presented to an employment tribunal before it has been submitted under the internal redress procedures - see J5.205. Complainants should note that employment tribunals may refuse to accept a case if it is submitted outside the appropriate time limit. Responsibility for complying with the time limit lies entirely with the complainant.

b. There are different time limits that apply to claims under the Equality Act 2010:

61 Civil offences and attendance at court and legal proceedings
62 Discipline Policy
63 Policy for the recruitment and enlistment/commissioning of personnel with criminal convictions
64 Redress of individual grievances: Service complaints
(1) If a matter is or has been capable of being pursued as a claim under Chapter 3 of Part 9 of the Equality Act 2010 (discrimination claims), a claim may not be made about the matter after 6 months beginning with the day on which the matter complained about occurred or, where the matter occurred over a period of time, the final day of that period;

(2) If a matter is or has been capable of being pursued as a claim under Chapter 4 of Part 9 of the Equality Act 2010 (equal pay claims), a claim may not be made about the matter after the end of the qualifying period for a claim as determined in accordance with section 129 of that Act. The qualifying period is normally 9 months.

c. The decision as to whether, and if so, at what stage in the internal process, to refer a case to an employment tribunal is solely for the complainant to make. Complainants may seek advice from an independent source at any time on any matter relating to a complaint. Complainants may also take legal advice from a solicitor at their own expense at any time.

d. Complainants who decide to await the outcome of the internal procedures before applying to the employment tribunal must note the need to submit their employment tribunal applications before the appropriate statutory deadline - see J5.206b. If a final decision on the complaint has not been reached by then, the MOD will continue its investigation with a view to reaching a decision before a hearing date has been set. When a decision is reached and the complainant is satisfied, they may withdraw the application to the employment tribunal.

e. An application to the employment tribunal should be made on a Form ET1, available from Gov.UK.

f. The Form ET1 asks for the name and address of the employer. To ensure that the MOD is able to comply with the employment tribunal deadline for the employer’s initial response, it is important that the correct MOD address is given. This is: The MOD, APC Litigation, Room 5109, Kentigern House, Brown Street, Glasgow G2 8EX.

Complaints relating to pensions

J5.224. The Pensions Act 1995 imposes a statutory requirement on scheme managers to ensure that procedures are in place to deal internally with pension disputes, known as Internal Dispute Resolution Procedures (IDRP). Managers need to comply with that legislation and related guidance, including the requirement that decisions are taken within a reasonable period. IDRP is not final and disputes can also be considered independently by the Pensions Ombudsman if the complaint cannot be resolved internally. IDRP procedures have been unified so that the decision making process will be dealt with by the Defence Business Services (DBS) Veterans UK under a single IDRP process. Details of the IDRP for the Armed Forces Pension Scheme (Army only are in AGAI 9565).

Appeals against security vetting decisions

J5.225. Provisions exist for the making of appeals against decisions to deny or withdraw a SP’s security vetting clearance. These are set out in JSP 440. These procedures do not preclude the use of the internal redress procedures.

PART 7 - RELIGION AND THE CHAPLAINCY SERVICES

General

J5.261. Chaplains are commissioned by Her Majesty The Queen to provide for moral guidance, spiritual support and pastoral care to SP and their families. They are to be given every assistance to fulfil their ministry. They are not to be required to perform executive or operational duties save those proper to their profession. When a commissioned chaplain cannot be made available, civilian clergymen of the appropriate denomination may be appointed to be officiating chaplains.

J5.262. The opportunity for the reverent observance of religion in the armed forces is of great importance for many SP who profess a religious affiliation. It is the responsibility of the CoC to make themselves aware of the main features of the religions and beliefs observed by SP and staff, and make reasonable provision for the spiritual, cultural and moral needs of those who follow such religions and beliefs.

J5.263. COs are, where practical, to meet reasonable requests from SP to accommodate religious observances and beliefs. In exceptional circumstances it may not be possible for legitimate requests to be agreed, for example where it would create the strong likelihood of an adverse impact on OE. However, in most circumstances it should be possible to resolve difficulties through sensible local management and dialogue with the SP affected. COs are themselves to set a positive example by ensuring that everyone, whether they hold a religion or belief or not, is treated fairly, with dignity and respect.

J5.264. Consideration is to be given to the needs of SP who have declared themselves to be adherents of officially recognised religions or belief systems. No one is to be compelled to attend an act of religious observance against their wishes (except as provided in para 5.268).

5.265. Attendance of SP at religious services is voluntary. As stated in para J5.263, COs are to meet reasonable requests from SP to accommodate religious observances and beliefs.

J5.266. Sundays, Good Friday and Christmas Day are, as far as possible, to be observed as days of rest (see para 5.018).

5.267. Chaplains are to ensure that provision is made for the care of SP and their families of any declared religious affiliation or recognised belief system as the occasion arises.

Religious Observance

a. Depending on local circumstances, Christian religious observance is to be arranged within Service churches or, if necessary, at convenient civilian churches, at suitable times to mark significant festivals and to permit the greatest possible number of SP to attend. Similarly, should there be a requirement, opportunity for religious observance to mark significant festivals of other world religions or belief systems should also be provided.

b. COs are responsible for initiating administrative action for the provision of churches and World Faith Prayer Rooms under approved policy.

c. Where necessary, transport may be provided without charge in accordance with JSP 800 to enable SP and their families to attend religious observance of their declared religious affiliation or recognised belief system.

66 Volume 5 - Joint Service Road Transport Regulations
d. Parades are not to be ordered in connection with religious services except that a CinC or GOC may order a parade which includes a religious service on special occasions of national or local importance. No officer or soldier on such a parade is to be expected to take part, against their wishes, in a service of any religion, denomination or recognised belief system other than their own or in any joint service.

Declaration of Religious Denomination

J5.269. On entry to the Service, every member of the armed forces is to be asked to declare, with complete freedom, their religious affiliation. Likewise, SP may declare themselves to be affiliated to a recognised belief system such as atheism or an agnosticism or Humanism. Appropriate abbreviations to be recorded on personal identity documents are given in Army Officers Documentation Manual (AC 14841) and Unit Documentation Manual (Soldiers) 1994 (AC 60136). SP may also make no declaration.

5.270. A member of the armed forces who has changed their religious affiliation or denomination, or wishes to declare that they have no religious belief, should ensure that their personnel record is amended accordingly. The fact of that change must not be disclosed to anyone without the SP’s explicit consent.

f. With the approval of their unit CO and of their senior chaplain, a chaplain may live out of mess and draw appropriate living out allowance even when accommodation is available.

5.273. COs are to ensure that chaplains and officiating chaplains are at all times treated with the respect due to their calling and given every facility for the efficient performance of their duty. Chaplains should be addressed both officially and otherwise by their ecclesiastical title or official appointment and not by their relative rank or military title. Commissioned chaplains are, however, entitled to the compliments which are due to an officer of the same relative rank.

This includes ensuring that, where appropriate, suitable opportunity for religious observance is provided.

They are also required and entitled to attend on duty administrative conferences, Continuing Professional Development and Continuing Ministerial Education courses as arranged or authorised by the appropriate chaplaincy authorities.

b. All baptisms in military churches, including permanent garrison churches, in commands abroad, and baptisms in non-permanent churches in the UK will be recorded on a baptismal registration form which will be forwarded to the Ministry of Defence (Chaplains (Army)) on the first day of every month.

c. ABs 236 maintained in garrison churches and at the MOD are to be kept as permanent records.

d. A copy of a baptismal certificate may be obtained from the unit or garrison chaplain or the Ministry of Defence Chaplains (Army).

e. 5.333. A CO has no entitlement to be made aware of a diagnosis affecting any SP within the unit without the express consent of the patient, other than under exceptional circumstances where there is a public interest in disclosing information if the benefits to an SP or society outweigh both the public and the patient’s interest in keeping the information confidential, such as matters affecting national security or serious harm to others. The style and colour of the hair (if not natural) is not to be of an exaggerated nature. The hair is to be worn such that all types of military headdress may be worn in the correct manner. Hair should not be visible on the forehead under the brow band of the headdress nor seen on or covering the ears. Exceptions will only be granted on religious grounds detailed in AGAI 59, Annex B or at the discretion of the CO.

(a) Males. Male hair is to be cut short such that its length does not reach to the collar or onto the ears. Males are to be clean-shaven but moustaches and beards may be worn. d. Wearing of promotional items supporting charities. Many charities provide promotional items such as the Poppy or wristbands for supporters to wear. It is permissible to wear such items in certain orders of dress providing that it is an officially authorised charity and the Army Dress Committee has endorsed the particular item. The Poppy supporting the Royal British Legion and the Earl Haig Fund was approved for wear in all orders of dress some time ago. Wristbands are a popular promotional item and these may be worn providing that:

1. The charity is officially authorised.
2. No more than one wristband is worn at any one time.
3. They are not to be worn on formal occasions or with parade orders of dress (Nos 1, 2, 3, 4, 10 or 11 Dress).

e. Tattoos and piercings. It is Army policy that a person with tattoo marks which, because of size, position or nature, are unacceptable and detrimental to the Service is ineligible for enlistment, re-enlistment or continued Service in the Army. Similarly, certain piercings, because of size, position or nature, may render a person ineligible for enlistment, re-enlistment or continued Service in the Army. Tattooing is to be discouraged, and unacceptable tattoos may result in an application being made for discharge under para 9.414 of these Regulations. Unacceptable tattoos are defined as being any tattoo mark which meets one or more of the criteria listed below:

1. Visible. Visible on a front view passport photograph taken whilst the subject is wearing an open necked shirt with one button undone; that is on the face or throat area, on the front of the ear or forward of a line from the bottom of the ear to the collar bone.
2. Obscene. Irrespective of its size or position on the body, a tattoo will be obscene if it refers to or depicts an image of:

   - (a) a sexual act;
   - (b) extreme pornographic behaviour;
   - (c) sexual violence;
   - (d) extreme violence;
   - (e) violence to or sexual activity with a child or animal; or
   - (f) illegal-drugs.

3. Offensive. Irrespective of its size or position on the body, a tattoo will be offensive if, by its nature it has the purpose or effect of violating another person’s dignity or creating an adverse environment for others (for instance because it refers to or depicts an image relating to a protected characteristic of gender, sexual orientation, race, religion, disability or age). A tattoo should only be considered to have such an effect if, having regard to all the circumstances, it can be viewed as offensive by an objective standard.

4. Any tattoo mark which does not meet one or more of the criteria above but which, in the opinion of the SP’s CO or a recruiting officer, is nevertheless, by virtue of its size, position or nature, unacceptable and detrimental to the Service, for example, a message on the palm of the hand which would be seen when saluting.

f. Religious and cultural considerations. In wearing uniform, the different cultural patterns of various religious groups should be respected, especially during moments of religious expression. If conflict arises, the Army is guided by differentiating between the tenets of devout faith, which shall be allowed if militarily practicable, and the cultural and social customs of a particular group, which may be accommodated as practical. Special religious and cultural considerations for wearing uniform are contained in AGAI 59, Annex B. Guidance on diversity issues is contained in AGAI 59. In the extreme, further advice may be obtained through normal channels from MOD (PS 12(A)) or the Chaplain General’s office. In all cases, the Army will be guided by OE and Health and Safety (H&S) issues.

Spectacles

5.367. SP are to wear on active Service only such spectacles as have the approved type of flattened sides which do not interfere with wearing of a respirator. Such spectacles are provided at public expense.

Occasions on which the wearing of uniform is forbidden

J5.368. Detailed instructions on occasions on which the wearing of uniform is forbidden are contained in AGAI 59. The following specific occasions on which the wearing of uniform is forbidden are to be noted:

a. For officers, when participating in non-Service parades, if conditions require them to appear in the ranks with serving or ex-SP below commissioned rank. This does not preclude the wearing of uniform by those officiating at a saluting base or appearing officially with a party of civic officials.

b. Uniform is not to be worn by prospective or adopted parliamentary candidates at political meetings, or while canvassing, appearing in public or engaged in any other activities connected with their candidature. (See also para J5.581 – J5.583.)

c. Uniform is not to be worn at functions where fancy dress is worn. The wearing of uniform of obsolete design which is clearly distinguishable from the pattern currently worn is, however, permitted.

d. Uniform is not to be worn by SP engaged in temporary or part time civil employment or while seeking such employment. Uniform is therefore not to be worn as if inferring some military or MOD official involvement in a particular commercial or unofficial cause or concern.

e. On occasions when the Army’s reputation or political impartiality might be brought into question, eg political protests, rallies, marches or demonstrations of any kind where a political, social or interest group agenda may be perceived as being pursued, or where disorder or affray might result, or appearing in the media to seek personal publicity.

f. When visiting licensed premises or places of entertainment, except when specifically approved by the COC.

Wearing uniform in foreign countries

J5.369. Except when serving with a British force or mission, SP are not to wear uniform while in a foreign country (including the Irish Republic) without having obtained the permission of the Sovereign's representative in that country. Such permission will be granted only when SP are employed on duty, or attending court or state ceremonies to which they have been invited. Permission to wear uniform at foreign manoeuvres can be obtained only from the MOD.

30 AGAI 75 - Respect for Others - Diversity and Inclusion (D&I) Policy, Guidance and Instructions
Wearing the uniform of voluntary organizations

J5.370. SP may wear the uniform of non-political voluntary organizations, eg St John's Ambulance Brigade, the Salvation Army, or the Scouts, on appropriate occasions provided there is no interference with Service duties and obligations, but they are not to wear the uniform of any political organization.

Eligibility for flying badges

a. The term ‘flying badge’ is used to include all badges worn by SP who have successfully completed a prescribed course of flying training. The initial award of a flying badge is on a provisional basis. It is not deemed to be fully earned until the holder has successfully completed an operational conversion or equivalent course and has joined an operational or non-operational unit in the capacity for which their provisional badge has been awarded:

   (1) Royal Navy; on issue of Certificate of Competence.
   (2) Army and Royal Marines; on award of badge.
   (3) Royal Air Force; on successful attainment of an appropriate aircrew categorization or qualification to undertake productive flying duties.

b. When the badge has been earned, the holder may continue to wear it after they have ceased to carry out flying duties. Once earned, the badge may be withdrawn only on the directions of the Admiralty Board, the Army Board or the Air Force Board.

   (1) The flying badge may be withdrawn at the discretion of the appropriate Service Board if the holder fails to complete the training specified in sub-para a above.
   (2) The badge may also be withdrawn if at any time the holder is removed permanently from flying duties for disciplinary or other reasons within their control.

c. A member of aircrew who is qualified for more than one badge is not to wear a badge other than that appropriate to the particular flying duty in which they are currently categorized or mustered, except where MOD authority is granted. A member of aircrew who is entitled to wear a badge and is undergoing training for another aircrew category may continue to wear the badge of their former category until such time as they are awarded the flying badge of their new category.

d. The authority for the entitlement to wear a flying badge is:

   (1) Royal Navy, MOD (DNW)
   (2) Army, MOD (AAC)
   (3) Royal Air Force, MOD (DT(F) (RAF))

Any questions on the wearing of flying badges are to be forwarded through the normal channels to the appropriate authority mentioned above.

e. (Army only). Flying badges are to be worn as laid down in Army Dress Regulations.

PART 10 – HONOURS AND AWARDS

Introduction

5.391. This part of Chapter 5 concentrates on matters which are the direct concern of a CO. It is to be read in conjunction with Chapter 10, which gives the details and terms of eligibility for the Sovereign's grant of honours and awards to members of the armed services (and Civil Service attached for duty). For policy, regulations, and guidance relating to all aspects of honours and awards and all medals in the Armed Forces, refer to JSP 761[71]. COs have a personal responsibility for their SPs' correct custody, administration and wearing of authorized medals. If there is any doubt as to a SP's correct entitlement, COs must seek advice through the CoC to the Ministry of Defence (MOD) Home Command - PS12.

Meritorious Service Medal (MSM)

5.392. To qualify for consideration for the MSM, a SP must have:

a. Attained the minimum rank of sergeant and completed 20 years reckoned Service with the colours (which may include Service with the MPGS on a MLSE engagement), excluding Service as a commissioned officer. Regular Service in the Royal Navy, Royal Marines or Royal Air Force may be reckoned as qualifying Service, provided such Service was declared on attestation and during such Service the conduct of the SP was irreproachable. All Service is reckoned from the age of 17½ years or date of enlistment if later.

b. Been awarded an appropriate Long Service and Good Conduct Medal (LS&GCM).

c. Performed good, faithful, valuable and meritorious Service with conduct judged to be irreproachable throughout their Service. This would normally require a conduct sheet free of any disciplinary entries. Exceptionally, those who have been awarded the LS&GCM but who have disciplinary entries should not be precluded from nomination.

d. In the case of recently commissioned late entry officers the recommendation is to be made by their last CO of their last post prior to commissioning. These recommendations should be initiated within 12 months of leaving that last non-commissioned post. Command Sergeant Majors who are already commissioned can continue to be recommended provided that any recommendation is initiated within 12 months of leaving the appointment. Similarly, recommendations for those nearing discharge should be made by their last CO within 12 months of discharge.

5.393. Citations for the Army Medal Board (AMB) are to be initiated by COs on F Hons 776 and forwarded, together with any details of disciplinary entries, through the CoC to the MOD medal office. Each citation must be supported through the CoC to at least 2-Star level. Citations must arrive at the Army medal office no later than 1st April and 1st October each year, however, it is important to note that any recommended citation not making the given deadlines will be held over to the next Board. No recommended citation will miss a chance for selection at a Board because of a staff delay.

5.394. Citations must demonstrate sufficient evidence of the meritorious Service performed by the candidate that warrants the award of the medal of that name. Evidence of particular achievements, whether in the course of military duty or in extramural involvement which benefits the Service or the public in the field of sport or such things as charitable work, is most valuable. A citation which amounts to no more than a bland description of a candidate’s Service record will not suffice and should not be supported by the CoC. SP who have performed long Service with irreproachable conduct should not automatically be recommended for the MSM as the recognition for such Service is the Clasp to any LS&GCM which has been awarded.

[71] Honours and awards in the Armed Forces

5.395. Recommendations are to be treated in confidence and are not to be divulged to the candidate. The names of successful candidates only will be promulgated. After each AMB names of the successful candidates will be forwarded to COs through the MS CoC to ensure correct and timely notification.

LS&GCM (Military)

5.396. The LS&GCM is awarded to all officers and other ranks who complete 15 years Regular Army Service from the date of attestation. Clasps are available for each subsequent 10 years Regular Army Service. Any entry on the disciplinary record will automatically incur a delay for a further period of 15 years from the date of the most recent entry. If a SP incurs a disciplinary entry after receiving the medal, eligibility to the clasp or additional clasps will be automatically delayed for a period of 10 years from the date of the most recent entry. A minor offence as listed in AGAI 67 committed by a private soldier may not incur a delay unless there are multiple minor offences.

5.397. Both medals and clasps will be issued automatically by the MOD medal office to COs who are to ensure that there are no pending disciplinary proceedings and make arrangements for the award. If there are pending disciplinary proceedings, the CO is to retain the medal until such time as the disciplinary proceedings are resolved. If no action is taken, the medal can be presented to the SP. However if the date of an offence or offences resulting in an entry on the SP’s disciplinary record is before the qualifying date for the medal and therefore incurs a delay of 15 years, the CO is to return the medal to the MOD medal office. Complete details are contained in JSP 761 Chapter 5, Annex B.

Presentation of medals and clasps

5.398. MSM, LS&GCM (Military) and clasps of SP still serving will be sent to their COs for presentation on a regimental or other suitable occasion. Medals received for SP who have been transferred are to be forwarded to the CO of the new unit under registered cover. If the SP has been discharged and a presentation cannot be arranged the medal or clasp is to be returned to the MOD medal office under registered cover. The presentation of other honours and awards is discussed in para J10.015.

Forfeiture of MSM and LS&GCM (Military)

5.399. A CO is to submit a case through their next superior headquarters to the MOD medal office in the following instances:

a. When a SP who has been awarded the MSM commits an offence which results in a disciplinary entry on their personal discipline record.

b. When the CO considers that the conduct of a SP who has been awarded the MSM ceases to be irreproachable.

c. When a SP who has been awarded the LS&GCM (Military) is awarded a period of detention or imprisonment for a period longer than 6 months.

5.400. The case should consist of:

a. A statement giving full details of the offence and, if applicable, details of why the CO considers a SP’s conduct ceases to be irreproachable.
b. Details of any mitigating factors which should be considered.

c. A firm recommendation for forfeiture or retention of one or both medals by the CO.

d. A certified true copy of the personal discipline record.

e. A firm recommendation by the commander of the next superior headquarters.

5.401. The case should be sent to the MOD medal office for the attention of the AMB. Whilst the case is under consideration the medal(s) are not to be withdrawn from the SP unless the MOD medal office specifically instructs that this is to be done. The final decision on the forfeiture of the medal(s) will be made by the AMB in the case of the MSM or the Defence Council in the case of the LS&GCM (Military). The CO will be notified of the decision in due course. Complete details are contained in JSP 761, Chapter 9.

Forfeiture of all other awards

5.402. In addition, when a SP has been awarded a period of detention or imprisonment for a period longer than 6 months by a civil or military court or their career has been terminated as a result of disciplinary proceedings, a CO is to take all other awards liable to forfeiture into safe custody pending a decision as to their forfeiture or otherwise. In the circumstances of para 5.403 and 5.404, they are to forward them to the MOD medal office. The following paragraphs outline the necessary guidelines when forfeiture is to be considered. Complete details are contained in JSP 761, Chapter 9.

5.403. War, campaign, general Service and commemorative medals. When a SP has been convicted of any of the offences specified in Annex B to Chapter 10 or is sentenced to dismissal with disgrace from Her Majesty’s Service or awarded a period of detention or imprisonment for a period longer than 6 months by a civil or military court, all their war, campaign, general Service and commemorative medals are to be considered for forfeiture. The CO is to submit a case through the CoC to the MOD medal office, as outlined in para 5.399.

5.404. Honours and awards for exceptional and outstanding Service. Forfeiture of an honour or award for exceptional and outstanding Service is to be considered whenever, due to misconduct, a SP’s career is terminated as a result of conviction by CM or administrative discharge. However, forfeiture is only to be recommended when the offence, in addition to those categories outlined in para 5.402, involves either disloyalty to the State or such disgraceful conduct that public opinion would be likely to consider it wrong for the offender to continue to hold a symbol of Royal favour. The CO is to submit a case through the CoC to the MOD medal office as outlined in para 5.399.

5.405. Operational and non-operational awards for gallantry. Operational or non-operational awards for gallantry are not liable for forfeiture under any circumstances.

Restoration of all awards

5.406. Applications for the restoration of all awards under the conditions specified in JSP 761, Chapter 10, Annex C are to be made as follows:

a. For serving personnel: by the CO of the SP’s present unit, supported by their recommendations and a copy of the personal discipline record, through the next superior headquarters, to the MOD medal office for consideration by the AMB.

b. By non-effective personnel: to the MOD medal office. The MOD medal office is to forward a recommendation and all relevant documents in each case to the AMB.
5.407. The MSM can never be restored. A forfeited LS&GCM (Military) may not be restored but SP may requalify for the medal after a further period of 15 years qualifying Service.

Recording on personal documents

J5.408.

a. The grant, forfeiture and restoration of decorations and medals are to be recorded on the SP’s personal documents by the officer in charge of those documents.

b. (Army only). When medals are issued to a soldier after they have left the Colours the personnel records division of personnel pay and pensions administration will enter the award in the soldier’s Discharge Book (AFB 108).

Custody and transit

J5.409. Decorations and medals are normally kept by the SP to whom they are awarded. COs are responsible for ensuring that soldiers are in possession of the decorations and medals they are authorized to wear.

J5.410. When travelling on charge of station, by whatever means, decorations and medals are to be carried in the personal effects accompanying the SP and are not in any circumstances to be sent with unaccompanied baggage.

J5.411. Decorations and medals of absentees without leave are to be kept in safe custody under unit arrangements. Decorations and medals of deserters are to be forwarded to the MOD medal office.

J5.412. The decorations and medals of SP sent to hospital are to be dealt with as directed in Regulations for Army Medical Services 1974 (AC 10910).

J5.413. The decorations and medals of a SP who, on discharge, is sent to a mental hospital or placed in the charge of a local authority are to be forwarded, by the officer carrying out the discharge, to the MOD medal office with a notification of the date of discharge and the institution to which the SP has been sent. Similar notification is to be made if the SP is entitled to decorations and medals not yet issued.

J5.414. Subject to any specific directions in the Statutes or Warrants governing the various orders, decorations and medals, the decorations or medals of a SP dying in the Service are to be sent to the authority responsible for disposing of their estate.

J5.415.

a. The Armed Forces Postal or Transit System is to be used as fully as possible for the dispatch of medals to the SP or their unit. For decorations or medals that are personalized or contain precious metals the minimum of a recorded delivery (or equivalent) system must be used, and at all stages in the dispatch process an audit trail must be provided. This system is also applicable to units and the MOD medal office for the dispatch of medals.

b. Where the Forces Postal or Transit System cannot be used then World War II campaign medals and stars are to be dispatched by ordinary second-class post. All other medals are to be sent by the minimum of a recorded delivery system.
c. Medals of those who are killed in action or die whilst serving are to be sent by post, using the above criteria from the MOD medal office to the 3 Services as follows:

(1) Royal Navy. HMS Centurion Grange Road Gosport, Hants.

(2) Army. The regimental or corps headquarters of the deceased.

(3) Royal Air Force. RAF Personnel Management Centre Royal Air Force Innsworth, Gloucester.

d. (Army only). It will be for the regimental or corps headquarters of the deceased to contact the legal beneficiary of the medals once they have been received from the MOD medal office where they will have been mounted and placed in a presentation box before dispatch. It is the responsibility of the regimental or corps headquarters to make arrangements in accordance with the wishes of the deceased's family for suitable presentation of the medals. The recipient must be the legal beneficiary and no one else. The alternative will, of course remain, of sending the medal on by post should the beneficiary prefer this.

J5.416.

a. It is a unit responsibility to ensure satisfactory and full accounting and handling procedures are put in place when tailoring facilities for decorations and medals are provided. When a contractor provides tailoring facilities, the unit is responsible for producing a written work order, enumerating the actual items, which is to be handed in with the work. If necessary, contracts are to reflect this requirement.

b. SP who make private arrangements with a tailor for mounting decorations or medals are to be personally responsible for any loss or damage which may result.

c. (Army only). Whenever medals are given to a contractor for mounting, a written work order from the unit, enumerating the actual items, is to be handed in with the work. It is a unit responsibility to ensure that the medals are returned to the SP concerned.

Loss and replacement

J5.417. For loss and replacement of medals refer to JSP 761, paras 123 -128.

Mobilization

5.418. Formation and unit mobilisation plans are to cater for the security of medals.

\textsuperscript{72} Guidance – Volume 2 – Guidance for Army personnel PART 13 – CORRESPONDENCE, DOCUMENTS AND BOOKS

General instructions on correspondence

5.541. When not engaged in operations, correspondence is to be produced as directed in JSP 101. When a unit is on active Service, Land Component Handbook (AC 71038) covering a wider range of subjects is to be used in place of JSP 101.

5.542. Service personnel are to ensure requests for returns and reports are kept to a minimum, and that before requests are sent the initiator is to ensure that there is no other way of proceeding and that the information does not already exist in some other form.

5.543. Care is to be exercised by SP in the distribution of correspondence. Originators are to ensure that action and information attendees are annotated in accordance with JSP 101. The principles of a 'need to know' and a 'need to hold' are to be applied to avoid unnecessary staff action.

Army forms and books, regulations and manuals

a. The Army produces official publications and regulations using a range of media. In each case, one version, whether print, audio visual or another, is the authoritative version. This authoritative version is designated by the Competent Army Authority (CAA). These publications provide doctrine and guidance for the conduct of operations, regulations to control and co-ordinate Army business and Army forms to comply with current regulations and for a variety of other military purposes.

b. Publications are produced by the CAA and are available to download from the Defence Intranet Army Forms webpage or ordered from and distributed by the MILLIE Online Portal. The Catalogue of Official Army Publications Books and Forms (AC 71788) contains details of the books of regulations, manuals of instruction and other Army handbooks available. Authoritative publications are hosted electronically on the British Army electronic Battle Box (BAeBB), which is part of the Army Knowledge Exchange (AKX), as directed by the CAA for the BAeBB. The intranet version of the BAeBB is the authoritative version, but to enable accessibility to the whole Army an OFFICIAL-only version of the Battle Box is also hosted on the Internet behind the Defence Gateway. As an off-line back-up, an annual Battle Box DVD is produced for those with no access to the internet, it will not keep pace with in-year changes and may rapidly become out of date.

c. Wherever possible, COs should ensure that electronic versions of documents are used: there is no requirement for units to maintain hard copies, except for short term use. Where hard copies are maintained it is the holder’s responsibility to check against electronic versions for currency before being used for critical purposes. Where publications are classified OFFICIAL, they may be downloaded and held on personal electronic devices unless marked otherwise in the handling instructions.

5.545. Reserved.
Disposal of official documents

a. All official documents of any description are subject to the provisions of the Public Records Acts 1958 and 1967. All such documents, whether original, drafts, or copies, in any form, whether classified or not, and from whatever source they may have derived, are to be disposed of when no longer required in accordance with JSP 441.

b. Before any document is destroyed as permitted by the rules referred to in a, it is to be examined to establish the handling appropriate to its contents as specified in JSP 440.

Guard reports

a. Guard reports (AFB 160) are to be retained in units for 3 years.

Personal discipline records

a. A record of conduct is to be kept on JPA discipline history, strictly controlled and access only given to those personnel directly responsible for the administration of unit discipline, for any SP serving who, in respect of any offence:

(1) Has been found guilty by a court other than the CM where such finding has been reported to the Army Board under para 6.178 (Officers only).

(2) Has had a civil conviction where the CO has ordered the conviction to be recorded as a Discipline Entry in accordance with AGAI 67. (see Annex H - para 4c to this chapter).

(3) Has, under the AFA 06, been convicted by CM or been found guilty at a summary hearing.

(4) Has had a sanction resulting from Major Administrative Action (Major AA) awarded under AGAI 67.

b. Normal JPA recording procedures are to be followed. Should the finding be quashed or amended on appeal the entry is to be deleted or altered.

c. Further detailed guidance is given in the JPA BAGs.

d. To ensure timelier recording of disciplinary action and Civil Police Investigations and AGAI 67 Major AA on JPA, with immediate effect, all casework is to be recorded on JPA discipline within 5 working days (at the 8-day point for Absence Without Leave (AWOL)) of the incident being reported to the unit. This will allow units to inform their respective 1* HA immediately by assigning a ‘SL Notify HA’ or ‘WS Notify HA’ task as appropriate. HA will then have immediate visibility of casework within their JPA discipline work flows, allowing them to identify quickly any basic errors on the JPA SR and to address them with the relevant unit, as part of the assurance process. This should occur even if the investigation is discontinued, as a record must be maintained on JPA of all reasonable or substantiated allegations, both to protect the SP and the Army.

24 Managing information in Defence
e. Where, on appeal, a finding or award of a CO has been quashed or varied, a notification to this effect is to be forwarded by the CO to their HA and APSG, Personnel Services using JPA.

f. Any special act of gallantry or distinguished conduct is to be recorded on the discipline record.

5.551. Entries. Detailed instructions for entries on to personal discipline records are at Annex H to this chapter.

5.552 – 5.554. Reserved.

Historical records

5.555. Operational record. During operational periods, a commander’s diary is to be maintained in duplicate on a monthly basis (AFC 2118 and 2119). An operational record is to be maintained on active operations, on a monthly basis, by all formations and units involved, and by detachments of units if so ordered by superior headquarters. Detailed instructions for the maintenance of operational records are on the Commander’s diary Instructions (AFC 2119) and Army Command Standing Order 1120, Operational Record Keeping. Standard operating procedures of all formation headquarters are to contain provision for the maintenance of the operational record, when appropriate, by units under command.

5.556. Unit historical record. When no operational record is being maintained under para 5.555, all regular and independent Army Reserve units and all formation headquarters are required to maintain, on an annual basis, a unit historical record on AFC 2117, with supporting documents. Detailed instructions on the maintenance of this record are given in AGAI 675 which also defines the term ‘unit’ for this purpose and provides a list of units required to submit unit historical records. Formation headquarters are to ensure that unit historical records are received annually by the due date. Unit historical records are to be closed as soon as an operational record is opened by the unit and the historical record forwarded to the MOD in accordance with the provisions in AGAI 6.

MOD library

5.557. The MOD library maintains a collection of all published histories of regiments and other units. To ensure both that the collection is as complete as possible and that copies will be available for future historians, officers responsible for the production of regimental histories, journals, newspapers and other publications issued privately by the regiment or by regimental associations are to send a copy to The Librarian, MOD, Whitehall Library.

5.558 - 5.580. Reserved.
PART 14 – POLITICAL ACTIVITIES AND ELECTORAL REGISTRATION

Political activities

a. Regular SP are not to take any active part in the affairs of any political organization, party or movement. They are not to participate in political marches or demonstrations.

b. No restriction is to be placed upon the attendance at political meetings of such SP provided that uniform is not worn, Service duties are not impeded, and no action is taken which would bring the Service into disrepute.

c. (Army only). Army Reserve Personnel are governed in their political activities by Reserve Land Forces Regulations, Ch 3, Sect 7.

J5.582. All forms of political activity, including political meetings and speeches, are prohibited in Service establishments. Canvassers may visit, and motor cars used for carrying electors to the poll may call at, married quarters and families' hostels to which there is normal access direct from the public highway. Where access is by Service roads and there is no separate entrance, access to married quarters will be at the discretion of the CO under such conditions as they may approve. Access should not be denied unless there is a Service reason, such as security, and decisions should be equitably applied. Information about party programmes or policies is not to be made available through Service journals or information rooms; nor is any propaganda issued by or on behalf of a political party to be distributed in Service institutions. No publicity is to be given in Service establishments to meetings, fetes, or similar activities having a political association.

J5.583. Service facilities and speakers. No Service facilities, including Service aircraft and motor transport, are to be used at, or in connection with, any function the purpose of which is to further the interests of a political party or an organization having controversial aims, nor are Service bands to play at such functions. Where requests are received from political groups for Service speakers to lecture or give a presentation, these should be referred for action to the Army Secretariat who will reply direct to the group; if there is uncertainty about the nature of any organization, the MOD should be consulted. (Army only: See also Chapter 12 Annex A(J).)

Parliamentary candidature

J5.584. Members of the regular Armed Forces of the Crown are disqualified from membership of the House of Commons (House of Commons Disqualification Act 1975) and from election to the European Parliament (European Parliamentary Act 1978). Such SP must therefore apply for permission to retire voluntarily or resign or be granted a free discharge from the Service before their formal adoption as a Parliamentary candidate or prospective candidate. Such SP must complete their last day of Service before formal adoption as a candidate or prospective candidate.

J5.585. No regular SP or member of the Reserve Forces when serving on a full time Service commitment or additional duties commitment shall issue an address to electors or in any other manner publicly announce themselves or allow themselves to be publicly announced as a candidate or a prospective candidate for election to:

76 This shall not apply to:

b. Voluntary Day’s Pay Scheme subscriptions in respect of para a (above) are not to exceed the equivalent of two and a half day’s gross pay a year for each SP. Voluntary regimental subscriptions in addition to the above in connection with regimental amenities such as sports clubs, regimental journals or rifle clubs are not to exceed 10 per cent of the daily rate of pay of the lowest paid adult SP in each month. COs are to ensure that the voluntary nature of such subscription is made clear to all subscribers and that the amenities in question can be maintained only by the general support of all ranks.

c. COs are also to ensure that SP, especially recruits and junior soldiers, are protected from unauthorized expense on account of regimental custom, and that a periodical review is made of all such expenses incurred by SP in their units, with a view to the reduction of any unnecessary expenditure.

Regimental inspections

5.651. The general tidiness and upkeep of barracks and barrack fitments are the responsibility of the unit in occupation. There are to be monthly inspections of barrack accommodation and grounds. This includes, but may not be limited to, estate damage caused by wilful overt stupidity, wilful carelessness, negligence, drunken behaviour and/or criminal acts resulting in damage’. The amount of damages or losses is to be pursued as far as possible against the SP responsible. The CO, may make an order authorising a deduction to be made from the pay of a relevant SP and to be appropriated as or towards compensation for any damage to or the loss of any public or Service property. This is an administrative procedure and it is not necessary for the charge to be brought. This course of action is only to be taken if the CO is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that the relevant SP’s conduct caused the damage to or the loss of property and amounted to an offence under section 24 of the AFA 06, ie was deliberate, reckless or negligent. The amount to be deducted is to be limited to that necessary to put right the damage caused. In reaching their conclusion on whether the SP was in fact responsible for the damage in question, the CO should investigate the matter and may wish to adopt a similar formal approach to the consideration of evidence as they would at summary hearing, including hearing representations from the SP in question. No order shall be made with respect to damage to or the loss of any public or Service property, if:

a. a court or officer has sentenced the relevant SP for a Service offence and on passing sentence had power to make a Service Compensation Order in respect of that damage to or that loss of property; or

b. in circumstances involving a finding that the relevant SP was not guilty of intentionally, recklessly or negligently causing that damage to or that loss of property they have been found not guilty of a Service offence. This applies where at trial, summary hearing or appeal to the Summary Appeal Court (SAC), the relevant SP is found not guilty of an offence under section 24 of the AFA 06 in relation to damage or loss of property in question. It also applies where at trial, summary hearing or appeal to the SAC the relevant SP is found not guilty of any other Service offence and it follows, from that finding, that they are also not guilty of an

Copies of mess rules are to be made available to members, and rules governing institutes are to be posted up where SP can readily see them. Fines, whether in money or wine, are not to be levied for any minor irregularities, or on occasions such as marriage or promotion. 5.702. Mess funds. The management of and accounting for mess funds is to follow the principles and regulations set out in Annex J to this Chapter, and Service Funds Regulations (AC 60450). - c. Corps and Regiments – All Officers, WOs and SNCOs not at Regimental Duties are to be able to attend one OMF per financial year.

5.706. OMF governing principles. Detailed direction to PMCs for OMF is found at Annex K. The overarching principles that govern the application of OMF are:

- a. The justification for OMF is based on the need to maintain the moral component of Fighting Power, OE and unit cohesion through the development and maintenance of regimental ethos within units, corps and regiments. The maintenance of a broader corps or regimental ethos is fundamental to the way SP are recruited, retained and developed.

Domestic animals and livestock

a. These orders must be compatible with such local bylaws and regulations issued by the civil authorities as may be in force and articulate that prior permission by the appropriate authority will be required and any conditions attached to permits issued on its authority. All owners must be in possession of valid insurance (to cover any damage to MOD property, accidents to people or biting); the insurance certificate is to be produced with the initial application and then annually.

b. Any claimant to the property will be required to supply evidence of ownership and may be called upon to pay any identifiable costs incurred.

Should they decline or fail to make private arrangements before leaving their unit, any articles remaining are to be listed and forwarded, either to the prison or MCTC authorities or to the next of kin. A receipt must be obtained for any articles disposed of in this manner. If none of these will accept them, the matter is to be referred to APSG for a decision.

   b. Whenever a SP is sentenced to a period of detention, it is their unit’s responsibility to hold their private property (less small items of a personal nature which they may retain) until their return. The procedure to be followed is detailed in JSP 837.

5.804. These instructions may not apply to deserters and SP convicted of an offence which by the law of England and Wales is an arrestable offence, whose property will be dealt with in accordance with the Regimental Debts Act 1893 and the warrant and regulations relating thereto.

5.805. Salvage

Sponsor: DJEP CLCP

J5.832. The following rules have been framed to indicate the extent to which assistance should be given by any ship or aircraft belonging to the Armed Forces of the Crown to vessels or aircraft in distress and the conditions under which claims for salvage services may be made:

a. Assistance should be rendered to a ship or an aircraft endangered at sea, in tidal waters, or on the shores thereof, on occasions where it is within the reasonable power of any ship or aircraft belonging to the Armed Forces of the Crown, or any shore based personnel.

b. Salvage services are voluntary services which save, or help to save a ship, an aircraft, its apparel, cargo or bunkers and stores when in danger, either at sea or in tidal waters or on the shores thereof. The danger does not necessarily have to be imminent: it suffices if, at the time the services are rendered, the ship or aircraft has encountered any danger or misfortune which might expose it to injury or destruction were the services not rendered.

(1) The Civil Aviation Act 1982 has applied the law relating to wreck and salvage of life or property to aircraft on or over the sea or tidal waters as it applies to vessels. The instructions in this paragraph apply to the salvage of, or assistance to, aircraft and hovercraft, and to salvage services and assistance by aircraft or hovercraft.

(2) Under section 8(2) of the Crown Proceedings Act 1947, the Crown is entitled to claim salvage in respect of services rendered by any ship or aircraft belonging to the Crown.

(3) So that the presentation of salvage claims may be considered, a full report of the circumstances is to be submitted whenever Service personnel or ships or aircraft belonging to the Crown perform a service entitling them to salvage money. When the services are complete the report is to be made without delay to the Treasury Solicitor and sent by the quickest means. A copy is to be sent to the Administrative Authority or appropriate senior officer. They are to send it to the Chief Claims Officer, (DJEP CLCP), with their comments. Each vessel involved is to send a separate report.

(4) Service personnel engaged in salvage operations may make a claim for salvage, but only with the written sanction of the Ministry of Defence. No claim will be sanctioned for salvage or recovery of Crown property by any member of Her Majesty's Forces. In this context Her Majesty's Forces includes civilians employed by the Department.

(5) The Ministry of Defence has the right to put forward a claim in respect of salvage performed by ships or aircraft belonging to the Crown in its name alone and to withhold permission for personnel to claim separately. When this right is exercised the Ministry of Defence will consider granting personnel a share of any award received.

(6) The Treasury Solicitor acts for the Ministry of Defence in the presentation of salvage claims on the Ministry's behalf and is also prepared to accept instructions from ship's agents in order to represent the interest of the salvaging crew(s).

(7) The Treasury Solicitor is also prepared to act for personnel of ships which do not have a ship's agent, such as RMAS vessels or ships hired by the Ministry of Defence on demise charter, and for personnel attached to shore establishments. Before they can act for these personnel they require a letter of retainer on Form S. 1522 signed by the commanding officer or other officer. It is to be sent to the Treasury Solicitor with the full written report. Their services will be given only on the terms that they may enforce, compromise or withdraw the claim as they, in their absolute discretion, may think advisable and without prior consultation with the personnel.

(8) When a lump sum is recovered for the joint claims of the Ministry of Defence and of personnel represented by the Treasury Solicitor, the apportionment of that sum between the respective claimants or groups of claimants by the Ministry of Defence and the Treasury Solicitor will be accepted without question. A nominal roll, giving particulars of those on whose behalf a claim is to be made, is to be provided in duplicate and reference is to be made to those who perform special services. This list is required in addition to the one forwarded with the full written report.

(9) In any case where the owner of the salvaged vessel or aircraft does not want to take possession of it, reference should be made to the Ministry of Defence before action is taken to dispose of it, even if such disposal action has been suggested by the owner.

PART 23 - METEOROLOGICAL SERVICES

General

5.861. Meteorological Services are supplied by the Warfare Hydrography and Meteorology (HM) specialists for the Royal Navy and by the Meteorological Office for the Army and Royal Air Force. These Services include:

a. The preparation, collection and distribution of weather reports, forecasts and warnings.

b. The supply of information and advice by meteorological officers.

c. The provision of technical advice on the preparation of meteorological publications and training syllabi.

Duties and responsibilities of meteorological officers

5.862. Further details can be found in JSP 465 Part 2 Volume 3. In Summary:

a. It is the duty of the meteorological staff to describe the weather - past, present and future - and offer advice on the potential impact of the weather on the performance of sensors, platforms and weapons systems promptly and as accurately as possible. However, the responsibility for deciding its significance in relation to the planned operations and the safety of materiel and SP rests solely with the CO.

b. The responsibility of the meteorological officer does not end with the issue of routine forecasts, warnings and forecasts on request. They are to keep weather reports, and other information received, under constant review in relation to the programme of operations, exercises or training, and is to take prompt action to pass relevant information and advice to the appropriate authority.

c. A meteorological officer forecasting for a particular operation is to frame the forecast with relevance to that operation.

d. To enable a meteorological officer to carry out these duties efficiently, the CO is to ensure that the meteorological officer is given adequate warning of the operations scheduled to take place, the progress of these operations, and of the factors involved. In particular meteorological officers acting as advisers to CinCs, or to other senior officers, should be afforded facilities to acquaint themselves with factors involved in operational planning.

Warnings of adverse weather conditions

5.863. The meteorological officer will be responsible for issuing or passing on to the CO (or officers designated by the CO) warnings of weather conditions which may affect the safety of materiel or SP.

ANNEX A(J) TO CHAPTER 5, PART 1
EDUCATION (PARA 5.020 REFERS)\(^99\)

   a. Responsibility for the education of members of the Armed Forces rests with commanders of all formations and units at their respective levels of command.

   b. Responsibility for the provision of educational services, within the framework of policy laid down by the Defence Council, rests with the Services' Directors of Education.

   c. The Services' Directors of Education are responsible to their respective Principal Personnel Officers in the common main areas outlined in para 2 below: they have further responsibilities on a single Service basis as detailed elsewhere in these regulations.

Executive Authority

2. The executive authority and financial arrangements for the conduct, organisation and administration of education of Her Majesty's forces are contained in:

   - Royal Navy Education and Resettlement Handbook (BR 1797).
   - Army Manual of Army Education (AC 60178)
   - JSP 822
   - Defence Instructions and Notices (DINs).
   - Royal Air Force Training, Support and Education in the Royal Air Force (AP 3379).

Educational Services

   a. Facilities are to be provided to assist members of Her Majesty's Forces in the study of educational subjects related to Service requirements.

   b. Facilities are to be provided to assist SP, and entitled civilians overseas, to pursue individual education, cultural and leisure activities.

   c. Service and civilian educational examinations are to be organised and administered under arrangements made by the Services' Directors of Education, acting where appropriate in conjunction with civilian examining bodies.

   d. Service libraries are to be established to provide a range of books and information in support of operations, educational, training, personal development and recreation for members of Her Majesty's forces and entitled civilians.

   e. A Resettlement Service exists to aid personnel leaving the Service and entering civilian employment. Services' Directors of Education are responsible for the provision of resettlement information and advice to SP within single Services in accordance with tri-Service resettlement policy. The Directorate of Training, Education, Skills and Resettlement (TESR), through the Career Transition Partnership (CTP), arranges collective resettlement briefings and pre-release training. Assistance in job finding is provided by the CTP, Government Employment Services, the Services Employment Network, the Officers’ Association and the Regular Forces Employment Association.

Service Children’s Education (SCE)

a. Responsibility for determination of policy on the education of Service children and the children of UK based civilians serving overseas lies with the Secretary of State for Defence. Within the Department, the Principal Personnel Officers (PPOs) advise on this responsibility, with the assistance of the Chief Executive for the SCE Agency.

b. The Secretary of State for Defence has ultimate authority for determining the policy and resources framework within which SCE operates. In practice, they delegate their ownership responsibilities to the Adjutant General (AG), who is the lead PPO on SCE issues and the “owner” of the Agency. The AG is responsible for SCE policy within the parameters set by the Secretary of State. They are accountable to the Secretary of State for the exercise of the SCE ownership functions delegated to them. They are also responsible for providing advice and support to the Chief Executive to ensure that the Agency achieves its Aims and Objectives. Their responsibilities include approval of the SCE Corporate Plan and the Agency’s budget, setting and revising key performance targets and monitoring and assessing the Agency’s performance. They are assisted in this task by an Owner’s Board.

c. The SCE Owner’s Board provides AG, acting on behalf of the Secretary of State for Defence, with independent advice on the policies, programmes and performance of the Agency. It also provides a forum in which the views of the “customer” can be articulated directly to the Owner. It meets at least twice a year.

d. The role of SCE is to provide an educational service to meet the needs of dependant Service children, including the children of MOD UK based civilians and sponsored organisations serving outside the UK which, as far as possible, conforms in type, scope and standard to that required by the Education Acts in England and Wales (and takes into account developments in the education systems of Scotland and Northern Ireland). The Agency also provides support, guidance and advice on independent and maintained schooling facilities in the UK. Additionally, the Agency will make provision for Gurkha children’s education overseas as necessary.

e. Policy and guidance for the education of Service children is contained JSP 342\(^\text{100}\) (Revised 2000) Educational Accommodation and Supplies.

Language Training Criteria

6. Members of the Services will be trained in foreign languages at public expense only if they are selected for an employment where the use of specific languages is essential. However, COs should encourage personnel to acquire and maintain language skills whenever possible. The Operational and Basic Language Award Schemes (JSP 752\(^\text{101}\))

\(^{100}\) Education of Service children and young people
\(^{101}\) Tri-Service regulations for expenses and allowances Chap 9 Sect 13) exist to encourage the development of language capability and its recording on JPA.

Standards

7. Military language standards are in accordance with NATO STANAG 6001 Ed 4, which describes competence at six levels. Detailed competence is specified in a Standardized Language Profile (SLP) identifying the skill level in listening, speaking, reading and writing (eg SLP 3321).

a. Level 0 – Negligible skills; this includes short basic courses usually undertaken as pre deployment training.

b. Level 1 – Survival; sufficient skills to control activity in specific military scenarios.

c. Level 2 – Functional; ability to communicate well in most non-complex situations. This level provides a highly desirable contingent capability and foundation for higher level language training.

d. Level 3 – Professional; able to communicate accurately and quickly, including conceptual and argumentative discourse. This level is highly desirable.

e. Level 4 – Expert; a high-utility level achieved through frequent and stretching use of language.

e. Level 5 – Native: the most able speaker, likely to be a graduate and sufficiently able to train as a professional civilian translator or interpreter.

Civilian academic language qualifications should be recorded on JPA as educational achievements as they do not reflect required applied military contextual skills.

8. Interpreter and Linguist qualifications issued prior to Nov 1992 by the Civil Service Commission (CSC) and the Armed Services’ Languages Examinations Consortium (ASLEC) are held to be equivalent to the current Diploma and Advanced Certificates (Joint Services Language Examinations Board (JSLEB) and MODLEB) respectively, for all Service purposes.

Selections and Examinations

9. Higher level language training requires time and effort; candidates for training, especially ab initio, must have high levels of aptitude and motivation if training is to be successful. Candidates should take the Modern Languages Aptitude Test (MLAT) at an Army Education Centre and should be interviewed by an AGC(ETS) linguist to assess the candidate’s suitability for such training. This screening should take place prior to candidates being selected for either language training or language-essential assignments.

10. The methods of application and selection for language training, and details of language awards and qualifications required, are published in AGAI 21 and DINs.

11. Military language examinations are arranged through the Defence Operational Languages Support Unit (DOLSU) as the Secretariat of the MOD Languages Examination Board (MODLEB), which is accredited by the University of Westminster. Illustrative papers

\[102\] Language training and supporting documents, along with other relevant guidance, are published on the Defence Language and Cultural Capability Management Board (DLCCMB) intranet website.

4. A default lobbying ban of 12 months will be imposed on all applications. This may be reduced or extended up to 2 years. Lobbying in this context mean that the former military officer (including WO) should not engage in communications with Government (including Ministers, special advisors and officials) with a view to influencing a Government decision or policy in relation to their interests or the organisation by which they are employed or to whom they are contracted.

5. Any condition, including a waiting period, imposed on the proposed appointment will run from the last day of paid Service, i.e. at the end of terminal leave (if granted).

ANNEX I(J) TO CHAPTER 5, PART 14

ELECTORAL REGISTRATION OF MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES AND THEIR SPOUSES

(Para J5.588 Refers)

1. MOD policy is to encourage SP, their spouses or civil partners to register so that they can vote in all relevant elections. Registration is however a personal matter; SP are free to decide where and how they register to vote.

2. The MOD works closely with the Electoral Commission and aims to ensure that all SP are aware of the importance of registering to vote. A DIN is published annually in support of the MOD’s annual electoral registration campaign which lists the planned elections for the forthcoming year and provides more detailed guidance on registering to vote. SP are advised to read this annual DIN in conjunction with this chapter.

Electoral registration options

3. Register as an ordinary voter.
   a. Registration address. If SP are living at an address in the UK, either in private accommodation SFA/SLA, they can choose to register as an ordinary voter. This option may be suitable if SP are based in the UK and are unlikely to change address or be posted overseas in the next year.
   b. Keeping your registration up to date. Once a person is registered as an ordinary voter they stay registered unless the ERO has reason to believe they are no longer eligible. Household Enquiry Forms (HEFs) will be sent to every household each year asking for confirmation that the persons listed are still resident but unlike the old household canvass forms, HEFs cannot be used to register; they are simply to capture the names of new electors. A fresh application would need to be made following a house move.
   c. Register to vote online. To register online as an ordinary voter, SP should visit www.gov.uk/register to vote and note the following:
      (1) National Insurance (NI) number will be required for the online application process.
      (2) Do not click on the ‘Armed Forces’ link towards the bottom of the page as to do so would mean applying to register as a Service voter.
      (3) The opportunity will be provided to indicate to vote in person, by post or by proxy. Applying for a postal or proxy vote will involve completing and signing a separate offline application form. If a postal vote is chosen and an email address is provided as part of the registration, a postal vote application form will be emailed. This will need to be printed, completed, and returned. If an email address is not provided, or if the SP wishes to vote by proxy, a form will be sent to the correspondence address. If SP are in a location where it is unlikely that they will be able to receive and return a postal ballot paper in time for it to be counted, they are advised to appoint a proxy.
      (4) If a SP chooses to vote by proxy, once they are individually registered the proxy will also need to be individually registered and eligible to vote in the poll.
d. Register to vote offline. If SP are unable or do not wish to register to vote online they can continue to use a paper registration form. Paper registration forms are available from local Electoral Registration Offices\(^{104}\) or you can download a form from [www.gov.uk/register to vote](http://www.gov.uk/register to vote).

4. Register to vote in Northern Ireland. SP wishing to register as an ordinary voter in Northern Ireland can only do so by using a paper registration form. Registration forms can be downloaded from: [www.eoni.org.uk/register to vote](http://www.eoni.org.uk/register to vote) for Northern Ireland.

5. Register as a Service voter.

   a. Registration address. This option is available to all SP and their spouses or civil partners. If they choose to register as a Service voter they are able to register at a fixed address in the UK even if they move around or are based abroad. If they are serving in the UK they can register at the address they are living at, which includes SFA/SLA. Alternatively, if a SP can establish residency at more than one address in the UK, for example if they are living in SFA/SLA in one area but the main family home is in another area, they could give the address of the main family home on the registration form. If the SP is serving overseas they can register at an address where they would have been living in the UK were it not for their Service obligations. This might be an address where they live when the unit is in the UK, where they have previously lived, where they own/rent a property but do not currently live in it, or have a family connection. This does not have to be the most recent previous SFA/SLA address. This option is particularly suitable if SP are posted overseas or likely to be posted in the near future.

   b. This option is also available to MOD civil servants currently based overseas and their spouse or civil partner, if accompanying them.

   c. In Scotland, dependents from the age of 14 until their 18th birthday if their parent or guardian is a member of the Armed Forces or an MOD Civil Servant overseas and they are living with them in Scotland, or would be if their parent or guardian were not based overseas. Their eligibility to register as a Service voter ends at 18 and they will need to make a fresh registration based on their circumstances at the times.

6. Keeping your registration up to date. If SP register as a Service voter they will only have to re-register every 5 years but must inform the local ERO if the address to which voting/ballot papers are sent to has changed. In Scotland, were a dependent aged 14-17 is registered as a Service voter, their registration must be renewed each year and will end when they reach 18 years old.

7. Register to vote online. To register online as a Service voter, personnel should visit [www.gov.uk/register to vote armed forces](http://www.gov.uk/register to vote armed forces) (for SP) or [www.gov.uk/register to vote crown servants British council employees](http://www.gov.uk/register to vote crown servants British council employees) (for MOD civil servants) and complete the online application. You should note the following about the online registration process:

   a. NI number will be required for the online application process.

   b. As part of the online application SP will be asked to enter their UK address and this is the address at which they will be registered to vote.

c. A little later on in the process SP will be asked “Where should we write to you about your registration?” and this is your opportunity, if appropriate, to select another address that can be used for correspondence. SP may wish to enter a different address here if, for example, they are serving overseas and they want correspondence to go to their overseas address rather than the address in the UK where they are registered.

d. SP will be given the opportunity to indicate whether they wish to vote in person, by post or by proxy. Applying for a postal or proxy vote will involve completing and signing a separate offline application form. If SP choose to apply for a postal vote and have provided an email address as part of their registration, they will be emailed a postal vote application form. They will then need to print, complete, and return the form. If an email address is not provided, or if they wish to vote by proxy, a form will be sent to the correspondence address. If SP are in a location where it is unlikely that they will be able to receive and return a postal ballot paper in time for it to be counted, they are advised to appoint a proxy.

e. If SP choose to vote by proxy once they are registered, their proxy will also need to be registered and eligible to vote in the poll.

8. Register to vote offline. If SP are unable or do not wish to register to vote online they can continue to use a paper registration form. Forms to register as a Service voter are available to download from the internet\[105\].

9. Register to vote in Northern Ireland. SP wishing to register as a Service voter in Northern Ireland can only do so by using a paper registration form.

10. Register as an overseas voter. If SP are posted overseas they can register as an overseas voter. This option is available to all British citizens who live abroad but have been registered as electors in Britain within the last 15 years. Overseas electors are not eligible to vote in any local government elections.

11. Keeping registration up to date. If SP are registered as an overseas voter they should receive an annual renewal notification from the Electoral Registration Office in the area where they are registered to vote, usually 9 to 10 months after their last registration. If they move they must keep their Electoral Registration Office up to date to ensure reminders and ballot papers etc. are sent to the correct address.

12. Register to vote online. To register online as an overseas voter SP should visit www.gov.uk/register-to-vote and note the following:

   a. NI number will be required for the online application process.

   b. Do not click on the ‘Armed Forces’ link towards the bottom of the page as to do so would mean they would be applying to register as a Service voter.

   c. At the first question select “British citizen living in another country (including the Channel Islands or Isle of Man)” before continuing the rest of the online application process.

ANNEX J TO CHAPTER 5, PART 15

MANAGEMENT OF SERVICE (NON PUBLIC) FUNDS
(PARAS 5.612 AND 5.702 REFER)

General Instructions

1. COs are responsible as sole trustees for the control of all the funds of their units. They may as necessary appoint subordinate officers to manage those funds. In the case where Service (non-public) funds are managed by a committee or council who do not act on behalf of the CO, then the chairman of that body is to be the CO for the purposes of the requirements in these regulations and SFR (AC 60450).

2. All officers concerned in the management of Service (non-public) funds are to keep a precise record of their transactions and are generally to apply the detailed procedures laid down for this in SFR (AC 60450). The accounts of all Service (non-public) funds entered up to date are to be made available at the formation commander's administrative inspection (para 3.006).

3. The cash and bank balances of all regimental funds of the unit are to be checked at irregular intervals to include a minimum of five checks each year, with at least one being conducted each quarter. There is to be no prior warning of these checks. A record of these checks is to be made on the accounts concerned in accordance with SFR (AC 60450). If an account holder is also responsible for any other Service fund account, or for the imprest account, the cash and bank balances of those accounts are to be checked at the same time.

4. Service (non-public) fund accounts of the unit are to be formally handed over during the absence of the account holder (eg on privilege leave) and in any case at intervals of not more than 12 months.

5. A CO who is the account holder of a Service (non-public) fund is to report the fact to the formation headquarters currently responsible for the administration of their unit. The formation commander is then to detail, by appointment, an officer of the same or higher rank than the CO, but of another unit, to carry out the check referred to above.

6. The accounts of Service (non-public) funds are generally to be audited at such intervals, not exceeding 12 months, as may be determined by the GOC. In those units operating under the Regimental Accounts Scheme, a continuous audit is to be undertaken by the Internal Auditor in accordance with instructions contained in SFR (AC 60450) Chapter 2. Paras 7, 8 and 10 below do not apply in such cases.

7. At the end of the appropriate period the CO is to convene an audit board consisting of a president and at least two members. The president is to be an officer not below the rank of captain, or a retired officer holding an appointment as a retired officer on a unit establishment. The members may be officers, retired officers, warrant officers, or a staff sergeant (no more than one per audit board) and civilian officers of equivalent grades. In no circumstances is an account holder or anyone directly connected with the account being audited to be either the president or member of an audit board which is to audit that account.

8. The CO is personally responsible for obtaining, for each account to be audited, bank statements for the current, deposit and giro accounts and a certificate of investments held as at close of business on the last day of the relevant period for which the accounts are to be audited. They are to arrange that these statements and the certificate are sent to them... direct and not through any other person. They are then to hand them direct to the president of the board.

9. Audit is to be conducted in accordance with the instructions contained in SFR (AC 60450). The proceedings of the board are to be laid before the CO for approval and, subsequently, placed before the commander under whom the unit is serving.

10. A CO may, if they so wish, arrange for the audit of Service (non-public) funds accounts to be carried out by professional civilian accountants but the cost of such audit is not to be admitted as a charge against public funds. When accounts are audited the auditor's report is to be placed before an audit board, convened in accordance with para 7 above, which will then act in accordance with the instructions contained in SFR (AC 60450).

11. To afford all ranks an opportunity of acquainting themselves with the amount of rebate received from the NAAFI and the method of its disposal, a balance sheet, including a simple statement of receipts and payments, of the accounts of the regimental institutes is to be published in unit orders as soon as possible after the audit.

12. Unit funds will not be used for the encashment of private cheques, except on the authority of the CO, where the prescribed rules for the administration of a particular fund provide.

13. The Department generally accepts no legal liability for activities of SP assigned responsibility for activities which are wholly funded by non-public funds. A CO is therefore to ensure that such activities have the requisite commercial insurance cover set out in single Service regulations.

14. Investments are to be made in accordance with the provisions of the Trustee Act 2000. Deeds of trust purporting to govern the present or future application of any Service (non-public) funds or property of the unit are not to be executed without the consent of the Army Board of the Defence Council. This restriction does not apply to gifts or bequests made to the unit from time to time which remain subject to any limitation specified by the donor.

The United Services Trustee

J15. The attention of those who have control, or are concerned in the control, of funds which are not public money, or of goods etc. which are not public property, is drawn to the advantages which are obtained by utilising the services of the United Services Trustee, which is a corporation formed in December 1918, for the use and benefit of the Royal Navy, Army and Royal Air Force, and not for gain or profit. The main objects for which the corporation is established are to act as trustee, or custodian trustee, or as treasurer, receiver or manager, or as agent for persons having the management or control of any funds or property existing for the benefit of members or ex-members of Her Majesty's forces. The purchase and sale of investments, collection of dividends and insurance, and recovery of Income Tax are all matters on which The United Services Trustee is willing to give expert advice and assistance. The United Services Trustee Combined Charitable Fund (formerly entitled Combined Charitable fund) and the Combined Charitable Income Fund were established for the purpose of the investment of Service Charities. Further information may be obtained from The Secretary, The United Services Trustee, 123 Pall Mall, LONDON, SW1Y 5EG.

Suspension from Duty

a. A commanding officer may suspend an officer, warrant officer, NCO or private soldier from duty during the investigation of an alleged offence or of any matter, if they consider that such action is necessary in the interests of the service or the individual.

b. When a commanding officer suspends an officer, warrant officer, NCO or private soldier, they are to appoint an assisting officer for that person immediately upon suspension. (See AGAI 67.)

c. If an officer, warrant officer, NCO or private soldier is suspended from duty they are not permitted to visit their place of work or barracks, nor are they allowed to attend military social functions. Commanding officers must also consider the living arrangements of living-in personnel, whether married unaccompanied or single so as to best judge where suspended personnel may be best accommodated during the suspension period.

d. If the circumstances so require and with the sanction of the commander not below the rank of brigadier (under whose command they are serving), they may be permitted to go to an agreed civilian address other than one at which they would normally reside for work, at public expense to await further orders. When such permission is granted, the circumstances are to be reported immediately, through the next superior headquarters, to the Ministry of Defence (PS2(Army)) in the case of an officer and to the appropriate Manning and Career Management Division, in the case of a warrant officer, NCO or private soldier.

Drunkenness or Use of Drugs

6.023. Except in cases falling to be dealt with under road traffic legislation when normal civil practice will as far as possible apply, a person suspected of being drunk is not to be put through any drill or test for the purposes of ascertaining their condition.

6.024. A soldier who appears to be under the influence of drink or drugs and in need of supervision to prevent illness or injury is to be ordered to the nearest suitable accommodation and is to remain there until they no longer appear to be at risk. Their condition is to be monitored during this time. If there are symptoms of illness or injury, which could require medical treatment, the medical officer is to be sent for immediately.

6.024A. An intoxicated soldier who is violent or disorderly and therefore has committed an offence may be arrested under the provisions of MSL, Vol 1, Ch 4, but their retention in service custody must be in accordance with MSL, Vol 1, Ch 5. It would not be practicable to bring such a soldier in front of a judicial officer until they were sober.

Arrest of Deserters and Absentees

PART 3 - INVESTIGATION OF CHARGES AND SUMMARY HEARING

Independence of Service Police Investigations

J6.046. All investigations undertaken by service police, regardless of their nature and of who initiated the investigation, are conducted independently of the chain of command. The Provost Marshal of the service police force in question is responsible for investigations, and for ensuring that service police investigations are free from interference. Interference includes any attempt by anyone who is not a service policeman to direct an investigation being carried out by the service police. Service police should not be obstructed or otherwise hindered, or influenced in any manner in the conduct of investigations. The chain of command has a clear duty to assist the service police and to facilitate their inquiries. Obstructing or failing to assist a service policeman may be an offence, as may interference with an investigation. Compelling reasons are required before assistance may be refused, and assistance should not be refused without seeking legal advice. None of these provisions imply any legal obligation on an individual to provide a statement.

6.047 - 6.051. Reserved.

Conduct at Summary Hearing

a. If an accused soldier is in service custody when they appear before the officer conducting the summary hearing they are to be accompanied by an escort; if not, there is to be no escort unless that officer otherwise directs.

b. Dress is a matter for commanding officers, but there is no requirement for the accused to dress differently from the others involved in the hearing and the accused is to be marched in to the room where the hearing is being conducted in a normal manner.

c. Summary hearings are to be conducted in a way that demonstrably upholds the fairness of the procedures. Specifically any practice that might indicate a presumption of guilt is prohibited.

d. The accused and their adviser must not be disadvantaged procedurally either by any lack of knowledge or experience or by the manner in which orders are conducted.

e. The officer conducting the hearing must be satisfied that the accused understands what is going on. They should be prepared to explain any aspect of the procedure at any time during the hearing.

f. The accused can consult with their Assisting Officer at any stage during the hearing and both should be permitted to consult the case papers and take notes during the hearing.

g. Guidance on sentencing is found in MSL Chap 14.

6.052. Disposal of Record of Summary Hearing (RSH). If the case against the accused is found proven and the accused declines to submit an appeal then the completed Record of Summary Hearing, and all case papers, should be sent to OSC(A), PS2(A) no sooner than 15 days and no later than 30 days after the summary hearing. OSC(A), PS2(A) will monitor the archiving, storage and retrieval and is the sole authority for the disposal of all RSH with respect to summary hearings not subject to appeal. If an accused appeals then, at the conclusion of the appeal, the RSH and case papers are placed in storage under the arrangements of the Service Prosecuting Authority. All Records of Summary Hearing must be retained for seven years from the date of the summary hearing.
Directions, Guidance and Opinions of Higher Commanders

6.063. Higher commanders (see paras 2.002a, b and c(1)) may on their own initiative issue guidance on disciplinary matters whenever they consider it necessary to do so in the interests of military discipline. For example, a commander in chief may recommend as a matter of policy that certain offences committed within their command, such as loss of arms, should be considered for trial by Court Martial. They may issue guidance on the appropriate level of punishment for particular types of offence, for example alcohol-related motoring offences but they may not mandate compulsory or fixed penalty punishments. Guidance should be sought from DPS(A) PS2(A).

6.064. Before exercising any of their disciplinary functions, commanding officers may consult the Advisory Branch of the Army Legal Services (ALS) on any question of service law. They should always do so in cases which are likely to be tried by Court Martial or where the accused is charged with a number of offences and the intention is to deal with them summarily at one hearing or refer them to the Director of Service Prosecutions (DSP). In any event advice must be obtained from ALS for:

a. Any offence of dishonesty, indecency or drug abuse.
b. Any offence resulting in physical injury.
c. Any offence involving a weapon or an object that could be construed to be a weapon.
d. Any traffic offence of impaired driving and driving without insurance.
e. Any offence of long – term (120 days or more) absence or repeated absence.
f. Any offence investigated by the Service Police.
g. Any offence where an officer, warrant officer or civilian is to be dealt with summarily.
h. Any offence where a lance corporal or private soldier is likely to be awarded by a commanding officer detention for a period exceeding 28 days. (See para 6.071A.)

6.064A. A CO should, as a matter of policy, obtain legal advice from the staff legal advisor before proceeding to hear any of the following charges;

a. Theft contrary to section 1 (1) of the Theft Act 1968, where the value of the stolen property exceeds £300;
b. Destroying or damaging property contrary to section 1(1) of the Criminal Damage Act 1971, where the amount of damage does not exceeds £1000;
c. Unlawful possession of a controlled drug of class B or C, contrary to section 5(2) of the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971;
d. Abstracting of electricity contrary to section 13 of the Theft Act 1968 up to the value £300.

6.064B. The following summary offences, as a matter of policy, require legal advice to be obtained from the staff legal advisor, before proceeding summary in view of their inherent complexity:
a. Dishonestly obtaining electronic communications services (Section 125 of the Communications Act 2003).

b. Possession or supply of apparatus etc. for dishonestly obtaining electronic communications services. (Section 126 of the Communications Act 2003.)

c. Fraud (Section 1 of the Fraud Act 2006).

d. Dishonestly obtaining services (Section 11 of the Fraud Act 2006).

e. Attempting to commit one of the offences listed above.

f. Low Flying (Section 34 AFA 06).

g. Annoyance by flying (Section 35 AFA 06).

Trial of a Deserter or Absentee Surrendered to a Consular Office Abroad.

6.065. Where a deserter or absentee abroad surrenders themselves to a consular officer, a certificate of surrender signed by the consular officer may be admissible in any proceedings which may be taken under section 8 or section 9 of the Armed Forces Act 2006. Any unit, which is advised of such surrender, is to contact DPS(A) PS2(A) for instructions.

Dispensation with Trial in Cases of Desertion

6.066. See MSL, Vol 1, Ch 17, para 22 Confession of Desertion.

Summary Awards by Commanding Officers

6.070. There is to be no departure from the system of punishment laid down within AFA 06 AF(SH&ASSD)Regs 2009, or these regulations. The guidance given in the Summary Hearing Sentencing Guide (MSL, Vol 1, Ch 14) is also to be followed.

6.071. Reserved.

6.072. Punishments. The punishments that may be awarded by a commanding officer are set out in section 132 of the Armed Forces Act 2006. The punishments referred to therein, which may be awarded by a commanding officer, are contained in MSL, Vol 1, Ch 13.

6.073 – 6.077. Reserved.

The Summary Appeal Court

6.078. For instruction on Summary Hearing Review and Appeals see MSL, Vol 1, Ch 15.

a. Officers who are required to perform the duty as a member of the Summary Appeal Court are to do so independently and impartially in accordance with the evidence and the law.

b. Summary Appeal Court members are not to be subjected to any external influences or pressures prior to, during or after the hearing. It is an offence under the criminal law and accordingly under Service law to do anything to pervert the course of justice. This includes, among other things, any interference with or attempt to influence any member of, or witness in, the Summary Appeal Court. Any such attempt prior to commencement or after conclusion of the trial should be reported to the Service police and the DSP; if this occurs during the trial it should be reported to the Judge Advocate presiding.

c. Written guidance as to the conduct and procedures of the court should be provided to those selected as members at least two weeks prior to the commencement of the hearing. Members must satisfy themselves they understand their duties and responsibilities; they will be required to sign a certificate to that effect by the Court Administration Officer.

d. For the duration of the court, members are not to engage in any other duties until such time as they are released by the Judge Advocate. The performance of a court member shall not be considered or evaluated in the preparation of any personal report, assessment or other document used in whole or in part for the purpose of determining whether a member is qualified to be promoted, or is qualified or suited for particular appointments or training.

e. The result of every Summary Appeal Court hearing is to be published in formation routine orders and the Part 1 orders of the unit to which the appellant belongs or is attached.

Delegation of Powers by Commanding Officers

6.079. For instruction on delegation of powers by commanding officers see MSL, Vol 1, Ch 6.

Powers of Subordinate Commanders

6.080. For instructions on powers of subordinate commanders see MSL, Vol 1, Ch13.

Communication with the Criminal Record Office

b. An officer sentenced by Court Martial to imprisonment whether with or without dismissal from the Service, remains subject to Service discipline until they cease to hold their commission as notified in the London Gazette, but subsequently may be treated as if they were still subject to Service discipline until the sentence is completed.

c. An officer sentenced to imprisonment by a civil court remains subject to Service discipline until they cease to hold their commission, as notified in the London Gazette.

6.149. Soldiers.

a. A soldier sentenced to be dismissed the Service, but not sentenced to imprisonment, remains subject to Service discipline until discharged from the Army under authority of para 9.396 or 9.397.

b. A soldier sentenced by Court Martial to detention and dismissal or to imprisonment remains subject to Service discipline until discharged from the Army under authority of paras 9.396, 9.397 or 9.404. However, a soldier serving a sentence of detention in a military establishment remains liable to be dealt with for offences under Service discipline notwithstanding that their discharge from the Army has taken place.

c. A soldier sentenced by a civil court to imprisonment, whether at home or overseas, remains subject to Service discipline until discharged from the Army under authority of para 9.404.

6.150 – 6.165. Reserved.

Absentees-Protecting Certificates

6.166. When an absentee who has been located is not required for disciplinary proceedings or for further service as a soldier, a protecting certificate (AFB 129) should be issued to them by a brigade or equivalent commander. The Director of Manning (Army) is also authorized to issue an AFB 129 and all cases where it is intended to issue an AFB 129 should be referred to the Directorate of Manning (Army).

Military Penal Establishment and Execution of Sentence

6.167. Instructions regarding the treatment, employment, discipline and control of soldiers under sentence are contained in JSP 837 – Service Code of Practice for the Management of Personnel in Service Custody and Committal to Service Custody Premises and Civil Prisons.

6.168. When a soldier is to re-join their unit on release from imprisonment or detention an escort is not to be provided unless there is a requirement to take them into service custody in accordance with the provisions of the Armed Forces Act 2006. They are to be ordered to report to their unit and, if necessary, they are to be given written instructions as to their journey.
Sex Offenders Register

6.169. In every case where military personnel have been convicted of a sexual offence, and subject to any of the notification requirements or civil orders set out in Part 2 of the Sexual Offences Act 2003 and are exceptionally being retained in the Service, the Service Police Crime Bureau (SPCB) are to notify PS2(A). Post Trials Section PS2(A) are to maintain a record of all Army personnel subject to any of the Sexual Offences Act orders and review with Army Personnel Centre (APC) and Director Manning (Army) (DM(A)) posting and appointments in accordance with AGAI 62.

PART 6 - CHARGES BY THE CIVIL POWER

Attendance of Civil Courts (see also para J7.025)

a. When a soldier\(^1\) whose unit is stationed in the United Kingdom is charged with any offence before a Crown court (or in Scotland a sheriff court or higher) an officer of their unit who knows them is to be detailed to attend the court.

b. Where practicable, similar action is to be taken when a soldier\(^1\) whose unit is stationed in the United Kingdom is charged before a court of summary jurisdiction. If, however, the court is distant from the unit, the commanding officer, if they consider that the offence is of a minor nature, is to refer to the brigade or equivalent commander for a decision whether or not an officer should be detailed to attend the court and, if one is to attend, whether they should be detailed from the soldire’s unit or from some other unit near to the court. In the latter case the commanding officer is to make the necessary arrangements with the officer commanding troops at the station from which the officer is to be detailed, forwarding all the information and documents required for the use of the officer, who must be prepared to explain to the court why an officer of the soldier’s own unit has not attended. If the offence is of a minor character and the soldier\(^1\) is offered the opportunity, and elects, to plead guilty by post then the commanding officer may decide that no officer should attend the court.

c. When a soldier\(^1\) whose unit is stationed outside the United Kingdom is charged with any offence before any civil court in the United Kingdom, the appropriate Colonel Manning and Career Management Division at the Army Personnel Centre, Glasgow is to refer to the OC of the unit performing the depot function for the soldier’s\(^1\) regiment or corps for a decision on the matters referred to in sub-para b.

d. The Officer attending the court is to be prepared to give information to the court regarding:

   (1) The soldier’s\(^1\) general character.

   (2) Length of service.

   (3) Net rate of pay with details of main deductions from gross pay.

   (4) Present employment or trade.

   (5) Any particular domestic problems.

   (6) Particulars of any convictions by a Court Martial for any service offence involving serious violence, damage to property or dishonesty or for any attempt to commit any of the foregoing offences. The officer is not, unless required by the court to do so, to give any information regarding minor offences of a purely military character, the nature of which might be misunderstood to the prejudice of the soldier\(^1\).

   (7) Where a period of disqualification from driving is to be awarded to a soldier\(^1\) by a court, the officer is to inform the court of the effect of the disqualification on the soldier\(^1\). See AGAI 65. They are also to be prepared to tell the court, if asked, that a sentence of imprisonment (including a suspended sentence), detention or youth custody will almost certainly require the Army to discharge a convicted soldier\(^1\) under QR(Army), para 9.404e, and that their retention, if recommended by their commanding officer, must be approved by the Ministry of Defence (Army), and that this would only occur as an exceptional case. They are to inform the court, if asked, whether, in the case before the court, the accused's commanding officer considers there are, or are not, any exceptional grounds that would merit submitting a recommendation to a higher authority that the accused be retained in the Army if a custodial sentence is awarded. They are further, if necessary, to remind the court that, if bail is granted, the Army has no legal power to detain the accused in custody of any sort.

e. Should the soldier be unable to settle the fine, penalty, damages, compensation or costs ordered by the court, the officer attending the court is (subject to the stipulation below) to arrange payment to be made in accordance with the procedures laid down in the MSL Chap 20. If the amount of the fine, penalty, damages, compensation or costs exceeds the soldier's current available balance and is such that, in the ordinary course, recovery could not be effected from their account within a period of three months or before the date of their discharge or transfer to the Army Reserve, etc., if due to take place earlier, payment must be withheld. If the soldier is a recruit entitled to purchase their discharge under para 9.415 payment is to be limited to the amount available within the soldier's current balance. The reason for withholding payment must be fully explained by the officer attending.

f. The officer attending the court is to be fully briefed in accordance with AGAI 65.

g. Where the court is considering a community sentence, the officer attending the court must be prepared to inform the court, if need be, of any imminent posting of the unit or the offender which might make a community service order inappropriate. They should also inform the court that if a community sentence is awarded, application may be made for the offender's discharge. (See AGAI 65.)

h. A suspended sentence of detention awarded summarily or by the SAC may be activated by a CO if the offender is found guilty of an offence in a civil court in the British Islands during the operational period of the sentence. (See MSL Chap 20).

a. When a soldier aged 18 years or over is awaiting trial by a civil court on a serious charge, their commanding officer is to advise them to keep their next of kin informed.

b. When a soldier under the age of 18 years is awaiting trial by a civil court, their commanding officer is to inform their parents or legal guardians as soon as possible stating the nature of the charge.

2 British Islands"is a term that has been in use in the law of the United Kingdom since 1889. It means the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man (see Interpretation Act 1978).
Officers Convicted by the Civil Power

a. Every case in which an officer has been found guilty by a court, other than a Court Martial, of any offence, including a case where a community sentence has been awarded or they have been discharged, absolutely or conditionally, is to be reported by their commanding officer with full details to the divisional, district, or equivalent commander.

b. The commander is to report to the Defence Council:

(1) All cases which are required to be so reported in accordance with instructions of the Defence Council. (See AGAI 67.)

(2) All other cases which are, in the opinion of the commander, sufficiently serious to be so reported having regard to the following considerations:

(a) Whether the offence would have merited trial by Court Martial or whether, if the case had been dealt with summarily, a substantial punishment would have been awarded.

(b) In the case of convictions by a court outside the United Kingdom, whether the proceedings and the concepts of justice generally in the country concerned were in basic accord with standards prevailing in the United Kingdom. If necessary, advice should be sought from Army Legal Services. Only in exceptional circumstances will a conviction be reported where the evidence would not have given rise to a criminal charge under the laws of any part of the United Kingdom. Guidance may, if necessary, be issued by the local Army headquarters.

c. Cases reported to the Defence Council are to be accompanied by a certificate of conviction obtained from the court. Where the court is in the United Kingdom, the commanding officer is to obtain a certificate signed by the clerk of the court. This certificate will, if issued during a period of 35 days following the conviction, or if application for appeal has been made, be a qualified certificate. If at the end of 35 days no notice of appeal has been given an unqualified certificate of conviction will be issued. Where the court is outside the United Kingdom the form and content of any certificate of conviction will depend on local law; and it may be necessary for the local Service headquarters to agree a suitable form of certificate with the local civil authorities. The certificate, signed by a competent court official whose appointment should be stated on the certificate, should set out the full names of the offender, the date of the hearing, the offence or offences of which the offender was convicted and the sentence. An accurate translation of the certificate should where necessary also be obtained. Before a certificate of conviction by a court outside the United Kingdom is forwarded to the Defence Council the certificate should be shown to the offender so that they may have an opportunity of disputing the accuracy of its contents or the fact that it relates to them. The commanding officer should confirm in writing that this has been done. If the certificate is disputed in any way further inquiries should be made. If it is impracticable to obtain a certificate of conviction from an overseas court any other available evidence of the conviction should be forwarded in lieu.

d. Should the finding of the court by which an officer was first tried be quashed or varied on appeal a further report is to be made by the officer's commanding officer, divisional, district or equivalent commander as the case may be.
Warrant Officers and NCOs Convicted by the Civil Power

a. When a warrant officer or NCO, other than a lance corporal or lance bombardier, has been found guilty by a court, other than a Court Martial, of an offence, including a case where a community sentence has been awarded or they have been discharged absolutely or conditionally or where the soldier is bound over, their commanding officer is forthwith to report the case in writing to the commander, not below the rank of colonel, under whose command they are serving. This report is to be accompanied by the following documents:

(1) A short statement of the case together with the recommendation of the commanding officer. If the commanding officer considers the warrant officer or NCO should be reduced in rank, this is to include the rank to which reduction is recommended.

(2) Copies of the conduct sheets and record of service of the warrant officer or NCO.

(3) Proof of civil conviction (where a legal rather than administrative process is contemplated).

(4) Any statement that the warrant officer or NCO may wish to make or a certificate stating that they do not wish to make a representation.

b. If the commander considers that the warrant officer or NCO should be reduced in rank they are, unless they themselves have power to order the reduction under section 332 of the Armed Forces Act 2006, to submit their recommendation to a competent authority under that section. The recommendation is to state the rank to which reduction is recommended and is to be accompanied by the documents mentioned in sub-para a above.

c. If the commander does not order or recommend the reduction in rank of a warrant officer or NCO who has been sentenced to imprisonment, they are to report the circumstances to an authority competent to order the reduction, stating their reasons for not ordering or recommending the reduction, as the case may be, and enclosing the documents mentioned in sub-para a above.

d. Intermediate commanders are to record their opinions when forwarding recommendations under sub-para b or reports under sub-para c.

e. When it is finally decided in any particular case that the warrant officer or NCO shall not be reduced in rank, the commanding officer is to forward a copy of their report on the case and of the decision to the appropriate Colonel Manning and Career Management Division at the Army Personnel Centre, Glasgow for retention.

f. For a lance corporal or lance bombardier the commanding officer is to act on their own authority and need not refer the matter to the commander under whose command they are serving.

Soldiers on Bail

6.180. A soldier released on bail from civil custody should be treated no differently from other soldiers, except that:

a. He is not to be posted out of the United Kingdom until the civil proceedings have been completed.
b. They are to be made available to surrender to their bail when required to do so.

c. Since one of the purposes of releasing them on bail is to enable them to prepare their defence to the civil charge they are to be allowed reasonable opportunities and facilities for that purpose, whether or not they are under arrest or undergoing punishment for a military offence.

Soldiers released from Imprisonment

6.181. Reserved.

6.182.

a. When a soldier who has undergone imprisonment and is exceptionally being retained in the Army, the appropriate Colonel Manning and Career Management Division at the Army Personnel Centre, Glasgow is to send posting instructions to the governor of the youth custody centre before the man is to be released, and notification of posting and general instructions to the officer commanding the man’s new unit.

b. If on their return to military duty after serving such a sentence of imprisonment, it is found that the soldier has not responded to this opportunity to make good and persists in committing further offences against Service law, normal disciplinary action is to be taken. Cases in which the soldier has failed to make good on return to the Army are to be reported, together with the nature of the offences, other than trivial, and punishment awarded direct by the officer commanding the unit to:

PSYCHIATRIC EXAMINATIONS OF PERSONS LIABLE TO TRIAL BY THE COURT MARTIAL
(_PARA 6.092 REFERS)

Definitions

1. In this Annex:
   a. ‘Service psychiatrist’ means a Royal Navy, Army, Royal Air Force or civilian psychiatrist employed under the authority of the Commander Medical of a command or district for the psychiatric examination of a person liable to be tried by Court Martial.
   b. ‘The defence’ means an accused person who may be conducting their own defence before a Court Martial; that person's defending officer, solicitor or counsel.

Procedure

2. A commanding officer may at any time in consultation with the unit medical officer and, if necessary, the Commander Medical of the command or district, arrange for an accused to be examined by a Service psychiatrist.

3. In all cases when the unit medical officer is of the opinion that the accused may be suffering from a psychological illness or from a significant degree of mental disorder due to brain damage, disease or dysfunction, the opinion of a Service psychiatrist will be obtained.

4. If the Prosecuting Authority considers that a psychiatric report may assist them in deciding whether or not to order trial they may in consultation with the commander medical of the command, division or district arrange for an accused to be examined by a Service psychiatrist.

5. If an accused requests a psychiatric examination their commanding officer will explain to the accused that they may at their own expense be examined by a civilian psychiatrist but that they cannot demand to be examined by a Service psychiatrist.

6. In the case of an accused charged with murder committed overseas, their commanding officer will arrange for them to be examined by a Service psychiatrist at the earliest opportunity.

Documents and Information to be Submitted to a Service Psychiatrist

7. When a commanding officer or Prosecuting Authority orders a psychiatric examination, the following information will be supplied to the Service psychiatrist:
   a. A report setting out the nature of the charge(s) and, if available, a copy of the witness statements or a short statement of the facts (including any available service police or civil police reports).
   b. The charge report or any information regarding the accused's previous record in lieu together with any relevant procedure sheet.
   c. F Med 8 (Rev 1957) in accordance with Medical Documentation 1956, para 101.
   d. All other relevant documents.
   e. The address of the commanding officer and of the Prosecuting Authority.
Delay

8. An application for trial by Court Martial will not normally be delayed until receipt of a Service psychiatrist's report.

Action to be Taken by a Service Psychiatrist

9. The object of the examination by the Service psychiatrist is to draw the attention of the appropriate authorities to any relevant mental disability. They will therefore:

a. Prepare a report on F Med 288. This report will not under normal circumstances indicate any disposal other than that, after disciplinary action has been completed, the person affected should be referred for a further psychiatric assessment and disposal as necessary;

b. Send completed copies of the report as follows:

   (1) To the commanding officer - two copies;
   (2) To the Prosecuting Authority - one copy;
   (3) Return F Med 8A to the commanding officer making no mention of diagnosis or recommendations; F Med 8A is the tear-off portion on the reverse of F Med 8.
   (4) Submit no other report, except that in any case of medical necessity they will forward to the unit medical officer their advice in writing as to any treatment recommended.

Use of Psychiatric Reports

10. A psychiatric report, whether ordered by the commanding officer or the Prosecuting Authority, will be shown to the unit medical officer. The medical officer will not disclose the contents to any unauthorized person.

11. A commanding officer will, whenever requested by the defence or so advised by the Prosecuting Authority provide the defence with a copy of the psychiatric report. On any such report being provided the defence will be required to give a written undertaking that the report will only be used for the purposes of the trial and that it will be returned to the Service authorities on conclusion of it.

12. If an accused is brought to trial and convicted any Service psychiatrist's report will accompany the record of the proceedings of the Court Martial if they are subject to an Appeal. If the accused is sentenced to imprisonment, youth custody or military detention, a copy of the report is to be forwarded to the governor of the prison or youth custody centre, or to the Commandant of the Military Corrective Training Centre, and the fact noted in a minute accompanying the record of proceedings of the Court Martial for review.

13. If the Prosecuting Authority decides not to bring an accused to trial in view of the nature of any psychiatric report they will as necessary draw the attention of the accused's commanding officer to the regulations regarding the discharge of soldiers mentally or temperamentally unsuitable for service.

14. A psychiatric report is a medical in confidence document and will in no circumstances be disclosed to any unauthorized person.
Action to be taken by the Commandant, Military Corrective Training Centre

15. If in the opinion of the Commandant a person undergoing sentence appears to be suffering from a mental illness or a mental disorder due to brain damage, disease or dysfunction, the Commandant will immediately refer the case to a Service psychiatrist and afford facilities for a psychiatric examination.

16. If a Service psychiatrist, as a result of their own examination, is of opinion that a person undergoing sentence is mentally or temperamentally unsuited for military service they will, if that person is a soldier, make a recommendation for their discharge on medical grounds. Medical board action will normally be taken towards the end of a period of detention, unless it is stated by the Service psychiatrist that a person is unfit for detention.

CHAPTER 7
GENERAL LEGAL MATTERS PART 1 - JURISDICTION

General

J7.001. Service Courts have jurisdiction to try any Service offence. A Service offence is an offence that is a non-criminal conduct offence under Part 1 of the Armed Forces Act 2006 (AFA 06), other than an offence under section 42, and any criminal conduct offence under section 42 of the AFA 06.

J7.002. For jurisdiction as to the person, attention is drawn to AFA 06, Part 2, Chapter 1, regulations made under AFA 06 and JSP 830 (The Manual of Service Law)\(^1\).

Jurisdiction in the United Kingdom (UK)

J7.003. In respect of offences committed by persons subject to Service law, jurisdiction may lie with the Service authorities or with both the Service authorities and the civilian authorities under the ordinary law of the relevant part of the UK. In the latter circumstance, there are a number of established procedures and protocols that determine the exercise of jurisdiction and Commanding Officers (COs) should liaise with the Service Police and seek staff legal advice on jurisdiction.

J7.004. Where jurisdictional issues arise in the UK, consultation with the relevant civilian authority will be handled by the Service Police or Ministry of Defence Police (MDP) and by the Director of Service Prosecutions (DSP), where appropriate. COs should therefore liaise in the first instance with the Service Police in these cases.

J7.005. If there is in any doubt as to whether an alleged offence should be reported to a relevant civilian authority or if there is any doubt as to whether the Services have jurisdiction to deal with the case, staff legal advice should be sought.

J7.006. Detailed information regarding jurisdiction in the UK is contained in JSP 830\(^2\).

Jurisdiction in Commonwealth and Foreign Countries

J7.007. The proper exercise of Service jurisdiction in a foreign country is often regulated by a treaty, Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) or ad hoc agreement\(^3\).

J7.008. Detailed information regarding jurisdiction outside the UK is contained JSP 830\(^4\). CO’s should seek Service Police/legal advice for any jurisdiction matters overseas.

Jurisdiction in NATO and Partnership for Peace (PfP) Countries.

J7.009. Jurisdiction in NATO countries and the other states participating in the PfP is dealt with in Article VII of the Agreement Regarding the Status of Forces of Parties to the North Atlantic Treaty (Command 9363) signed in London on 19 June 1951 (the Agreement). The full text of the Agreement is in JSP 830\(^5\).

\(^3\) Head Office and Corporate Services - International Agreements
\(^4\) JSP 830, Volume 1, Chapter 3, Part 1.
\(^5\) JSP 830, Volume 1, Chapter 3, Part 1.
J7.010. The status of UK forces stationed in Germany is governed by the Agreement Regarding the Status of Forces of Parties to the North Atlantic Treaty (Command 9363) as modified by the Supplementary Agreement (Command 2191 of 1963 and Command 2479 of 1994).

J7.011. Detailed information regarding Jurisdiction in NATO and PfP countries is contained in JSP 830. CO’s should seek Service Police/legal advice for any jurisdiction matters overseas.

Jurisdiction in British Overseas Territories

J7.012. In the British Overseas Territories listed in the UK Forces (Jurisdiction of Colonial Courts) Order 1965 (as amended) – SI No 1203 of 1965, reproduced at Annex B, the jurisdiction of the civil courts to try members of Her Majesty’s forces (or the civilian component of those forces) in respect of offences against the law of the territory has been removed in certain circumstances.

J7.013. Cyprus Sovereign Base Areas (SBAs) form a special category governed by the Treaty of Establishment 1964. Differing jurisdictional arrangements exist depending on whether the events giving rise to the charge occurred within the SBAs or in the Republic of Cyprus. In the light of such complications, where such issues arise staff legal advice should always be obtained.

J7.014. Detailed information regarding jurisdiction in British Overseas Territories is contained in JSP 830. CO’s should seek Service Police/legal advice for any jurisdiction matters overseas.

Jurisdiction for United Nations (UN) force

J7.015. In the case of a force which is forming part of a UN force occupying former enemy territory, jurisdiction generally lies exclusively with the authorities of the force.

Jurisdiction in Security Cases World Wide

J7.016. In cases where there has been a breach of security and it appears that:

a. The offence could involve damage to the public interest: or;

b. The offender could have been acting for a purpose prejudicial to the interests of the State, the CO of the accused is immediately to refer the case to APSG Conduct Branch, DALS and D Sy Pol for a decision on reference to the civil authorities.

Murder and Manslaughter Abroad by Accompanying Civilians

J7.017. Where it is alleged that an identified civilian subject to Service law has committed an offence of murder or manslaughter outside the UK and the authorities of the host country are not able or do not intend to exercise jurisdiction, the CO is immediately to report the case to the Service Police who will confer with APSG Conduct Branch for a decision by the Law Officers as to whether any trial should take place in the UK courts or by Court Martial (CM) overseas. Factors to be considered in making the decision will include delays, problems over the attendance of witnesses and host nation interests. Pending a decision, police inquiries and, if necessary, the formal investigation of the charge where the accused is in arrest, may continue. If the UK civil authorities decide to exercise jurisdiction, any proceedings under the AFA 06 will be stayed.

PART 2 - CIVIL LAW AND PROCEEDINGS

Note: this section does not cover either the provision of advice on Service law or the procedures connected with Service courts.

Civil Proceedings

7.021. When a Service person (SP) has been, or is likely to be, made a defendant in civil proceedings, arising out of an act which was sanctioned by Service authority or which occurred in the course of their duty, they are at once to report the matter to their CO.

7.022. On receipt of a writ, summons or other legal document naming a SP or the Department as a defendant in these circumstances, the CO is to take action as follows:

a. If it relates to common law claims for negligence, it should be sent to Directorate of Business Resilience, Common Law Claims & Policy (DJEP CLCP) (see para J7.073).

b. If it relates to an Employment Tribunal (Industrial Tribunal in Northern Ireland), the Originating Application (ET1/IT1) should be sent to the Ministry of Defence (APC Litigation Wing) (see para 7.023).

c. For all other civil proceedings, a copy of the legal document is immediately to be sent to DJEP CLCP. A full statement of the facts is to be sent with the legal document whenever possible, but the forwarding of the document must not be delayed on this account. Further action is to be taken only on the instructions of DBR CLCP.

d. See also Chapter 7, Part 4.

Employment Tribunals

7.023. SP (and civilian) personnel have certain rights to pursue complaints at Employment Tribunals (Industrial Tribunals in Northern Ireland). However, SP are required to have made a complaint on the same matter under the Service redress procedures and that complaint must not have been withdrawn. The Service complaint process is detailed in JSP 8311. Before bringing an Employment Tribunal claim the Service (or civilian) person must first have engaged the Advisory, Conciliation and Arbitration Service (ACAS) which will offer Early Conciliation to try and help settle the dispute without the need to lodge a tribunal claim. If that fails, however, the Service (or civilian) person is required to arrange for an Originating Application (an ET1/IT1) to be issued at a Tribunal Office. This sets out in detail the complaint and the remedy being sought, and will be sent to the named Respondent, normally “the MOD”. The MOD has only 28 days from receipt of the ET1/IT1 to respond, so any application received by a unit must be sent immediately to the MOD APC Litigation Wing. On receipt of the ET1/IT1 MOD APC Litigation Wing will arrange with the MOD’s legal representative and C&L (F&S) Claims for the MOD’s Grounds of Resistance (the ET3/IT3) to be issued.

7.024. Where the MOD accepts liability for the actions of its SP, it will legally represent individual respondents. However, if the interests of the MOD and the named respondent(s) does not coincide, a conflict of interest will be declared and, the MOD’s legal representative can no longer represent the respondents whose interests are in conflict with those of the Department. In such cases, the MOD will not arrange or pay for separate legal representation. Any legal representation that SP may feel is necessary will be at their own expense.

1 Redress of individual grievances – Service complaints
Civil Legal Proceedings involving an Individual’s Private Affairs²

J7.025. For service of process see JSP 830³.

Legal advice or representation

J7.026. Since the actual or potential legal action relates to private affairs, the MOD will not represent or pay for either legal advice or any subsequent legal representation. Legal advice and assistance for SP in commands abroad may be available from Service lawyers under the terms of their single Service regulations.

Attendance of Personnel at Civil Courts

J7.027. If, at a time when required to attend in person at a civil court in whatever capacity, the SP concerned is (or expects shortly to be) under orders to proceed outside the UK or otherwise outside the jurisdiction of the courts, they are to inform their CO without delay. The CO is immediately to notify the facts to the higher authority. No assistance by way of payment of expenses is to be made to an SP to appear before a civilian court where the matter is not duty related.

J7.028. COs are reminded that, in the UK, a SP must attend court when summoned to do so. If they do not attend, they may be prosecuted for contempt and action may also lie against anyone who sought to prevent their attendance. The position is not necessarily the same for SP summoned by foreign courts and COs should be guided by the appropriate legal advisers. It is open to COs to ask the civilian authorities to adjourn a hearing, on the grounds that the date chosen is particularly detrimental to the Service interest, but permission must nevertheless be given for the SP to attend if the summons has not been cancelled by the time it falls due to be answered.

7.029. Uniform may be worn by personnel attending court if it is deemed appropriate by the CO. (See AGAI 59, Dress and Personal Appearance⁴), 7.030. For Jury service see JSP 760⁵.

Legal Representation of Service Personnel facing Criminal Charges

J7.031. The MOD has no responsibility in law to provide legal representation for SP involved in any criminal proceedings. The decision whether or not it should support SP in such circumstances is one of Departmental policy. SP should be reassured, however, that they will not be abandoned by the Department when their work takes them into difficult or unusual circumstances.

J7.032. In certain circumstances the MOD will consider paying for the defence of an SP charged with a criminal offence, including payment for legal representation before and during interview under caution. An SP in this position, either at home or abroad, may apply to the Department for funding for legal representation. In considering such applications, the MOD will have regard to the following:

a. Whether the alleged act was committed in the course of the SP’s employment/duties and in accordance with any applicable regulations/instructions or orders (insofar as this can be determined at the time);

² No direct concern to the MOD.
³ Volume 1, Chapter 19.
⁵ Regulations for leave and other types of assistance, Part 1, Paras 20.1 and 20.2.
b. The implications for MOD policy, regulations, instructions (eg rules of engagement, operational procedures) and other relevant interests (this would include proceedings before international courts or tribunals);

c. The seriousness of the offence, the possible punishment and its impact on the SP’s liberty and livelihood. (Departmental funding will not, as a general rule, be provided for those criminal charges in domestic courts that fall outside of the legal aid scheme such as minor driving offences.)

d. The apparent weight or strength of evidence against an SP is not relevant. The decision to grant or refuse MOD funding of legal representation is taken by the Director C&L (F&S), in conjunction with the MOD Legal Adviser and the appropriate single Service staffs.

J7.033. The presumption will be that the cost of defence will be borne by the MOD if the alleged offence was committed in the course of the SP’s duties and the proceedings have implications for Departmental policy, regulations and instructions (eg rules of engagement or operational procedures) or other relevant interests. Where the MOD does not fund the legal representation, SP will have to apply for legal aid (if available) under the normal rules of eligibility or pay for their own representation.

a. (Army only) Cases that the CoC considers may qualify for legal support should be passed to APSG, Conduct Branch.

Civil Criminal Legal Proceedings involving an Individual’s Private Affairs

J7.034. Legal Advice and/or Representation. See para J7.026.

Attendance of SP at Civil Criminal Courts

J7.035. When an SP is charged by a civil court in respect of a criminal offence relating to their private affairs, they are to report the matter immediately to their CO in order that the necessary arrangements may be made for their attendance at the court and for other relevant Service action to be taken as prescribed in regulations. They are also to inform the CO if they intend, where appropriate, to plead guilty by letter without appearing in court. See also para J7.027 and J7.028. The SP must inform the CO of the outcome of the trial. They are also to inform the CO if they intend, where appropriate, to plead guilty by letter without appearing in court.

Institution of Legal Proceedings on Behalf of the MOD

J7.036. The institution of legal proceedings on behalf of the MOD is to be undertaken only on the authority of the Department.

Third Part Requests for Information for Legal Purposes

J7.037. Where the request relates either to an action or potential action to which the MOD is not a party, or to criminal proceedings, the advice of C&L (F&S) Legal 1 is to be sought in the first instance.

Witness Evidence

J7.038. SP may occasionally be asked to give evidence on a variety of matters. There are two categories of witnesses: a witness of fact and an expert witness.

a. Witness of Fact. (This category includes both observers of an incident and individuals who have knowledge of Service/MOD procedures.) The MOD has a duty to assist the Court in the giving of information likely to resolve the issues before it. It is quite permissible for a witness to give such evidence as is required of them at a Court hearing, subject to any security/sensitive considerations. The witness must stick to the facts and refrain from proffering a personal view. Expressions of opinion must be avoided unless specifically asked. The criteria to be used in nominating witnesses to attend Court to represent the MOD regarding knowledge of Department procedures should be their suitability to answer the type of questions likely to be asked and their experience.

b. Expert Witness. The role of an expert witness, acting in an official or private capacity, is to assist the Court by presentation of their evidence, rather than to help either party to the proceedings. This applies to both criminal and civil proceedings, regardless of which party has asked the witness to appear. An expert witness should present their evidence with strict regard to the truth, accuracy and completeness. If the Department is asked by a party to litigation other than the Crown to provide an expert witness, the request should be declined - unless the evidence required is peculiar to the MOD - on the grounds that it is not the Department’s policy to supply expert evidence. The enquirer should be advised to seek assistance from a professional consultant.

c. Further guidance can be obtained from Directorate of Safety and Claims.

Bail Provision Abroad

J7.039. Where SP charged with criminal offences in civil courts abroad can obtain release from custody on providing bail, the senior Service officer in the command or territory or the CO of an HM Ship may, if necessary, make advances from public funds in respect of the sum required for bail and any incidental fees. Each case is to be considered on its merits, depending on the nature of the alleged offence and the character of the SP concerned.

J7.040. The following conditions apply:

- a. The SP concerned must be unable to find the money themselves or obtain it from any other source.

- b. There is to be no unreasonable risk that the recognisance might be forfeited.

- c. The SP concerned is to sign an acknowledgement at the time when the bail is paid into court that they have received the loan, which is repayable on demand, and that immediate recovery may be commenced by deduction from their pay by instalments. They are also to acknowledge that upon return of the bail money or any part thereof they will then pay such money to the Service or such part thereof as may be required to repay the loan and in the event of forfeiture of the bail the amount outstanding shall be immediately repaid, unless the forfeiture was caused by reasons outside their control, in which case recovery should be by monthly instalments over a period described in single Service regulations.

- d. Action is to be taken by the CO of the SP concerned to ensure that the bail money is duly handed over to the court authorities at the appropriate time and, whenever such procedure permits, in the presence of the SP concerned.

- e. The bail money must be paid to the court by or in the name of the SP concerned and not in the name of the Service, the CO or any other person.

J7.041. Bail should only be advanced if it is in the interests of the Service that the SP concerned be released from custody of the overseas court. Bail should not be advanced if there is a likelihood of the SP’s discharge from the Service before the debt could be repaid.

Provision of other General Legal Advice on Civil Law and Proceedings

J7.043. When other legal advice on civil law and proceedings is required, the question should be phrased as clearly as possible and supported by a concise statement of the facts of the case. The request is to be sent to C&L (F&S) Legal 1, who will consult the Department’s legal advisers as appropriate.

Legal Assistance, including Legal Aid, for Individuals under Service Arrangements

J7.061. Assistance in Criminal Matters. For all legal aid matters within the Service Justice System, and for SP charged in overseas criminal court matters (under certain specific circumstances) see JSP 838\(^1\).

7.063. General. In certain situations, the MOD will consider paying for the defence of an individual who is charged with an offence arising from an act committed in the course of the individual’s employment or duties, and in accordance with any applicable regulations/instructions or orders (insofar as this can be determined at the time\(^2\)).

7.064. COs are to ensure that those under their command are acquainted with current instructions on this subject. Save for those circumstances where the MOD will consider paying for legal representation, COs are to sign-post those in need of legal assistance for criminal and non-criminal personal legal matters to a civilian legal advisor in the appropriate jurisdiction without delay\(^3\). The Service person will be required to fund legal representation privately.

PART 4 - COMMON LAW CLAIMS AND COMPENSATION
(Sponsor: Directorate of Judicial Engagement Claims and Policy)

Introduction

J7.071. This part deals with claims at common law made against the MOD or its servants in respect of damage to or loss of property and for personal injury or death caused or alleged to be caused by the MOD or its servants. It also deals with common law claims brought by the MOD against other parties. It does not deal with claims arising from purchase or other contracts, claims for awards under Royal Warrant, Order in Council or Order of Her Majesty relating to disablement or death, or claims and recoveries allowable under Departmental Regulations. Nor does it deal with claims arising from Hirings and requisitions which are dealt with by DE&S.

Mutual Waiver of Claims

J7.072. Claims for compensation in respect of loss or damage, if received from or proposed to be made against other Forces, other governments or other government departments, may be the subject of a special agreement or mutual waiver and should be referred to the MOD DJEP CLCP with all supporting documents before any action is taken.

Division of Responsibility

J7.073. Within the MOD responsibility for handling all common law claims lies with DJEP CLCP and the appropriate Area Claims Officers overseas, except those types of claims handling which have been contracted out to commercial claims handlers. Full details are given in Annex A(J) to Chapter 3. Responsibility for handling claims arising from training and manoeuvres (except low flying) within the UK, lies with the local Defence Infrastructure Organisation (DIO) office under delegated authority from the Head of CLCP.

Method of Reporting

J7.074.

a. Traffic Accidents. Traffic accidents involving MOD vehicles are to be reported in accordance with JSP 800, Vol 5, Road Transport Regulations.

b. Aircraft Accidents. Accidents involving Ministry of Defence aircraft are to be reported in accordance with the following single Service instructions:

   (1) RN: JSP 550.

   (2) Army: JSP 550.

c. Maritime Accidents. Maritime accidents involving MOD ships and marine craft accidents occurring on board such vessels whilst at sea or under way are to be reported in accordance with the following single Service instructions:

   (1) RN: Article 5928 for ships operated by the RN, including Royal Fleet Auxiliaries and other ships or craft in the naval service.

   (2) Army: Army Maritime Instructions for marine craft.

d. Hovercraft Accidents. Accidents involving MOD hovercraft are to be reported to DJEP CLCP using special accident report forms (MOD Forms 95 and 95A).
e. If at any time a compensation claim for death or personal injury, sustained in any theatre and reported in accordance with the above procedures, is made or intimated by an MOD employee whether Service personnel or United Kingdom Based Civilian (UKBC) Non Industrial and Industrial Civil Servant, should be forwarded to, or the claimant be instructed to write as, follows:

(1) Topmark Claims Management Ltd

160 Bath Street
Glasgow
G2 4TB

f. Any other claims against the MOD, arising from incidents occurring in the UK, resulting in death or personal injury to third parties or loss or damage to property where it is alleged that the MOD was negligent should be forwarded to:

(1) Ministry of Defence

DJEP CLCP Level 3, Spine H & I Main Building
Whitehall
London
SW1A 2HB

e-mail: DJEP-ClaimsGeneral@mod.gov.uk

g. Overseas Areas.

(1) When an incident occurs which results in injury to, or death of, or in loss of or damage to the property of, Ministry of Defence locally employed civilian personnel arising out of and in the course of their employment any claim should be submitted the local civilian establishment branch or Claims Office in accordance with individual theatre regulations. Any claim made by a local employee or third party at common law should be sent to the appropriate Claims Office responsible for the country (see Chapter 3, Annex A, Appendix 1).

(2) The appropriate Claims Office will handle claims resulting from injury to or death of persons or animals, or in loss of or damage to property, other than those covered in previous paragraphs.

h. Training and Manoeuvre Damage:

(1) In the United Kingdom any claims for damage occasioned to private property, including livestock, during training and manoeuvres will be investigated and settled by the local Defence Infrastructure Organization (DIO) office in accordance with the delegated authority from the Head of CLCP.

(2) In overseas areas the local Area Claims Officer, where there is one, or DJEP CLCP, manage training and manoeuvre damage claims.

Writs and Summons

Sponsor: DJEP CLCP

J7.075. On receipt of a writ or summons naming a member of the Services as defendant in a common law claim by a third party, or if other urgent matters arise in respect of any common law claim made against the MOD, it is to be reported immediately by telephone or other available means to the appropriate authority.

General

Sponsor: DJEP CLCP

a. Claims which fall within this section are to be negotiated and settled only by the authorities mentioned, except where powers of settlement have been specifically delegated by the Head of CLCP. All personnel are forbidden to enter into correspondence or discussions with any person in connection with an incident likely to lead to a third party claim, or to do anything which might be interpreted as an admission of liability.

b. New Civil Procedure Rules were introduced on 26 April 1999. The Rules significantly change the way common law claims are handled, include pre-action protocols, and govern the conduct of litigation. Any letter of claim (which will contain a clear summary of the facts on which the claim is based, including allegations of negligence, and will include details of any injuries suffered or financial losses incurred) received from a claimant, insurance company, solicitor or other interested party is to be forwarded immediately to DJEP CLCP as the appropriate authority, and no reply or acknowledgement whatsoever is to be sent to the writer. Failure to meet the protocol requirements can lead to sanctions being imposed by the courts. It follows that only DJEP CLCP may interpret what constitutes a letter of claim and how an acknowledgement should be phrased.

c. Units, ships and establishments will be notified by a Claims Officer if any statement or supplementary statement from a witness, or the attendance of such a witness is required. Any request from a Claims Officer or insurer acting for the MOD to obtain such a statement will be taken as referring solely to a statement required for claims purposes and not to one for disciplinary purposes. The evidence of police and civilians required solely for disciplinary purposes may, however, be obtained direct by the quickest possible means.

d. Units, ships and establishments are reminded that any requests made by Claims Officers or the Department’s commercial Claims Handlers for additional information, which may include Service Inquiry reports, Service police reports and unit enquiries, are made both in the interests of the MOD and of the Service, and is for the purpose of ensuring that a claim by or against the MOD, or the initiation of a claim, is properly considered. All personnel should also be aware that legal proceedings are frequently served and Claims Officers are frequently called upon to prepare a case for Court Hearing. All Claims Officers are obliged to comply with the Rules of Disclosure and no information is disclosed without authority from the appropriate authorising branch. Units, ships and establishments are therefore to comply fully and promptly to such requests.

e. Personnel who receive claims for compensation addressed to them personally should forward them to the MOD (DJEP CLCP) for handling and settlement. The MOD is liable in law to pay compensation for negligent actions of its employees which they may have committed in the course of their official duties, and there is no requirement for personnel to purchase insurance to cover against being sued whilst at work. If, however, personnel commit actions which are grossly outside the requirements of the service and which result in injury or damage to property, they may be held personally liable and may have to pay compensation themselves.
Off Duty Claims

Sponsor: DJEP CLCP

J7.077.

a. In the UK the MOD does not accept responsibility for claims against Service personnel arising from off-duty incidents and claimants are expected to seek redress against the individuals responsible for the injury or loss.

b. Overseas there is provision in certain international agreements (eg NATO Status of Forces Agreement) for the MOD to consider claims arising from off-duty incidents on an ex gratia basis and the MOD (DJEP CLCP) or the local Area Claims Office, as appropriate, should be contacted when any such claim arises.

7.078 – 7.090. Reserved.
PART 5 - INDEMNITIES
(Sponsor: Directorate of Judicial Engagement Policy, Common Law Claims and Policy)

General

J7.091. As a general rule, when a facility or service is granted to another party which does not materially benefit the MOD, or where the balance of benefit is to the other party, steps should be taken to ensure that the MOD is indemnified against risks which might arise. The purpose of an indemnity (which is sometimes incorporated into an insurance policy, licence or contract) is to transfer to another party the financial consequences of the Department's legal liability together with any other expenses which may be incurred, and which would otherwise fall to be paid from funds authorized by Parliament for Defence purposes. Instructions on the more typical circumstances in which indemnities are required are given in this section.

J7.092. No amendment is to be made to an approved form of indemnity without the agreement of the appropriate MOD authority.

J7.093. On occasions indemnities may be sought by other parties when facilities or services are granted by them to the MOD. In such circumstances reference is to be made to the appropriate MOD authority before any agreement is entered into.

J7.094. The MOD authorities to whom questions concerning indemnities should be referred are:

a. (DJEP CLCP) - General policy for the Services.

b. DIO - Use of MOD land and property.

c. CLS – Repayment, MOD civilian and MOD(DE&S) matters.

d. D Commercial - Procurement contract matters.

Passengers in Service Transport

J7.095. Passengers whose carriage in Service transport is clearly in the interests of the MOD may be regarded as 'MOD sponsored'. Examples of MOD sponsored passengers are as follows:

a. Service personnel, MOD civilians and other Crown servants carried in the course of duty.

b. Persons engaged in a MOD contract whose carriage is necessary to the contract. (Such carriage should normally be subject to the conditions of the relevant contract).

c. Persons whose carriage is officially approved by DNR, DAR, or DofR(RAF) with a view to future recruitment.

d. Persons carried in an emergency on urgent compassionate grounds.

e. Persons carried for public relations reasons which have been approved by DDC staff or the relevant Front Line Command.

f. Representatives of the news media where their carriage is of public relations benefit to the Services and where their carriage has been approved by DDC.

g. Families carried in vessels on Royal Navy Families Days.
h. Representatives of the media where a charge representing the equivalent of full commercial costs is raised against the employer or person concerned.

J7.096. Further instructions covering the carriage of passengers in Service vehicles are given in JSP 800, Vol 5, Road Transport Regulations.

J7.097. Passengers whose carriage in Service transport is in relation to Repayment or Income Generation activity must pay a charge which must include an insurance element in accordance with the MOD Guidelines on Income Generation.

Visitors to Service Establishments

Sponsor: DJEP CLCP

J7.098. No indemnity is required from persons wishing to enter Service establishments, units, ships or other MOD premises in the course of duty, on approved business (eg for recruiting, welfare, open days or other purposes connected with the Services) or in order to make bona fide visits to persons serving in establishments, units, ships, etc. However, because the MOD may be liable to pay compensation in the event of accidents occurring to visitors whilst on MOD premises, action is to be taken, where this is practicable, to ensure that visitors are not exposed to any obvious hazards. This is particularly important when visitors are in an unfamiliar environment such as a ship, dockyard, workshop etc.

J7.099. Liabilities arising from visits by contractors' personnel will normally be covered in the terms and conditions of the appropriate Defence contract.

Unofficial and Recreation Activities

Sponsor: DJEP CLCP

J7.100. When approval is given for the use of Service facilities including transport (other than road transport - see para J7.072) for unofficial or recreational purposes then an indemnity is normally required.

J7.101. Reference should be made to the following instructions:

a. By non-Service organisations for activities such as dances, sports meetings, driver training and testing, rallies etc. (See JSP 362, Defence Lands Handbook).

b. For civil flying, use of MOD airfields including civil participation in Open Day and At Home air displays (See Use of Military Airfields by British and Foreign Civil Aircraft (formerly JSP 360, Regulations for Civil Flying at MOD Airfields and charges for non-UK Military Aircraft using MOD Airfields).

c. By Service clubs and Service personnel for unofficial activities. (See JSP 362, Defence Lands Handbook).

J7.102. Further advice may be obtained from DJEP CLCP or from the appropriate DIO Office.

Testing and Evaluation of Commercial Equipment

Sponsor: DJEP CLCP

J7.103. Where a commercial organization offers equipment to a Service establishment for testing and evaluation with a view to furthering sales or in the hope of influencing subsequent MOD procurement, it will usually be appropriate for the Department to seek an indemnity from the supplier against accidents which might occur during or as a consequence of the trials. Indemnity requirements will normally be included in a formal loan agreement, but in the absence of such an agreement the establishment's finance officer is to be notified and D Commercial is to be consulted as necessary.
Use of MOD Property by the Media

Sponsor: DJEP CLCP

J7.104. When MOD DDC staff are considering approval for representatives of the media to be admitted onto MOD property for the purpose of producing feature films, documentaries or drama series then advice on indemnities is to be sought from DJEP CLCP at an early stage. No indemnity is required when representatives of the media are admitted onto MOD property for the purpose of covering the normal activities of the Services, eg for news reports or similar. If any doubt exists about the necessity for indemnification then DJEP CLCP is to be contacted.

Adventurous Training Expeditions

J7.105. Details of insurance requirements for adventurous training expeditions and a form of indemnity for civilian participants are contained in AGAs, Volume 1, Chapter 11. Further advice is published in Defence Instructions and Notices.

J7.106. Service Bands. Reference should be made to JSP 813, Instructions for Service Bands and Military Musicians for details of indemnity and insurance requirements which apply when Service bands participate in engagements for the benefit of non-Service organisations, ie Category II and Category IV engagements.

J7.107. Air Displays. Guidance can be found in the Military Aviation Authority (MAA) Regulatory Publications (MRP) MAA Display Flying Handbook. The insurance requirement is currently met by the MOD Third Party Aviation Liability Insurance Policy managed by DJEP CLCP.

Service Assistance to Outside Organisations

J7.108. Instructions governing particular occasions when Service personnel are required to render approved forms of assistance to civil authorities and other outside organisations, together with the relevant indemnity and insurance requirements, are contained in Military Aid to the Civil Authorities – Joint Doctrine Publication, including peacetime emergencies and other assistance to the civil community and DINs. (See also paras J11.001 – J11.008).

J7.109. Details of indemnity requirements for other types of assistance which are not covered in this section may be obtained from the appropriate MOD authority given at para J7.094.

PART 6 - BIRTHS, DEATHS AND MARRIAGES

General

J7.121. A member of Her Majesty's forces is to report to their commanding officer as soon as possible any change in their personal status category, including divorce, dissolution or separation, and (except in the Royal Navy) any birth or death in their family. All reports are to be supported by the relevant certificate or other official documents, which should be returned by the commanding officer to the owner as soon as possible. All consequent changes in the name, address and relationship of the nearest relative or friend are also to be reported. Any costs incurred in connection with the registration of births, deaths and marriages are to be paid by the individual concerned or their next of kin.

Adoption of Children

J7.122. Adoption of a child is to be reported in the same way as a birth and the commanding officer is to be furnished with a copy of the adoption order or a certificate of the entry in the adopted children's register. The same procedure is to apply when an interim order is made or when the child of a member of Her Majesty's forces is adopted by some other person.

Marriages or Civil Partnership in the United Kingdom

a. The requirements of the law relating to the publication of banns or giving notice of marriage or civil partnership and to the solemnization and registration of a marriage or a civil partnership vary according to whether the marriage or civil partnership takes place in England and Wales, in Scotland or in Northern Ireland. To ensure that they are aware of the requirements of the law of the country in which they, or members of their families, intend to marry or form a civil partnership, Service personnel are advised to consult their commanding officer or chaplain.

b. Explanatory leaflets are published as follows:

Guidelines for the conduct of marriages in armed forces chapels

J7.124. Guidelines for the conduct of marriages in armed forces chapels can be found in Annex C.

Marriages Outside the United Kingdom under the Foreign Marriage Acts

J7.125. The Foreign Marriage Acts 1892-1947 and the Foreign Marriage (Armed Forces) Order 1964 provide for marriages to be solemnized and registered in any foreign territory by a chaplain serving with any part of the armed forces of the Crown in that territory, or by an authorized person. Relevant extracts from the Acts and the Foreign Marriage (Armed Forces) Order 1964 are reproduced at Annex D to this Chapter.

J7.126. Annex E to this Chapter sets out the rules for the solemnization of marriages by ‘authorized persons’.

J7.127. Persons who wish to marry or enter a civil partnership under the provisions of the Acts should obtain early advice in order to ensure that they may have sufficient time to comply with the necessary formalities.

J7.128. Before a marriage can be solemnized under these Acts the chaplain or authorized person must be in possession of a certificate signed by or on behalf of the senior officer of the Service in the territory as prescribed by Article 3 of the Foreign Marriage (Armed Forces) Order 1964 - see Annex D to this Chapter. Before a civil partnership can be entered into the authorized person must be in possession of a certificate signed by or on behalf of the senior officer of the Service in the territory.

J7.129. A person wishing to be married or enter into a civil partnership must give notice to their commanding officer with the following particulars regarding themselves and (so far as they are within their knowledge) the other party to the marriage or civil partnership:

- Full name.
- Age.
- Nationality.
- Condition (bachelor, spinster, widower, widow, divorced, subject to dissolution).
- If a member of the forces, full Service particulars (or, if a female as in Article 2 of the Order, the exact employment held).
- Home address, or if none, residence and names of next of kin.
- Full name, address, rank and profession of father.

J7.130. After checking the particulars as far as possible from the records available to them, the commanding officer is to ensure that the notice is endorsed with the name of the chaplain or authorized person who is to officiate at the ceremony and forward it to the senior officer for approval. When the senior officer has reached a decision on the application they will notify both the applicant and the chaplain of their decision. If either of the parties is a minor the written consent of the parents or guardian of the minor is to be forwarded with the notice or, if consent is unobtainable, the reason is to be stated.
Civil Registration of Births and Deaths in the United Kingdom

J7.131. When a member of Her Majesty's forces dies in the United Kingdom their commanding officer is to ascertain whether the relatives have registered the death. If they have not they are to notify the registrar or to ensure that notification is given by a convenient Service unit or establishment.

J7.132. Personnel are themselves responsible for notifying to the local civilian registrar births and deaths which occur in their families.

Service Registration of Births, Deaths and Marriages outside the United Kingdom

J7.133. The Registration of Births, Deaths and Marriages (Special Provisions) Act 1957, and the Service Departments Registers Orders 1959, 1963, 1988 and 2002 and Civil Partnership (Armed Forces) Order 2005 made thereunder (relevant extracts from which are reproduced in Annex F to this Chapter) provide for the registration of births, deaths and marriages and civil partnership occurring outside the United Kingdom among members of the armed forces and civilians serving or working with them, and the families of such persons, and of deaths and births occurring on board Her Majesty's ships or aircraft. Registration under the Act is carried out in the various overseas commands by Service registering officers appointed for the purpose by the Defence Council. Copies or entries in registers are transmitted to General Register Office, Overseas Registration Section, Smedley Hydro, Trafalgar Road, Birkdale, Southport PR8 2HH and the Registrars General in England, Scotland and Northern Ireland keep them as 'Service Departments Registers'. Certified copies of such entries can thereafter be obtained from the register office concerned.

J7.134. Registration under the provisions of the Act is not to be applied in respect of births, deaths, marriages and civil partnerships occurring to locally engaged personnel or their families, or to locally engaged servants, or to any persons who have no domicile in or connection with the United Kingdom such as would justify entries in the records of the General Register Office.

Method of Registration

J7.135. Service personnel and civilians are responsible for ensuring the registration of their own marriages or civil partnerships and of the births, deaths or marriages or civil partnership which occur in their families (but see para J7.137). Notifications can be made either by personal attendance of the registering officer or by a report on the appropriate form (ORS 1, ORS 2 or ORS 3) by a qualified informant (as specified on the reverse of the forms); after the form has been attested by an officer or other qualified person it is to be sent by the informant to the registering officer.

Registration in Special Cases

J7.136. Attention is drawn to the conditions applying to late registrations (ie more than 12 months after the date of a birth, death, marriage or civil partnership) and to the registration or re-registration of births of legitimated children - see Annex F to this Chapter. Where it may be necessary to presume death (or in other circumstances where there is no 'qualified informant') no registration is to be effected but full details are to be reported to the Ministry of Defence, who will ask the Registrar General to authorize registration of the death. If they approve, they will give the necessary authority to the Overseas Registration Section at the General Registration Office, Southport. The late registration is then made in registers held by that office.
Registration of Marriages or Civil Partnerships under the Foreign Marriage Acts

J7.137. The officiating chaplain is responsible for initiating the registration of a marriage solemnized under the provisions of the Foreign Marriage Acts. They are to forward Form ORS 2, duly completed, to the registering officer. They are also to complete and hand to the parties to the marriage Form ORS 15, which provides evidence of the fact of the marriage until such time as the registering officer has issued a marriage certificate.

Local Registration of Births and Deaths outside the United Kingdom.

J7.138. In addition to the registration under the law of the United Kingdom (see paras J7.077 and J7.089) local registration as required by the law of the country or colony must be complied with by Service personnel in respect of births and deaths occurring in their families. Commanding officers are to ensure that the attention of all concerned is drawn to this requirement.

J7.139. On the death of a member of Her Majesty's forces or of a civilian serving or working with the Forces as set out in the Schedule to Annex F to this Chapter (excluding those specified in para J7.135 above), the commanding officer is to ensure that the necessary action is taken to effect registration.

J7.140. The captain of one of Her Majesty's ships or the person in command of a Service aircraft is to arrange for the registration of the death of any person whatsoever taking place on their ship or aircraft (see also paras 7.085 – J7.087).

J7.141. In the case of a birth, marriage or a civil partnership the registering officer is to send a certificate to the person concerned as soon as possible. In the case of a death, the certificate is to be sent by the registering officer to the next of kin if residing in the territory. They are also to notify Ministry of Defence (PS4(Army)(Casualty) of the action they have taken. If the next of kin is not residing in the territory, the registering officer is to send the certificate to the Manning and Career Management Support Division for officers or the Ministry of Defence (PS4(Army)) for soldiers.

Registration of Deaths on RAF Passenger Carrying Aircraft outside the United Kingdom and outside its Territorial Waters

J7.142. Following the practice in civil aircraft accidents occurring outside the United Kingdom, where all deaths on an aircraft are registered on one register by the Department of Trade, all deaths (Service and civilian) on a RAF passenger carrying aircraft outside the United Kingdom and outside its territorial waters will be registered by RAF PMA (Casework) Casualty under the Service Departments Registers Orders.

J7.143. Deaths in the above cases should not be registered elsewhere (unless there is such a requirement under local law).

J7.144. Deaths occurring overseas after an air accident, eg in hospital, are to be registered either by a Service registering officer, if within a command theatre, or through consular channels. Cases of doubt are to be referred to the appropriate consular authorities or to the Ministry of Defence (DM(A)), eg citizens of the Irish Republic or of Commonwealth countries.

The British Nationality Act 1981

J7.145. The British Nationality Act 1981, which came into force on 1 January 1983, provides that:
a. Anyone born in the United Kingdom is a British Citizen by birth (see Note), if at least one of their parents was then a British Citizen, or 'settled in the United Kingdom' (ie neither a tourist nor an illegal immigrant).

b. Anyone born abroad is a British Citizen by descent, if at least one of their parents was then a British Citizen by birth.

c. Anyone born abroad, at least one of whose parents was then a United Kingdom Crown servant recruited in the United Kingdom, is a British Citizen by birth (see Note).

d. A child born abroad to parents who, at that time, were both British Citizens by descent, or where one parent was a British Citizen by descent and the other was an alien, is not a British Citizen unless an application to register the child is made within 12 months of the birth and the parents (or British parent) have previously lived in the United Kingdom for not less than three years.

Note: In the Act the correct expression is 'British citizen other than by descent' and it includes those who have acquired that status through birth, adoption, naturalization or registration in the United Kingdom.

J7.146. It follows therefore that para J0.145c gives an advantage to the children of servicemen born abroad over those whose parents were not in Crown service at the time and it is in everyone's interest to establish the fact of Crown service when registering the birth of a serviceman's child. The commanding officer is to advise the father to take the following action on obtaining birth certificates:

a. Obtain a Service's certificate of birth through a Service registering officer (see para J7.133). These officers are located in overseas commands and Defence liaison staffs attached to certain British embassies or high commissions. Such a certificate does not constitute evidence that the child is a British Citizen.

b. Register the birth through a British consulate (in a foreign country) or a British high commission (in a Commonwealth country). This will constitute evidence that the child is a British Citizen. The parents will have to produce certain documentary evidence of their citizenship and pay a registration fee. High Commission registration is possible in most, but not all, Commonwealth countries. If the father fails to obtain this registration shortly after the birth of the child they will be faced with proving its citizenship at a later date, probably in the United Kingdom, where similar documentary evidence and payment will be required, and the Services certificate will become very important.

Burial in the United Kingdom following Death aboard a Ship or Aircraft

J7.147. When, following a death aboard a ship or aircraft outside territorial waters or in an aircraft while airborne over the United Kingdom (in which case the death is registerable under the Service Departments Registers Orders), the body is landed for burial:

a. In England or Wales - it is necessary to apply to the Registrar for the sub district in which burial is to take place for a certificate of no liability to register; this certificate must be produced for the purpose of burial; but if (under para J7.024) an inquest into the death is to be held, the authority for burial will be the disposal certificate issued by the coroner.

b. In Scotland or Northern Ireland - no such certificate is required but the keeper of the burial-ground must be satisfied that death occurred outside the United Kingdom; the authorities in para J7.123b should be consulted if cremation is proposed or any difficulty arises.
Removal of Cadavers out of, or into England or Wales

a. Where it is intended to remove the body of a deceased person out of England or Wales for disposal in Scotland, Northern Ireland, the Irish Republic, the Isle of Man, the Channel Islands or any foreign country, dominion or colony, notice of such intention must be given by the person effecting the removal to the coroner within whose jurisdiction the body is lying. The body must not be taken out of the country before the expiration of four clear days after the day on which the notice was received by the coroner, unless the coroner has previously stated that they do not intend to hold an inquest. Forms on which the notice to the coroner should be given may be obtained from the registrar of births and deaths.

b. In the event of the removal of the body of a deceased person into England or Wales for disposal application should be made by the person effecting the disposal to the registrar of births and deaths of the sub district in which it is intended to dispose of the body for a certificate of no liability to register, and this certificate must be produced at the burial. This procedure will also apply when a death occurs on board ship and the body is brought ashore for burial.

Service and Private Funerals

a. The term ‘Service funeral' means a burial or cremation which is arranged by the Service authorities and which is paid for out of public funds.

b. A Service funeral may be provided for an officer, rating, soldier or airman who dies while in receipt of full pay or for one who ceases to be entitled to full pay while undergoing treatment as an in-patient in a hospital and who dies without leaving the hospital. If practicable, the relatives are to be offered the alternative of themselves arranging a private funeral. A Service funeral, or a grant towards the expenses of a private funeral, may also be provided for other categories of personnel as defined in Regulations for Army Allowances and Charges (AC 10).

c. The wishes of the next of kin about funeral arrangements are to be obtained as prescribed in Casualty Procedure 2000 (AC 12974).

d. Funerals of members of the families of Service personnel are the responsibility of the officer or soldier concerned. In the case of deaths in countries abroad, however, certain assistance may be granted as laid down in Casualty Procedure 1995 (AC 12974).

e. When an individual who is eligible for a Service funeral dies while they are serving with a Service other than their own, the commanding officer of the unit with which they are serving at the time of death should, whenever practicable, get in touch with the parent unit in order that suitable funeral arrangements can be agreed. If necessary, they may accept the responsibility of carrying out the funeral.

f. The regulations regarding the provision of funeral honours are contained in paras 8.116 – 8.122.

g. (Army only). Provided that it is the wish of the next of kin a Service representative may attend at public expense in the United Kingdom the privately arranged funeral of a Regular Army officer or soldier.
Repatriation of Bodies of Servicemen and Servicewomen

J7.150. Repatriation of bodies of UK service personnel (service and civilian) is to be carried out in accordance with extant operational orders (see JSP 751 para 0924). These operations describe the levels of activity required in accordance with direction from the chain of command, covering routine repatriation, the repatriation of those killed in action, and a national ceremony as appropriate. The regulations relating to coffin dressing are at para J8.123.

PART 7 - WILLS

General

J7.171. The recommended methods of making a will which are available are articulated in 2018DIN01-091\(^1\) but are summarized as follows:

a. As for Civilians.

(1) By drawing up a will on expert advice.

(2) By using one of the printed forms which can be purchased.

(3) By writing a simple will on a sheet of paper.

b. Methods available to SP only.

(1) Use of MOD Form 106 (see para J7.174).

(2) In exceptional circumstances, as stated in para J7.176.

J7.172. Subject to the exceptions stated in para J7.176, the laws which apply to the making of wills by civilians apply to the making of wills by members of the armed forces. The laws for England, Wales and Northern Ireland differ from those for Scotland and other parts of the world. SP domiciled outside these countries, or who are not British subjects, and who wish to make a will are advised to obtain legal advice from a civilian lawyer to ascertain the procedure which must be followed and the formalities which must be observed. Persons under the age of 18 years cannot make a will under the law applicable to England, Wales and Northern Ireland. Persons domiciled in Scotland may, however, make a will at the age of 14 years.

Duties of COs

J7.173. The MOD does not mandate which method is used, or that a will be made. However, it is the responsibility of COs to ensure that their SP are both encouraged and provided with the opportunity to complete a will. SP making a will should be advised that if for any reason they afterwards wish to change the distribution of their estate they should make a fresh will. In addition, COs are to remind SP that it may be desirable to make a will (or a fresh will) on any alteration of marital status or change of NoK and that it is desirable to make a will before proceeding overseas. They should point out that if no will is made the estate (including money, balance of pay and personal belongings) must be distributed in the event of death according to the laws of the country of domicile governing intestate estates, which may result in the estate having to be distributed in a way which the deceased would not have wished, and that the nomination of a NoK does not take the place of a will.

J7.174. Army SP that refuse to complete a will are to complete a JPA Form N006, which is to be retained by unit Pers Admin staff in the SPs AF B9999 or Ops Wallet.

Making of Wills

J7.175. Units should ensure that they hold sufficient quantities of the pre-printed will forms (MOD Form 106) and envelopes (MOD Form 106A). The attention of SP using this form should be drawn to the notes on the reverse side of the form and 2018DIN01-091.
7.176. SP may make their own arrangements for drawing up a will if they prefer to do so and SP should seek the aid of a solicitor.

J7.177. SP, including those under 18 years of age, may be able to make informal unwitnessed wills, usually during war time, but in the interests of their beneficiaries they should make a formal will at the earliest opportunity.

J7.178. SP serving in the UK should be advised to seek the aid of a solicitor.

Custody of Wills

J7.179. Completed wills should not be kept with personal belongings but should be deposited in safe custody. The MOD does not mandate where any will is stored, but SP are able to store their wills at the DBS Document Handling Centre in Glasgow free of charge. This facility is available both for wills created using the MOD Form 106 template and those created privately. Stored wills may be replaced with new wills at any time or, on request, returned to testator (writer of will) without replacement. The process for submitting the will is contained within 2018DIN01-091.

J7.180. If this option is taken unit Pers Admin staff are to record the despatch of the will to APC on JPA. Upon receipt of the will, APC will update JPA to reflect the date of receipt. Alternatively, a SP can make their own arrangements for custody.

PART 8 - THE LAW OF ARMED CONFLICT

Prevention, Reporting and Investigation of Breaches of the Law of Armed Conflict

J7.201.

a. It is the duty of all ranks to:

(1) Abide by the law of armed conflict.

(2) Do all in their power to prevent any breaches taking place.

(3) Upon becoming aware of an allegation of any breach of the law of armed conflict, report the circumstances to their commanding officer.

b. The commanding officer, upon receipt of any such allegation of a breach of the law of armed conflict, is to report it to their higher authority and ensure that it is thoroughly investigated without delay. Normally the Royal Military Police are to be tasked to conduct the investigation.

ANNEX C(J) TO CHAPTER 7

GUIDELINES FOR THE CONDUCT OF MARRIAGES IN ARMED FORCES CHAPELS
(Para J7.096 Refers)

Introduction

J1. Marriages in England and Wales take place under the provisions of the Marriage Act 1949. This legislation allows certain buildings to be certified as Armed Forces Chapels for the purposes of conducting marriages, which in turn determines who may marry in such chapels and how such marriages may be conducted. Most places of worship on the defence estate are armed forces chapels. The term “chapel” is used here, reflecting the legislation, although the building may more usually be known as a church or otherwise.

J2. This guidance is provided primarily for those who may be considering getting married in an armed forces chapel. In particular, it clarifies who may preside at a marriage in an armed forces chapel and the role of the Service chaplain, which has not previously been set out in regulations or guidance, and the procedures to be followed. It also outlines the different arrangements which apply to opposite sex and same sex marriages.

J3. Marriages conducted in Scotland and Northern Ireland are subject to separate legislation and therefore different arrangements apply (see below paras 19/20). In addition, in certain circumstances, marriages and civil partnerships may take place under MOD auspices overseas (see paras 21/22).

Eligibility to Marry

J4. The Marriage Act 1949 provides (under Section 68) that a person may marry in an armed forces chapel if he or she:

a. is serving in any of the regular armed forces of the Crown; or

b. has served in any of the regular armed forces of the Crown (otherwise than with a commission granted or under an engagement entered into only for the purpose of a war or other national emergency); or

c. is serving as a member of the Reserve Forces on a mobilised or FTRS basis; or

d. is a daughter, son, step-daughter or step-son of a person qualified under sub-paras (i) to (iii).

J5. For marriage according to the rites of the Church of England, the following residency criterion applies:

the person concerned would be entitled to marry in the parish church of the parish in which the military chapel lies; (ie the person concerned lives in the same parish as the chapel).

If neither party has residential qualification in the civilian Parish, then an application must be made for the issue of a Special Licence. It should be noted that the issue of an Archbishop’s Special Licence is not automatic.
Opposite and Same Sex Marriage

J6. The Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013 amended the Marriage Act 1949, so that it covers the marriage of both opposite and same sex couples. As of 3 Jun 14, it can be lawful for a same sex marriage to take place in an armed forces chapel. Nevertheless, special arrangements apply to the marriages of same sex couples: see Appendix 1.

The Role of the Service Chaplain

J7. Most armed forces chapels form an integral part of the defence estate and fall under the overall responsibility of the Commanding Officer / Head of Establishment. In general, day-to-day responsibility for the use of the chapel will be delegated to a Service chaplain. In larger units, responsibility may be shared between a number of chaplains.

J8. A chaplain’s authority to solemnise a lawful marriage in an armed forces chapel does not derive from their posting to a unit in that location. It derives from their appointment as an “authorised person” by the Secretary of State. Authorisation is specific to a particular chapel (although a person may be authorised for more than one chapel). Appointment is by means of a letter, signed on behalf of the Secretary of State by a Head of Chaplaincy of the armed forces or their representative. To ensure that the authorisation is correctly carried out and duly recorded, the letter is transmitted to the authorised person through the General Register Office.

Who May Solemnise a Marriage

J9. It is MOD policy that a marriage in an armed forces chapel should be solemnised by a chaplain who is authorised for that chapel. A couple who wish to get married in an armed forces chapel can normally assume that the resident or unit chaplain will fulfil that requirement; they do not need to make specific enquiries in that regard (NB: that assumption should not be made for a marriage of a same sex couple; see Appendix 1).

J10. Any exception to that policy requires the agreement of the Head of Chaplaincy of the relevant Service (this requirement to be reflected in Queen’s Regulations in due course). Exceptions may be considered in the following circumstances:

    a. non-availability of an authorised chaplain. Examples of where this could arise include gapped posts, deployments, leave, or sickness absence.

    b. denomination. A couple may wish to marry using the rites of a Christian religious denomination which is different from that of the authorised chaplain.

    c. personal preference. A couple may have strong personal reasons why they would wish to be married by a particular minister (eg a relative or a chaplain from a different unit).

    d. matters of conscience. Where the authorised chaplain does not wish to solemnise the marriage for reasons of conscience (eg where the marriage involves a divorcee). Special considerations apply to same sex marriage – see Appendix 1.

J11. It should be noted that additional flexibility arises from the ability of more than one minister to attend a marriage service. For example, the requirement for the authorised chaplain to be present does not prevent another minister (such as a friend of the couple, or a minister of a different denomination) taking a leading role in the religious service. The authorised chaplain must retain responsibility for the registration of the marriage. It will be at the discretion of the authorised chaplain to agree to such arrangements, and couples who envisage using them are advised to make early contact. However this approach is preferred for the situations described at paras 10 (b) and (c) above, and avoids the need for an exception to be approved.
J12. If a couple do wish to seek an exception to the policy that the authorised chaplain should be present, an application must be made to office of the relevant Head of Chaplaincy, normally at least 6 months before the preferred date for the marriage, to allow time for the necessary administration to be completed. A couple may either nominate a chaplain or other minister of religion who they wish to solemnise their marriage, or ask the Chaplaincy Department to appoint a suitable person. The Head of Chaplaincy has complete discretion to decide whether a minister nominated by the couple would be an appropriate appointee. It should be noted that a minister of a Christian denomination which does not provide Chaplains to the Armed Forces will not be permitted to solemnise a marriage in an armed forces chapel.

J13. Applications should be addressed to the relevant Head of Chaplaincy (dependent on the parent Service for the Establishment) as follows:

Chaplain of the Fleet
Navy Command HQ
MP 1.2 Leach Building
Whale Island
Portsmouth
Hants PO2 8BY

Chaplain General HM Land Forces
MOD Chaplains (Army)
HQ Land Forces
2nd Floor, Zone 6
Ramillies Building
Marlborough Lines
Monxton Road Andover
Hants SP11 8HJ

Chaplain-in-Chief (RAF)
Chaplaincy Services (RAF) HQ AIR Command
RAF High Wycombe
Bucks HP14 4UE

J14. Should the Head of Chaplaincy agree that a marriage may be solemnised by a minister other than the authorised chaplain, their office will arrange for the necessary authority to be issued. It should be noted that although there are two categories of persons who can lawfully solemnise a marriage in an armed forces chapel without the need for further authority1, it is not MOD policy to permit this, except by the process outlined above of application to the Head of Chaplaincy.

Civil Marriage, Religious Marriage and Civil Partnership

J15. Only marriages using the authorised rites of a Sending Church may take place in an armed forces chapel. It is unlawful for a civil marriage or a civil partnership to be concluded in an armed forces chapel.

J16. Couples who enter a civil marriage or civil partnership elsewhere, but wish to have their marriage/partnership marked by a blessing or other ceremony in an armed forces chapel, may apply to the Service chaplain responsible for that chapel for permission to do so. The chaplain may only perform such a ceremony if to do so would be in accord with the practice of his/her denomination. However, notwithstanding any denominational approval for such a ceremony, the chaplain would retain the right to refuse to conduct such a ceremony as directed by his/her conscience in the matter.

1 These categories are (1) a minister of religion who is licensed/authorised to conduct a marriage in a different place of worship, which is within the same registration district as the armed forces chapel; and (2) a civilian registrar for that same registration district.

J17. Armed forces’ chapels are dedicated and set aside as places for Christian worship only. They cannot be used as venues for marriages conducted according to the practice of other faiths.

J18. Buildings other than places of worship can be licensed by local authorities for the conduct of civil marriages and civil partnerships. Whilst there is no reason in principle why a building on the Defence Estate could not be licensed in this way, the criteria for licensing are unlikely to be satisfied in terms of unrestricted public access. There are accordingly no plans for any defence building to be so licensed.

Scotland

J19. Under Scottish law, there is no separate registration of buildings for purposes of marriage. Personnel who wish to marry in a military chapel in Scotland should seek advice from the unit Chaplain or chain of command.

Northern Ireland

J20. Personnel who wish to marry in Northern Ireland should seek advice from the unit Chaplain or chain of command. It should be noted that the marriage of same sex couples is not lawful in Northern Ireland.

Overseas Marriage

J21. The Marriage Act 1949 allows members of the Armed Forces, civilians subject to service discipline, and their children, to enter into a civil or a religious marriage overseas under the provisions of UK legislation. With effect from 3 Jun 14, the procedures applying to such marriages will depend on the part of the United Kingdom in which the couple wish their marriage to be registered. Marriages to be registered in England & Wales, or Scotland, will take place under the provisions of The Overseas Marriage (Armed Forces) Order 2014. These revised arrangements will be reflected in Standing Orders. Marriages to be registered in Northern Ireland, which must be opposite sex marriages, will take place under the provisions of The Foreign Marriage (Armed Forces) Order 1964.

J22. Couples wishing to marry overseas, including same sex couples, should in the first instance contact their chain of command or Service chaplain for more detailed information on the procedures to be followed. There is no separate registration of buildings for purposes of marriage overseas.

Appendix:

1. Arrangements For Marriages Of Same Sex Couples
APPENDIX 1(J) TO ANNEX C(J) TO CHAPTER 7

ARRANGEMENTS FOR MARRIAGES OF SAME SEX COUPLES

J1. The arrangements for the marriage of a same sex couple (MSSC) differ from that of an opposite sex couple in two key areas:

   a. The registration of an armed forces chapel for same sex marriages;
   b. The appointment of an authorised person to solemnise a same sex marriage.

Registration of Chapels

J2. There is no automatic registration of armed forces chapels for the purposes of MSSC. The Secretary of State has powers under section 5 of the Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013 to apply for chapels to be registered, and the Marriage of Same Sex Couples (Use of Armed Forces’ Chapels) Regulations 2014 lay down the procedures relating to this function.

J3. A same sex couple who wish to marry in an armed forces chapel must either use a chapel which is already registered for MSSC, or apply for a different chapel to be registered. The process for such an application is set out in the attached flow chart. Couples are strongly advised not to enter into any commitments relating to the marriage until a decision has been made on whether or not an application for registration will be made. Every effort will be made to reach a decision within 6 weeks of the application.

J4. Same sex couples wishing to marry should note two points in particular. First, it is their responsibility to initiate the process which could lead to registration of an armed forces chapel for MSSC. Second, the procedures for appointing an authorised person, set out in more detail below, reflect the legal requirement that not only must the minister of religion be willing to be present, but the governing authorities of the relevant religious organisation must have “opted in” to MSSC and to have signified this in writing. At the time of publishing this guidance (Jun 14), none of the denominations which provide Chaplains to the Armed Forces (the Sending Churches) have opted in to MSSC. Unless and until such time as one of the Sending Churches decides to opt in to MSSC, no application to register an armed forces chapel for same sex marriage will be approved.

J5. The remainder of this guidance should therefore be read as applying if, and when, one of the Sending Churches opts in to MSSC. The nominated MOD office, to which an application for an armed forces chapel to be registered for MSSC should be addressed, is as follows:

   DCL-Legislation Defence Personnel Secretariat Zone 6K
   Main Building
   Whitehall
   London SW1A 2HB

Appointment of Authorised Persons

J6. Section 43B of the Marriage Act 1949 deals with the authorisation of persons to be present at marriages of same sex couples in an armed forces chapel in England and Wales which is registered for such marriages. The process for appointing an authorised person is essentially the same as that for opposite sex marriages, but is quite separate. It should not be assumed that a person authorised to solemnise an opposite sex marriage at a chapel, will be authorised for an MSSC.
J7. It should be noted that under the terms of the Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013, clergy of the Church of England and the Church in Wales cannot lawfully solemnise the marriage of a same sex couple, and therefore cannot be authorised for that purpose.

First Authorisation

J8. The Regulations governing the registration of armed forces chapels in England and Wales for MSSC, specify that the Secretary of State will make a decision on whether and when to apply for registration of a chapel, having due regard to a number of matters. Those matters include whether a person has agreed to be authorised under Section 43B, and "whether the Secretary of State would so authorise that person".

J9. This means that the Secretary of State will need to be satisfied – before they apply for the chapel to be registered – that the person whom the same sex couple wish to be present at their marriage is willing to be present and is, in their view, a suitable and appropriate person to be authorised. Couples should ask their unit chaplain for advice, if they need it, on the implications of these rules and the options open to them.

J10. The Secretary of State will only authorise a person under Section 43B who:

a. is ordained or accredited by a Sending Church which has given its written consent to the use of its rites for the marriage of same sex couples (ie it has “opted in”).

b. has confirmed that he/she is personally willing to be authorised for this purpose, and is content to preside at or be present at a marriage of a same sex couple using only the rites of their Sending Church.

J11. As noted above, authorisation of a person to be present at an MSSC is a separate procedure from authorisation to be present at the marriage of an opposite sex couple. Nevertheless, if the person who is already (or will be) authorised to be present at the marriage of opposite sex couples at that chapel, meets the criteria in para 10 above, the normal practice will be to authorise the same person for MSSC under Section 43B.

J12. If the person who is authorised to be present at the marriage of opposite sex couples at that chapel does not meet both of the above criteria, the Secretary of State will consider a proposal to appoint another person who does meet the criteria, taking into account the following additional criteria:

a. that he or she is a Chaplain currently serving with the UK armed forces;

b. that he or she has links to the local Service community;

A person who does not meet these criteria is unlikely to be authorised.

J13. Immediately after the registration of an armed forces chapel for MSSC under Section 70A of the Marriage Act, an authorised person will be appointed under Section 43B to be present at the marriage (this will normally be the person identified in the same sex couple’s application as willing to be authorised).

Exceptional Arrangements

J14. The previous section outlined how an authorised person would be appointed. Once that appointment is made, it remains possible for a couple to apply to be married by someone other than the authorised person for that chapel. This will not necessarily be agreed; paras 10-14 of the main guidance set out the procedures to be followed. However in the case of MSSC, certain additional factors may apply.

J15. An example is where the couple’s proposal means that the marriage would take place according to the rites of a denomination, other than that of the authorised person (ie not just a different minister of the same denomination). In such cases, as well as their normal consideration of the suitability of the person nominated, the Head of Chaplaincy will need to satisfy themselves that the relevant religious organisation is a Sending Church which has given its consent to its rites being used for MSSC.

Subsequent Authorisation

J16. An authorisation to be present at the marriage of a same sex couple is personal. Where a Chaplain who has been authorised under Section 43B, in accordance with the previous section, leaves their post (or otherwise ceases to have the connection on which that authorisation is based), the authorisation will be withdrawn. Their successor in post will not automatically be authorised under Section 43B simply by virtue of their appointment.

J17. Should a same sex couple wish to marry in an armed forces chapel registered for MSSC, once the chaplain authorised at the time of registration is no longer so authorised, the relevant Head of Chaplaincy will consider the options for appointing a suitable Chaplain under Section 43B:

a. if the incumbent Chaplain meets both criteria in para 10 above, then he or she will be authorised under Section 43B;

b. if the incumbent Chaplain does not meet both criteria, or a Chaplain has not been appointed, the relevant Head of Chaplaincy will seek to make alternative arrangements to enable the marriage to proceed, drawing on the criteria set out earlier in these guidelines.

4. For the purpose of this Order the expression ‘the Commander in the Territory’ means:

ANNEX E(J) TO CHAPTER 7

SOLEMNIZATION OF MARRIAGES

(R PARA 7.098 REFERS)

1. The appointed officer is to cause a copy of the notice of marriage or civil partnership to be shown in a public place, eg on a unit notice board.

2. Before the marriage is solemnized or civil partnership takes place, each of the parties intending marriage or participate in a civil partnership is to appear before the appointed officer and make and subscribe in a book kept by them for the purpose a solemn declaration in the following terms:--

   'I hereby declare that I know not of any lawful impediment why I _____________ may not be joined in matrimony or enter into a civil partnership to ____________'

3. A marriage must be solemnized or civil partnership entered into with open doors (ie doors not so closed as to prevent persons from entering between the hours of eight in the forenoon and six in the afternoon) and in the presence of the contracting parties, the appointed officer, and two credible witnesses who must in all cases be provided by the parties to the marriage or civil partnership.

4. The appointed officer must not, in any circumstances, allow any religious service or ceremony whatever to be used at a marriage solemnized or civil partnership conducted by them. The giving and receiving of a ring, does not, however, constitute a religious ceremony and may, therefore, be allowed.

   The appointed officer is to insist always upon the seemly behaviour of the parties and witnesses as befitting the importance of the occasion.

5. Should any impediment be alleged, or any false statement of particulars relating to either party be discovered before the declaratory and contracting words have been pronounced by the parties, the appointed officer is to refuse to proceed further until the truth of the matter has been ascertained. Should no sufficient hindrance be discovered, the appointed officer must address the parties as follows:-

   In the case of marriage:

   'Before you are joined in matrimony it is my duty to remind you of the solemn and binding character of the vows you are about to make. Marriage according to the law of the United Kingdom is the union of one man and one woman, voluntarily entered into for life, to the exclusion of all others.'

   In the case of a civil partnership:

   'Before you are joined in civil partnership it is my duty to remind you of the solemn and binding character of the vows you are about to make. Civil partnership according to the law of the United Kingdom is the union of two people of the same sex, voluntarily entered into for life, to the exclusion of all others.'
Following this address, each of the parties must, in the presence of the appointed officer and the witnesses, declare as follows:-

In the case of marriage:

‘I do solemnly declare that I know not of any lawful impediment why I (naming himself or herself) may not be joined in matrimony to (naming the other party)’.

Each of the parties must also say to the other:-

‘I call upon these persons here present to witness that I (naming himself or herself) do take you (naming the other party) to be my lawful wedded (wife or husband)’.

In the case of civil partnership:

‘I declare that I know of no legal reason why we may not register as each other’s civil partner. I understand that on signing this document we will be forming a civil partnership with each other’

The appointed officer is to recite the declaration and the form of contracting words so that the parties may repeat them; they are to insist upon the parties doing this in a serious and proper manner, and with as distinct an enunciation of the words as possible.

The full import of the declaratory and contracting words is to be clearly explained to the parties whenever they appear to be either ignorant or careless in that respect.

6. Until the foregoing declaratory and contracting words have been spoken by the parties, no entry or any part thereof may or is to be made in any certificate of marriage or civil partnership, but, when these words have been pronounced by both parties, they at once become joined, and the appointed officer must forthwith cause certificates of marriage or civil partnership to be completed, signed and disposed of in the manner required by para J7.109.

7. These rules do not apply to marriages solemnized by chaplains.

Alternative Procedure for Certain Corrections

3A. -

(1) This section applies where, in an entry relating to a birth or death in a register or other record to which section 3(3) of this Act applies, a person is wrongly shown as the father of the person to whose birth or death the entry relates.

(2) Where this section applies, the statutory declaration required by section 3(3) of this Act may be made by one credible person having knowledge of the truth of the case.

(3) Such a statutory declaration must be accompanied by documentary evidence of a finding that the person shown as the father was not the father.

(4) But subsection(5) applies if it appears to the officer specified in accordance with subsection(3) of section 3 of this Act that the only evidence on which the finding was made was that of the person making the statutory declaration.

(5) In that case, the officer may correct the error only if satisfied that another person, who is a credible person having knowledge of the truth of the case, has (whether before or since the making of the declaration) confirmed the material facts stated in the declaration.

(6) “Finding” means a finding made expressly in judicial proceedings in the United Kingdom or elsewhere.’ [Note 2: The form for a statutory declaration is obtainable from the Registrar General.]
Form of Entries

(1) A registering officer shall sign each entry and each correction of a completed entry made by them in a register provided under this Order.

(2) A registering officer shall state in every entry made by them on information given by a qualified informant the capacity in which the informant is qualified by virtue of paragraph (4) of article three of this Order, and, if that information is given in writing in accordance with paragraph (2) of that article, shall also state the name of the qualified informant.

(3) Where an entry is made in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (5) of article three of this Order the registering officer shall in the place provided in the register for the name of the qualified informant write the words

‘No qualified informant available. Entered on the authority of the Registrar General dated ______’ inserting the date of the authority.

(4) Where an entry is made in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (6) of article three of this Order the registering officer shall in the place provided in the register for the date of registration write, in addition to the date of registration, the words: -

‘Entered on the authority of the Registrar General dated ______’ inserting the date of the authority.

Transmission of Entries and Registers to Registrars General

(2) A person having in their custody a register provided under the Registration of Births, Deaths and Marriages (Army) Act, 1879, as amended under the Air Force (Constitution) Act, 1917, which contains an entry a certified copy of which has not been transmitted to the Registrar General for England and Wales, shall transmit a certified copy of that entry to the Registrar General for England and Wales.

(3) A person having in their custody a log book containing an entry made under sub-section (1) of section thirty-seven of the Births and Deaths Registration Act 1874, of a birth or death on one of Her Majesty’s ships, in respect of which no return under sub-section (6) of that section had been made, shall transmit a certified copy of that entry to the Registrar General of Births and Deaths to whom the return under that sub-section should have been made, but for the repeal by the Act of the said section thirty-seven.

(4) Where an entry is made in a register provided under this Order on information given in writing by a qualified informant, the registering office shall transmit the document containing that information to the Registrar General for England and Wales with the certified copy of the entry.

(5) If it appears to the Registrar General for England and Wales that a certified copy of an entry in a register transmitted to them under this Order records the death or marriage of a person or the birth of a child of a person ordinarily resident in Scotland or Northern Ireland, they shall send a copy of that entry to the Registrar General of Births, Deaths and Marriages in Scotland, or to the Registrar General for Northern Ireland, as may be appropriate.

8. Persons having in their custody registers provided under this Order or registers kept under the Registration of Births, Deaths and Marriages (Army) Act, 1897, as amended under the Air Force (Constitution) Act, 1917, shall transmit them when they have been completed or are no longer required to the Registrar General for England and Wales.

9. The Interpretation Act, 1889, applies for the purposes of the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the purpose of the interpretation of an Act of Parliament, and as if this Order were an Act of Parliament.

a. Battalions of the Guards Division will stand on the right of all other infantry battalions and will be arranged in order amongst themselves in accordance with the established custom of the Guards Division (ie senior regiment, right flank; next senior, left flank; third senior, right centre; fourth senior, left centre; junior, centre). Should two battalions of the same regiment form part of a brigade they will be drawn up next to one another in seniority of battalions, from right to left - 1st battalion on the right, 2nd battalion on the left.

b. Rifle battalions will stand on the left of the parade in Army List order from right to left.

b. Where units of the Army Reserve and forces from other parts of the Commonwealth are on parade with regular battalions, the order of standing from right to left is to be:

- Regular Units
- Royal Monmouthshire Royal Engineers (Militia)
- The Honourable Artillery Company
- Army Reserve Units
- Colonial Forces
- Commonwealth Forces

with internal order of precedence from right to left, except that when rifle battalions are included in the parade they are on all occasions to stand on the left flank in order of organizations as stated above.

Order of March on Combined Service Parades

J8.003. The arrangements set out below are normally to apply at combined parades. In order to meet the special purpose of any particular parade the arrangements may be varied, provided that they are agreed by the flag, general and air officers concerned, but not otherwise.

J8.004. The definition of a combined parade is 'a number of separate units of more than one armed Service, paraded in combination for ceremonial purposes'.

J8.005. Parades organized by and held in an establishment of one Service and attended by small detachments of other Services attached to that Service are to be under the orders of the commanding officer of the establishment concerned.

J8.006.

a. The order of precedence for the grouping of the Services in a combined parade is normally to be:
Royal Navy
Army
Royal Air Force

whether regular and/or auxiliary units, and irrespective of whether they are male or female units, except as stated in para J8.007.

b. The precedence of units within a Service is for decision by that Service (for the Army see paras 8.001 – 8.002).

J8.007. Royal Naval Women's Contingent. Personnel of the Royal Naval Women's Contingent (comprising the Queen Alexandra’s Royal Naval Nursing Service) are subject to the Naval Discipline Act and members of that contingent should:

a. Form part of a naval contingent whenever other Royal Naval or Royal Naval auxiliary contingents are present;

b. Lead the parade when no male forces are on parade; and

c. Parade after all regular and auxiliary forces of the other Services in a combined parade of male and female forces which does not include male naval contingents.

J8.008. Royal Marines. The Royal Marines and Royal Marine Reserve form part of the naval contingent.

J8.009. The Honourable Artillery Company. The traditional claim of the Honourable Artillery Company to lead all combined parades when regular or militia forces are not present is recognized.

J8.010. Pre-Service Cadets. Pre-Service cadets should march behind all the armed forces of the Crown in the following order:

a. Sea Cadet Corps

b. Combined Cadet Forces

c. Army Cadet Forces

d. Air Training Corps.

Within the Combined Cadet Force, contingents should march in an agreed order of school seniority, irrespective of the sections they maintain.

J8.011. Ancillary Services (ie civil organizations which are integrated with the armed forces). The order of precedence of all ancillary services behind the armed forces is a matter for the department concerned and one over which the Ministry of Defence has no jurisdiction with the exception of the First Aid Nursing Yeomanry (FANY) which should take precedence over other Ancillary Services.

J8.012. Female Cadet Organizations. The position on parade of female cadet organizations is not a matter for Service regulations.

J8.013. Precedence in each independent member country of the Commonwealth is determined by that country and in the associated states by each state.

J8.014. Precedence in dependent territories is determined by local enactments, by Royal Charters, by instructions either under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet or through the Secretary of State, or by authoritative local usage.

PART 2 - STANDARDS, GUIDONS AND COLOURS

Traditions and Ceremonial

8.019. Information on the origin of standards, guidons and colours and details of the traditions associated with them are contained in Ceremonial for the Army (AC 64332). This publication also lays down when and how standards, guidons and colours are to be carried and contains instructions for all ceremonial connected with them.

J8.020. When standards, guidons and colours are uncased they are to be saluted with the highest honours, except when carried by personnel forming part of the escort of a military funeral.

Presentation of New Standards, Guidons and Colours

8.021. The occasions when new standards, guidons and colours may be provided and their method of issue are contained in the Defence Supply Chain Manual (JSP 336), Volume 12 Part 3, Pamphlet 14.

8.022. When it is known that new standards, guidons or colours are ready for presentation the colonel or honorary colonel of the regiment concerned is to advise the Ministry of Defence (PS12 (Army)) that the regiment desires the presentation and is to ask that Her Majesty's pleasure be taken.

8.023. Standards, guidons and colours are presented, exceptionally by The Sovereign in person, or by a personage nominated to act on The Sovereign's behalf. Where a regiment is serving abroad it is usual for either The Sovereign's chief representative or the senior military officer in the command to undertake the presentation.

8.024. When forwarding their advice to the Ministry of Defence (PS12 Army)), the colonel or honorary colonel is to include:

a. Whether the standards, guidons or colours are ready for presentation, if not, when they are expected to be ready.

b. The date (with alternatives) on which it is desired that the ceremony should take place.

c. The station of the regiment at the time of the proposed ceremony.

d. By whom and where the existing standards, guidons or colours were presented.

e. Whether the regiment has any particular wish with regard to the personage who should make the presentation in the event of Her Majesty being unable to do so in person.

8.025. New standards, guidons and colours are issued to units shortly before the date fixed for presentation under arrangements made between the Ministry of Defence (PS12 (Army)) and headquarters of the formation concerned. They are not to be paraded until such time as they have been formally presented and consecrated.

Consecration of Standards, Guidons and Colours

a. The consecration of standards, guidons and colours for units which consist predominantly of members of the Church of England is to be performed by the Chaplain.
General, or by another officer of the RACChD detailed by them, in accordance with Form A, the authorized form of prayer.

b. When the majority of the men of the unit are Roman Catholics the consecration is to be performed by the Roman Catholic Bishop in Ordinary for the British Army, or by an officer of the RACChD detailed by them, and Form B is to be used.

c. When the majority of the men of the unit are Church of Scotland, a Church of Scotland chaplain is to be detailed by the Chaplain General to perform the consecration, and Form A is to be used.

d. In special circumstances, with the consent of the personage presenting standards, guidons or colours, an authorized shortened form of prayer, Form D, may be used.

e. Copies of the appropriate forms of prayer may be obtained from the Ministry of Defence (Chaplains (Army)).

8.027. Chaplains of the other denominations in the stations should be invited to be present at the ceremony, and all chaplains on parade are to be included in the parade state for the day.

8.028. For the ceremonial of consecration, see Ceremonial for the Army (Army Code 64332).

Movement of Consecrated Standards, Guidons and Colours

8.029. When consecrated standards, guidons or colours are being moved from, or to, the place where they are usually kept, an escort is invariably to accompany them. When it is necessary to send them to be deposited for safe keeping the escort is to consist of the usual colour party as laid down in Ceremonial for the Army (Army Code 64332).

Disposal of Standards, Guidons and Colours

a. Old standards, guidons or colours which are provided from public funds remain the property of the State. After replacement it will be normal practice for them to be laid up in a church or other building which is open to the public, eg a regimental museum. Circumstances may however arise where standards, guidons or colours cannot be accepted in a suitable public building or where it is considered more meaningful that they should be laid up in a building such as an officers’ or sergeants’ mess; preferably, where appropriate, in a static location such as a depot or training establishment. All standards, guidons or colours which have been replaced are to be laid up at the earliest opportunity, unless special dispensation has been obtained from the Ministry of Defence (PS12(Army)) to do otherwise. Converted regiments with no longer an entitlement to either a standard, guidon or colours, may, if they so wish, retain them up until their due replacement date, whereupon they are to be laid up. In such cases the standard, guidon or colours concerned are not to be paraded when other units are present.

b. There will be no disposal of colours without Ministry of Defence sanction and GOCs or commanders are to ensure that all proposals are submitted by the commanding officer to the Ministry of Defence (PS12(Army)) through formation headquarters.

c. Where colours are to be laid up in a church or other public building proposals should contain the following information:

(1) The eventual location of the standard, guidon or colours.
(2) The date on which it is proposed that they should be laid up.

(3) Certification of approval by the colonel of the regiment.

d. Where disposal is proposed other than in c above the following information is to be forwarded:

(1) A statement of the circumstances which warrant deviation from the normal practice.

(2) The proposals for the disposal including the eventual location of the standard, guidon or colours and details of the method of preservation.

(3) The appointment of the officer responsible for their care - this will normally be the commanding officer of the regiment or establishment concerned.

(4) The approval of the colonel of the regiment.

(5) The approval of the formation commander.

On receipt of the application the Ministry of Defence (PS12(Army)) will obtain the approval of the Chaplain General before the proposal is considered.

e. Where colours have not been provided from public funds the above conditions apply only if they have been consecrated. In such cases any stipulations made by the donor regarding the disposal of such colours will be included in the application.

f. When colours are being laid up honours may be paid, the escort, if provided, being found from the regiment concerned.

g. When it is essential for either a standard, guidon or colours to be laid up in an officers’ or sergeants’ mess, application may be made for a display case, special lighting etc, to be provided at public expense. Units should apply through the chain of command for the appropriate funding. If this cannot be provided, then the matter is to be referred to the TLB holder for resolution.

h. Colours once laid up are intended to remain where deposited in perpetuity, but should it become necessary to change their location, the procedure set out in para 8.030b-d is to be repeated.

i. Other than as authorized in g and in JSP 751, para 4.0137, no maintenance or other charges against public funds are permissible when colours are laid up or otherwise disposed of.

j. If desired, unserviceable belts for standards, guidons and colours may be retained by the unit and struck off charge on replacement.

a. The ceremonial appropriate to the laying up of standards, guidons and colours is contained in Ceremonial for the Army (Army Code 64332), Chapter 13.

b. The form of prayer may be obtained from the Ministry of Defence (Chaplains (Army)).
Disposal of disintegrated or damaged Standards, Guidons and Colours

8.032A. When a standard, guidon or colour is deemed completely disintegrated (it no longer supports its own weight on the pike or, if netted, the netting and only a few un-recognisable scraps of silk remain), the Chaplain in charge of the church or chapel or the Administrator of the Public Building concerned should gather the remains and store them in a secure location. The pike, tassels and crown mount can remain in place until they are passed to the owning Regiment. Care must be taken to prevent the unauthorised removal of the remains.

8.032B. The Chaplain / Administrator should establish the identity of the standard, guidon or colour and then contact the HQ of its Regiment or, in the case of a unit that has disbanded, the HQ of the successor Regiment. If no record of its owner exists reasonable efforts should be made to identify it; but if this is impossible advice should be sought from MOD(Chaps) and MOD HC PS12 SO2 Ceremonial & Plans.

8.032C. There are two options for the disposal of the consecrated cloth:

a. The cloth, as it is, together with the pike can be buried in an unmarked location in consecrated ground.

b. The cloth (and pike if the Regiment wishes) can be burnt and the ashes scattered in a suitable location. This could be Church Grounds or a graveyard, or a location that has special significance to the Regiment, subject to any necessary consents. The burning of the cloth removes the necessity for the scattering of the ashes on consecrated ground.

8.032D. The crown mount and tassels (if still present) should be given to the Regimental HQ for retention together with the pike (if still present). The crown mount is not to be burned or buried with the consecrated cloth or reused and under no circumstances is the pike to be reused to carry another standard, guidon, colour or any other flag or banner.

8.032E. The Chaplain or Administrator, in consultation with the Regimental Secretary / Regimental Adjutant, should arrange for a short service to be conducted for the burial of the consecrated cloth, or the scattering of the ashes. The size and scale of this service is at the discretion of the regiment. Such a service could be part of an established Regimental Day or to mark the anniversary of a specific Battle Honour.

8.032F. The Regiment concerned is to ensure that the property records of the church or other location are updated accordingly and MOD HC PS12 informed of the disposal of the standard, guidon or colour.

Banners and other Flags

8.033. Banners, standards and flags that have not been consecrated are not to be carried on a parade where consecrated standards, guidons and colours or any other consecrated emblems are also on parade. Even if carried on parade without any other consecrated emblems, banners, standards and flags are not to be saluted or paid any compliments.

8.034. Reserved.

8.073. A subordinate naval, army or air force officer is not to be saluted in the presence of a superior naval, army or air force officer of the same nationality. Personal as well as other salutes are included in both cases.

Such salutes are in no case to exceed 19 guns.

8.077. Salutes other than those authorized by these regulations are not to be allowed, except such as may be necessary for the fulfilment of any treaty obligation, provided that, on any important occurrence (eg a great victory gained by Her Majesty's forces) the governor of any of Her Majesty's territories abroad may direct such salutes to be fired as the occasion may seem to them to require. Should there be any of Her Majesty's ships present, the decision is to be taken in conjunction with the senior naval officer, and salutes are not to be fired unless the 2 officers concur in the matter.

8.078. Normally salutes are not to be fired before 0800 hours or after retreat, or during the usual hours for divine service on Sundays. In exceptional cases this may be varied locally.

8.079. Details concerning funeral honours which may be accorded are contained in paras 8.115 - 8.124.

j8.080.

a. The approved method of saluting from aircraft consists of a shallow dive and climb, but it is to be carried out only when there is a saluting base on the ground at a display or on special occasions when duly authorized by the commanding officer of the station concerned. The flying restrictions prescribed in Military Flying Regulations (JSP 318) are to be observed.

b. Salutes are not to be exchanged between aircraft.

Honours awarded by Civic Authorities to Regiments and Corps

8.081. Instructions governing the award of honours to Regiments and Corps by Civic Authorities are contained in Army General and Administrative Instructions, Volume 1, Chapter 2, paras 2.141 - 2.145.

8.082. Reserved.
PART 4 - FLAGS

The Royal Standard and Personal Standards

J8.083. Royal Standard. The Royal Standard, being the personal flag of The Sovereign, is to be hoisted on board HM ships and on official buildings and enclosures only when The Sovereign is present. It is to be hauled down at the moment of departure. The only exception to this rule is that the Royal Standard is to be flown if available at parades in honour of the birthday of The Sovereign. Accordingly, the Royal Standard as used in Scotland is flown at Royal salutes fired in Edinburgh on the occasion of the birthday and official birthday of The Queen. The Royal Standard is never hoisted when The Sovereign is passing in procession. The Royal Arms of Scotland (Lion Rampant) are used for The Lord High Commissioner to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland and Lord Lyon King of Arms as the Royal Arms of Scotland are The Sovereign's Arms appropriate to those appointments which pertain to that realm.

J8.084. Personal Standards.

a. When, in the absence of The Sovereign, a Member of the Royal Family is present, the Member's personal standard is to be hoisted (at the main, when on board one of HM ships) and is to be treated with the same respect and saluted in the same manner as the flags denoting the presence of The Sovereign. When 2 or more Members of the Royal Family are present, one standard only - that of the senior Member present - is to be hoisted.

b. The standard which is provided for ‘other Members of the Royal Family’ is to be flown similarly for any Member who does not possess a personal standard.

c. If circumstances arise in which the standards referred to in sub-paras a and b are not available, the White Ensign, Union Flag or RAF Ensign is to be hoisted and treated in a similar manner.

Flags at Headquarters and Establishments

J8.085. Unified Headquarters. The distinguishing flag of the unified CinC or commander is to be flown at the mast head and the Union Flag at the peak to denote the presence of a United Kingdom military force.

J8.086. Joint Commanders and Joint Service Units and Establishments. In joint operations, should the officer commanding, appointed in a joint capacity and being of one star rank or above, be embarked in one of HM ships or RFAs, the appropriate Unified Commander joint service distinguishing flag or pennant should be hoisted at the fore to denote the presence of the headquarters. Such a flag is not to displace a maritime commander's flag or broad pennant, if both are embarked in the same ship, or the masthead pennant of the ship, but is to be flown superior to existing flags to indicate that the joint commander is in overall command of maritime forces. The Joint Service Flag is to be flown at units and establishments provided that they are:

a. Under the control, of the relevant complementing authority.

b. Manned by members of more than one Service for a joint purpose.

c. Under the direct functional control of either the Ministry of Defence or the headquarters of a unified commander and that there are no local circumstances that may make it undesirable for them to fly this flag. Other establishments which although manned by personnel from more than one Service which are primarily single Service, are to fly the flag of that Service. Exceptions to the foregoing rules are the staffs of the UK National Military Representatives to International Defence Organizations and UK Support Units, for whom the national flag is the appropriate flag to be flown alongside those of units from other countries.

a. The ceremonial Army Flag is the Union Flag. Only the Union Flag is to be flown at any event of a ceremonial nature. Except in the circumstances described at para J8.083 and J8.084a.

b. The Army Flag (non-ceremonial) is a Flag with red background with two swords in saltire proper pommels and hilts or surmounted by the Royal crest. The Army Flag (non-ceremonial) is authorized to be flown at any Army or inter-Service events of a non-ceremonial nature, such as sporting events, tattoos, pageants and displays. It may also be flown at Army headquarters and recruiting offices. The Army Flag is not to be flown as the principal flag denoting Army participation at any international event where the Union Flag should be flown. The Army Flag (non-ceremonial) is never to be flown together with any National Flag such as the Union Flag or either of the RN or RAF ensigns.

c. When there is only one flagpole the flag distinguishing the appropriate Army headquarters is flown at the masthead and the Union Flag at the peak.

d. Units are to have permission from their superior British 3 star (or above) headquarters to fly the Army ceremonial flag (Union Flag) daily.

e. The rules for the flying of the Union Flag, in its national capacity, and the establishment at which it is to be flown, are shown in Annex A to this Chapter.

f. The Union Flag, in its national capacity, is also to be flown at half-mast as detailed below.

Half-masting of Flags

J8.088. Instructions on the half-masting of ships’ colours, Union Flags or Ensigns will be issued by the MOD to PJHQ, principal independent RN, RM, Army and RAF commanders and to the UK National Military Representatives at International Defence Organizations. Recipients of these instructions are to make arrangements to disseminate the information by the quickest means available to subordinate headquarters and units and to British elements of organizations within their areas. Implementation of these instructions overseas may be subject to variation at the discretion of Service Commanders abroad who should liaise with their local UK political representative so as to ensure a common policy applicable to local circumstances. The following are a guide to procedures until confirmation has been promulgated by the MOD:

a. On the Death of The Sovereign. All flags are flown at half-mast from the announcement of the death of The Sovereign up to the end of the day of the funeral, with the exception of Proclamation Day, when they are hoisted to the top of the flagpole from 11am (local time) to sunset.

b. On the Death of a Member of the Royal Family. All flags are flown at half-mast, subject to The Sovereign’s wishes, from the day of death up to the end of the day of the funeral.

c. On the Death of a Foreign Sovereign, Head of State or other Distinguished Foreign or Commonwealth National (as promulgated by the Ministry of Defence). All flags are flown at half-mast on the day of the funeral.

d. On the Death, when holding office, of a Defence Minister, the Chief of the Defence Staff, the Chief of the Naval, Army or Air Staff of the Defence Board or the Permanent Under Secretary of State. All flags are flown at half-mast on the day of death and all day on the day of the funeral.

e. On the Death of a Serving Military Officer or Other Rank. Flags to be flown at half-mast on the day of death, the day of repatriation and on the day of the funeral until after the burial when the flag will be full masted to denote the end of military mourning. It is anticipated that usually action would be limited to the unit, its Regimental or Corps Headquarters and the immediate superior formation of the deceased.

J8.089. Ships' colours, Union Flags and ensigns may, at the discretion of the senior officer in consultation with the local political representative be half-masted as a matter of courtesy to conform to local national action.

J8.090. Where the Union Flag or ensign is flown in company with the national flag or flags of any other country or countries (including Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales), it is to be half-masted as a matter of courtesy whenever the other national flag is half-masted.

J8.091. In foreign ports, HM ships and vessels should conform when warships of the country concerned half-mast their colours on the death of one of their nationals other than the sovereign or head of state. If a foreign ship is in a British port on such an occasion, HM ships and vessels in company should half-mast their colours on the day of the funeral only unless the Defence Council issues special orders.

J8.092. HM ships and vessels approaching or leaving an anchorage where any other of HM ships or vessels are flying a foreign ensign or national flag at half-mast, or have their colours at half-mast, are to conform while in sight of the ships in port.

Procedure for Half-Masting of Flags

J8.093. Flags are to be half-masted according to the following procedure:

a. Flags flown at half-mast are to be flown with the top of the flag positioned two thirds of the way up the mast/halyard, but not less than one flag breadth from the top. Should the flag be sufficiently low to be in contact with the ground/deck then consideration should be given to reducing the size of the flag.

b. Flags cannot be flown at half-mast on poles that are more than 45° from the vertical; a mourning cravat may be used instead. A mourning cravat is fitted to the top of the spike or pole and allowed to hang. A typical cravat is a length of black silk or cotton material 50-100mm in width and twice the length of the flag, it should be tied in a small bow so that the two ends are of equal length. The same applies to unit Colours, Standards and Guidons that are carried during a period of mourning when the correct term is draping of Colours.

c. Flags that are flown permanently at any location are not to be flown at half-mast during the hours of darkness.

d. When flags are to be at half-mast from morning colours until sunset flags are to be first hauled fully up and allowed to remain in that position for a short period before being lowered to the position described in para 8.093a. When flags that are flying at half mast are to be lowered, they are first to be hoisted fully up prior to lowering at sunset/the end of the day.

e. All flags that are on the same stand of poles should be at half-mast or should be removed for the duration that other flags are at half-mast. Flags of foreign nations should not be flown unless their country is also observing mourning.
f. United Kingdom national flags when flown abroad should also be at half-mast. If the flag is flown on the same stand as the host nation’s flag, then the host nation’s flag should not be flown unless that nation is also observing national mourning. Where a United Kingdom national flag is flown alongside a number of other nations’ flags such as outside a multinational Headquarters, it is considered inappropriate to remove all other flags in order to fly the United Kingdom national flag at half-mast. In these circumstances the United Kingdom national flag should not be flown for the duration of mourning. In case of doubt, the British Embassy, consulate or High Commission should be consulted.

Flags in Vessels and Boats

8.094. Seagoing vessels in service as operational units of the Army, flying the Army Ensign, commanded by Army officers and manned by Army personnel in uniform are designated ‘HM Army Vessels’ (HMAV) and are permitted to wear the Union Flag at the jack staff when in harbour or under way and dressed with masthead flags.

8.095. All Army vessels designated ‘HM Army Vessels’ are authorized to wear the Army Ensign, which is the Blue Ensign defaced by the Army Badge in gold. All other Army vessels, that are vessels manned by mixed crews of Army and civilian personnel, are authorized to wear the Blue Ensign defaced with the RLC ‘crossed swords’ device.

8.096. HM Army Vessels and other Army vessels are to wear the appropriate ensign subject to the following rules:

a. Wearing the Ensign in Vessels - The ensign is to be worn –

(1) In Harbour - At the ensign staff.

(2) At Sea - At the ensign staff whenever possible, but in bad weather, or whenever the ensign staff is not available from any cause, such as the vessel being cleared for action, it should be worn:

(a) In vessels with one mast, on a staff in a suitable position on the after superstructure.

(b) In vessels with 2 masts, either as in (a) or at a small gaff to be fitted as a ‘peak’ on the mainmast.

The local commander is to arrange for the necessary uniformity.

b. Ensign, Hoisting and Hauling Down, in Vessels –

(1) Vessels, when lying in home ports and roads, are to hoist their Ensigns at 0800 hours from 25 March to 20 September inclusive, and at 0900 hours from 21 September to 24 March inclusive; but, when abroad, at 0800 hours or 0900 hours as the local commander will direct; and they are to be worn if the weather permits, or the senior officer present sees no objection thereto, throughout the day until sunset, when they are to be hauled down.

(2) Whenever a vessel takes up its berth, or gets under way, if there be sufficient light for the Ensign to be seen, it is to be hoisted, though earlier or later than aforesaid; also on its passing, meeting, joining, or parting from, any of Her Majesty's ships; and also, unless there should be sufficient reason to the contrary, on its falling in with any other ship or ships at sea, or when in sight of, and near, the land, and especially when passing or approaching forts, batteries, signal or coastguard stations, lighthouses, or towns.
c. Wearing the Ensign in Boats - Boats are to wear their Ensigns on the following occasions:

   (1) In foreign waters.

   (2) In British waters –

      (a) When the parent vessel is dressed;

      (b) When going alongside a foreign warship on all occasions day and night.

   (3) In British waters, boats are to wear their Ensigns in accordance with (2) above between the times the colours are hoisted in the morning and sunset only, except as provided for in (2)(b).

   (4) In foreign waters, boats are to fly their Ensigns when away from their vessels at any time between dawn and dusk, and also as in (2)(b).

   (5) When the colours are half-masted in vessels, boats' Ensigns (if flown) are also to be half-masted.

   (6) When a corpse is being conveyed in a boat, either in British or foreign waters, that boat is to fly its Ensign at half-mast.

J8.097. The Chief of the Defence Staff is authorized, when embarked in vessels or boats, to fly a distinguishing flag. This is of equal dark blue, red and light blue horizontal bands with the tri-Service emblem embroidered on both sides.

J8.098. Senior officers who are also governors of territories and the lieutenant governors of Guernsey and Jersey, when embarked in vessels or boats, are to use the distinguishing flag appointed for governors, or for such lieutenant governors, viz, the Union Flag with the approved arms or badge of the territory emblazoned in the centre thereof on a white ground surrounded by a green garland instead of the general officer's flag.

J8.099. When joint operations are being carried out, should the officer commanding the army, air or Royal Marine components be embarked in a warship or transport, the appropriate distinguishing flag of the senior non naval officer of the equivalent rank of commodore or above may be hoisted at the fore to denote the presence of the headquarters. Such a flag is not to displace any flag officer's flag, broad pennant or masthead pennant, and is to be flown in an inferior position to it.

Distinguishing Flags on Motor Cars

J8.100. When Royal or distinguished persons entitled to fly personal standards or distinguishing flags travel in Service vehicles, the appropriate standard is to be flown.

J8.101. Lists of the Service officers entitled to fly car flags and descriptions of the appropriate flags are contained in Annex B to this Chapter.

J8.102. All distinguishing flags of Service officers are to be flown from a forward position on the front bonnet of the car, but only when the car is occupied by the officer entitled to the flag.

J8.103. Occasions on which Car Flags are to be Flown.

   a. Flags are to be flown (see Annex A):
(1) On official occasions only: only the senior officer attending the function may authorize a departure from the normal practice.

(2) In areas where there is a need for the car or its occupant to be recognized, eg because of the proximity of Service establishments, etc. On cross-country journeys flags are not normally to be flown but are to be hoisted at a short distance from the destination.

b. A car flag may be flown by an officer wearing civilian clothes on duty, if the officer considers it desirable.

c. Officers are not to fly the flag of their superior officer when acting as their representative, but are to fly the flag, if any, to which they are entitled.

d. In foreign and Commonwealth countries, officers may fly their car flags on those occasions when the British Ambassador or High Commissioner considers that it would be appropriate for them to do so. In certain countries the flying of car flags may be completely precluded by laws, customs or local conditions.

e. A Defence Attaché, or Adviser who is also accredited as a single Service Attaché, or Adviser may fly the car flag of their own Service when attending functions relating to that Service as opposed to those of a Defence character.

f. Subject to these general rulings, commanders may limit the flying of flags when they consider the political or local circumstances in the area make it desirable to do so.

Flying of Flags on Aircraft

8.104. Flags are not flown on Army aircraft nor are they to be flown on any operational aircraft. The Chief of the General Staff is authorized to fly the Union Flag with the Royal Crest embroidered on both sides, when they are a passenger in a transport aircraft of the RN or of the RAF.

Star Plates

J8.105. Star plates may be displayed on cars carrying senior officers and officers of equivalent rank in the other Services. The number of stars denotes rank and are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Rank</th>
<th>Stars</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Admiral of the Fleet/Field Marshal/Marshall of the Royal Air Force</td>
<td>Five stars</td>

<td>Two stars</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Commodore/Brigadier/Air Commodore/Matron in Chief QARNNS/Matron in Chief PMRAFNS</td>
<td>One star</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

J8.106. The plates are to be displayed only on journeys made on duty. The star plates are to be covered when the entitled officer does not occupy the vehicle.

J8.107. The star plates are royal blue for naval officers, red for Army and RM officers and air force blue for air force officers. Officers in joint Service appointments are to display plates in the joint Service colours of vertical bands of dark blue, red and light blue.
8.108. Star plates may be displayed on Army aircraft. The rules in paras 8.106 - 8.108 above are to apply.

PART 5 - FUNERALS AND MOURNING

Royal and VIP Funerals

J8.112. The Service involvement on the demise of The Sovereign, or any member of the Royal Family, will be promulgated by the Ministry of Defence (PS12(A)). Headquarters London District will be designated as the Mounting Headquarters.

J8.113. On the death of The Sovereign or a Member of the British Royal Family, or of a foreign sovereign or head of state or other distinguished foreign national, instructions on funeral honours will be issued by the Defence Council by signal. These instructions may be subject to variation in overseas commands at the discretion of the local political representative in the light of local national requirements.

J8.114. A governor general, governor, high commissioner or officer administering the government or special royal commissioner of any British Commonwealth country, associated state or dependent territory under The Sovereign’s protection, who is also Commander-in-Chief and who dies whilst holding the appointment is entitled to a military funeral with honours. This applies whether the deceased was a military officer or a civilian.

Military Funerals

J8.115. All Service personnel, who have died while serving, are entitled to either a private funeral or a funeral at public expense. JSP 751: Joint Casualty and Compassionate Policy and Procedures provides the detail on the limit of admissible expenses to both types of funeral. There is normally no ceremonial at private funerals. The degree of ceremonial at public expense funerals, or lack of it, is normally a matter for the next of kin in conjunction with the unit. It may range from the minimum of formality to full scale military honours. No other military funeral will be accorded honours without the previous authority of the single Service staff branches (NP Sec 2b, (PS4(A) or PMA Casework (RAF)).

Military Funeral Honours

J8.116. Funeral honours consist of some, or all, of the following:

a. Bearer Party. See para J8.120.

b. Pall Bearers. See para J8.121.

c. Insignia Bearers if appropriate.

e. Musical support as appropriate.

J8.117. The following are guidelines on funeral honours:

a. Serving personnel of all ranks are entitled to funeral honours at public expense provided that the troops involved are stationed within reasonable distance of the burial ground or crematorium.

b. Funeral honours are not to be paid officially at the funerals of discharged personnel of any rank. They may, however, be authorized as a special case, at the discretion of the general officer commanding (or corresponding rank equivalent) provided the funeral is to take place within a reasonable distance from barracks and that only minimum public expense is incurred.

c. If the deceased is to be cremated, ceremonial may have to be on a reduced scale and in any case, there should be prior consultation with the crematorium authorities.

d. Chaplains or, where necessary, local clergy are to be consulted about the form of religious service.

e. The Drill Manual (Army Code No 70166) details the ceremonial involved in a military funeral.

J8.118. Knights of the Garter. Where a senior officer who was a Knight of the Garter has their funeral or memorial service in St George’s Chapel, Windsor, special arrangements are made through the single Service staff branches (DNLM 4, PS 12(A) or P1 (Cer)(RAF)).

J8.119. London. In London there is to be no procession unless the military service is held either at the Chapel of the Royal Hospital, Chelsea Barracks or the Royal Military Chapel, Wellington Barracks. If the next of kin of the deceased officer wishes the funeral service to be performed at one of these churches, there may be a short procession after the ceremony, if desired. Requests for exceptions to the above are to be made to the Ministry of Defence (PS 12(A)).

J8.120. Bearer Party. A senior non-commissioned officer or warrant officer normally commands a bearer party. At the funeral of a general officer (or corresponding rank equivalent), who died whilst serving, the bearer party should be commanded by an officer and the coffin should be carried by warrant officers or non-commissioned officers.

J8.121. Pall Bearers. At a funeral of a general officer (or corresponding rank equivalent), who died whilst serving, officers of the same rank as held by the deceased will support the pall. If a sufficient number of that rank cannot be obtained, then by such officers as the Service authorities may desire to invite.

J8.122. Draping of Drums and Colours. Drums and colours are to be draped only at a funeral, except that on other occasions connected with the death of The Sovereign or a Member of the Royal Family when draping may also be ordered by the Ministry of Defence (PS12(A)).

J8.123. Dressing the Coffin. As a rule the coffins of all UK service personnel will only be draped with the Union Flag. Personnel attached from foreign services would have their national flag on the coffin. Any flag on the coffin is to be placed over the coffin with an imaginary pike at the head of the coffin across the top of the shoulders and the royal crest of the pike over the left shoulder, leaving the face of the flag uppermost. The following are guidelines for coffin dressing:

a. In theatre and for Repatriation. When a coffin is to be dressed with a flag, for all UK service personnel it is to be the Union Flag. Deceased attached foreign personnel should be dressed in their own national flag. No other items are to be placed on the coffin for repatriation.

b. For British Service Funerals. A Service Funeral is defined at J7.093a. At British service funerals only the Union Flag is to be placed on the coffin. Other items may also be placed on the coffin: headdress; decorations; belt; sword or sidearms; family wreath. (Army: For precise dressing details see The Drill Manual para 0906.b.3).

c. For Private Funerals or onward Repatriation from the United Kingdom. At private funerals and onward repatriations families may choose the deceased’s national flag for the coffin. Should families choose to have the coffin dressed in the deceased’s national flag for onward repatriation the consent of the receiving nation’s MOD is first to be sought. A coffin so dressed may be borne by a military bearer party.

Salutes and Escorts

J8.124. Military funerals are to be saluted and escorts may be provided. The number of troops in attendance is to be determined by local Service authorities. Where possible, if the deceased was a military officer, then the escort should be in accordance with the numbers in the table below:

J8.125. Salutes of guns or small arms will be fired after the body has been laid to rest in the grave. Should a salute be fired at a Crematorium (see para J8.117d) then it is to be fired as the coffin enters the chapel. For gun salutes fired in London see para 8.062c.

Minute Guns

J8.126. At the funeral of a general officer (or corresponding rank equivalent), who died whilst serving, minute guns of the appropriate number are to be fired during the period while the body is being borne to the burial ground. Any such officer who dies at sea and is to be buried ashore may be accorded the appropriate number of minute guns from a warship whilst the body is being borne ashore. If the means exist, minute guns will be fired from the shore while the procession is moving from the landing place to the burial ground. The total number of minute guns so fired is not to exceed twice the number given in para J8.124.

J8.127. At the funeral of a civic functionary dying whilst in office, minute guns may be fired if the deceased was so entitled when alive, in accordance with para 8.069 subject to the availability of guns. If the deceased was a military officer whose rank entitled them to a greater number of guns than their civic status, the conditions of paras J8.124 - J8.125 are to apply.

Mourning

J8.128. Mourning is observed by the Armed Forces as follows:
a. Royal Mourning. Royal Mourning was previously known as Court Mourning.

   (1) Royal Mourning is observed by the Royal Family and their Households, by HM representatives at home and abroad and their staffs, by officers nominated for duty at Court, and related ceremonies and by Household troops. Royal Mourning is also observed by any Service units actually engaged on ceremonial or Court duties normally undertaken by Household Division in support of HQ London District or by any Service unit providing the Balmoral Guard and/or limited ceremonial or Court duties, when mounted, in support of HQ Scotland. Extraordinarily, Royal Mourning may also be observed by those units and organizations as highlighted at para J8.129i.

   (2) At stations abroad where Service personnel, other than members of the Household Division, are attending functions at which HM's representatives present are observing Royal Mourning, advice should be sought from the United Kingdom local political representative as to whether it would be appropriate to wear some suitable mark of mourning.

   (3) Those observing Royal Mourning may fulfil official engagements. Social engagements are not to be accepted and those entered into beforehand should be cancelled.

b. National Mourning. National Mourning (previously known as Service Mourning) is observed by the remainder of the Armed Forces.

c. Private Mourning. Private mourning may be observed by individual units and their immediate superior headquarters. Private mourning may also be observed by an individual.

J8.129. Guidelines for Mourning. Precise direction cannot be issued to cover the full period of Royal and/or National Mourning until The Sovereign's wishes have been ascertained. Detailed instructions will be issued by the Ministry of Defence (PS 12(A)) as soon as they are known and may involve some or all of the following measures:

a. Entirely private hospitality already arranged or accepted by individuals may continue on a small scale but social engagements at which attendance might be construed as representational or official should be cancelled.

b. Any previously arranged celebratory parade, official reception, business or social function should normally be cancelled. In cases where there might be a significant financial penalty or it is thought that embarrassment or offence might be caused by cancellation the Ministry of Defence (PS 12(A)) is to be consulted.

c. A parade of a routine nature or which is part of a curriculum may continue. Passing out parades are considered to be part of, or the climax of, a course and should therefore normally take place; with a period of silence included as a mark of respect. In the event of the death of The Sovereign separate instructions will be issued by the Ministry of Defence (PS 12(A)) concerning The Sovereign's Parade at RMA Sandhurst and the Lord High Admiral's Divisions Parade at BRNC Dartmouth.

d. Bands may play for marching troops on, or to, a parade but neither inspection nor incidental music should be played during inspections or other pauses in the parade. Bands may also continue to fulfil civilian engagements for which they have previously contracted to play but should not play at Service or civilian functions of a social nature.

e. Service sports events may continue, except on the day of the funeral; a one minute silence should be observed at the beginning of the event.
f. Individuals who have accepted official engagements should fulfil them. Unless otherwise ordered mourning bands need not be worn.

g. Service commanders abroad should liaise with their local United Kingdom political representative so as to ensure a common policy applicable to local circumstances. Senior officers abroad should similarly liaise, consulting their command if necessary.

h. Flags are to be flown at half-mast in accordance with instructions at paras J8.088 - J8.092.

i. During a period of Royal Mourning a unit or organization that had a special relationship with a deceased Member of the Royal Family, or continues to have a special relationship with a Member of the Royal Family who has suffered the loss of an immediate heir and is not covered under para J8.128a(1), may wish to observe the guidelines covered under Royal Mourning. This would be entirely appropriate and naturally the prerogative of the relevant local Service commander. In all cases where there is such a desire the Ministry of Defence (PS 12(A)) must be consulted.

j. Any questions should be referred to the Ministry of Defence (PS 12(A)), the tri-Service lead on this matter.

J8.130. Mourning Bands. A mourning band is a piece of black crepe 3¼ inches wide. It is worn on the left sleeve, positioned so that the bottom of the band lies two inches above the elbow and discretely pinned to avoid slipping below the elbow when marching. The rules concerning the wearing of mourning bands in general are listed below. The only extraordinary exceptions are paras J8.130f and J8.130g that relate to a state of private mourning within a unit that remains the prerogative of the commanding officer.

a. A mourning band will only ever be worn with parade uniform where there is a jacket or coat. It is not to be worn on combat clothing of any type.

b. During a period of National Mourning only officers of the three Services and warrant officers class 1 of the Household Cavalry dressed in parade uniform are to wear mourning bands. During a period of Royal Mourning this practice is restricted specifically to those defined at para J8.128a(1) and included by the Ministry of Defence (PS12(A)) at para J8.129i. The only exceptions to this rule are listed below.

c. In addition or concurrent with para J8.130b officers attending Service funerals in parade uniform are to wear a mourning band. Officers on duty at these events will also wear mourning bands, whether in the procession, acting as ushers, or in another capacity. These rules apply to officers attending associated memorial services held on the same day.

d. In addition or concurrent with para J8.130b warrant officers attending Service funerals in uniform, or acting as ushers, are to wear mourning bands. They are not to wear them if they are on duty in the procession (including bearer parties), lining the route or elsewhere. These rules apply to warrant officers attending associated memorial services held on the same day.

e. Mourning bands are not to be worn at any other memorial service or other ceremonies such as unveiling of memorials and Remembrance services unless directed to do so in accordance with para J8.130b.

f. Exceptionally, during private mourning, for example following the death of a member of a unit, or at reception ceremonies related to the repatriation of a body or remains, mourning bands may be worn by officers and warrant officers only, but in accordance with the instructions listed above.
g. Extraordinarily, when, Service personnel are given permission to wear uniform during private mourning at a family funeral they may wear a mourning band if so desired. It should be noted that this is the only occasion on which Service personnel below the rank of warrant officer may wear mourning bands.

h. After a military burial, personnel should remove mourning bands after return to barracks.

J8.131. Mourning Dress. Mourning dress and/or mourning bands are not to be worn at Court unless the Court is in Mourning. Officers who wear plain clothes on duty during periods of mourning are recommended to wear black ties. Those observing Royal Mourning, and those wearing plain clothes when on duty at Court during National Mourning, should dress as follows:

a. Gentlemen's civilian dress - Dark colours, black ties.

b. Ladies civilian dress - Black dress.

Remembrance

J8.132. Armistice Day. Armistice Day originally commemorated the fallen of the 1914-18 War and included a 2-minute silence in November each year on the anniversary of the day and the time of the cessation of hostilities in 1918. Any observance of a 2 minute silence on 11th November at 1100 hours each year is a matter of discretion by commanding officers and individuals. Although optional it is strongly recommended.

J8.133. Remembrance Sunday. Remembrance Sunday embraces all Service personnel and civilians who have laid down their lives in the service of their country in the First World War and all subsequent wars, campaigns and emergencies. It is now observed on the second Sunday in November each year, when the 2 minute silence is to be observed at 1100 hours, during which time all personnel are to stand at attention and guards are to turn out and present arms. No aircraft, other than those on scheduled services, are normally to be in the air during the 2-minute silence. Establishments and units are to conform generally to such arrangements as may be made by local authorities for the celebration of Remembrance Day services. Transport required to convey personnel invited to attend local religious observances or municipal ceremonies may be used at the discretion of commanding officers but neither travelling expenses nor subsistence allowance will be payable unless authority has been obtained from the single Service staff branches (DNLM, PS12(A) or P1(Cer)(RAF)).

J8.134. Memorials. Memorial statues, plinths or plaques are normally organized by Regimental or Service Associations in memory of Service personnel who have died in past and present wars and conflicts. Additionally, commanders overseas may wish to sanction the erection of local memorials. Before the construction or erection of any memorial is considered the following guidelines must be followed and approval sought from the relevant chain of command:

a. Memorials in the UK.

(1) Before a memorial is erected in the UK consideration must be given to the financial aspects of Reference A, in particular the financial provision for a memorial’s ‘long term care and maintenance’. The erection of an outdoor memorial will inevitably require the permission of the local authority, whether on military or civilian real estate, if it is to be permanent. No MoD money may be used to erect or maintain memorials. No memorial should be erected that does not have a long term funded maintenance provision. Movable memorials such as inscribed blocks or small cairns based within a unit’s lines are more easily approved by the chain of command as they remain unit property and can be removed in the event of a change of unit location.
(2) Less contentious are the installation of plaques/stained glass windows in appropriate Churches/Chapels provided their long term care and maintenance can be assured to the satisfaction of the relevant Church authority. In any event the erecting unit is responsible for the memorial and relocation and maintenance costs must be met by non public funds. The addition of names to existing War Memorials is a matter for the local civic authority.

b. Overseas Memorials.

(1) The position of overseas memorials is complicated by the fact that there are no guarantees that once HM Forces have left a particular country that memorials will be respected or that access will subsequently be granted to anyone wishing to provide for their ‘long term care and maintenance’. Painted memorials are unlikely to remain on walls at the end of any conflict.

(2) Owing to the temporary nature of overseas deployments and bases, the erection of memorials in operational bases overseas, while wholly understandable with benefit to the morale and well-being of the local forces, is also problematic. Memorials should in general be discouraged by the chain of command unless the unit erecting the memorial ‘in theatre’ also has a plan for the end state. Only exceptionally should a memorial remain in position locally, as it should neither be vandalised nor available to vandals, nor should it become a problem for any remaining British Embassy, High Commission or other British interests. The unit is to make adequate financial provision for the disposal of the memorial or its return in any form to the UK and recognize its commitment for maintenance. It is recommended that unit memorials should therefore be of such a size or nature that they or the plaque can be returned to the UK at minimal private cost with the unit concerned once operations are completed.

(3) It should be recognized that the MOD has no role or resources for memorials’ erection or maintenance. The burden of memorials must be borne by the erecting authority as well as the need to furnish their successors with the means for custody of the memorial.

(4) Should the Command and PJHQ agree a course of action for a memorial to be returned to the United Kingdom from a foreign field, the Command must be responsible for the deconstruction of the memorial and the return of the essential memorial plaque/plaques. Local masonry should be demolished.

(5) Before any decision is made on the relocation of a memorial or its return to the United Kingdom, it will be necessary to secure the appropriate funding from private subscription or appeal, as necessary funding from Services, Regimental and Corps non-public funds may not be guaranteed. Where Services, Regimental and Corps non-public funds are sought and provided, where possible, these should be pro-rata to those being remembered. Any new memorial to be erected as such should be in accordance with sub-para a(1) above.

In all cases the advice of the appropriate single Service staff branch (FLEET DN Pers, PS12(A) or RAF Cer) should be sought.

J8.135. Wreaths. On the anniversary of Remembrance Day In the United Kingdom and the Commonwealth and on other occasions of special significance, the cost of placing wreaths on local memorials may be allowed as a charge to public funds, but only when such tribute is essential. Within the United Kingdom the commanding officer is authorized to approve the purchase of wreaths.

PART 6 - OFFICIAL VISITS

Exchange of Official Visits with The Queen's Representatives

J8.137. For the purposes of this regulation The Queen's representatives are to be regarded as the persons mentioned in para J8.035d.

J8.138. The procedure set out in para J8.139 is to be observed on the following occasions:

a. By the senior officer in command of Her Majesty's ships and squadrons visiting a port when The Queen's representative is present.

b. By the officer in command of each Service when a newly appointed Queen's representative assumes office.

c. By the officer in command of each Service when taking up their appointment.

J8.140.

a. Should the governor or any other officer administering the government find that, from indisposition or pressure of important business, they are unable to return or pay a visit in person, they will depute their aide-de-camp or some other officer to do so. Should an RN, Army or RAF officer as shown in the above table be precluded for similar reasons from paying or returning a visit, they are to depute an officer not below the rank of lieutenant RN/captain/flight lieutenant to do so. In each case the officer failing to pay the required visit in person should report the circumstances and the reasons which led to the omission to the Ministry of Defence.

b. These visits need not be exchanged more than once during the respective tenure of office of The Queen's representative and the RN, Army or RAF commander.

c. Return visits are to be paid within 24 hours of the call being made.

Exchange of Visits with the other Services

8.141. Exchange of visits between British military officers on the one hand and British naval and air force officers and foreign officers on the other hand are to be on the following basis:

a. The junior is first to visit the senior. Except that in foreign countries and countries of the Commonwealth, the professional head of a Service will be regarded as the senior officer regardless of their actual rank and seniority.

b. Where the officers are of equal seniority, the officer last arriving at the station is to pay the first visit.

c. Return visits are to be paid within 24 hours, either in person or by a representative, as the circumstances may require.

Presentation at a Foreign Court

8.142. An officer who wishes to be presented at a foreign court is to make application to Her Majesty's representative at that court.

CHAPTER 9
MANNING
PART 1 - OFFICERS

Appointments and Conditions of Service

9.001. Persons selected for appointment as officers in Her Majesty's Land Forces may be granted commissions by The Queen (in accordance with the Officers' Commissions (Army) Order 1967), unless already in possession of such commissions, and thereafter are to be granted such rank and seniority as may be determined and notified in the London Gazette under the terms of the Royal Warrant governing appointments, promotions rewards and awards of the Army known as the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009.

9.002. Conditions governing the grant of commissions in the Land Forces are contained in the Army Commissioning Regulations (AC 13452). Medical standards are contained in the PULHHEEMS Administrative Pamphlet (AC 13371). Rules to be used to determine an officer's age for official purposes are given in Annex A to this Chapter.

a. Flexible Service arrangements shall refer to an officer employed on part-time working arrangements, restricted separation arrangements, or both, for periods of their service.

b. Officers may be permitted to move onto temporary part-time working arrangements, restricted separation arrangements or both. This will allow the individual to have a degree of freedom when attempting to balance their work and personal life. Flexible Service arrangements do not affect eligibility for promotion. See JSP 750, Chapter 2 and AGAI 44 (Army Flexible Service).

9.003. Personal and other Appointments.

a. Instructions regarding the appointment of officers to the personal staff of the Sovereign, the Royal Family, general officers and to certain miscellaneous appointments are contained in the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009.

b. Details of appointments to HM Tower of London and the Royal Hospital, Chelsea, conferred by The Queen on field marshals or retired senior officers, are given in Annex B Part 1 to this Chapter.

c. Conditions for appointments to Her Majesty's Body Guard, Military Knights of Windsor and Captains of Invalids are contained in Annex B Part 2 to this Chapter.

9.004. All notifications affecting an officer's service, pay and personal particulars are promulgated officially in accordance with JPA Instructions.

Assignments

9.005.

a. An officer has no claim to serve in any particular unit of their corps and will be assigned as the requirements of the Service may dictate. It will, however, be open to them to submit a written application to serve with any particular unit; the application will receive such consideration as the exigencies of the Service may permit.

b. Officers and Soldiers of the Regular Army and Army Reserve who are married to each other or are in a civil partnership will, as a general rule, be permitted to serve in the same unit or barracks. However, each case will be considered by the Chain of Command (CoC) and treated on its merits. Individuals who are married to each other or in a civil partnership will not be permitted to serve together where one party is required to report upon the other or may be required to take disciplinary or administrative action against the other.

c. The assignment of a husband, wife or civil partner to the same unit does not confer on either of them the right to any particular security of tenure within that unit nor to any subsequent assignment to a unit together. In addition, co-ordinated hours of duty cannot be guaranteed.

9.006.

a. Joining instructions are to be included in assignment orders.

b. Detailed rules governing the lengths of overseas tours are laid down in AGAI 34 and

c. Lieutenant Colonels, substantive or acting, in command will normally be required to complete their period in command regardless of whether they become due during their tenure for reversion to the Home Establishment or for assignment overseas.

Transfers

9.007.

a. An application from an officer to transfer from one regiment or corps to another regiment or corps is to be forwarded to the applicant's Career Management branch, APC. It is to show the officer's reasons for transfer and is to be accompanied by the recommendations of their Commanding Officer (CO), who is to certify that the transfer recommended does not originate in any cause affecting the honour, character or professional efficiency of the officer. A medical certificate showing the officer's PULHHEEMS assessment is to be forwarded with the application.

b. Applications for transfer to certain arms require additional information, and reference should therefore be made to Defence Instructions and Notices and AGAIs before submitting applications to the APC.

9.008. A Transfer of Regular (Reg C), less the transfer of Reg C and Reg C(LE) Infantry under the circumstances covered in para 9.008b and Regular (Late Entry) (Reg C(LE)) officers to different Arms or Corps will be considered by the Army Commissions Board, which may order an attachment on probation, usually for not less than six months, before giving a final decision. All decisions of the Army Commissions Board (ACB) on applications for transfer will be final.

9.009. The ACB has delegated authority to the appropriate Arms Selection Boards for the following transfer process less those of a contentious nature:

a. IRC/IRC(LE) and SSC/SSC(LE) officers between different arms or corps.

b. Infantry Reg C/Reg C(LE), IRC/IRC(LE) and SSC/SSC(LE) officers from one regiment to another within the same division or between divisions of infantry (including the Parachute Regiment and the Brigade of Gurkhas).
Promotion

a. Rules for the promotion of regular officers up to the rank of General and regular late entry officers up to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, together with details of the selection board procedures, are given in Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009 and AGAI 35.

b. Officers promoted to the substantive rank of Field Marshal do so in accordance with the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009, Article 124.

c. The qualifications and service required for the promotion of IRC, SSC, and SSC(LE) officers are laid down in The Army Commissioning Regulations (AC 13452) and Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009.

9.011.  Before officers are eligible for selection for promotion from Lieutenant to Captain and from Captain to Major, they are required to qualify at the appropriate level of the Officer Career Development Programme. Details of this scheme are contained in the Officer Career Development Handbook (AC 64257).

Local Rank (Unpaid)

9.012.  Local rank (unpaid), which confers no financial benefits unless specifically allowed by regulations, may be granted:

a. When it is necessary to raise the status of an officer who, by virtue of their appointment, has to deal with officers of higher rank of other Services or the forces of foreign countries or senior officials and dignitaries, particularly of foreign governments.

b. To certain instructors at Army Colleges and Schools.

c. To a Major of the Regular Army temporarily commanding an OTC unit, which is a Lieutenant Colonel's command, when the appointment is vacant; to an officer temporarily commanding an Army Reserve unit during annual camp training when the appointed CO does not attend; and to camp commandants of Army Reserve and ACF camps when necessary.

d. To officers going overseas to take up appointments carrying the rank of Lieutenant Colonel or above, from the date of departure for overseas.

e. To officers who are assigned to appointments carrying the rank of Lieutenant Colonel or above, from the date of joining the new unit and for the necessary period of take over.

f. To recruiting officers when necessary.

9.013.  All recommendations for local rank (unpaid) under paras 9.012a, b, c and f are to be submitted through Military Secretary at the APC. For the rank of Colonel and above to be submitted through the Career and Management Branch General Staff APC and for the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and below to be submitted through the relevant Career Management Branch APC. In cases under paras 9.012d and the APC assignment order is to be the sole authority and the grant of acting unpaid rank is not to be published in Army Staff Orders or appropriate MS lists.
9.014. Except where disciplinary action under para 6.150 is involved local rank (unpaid) is to be relinquished on the date that the holder ceases to fulfil the function for which acting unpaid rank was granted.

Acting Rank or Substitution Pay (SUPA)

9.015. The rules for the grant, retention and relinquishment of acting rank or substitution pay by officers are laid down in JSP 754 – Tri Service Regulations for Pay and AGAI 35.

Interviews

9.016. Officers on the Active List may, when in the United Kingdom, ask for interviews with the Military Secretary or their representative on personal questions relating to such matters as appointments and promotion. Except in special circumstances the Military Secretary themselves will grant interviews only to officers holding the substantive rank of Colonel or above.

a. Officers in the United Kingdom may write to and be granted interviews by their Career Management branch APC on personal service matters such as appointment, assignment, or transfer. Officers are to keep their COs informed of the purpose of any correspondence, and applications for interviews are to be forwarded through them. Infantry officers are to follow the same procedure except that correspondence should be addressed initially to Headquarters, Division of Infantry. Officers may also be granted interviews by other branches such as in CFA on the recommendation of the personnel branch.

b. Officers visiting the United Kingdom from overseas stations may be interviewed by their Career management branches without first submitting an application through their CO, but should arrange an appointment, and on returning to their unit inform their COs of the interview.

c. Officers serving overseas may apply through their COs for interview with any appropriate staff officer visiting their command from the APC.

d. See also para 5.067 concerning problems of a strictly private nature.

9.018. Expenses in connection with interviews referred to in paras 9.016 – 9.017 will not be admitted as a charge against public funds unless the officer has been summoned by an appropriate military authority.

9.019. Reserved.

Premature Termination of Active List Service

9.020. Except as provided in para 9.024, no military authority other than the Defence Council may call upon an officer to retire, transfer to the RARO or resign their commission, nor may any pressure be exerted on them to do so. In accordance with the provisions of the “Letters Patent” this authority may be undertaken by the Army Board on behalf of the Defence Council.

9.020A. The circumstances revealed at the trial of an officer by Court Martial may cast doubt upon their suitability for retention in the Service although the sentence did not include dismissal. The procedure to be followed is shown below:

a. Where an officer has shown themselves by their actions to be unfit to hold their commission administrative action is to be taken to terminate their service, and the fact that a court has already awarded a punishment for an offence in connection with the same set of circumstances is in no way to act as a bar to this action.

b. On promulgation of a Court Martial sentence which reflects adversely on the integrity or reputation of an officer, a CO is immediately to make a report to higher authority in accordance with AGAI 62, para 62.040, even if an appeal petition to the Army Board of the Defence Council has been or may be submitted. The report will then be held at the APSG until the expiry of the time allowed for the submission of the appeal petition. If an appeal petition is submitted, then the report will not be passed to the Army Board of the Defence Council until they have made their decision on that petition.

c. The absence of any such report from the CO does not preclude a higher authority, when considering the facts in the light of the officer's whole Service background, from deciding that appropriate action should be taken to terminate their service.

d. Exceptionally, even though trial by Court Martial has resulted in an acquittal, it may still be considered undesirable to retain the officer in the Service in view of the circumstances which are not in dispute, relating either to the officer or the incident for which they has been tried. In these circumstances the CO should report their views to higher authority through the CoC.

9.021. Any officer who, under the terms of the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009, Articles 190 or 192, is called upon to submit an application to retire, transfer to the RARO or resign their commission may, should they so desire, also include therein a request to be accorded an interview with a member or deputy of a member of the Army Board in order that they may have an opportunity of further stating their case. If, as a result of such an interview, it is decided that the decision under the Articles quoted shall stand, their retirement, transfer to the RARO, or resignation is to have effect from the date on which it would have been effective if the officer had not requested an interview.

9.022. At the discretion of the Defence Council and subject to such rules as they from time to time lay down, an officer may be permitted, at their own request, to terminate their service on the Active List. The rules are laid down in AGAI 38.

J9.023. An officer on retirement, or at any time following retirement, who wishes to accept employment with:

a. The government of any country, including a Commonwealth country, whose nationals do not owe common allegiance to the Crown, or,

b. Any defence, security or intelligence organization owned, controlled or sponsored by such a government, or,

c. Any overseas police force, however it may be controlled, will, in all but the most exceptional circumstances, be required to resign their commission. Before accepting any such employment, the officer must notify the APC Officer's Secretariat/MS7. On termination of such employment, it is normal for an officer's commission to be reinstated on request. Where reinstatement of a commission is refused, the individual retains the right of complaint to the Army Board. Receipt of Service retired pay between the time of resignation and reinstatement is normally unaffected.

9.024. Commissions subject to Confirmation. Instructions relating to the termination of commissions subject to confirmation, including those held on probation, are laid down in the Army Commissioning Regulations (AC 13452).

9.025. Reserved.
Retention of Rank on Completion of Active List Service

9.026. The rules for the retention of substantive rank and the grant and retention of honorary rank by Regular Army Officers on leaving the Active List are contained in Annex C to this Chapter.

   a. Flexible Service arrangements shall refer to a Soldier employed on part-time working arrangements, restricted separation arrangements, or both, for periods of their service.

   b. Soldiers may be permitted to move onto temporary part-time working arrangements, restricted separation arrangements or both. This will allow the individual to have a degree of freedom when attempting to balance their work and personal life. Flexible Service arrangements do not affect eligibility for promotion. Prolongation of Service

9.086. A person serving on the Versatile Engagement may consent in writing to be restricted in the exercise of their right to give notice to terminate their Colour service in consideration of:

   f. Any other benefit or advantage.

9.087. Reserved.

9.088. A soldier who is selected for and who is willing to attend a course of instruction and who is not committed to serve for the residual period of Colour service to be given after the completion of the course as laid down in JSP 750 –Centrally Determined Terms of Service Part 1 Directive – Chapter 2 is to waive their rights in accordance with the instructions laid down in that Instruction. If the waiver is conditional upon the successful completion of the course it may be held in abeyance until the outcome of the course is known. Then, if the soldier fails the course through no fault of their own, it may be cancelled. Full instructions regarding these procedures are laid down in the Unit Administration Manual.

9.089. The detailed instructions regarding the period of service for which the soldier must be committed should they wish to transfer from their present corps to another corps are laid down in JSP 750 –Centrally Determined Terms of Service Part 1 Directive – Chapter 2.

9.090. A soldier who has applied for and been accepted for loan service with a Commonwealth or foreign force as laid down in JSP 468 – Loan and Secondment of Service

The period should include the full period of the loan plus any resettlement and disembarkation or terminal leave to which the soldier may eventually be entitled. The procedure is similar to that for attendance on a course of instruction as given in para 9.088.

9.091. If it is considered that a soldier is to receive any benefit or advantage other than those provided in para 9.086a - e, they are not to be restricted in their rights to terminate their service until the case has been submitted to (DM(A)), through the APC.

9.092. The detailed instructions regarding the period of service for which a soldier must be committed should they wish to terminate their service having attended certain training courses, are laid down in JSP 750 –Centrally Determined Terms of Service Part 1 Directive – Chapter 2.

Extension of Service

9.093. Type S Engagements. Soldiers enlisted on the Type S engagement may extend their service by one, two or three years at a time up to a total of 12 years. Any further period of extension beyond 12 years is to be effected by termination and re-enlistment. Such extension should be exceptional and only authorized when the person is ineligible for service on the Versatile Engagement.

9.094. Reserved.

9.095. Personnel enlisted for Local Service. Soldiers enlisted on the MSLE may apply to extend their service by periods of three years or if they will attain the age of 60 before the expiry of such a period, until the date on which they attains that age. 9.096. Periods of Extension. The minimum period for which an extension of service may normally be granted is six months. Applications for a period of more than six months should be for a period which is a multiple of six months. Where the extension of service is required for a special period which is not a period of six months or a multiple thereof, the reasons should be fully stated to the APC when the application is submitted.

9.097. Competent Service Authority. For the purpose of approving or refusing applicants for extensions of service laid down in paras 9.093 – 9.096 the competent Service authority is the APC.

Continuance in Army Service

9.098. General. Subject to the conditions contained in the following paragraphs, a soldier may be allowed to continue in Army service, provided that:

a. They are efficient, of good conduct and medically suitable.

b. Suitable employment is available and continues to be available in their current substantive rank or in a lower rank to which they may voluntarily revert.

9.099. Types of Continuance. Continuance may be authorized for soldiers for:

a. Career Continuance. Soldiers serving on the Versatile Engagement (Short Career) or Versatile Engagement (Full Career) may apply for a career continuance of up to 2 years in order to meet service needs, which may be authorised by APC. Soldiers serving on career continuance are not eligible for promotion, and only eligible for conversion to a different engagement with authority from DM(A). In exceptional circumstances, and only with approval from DM(A), further career continuance of up to four years may be granted. Individuals selected for career continuance may be required to serve at regimental duty in their own arms and corps, at E2 or in another arm or corps on transfer. Soldiers serving on the Open Engagement can apply for a continuance after completing 18 years reckonable service and a continuance of up to five years additional service may be granted, in exceptional circumstances, in order to meet service needs.

b. A Period of Limited Continuance for Reasons such as:

(1) For Pension Purposes:

(a) To enable a warrant officer class 1, if still serving under Armed Forces Pension Scheme 1975 (see para 9.104), to complete two years in the rank so that they may be awarded a pension at the rate for that rank.

(b) To make up non-reckonable service for a pension (see para 9.105).

(2) For Manning Reasons: to fill appointments of a short term nature to meet service or individual needs for which Career Continuance is not appropriate. However, this will only be granted in exceptional circumstances.

9.100. Reserved.

9.101. Applications. An application for continuance may be submitted as follows:

a. By a soldier on the Open Engagement at any time after the completion of 18 years continuous service, reckoned from the relevant date. Such an application will not prejudice the right of a soldier to give notice to transfer to the reserve.

b. By a soldier whose Colour service has not been continuous and who on the completion of their current engagement will complete 22 years reckonable service - at any time after the completion of 21 years reckonable service.

c. The appropriate Career Management Branch APC may, having granted a period of continuance, withdraw this offer of continuance and terminate the soldier at their 22-year point, if the soldier fails to maintain the standards required by para 9.098a.

d. By any soldier serving on Versatile Engagement (Short) or Versatile Engagement (Full) who has received notice that they will not be considered for conversion to an engagement type which would ordinarily entail longer service. Soldiers in this situation may apply for a continuance of up to two years through their Career Manager.

9.102. Duration of Continuance. Continuance beyond end of current engagement may be authorized initially for a period not exceeding two or five years depending on type of engagement. Subject to the conditions of para 9.098 this initial period may subsequently be extended by further periods of continuance not exceeding two of five years dependant on type of engagement at a time and applications for such extensions may be submitted as follows:

a. Where the previous period of continuance exceeded two years - at any time during the last two years of that period.

b. Where the previous period of continuance was two years or less - at any time during that period. Continuance in Army service will not normally be authorized beyond the age of 60 and the final period of continuance which may be authorized to enable a soldier to remain in service until that age should be limited in duration so as to terminate on their 60th birthday.
9.103. Retention after the Age of 60. Should it be considered necessary, in the interests of the Service, to retain a soldier beyond the age of 60 application is to be made by the CO, through the APC, to DM(A) for consideration. The soldier's application in the form of a completed copy of AFB 6848 should be forwarded together with a full explanation as to why it is necessary to retain the applicant and why the assignment cannot be filled by a younger soldier. The APC when forwarding the application, is to state whether it supports the application or not. Should the application be approved, continuance will be limited to one year at a time up to a maximum age of 65.

9.104. Rank Assessment for Pension Purposes. Under the provisions of the Army Pensions (Armed Forces Pension Scheme 1975 and Attributable Benefits Scheme) Warrant 2010, Article A.3 (c), the rank for assessing pension shall be the highest rank held for a period of two or more years during the last five years of Colour service preceding the soldier's run out date. A warrant officer class 1 still serving under Armed Forces Pension Scheme 1975, who at the end of 22 years reckonable service will not have completed two years in that rank may apply to continue in service in order to do so. Such continuance is not to be refused by the appropriate Career Management Branch APC without the authority of the DM(A). For this purpose, periods during which the soldier held the acting rank of warrant officer class 1 during the last five years Colour service shall count in addition to the period during which they have held the substantive rank.

9.105. Reckonable Service for Pension Purposes.

   a. Under Armed Forces Pension Schemes 2005 and 2015. All paid service in the Armed Forces, excluding periods of unauthorised absence, unpaid leave, service detention and imprisonment. NB Other criteria may apply. Detailed information is available on the PS10(A) and AFPS 15 websites.

   b. In order to safeguard the pension rights under Armed Forces Pension Scheme 1975 of a soldier, still serving under Armed Forces Pension Scheme 1975, who at the end of their current engagement will have completed 22 years’ service after attaining the age of 18 years, they are to be given the opportunity to continue to serve to make up any non-reckonable service as defined in the Army Pensions (Armed Forces Pension Scheme 1975 and Attributable Benefits Scheme) Warrant 2010, Article A.11, unless such non-reckonable service results from a period in the Regular Reserve in which case the making up of the non-reckonable service will be at the discretion of the APC. All cases where the soldier has non-reckonable service for pension on their current engagement as a result of having transferred their pension rights out of the Armed Forces Pension Scheme are to be referred to DM(A) with the recommendations of the APC. The grant of continuance for this purpose will be at the discretion of DM(A) and it will be subject to the overriding manning situation.

9.106. Procedure. Except where otherwise stated, the APC is the competent Service authority for the authorization of continuance. Detailed executive instructions for the authorization of such continuance are published in AGAI 46.

9.107. Notice to Terminate. A soldier serving on continuance beyond 22 years may, unless they have waived their right to terminate their Colour service in consideration of any benefit or advantage as given in para 9.086, claim their termination at the expiration of six months reckoned from the date on which they give notice in writing to their CO of their wish to be terminated. The CO may, with the concurrence of the APC, reduce this period of notice in the interest of the soldier but, before doing so, should ensure that the soldier has at least 22 years reckonable service for pension under Armed Forces Pension Scheme 1975 as defined in the Army Pensions (Armed Forces Pension Scheme 1975 and Attributable Benefits Scheme) Warrant 2010. Such termination is to be carried out under para 9.390.
Reckonable Service

9.108. Definition - Relevant Date. The relevant date from which a soldier's service, on a current engagement, is to be reckoned, is as follows:

a. In the case of men, the relevant date is:
   (1) For those enlisted before 1 January 1962, the date of attestation.
   (2) For those enlisted on or after 1 January 1962, the date of attaining the age of 18 years or date of attestation, whichever is the later.

b. In the case of women, the relevant date is:
   (1) For those enlisted after 1 January 1962 and before 1 August 1967, the date of attaining the age of 18 years or the date of attestation whichever is the later.
   (2) For those enlisted on or after 1 August 1967 and before 1 April 1975, the date of attestation.
   (3) For those enlisted on or after 1 April 1975 the date of attaining the age of 18 years or the date of attestation, whichever is the later.

c. The relevant date for all those enlisting on or after 1 January 2008 is the date of attestation.

9.109. Former Service. The conditions under which former full time paid service on a previous engagement in the Army or on an engagement in the Royal Navy, Royal Air Force or any of the former armed forces in India, Burma, or any of the Commonwealth or Colonial forces may count as reckonable service for pay and pension purposes are given in the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009, Article 269.

Forfeiture and Restoration of Service

a. In accordance with the provisions of The Armed Forces (Forfeiture of Service) (No 2) Regulations 2009/1090 a soldier who is convicted by Court Martial of desertion or, being liable to trial, has had their trial dispensed with forfeits previous service for the period for which they are convicted or confesses to being a deserter.

b. A soldier who so forfeits service is liable to serve as if their service had begun on the appropriate date as calculated in accordance with The Armed Forces (Forfeiture of Service) (No 2) Regulations 2009/1090.

c. Under The Armed Forces (Forfeiture of Service) (No 2) Regulations 2009/1090, a soldier who has served continuously in an exemplary manner for not less than three years as a soldier of the regular forces is not liable for trial for an offence of desertion (other than on active service) committed before the beginning of such three years.

9.111. A soldier who has forfeited service as stated in para 9.110a is ineligible for restoration of such service. However, under the provision of The Armed Forces (Forfeiture of Service) (No 2) Regulations 2009/1090 where service has been forfeited for desertion the Defence council may restore the whole or part of the forfeited service if they consider it expedient or desirable to do so because of any circumstances which they consider to be relevant, for example, the person’s distinguished, gallant or other conspicuous conduct during the period since the desertion ended.
9.112. If the forfeited service is restored in whole or part by the Defence Council, the following rules apply:

a. The additional period of service equal to the period of desertion will be reduced by the period of restored service.

b. The date of entitlement to discharge from the regular forces or transferred to the reserve will be adjusted accordingly.

c. The date on which regular service ends or of transfer to the Regular Reserve in accordance with the person’s engagement will not be affected by the restoration of service.

Re-joining the Colours

9.113. Re-entry from the Regular Reserve.

a. A soldier of the Regular Reserve, Section A may apply to the APC to re-join the Colours. If the application is accepted the soldier is to be treated as if they had not been transferred to the Regular Reserve and as if their Army service had continued while they were serving in the Army Reserve, subject to the following conditions:

(1) If having enlisted for a term partly of Army service and partly of service in the Regular Reserve, they will, on re-joining, be committed to serve for the balance of their Regular Reserve service. Those who previously left the Regular Army on an Open or Notice Engagement (or other), will be required to return to Regular service on a Versatile Engagement (V Eng). If the unexpired period of that service is less than one year they will be required to prolong their service for a period of one year to allow for the provision that they are required to give 12 month’s Notice to Terminate (NTT).

(2) Rejoins will not normally be required to commit to any period other than having to provide 12 months’ Notice to Terminate (NTT) but they may, in order to receive any benefit or advantage listed in para 9.086, agree to be restricted in their rights to give notice to terminate their Colour Service.

(3) Notwithstanding sub-paras (1) and (2) above, a member of the Army Reserve with a Regular Reserve liability held in abeyance, may be allowed to re-join the Regular Army.

b. An application from a soldier of the Regular Reserve who wishes to re-enter Army service is to be dealt with as laid down in Recruiting Instructions Regular Army.

9.114. Re-enlistment. Subject to the conditions and the age limits as laid down in Recruiting Instructions Regular Army, an ex-regular soldier who applies to re-enlist may be re-enlisted on the Versatile Engagement. If the applicant is over the age limit but qualified in all other respect they may be re-enlisted on a Type S Engagement (see Annex E), normally for a minimum period of three years or for such longer period, up to a maximum of 12 years, provided the APC can sustain full employment of the applicant.

9.115. Rank on re-joining the Colours.

a. When an ex-regular soldier is permitted to re-join the Colours, as laid down in paras 9.113 – 9.114 in their former corps within 12 months of termination of Colour service, they are normally to be regranted their former substantive rank, provided there is a vacancy and they are qualified. Their seniority for whatever rank is granted is to be adjusted at the discretion of the APC.
b. When an ex-regular soldier is permitted to re-join the Colours in their former corps, if 12 months or more have elapsed since they terminated their Colour service, former rank is not normally to be granted. The APC may, however, re-grant rank when it is in the interests of the Service to do so and the adjustment of seniority is to be at the discretion of the APC.

c. If an ex-regular soldier is permitted to re-join a different corps the re-grant of rank under a and b is to be subject to vacancy, suitability and possession of the necessary qualifications, at the discretion of the APC.

d. In exceptional circumstances where a Rejoin has accrued additional relevant Knowledge, Skills, Experience (KSE) since leaving the Service, a rank appropriate to the KSE may be offered, even if this is higher than rank on exit. In these cases, acting rank is to be granted until the Rejoin completes all requisite training and educational requirements to substantiate in rank. Subsequent promotions will be granted in accordance with extant rules.

9.116. Reckoning of Previous Service. At the time of re-joining the Colours an ex-regular soldier should be informed:

a. Whether their previous service may be reckonable for:

   (1) Pay purposes - under the provisions of JSP 754 Tri Service Regulations for Pay.

   (2) Pensions purposes.

b. That by undertaking to serve with the Colours for not less than three years they will be entitled to a partial or total refund of purchase costs had they previously terminated their Colour service by Premature Voluntary Release, (see the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009, Article 286).

PART 3 - SOLDIERS' PROMOTION, RANKS AND APPOINTMENTS

General

9.125. Regulations for career planning, ranks, seniority, appointments and employment during peacetime are laid down in subsequent paragraphs. Any variations which may be necessary for war will be the subject of special instructions which will be issued by DM(A).

Career Planning and Promotion

9.126. Career planning is necessary to offer soldiers the best possible career prospects consistent with their ability and to ensure that the need of the Army for warrant officers and NCOs is met. There are four essential steps in the career planning process:

a. The Target Structure and Management Plan System for measuring and regulating future promotion opportunities. This is fully explained in AGAI 47.

b. The Serviceperson’s Joint Annual Review system, as outlined in Chapter 5, Part 12 of these regulations and in further detail in JSP 757- Tri-Service Appraisal Reporting Instructions.

c. Control over length of service (see para 9.136).

d. Promotion policies based normally on merit, which may incorporate experience in the rank as laid down in para 9.136.

9.127. There are three types of rank:

b. Acting rank (see paras 9.147 – 9.158).

c. Local rank (Unpaid) (see paras 9.160 – 9.162).

Substantive Promotion

9.128. Promotion policy is an integral part of the career planning process and governs the future prospects of the entire career employment group. The procedure for the promotion of soldiers of regiments and corps of the British Army normally based in the United Kingdom and serving on regular or short service engagements and soldiers of the Army Reserve on recall is to be as detailed in subsequent paragraphs. The particular conditions under which this policy may also be applied to non-Europeans enlisted locally for service with units of the British Army will be notified by special regulations or instructions issued by the Ministry of Defence. The procedure for soldiers serving on short service engagements and any other similar engagements which may later be introduced, will be notified by the Ministry of Defence in Defence Council Instructions. The rules governing promotion are shown in the following paragraphs:

9.129. Within each arm or service, soldiers of similar skills and employments are grouped together for promotion purposes into career employment groups (CEGs). Specific rank promotion rolls are to be maintained, within these groupings, for all soldiers including those at employment category E2 or E3.

9.130. The quota of substantive ranks for each arm or service is authorized by DM(A) in relation to the overall establishment of that corps. Details are notified by DM(A) to the relevant Career Management Branch APC, who are responsible for ensuring that the quota is not exceeded. The latter are, therefore, responsible for controlling promotion. They may, however, delegate authority to promote to substantive rank in accordance with the established custom of the arm or service, in which case details are to be notified through the medium of regimental or corps memoranda or orders.

9.131. Promotion to substantive rank may be made:

a. To fill the quota referred to in para 9.130.

b. In accordance with the provisions of the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009 for soldiers promoted by time; soldiers who are eligible for promotion by time will not also be eligible for promotion by vacancy (see also para 9.135).

c. For distinguished service in accordance with the provisions of the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009.

9.132. Although the eligibility rules, paras 9.133 – 9.135, apply to promotion by vacancy or time, the selection procedures outlined in paras 9.136 – 9.137 apply only to those career employment groups in which promotion is by vacancy. In general, the APC promotion procedure starts at the rank of corporal or lance corporal depending upon the requirements of the arm or service director. Promotion of private soldiers to the rank at which the system starts to operate is on the basis of recommendations by COs and the approval of the relevant Career Management Branch APC.

Eligibility for Selection

9.133. General. To be considered for substantive promotion a soldier must normally:

a. Have an unqualified recommendation for promotion by their CO. In the case of soldiers of the Household Cavalry, RAC, Foot Guards and Infantry who are serving at employment category E2, E3 or on Loan Service, the relevant Career Management Branch APC are normally to seek advice regimentally that the soldier is up to the standard of the higher rank at regimental duty.

b. Possess the necessary experience in the rank as laid down by the arm or service director, or in the case of time promotion, the minimum reckonable service as required by the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009.

c. Possess the necessary educational, military and employment qualifications, as laid down in para 9.134.

d. Not be in captivity (see para 9.146).

e. Have 12 months residual service, calculated from the beginning of the promotion year, to be eligible for substantive promotion. If, in the interests of the Service, it is considered that an individual should be promoted with less than 12 months residual service, a case should be made by the relevant Career Management Branch APC to Deputy Military Secretary APC who may approve on a case by case basis.
9.134. Qualifications for Promotion. A CO is to ensure that all warrant officers, NCOs and soldiers receive adequate instruction and preparation in the qualifications required for promotion. The minimum qualifications required for substantive promotion are set out in subsequent sub-paragraphs. In the case of acting rank, see para 9.148b.

   a. Educational Qualifications. The following courses must be attended before substantive promotion to the ranks shown:

      (1) WO CLM Parts 1 and 2 – Warrant Officer Class 2.

      (2) SNCO CLM Parts 1 and 2 – Sergeant (or equivalent).

      (3) JNCO CLM Parts 1 and 2 – Corporal (or equivalent).

   b. NCOs must be graded competent in all competence areas before they are considered for promotion to higher ranks.

   c. Military Qualifications. Details of military qualifications required for substantive promotion are published in regimental or corps orders and may not be varied without DM(A) authority.

   d. Employment Qualifications:

      (1) For substantive promotion to the rank of sergeant and above, a soldier is required to hold the highest classification open to their employment; for substantive promotion to the rank of corporal the second highest classification open to their employment; for promotion to the rank of lance corporal the lowest classification open to their employment. A higher or lower standard will be adopted on the authority of DM(A) only.

      (2) Full details of the employment qualifications required for substantive promotions are to be found in regimental or corps orders.

      (3) Details of Army or civilian qualifications required for certain technical appointments will be notified in AGAIs, Volume 2, or in regimental or corps instructions.

      (4) Unless the Inspector Army Music gives special approval to the contrary, a candidate for appointment as a bandmaster must have qualified at a student bandmasters' course at the Royal Military School of Music.

   e. Rank:

      (1) Before selecting a warrant officer, class 2 for promotion to the rank of warrant officer class 1 the APC is to ensure that the soldier is still recommended and fully qualified for promotion to that rank.

      (2) A soldier below the rank of substantive warrant officer class 2 will not normally be eligible for promotion to warrant officer class 1.

      (3) Normally a soldier should hold the substantive rank immediately below that for which they are being considered for promotion. Selection to the rank of warrant officer class 2 will normally be made from soldiers holding the substantive rank of staff corporal or staff sergeant; if no suitable staff corporal or staff sergeant is available, selection may be made from soldiers who hold the substantive rank of corporal of horse or sergeant.
(4) Special Cases. Soldiers specially enlisted into, or transferred to, certain corps to fill appointments for which specific minimum ranks are authorized may be promoted to such ranks on completion of the period of probation or training, or as laid down in specific regulations or instructions.

9.135. Time Promotion Restriction. A soldier promoted by time shall not be eligible for promotion by vacancy unless it is intended that they are to perform duty in the vacancy into which they are promoted and ceases to be subject to promotion by time. Should they at any future date assume an appointment, with the concurrence of the APC where promotion is governed by time their rank is to be assessed in accordance with the conditions laid down in the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009.

Selection and Promotion Policy

9.136. Selection. The main feature of the policy is that once a soldier becomes eligible for promotion, selection will normally be based on merit. Seniority in the rank is a measure of the experience gained in that rank and as such is a consideration in this selection process. The extent to which rank, seniority or experience is reflected in the overall merit assessment of individual soldiers is a matter for the respective regiment or corps, since the employment requirement may demand a different ratio of ability and experience. The selections made may be regulated where necessary in the career interests of the entire career employment group.

9.137. Promotion.

a. Promotion Selection Boards are responsible for considering those eligible for promotion. The Promotion Selection Board is to make selections in accordance with the guidelines provided by the APC.

b. The APC has the ultimate control of promotions to meet the manning requirements.

Limitations and Notification of Promotion

9.138. Supernumeraries in a substantive rank in any corps are to be counted against the total establishment of that rank for that corps. This authorized establishment may not be exceeded without prior approval of the Ministry of Defence directorate concerned. This rule does not preclude the filling of vacancies by promotion into specialists' appointments but the prior approval of the Ministry of Defence directorate concerned is to be obtained in all cases.

9.139. The effective dates of promotion are to be as follows:

a. When a vacancy for a warrant officer or NCO occurs through a change in establishment, promotion is to be effective from the date as authorized in the revised establishment.

b. When a vacancy for a warrant officer or NCO occurs through death, termination, promotion or reversion in rank, the successor is to be promoted, if they are qualified, from the day following such occurrence.

c. Where there is no soldier qualified to fill a vacancy in a rank on the date such vacancy occurs the soldier eventually selected will be promoted from the date of qualification, and their promotion is not to be antedated to the original date of the vacancy.

9.140. Subject to para 9.141, when a promotion to the rank of warrant officer or non-commissioned rank has been approved by the authorizing officer, such promotion is not complete and final until it is entered in JPA process of the unit on whose strength the warrant officer or NCO is then borne. Thus, a CO retains authority over the promotion of a soldier while the soldier is serving under their command.

9.141. In cases where acting rank has been erroneously granted the CO is to order the holder to relinquish the rank and ensure that a JPA occurrence is immediately actioned cancelling the erroneous grant of acting rank. The date of the cancellation will be the date of the issue of the JPA occurrence in which the cancellation is recorded.

9.142. Vacancies to the appointment of bandmaster are to be filled by the promotion of qualified Music Direction (MD) Course students nominated by DCAMUS in accordance with the following procedure:

a. A bandmaster on first appointment from the Royal Military School of Music is to be promoted to staff sergeant (if they hold a lower rank) on appointment, for a probationary period of 12 months. Should no vacancy be available at the time of qualification, the soldier will return to a Regular Army Band in substantive rank until a vacancy becomes available.

b. Following the probationary period, if a newly qualified bandmaster does not fully meet the required standard commensurate with their appointment, in order to assist them to meet the standard, and in keeping with the restoring efficiency as outlined in AGAI 67, a period of remedial work will be undertaken as directed by DCAMUS.

c. Staff Sergeant bandmasters are to be promoted to warrant officer, class 2, and warrant officer, class 1, when the CO, in consultation with DCAMUS, considers them suitable following completion of 2 years in rank.

9.143. Warrant officers class 2 who for other reasons are no longer to be considered (on the advice of the promotion board) for promotion to warrant officer class 1 are to be informed of this decision. These notifications are to be made by the APC and transmitted through COs.

9.144. The grant or relinquishment of the appointment of regimental quartermaster sergeant or equivalent is to be recorded on JPA particularly in cases where the grant of this appointment renders the incumbent eligible to be registered for a regular late entry commission.

9.145. When promotion to the substantive rank of warrant officer has been approved, application is to be made by the relevant Career Management Branch APC to the Defence Business Services (DBS) for the preparation and issue of a warrant.

9.146. Captivity - Soldiers taken Prisoner or Kidnapped. A soldier who is taken prisoner of war in the course of warlike operations, or who is kidnapped by a hostile force in other circumstances, is to be treated as follows:

a. Promotion by time, if applicable, is to continue. The recommendation required by the relevant provisions of the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009 is to be waived, but such promotion is to be reviewed at the end of a period of 12 months from the date on which the soldier is taken on the assigned or permanently attached strength of a unit after any leave or hospital treatment granted to them on repatriation or escape. If the soldier then fails to fulfil the qualifications appropriate to their new rank or fails to receive the recommendation of their CO they will revert from the day following the completion of the 12 months period defined above to the substantive rank held by them at the time of capture, or if higher, to the rank for which they are qualified and recommended under the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009. The promotion of soldiers who have forfeited pay under JSP 754 – Tri Service Regulations for Pay section 2 paragraph 02.1208 sub paragraph f will be considered by the DM(A).
b. A soldier is not eligible for substantive promotion by vacancy while they are in captivity. However, they are to retain their position on the promotion roll and, provided they are recommended for promotion within 12 months of joining a unit for duty after release from captivity, they are to be considered for promotion into the first available vacancy, and if selected, their seniority is to be adjusted to the position they would have held had they not been taken prisoner.

c. See also para 9.155 regarding acting rank.

Grant of Acting Rank

9.147. The Ministry of Defence lays down from time to time the percentage of the corps or regimental establishment of warrant officers and NCOs, which may be filled by substantive ranks. The balance which is not filled by substantive ranks, plus any deficiency resulting from holders of substantive rank being temporarily non-effective, may be made up by the grant, under the control of the APC of acting rank in accordance with the provisions of paras 9.148 – 9.151.

a. Acting rank may be granted to a soldier who is assigned into or who is appointed to fill a vacancy in an establishment which carries a higher rank than their substantive rank. Normally acting rank cannot be granted when a soldier with the appropriate substantive rank is available to fill a vacancy. A soldier who is eligible for promotion by time will not be granted acting rank except when the approval of the DM(A) has been obtained.

b. The qualification rules for substantive rank in paras 9.133 – 9.134 are not required for the grant of acting rank. However, as acting rank confers upon the individual extra prestige, pay and pension, it should be exceptional for the warrant officer or NCO not to be fully qualified and recommended for promotion. Note that the educational qualification is not required. Furthermore, the Ministry of Defence directorate concerned may lay down certain minimum standards to apply to warrant officers and NCOs holding acting ranks in a particular group of ranks and employments. In selecting soldiers to fill appointments temporarily in their units, COs should be guided by these principles, but they have absolute discretion to select whoever appears to be most suitable, regardless of qualifications. However, if a warrant officer or NCO who is granted acting rank is relatively junior, or is unqualified, the APC may arrange a replacement and this should be explained at the time they are granted acting rank.

c. Where a rank range is shown against an assignment in an establishment, the grant of acting rank is only admissible to the lowest of the ranks in the range specified.

d. A soldier is not to be regarded as performing the duties of an appointment and so be granted the appropriate acting rank so long as the actual holder of the appointment remains on the assignment or permanently attached strength of the unit except that:

(1) When the holder is absent from their unit and is subsequently struck off the strength of their unit on account of such absence (whether for sickness or other causes) or

(2) When the holder has handed over their appointment but remains on the assigned strength of their unit pending assignment to the next unit, the appointment will be regarded as having been vacant from the date of notification of absence or the day following the completion of the handover as the case may be.

e. Acting rank may not be granted to a soldier filling an officer's assignment.
9.149. When a vacancy occurs in a unit for which no warrant officer or NCO of the appropriate substantive rank is available, the CO may select a soldier to carry out temporarily the duties of an appointment which carries a rank higher than the substantive or such acting rank as they already hold. The CO is then immediately to obtain covering authority for this acting promotion from the APC. The APC may approve the acting promotion made by the CO or may nominate a replacement.

9.150. Reserved.

9.151. In certain regiments or corps the authority for acting promotion not above the rank of acting sergeant is delegated to COs by the APC, in accordance with the custom of the corps, but the responsibility remains with the APC.

9.152. Acting rank is to be relinquished on the date the holder ceases to fill the vacancy for which the rank was granted, except that in the following circumstances acting rank may be retained, notwithstanding that the soldier may be struck off the strength of the unit and the vacancy filled by another soldier:

a. When assigned direct to another establishment to fill a vacancy for the same or higher rank.

b. Where the holder’s absence from duty is due to wounds, injuries or sickness, except where the approved medical authority certifies that, in their opinion, the soldier deliberately occasioned their condition by their own act or negligence, the rank may be retained for a period not exceeding 120 days unless on return to duty before the end of that period they are assigned to fill a vacancy in a lower rank.

c. When a soldier is serving overseas, and has held acting rank for an unbroken period of 180 days immediately before departure for the United Kingdom or Europe, the rank may be retained up to and including the day of arrival.

d. When a soldier is returning to the United Kingdom from overseas or Europe for the purpose of leaving the Service, provided they are to be terminated or transferred to the Regular Reserve within 56 days of arrival. Under this subparagraph, when a soldier has held acting rank for less than 180 days but immediately before held a lower or higher acting rank, they are to be allowed to retain the lower acting rank of the two if the aggregate of the period amounts to in excess of 180 days. Soldiers reverting to the Home Establishment for the last six months of their service have no such rights unless assigned to a vacancy carrying a higher rank in a Home Establishment.

e. On all courses defined as Long Courses, provided the acting rank is not higher than the maximum rank of the appointment for which the course is designed as a preparation.

f. During privilege, local or compassionate leave, subject to the appointment in the establishment not being filled by the assignment of another soldier holding the equivalent substantive rank or by the grant of acting rank to another soldier.

g. During inter-tour leave, unless the local divisional or equivalent commander considers it essential that the vacancy shall be filled.

h. In arms which have a minimum rank, acting rank equal to the minimum rank may be retained. If a higher acting rank is held, and if none of sub-paras a to g are applicable, reversion is to be to the lowest rank applicable to the corps, or to the soldier’s substantive rank if higher.
i. During terminal leave, where the soldier has held acting rank for 180 consecutive days immediately preceding the beginning of terminal leave.

j. If they would otherwise retain acting rank a soldier is not required to relinquish such acting rank solely because it is essential for administrative reasons to assign them for a short period to a depot or holding unit. This rule does not apply when a soldier is despatched to a depot or holding unit pending the issue of further assignment instructions. To retain acting rank it is essential that the soldier shall be under such orders when they leave their last appointment as would enable them to retain that rank if it were not administratively necessary for them to proceed to a depot or holding unit.

k. When acting lance corporal or equivalent is the minimum rank in their employment or corps.

Note. The soldier is to be informed immediately by their CO if they are not allowed to retain acting rank under e, f or g.

9.153. The retention of acting rank on assignment is governed by the rules in para 9.152a, g, i and j. With regard to reinforcement demands the following rules will apply:

a. Any warrant officers and NCOs assigned while holding acting ranks must be absorbed into appropriate vacancies on arrival overseas; otherwise they are to relinquish acting rank.

b. Should it at any time be necessary, in the interests of maintaining a proper balance in a particular corps, to assign more warrant officers and NCOs than have been demanded, no warrant officers and NCOs included in the draft may retain acting rank.

c. The APC is authorized to assign more warrant officers and NCOs than have been demanded only when it is known that sufficient vacancies appropriate to their substantive ranks are available for them, on their arrival in the overseas theatre, through the relinquishment of acting rank by warrant officers and NCOs already in the theatre.

9.154. Where a soldier has retained acting rank under the provisions of para 9.152c they will automatically be granted the equivalent local rank (Unpaid) on the day after arrival in the United Kingdom or Europe when they relinquished acting rank, and may retain such local rank (Unpaid) until they are assigned for duty in either their substantive rank or higher acting rank.

9.155. A soldier who is taken prisoner in the course of warlike operations, or is kidnapped by a hostile force, is to be treated as follows:

a. Duly authorized acting rank is to be retained during captivity and for 61 days after arrival in the United Kingdom or joining a unit for duty or until such time as they are assigned to fill an appointment in a lower rank than their acting rank, whichever is the earlier.

b. If admitted to hospital on return from captivity, acting rank may be retained for up to 120 days after entry into hospital, if this is more favourable to the individual than the 61 day rule in a.

9.156. The CO is to order an acting warrant officer or acting NCO to revert to their substantive rank if the soldier concerned ceases to perform the duties of their acting rank. Such action is administrative and is not to be confused with disciplinary reductions nor with reduction for inefficiency or unsuitability subsequent to administrative action. If a soldier holding acting rank is charged or likely to be charged with an offence under the Armed Forces Act 2006 they will not be administratively deprived of their acting rank before their trial unless they are absent without leave for more than 21 days, or in close arrest for more than seven days.
9.157. In cases where acting rank has been erroneously granted the CO is to order the holder to relinquish the rank and ensure that a JPA occurrence is immediately carried out cancelling the erroneous grant of acting rank. The date of the cancellation will be the date of the JPA occurrence in which the cancellation is recorded.

9.158. Draft Conducting. In order that a proper quota of NCOs may be available in every draft the officer commanding draft assembly unit is to appoint acting NCOs appropriate to the size of the draft, according to the following rules:

a. | Size of draft | Scale up to which acting NCOs for draft conducting duties may be appointed |
--- | --- | --- |
Up to five soldiers | Nil, except on special authority of the Ministry of Defence. |
Up to five soldiers | One corporal (or equivalent). |
21 to 40 soldiers | Two corporals (or equivalent). |
41 to 60 soldiers | One sergeant and two corporals (or equivalent). |
61 to 80 soldiers | One sergeant and three corporals (or equivalent). |
For larger drafts | Proportionately. |

b. The following rules are to apply:

(1) The period of tenure is to be from the day the draft leaves the draft assembly unit from which it is despatched to the point of departure until the day after arrival at destination.

(2) The officer commanding draft assembly unit is to make the appointments necessary to bring the draft up to the scale shown in a and to enter the occurrence on JPA.

(3) Relinquishment of rank is to be published by the officer commanding receiving unit or base transit depot, whichever is applicable.

Substitution Pay

9.159. Substitution Pay may be granted to a soldier under the conditions shown in JSP 754 Tri-Service Regulations for Pay.

Grant of Local Rank (Unpaid)

9.160. Local rank (Unpaid) carries no entitlement to pay, allowances or pension rights. It may be granted under the following conditions:

a. On the authority of the brigade or equivalent commander in those circumstances where it is desirable to exceed, temporarily, for purposes of training or prestige, the number of ranks or appointments authorized in an establishment, or to provide a higher rank than that allowed.

b. After arrival in the United Kingdom or Europe, when acting rank has been held for 180 consecutive days before departure as provided for in para 9.154.
c. Where a warrant officer or NCO reverts voluntarily in substantive rank to serve for an extended career at employment category E1 the head of the arm or service may grant local rank (Unpaid). If the appointment is at employment category E2 then the APC may grant local (Unpaid) rank.

d. After discharge from hospital in cases where acting rank was relinquished under the terms of para 9.152b.

e. At the discretion of the APC for prestige purposes, where a warrant officer or senior NCO is in transit to take up an appointment on promotion. In such cases the instruction is to be incorporated in the assignment order.

f. At the discretion of the APC to craftsmen and lance corporal candidates identified as potential artificers by the Artificer Selection Board, individuals concerned may retain local rank (Unpaid) so granted as long as they continue to be eligible and recommended for artificer training.

9.161. For the disciplinary aspects of soldiers holding local rank (Unpaid), see para 6.151.

9.162. Local rank (Unpaid) will be relinquished automatically on the day that the holder ceases to fulfil the function for which local rank (Unpaid) was granted.

Seniority

9.163. Holders of substantive rank will be senior to all holders of the same acting rank, who in turn will be senior to all holders of the same local rank.

9.164. The Army Command Sergeant Major, Command Sergeant Majors and the Garrison Sergeant Major of London District are generally Late Entry Officers serving on Deferred Commissions (while wearing the apparent rank of warrant officer class 1). As such they are to be considered senior to all other warrant officer Class 1 (not yet granted a Commission). For all other warrant officer Class 1 appointments (other than those held by Late Entry Officers serving on Deferred Commissions) seniority between those of the same substantive rank is to be determined in accordance with their dates of promotion to that rank, except where provided to the contrary (para 9.169).

9.165. Seniority between those of the same acting or local rank is to be respectively determined in accordance with their dates of promotion to that acting rank or the date on which the local rank was granted. When the date is the same, seniority is to depend on the date of promotion to the next lower rank at which seniority can be clearly established and if necessary by seniority as a soldier in accordance with para 9.164c.

9.166. In certain corps, the corps seniority of soldiers transferred from another corps counts only from the date of transfer. Army seniority, however, is not affected by such transfers.

9.167. Warrant officers, class 2, and NCOs assigned to the permanent staff of the Army Reserve rank with other warrant officers, class 2, and NCOs of the regular Army, according to the date of promotion, but are senior, in the same rank, to warrant officers, class 2, and NCOs of the Army Reserve.

Appointments and Precedence

9.168. The Army Command Sergeant Major is the senior Warrant Officer Class 1 appointment in the Army. This appointment is considered the most senior because of the prestige associated with the role, because it is a Late Entry Officer appointment (of shadow OF3 rank) and because it is the only warrant officer Class 1 appointment on the General Staff. The following tables show the senior warrant officer appointments in the Army generally hold Late Entry Officers on deferred Commissions and senior soldiers. This table shows relative seniority and grants, under due authority, to any rank therein detailed, eligibility for the holder of that rank to be considered for any one appointment listed opposite that rank in the table.

Voluntary Reversion to Lower Rank

9.176. A warrant officer or NCO may, with their CO's consent, voluntarily revert to a lower rank. The soldier should be made aware that under JSP 754 Tri-Service Regulations for Pay, voluntary reversion in rank will result in them being assimilated into pay scales in such a way as to achieve at least a 2% reduction in pay from that in issue on the day before voluntary reversion in rank. A certificate signed by the soldier and personally countersigned by the CO that the reversion is voluntary is to be attached to the soldier's documents and the CO is, before consenting to such reversion, to be satisfied that there is no disciplinary action pending or outstanding against the warrant officer or NCO. Seniority in the rank to which they revert is to count from the date of their original promotion to that rank. The warrant officer or NCO will remain ineligible for further promotion until such time as the APC receives an application from the soldier, countersigned by their CO, stating that they wish to be reconsidered for promotion under normal rules. When re-promotion is approved seniority in the new rank is to reckon from the latest date of such substantive promotion to that rank.

Reduction in Rank and Removal on Account of Inefficiency or Unsuitability

9.177. In cases of inefficiency or unsuitability a CO may:

a. Apply to an appropriate officer for the reduction in rank of any substantive warrant officer or NCO as provided for in para 9.178.

b. Order any warrant officer, class 2, NCO or soldier to relinquish any acting rank which they may be holding and to revert to their substantive rank.

c. Order any warrant officer, NCO or acting NCO to be removed from any appointment which they may be holding and to assume any other appointment appropriate to their rank or acting rank.

d. Order any substantive lance corporal or lance bombardier to be reduced to the ranks.

9.178. When a substantive warrant officer or NCO of the rank of corporal or above, by reason of misconduct, unsuitability or inefficiency of a nature which does not warrant disciplinary action, is nevertheless undeserving of retention in their substantive rank, their CO may, order their reduction in rank under the provisions of section 332 of the Armed Forces Act 2006 as amended by section 19 of the Armed Forces Act 2011. The process contained in AGAI 67 is to be used. Where the reduction in rank relates to the inefficiency the warrant officer or NCO should normal be given a period of 3 months formal warning to remedy any shortcomings. In cases of minor misconduct the soldier may be given a 3-month formal Warning period to improve their conduct.

9.179. Reserved.

9.180. A warrant officer or NCO who is reduced to a lower rank for inefficiency or unsuitability under the provisions of section 332 of the Armed Forces Act 2006 as amended by section 19 of the Armed Forces Act 2011 is to be placed on the rank seniority roster in the lower rank according to the date they were originally promoted to that rank. If the warrant officer or NCO has never served in the lower rank before reduction, the APC is responsible for granting the soldier such seniority in the lower rank that they will be in the zone for promotion to the next higher substantive rank at the expiration of the relevant period laid down in para 9.181. If two or more warrant officers or NCOs are reduced simultaneously, the relevant Career Management Branch APC is to grant seniority in the lower ranks so as to maintain their relative seniority.
9.181. A warrant officer or NCO holding an appointment which carries a minimum rank, who is reduced for inefficiency, unsuitability or by Court Martial to a rank below the minimum for the appointment, is to be deprived of such appointment and, under instructions of the APC is either to be returned to the roll appropriate to their original employment or be reclassified in an employment on a roll appropriate to the circumstances of the case. When a supervisory technician is reduced to a rank below staff sergeant and cannot be mustered as a technician because no vacancy exists in the corps quota, they may be held surplus until a vacancy occurs. When re-promotion is approved, seniority is to reckon from the date of such substantive promotion and in no circumstances is to confer any retrospective financial advantage.

9.182. Reserved

9.183. A soldier may be granted the next higher acting rank under the normal rules; or they may be promoted to the next higher substantive rank, if recommended and qualified, provided that:

a. A vacancy is available in the rank quota for the higher rank where such promotion is granted by selection to fill a vacancy, or

b. The promotion is authorized by the APC where such promotion is governed wholly by time.

A soldier granted the acting rank or promoted to the substantive rank of lance corporal or equivalent is not to be further promoted within 12 months of reduction.

9.184. Further promotion which may follow any initial promotion after reduction may be granted under the normal rules, except as provided in para 9.183. When such further promotion is granted, seniority is to be assessed as follows:

a. In the case of soldiers on vacancy promotion, seniority in the new rank is to reckon from the latest date of substantive promotion to that rank.

b. In the case of soldiers on time promotion, only service accrued after the date on which the warrant officer or NCO was reduced will count as reckonable service for promotion except as provided for in para 9.185.

9.185. Notwithstanding para 9.184b, individual cases may be reconsidered jointly by the APC and the soldier’s CO at the time. If the circumstances justify it, the CO may then recommend to the appropriate authority such regrant of seniority as is thought fit, provided however that the seniority so granted shall not be greater than that which the soldier would have held but for their reduction in rank. The appropriate authority in these cases is:

b. Any officer in executive command not below the rank of major general or corresponding rank under whose command the warrant officer or NCO is for the time being serving.

c. Any brigadier or officer of corresponding rank when commanding an independent command in which the warrant officer or NCO is for the time being serving.

Employment of Soldiers under Other Governments

9.186. Soldiers will not be employed under any government other than that of the United Kingdom except when such employment has been sanctioned by the Defence Council. The conditions to be observed in such cases will be notified by the Ministry of Defence. In the absence of any general sanction an individual application must specify the nature and expected duration of the employment. In cases of pressing necessity abroad, a GOC may provisionally sanction the employment of a soldier pending the result of an application to the Defence Council. In either case no soldier is to be so employed unless they are a volunteer and signs an acknowledgement before the employment begins that they are willing to serve under the conditions laid down.

The Substantive Promotion of Soldiers Loaned to, or Serving with Units of Other Arms

9.187. The substantive promotion of soldiers loaned to or serving with units of other arms or services is to be governed by the following conditions:

   a. Provided they are qualified and recommended by the CO they are to be eligible for consideration for promotion in the normal way.

   b. If they can be absorbed in the new rank in a vacancy within the establishment of the unit to which seconded, they are to be promoted and will complete their normal tour of duty with that unit.

   c. If no vacancy in the new rank exists into which they can be absorbed, they are to be returned to their parent arm or service, unless they are contractually bound to complete their tour of duty or, if not contractually bound to complete their tour of duty, they volunteer to remain with their present unit until completion of that tour of duty.

In either circumstance, they may be required to forgo promotion until the completion of their tour of duty. They are to be promoted when the next vacancy occurs, if still recommended, with seniority adjusted to the date on which they would have been promoted had they not remained detached from their parent arm. No effective or non-effective pay is admissible for the period of deferment of the highest rank.

PART 4 - TRANSFER BETWEEN CORPS

Legal Provisions

9.200. Under the provisions of The Army Terms of Service Regulations 2009 a regular soldier may, at their own request or with their consent, be transferred from one corps to another. A soldier may be transferred without their consent to another corps but only on the order of a member of the Army Board unless a state of war exists or personnel of the Army Reserve are called out on permanent service.

General Instructions

9.201. Warrant Officers and NCOs. A warrant officer or NCO whose application to transfer is approved in principle is to be informed through their CO by the APC what substantive rank and seniority they are to be granted in their new corps. If a vacancy in the soldier's substantive rank does not exist or if their qualifications and experience do not qualify them for transfer in their substantive rank and they are unwilling to accept the rank and seniority offered, they are to be permitted to withdraw the application. Transfer in this circumstance is not to be authorized unless:

a. The soldier is willing to revert voluntarily to a substantive rank in which they can be accepted (see para 9.176), or

b. The transfer arises out of a recommendation for re-employment and the soldier is to be reduced in rank under provisions of section 332 of the Armed Forces Act 2006 as amended by section 19 of the Armed forces Act 2011 (see paras 9.180 – 9.185).

9.202. Acting Rank. Acting rank may be retained during any period of probation which they may be required to spend with the corps to which they wish to be transferred. This may include a Long Course as defined in Courses of Instruction (AC 9458) (see also paras 9.147 – 9.158). In any other circumstances acting rank may be retained only during the period of probation provided that the soldier remains on the strength of their unit.

9.203. Employment Tests. The rules for the employment and testing of soldiers on transfer to another corps are contained in AGAI 48.

9.204. Movement Costs. Responsibility for meeting the cost of movement occasioned by a transfer is governed by the provisions of JSP 754 Tri-Service Regulations for Pay. Briefly they are that if the transfer is at the initiative of the military authorities, the cost of travel will be a charge against the public.

9.205. Re-transfer. A soldier who transfers to another corps will not be permitted at any future time to be transferred to their former corps unless such re-transfer is in the interest of the Service.

9.206. Procedure. After an application for transfer has been given due consideration the soldier will be informed by their CO of the action taken thereon. No promise will be given that an application will be granted even though the CO may have recommended transfer. The soldier should be warned that in some cases a transfer depends on a corresponding vacancy and even though a transfer may eventually be approved, a lapse of time may be inevitable.

9.207. Assignment Overseas. While an application to transfer is being considered, a soldier may be assigned overseas or to another unit in the normal way unless the APC directs otherwise.

9.208. Effective Date. The effective date of the transfer is to be as follows:
a. Under normal circumstances it will be the date on which the soldier is taken on strength of their new corps and they will be struck off strength of their previous corps on the preceding day.

b. Unless otherwise ordered a soldier will be retained on the strength of their own corps for any required period of probation (see para 9.202). However, should such a period of probation include a Long Course, as defined in Courses of Instruction (AC 9548), they may be struck off the assigned strength of their unit with effect from the first day of attachment to the receiving corps.

c. Transfer will normally be authorized from the date following completion of such probation or the date on which the vacancy occurs in the corps to which the soldier is being transferred, whichever is the later.

Voluntary Transfer to Other Corps

9.209. Voluntary transfers between corps are divided into the following categories:

a. Transfers at the initiative of the military authorities. These are further subdivided into:

(1) Transfer to technical corps, or

(2) Transfer to corps which depend to some extent on transfer to maintain their strength or which are not open to direct enlistment, or

(3) Transfer in the interest of the Service with the consent of the soldier concerned resulting from a recommendation for transfer.

b. Transfer on personal grounds.

9.210. The administrative procedure for the transfer of a soldier between corps is laid down in AGAI 48, and the competent Service authority to authorize such transfer is the APC.

9.211. Where the applicant has former service on a previous engagement the documents relating to that service are to be forwarded together with the current service documents to the APC.

9.212. An application for transfer will not normally be considered until the soldier has completed Phase 2 Military Training unless the soldier is found to be below the medical entry standard of their present corps or unsuitable for further training in that corps.

9.213. Applications for transfer will not normally be accepted after a soldier, or the unit in which the soldier is serving, has received orders to proceed overseas from the United Kingdom or from one overseas command to another. Nevertheless, a CO may accept such an application if:

a. Satisfied that it has not been submitted with the intention of avoiding overseas service or service in a different command overseas, and

b. Delay in acceptance would result, if the application is approved, in the return of the soldier to attend a course or a period of probation to the United Kingdom or overseas command in which they are already serving.

Applications refused under this paragraph may be resubmitted when the soldier is in their new command provided that acceptance of the application will not necessitate the immediate return of the soldier to the United Kingdom or other command from which they have come.
9.214. An application from a soldier for voluntary transfer is not to be withheld by the CO except where authorized in paras 9.212 – 9.213. In making a recommendation the CO is to satisfy themselves that the applicant possesses the qualifications which they claim and that their PULHEEMS assessment permits their employment in the corps of their choice. A recommendation must give reasonable cause; a statement that the transfer is in the interest of the Service is not sufficient.

9.215. The APC is to refer the soldier’s application for a decision to the Deputy Military Secretary (DMS) in any of the following cases:

a. If they are unwilling to release the soldier but the corps into which the soldier wishes to transfer is willing to accept the soldier.

b. When the application is recommended as a special case by all concerned but the transfer is not permissible under the current rules.

c. When the transfer would result in the movement of a soldier from one overseas command to another or between the United Kingdom and an overseas command, and this movement is not specifically covered under the current rules.

9.216. To be eligible for voluntary transfer to another corps a soldier is required at the time of the transfer to have a period of unexpired Colour service of not less than one year or as laid down for different corps in AGAI 48. A soldier who is not committed to serve for the minimum period required may prolong their service in the normal way as shown in the following paragraphs.

9.217. For soldiers serving on the Open Engagement prolongation of service for this reason is a prescribed benefit and in order to commit themselves for the minimum period the soldier is to take the following action:

a. The soldier is to complete AFB 6848, undertaking not to leave the Colours before the expiration of the required minimum period. The first point at which they will have the right to give notice will be 12 months (see para 9.073b) before the end of the minimum period. If the transfer is not approved and if they wish they may terminate their Colour service at the end of the original period or, if they have passed that date, as soon as it is administratively possible.

9.218. If AFB 6848 is completed to achieve the minimum period of residual service it may be held in abeyance until the application has been approved, and should it not be successful the AFB 6848 may be cancelled.

9.219. A soldier serving on any other regular engagement of less than 22 years may prolong their service by changing to the Versatile Engagement, if eligible to do so, and taking action as in para 9.217. Alternatively, they may apply to extend their service in accordance with current rules. Should they have extended their service in order to achieve the necessary minimum period of residual service and should their transfer not be accepted their extension of Colour service may be cancelled if they so wish.

9.220. The basic qualifications required for transfer are specified in AGAI 48. Details of any special qualifications may be obtained from the APC.

9.221. Soldiers may apply for transfer on personal grounds such as family association with a particular corps or regiment, or previous service therein. If the applicant is eligible to apply for transfer under para 9.220 their application should be submitted on that basis and the personal grounds added as an additional reason for transfer.
Voluntary Transfer on Account of Kinship

9.222. The voluntary transfer of a soldier to serve with a sibling may be permitted provided it is not contrary to the interest of the Service or the interests of either of the soldiers concerned. Nevertheless, since there is always likelihood that the siblings may be separated again through exigencies of the Service, transfers of this nature should not be encouraged.

9.223. Applications for transfer may be made by either an older or a younger sibling.

9.224. Approval for transfer is not to be given if it would result in the sibling concerned moving to a corps where their technical or other qualifications would be wasted. Similarly, transfer is not to be granted if the soldier concerned is not up to the medical standard required for the corps in which the sibling is serving or does not possess the necessary technical or other qualifications, and shows no aptitude for them.

9.225. Applications will not be considered unless both siblings have a minimum period of 12 months' residual Colour service.

9.226. The transfer of a sibling from a unit which is about to proceed overseas, or is deployed in an operational or peacekeeping role, will be regarded as contrary to the interest of the Service, unless there are special circumstances which justify such transfer. Similarly, the immediate assignment of a sibling to a unit which is about to proceed overseas, or to deploy in an operational or peacekeeping role, is not to be permitted unless they has sufficient training, or is technically qualified to take their place in the unit.

9.227. Subject to the provisions in paras 9.222 – 9.226, and provided also that it would not result in the return to the United Kingdom of a soldier who has not completed their overseas tour, a transfer which would result in the movement of siblings between countries in different commands may be considered, but such transfer may be delayed up to six months if the delay would save unnecessary movement.

9.228. Transfer of Fathers or Mothers and Sons or Daughters. Applications from a father or mother and a son or daughter to serve together may be submitted under the same conditions as those from siblings and the provisions of paras 9.222 – 9.227 will apply in all respects, the words ‘father’ or ‘mother’ and ‘son’ or ‘daughter’ being substituted for ‘brother’ or ‘sister’ as appropriate.

Compulsory Transfer to Another Corps

9.229. When it is essential in the interests of the Service to transfer a number of soldiers from one corps to another without their consent, the DM(A) will issue special instructions to the relevant Career Management Branch APC concerned. Compulsory transfer of an individual soldier between corps will not be recommended without prior reference, with full details, to the DM(A). For the purpose of movement, compulsory transfer will be regarded as being at the initiative of the military authorities.

Transfer on Medical Grounds

9.230. A transfer on medical grounds will be regarded as being at the initiative of the military authorities. The procedure for transfer in these cases is given in AGAI 48.
Transfer of Soldiers with or without their Consent who are Unsuitable or Redundant in their Present Employment

9.231. Subject to The Army Terms of Service Regulations 2009, when a soldier is unsuited to their employment or redundant in their corps, they may either be:

a. Assigned within their own corps or to extra regimental employment, or

b. Transferred to another corps (including re-transfer to a corps in which they have previously served) in order to give them suitable alternative employment.

9.232. The various reasons which may make it necessary to change a soldier's employment are:

a. Redundancy resulting from a reduction in establishment.

b. When their Army employment becomes obsolete.

c. A recommendation from a psychiatrist.

d. A lowering of the soldier's medical standard during Basic Military Training, resulting in a PULHHEEMS assessment below the entrance standard of their corps.

e. A lowering of a soldier's medical standard at any time after the completion of Basic Military Training, resulting in a PULHHEEMS assessment below that which is acceptable for retention in their employment.

f. Failure to maintain employment qualifications.

g. In the interest of discipline.

h. In the interest of the Service for any reason not covered by sub-paras a to g above.

9.233. The rules governing the change of employment of a soldier are:

a. Whenever possible they must be given suitable alternative employment within their own unit. A CO may at any time re-employ them, PULHHEEMS assessment, medical standards and other factors permitting.

b. If sub-para a above is not feasible, wherever possible they must be employed in another unit of the same corps and the APC is to assign them for such duties as they may be qualified to perform.

c. If a soldier cannot be employed as in sub-paras a or b, but is suitable for employment in some other corps, they may be transferred with their consent to that corps.

d. If a soldier is unemployable in their own or any other corps, or if their services in the Army are no longer required, action is to be taken in accordance with para 9.414.

e. Transfers in the interest of discipline are not to be initiated as an alternative to disciplinary action.

f. A recommendation for a soldier's change of employment is not to be initiated when disciplinary action is outstanding against them or when they are awaiting a decision on a compassionate or other appeal or when they are undergoing medical treatment or is awaiting a specialist's report which is likely to alter their PULHHEEMS assessment.
g. A soldier is not to be recommended for assignment or transfer if they are holding a rank higher in their present corps than their capabilities warrant. In such case the CO is to take action under paras 9.177 – 9.179 to reduce them to the rank which they are fitted to hold. When they have been reduced in rank the need for assignment or transfer may disappear. Should a recommendation for assignment or transfer follow a reduction in rank, the soldier’s substantive rank is to be taken as the rank to which they have been reduced.

h. A warrant officer or NCO of the AGC(Pro), AGC(SPS), AGC(MPS), RAVC, SASC, INT CORPS, APTC or RLC (Chef CEG), who is within six months of release or termination from the Colours, is not to be transferred except when unemployable in their corps.

9.234. If a warrant officer or NCO cannot be employed under para 9.233a - b, and a transfer to another corps is recommended, the following rules are to apply:

a. Except when they are to be re-transferred to a corps in which they have served previously or holds a rank applicable only to a special employment, they are not normally to be transferred to a corps in which it is impossible to employ them in their substantive rank unless they are willing to revert to a lower rank in which there is a vacancy.

b. If transfer is recommended in their substantive rank but no vacancy exists within the endorsed liability of their new corps they may be held supernumerary until a vacancy is found.

c. After a warrant officer or NCO has been assigned on transfer for suitable re-employment they will be given a probationary period of six months to prove that they are fit to retain their substantive rank.

d. Seniority in any substantive rank will count from the date on which the soldier first secured it.

e. Retention of acting rank held before transfer will be in accordance with paras 9.152 – 9.153.

9.235. The re-employment of soldiers within their own corps will be decided upon between the CO and the APC. Where it is decided that a soldier cannot be re-employed in their own corps or at extra regimental employment the CO is to consult the Personnel Selection Officer (PSO) for the arm or service to ascertain for what employment in any other corps the soldier may be suitable. The PSO is to recommend whether:

a. The soldier should be reallocated to other employment, or

b. They are suitable for voluntary transfer to another corps, if they so wish, or

c. Their service should be terminated.

9.236. When a soldier is recommended by the PSO for transfer to another corps, the following procedure will be adopted:

a. The CO is to inform the soldier that transfer to another corps has been recommended and is to tell them the reasons for the recommendation. The soldier is to be asked whether they consent to such a transfer or wishes to transfer to a corps other than that recommended by the PSO. If the soldier consents to be transferred they are to complete AFB 241 and the subsequent procedure will be as laid down in para 9.233, the recommendation of the PSO being attached to the AFB 241 if not already recorded thereon.
b. If a warrant officer or NCO has not been reduced in substantive rank before the submission to the PSO and reduction is recommended on transfer the CO is to so inform the soldier at the same time as they ask them whether they consent to transfer. If the soldier consents to transfer the question of rank will be dealt with under para 9.201. If they do not consent to transfer, they are to be terminated.

c. If a soldier has completed less than eight weeks service and does not consent to be transferred or cannot be accepted in any corps of their choice, their CO officer will forward AFB 130 recommending termination under para 9.383 to the brigade commander for authorization of termination. If the soldier has completed more than eight weeks but less than nine months service, the soldier’s termination is to be authorized by the CO under the same paragraph.

d. If a soldier has been assigned away from a training unit on completion of training or has completed more than nine months service and is unwilling to transfer or cannot be accepted in any corps of their choice, the case is to be forwarded by the APC with their and the PSO’s recommendations as to future employment, to DM(A) for decision. (See, however, para 9.229.) If the soldier has any objection to compulsory transfer, they should record it in writing and the written objection should be forwarded with their case papers to DM(A).

e. When the PSO recommends that a soldier who has completed nine months service should be terminated, the CO is to inform the soldier of the decision and is to give them an opportunity to submit any objection before submitting the recommendation for termination to the competent service authority for authorization.

f. If a soldier has already been transferred either voluntarily or compulsorily to another corps and it is recommended that they be re-transferred to their original corps the same procedure will be followed as for their transfer to the new corps. Should the soldier on the original transfer have been given a rank to enable them to perform specific duties (eg as a military policeman in the AGC(Pro)), retention of rank on re-transfer to a unit where the soldier will not perform these duties cannot be justified and will not be permitted. In such cases, therefore, the CO is to consider what would be a fair rank in which to re-transfer them to the original corps. In making this assessment allowance should be given to the soldier’s general qualifications for any rank they currently hold but should discount any rank dependent solely upon the soldier’s skill in a trade or employment peculiar to the corps which they are about to leave. Account should also be taken of the rank, if any, which the soldier might have attained had they remained in their original corps. The CO is to request the APC to make this assessment. The APC is to make the assessment based on the soldier's record as shown in their documents and in the light of the ranks attained by their contemporaries in the original corps. Having decided the rank that is justified, but without at this stage initiating any action for reduction of the soldier to that rank, the CO is to proceed with the recommendation for transfer.

Reallocation, Transfer and Termination of Younger Soldiers

9.237. Younger soldiers are defined as those under the age of 17½ years. Procedures affecting all such soldiers are set out in this and the following paragraphs.

a. If a younger soldier fails to attain the required standard in the employment category for which they enlisted, the CO is to inform them and the parents or guardians accordingly. Due consideration is to be given to the wishes of the younger soldier for an alternative employment category.

b. The CO is to tell the younger soldier that they are consulting the latter’s parents or guardians. If the younger soldier agrees to the proposed re-employment they are to sign a certificate to that effect. If they do not consent, the CO is to advise them to discuss the question with their parents or guardians before making a final decision.

c. When writing to the parents or guardians the CO is to explain that it is in the interests of the younger soldier to change their training and that this may necessitate their assignment to another unit or transfer to another corps. The CO is to add that the alternative may be the employment of the soldier on such duties as may be allocated within their corps or termination.

d. The CO is to refer the case to the PSO for reallocation to a more suitable category.

e. On receipt of the PSO’s recommendation, the CO is immediately to arrange the transfer of the younger soldier and to inform the APC and the Defence Business Services (DBS).

9.238. An apprentice who fails to make satisfactory progress in their original trade training is to be dealt with as follows:

a. If under the age of 18 years, they are to be:
   (1) Allocated to another trade, or
   (2) Proceed as in paras 9.237d – e.

The parents or guardians are to be informed accordingly.

b. If over the age of 18:
   (1) They are to be asked if they wish to serve their engagement as a tradesman in another employment or as a non- tradesman in their corps. If they so wish, they are to be reallocated for training in another employment or reallocated to non-technical status and assigned to a recognized assignment on the establishment of an adult unit, or

   (2) They can volunteer to serve as a non- tradesman in another corps in which case action will be taken to effect their transfer in the interests of the Service (see para 9.209).

   (3) If the apprentice does not wish to accept employment as detailed in para 9.238b(1) – (2) but is nevertheless not considered unsuitable as a soldier, they may be assigned to the ranks in their corps to such employment as may be allocated.

If they are considered unsuitable for retention in the Service their CO is to initiate termination action under para 9.411 or 9.414 as appropriate and inform the apprentice's parents in writing accordingly.

c. If an apprentice's training is delayed due to the apprentice college being unable to provide a course in their chosen employment they are to be given the option:

   (1) Of remaining in their chosen employment and accepting the delay, or

   (2) Of reallocation, assignment or transfer in accordance with sub-paras a and b with their written consent, or

   (3) If they is unwilling to consent to (1) or (2), of being terminated.
d. When it has been agreed that an apprentice is unsuitable for training in their original employment and that assignment or transfer to another unit or corps is necessary, the CO is to:

1. Obtain the written consent of the apprentice to the assignment or voluntary transfer.

2. Arrange with the receiving unit where necessary to accept the apprentice for a period of probation of not more than 28 days.

3. Obtain from the CO of the receiving unit within the period of probation a decision whether to accept or reject the apprentice.

4. Arrange the assignment or transfer with the APC (the trainee soldier may remain at the receiving unit pending action).

9.239. A younger soldier will be considered for reallocation as an apprentice only if their age will be under 17½ years on the date that they will be required to join an apprentice’s college. The procedure will be in accordance with para 9.238d. If accepted as an apprentice, the younger soldier will be required to prolong their service by completing AFB 6848 as necessary for the term of service applicable to other apprentices. The parents are to be informed accordingly.

Transfers to Other Services

9.246. A regular soldier will not normally be permitted to transfer to the RN, RM or RAF but, subject to the overriding manning situation at the time, they may apply to join one of these Services either in the ranks or as an officer. Each case will be considered on its merits, particularly if the applicant has strong family associations with that Service.

9.247. Applications to serve in the ranks will be submitted through the APC to the Deputy Military Secretary (DMS) on AFB 241 suitably amended. In no circumstances will an application, either from an individual or from a CO, be referred direct to the Navy or Air Force Departments or to Headquarters Royal Marines. If approved it will be effected by the soldier being entered or enlisted into the other Service. Termination from the Army will then be authorized under para 9.408 from the day immediately preceding such entry or enlistment.

9.248. Applications for appointment to a commission are to be submitted as in para 9.247 clearly annotated ‘CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSION’. Deputy Military Secretary (DMS), APC will process the application as requested by the Service concerned. A soldier accepted for training as an officer in the RN, RM or RAF will remain in Army service during such training. If appointed to a commission, termination from the Army will then be authorized under para 9.407 from the day immediately preceding date of commission. If not appointed to a commission, the soldier is to be returned to their regiment or corps to continue their service on their current engagement.

PART 5 - ASSIGNMENT OF SOLDIERS

General

9.260. Policy. The assignment of soldiers is based on the principle that a soldier must be available for worldwide assignment at any time, this being one of the conditions of service the soldier accepted on enlistment. If circumstances are such that a soldier cannot comply with this condition they will normally be terminated or transferred to the Regular Reserve no matter how good a soldier they may be in other respects.

9.261. Selective Assignment. If it proves necessary to place a selective assignment policy on some appointments or areas the APC will be so informed by DM(A).

9.262. Overseas Service. The rules for tours of overseas service (by which is meant service in any country of the world other than the United Kingdom, the Republic of Ireland, Belgium, France, Germany, the Netherlands and Luxembourg) are laid down in AGAI 60. They are subject to the exigencies of the Service and to operational necessity.

9.263. Home Assignments. A soldier will be eligible for reversion to the home establishment after completing a normal overseas tour (as defined in AGAI 60). Following their return their liability for overseas service in their regiment or corps is to be reassessed with a view to assigning them for a normal tour of at least 18 months in the United Kingdom or NW Europe. During this tour it may be necessary to send them on an emergency tour overseas; if this occurs the soldier should normally spend at least 18 months in the United Kingdom or NW Europe before the next overseas assignment on a normal tour and at least six months, but preferably one year, before the next overseas assignment on an emergency tour. When an overseas tour has not been completed the subsequent assignment of a soldier is to be decided on its merits having regard to their reassessed position.

9.264. Special Privileges. A soldier may apply to spend the last six months of their Colour service in the United Kingdom provided they are serving on an engagement on the completion of which they will have accrued 22 or more years Colour service. This is subject to the soldier being terminated at the end of their engagement or having given notice in the prescribed manner. This concession is not applicable to soldiers leaving the Colours under the provisions of paras 9.399 – 9.401. Soldiers permitted to return to the United Kingdom under this paragraph will not normally then be permitted to prolong, extend or continue in the Service under the provisions of para 9.086. See AGAI 60.

9.265. Temporary retention in the United Kingdom. A soldier whose presence at home in United Kingdom is essential for a period longer than that which may be covered satisfactorily by compassionate leave may apply for temporary retention in the United Kingdom. Details of this privilege are contained in AGAI 48.

Special Provisions Applicable to Married and Civil Partnership Service Personnel

9.266. Reserved.

9.267.

a. Officers and Soldiers of the Regular Army and Army Reserve who are married to each other or are in a civil partnership will, as a general rule, be permitted to serve in the same unit or barracks. However, each case will be considered by the CoC and treated on its merits. Individuals who are married to each other or in a civil partnership will not be permitted to serve together where one party is required to report upon the other or may be required to take disciplinary or administrative action against the other.

b. The assignment of a husband, wife or civil partner to the same unit does not confer on either of them the right to any particular security of tenure within that unit nor to any subsequent assignment to a unit together. In addition, co-ordinated hours of duty cannot be guaranteed.

Permanent Staff of the Army Reserve

9.270. Subject to particular instructions issued by individual corps, the normal conditions of service apply to soldiers selected for duty on the permanent staff of the Army Reserve.

9.271. Soldiers selected by the APC for duty on the permanent staff of the Army Reserve are to be trained and creditable soldiers. They should, if possible, have sufficient residual service to allow them to complete a normal tour, but in any event they must have not less than 12 months still to serve.

9.272. Tours are normally to be for two or three years but may be extended in exceptional circumstances by the APC.

9.273. NCOs selected for appointment as sergeant instructors with the University Officers Training Corps (Army Reserve) should be qualified for promotion to the next higher rank.

9.274. In addition to the regular soldier appointments in the Army Reserve there are a certain number of assignments which are to be filled by ex-regular soldiers. Details of the terms and conditions of service of these assignments are given in the Army Reserve Regulations 1978 (AC 14955).

Assignment of an MLSE Soldier

9.275. An MLSE soldier may be assigned anywhere within their “area of service” which is defined as a circle radius of 30 miles centred on the main entrance of the barracks/establishment at which they were enlisted for service. They may subsequently apply in writing through their CO to the APC to alter their area of service. Such an application must state the area of the United Kingdom to which service is to be restricted if the application is approved. An MLSE soldier may be required to serve outside their area of service in the United Kingdom for no more than 30 days in any calendar year or part of a year in which their term of service has effect.

PART 6 - TERMINATION OF SERVICE

Section 1 - General Instructions

9.290.

a. The stages in the procedure for a regular soldier's transfer to the Regular Reserve or their termination from the Colours are:

(1) Authorization, ie the giving of authority for the transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination to be carried out.

(2) Execution, ie the fixing of the date and effecting of the transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination.

b. JSP 830 Manual of Service Law Annex A lists all Competent Service Authorities including Army at paragraph 2.

c. For the purpose of authorizing transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination, the expressions district/divisional commander, brigade commander and commanding officer will have the same meaning as in the Armed Forces Act 2006 Sections 360 and 361.

d. Termination from the Regular Reserve is to be as laid down by The Reserve Land Forces Regulations, (AC 72030).

e. Individuals are responsible for ensuring that they are fully aware of the financial implications of termination prior to completion of engagement.

Termination of Recruits as a Statutory Right

9.291. All recruits enlisting into the Regular Army for the first time have the right to claim their termination according to the terms of their engagement. This is called Discharge as of Right (DAOR).

9.292. A recruit shall have the right to determine their service by giving not less than 14 days' notice in writing to their CO subject to the following conditions:

a. Right of those under 18 years to determine service: A person who enlists in the regular army will have the right to determine service if before their 18th birthday, they give notice in writing to their CO of their desire to determine their service;

b. If aged under 18 years at attestation. At any time after the end of 28 days and before the end of six months reckoned from the date on which the soldier first reported for full time paid duty following attestation. The soldier does not have to pay anything to exercise this right, but 14 days' notice is required which MUST be given within the six months period. The period of notice may be reduced at the discretion of the CO.

c. If aged 18 years or over at attestation. At any time after the end of 28 days and before the end of three months reckoned from the date on which the soldier first reported for full time paid duty following attestation. The soldier does not have to pay anything to exercise this right, but 14 days' notice is required which MUST be given within the three months period. The period of notice may be reduced at the discretion of the CO.

d. A recruit attending a Pre-Conditioning Course (PCC) shall have the right to determine their service at any point during the course by giving two days' notice, and if over 18 years their DAOR commences at the start of their Phase 1 training under the terms of sub para c above.

9.297. A recruit who enlists when under the age of 18 years but who does not join for duty until they have passed that age is to be accorded the right referred to in para 9.292b.

9.298. Any person re-enlisting after having been terminated under para 9.380, not finally approved for service, or under para 9.414, released from Army service, having attended the Regular Commissions Board, shall on re-enlistment be deemed to be a recruit for the purposes of para 9.292.

9.299. All recruits claiming their termination as a statutory right are to be terminated under the provisions of para 9.391 and they have no liability for recall under the provisions of the Regulations and The Reserve Land Forces Regulations 2016, Part 2 (AC 72030).

9.300. If any such claim as described in paras 9.291 – 9.292 is made at a time when an order has been made under Section 8 of The Armed Forces (Discharge and Transfer to the Reserve forces)(No 2) Regulations 2009 that soldiers are to continue in Army service, termination is not to be authorized so long as that order is effective.

Termination as a Statutory Right

9.301. A warrant officer reduced in rank by sentence of the Court Martial may, subject to The Armed Forces (Discharge and Transfer to the Reserve forces)(No 2) Regulations 2009, claim their termination, in accordance with para 9.392.

Termination of Service by Statutory Right

9.302. After the expiration of the period during which a soldier has the statutory right to claim termination, a soldier does not have the right to be transferred to the Regular Reserve or be terminated before the completion of the period of Colour service for which they are committed, except that a soldier serving on a 22-year engagement may terminate their Colour service by giving notice as prescribed. The notice to be given and the action to be taken will vary according to the type of engagement on which the soldier is serving, as described in the following paragraphs.

9.303. A soldier serving on the Open or Versatile Engagements who wishes to terminate their Colour service before the completion of 22 years may, at any time after 12 months (see para 9.073) preceding the date to which they are committed to serve, under the provisions of para 9.073, 9.074 or 9.086 give 12 months’ notice (*see para 9.073), using the JPA process, to their CO of their intention to do so. The application may be antedated or post-dated by up to 14 days, to allow for operations, exercises or leave, at the discretion of the CO provided the subsequent date of termination is not before that required for the minimum period of service.

9.304. Subject to any manning restrictions in force at the time, the recommendation of the CO and the approval of the APC, a soldier may withdraw their notice to terminate their Colour service before the notice period is due to end.

9.305. Except when specially recommended in the interests of the Service, withdrawal will not be approved if, as result of the soldier having given notice to terminate their Colour service, they are sent home from abroad for transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination or has been retained at a home station or sent home for having insufficient unexpired Colour service to proceed or remain abroad.
9.306. If a soldier withdraws their notice and their application has been approved by the APC given in para 9.304, any subsequent notice period is to be the full 12* months (*See para 9.073b).

9.307. Subject to the soldier not having been granted continuance, under the terms of para 9.098 a soldier serving on the Open Engagement or Versatile Engagement is to be terminated on completion of 22 years or 12/24 years, reckoned from the relevant date, without notice being given.

9.313. A soldier serving on any engagement of 12 years or less is to be terminated or transferred to the Regular Reserve, as the case may be, on the date that their Colour service is due to end, without any application.

9.314. A soldier permitted to continue in the Service for any of the reasons listed in para 9.099 may, unless they have waived their right, claim their termination at the expiration of six months’ notice given in writing to their CO under the provisions of The Army Terms of Service Regulations 2009. The notice period may be reduced at the discretion of the CO.

General Instructions Concerning Termination

9.315. Termination or transfer to the Regular Reserve of a soldier serving in the United Kingdom is normally to be carried out by the time that their Colour service is due to end.

9.316. A soldier serving overseas when due to be transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated may, if they so request, be permitted by the GOC of the command in which they are serving to remain overseas when so terminated or transferred. In such cases the following procedure will be observed before permission is granted:

   a. When the soldier wishes to remain overseas in the command in which they are serving, the approval of the local civil authorities must be obtained.

   b. If the soldier is married and their spouse/civil partner is resident in a country other than that in which they are serving, they are to be interviewed and asked to certify that they have made the necessary provision for their family. The certificate should be included with the application for local termination which is to be submitted to command headquarters. If there is reason to believe that the soldier may be intending to evade their marital/partnership responsibilities the following action is to be initiated. The APSG Pers Svcs is to be notified of the full particulars of the case including the name and address of their spouse/partner. APSG Pers Svcs will then advise whether or not local termination is approved. Action to effect local termination is to be withheld until this notification is received.

   c. If the soldier wishes to reside in any other country where there are regular British troops, the GOC under whom they are serving will communicate with the GOC of the command in which the soldier wishes to reside, to ascertain whether the local civil authorities have any objection and to ensure compliance with all local conditions as to residence.

   d. In cases other than those referred to at a and c, the authority abroad carrying out the transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination will, before doing so, ensure that the soldier has ascertained that the immigration laws of the country to which they wish to proceed do not preclude their immediate admission to that country.

9.317. When a soldier has been given permission to remain overseas on transfer to the Regular Reserve, the CO will notify the relevant Career Management Branch APC of such permission and will forward a declaration signed by the soldier that they understand that they will be subject to the appropriate provisions of The Reserve Land Forces Regulations, Part 2 (AC 72030)..
9.318. A soldier who is to be transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated will be so transferred or terminated in accordance with the instructions contained in para 9.290.

9.319. A soldier becoming entitled to transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination while serving overseas who is not permitted to remain overseas, will be brought home within the limits of the terms of their service, or if an order has been made under Section 52, 54 or 56 of the Reserve Forces Act 1996, within the time specified in that order, and their transfer or termination will be carried out thereafter with all convenient speed; but a soldier whose military conduct is assessed at not less than Satisfactory and who, on arrival in the United Kingdom, has less than six months unexpired Colour service to complete, may be permitted to delay their transfer to the Regular Reserve, or termination, to a date not later than six months from the date of their disembarkation, provided that they have no civil employment waiting or that they have not applied or been recommended for a resettlement course.

9.320. A soldier brought home from overseas for the purpose of undergoing a resettlement course and who is due for termination or transfer to the Regular Reserve before they can complete the course, may be permitted to delay their termination or transfer to the Regular Reserve for the period necessary to complete their resettlement course, for a maximum period of 28 days.

9.321. When a soldier is granted terminal leave before transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination and is not required to return to their unit after such leave, then unit documentation is to be completed before the soldier proceeds on such leave.

9.322. When a soldier who is due to terminate their service is detached from their unit for whatever reason and it is not practicable to recall the soldier to their unit; their CO is responsible for ensuring that unit documentation is completed before the date on which the soldier becomes due for such transfer or termination.

9.323. An apprentice detached from their unit who is to be terminated is to be returned to their unit for termination unless there is a medical reason which makes this undesirable. Where it is intended to terminate an apprentice for medical reasons or when it is considered likely that such action will have to be taken in the future, the officer commanding the hospital is to inform the CO of the apprentice’s parent unit of the matter. Medical officers are not to discuss the question of medical termination with an apprentice unless absolutely necessary. If this is so, the medical officer is to report the fact to the unit commander, preferably by telephone, as soon after the discussion as practicable.

9.324. When a soldier is a patient in hospital and is to be brought before a medical board for the purpose of being invalided, the soldier’s CO is to forward the soldier’s documents, completed as far as possible, to the officer commanding the hospital before the medical board assembles.

9.325. In the case of a soldier whose joining for duty after enlistment was deferred by the granting of a period of unpaid leave before joining, the soldier is to be given the opportunity of deferring their termination (or transfer to the Regular Reserve) by a period equivalent to the period of unpaid leave, if by such action the soldier can qualify for a pension or resettlement grant. Such deferment, if desired, will be authorized by the CO and AFB 6848 completed accordingly.

9.326. The competent Service authorities to authorize transfer to the Regular Reserve (where applicable) or termination are shown in paras 9.373 – 9.414. JSP 830 Manual of Service Law Annex A lists all Competent Service Authorities including Army at paragraph 2.

9.327. The Director of Manning (Army) (DM(A)) is competent to authorize transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination under any of the relevant paras 9.373 – 9.414 and may exceptionally do so even if the terms applicable to any particular paragraph concerned have not been fully complied with. DM(A) is also competent to authorize the cancellation or correction of a transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination under any of the relevant paras 9.373 – 9.414 and to authorize the reinstatement into service of any soldier.

9.328. Except in the case of those paragraphs where special provision is made, the competent authority to carry out transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is the CO if the soldier is on the strength of a unit or establishment, but where the soldier is not on the strength of a unit or establishment the APC will be deemed to be their CO.

9.329. In those cases where terminal and/or invaliding leave is inadmissible and the soldier is on the strength of a unit or establishment the CO, before fixing the date of transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination, is to consult the relevant Career Management Branch APC regarding the date to be fixed.

9.330. The date on which transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is to be effected is to be, in the case of:

   a. Termination of Colour service - the day on which the soldier leaves the unit, or if terminal and/or invaliding leave is admissible, the day on which such leave ends.

      (1) When the soldier is to undergo a sentence of imprisonment in a civilian institution, the date on which the soldier is committed to and accepted into the charge of the civil custodial authorities. (See paras 9.332, 9.360 and 9.446.)

      (2) When the soldier is not under a sentence of imprisonment or detention, the effective date will be the date on which the termination is carried out by the CO in the United Kingdom following authorization by the competent Service authority.

   c. Premature termination under paragraphs other than those mentioned in sub-para b - the day on which the soldier leaves the unit or, when proportionate privilege, terminal and/or invaliding leave is admissible, the day on which such leave ends.

   d. Transfer to the Regular Reserve - the day following that on which the soldier leaves the unit, or if proportionate privilege and/or terminal leave is admissible, the day following that on which such leave ends.

9.331. A soldier transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated whilst undergoing a sentence of imprisonment or detention in a civil prison, the Military Corrective Training Centre, or other place of detention or youth custody is to complete the balance of their sentence in that establishment after their transfer or termination has been carried out. Such termination from the Army is to be carried out as soon as possible after it has been authorized and is to be effected during the soldier's sentence, under arrangements to be made between the relevant Career Management Branch APC and the governor or commandant of the establishment in which the soldier is under sentence (see paras 9.332 and 9.404).

9.332. In the case of a soldier under sentence of detention in the Military Corrective Training Centre whose termination from the Army has been authorized, the effective date is to be that on which the soldier would be due for release on completion of sentence, allowance being made for maximum remission. This date is to be notified as soon as possible by the commandant to the relevant Career Management Branch APC (see para 9.331 regarding completion of sentence in cases where loss of remission entails the soldier under sentence being required to complete a longer sentence than that originally notified despite having been terminated from the Army).

9.333. The fact that a soldier is serving a sentence of imprisonment or detention in the United Kingdom is not to be accepted as a reason for delaying their transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination on the due date in accordance with the terms of their engagement (para 9.331 is to apply regarding completion of sentence and para 9.404 regarding soldiers sentenced whilst serving abroad).

9.334. The grant of terminal leave and or resettlement is governed by the following circumstances:

a. A soldier serving a sentence or is absent without leave who is unable to take terminal leave and/or resettlement for which they would normally be eligible is to forfeit such leave and resettlement.

b. A soldier terminated from the Army on medical grounds whilst serving a sentence is not eligible for terminal or invaliding leave and resettlement.

c. A soldier serving a sentence of imprisonment in a civilian prison or detention in the Military Corrective Training Centre who is terminated from the Army on account of admission to a hospital for mental health issues during the period of their sentence is not to be granted invaliding or terminal leave or resettlement.

9.335. A soldier unfit to travel to their home in consequence of illness when transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated may receive treatment in hospital in accordance with the provisions of the PULHHEEMS Administrative Pamphlet (AC 13371).

9.336. When a soldier is retained in a hospital or prison after their transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is completed, the address of the hospital or prison in which they are so retained is to be notified to the relevant Career Management Branch APC.

9.337. Transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is not to be delayed because documents are missing or incomplete.

9.338. If a soldier has a claim against the public and wishes it settled before their transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is carried out, every endeavour is to be made to settle it. Their transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is not, however, to be delayed beyond the date on which it is due if settlement is not possible by that date. Full details of the claim are to be recorded in order that settlement may be effected by the relevant Career Management Branch APC after the transfer to the Reserve or termination has been effected.

9.339. Special action is to be taken in accordance with para 9.340 when a soldier of one of the following categories is to be terminated:

a. Soldiers enlisted from community homes and still under the age of 19 years.

b. Soldiers under the age of 18 years.

c. All apprentices while still undergoing training as such after attaining the age of 18 years.

d. Soldiers under the age of 18 years who have made a false statement as to age, ie given their age on enlistment as being over 18 years.

9.340. Should a soldier be within the category given in para 9.339a, a report in accordance with para 1 of Annex D to this Chapter is to be rendered as early as possible by the CO of the unit concerned to the manager of the community home from which the soldier enlisted. If the cause of termination is under paras 9.396, 9.397, 9.403, 9.404 or 9.405, the report is, in addition, to be sent to the Department of Education, Piccadilly Gate, Store Street, Manchester M1 2WD. The soldier’s termination is not to be carried out until the addressees have been given the opportunity of notifying their wishes regarding the destination of the soldier. The carrying out of the termination must not, however, be delayed for more than seven days from the date of despatch of the report to the authority or authorities concerned. Should a soldier come within a category given in para 9.339b, c or d, the parent or legal guardians as verified by the CO of the unit with the APC is to be informed by letter (see para 2 of Annex D to this Chapter) of the circumstances and is to be requested to give instructions, as quickly as possible, regarding the destination of the soldier. The soldier is not to be despatched from the unit until such instructions are received. Every effort is to be made to obtain the necessary instructions as quickly as possible. The period of seven days may, if required, be extended on DM(A) authority if it is necessary to refer the case to the parents or guardians abroad or where there are other special circumstances.

9.341. If a soldier has claimed termination as a statutory right in accordance with paras 9.292 – 9.294, termination is to be arranged as expeditiously as practicable. Should it be necessary to retain the soldier for any reason beyond their due date, they should not be retained without the authority of DM(A).

9.342. Before a soldier proceeds on terminal leave they are to be medically examined, except when their service is to be terminated on medical grounds. If no change in medical assessment is indicated, F Med 1 and F Med 2 will be completed and disposed of in accordance with current instructions. Where reassessment is indicated, medical board action is to be taken in accordance with current instructions before the completion of F Med 1 and F Med 2.

9.343. Where service is to be terminated on medical grounds under para 9.385 a medical board is to be held and F Med 19, F Med 23 and AFB 204 are to be completed and disposed of in accordance with current instructions.

9.344. Where service is to be terminated on medical grounds under paras 9.386 and 9.387, a full medical board is to be held and F Med 19 and F Med 23 are to be completed and disposed of in accordance with current instructions.

9.345. Before a serving soldier is enrolled into Section D or transferred to Section A of the Regular Reserve their medical assessment as recorded on F Med 1 is to be verified as being within the current medical standards for the appropriate section.

9.346. If a soldier is below the required medical standard for transfer and retention in the Regular Reserve, they are to be terminated in accordance with Regulations and The Reserve Land Forces Regulations, Part 2 (AC 72030) on the same day.

9.347. If the soldier has a medical assessment below that required for transfer to and retention in the Regular Reserve, but is likely to be within the higher medical assessment within six months (as denoted by the letter 'R' in the medical assessment), they are to be designated to Section A of the Army Reserve. The APC is to arrange for a medical examination at the end of the six months. If the soldier is not then within the retention standard for the Regular Reserve they are to be terminated under The Reserve Land Forces Regulations, Part 2 (AC 72030).

9.348. The Service Personnel Veterans’ Agency (SPVA) – War Pensions - will decide whether a soldier who claims to be, or is found to be, suffering from a disability incurred during service after 2 September 1939 shall receive a disability award. SPVA (War Pensions) will make the decision when the disability was incurred during service before 3 September 1939.

9.349. The medical documents of a soldier terminated from the Service for medical reasons (see paras 9.381d, 9.382f, 9.385, 9.386 and 9.397) are in all cases to be forwarded to the Defence Business Services (DBS) to enable consideration to be given to any entitlement to a disability award.
9.350. If a soldier on transfer to the Regular Reserve, or on termination, claims to be or is found to be suffering from a disability incurred during their service, their medical documents are to be forwarded to the DBS for consideration.

9.351. The medical documents of a regular reservist who claims a pension in respect of disablement on termination from the Regular Reserve are to be forwarded to DBS, who will forward the documents, with their decision as to pension, to the APC.

9.352. When a soldier's transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is carried out their uniform is to be disposed of in accordance with the Defence Supply Chain Manual (JSP 336), Volume 12, Part 3, Pamphlet 2.

9.353. Terminal leave pending transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination may be granted under the provisions of the JSP 760 Tri-Service Regulations for Leave and Other Types of Absences.

9.354. Before a soldier leaves their unit, arrangements are to be made for the issue of pay and allowances in the manner prescribed in the JSP 754 Tri-Service Regulations for Pay and Allowances. A soldier is to be informed that any balance due to them will be paid to them by DBS.

9.355. When a soldier leaves the Colours on transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination they are to be given the documents listed in the Unit Administration Manual (UAM) Chapter 5. In the case of transfer to the Regular Reserve, the soldier is required to sign a certificate acknowledging their reserve liability. A soldier cannot be discharged or transferred to the reserve when they are AWOL. A soldier who returns from AWOL after their due date of termination should be discharged as soon as is practicable after the necessary administrative actions have been carried out.

9.356. When a soldier is transferring to or enlisting in the Regular Reserve, they are to be informed that they are to read the section of the Service Leavers Guide regarding “Your Reserve Liability, Responsibilities and Opportunities”.

9.357. A testimonial (AFB 108X) is to be initiated by the unit and completed in accordance with the detailed instructions given in Section 6 of this Part. A copy of the soldier’s AFB 108X is to be forwarded to reach the relevant Career Management Branch APC.

9.358. The soldier is to be issued with the original AFB 108X not less than seven days before they leave the unit (see paras 9.438 and 9.447 regarding issue of a temporary certificate (AFB 108C) by the unit before the soldier’s departure).

9.359. When a soldier is transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated while they are a patient in hospital and is retained in hospital after transfer or termination, the certificate is to be forwarded to the hospital to be handed to the soldier.

9.360. When a soldier is transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated while undergoing a sentence of imprisonment or detention, the certificate is to be forwarded to the governor of the prison, or commandant of the corrective establishment, to be handed to the soldier on their release from imprisonment or detention (see para 9.446).

Effective Date of the Transfer to the Regular Reserve, or Termination

9.361. Immediately before a soldier leaves their unit on transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination, they are to be interviewed by the CO or an officer authorized by the CO and informed of the date with effect from which they are being transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated. They are also to be presented with their AFB 108X and AFB 108C. Where the interview has to take place early, the AFB 108X and AFB 108C should be withdrawn after presentation and then finally given to the soldier as late on the day of departure from the unit as possible. If at any stage after the soldier has received their AFB 108X and AFB 108C it is found that their termination/transfer to the Regular Reserve is not to be finally authorized then the AFB 108X and AFB 108C is to be withdrawn.

(2) If they have been convicted by a civil court, court martial, or at summary hearing for any other offence or for persistent misconduct, which in all the circumstances so adversely impacts on their character and/or integrity as to be incompatible with service life. This would include, but is not limited to, any sentence of imprisonment or period of detention which is such that the person is no longer employable.

d. If a CO is of the opinion, despite a conviction listed in c(1) and c(2) above, that exceptional circumstances do exist and that termination of service is not merited, AGAI 67 action is still to be taken and a lesser sanction considered. Before awarding another sanction the CO should take legal advice and obtain the agreement of their Higher Authority.

e. Note: - Any person subject to service law, being a commissioned officer, who commits any offence mentioned in b(1) or receives a sentence such as those mentioned in b(2) above should normally have their service terminated. Officers have their services terminated following the procedures laid down in AGAI 67.

   (2) Where any soldier subject to Service law has been acquitted by a court of an offence, their CO maintains that on the balance of probabilities, the soldier’s misconduct (acquittal notwithstanding) constitutes behaviour of a nature sufficiently serious to merit termination of Service.

   (3) Where any soldier subject to Service law embarked on any course of conduct which breached the Service Test\(^1\) such that the CO believes that their conduct was sufficiently serious to merit termination of Service.

   (4) Where any soldier subject to Service law is considered to be either unsuitable or inefficient and the CO believes that their inefficiency is sufficiently serious to merit termination of Service. (3) Such lack of application that it is doubtful if they will become efficient, regardless of training and encouragement.

d. The application for termination is to be made on AFB 130A on which full particulars of the case are to be recorded and to which the Personal Discipline Record is to be attached.

e. Details of special action to be taken in respect of a soldier terminated under this paragraph are given in paras 9.339 – 9.340.

a. The competent Service authority to authorize termination is the CO.

b. The Army Terms of Service Regulations 2007 govern this authority.

9.413. Not Required for a Full Army Career.

a. The competent Service authority to authorize termination is the Military Secretary - Director General Army Personnel Centre.

b. The Army Terms of Service Regulations 2007 govern this authority.

c. This paragraph applies only to a soldier who enlisted on or changed to the Open or Versatile Engagement and whose service is to be completely terminated having completed 3, 6, 9, 12 or 15 years' reckonable service towards their engagement. A soldier who is to be terminated at the 12 year manning control point is to be allowed to make up for any non-reckonable service in order to qualify for a resettlement grant. This privilege does not apply to a soldier who is undergoing a sentence of detention or imprisonment awarded by a Court Martial on the date they are due to be transferred to the Army Reserve or terminated, see para 9.331.
d. The fact that a soldier has committed themselves beyond their initial period of three years on the Open Engagement and for 4 years on the Versatile engagement does not debar their termination under this paragraph.

e. A soldier seeking to prolong their service in consideration of receiving a benefit or advantage is to be told at the time that they complete an AFB 6848/JPA workflow that consideration is being given to their termination under this paragraph and that the application will most likely not be authorized. A soldier who has not waived the right and whose termination at one of these manning control points is contemplated should be interviewed at the second, fifth, or eighth year of their Army service and be informed of that decision.

f. At the end of the eleventh year of their Army service, a soldier's suitability for a full 22 year Army career is to be considered. Where it is anticipated that a soldier will not be employable for the full career then they should be interviewed and informed that they will be terminated at the end of their twelfth year.

g. Every effort is to be made to ensure that a soldier who is to be terminated under this paragraph is warned a minimum of 12 months before the end of 3, 6, 9, 12 or 15 years' service reckoned from the reckonable service date. There may be occasions when the warning is given late. Termination may still take place under this paragraph providing that the warning is given no later than 21 days after the 12 months point. In such cases the soldier must still receive the full 12 months' warning and will thus be terminated up to 21 days after the 3, 6, 9, 12 or 15 year point.

h. Application for termination is to be made on AFB 130A. Unit Admins are to raise the termination through JPA Workflow.

9.414. Services No Longer Required.

(Note: This paragraph is to be used as authority for the termination of a soldier who cannot or should not be transferred to the Regular Reserve, or terminated, under any other paragraph.)

a. The competent Service authority to authorize termination is the Director of Manning (Army) (DM(A)) or, in the case of:

   (1) An officer cadet undergoing training at the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst: the Chief of Staff acting in their capacity as CO.

   (2) A soldier who was enlisted for local service overseas: the brigade or garrison commander.

b. The Army Terms of Service Regulations 2007 govern this authority.

c. Although termination under this paragraph may not carry any stigma, a CO is to remember that its application may cause a soldier to be terminated without being given the opportunity to defend themselves against any implied reflection on their character, conduct, or standing in the Service. Potential civilian employers tend to regard soldiers terminated under this paragraph with some reservation. For that reason:

   (1) Where no fault is attributable to the soldier the cause for termination is to be recorded as 'Released from Army service'. In other appropriate circumstances the phrase 'Services no longer required' may be amplified, where this will benefit the soldier concerned, provided the words used in amplification are not the same words used to describe any other cause of termination.
The application for termination on AFB 130A should include an explicit recommendation as to which of these causes of termination is to be recorded on the soldier’s documents. Final decision as to the cause of termination, however, will be taken by DM(A) having regard to parity of treatment and uniformity of practice throughout the Army as a whole.

If the soldier has not previously been subject to any Formal Warning or a Formal Warning in respect of a similar matter to that for which the application for termination is being sought (see para 9.414e), they should be allowed to make representation against the application if they so desire. Should a soldier choose not to represent against the application, they are to signify this at Part 3 of the AFB 130A.

d. Examples of termination under this paragraph are shown below.

1. An apprentice or a soldier aged 17½ years or over, who is unsatisfactory due to circumstances within their control or to indiscipline.

2. An apprentice still at an apprentice’s college over the age of 17½ years who is guilty of misconduct and who has been sentenced as listed in para 9.404d or e.

3. A soldier under the age of 18 whose Discharge as of Right (DAOR) option point has passed and who shows genuine or persistent unhappiness or discontent indicating that they are clearly unhappy about their choice of an Army career may be terminated under this paragraph. If a CO has any doubt as to the extent of permanence of the soldier’s unhappiness and wishes to delay a decision until after the soldier’s 18th birthday, they may make notification to DM(A) for the registration of the soldier as an unhappy under 18-year-old. Application for termination may then be made at any time up to the age of 18 years and three months. Termination will not be approved under this sub-paragraph if the soldier’s unhappiness is detected or noted after their 18th birthday. This measure is a safety net for those soldiers who do not fall into the compassionate/temperamentally unsuited category. Termination under this paragraph is to be recorded as ‘Released from Army Service’.

4. An officer cadet who fails to complete training at the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst for reasons certified by the Commandant as being no fault of their own and who elects termination (see also Annex F to this Chapter). In these circumstances, the officer cadet is required to sign a certificate applying for free termination under this paragraph.

5. A soldier who involves themselves in sexual aberration including conduct which might reasonably corrupt, cause offence or bring the Service into disrepute (see also para 5.085).

6. Subject to certain conditions laid down in Defence Council Instructions or Ministry of Defence (Army) letters, where disciplinary action is not appropriate, a soldier who has been involved with drugs, including alcohol. For example, a soldier who, when required to provide a specimen of urine under the Army Compulsory Drug Testing Programme:

   (a) Tests positive, or

   (b) Refuses to provide a specimen.

   (See also paras 5.089 – 5.098 and AGAI 64).
(7) A soldier who is unable to accept unrestricted military duties owing to their personal and domestic affairs and who:

(a) Has not been notified in accordance with para 9.413.

(b) Is unwilling to apply for premature voluntary release in accordance with para 9.415, and whose application under para 9.402 has been refused.

(8) A soldier who has been deemed temperamentally unsuitable for any form of Army service after consideration of their case by their CO following a consultation with a Service consultant psychiatrist. Temperament is a characteristic combination of physical, mental and moral qualities which constitute a soldier's character and affect the manner of their acting, feeling and thinking. Temperamental unsuitability applies when a soldier's character/personality is inappropriate for the military environment. Suitability is assessed by consideration of the soldier's maturity, past conduct and performance together with future career prospects. It is the CO's decision on whether or not to apply to terminate but consideration must be given to the opinion of a Service consultant psychiatrist and other appropriate stakeholders (eg Adjutant, Regimental Career Management Officer, Company Commander, Chaplain and Regimental Medical Officer) in a formal review process. Termination will not be authorized by DM(A) without this review.

e. Before termination action under sub-para d(7) is initiated, the soldier is to be interviewed by their CO and warned that if within a reasonable time (not normally more than 6 months) their personal problems have not been resolved then their termination may be applied for. The soldier should then sign a certificate to the effect that they have been given the warning and understands it. This certificate is to be retained with their Service documents and attached to AFB 130A should their termination subsequently be requested. When warning a soldier, a CO is to consider submitting a report in accordance with the JSP 440 Defence Manual of Security.

f. The application for any termination under this paragraph is to be made on AFB 130A. The case is to be submitted with valid and explicit reasons for termination to the DM(A). The case is to be forwarded through the immediate superior headquarters with copies going to the next higher headquarters when this has been so directed. Where a case to an immediate headquarters is not supported it should be sent to the next higher headquarters for further comment before being forwarded to DM(A). In all cases where any representation has been made by the soldier under the terms of para 9.414c(3), it is either to be included at Part 3 of the AFB 130A or to be attached to it.

g. As soon as possible after termination has been authorized the soldier's service must be terminated. They are not normally to be retained in the Army in order that they may repay public or private debts.

h. A soldier terminated under this paragraph after acceptance by the Regular Commissions Board retains their statutory right to termination under para 9.391 when they subsequently re-enlists at the Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst, for training.

i. Should retaining in service be required by SPA(UK), subsequent to authority for discharge being issued, for disciplinary reasons or investigation APSG Conduct Branch is to obtain authority from DM(A).

j. For long term absentees, absent for longer than 365 days, there is a presumption that Administrative Discharge will follow any disciplinary action. Representations seeking retention will be considered by DM(A).
k. Unit Admins are to raise the termination through JPA Workflow.
Section 4 - Premature Voluntary Release and Termination of Service Free on Compassionate Grounds

Premature Voluntary Release on Payment

a. After the period during which a soldier may claim their termination as a recruit has expired, they may terminate their Colour service before it is due to end by applying for premature voluntary release on payment. No soldier has a legal right to end their service in this way as it is a privilege which may be withheld or deferred at any time by the Defence Council as distinct from the normal restrictions that are imposed by para 9.416. A soldier enlisted on the Open Engagement or Versatile Engagement may not apply for premature voluntary release on repayment. A soldier serving on a Type S Engagement is eligible to apply for premature voluntary release on repayment.

b. The decision as to whether the soldier is to be transferred to Regular Reserve or terminated is to be made by the competent Service authority when authorizing the termination of Colour service on the merits of the case. After transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination has been carried out, the case papers, including the soldier's application, are to be sent to the APC so that they may judge in which section of the Regular Reserve the soldier is to serve or if they are to be retained as a member of the Long Term Reserve or to be made permanently non effective. Soldiers enlisted for home commitment have no reserve liability.

c. Soldiers are not normally to be given permission to prematurely terminate their Service whilst being considered for disciplinary or administrative action, that is:

   (1) After a charge has been brought for Summary Hearing.

   (2) After the CO has referred a case to the Director of Service Prosecutions (DSP) in which the soldier is named as a suspect.

   (3) After the soldier has been told by an originating officer that Major Administrative Action is to be taken against them.

   (4) After the CO has told the soldier that they have returned a positive CDT test.

d. Should the CO believe that it is in the Service interest that the soldier should be given permission to prematurely terminate their Service, despite the circumstances above, they should seek the authority of APSG Conduct Branch. A soldier is not to have their Service extended beyond their normal date of discharge because they are subject to disciplinary or administrative action. When a soldier has already been given permission to prematurely terminate Service, and a date for discharge has been given, then they should not be extended beyond that date because they are subject to disciplinary or administrative action.

9.416. Restrictions. Premature voluntary release on payment is not to be authorized without prior permission of the DM(A) for a soldier in any of the restricted categories listed in sub-paras a to g below. The case is not to be forwarded to the next higher authority unless it is fully supported.

a. Initial service restrictions. The period during which soldiers may not be allowed premature release by purchase is to be as follows (service forfeited under the provisions of the Army Act 1955, section 17 and/or The Armed Forces (Forfeiture of Service) (No 2) Regulations 2009/1090 may not count towards either of the three year periods quoted below):
(1) Apprentices - during training and within three years after the end of training.

(2) Soldiers enlisted for training as nurses or dental technicians, four years over the age of 18 or from the date of enlistment whichever is the later.

(3) Except for the Open or Versatile Engagements, which do not qualify for PVR, three years from the date of enlistment on a current engagement or 18th birthday, whichever is later.

b. Soldiers who apply after having been warned for service overseas, or an emergency tour.

(1) The warning for overseas service, or an emergency tour, is to be effective from a date six months before the move except where less than six months’ notice has been given by the higher authority concerned.

(2) The restrictions may be waived at the discretion of the CO. If the restriction is to apply, a unit order is to be published on the nearest working day to a date six months before the first day of the month in which the move is to take place in order that soldiers moving with their units are aware of the restriction.

(3) In the case of individual assignments the restriction is to be imposed six months before the effective date or on the date of issue of the assignment order when less than six months’ notice is given. The assignment should state the date on which the restriction is effective. For this purpose, service in Germany, Holland, Belgium or Luxembourg is deemed to be home commitment, and emergency tours to be those listed in the Emergency Tours Plot. It is not necessary for those affected to have signed a draft warning order.

c. Soldiers serving overseas with less than one year of their current tour completed and those serving whilst on an emergency tour. For this purpose the definition of home commitment in sub-para b(3) applies.

d. Soldiers who have waived their right by completing AFB 6848/JPA workflow to terminate their service for a fixed period for attendance on a course of instruction, trade or specialist training, an attachment on loan or for the reimbursement of legal expenses incurred in connection with the sale or purchase of a residential property, (see para 9.086).

e. Soldiers who are restricted due to being transferred to another corps; see AGAI 48 for specific periods of restriction.

f. Soldiers who have been selected to attend a course listed in JSP 750 –Centrally Determined Terms of Service Part 1 Directive – Chapter 2.

g. Officer cadets, except that a cadet who fails to complete the course for reasons which are not certified by the Commandant of the Royal Military Academy Sandhurst as being through no fault of their own is to be given the option of applying for termination on payment, an option which must be exercised within 10 days of the commandant’s decision. Failing that, they are to continue to serve. Detailed instructions regarding the procedure for termination on payment of officer cadets are given in Army Commissioning Regulations (AC 13452).

9.417.  Reserved.
9.418. Deferments. A soldier who is not in any of the restricted categories mentioned in para 9.416 is not normally to be refused the privilege of premature voluntary release, but the brigade or equivalent commander may refuse it if the soldier is considered vital to the efficiency of the unit. In such cases, except in compassionate circumstances as defined in paras 9.423 – 9.424 the brigade or equivalent commander may give authority to delay the termination or transfer to the Regular Reserve for a period not exceeding six months from the date of the soldier's original application to enable a trained replacement to be provided. If, after the initial six months deferment, the soldier's retention with the Colours is still considered essential the case is to be referred to the divisional or equivalent commander, who may, in the absence of compassionate or hardship factors, defer the termination or the transfer to the Regular Reserve for further periods subject to review at intervals of not more than six months. Deferment for a period in excess of one year from the date of the soldier's initial application is to be exercised only in exceptional cases and is to be reported to the DM(A) by the divisional or district headquarters.

9.419. Soldiers in Debt and occupying Service Families’ Accommodation. A soldier is not to be permitted to terminate their Colour service by premature voluntary release if their pay account is in debt to the public and release is to be deferred until all outstanding charges have been met. The soldier's release is not to be finalized until they have vacated any SFA they may be occupying.

9.420. Payments. The purchase costs to be paid by a soldier who wishes to terminate their service by premature voluntary release on payment are laid down in the Promotions and Appointments Warrant 2009, Article 285. Where a soldier serving on a regular engagement has previous reckonable service, their service for the purpose of assessing purchase costs is to reckon from the date of enlistment on the engagement on which they were serving when they undertook their present engagement, providing there was no break in Colour service between the two engagements except those specified in para 9.401. In addition to this payment a soldier is normally required in the following cases:

   a. To refund any un-cleared debit balance in accordance with the JSP 754 Tri-Service Regulations for Pay.

   b. If serving abroad and except as stipulated in para 9.426c, to pay a sum sufficient to cover the cost of conveyance from their last duty station to their place of transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination.

   c. If serving abroad and their family is resident at the overseas station, to pay a sum sufficient to cover the cost of their conveyance unless travel at public expense is permissible.

   d. If serving abroad and permitted to reside abroad on transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination, to pay their own and their family's passage costs to the selected place of residence abroad unless travel at the public expense has been authorized in accordance with para 9.425b.

9.421. Resettlement Grant. Any resettlement grant admissible after final adjustment of purchase costs is to be paid as soon as possible after termination or transfer to the Reserve. A soldier may apply to their CO in writing to have their resettlement grant entitlement offset against the purchase costs.

9.422. Procedure. The procedure to be applied for premature voluntary release on payment is at Annex G to this Chapter.
Termination of Service - Free on Compassionate Grounds

a. A soldier may apply to terminate their Colour service on compassionate grounds. Where grounds of compassion are advanced in support of a waiver of a restriction and all costs, the application is to be supported by a report from AWS and, where applicable, a medical certificate and, where a family business is involved, a report by the Forces Help Society, to provide evidence that it is essential for the soldier to leave the Army and that other measures, eg compassionate leave or temporary retention in the United Kingdom, would be inadequate. The soldier's CO is to attach their recommendation regarding a waiver of any restriction and the purchase costs, in compassionate cases. In such cases the GOC division or district may authorize termination of Colour service free on compassionate grounds under para 9.375 or termination under para 9.402, as appropriate, taking note of para 9.415b and c. If the soldier's application is approved they are to be transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated free of all costs in accordance with the instructions as given in the following sub-paragraphs.

b. Apprentices and soldiers under the age of 18 years. If after the end of the statutory period during which an apprentice or soldier under the age of 18 may claim their termination, applies to be terminated on the grounds that their family circumstances make their presence at home desirable, the CO (if they accept that the reasons are valid) may apply to the competent Service authority under the terms of para 9.402 to terminate the soldier. In such cases the criterion should be that in the CO's opinion the soldier's presence at home would assist their family. The fact that prevailing family circumstances existed when the apprentice or soldier enlisted should not preclude termination free on compassionate grounds.

c. Apprentices and soldiers over 18 years of age. Before transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination on compassionate grounds is authorized, the competent Service authority must be satisfied that there are adequate grounds for a soldier's release which makes it essential for the soldier to leave the Army. It is of prime importance that every case should be thoroughly investigated before a decision is taken. The situation may vary considerably in individual cases but the deciding factor is that the circumstances on which the application is based must normally have arisen since the soldier's enlistment or re-engagement or prolongation of service. If the factors existed to some degree previously, they should have worsened unexpectedly during the soldier's service to such an extent that the situation can only be resolved by their release from the Army.

d. The competent Service authority authorizing termination of Colour service free of all costs may waive any of the restrictions listed in para 9.416. Transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is to be authorized under para 9.375 or para 9.402, as appropriate, and in this connection attention is drawn to para 9.415b and c. Recommended applications from soldiers serving in isolated overseas garrisons which have no delegated powers to authorize transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination free on compassionate grounds are to be forwarded to DM(A) for consideration. In cases where the soldier's pay account is in debt to the public, the prior agreement of the divisional or district commander is to be obtained before compassionate release is authorized. If release is to take place overseas the agreement required is that of the appropriate command civil secretariat.

a. The following list of circumstances, which are not exhaustive, may provide justifiable reasons for release on compassionate grounds; in case of doubt the immediate superior headquarters should be consulted:
(1) When the applicant has recently been widowed or is legally separated from their spouse or civil partner and has a child or children dependent on them, living with them and with no suitable alternative arrangements possible. When the applicant applies on grounds of divorce or legal separation because they have to care for children of the marriage or civil partnership, however, termination is not normally to be authorized unless the court has awarded them custody of the children.

(2) A lone parent unable satisfactorily to combine military duties and parenthood.

(3) When the applicant has had to assume the major responsibility for the care of younger brothers or sisters who will have to live with them and no suitable alternative arrangements are possible.

(4) When the applicant has immediate relatives who are dependent on them for constant physical attention and there are no other relatives who could reasonably be expected to assume responsibility.

(5) When the applicant is the only son or daughter of a widowed parent in straitened circumstances and there are no other relatives who could reasonably be expected to assume responsibility.

(6) When the applicant is required to run a family business (but see sub-para c).

(7) When the applicant wishes to leave the Army on the grounds of conscientious objection to military service (but see AGAI 55).

b. Other than in the most exceptional cases the following circumstances should not be accepted as grounds for compassionate release:

(1) When the family have decided for personal reasons to remain separated (eg as a result of buying or renting a house), unless there is some overriding medical or other reason which prevents the establishment of a family home at the soldier's duty station.

(2) When termination is required only to allow the applicant to take up an offer of employment outside the Service.

(3) When the applicant is unable to regulate their private financial affairs without becoming seriously indebted or when the application arises out of an adulterous relationship.

c. Family Business Cases. It should normally be shown that:

(1) The soldier worked in the business prior to enlistment.

(2) The business is in existence and belongs to the soldier's family.

(3) There is no other member of the family available to provide the required support to the business.

(4) Without the soldier's presence the business would collapse and jeopardize the soldier's future livelihood. The fact that a business has to be reduced in volume or scope should not in itself merit termination.

d. Scope of Relationship. The scope of relationship for which compassionate termination may be considered is strictly limited and covers only spouse, civil partner, child, parent, stepparent, or recorded next of kin of the soldier. No exceptions are to be made to this rule without reference to the DM(A).

e. Investigations. All cases should be thoroughly investigated by the Army Welfare Service (AWS) and units should address requests for reports directly to the AWS either at the local office or HQ AWS, Knolleys Road, Aldershot, GU11 1PS. Reports are to be treated in accordance with para J12.009. Once the case is completed the AWS is to be informed of the outcome by the unit concerned.

f. Illness of a Close Relative. A certificate from a registered medical practitioner is to be included in all cases arising from the long term illness or disability of a close relative. The certificate should contain a firm opinion that the applicant's permanent presence at home is essential; vague comments such as 'would be beneficial/desirable' will not suffice. If confirmation of the doctor's opinion is required, overseas commands may signal the Army Medical Services Senior Health Advisor (Army) quoting subject indicator code PPA and giving the circumstances of the case.

g. Temporary Situations. If it is decided that the case does not merit release on compassionate grounds but it is agreed that a domestic or business situation has arisen that would be alleviated by the soldier's presence for a short period, they may be granted compassionate leave under the provisions of JSP 760 – Tri Service Regulations for Leave and Other Types of Absences or application may be made for their temporary retention in the United Kingdom (see AGAI 48, para 48.031 et seq.).

h. Refusals. When the soldier's release from the Army is not accepted as essential, there can be no question of accepting the case as compassionate. In these circumstances the soldier may apply for release under the terms of para 9.374 or 9.399 in the normal manner, provided they are not held by one of the restrictions listed in para 9.416. A reduction in purchase costs is not admissible.

Premature Release to Civil Employment or Educational Training

9.425. As a privilege a soldier who has completed nine or more year's reckonable service may terminate their Colour service within three months of the end of their engagement or the expiry of their period of notice without payment of purchase costs. In effect the earliest this privilege becomes effective will be at the nine year and nine month point of a soldier's service. The purpose of this privilege concession is to enable the soldier to take up civil employment or to commence a course of instruction at a bona fide educational establishment which cannot hold a vacancy open until the normal termination date.

a. To be eligible for this concession the soldier must have:

   (1) Completed nine or more year's reckonable continuous service.

   (2) Given appropriate notice if serving on an, Open or Versatile Engagement.

   (3) Documentary evidence showing that they will lose the offer of civil employment or place on a course of further education if held to serve until their normal release date.

b. No additional concessions are to be granted in respect of terminal leave or a resettlement course, but if a resettlement course has already been completed this will not prevent the soldier from applying for this privilege. In the case of applications in accordance with para 9.400g, DM(A) has the discretion to grant terminal leave and/or resettlement provisions.
c. A soldier who wishes to leave within three months of completing 22 years' service for pension should submit their application in accordance with para 9.400g.

d. Individuals are responsible for ensuring that they are fully aware of the financial implications of early release prior to completion of engagement.

e. The application is to be submitted on AFB 132A, with the supporting evidence, to the (DM(A)) through the relevant Career Management Branch APC, who are to attach a completed AFB 132. Termination, if agreed, is to be authorized on AFB 132 by (DM(A).

Administrative Matters

9.426. Specific Provisions. The following provisions apply to soldiers who are transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated by premature voluntary release or free on compassionate grounds:

a. A soldier transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated in the United Kingdom is allowed conveyance at public expense from the place of transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination to a selected place of residence in the United Kingdom.

b. An application by a soldier who was attested abroad to be conveyed at public expense on transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination to a selected place of residence abroad is to be referred to the APSG for decision.

c. A soldier serving abroad who:

   (1) Terminates their Colour service as a statutory right under para 9.391, or

   (2) Is granted transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination free on compassionate grounds, or

   (3) Is transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated on payment other than under sub-para (1) above provided they have completed four years' service (or such longer period as the Ministry of Defence may determine in respect of particular categories) and has completed one year's service in their overseas command or station, which for this purpose includes all stations outside the United Kingdom, is to be conveyed at public expense from their last duty station abroad to their place of transfer to the Reserve or termination and thence to a selected place of residence within the United Kingdom.

9.427. Reserved.

9.428. Terminal Leave. Terminal leave is not admissible to a soldier who is prematurely transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated, whether free on compassionate grounds or on payment other than in the case of soldiers terminated under paras 9.400 – 9.401. On release from overseas however, leave in the United Kingdom of the balance of any annual leave due on a proportionate basis (see JSP 760 – Tri-Service Regulations for Leave and Other Types of Absences) up to a maximum of 14 days, may be allowed at the discretion of COs, provided that the granting of such leave will not cause:

a. The date of completion of service on full pay to be postponed.

b. A demand for an earlier replacement.

In compassionate circumstances, these conditions may be waived by the APSG Section 5 - Soldiers Mentally or Temperamentally Unsuitable

a. Soldiers who are considered to be mentally or temperamentally unsuitable for their present military employment are to be referred by the CO for examination to the unit medical officer, who is to obtain the opinion of a Service psychiatrist.

b. Soldiers who should not have been accepted for service, as being persons admitted to a hospital or mental nursing home or received into guardianship under the Mental Health Act 1959 and or the Mental Health Act 1983, are to be terminated under para 9.414 on the recommendation of the CO. It is the responsibility of the officer effecting the termination, subject to the soldier's permission, to inform the local health authority. If the soldier refuses that permission, the CO should inform their civilian medical practitioner of the date and manner of the soldier's termination and of the address to which they are to proceed.

c. Soldiers, other than those referred to in sub-para b, who are considered by a psychiatrist to be of low intellectual capacity or to be suffering from significant mental illness, are to be brought before a medical board and dealt with in the way appropriate to the medical category allotted by the board. If found unfit for further service they are to be terminated under paras 9.385 – 9.387; if found fit for further service but unsuitable or unfit for their present employment action is to be taken as laid down in sub-para d.

d. If a psychiatrist considers that a soldier is unfitted for their present employment for intellectual or psychological reasons but is likely to become efficient in alternative employment the psychiatrist is to report their findings, through the referring medical officer, to the CO and give their recommendations for the general type of employment to which the soldier may be suited, but without specifying any particular type of unit, corps or service. Action thereafter is to be in accordance with para 9.231, the psychiatrist's medical opinion being available to the Personnel Selection Officer. Reallocation is not to be recommended for soldiers of habitual bad character or who are psychopathic delinquents or who are temperamentally unsuitable for any form of military service.

e. If a unit receives an F MED 8A (or its replacement form) about a soldier which has been signed by a service consultant psychiatrist and contains the following form of words:

“Although I do not consider the individual is suffering from a psychiatric illness I am of the opinion that due consideration should be given to their termination as temperamentally unsuitable under QR(Army), para 9.414.”

f. Upon receipt, the soldier's CO should convene a unit review of all the factors affecting the temperament of the individual in the light of future employment opportunities in the Army. The factors to be considered are the physical, mental and moral qualities of the soldier which constitute the character and affect the manner of their acting, feeling and thinking. A panel of members who know the individual concerned and their circumstances (eg Adjutant, Regimental Career Management Officer, Company Commander, Chaplain and Regimental Medical Officer) should conduct the review. However, it must consider the opinion of the service psychiatrist who signed the F MED 8A (or its replacement form) either in person or through a suitably briefed Regimental Medical Officer. After considering the panel's findings, the CO determines whether or not to apply for the termination of the soldier concerned under QR(Army) para 9.414. SO2 Discharges DM(A) can be consulted and DALS can also provide any legal oversight throughout the process if there is any aspect of the case that is likely to lead to legal challenge for any reason.
g. When disciplinary action against a soldier is pending, the psychiatrist is to act in accordance with current regulations as laid down in Annex C to Chapter 6 and not as stated in sub-paras a to d.

h. Temperamental unsuitability or mental disorders are not in themselves reasons to discount disciplinary action. Nevertheless, they are factors to be considered when judging the service and public interest. In cases which the CO or the Service police would normally refer to the DSP they should continue to do so, informing the DSP of the condition of the accused without breaching medical confidentiality. In cases which would normally be dealt with at Summary Hearing, the CO should take the advice of the G1 staff at next Higher Authority. Particular care should be taken before deciding not to take disciplinary action in cases where the victim is an individual.

Disposal of Soldiers Suffering from Psychiatric Disorder

9.435. When it is decided to terminate a soldier suffering from psychiatric disorder the following action is to be taken (see also para 9.406).

a. Soldiers domiciled in Great Britain or Northern Ireland.

(1) If the soldier is not dangerous to themselves or to the public and is not in urgent need of further treatment in hospital, the DCMH consultant in their case, if their relatives or friends are willing to receive them, to arrange for the soldier's disposal accordingly (see also sub-para b).

(2) If the soldier is dangerous to themselves or to others, or urgently in need of further hospital treatment, the DCMH consultant in their case is first to establish where the soldier's home is and then to make arrangements with the regional hospital board of the area in which the soldier's home is situated, or in the case of a soldier whose home is in Northern Ireland with the Health and Social Care in Northern Ireland (HSC), requesting them to specify the mental hospital to which the soldier should be sent (see also sub-paras (3) and (4)). In any case of doubt or difficulty in determining the area in which the soldier's home is situated the question is to be referred to the Army Medical Services Senior Health Advisor (Army) for a decision, the soldier being retained in hospital meanwhile.

(3) If the soldier to be terminated (see sub-para a(1)) requires hospital treatment and is willing to receive it informally their transfer should be arranged directly with the hospital specified by the appropriate Regional Hospital Board of the Department of Health or the Health and Social Care in Northern Ireland (HSC) in Northern Ireland.

(4) If the soldier to be terminated (see sub-para a(1)) requires hospital treatment and is unwilling to receive it informally, and if their nearest relative is unwilling to apply for their compulsory admission to hospital, the DCMH consultant, on being notified of the hospital where there is a vacancy, is to ask the approved social worker (mental welfare officer) to arrange for application to be made for the patient's compulsory admission to hospital.

(5) Should a soldier who is suffering from psychiatric disorder become due for termination or transfer to the Army Reserve before it has been possible to arrange for their disposal in accordance with sub-para a(2) their termination is to be delayed until such arrangements have been completed. Every effort is to be made to ensure that the arrangements are carried out with as little delay as possible.

(6) Any soldier undergoing psychiatric treatment in a military hospital is, if their termination from the Service is considered necessary, to be transferred to a civil hospital on their termination. If transfer to a civilian hospital would cause injury to the patient, then termination is to be delayed until the patient is fit for transfer.

b. Soldiers domiciled outside Great Britain and Northern Ireland. If it appears that the home of a soldier is outside Great Britain and Northern Ireland the case is to be referred to the Army Medical Services Senior Health Advisor (Army) for instructions as to their disposal, the soldier being retained in hospital pending decision. A soldier suffering from a psychiatric disorder transferred from one hospital to another, or to their relatives or friends, is to be accompanied by a conducting party to be furnished under local arrangements, if such is considered necessary by the medical authorities.

a. A Certificate of Service will be issued to all personnel on termination of service by the DBS. They are to be given a temporary certificate (AFB 108C) in accordance with the Unit Administration Manual, a copy being sent to the relevant Career Management Branch APC.
The Certificate of Service is to be despatched to them as soon as possible by recorded delivery by the DBS.

b. If a soldier is to be transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated on the expiry of leave without being recalled to their unit or depot, a written notification of the date on which they are being transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated together with their AFB 108X (or the temporary Certificate in lieu as in sub-para a) is to be sent by recorded delivery to the soldier by an officer authorized by the CO to act on their behalf.

c. A soldier terminated with less than six months service is to be issued with an AFB 108C on leaving their unit and a Certificate of Termination (AFB 108J) will be issued to them by the DBS.

d. For a soldier serving overseas who is to be transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated in the United Kingdom the Certificate of Service (AFB 108X) is to be prepared by the CO and forwarded direct to the relevant Career Management Branch APC. Details of the soldier's home address are to be attached. The CO of the depot or equivalent unit is to issue a temporary certificate (AFB 108C) in accordance with sub-para a, on the day on which the soldier leaves the depot or equivalent unit for their home address. Overseas units are to keep the depot or equivalent unit informed of all action taken and to notify the depot or equivalent unit by signal of the soldier's estimated time of arrival in the United Kingdom.

e. For a soldier who has been granted the concession of spending their last six months' service in the United Kingdom, the CO of the unit overseas is to assess the soldier's military conduct and complete a manuscript testimonial, which is to be sent with the soldier's documents to the CO of the unit in the United Kingdom for entry in the Certificate of Service when the soldier is finally terminated.

General Preparation of AFB 108X

9.439. The following general instructions are to be observed in preparing the AFB 108X.

a. All entries are to be completed before the certificate is issued to the soldier.

b. The assessment of military conduct and the testimonial are to be entirely free from erasure or correction.

9.439A. Reserved.

Unit Responsibilities

9.439B. The unit commanding officer is responsible for completing the AFB 108X. The form is to be neatly typed and free of erasure and deletion. A copy of the AFB 108X is to be forwarded to the APC no later than two weeks before the soldier is due to leave the unit.

Completion of AFB 108X

9.439C. Entries on AFB 108X in respect of a warrant officer or NCO of the rank of sergeant or above are to be written and signed personally by the CO. For a soldier below the rank of sergeant, the form may be completed by the company or equivalent commander, but in these circumstances the testimonial, once typed, is to be countersigned by the unit CO. An officer in temporary command of their unit or sub unit is to sign in their capacity as officer commanding. The entries are not to be seen or signed by the soldier until they have been signed or countersigned by the unit CO. AFB 108X should then be franked by the unit stamp.
Military conduct is to be assessed in accordance with paras 9.448 – 9.459. A soldier terminated under paras 9.396, 9.397 or 9.404 is not to be given an assessment higher than ‘Unsatisfactory’. A soldier terminated under para 9.405 for disciplinary reasons is not to be given an assessment higher than ‘Satisfactory’.

The testimonial is to be written in accordance with paras 9.460 – 9.463. For a soldier terminated under paras 9.396, 9.397, 9.404 or 9.405 care is to be taken to ensure that statements in the testimonial do not conflict with the assessment of military conduct.

The unit is to ensure that the assessment of military conduct and testimonial has been read to the soldier who is to sign in the space provided.

A soldier terminated with less than six months service or a soldier terminated at any time solely for the purpose of re-enlistment into the Regular Army or for the purpose of being appointed to a regular commission is to be given an assessment of military conduct annotated ‘based on ... months service’, but is not to be given a testimonial.

In the case of a soldier terminated for misconduct, dismissed, or dismissed with disgrace, the cause of termination will be entered in red ink and also written in red ink across the AFB 108C, or on the face of the other Certificates of Service in the AFB 108 series, and signed by the authorized officer of the APC. The following endorsement will also be made in red ink:

‘CAUTION. It is a criminal offence knowingly to make a false answer in an attestation paper. Persons who have been terminated from Her Majesty’s forces for misconduct or who have been dismissed or dismissed with disgrace from those forces are cautioned against attempting to re-enlist by concealing the circumstances of their termination or dismissal unless the conviction has become spent by virtue of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.’

A regular reservist who is permitted to re-join the Colours is to be required to surrender their Certificate of Service (AFB 108(ADP)). If retransfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is carried out within 12 months of the return to the Colours, the certificate surrendered is to be returned to the individual and AFB 108B issued for the period served with the Colours since re-joining. If transfer or termination is carried out after 12 months from their return to the Colours the Certificate of Service surrendered is to be destroyed and a fresh certificate (AFB 108(ADP)) prepared and issued in respect of the whole of the current engagement.

When a regular reservist is recalled to the Colours in order to stand trial for an offence committed during their service with the Colours, their Certificate of Service is to be surrendered. If the individual is convicted and the sentence affects the assessment of military conduct grading as laid down in para 9.457, or the testimonial, the surrendered Certificate of Service is to be destroyed and a fresh certificate (AFB 108(ADP)) prepared and issued to them.

a. If, on mobilization, a regular reservist hands their Certificate of Service to the CO at the place of re-joining, it is to be forwarded to the APC for safe custody. It is to be returned to the reservist when they again leave the Colours.

b. If the soldier has been mobilized during reserve service, but is not actually mobilized at the date of termination, the mobilized service is to be recorded in the Certificate of Service as ‘Army service’. The total period of reserve service, irrespective of the section or sections of the Regular Reserve in which service has been given is to be recorded in the Certificate of Service as ‘reserve service’.
9.444. A mobilized regular reservist on retransfer to the Regular Reserve or on termination (if actually mobilized at the date of termination), who is furnished in accordance with para 9.437 with AFB 108B to cover the period of mobilized service, is to have their military conduct and their testimonial assessed on that period of service since re-joining the Colours. Unless the regular reservist has incurred adverse entries on their disciplinary record the assessment of military conduct on AFB 108B is not to be lower than the assessment previously awarded, and for this purpose the time qualifications in para 9.456 will not apply.

9.445. Re-enlisted Soldiers. Only one Certificate of Service will be issued to a soldier on their transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination. Details of previous engagements are to be shown on the AFB 108 (Insert). In assessing their military conduct the requirements of para 9.444 are to be observed.

9.446. If the soldier is terminated while in prison or other civil penal establishment, or if transferred to the Regular Reserve or terminated from the military corrective training centre, the Certificate of Service is to be sent to the governor or commandant concerned by the SPVA or to be issued to the soldier. If the soldier is confined in a civil mental hospital the certificate is to be sent to them through the hospital superintendent.

9.447. Reserved.

Assessment of Military Conduct

9.448. Since it is important to have a uniform system of establishing a soldier's military conduct during Army service, an assessment of their military conduct is to be made by the CO in the following terms:

a. Exemplary.
b. Very Good.
c. Satisfactory.
d. Fair.
e. Unsatisfactory.

9.449. The assessment is to be based on the overall conduct of the soldier and is to take into consideration offences committed by them and recorded on their personal disciplinary record. Standards required for these assessments are given in para 9.457 and the time qualifications for soldiers with less than two years’ service are given at para 9.456. Convictions which are spent under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 are not to be taken into account.

9.450. A CO may award an assessment one higher or one lower than that arrived at through the application of paras 9.454 – 9.457 if there are exceptional reasons for doing so. The CO should also take into account the nature of any offences of which the soldier has been found guilty by a court other than a Court Martial which have been entered on their personal disciplinary record in accordance with Annex H to Chapter 5 and which have not already been taken into account in establishing the soldier's military conduct as they did not result in punishments shown in para 9.457. The CO is not, however, to award an assessment above 'Unsatisfactory' to a soldier terminated for misconduct, dismissed or dismissed with disgrace. Any soldier terminated under para 9.405 should not be given an assessment higher than 'Satisfactory'.

9.451. Where an administrative termination under para 9.414 results from a positive drugs test result then an assessment of 'Unsatisfactory' is to be awarded. Those who admit drug abuse or refuse to take a compulsory drugs test and are to be terminated under para 9.414 should not be automatically downgraded but the CO is to consider downgrading under para 9.450.

9.452. Reserved.

9.453. The APC is to be informed if a conduct assessment has been upgraded or downgraded under the terms of para 9.450 together with the reasons for such action.

9.454. In assessing a soldier's military conduct, only entries in the personal disciplinary record are to be taken into account.

9.455. A soldier's military conduct is normally to be assessed on their conduct during the period of their current engagement only. Exceptionally, where a soldier has served continuously or otherwise on a number of engagements, their military conduct may be assessed over the whole of their Army service, even though this may include service for which they have already received a military conduct assessment. This course is to be adopted only where it is to the soldier's advantage. Where the soldier's conduct is assessed over the whole of their service in this manner, offences committed during the whole period are also to be taken into account. The rules on spent convictions and minor punishments in para 9.449 apply.

9.456. In the case of a soldier terminated or transferred to the Regular Reserve who has completed less than two years' service the assessment is to be worded:

' ____________ based upon ______________ months service'.

Service for this purpose includes any terminal leave granted, and service as a younger soldier under the age of 17½ years. In assessing the conduct of a soldier with less than two years' service the normal standards of conduct shown in para 9.457 are to apply.

9.457. Standards of conduct necessary for the various assessments are given below. Dispensations from trial and minor punishments or awards which are not subject to rehabilitation are to be disregarded. Convictions which are spent under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 are not to be taken into account. (See AGAI 62, Annex K for detail concerning the application of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.)

   a. Exemplary. To be eligible for an assessment of ‘Exemplary’ a soldier must have:

      (1) No unspent awards of imprisonment (including a suspended sentence), youth custody or detention in a young offender's institution, or other form of detention in a civilian institution.

      (2) No unspent awards of detention (including a suspended sentence).

      (3) No reduction in substantive rank on disciplinary or misconduct administrative grounds.

      (4) No case of desertion in which trial has been dispensed with.

      (5) No unspent award of dismissal, or dismissal with disgrace, or where any of the offences of which they have been found guilty by a court involves misconduct of a nature expressed in para 9.404e.

      (6) No unspent award of military or civil fines or community sentences, recorded as a 'Discipline Entry'.

      (7) No Fine of over 7 day's pay
(8) No administrative sanction recorded on the personal discipline record.

b. Very Good. To be eligible for an assessment of ‘Very Good’ a soldier must have:

(1) No unspent awards of imprisonment (including a suspended sentence), youth custody or detention in a young offender’s institution, or other form of detention in a civilian institution.

(2) No unspent awards, in total of all awards, of detention (including a suspended sentence) of more than 14 days.

(3) No reduction in substantive rank on disciplinary or misconduct administrative grounds.

(4) No case of desertion in which trial has been dispensed with.

(5) No unspent award of dismissal, or dismissal with disgrace, or where any of the offences of which they have been found guilty by a court involves misconduct of a nature expressed in para 9.404e.

(6) No more than two separate awards of military or civil fines or community sentences, recorded as a ‘Discipline Entry’.

(8) No administrative sanction recorded on the personal discipline record.

c. Satisfactory. To be eligible for an assessment of ‘Satisfactory’ a soldier must have:

(1) No unspent awards of imprisonment (including a suspended sentence), youth custody or detention in a young offender’s institution, or other form of detention in a civilian institution.

(2) No unspent awards, in total of all awards, of detention (including a suspended sentence) of more than 28 days.

(3) Not been reduced in substantive rank on disciplinary or misconduct administrative grounds more than once.

(4) No case of desertion in which trial has been dispensed with.

(5) No unspent award of dismissal, or dismissal with disgrace, or where any of the offences of which they have been found guilty by a court involve misconduct of a nature expressed in para 9.404e.

(6) No Fine of over 21 day’s pay.

d. Fair. To be eligible for an assessment of ‘Fair’ a soldier must have:

(1) No unspent awards of imprisonment (including a suspended sentence), youth custody or detention in a young offender’s institution, or other form of detention in a civilian institution.

(2) No unspent awards, in total of all awards, of detention (including a suspended sentence) of more than 112 days.
(3) Not been reduced in substantive rank on disciplinary grounds more than once.

(4) No case of desertion in which trial has been dispensed with.

(5) No unspent award of dismissal, or dismissal with disgrace, or where any of the offences of which they have been found guilty by a court involve misconduct of a nature expressed in para 9.404e.

e. Unsatisfactory. Covers all whose military conduct is assessed below ‘Fair’.

Note: The assessment ‘Satisfactory’ replaced the assessment ‘Good’ in 1984.

9.458. For soldiers terminated for misconduct, dismissed, or dismissed with disgrace under paras 9.396, 9.397, 9.404 or 9.405, the restrictions at para 9.450 apply.

9.459. Reserved.

Form of Testimonial

9.460. The object of giving a soldier a character reference in testimonial form is to assist them to obtain civil employment when they leave the Colours. The character assessment should consist of a comprehensive statement illustrating the soldier's ability and qualifications and should be so worded that prospective employers can readily assess the true worth of the soldier. The testimonial (AFB 108X) is to be written by the CO, or company or equivalent commander, neatly typed onto the AFB 108X and subsequently signed by them and the soldier. It is to be free from erasure (see para 9.439b). No reference is to be made in the testimonial to any conviction whether spent or not under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.

9.461. The guiding principle in examining a soldier's documents and in appraising their worth is to differentiate between their qualifications from the standpoint of the Army and their qualifications as an individual returning to civil life to seek employment. The testimonial should therefore contain any information that would show what personal attributes and special qualifications a soldier possesses which are relevant to employment in civil life. The likelihood of a reservist or a terminated soldier obtaining civil employment depends partly on the accuracy and the quality of the testimonial. If soldiers who have been highly recommended are found to be untrustworthy or unreliable, then employers will lose confidence in such documents. Further, if a soldier's character has been assessed in terms higher than they deserve, injustice will be done to other soldier's whose characters have been truly recorded. The testimonial should therefore, as far as is practicable, be consistent with the military conduct assessment and the stated cause of termination. On the other hand if, on account of comparatively trifling irregularities of a purely military nature, a soldier's testimonial is not worded in such a manner as to commend them to a prospective employer, their subsequent career in civil life will be prejudiced to the detriment of the good name of the Service and of recruiting. The responsibility of COs in this respect is therefore very great.

9.462. The testimonial is to be based on the CO's or company or equivalent commander's personal knowledge of the soldier and on information supplied by officers under whom the soldier has served and after careful study of the soldier's documents.

a. When anything can truthfully be said in the soldier's favour in regard to trustworthiness, reliability, sobriety, tact, intelligence, power of command, total abstinence or proficiency in sport it is to be stated, together with any other qualities that might influence a prospective employer. Reference to the physical condition of a soldier or any adverse comment thereon is in no circumstances to be made in the testimonial. If the soldier has been employed during their service in any capacity that may be useful in assisting them in obtaining employment in civil life, this should be stated. Testimony as to their ability to lead, control and administer soldiers or the value of equipment or stores for which they have been personally responsible should be included. If they have voluntarily reverted in rank in order to continue in the Service for a longer career it must be made clear that this in no way reflects on theirs conduct or efficiency but rather the reverse. For warrant officers and NCOs the period of service in each rank may often usefully be stated.

b. A provisional testimonial, based on the above guide lines and instructions, is to be prepared and issued to all soldiers prior to normal release. This testimonial, in typed form, is to be given to the soldier approximately six months before the due date for release and should be in their possession when they attend their final Resettlement Board. A copy of the provisional testimonial is to be retained in the unit documents for reference when preparing the soldier's Certificate of Service (AFB 108(ADP)). The issue of this provisional testimonial does not affect the soldier's right under para J5.067 to inform a prospective employer that a written reference from their CO or other appropriate officer may be obtained on request.

c. When it becomes apparent that a soldier will fail to complete their engagement on medical, disciplinary, administrative or voluntary grounds, the unit is to inform the APC. The unit is to complete the action detailed in para 9.439B and forward the AFB 108X with the appropriate termination documentation.

d. When a soldier is being terminated as a result of the misuse of drugs the following is to be included on the AFB 108X. In the case of a positive CDT the wording ‘Service terminated for a positive drug test in respect of a X class drug’ is used in all cases. In the case of those who admit the misuse of drugs, ie those who are not positive above cut off level on a CDT the wording ‘Service terminated following the admission of taking a X class drug’.

Loss of, Damage to, or Tampering with Certificates of Service

9.464. A duplicate of AFB 108(ADP) or AFB 108B is not to be issued in normal circumstances: a warning to this effect is printed on each certificate. The only exception to this rule is in the event of an AFB 108(ADP) becoming lost in the post in transit between the APC and the former soldier. In this case the relevant Career Management Branch APC is to confirm the loss with the Royal Mail and then authorize the issue of a replacement AFB 108(ADP). In all other cases of loss, provided the reservist or former soldier can prove and makes a statutory declaration on AFD 465 that any of the above mentioned certificates have been lost through circumstances beyond their control, the Parliamentary and Disclosures Branch APC is to furnish them with AFB 108A (brief extract of service in letter form). Should a certificate be lost a prospective employer may, with the written consent of the reservist or ex-soldier, refer to the Parliamentary and Disclosures Branch APC who are to supply such information regarding the conduct and character as is recorded in the soldier’s documents.

9.465. Should a reservist or ex-soldier be unable to make a statutory declaration (eg when residing abroad) their case is to be dealt with by the APC who will decide whether AFB 108A should be issued. If there is any doubt about a case it is to be submitted to the DM(A) with full details for decision.

9.466. If, in the opinion of the Parliamentary and Disclosures Branch APC the regular reservist or ex-soldier will suffer undue hardship through the replacement of their Certificate of Service only by AFB 108A, a full statement of the case is to be submitted to the DM(A) who may then authorize the issue of a duplicate AFB 108(ADP).
9.467. Should a reservist or ex-soldier make an application for a new Certificate of Service on the grounds that the one that was issued to them has become damaged, torn or burnt through fair wear or accident, and if, from an inspection of the certificate the APC is satisfied that it has been so damaged and further, if from an examination of the soldier's documents the relevant Career Management Branch APC is satisfied that the certificate has not been wilfully mutilated either with fraudulent intent or to conceal any adverse entry they may, subject to para 9.465, issue AFB 108A in lieu.

9.468. When it is discovered that a Certificate of Service has been tampered with, either by the addition or erasure of entries, or in any other manner, the certificate is to be endorsed in red ink as follows:

a. Inside front cover - 'This certificate has been tampered with'.

b. On the page which has been tampered with - 'The information on this page has been tampered with'.

c. Endorsements are to be signed on each page by the APC. Where practicable, some indication should be made of the inaccuracy of the certificates, eg if the assessment of military conduct has been altered from 'Unsatisfactory' to 'Satisfactory' further endorsement should be made as follows - 'The entry against military conduct should read 'Unsatisfactory'.
Section 7 - Resettlement Matters

J9.469. The resettlement service is designed to give assistance to all officers, ratings, soldiers and airmen with their resettlement in civilian life. Details of the service are given in JSP - 534, The Tri-Service Resettlement and Employment Support Manual and any further information may be obtained from Service educational authorities.

b. The resettlement service:

(1) Provides for all ranks information and advice on all matters affecting their resettlement.

(2) Emphasizes the need to prepare for eventual return to civilian life by use of the educational and training facilities provided during Service life and after leaving the Service.

(3) Provides personal resettlement interviews for officers, ratings, soldiers and airmen.

c. COs are responsible for ensuring that information and advice on all aspects of resettlement in civil life are available to all ranks at any time during their service.

National Insurance

J9.470. Service personnel are insurable under the Social Security Act but pay earnings related contributions at special reduced rates. During service they and their families are eligible for most of the social security benefits or for broadly equivalent benefits under Service arrangements. On return to civil life contributions paid during service will reckon in full for the normal benefits. Details of contributions rates, benefits and the procedure for claims are published in Defence Council Instructions or other regulations.

ANNEX A TO CHAPTER 9
RULES FOR DETERMINING THE AGES OF OFFICERS AND SOLDIERS, FOR OFFICIAL PURPOSES (PARAS 9.002 AND 9.072 REFER)

Officers

1. The official age of a Regular Army, Army Reserve or Reserve officer is to be determined as follows:

   a. For those commissioned from the ranks whose first attestation was before 1 January 1962 - from the official date of birth declared on the first attestation of any kind.

   b. Except for those covered by sub-para a above, from the date of birth on the birth certificate. If it is officially confirmed by the appropriate authorities that there is no trace of a birth certificate having existed then the date of birth given on a passport or other officially recognized document is to be accepted.

Adult Soldiers

2. Before 1 January 1962 the age declared by a recruit on first attestation for the Regular Army, Royal Marines, Army Reserve, Supplementary Reserve, Army Emergency Reserve, Territorial Army or TAVR is taken to be the official age for that or any subsequent enlistment into any of those forces, subject to:

   a. The exceptions given in para 3.

   b. The age recorded having actually been declared by the recruit and not being merely a record of their apparent age.

3. The following are the exceptions to the general rule stated in para 2:

   a. In certain circumstances which are specified in the appropriate regulations and instructions, age is to be determined from the soldier's birth certificate.

   b. Where a recruit on enlistment or re-enlistment into the Regular Army declares their age to be under the minimum age for adult service, their official age is to be determined from the particulars shown on their birth certificate and no account is to be taken of the age declared on any previous attestation.

Notes:

(1) The minimum age for adult service was reduced from 18 years to 17 years and six months in April 1939.

(2) The Army Act 1955, section 2(5), provides that the expression 'appropriate minimum age' means the age of 18, unless for a particular class a lower age is for the time being prescribed. For the Brigade of Gurkhas, the age of 17 years has been prescribed.

(3) In cases of re-enlistment after discharge from the Regular Forces as a result of an under-age enlistment, the official age is to be determined from the particulars shown on the birth certificate.
d. Where a soldier first joined the Royal Navy or Royal Air Force under the age of 18 and any portion of their service therein is reckonable for Army pension, the official age is to be that which was accepted in the Royal Navy or the Royal Air Force.

4. From 1 January 1962 the use of birth certificate ages for official military purposes is applied to all entrants for the Regular Army and Army Reserve, subject to the following exceptions:

a. Entrants who have had previous service, to whom the rules in paras 2 and 3 will apply.

b. Where a recruit is unable to produce their birth certificate on enlistment, evidence of date of birth contained in a passport will be accepted in lieu.

c. Where a recruit born in England, Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland is unable to produce either a birth certificate or a passport containing the date of their birth, application is to be made for details of birth to the appropriate Registrar General.

d. If evidence of birth is not obtainable in any other way a Statutory Declaration, made by a responsible person in support of the recruit's statement of age, is if possible to be obtained.

Soldiers Under the Age of 17½

5. The official age of soldiers under the age of 17½ will be determined by their birth certificates.

ANNEX C TO CHAPTER 9
RULES FOR THE RETENTION OF SUBSTANTIVE RANK AND THE GRANT AND RETENTION OF HONORARY RANK BY OFFICERS OF THE REGULAR ARMY ON LEAVING THE ACTIVE LIST
(PARAS 9.026 REFER)

1. General. This Annex lays down the current rules for the retention of substantive rank and the grant and retention of honorary rank by officers of the Regular Army who leave the active list.

2. Retention of substantive rank.

b. A short service officer who qualifies for the full rate of retired pay applicable to a regular officer will similarly retain their substantive rank on retirement.

c. Retired officers will forfeit their rank and status when directed, under the power of the Defence Council to do so, after conviction by a civil power where said conviction results in a custodial sentence.

Grant of Honorary Rank

3. Regular or short service officers who retires on retired pay and who will retain their substantive rank under para 2 may be granted the honorary rank equivalent to the highest acting rank which they have held, provided that the acting rank was held for an aggregate period of six months.

4. Short service or extended service officers who does not qualify under para 2b above but who have completed 10 or more years commissioned service on the active list of the Regular Army will, on retiring from their commission, be granted honorary rank equivalent to either the substantive rank which they held on leaving the Army or the highest acting rank which they have held, provided that this acting rank was held for an aggregate period of six months.

5. The period of six months referred to in paras 3 and 4 may be disregarded if the officer’s service in the acting rank was terminated by attributable wounds or sickness which involved absence from duty and subsequent unemployment or cessation of service on the active list.

6. Any period during which acting rank is held whilst an officer is seconded or loaned to another Department or Service (including a Commonwealth, Overseas Territories or Associated Force), will count under paras 3 and 4.

7. Local (Unpaid) rank does not qualify an officer for the grant of honorary rank, but in very special circumstances, to be determined by the Defence Council, officers may be granted honorary rank equivalent to their local (Unpaid) rank.

8. The grant of honorary rank is subject to the officer concerned having given satisfactory service throughout their career.

9. The grant of honorary rank will be notified in the London Gazette, but officers who receive official notification in writing from the Ministry of Defence intimating of the grant of honorary rank may assume that rank if they so desire pending and subject to confirmation in the London Gazette.
Relinquishment of Honorary Rank

10. Honorary rank will be suspended automatically when an officer is re-employed on the active list of the Regular Army, in the Army Reserve or in another force or in another Service or on enlistment into the ranks. At the end of any such service the honorary rank so suspended may be restored unless the officer has been directed to retire or resign their commission or qualified for a higher honorary rank during that service, when the higher honorary rank may be granted.

11. Officers may be deprived of their honorary rank on conviction by the civil power or at the discretion of the Defence Council. A report of misconduct by an officer holding honorary rank may be submitted to the Army Board using the procedures of AGAI 67.

a. The Notice Engagement applied to all soldiers who enlisted on this engagement between 1 May 1972 and 31 December 1990. It was for a period of 22 years reckoned from the relevant date, which was defined as the date of attestation, or 18th birthday, whichever was the later. Service from this date is known as 'reckonable service'.

b. This engagement was not open to men enlisting into the Brigade of Gurkhas or for local service in Hong Kong.

c. Under the provisions of the Army Terms of Service Regulations 1992, Regulation 5, a soldier enlisted on the Notice Engagement had the right initially to terminate their colour service at the end of three years reckonable service, provided that 12 months' notice was given under Regulation 5 of those regulations. For all women enlisted on the Notice Engagement 12 months' notice was given under the same regulation for those who wish to terminate their Colour service at the end of three years reckonable service. In the case of a woman enlisted for training as a state registered or state enrolled nurse the period was four years reckonable service.

d. On enlistment a soldier was required or may have been permitted to waive his right under Army Terms of Service Regulations, Regulation 10, to leave the Colours at the end of the three or four year period, as applicable, for the reasons as shown below:

(1) Men, ie male persons aged 17½ years or over:

   (a) If on final approval of his enlistment a man had been accepted for training in an employment that would attract Band 2 or Band 3 rates of pay he had to commit himself to a minimum of six years Colour service, reckoned from the relevant date.

   (b) Irrespective of the training he wished to undertake a soldier could apply to commit himself to either six or nine years, reckoned from the relevant date for Scale B or Scale C rates of pay as applicable.

(2) Young Soldiers, i.e. A male person enlisted between the day when he attained the age of 17 and the day before he reached 17 years and six months of age.

A Young Soldier could commit himself to further Colour service as in sub-para e(1).

(3) Junior entrants were enlisted into one of the following groups:

   Group 1. Apprentice.
   Group 2. Junior Bandsmen.
Group 4. Other Junior Soldiers.

(a) A Junior Entrant finally approved for enlistment in either Group 1 or 2 was required, for the benefit of the training that he was to receive, to commit themselves to nine years Colour service, reckoned from their 18th birthday.

(b) A Junior entrant finally approved for enlistment in Group 3 or 4 was required, for the benefit of the training they were to receive, to commit themselves to six years Colour service, reckoned from their 18th birthday. Alternatively, if he wished to receive Scale C rates of pay they could apply to commit themselves to nine years Colour service, reckoned from their 18th birthday.

4. The 22 Year Service Engagement.

a. A period of 22 years Army service with the right to be transferred to the Regular Reserve at the end of 3, 6 or years reckonable service and the right to be discharged at the end of 12 years reckonable service and at the end of any succeeding period of 3 years reckonable service. Men who leave the Colours after 3, 6 or 9 years reckonable service are required to serve in the Regular Reserve for 4, 6 or 3 years respectively. Those discharged after 12 years reckonable service are not required to serve in the Regular Reserve.

b. This engagement was replace by the Notice Engagement on 1 May 1972.

5. Short Service Engagements.

a. The Type S Engagement. This may be a fixed period of Colour service of six months or any complete period of years from 1-12 inclusive. This enlistment is open to applicants other than those enlisted into the Brigade of Gurkhas. A person should be enlisted on this engagement only if ineligible for enlistment on the Versatile Engagement by reason of age, length of previous service or any other cause. Potential Officer Candidates are enlisted on this engagement. See Annex F regarding termination of service for Potential Officer Candidates.

b. The Special Type S Engagement. The special Type S Engagement allows a limited number of Army Reserve soldiers to serve an engagement of one year in the Regular Army.

c. The Type O Engagement. This enlistment was for a fixed period of Colour service of up to six years from the relevant date. It was limited to applicants who are specifically enlisting as potential officers (this engagement ceased with effect 1 January 2007).

d. The Type Y Engagement. This was for applicants aged between 16 years and 19 years seven months who enlisted for a period of one or two years Colour service dependent on the period they have completed within the full time civilian education system. The enlistment dated from the day they joined training units for full time paid duty. A person enlisted on this engagement could give 14 days' notice at any time (this engagement is no longer used).

e. The Type R Engagement. A period of three years with the Colours. This enlistment was limited to persons who were enlisted for local service as a recruiter or for any other special employment (this engagement ceased to be with effect June 1992).
6. Local Service Engagement.

a. The Military Local Service Engagement (MLSE). Introduced on 1 January 1997 the MLSE provides for the enlistment of persons over the age of 18 years for a period of three years Colour service reckoned from the date of enlistment. An MLSE soldier restricts their service to a particular area of the United Kingdom. Those enlisted on this engagement may apply to re-engage for further 3-year periods up to the age of 55 years.

b. MLSE soldiers may give 90 days' notice of their wish to be terminated provided that at their date of termination they will have completed at least one year's service or two if the soldier had to undertake a course of military training upon enlistment of not less than 10 weeks duration. ANNEX G TO CHAPTER 9
PROCEDURE FOR APPLICATIONS FOR PREMATURE VOLUNTARY RELEASE
(PARA 9.422 REFERS)

(Not applicable to soldiers serving on the Open Engagement or Versatile Engagement).

1. Applications for premature voluntary release are to be made by soldiers on AFB 132A. On receipt of such application the CO is to ascertain, by signal from APC, whether or not the soldier is in a restricted category under para 9.416 and the relevant purchase costs if applicable.

2. If it is confirmed that the soldier is not restricted then the required purchase costs, and passage money where applicable, are to be paid into the unit imprest account and a receipt for the same given to the soldier. The receipt is to stress that the money has been accepted on deposit only and in no way means that the release of the soldier will be authorized. Should the soldier not be able to pay the costs into the imprest account then they are to be informed that their application will not be processed further. The soldier should be warned by the CO that should they wish to withdraw the application subsequently, this may be refused by the APC. If the APC approves the withdrawal of the application, the purchase costs will be refunded immediately.

3. Once the purchase costs have been paid into the imprest account, and bank clearance obtained as necessary, the soldier's application is to be sent to the APC who are to arrange, for Parts 1 and 2 of AFB 132 to be completed in triplicate and sent to the unit.

4. If the soldier is in a restricted category but the CO considers that there are grounds, or that it is in the interest of the Service, for a waiver of the restriction to be granted, then the process outlined in para 2 is to be followed and the soldier's application, with supporting evidence and AFB 132, should be sent to DM(A), through staff channels.

5. If the soldier wishes to be released overseas, the procedure at para 9.316 is to be followed.

6. Attention is drawn to paras 9.339 – 9.340 as to the action required before the release of soldiers under the age of 18, apprentices and those under 19 who were enlisted from community homes.

7. On receipt of AFB 132 the CO is to arrange for Parts 3, 4 and 5 to be completed. AFB 132 is then to be processed according to the instructions at the head of the form and the soldier released, if serving in the United Kingdom, or returned to their depot or equivalent unit for release, if serving overseas. Once clearance for release has been obtained, the termination is to be completed with the minimum of delay. Unit Admins are to raise the termination through JPA Workflow.

8. Should the CO wish to retain the soldier under para 9.418, then the following instructions apply:

   a. Deferments - If the CO considers that it is essential in the interest of the Service for the soldier's release to be deferred then the application should be referred to the brigade, or equivalent commander, in accordance with para 9.418. The soldier is to be informed of the situation and of a likely release date.

9. Applications for release free of cost on compassionate grounds are to be processed in accordance with paras 9.423 – 9.424. Where the soldier's CO considers that insufficient grounds exist for recommending the application, the soldier is to be informed accordingly. When it is considered that sufficient grounds do exist the AFB 132A is to be forwarded to the APC as soon as possible. When the AFB 132 is received by the CO, Part 3 is to be completed and the form, together with a copy of the AFB 132A and all supporting evidence to be forwarded to the GOC division or district for consideration and action as in para 9.423a.

10. When a soldier serving overseas is to be terminated from their depot or equivalent unit, then as soon as premature voluntary release has been authorized the soldier is to be sent to that unit. The soldier's unit documents including medical documents and a copy of AFB 132 completed at Sections 5 and 6 are also to be sent to the terminating depot or equivalent unit without delay. Transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is to be carried out by the officer commanding the depot as soon as possible after the soldier's arrival. When the soldier applies to reside abroad, the commanding officer is to ensure that the provision of paras 9.316 – 9.317 are complied with before transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination is effected.

11. The following special provisions are to apply when a soldier is on leave from a unit stationed outside the United Kingdom. This course of action is only to be pursued when there is evidence of exceptional compassionate circumstances that cannot wait until the soldier's return to their unit.

   a. A soldier on leave from a unit in Germany, Holland, Belgium or Luxembourg who wishes to apply for premature voluntary release is to apply in writing to their CO (application by Proxy through JPAC).

   b. A soldier who, after leaving a unit stationed other than in the countries listed at sub para 11a, and when on leave in the United Kingdom or the Irish Republic, decides to apply for premature voluntary release may do so, in writing, to the APC (application by Proxy through JPAC). Such applications must reach the APC not later than 10 days before the date of re-emplaning. Applications submitted within 10 days of re-emplaning are not to be considered unless accompanied by evidence of extreme compassionate circumstances. The APC is to signal the soldier's unit asking if the CO has any objection to the soldier being assigned to the depot or equivalent unit concerned so that their application may be speedily processed. If there is no objection the soldier is to be so assigned. If there is an objection the soldier is to return to their unit forthwith.

   c. A soldier who, before leaving their unit overseas, decides that they wish to apply for premature voluntary release while on leave or on duty in the United Kingdom, or while on leave in the Irish Republic, are to apply, through JPA Workflow, to their CO before departure for the United Kingdom. If premature voluntary release is authorized by the CO, the APC are to be informed, who are to arrange for transfer to the Regular Reserve or termination to be carried out at a depot or equivalent unit on completion of the soldier's leave or duty. If such an application is refused this fact together with the reasons for refusal are to be communicated to the soldier.

12. Transfer to the Regular Reserve and termination on payment are to be carried out under the following authorities:

   a. Transfer to the Regular Reserve of soldiers on payment is to be authorized under para 9.374. When no payment is to be made because of compassionate grounds, transfer to the Regular Reserve is to be authorized under para 9.375 'free on compassionate grounds'.

   b. Except for terminations under paras 9.391, 9.400 and 9.401, the termination of soldiers on payment is to be authorized under para 9.399. When no payment is to be made because of compassionate grounds, termination is to be authorized under para 9.402, 'free on compassionate grounds'.

The Royal Humane Society considers applications for awards to personnel who have taken part in rescues or attempted rescues from drowning or asphyxia (including the use of artificial respiration) and from dangerous cliffs or other heights and also analogous cases of gallantry displayed in the aeronautical field, eg in connection with aircraft crashes. Occurrences solely involving Service personnel may be reported, as well as those which involve Service personnel and civilians. Cases coming within the scope of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution, the Society for the Protection of Life from Fire, or local (eg Glasgow and Liverpool) Humane Societies, will not be considered.

b. Cases of gallantry where a recommendation for a State award has not been made or, if made, has been unsuccessful, may be referred to the Secretary, Royal Humane Society, Brettenham House, Lancaster Place, LONDON WC2E 7EP.

ANNEX A(J) TO CHAPTER 10
FOREIGN AND COMMONWEALTH OFFICE RULES ON THE ACCEPTANCE AND WEARING OF FOREIGN ORDERS DECORATIONS AND MEDALS
(PARA J10.016 REFERS)

The following are the extant Rules issued by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office which is the responsible authority

RULES GOVERNING THE ACCEPTANCE AND WEARING OF FOREIGN ORDERS, DECORATIONS AND MEDALS BY CITIZENS OF THE UNITED KINGDOM AND HER OVERSEAS TERRITORIES

These rules set out the circumstances under which a citizen of the United Kingdom or her Overseas Territories ("UK Citizen") may be granted the Sovereign’s permission to accept and wear an Order, Decoration or Medal ("foreign award") conferred by a Head of Government of a foreign country, Head of Government of a Commonwealth country of which the Sovereign is not Head of State and certain international organizations (collectively referred to as “foreign state”).

Principles

1. No UK citizen (this includes British subjects and British-protected persons (BPP)) may accept and wear a foreign award without the Sovereign’s permission. Such permission must be sought as soon as there is any indication that an award may be offered. BPPs may accept awards conferred by their Rulers.

2. The granting of permission for a UK citizen to accept an award offered by a foreign state will only be considered if the award recognizes specified services rendered to the interests of that foreign state.

3. Permission will not be given for UK citizens to accept a foreign award if they have received, or are expected to receive, a UK award for the same services.

4. Acceptance of a foreign award does not mean that the UK will make a reciprocal offer directly or indirectly associated with the UK recipient.

Permission

5. Permission to wear a foreign award, if granted, will be either:

   a. Unrestricted - allowing the award to be worn on any occasion; or
   b. Restricted - allowing the award to be worn only on particular occasions associated with the foreign state that conferred it.

6. The grant of permission, whether unrestricted or restricted, will be conveyed by letter to the UK citizen concerned from the Sovereign’s Private Secretary.

Application

7. A foreign state wishing to confer an award on a UK citizen is expected to ascertain - through its Diplomatic Representative at the Court of St James’s whether permission to accept an award would be likely to be given. Such requests for clearance will only be entertained in respect of awards given by Heads of State or Governments recognized as such by the Sovereign.
8. Requests made by certain international organizations (eg The United Nations and NATO) in respect of service in operations under their auspices should be made to the Defence Services Secretary in the Ministry of Defence.

9. Requests made in respect of services rendered more than five years previously, or in connection with events in the distant past (including commemorative awards) will not be entertained.

10. Requests for clearance meeting the requirement of these regulations will be submitted to the Sovereign for consideration by the Secretary of State for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs - who will be under no obligation to make such a submission if the application has not been made as indicated in paras 7 - 8 above.

11. Requests for clearance in the case of foreign awards conferred by private societies or institutions will not be granted.

Guidelines

12. Each request will be treated on a case by case basis. The fact that a similar application has been approved in the past should not be taken as implying that permission will be granted.

13. The grant of unrestricted permission will be considered in the case of foreign awards conferred for services:

a. Related to saving or attempting to save life (including medals issued by life-saving societies and institutions);

b. By any member of the UK Armed Forces or other UK official on exchange, attachment or loan to a foreign state who is involved in a military operation or an emergency on behalf of that country, state or organization (it will be for the UK to decide if the operation or emergency is of the standard to fall within this criterion);

c. By any member of the UK Armed Forces serving in a UK unit within a bilateral force under the command of the other country who renders especial service to that country’s forces in a military operation or emergency; or

d. In military operations under the auspices of an international organization (eg the United Nations).

14. The grant of restricted permission will be considered in the case of foreign awards conferred:

a. On the occasion of and in connection with a State or official visit by a Head of State or Government of a foreign or Commonwealth country.

b. In connection with a State visit by The Sovereign.

c. To members of Special Missions when The Sovereign is represented at a Coronation, wedding or funeral or other similar occasion; or on any Diplomatic Representative (this does not apply to their staff) when specially accredited to represent The Sovereign on such occasions.

15. Other than in circumstances described in paras 13 - 14 above, permission, unrestricted or restricted will not be granted to (this guidance applies equally to the spouses or partners of Crown servants):
a. Crown servants generally.

b. In particular, to Heads or other members of HM Diplomatic or Consular establishments abroad, when leaving their posts - whether on transfer or on final retirement; and

c. Senior officials, military or civilian, visiting foreign states.

16. No permission is needed for the acceptance of any foreign award if it is designed not to be worn.

Schedule

1. In this schedule, the term ‘war medal’ means a campaign star, or a medal commemorating of a campaign, granted in commemoration of an arduous campaign or other well-fought operation entailing danger to life from enemy action or other exceptional risk and hardship, or a medal which is granted for specified service in a non-operational command during a state of war.

2. A war medal commemorating of a campaign may be given to an officer, or to a soldier, whether combatant or non-combatant, who has rendered approved service during such campaign with the Army. Clasps for battles or special operations against an enemy may be issued to all officers and soldiers engaged therein whose duties necessitated their being present.

3. Any officer or member of the military forces or any former officer or former member of the military forces who has been dismissed the Service with disgrace, or on conviction of treason, sedition, desertion during hostilities, cowardice, mutiny, or other great infamy, shall be liable at the discretion of the Defence Council, to forfeit any war medal and clasp and any medal and clasp awarded for long service, meritorious service (except for gallantry), efficiency or any of the Queen's Medals for Champion Shots (subsequently referred to herein as the Queen's Medals) of which they may be in possession (together with any gratuity appertaining thereto, not already paid) or to which they may be entitled by their service up to the date of their conviction, and the Defence Council will consider such cases accordingly. For the purposes of this provision the expression ‘other great infamy’ shall include a conviction by a civil court in respect of which that Court awarded a sentence of more than six months imprisonment.

4. ANNEX C TO CHAPTER 10
RESTORATION OF AWARDS
(PARA 10.019c REFERS)

1. The restoration of awards forfeited under Annex B to this Chapter will be considered in the following circumstances:

a. When a minimum of three years’ service (including approved service involving periodic training), has been rendered subsequent to release from detention or imprisonment (or if not applicable, subsequent to the date of conviction), provided that no offence has been committed during such service as would normally disqualify the individual from the award of an ‘Exemplary’ character on discharge or transfer to the reserve.

   (1) In cases of desertion during a state of hostilities, no award(s) instituted for service during that period of hostilities in which desertion took place will be restored under sub-para a(1) above or sub- paras b and c below, unless the individual subsequently rendered approved service in the armed force from which they deserted, in the area and, before the termination of the particular period of hostilities for which the award was instituted. In this respect, approved service is deemed to be paid service of one day or more after release from detention or imprisonment and before the termination of the appropriate period of hostilities. Non regular soldiers who have been found guilty of desertion (or have had their trial for desertion dispensed with) may not aggregate service before conviction with subsequent service in order to qualify for the restoration of a campaign star or medal, if the former service is not reckonable as qualifying service for pay, or for increments of pay under the Pay Warrant 1964, Article 451.

   (2) When the required three years requalifying service has not been completed owing to:

      (1) discharge or release;

      (2) death; or

      (3) wounds or sickness, not due to misconduct, provided that no offence has been committed during the period between release from detention or imprisonment (or, if not applicable, subsequent to the date of conviction), up to the date of termination of service, as would normally disqualify the individual from the award of an ‘Exemplary’ character on discharge or transfer to the reserve.

b. When the individual:

   (1) is accepted for re-enlistment and provided they have truthfully declared all former service. (This condition does not apply in the case of soldiers who were conscripted under the provisions of the National Service (Armed Forces) Act, 1939, immediately following removal from commissioned rank. Such personnel, however, are not thereby debarred from qualifying for restoration under any other condition specified in this Annex.)

   (2) is mobilized from the Reserve; or is promoted to sergeant or higher rank.

c. At the discretion of the Army Board to the Defence Council in recognition of meritorious service not necessarily resulting in a decoration, or when otherwise specially recommended.
2. The provisions for restoration as specified in para 1, sub-paras b, c(1) and c(2) above, are not to apply in the case of awards forfeited on conviction of treason, sedition, mutiny or cowardice.

   a. The provisions for restoration specified in para 1 sub-paras a, b and c are not to apply in cases where the Meritorious Service Medal and/or a Long Service and Good Conduct Medal has been forfeited under the terms para 3 of Annex B to this Chapter.

   b. Restoration of a Meritorious Service Medal and/or of a Long Service and Good Conduct Medal forfeited under the terms of para of Annex B to this Chapter will only be considered:

      (1) When a minimum of three years’ service with irreproachable conduct has been completed subsequent to the date of the withdrawal of the medal, or

      (2) In the special circumstances defined in para 1d.
CHAPTER 11
Military Aid to the Civil Authorities (MACA)
(PARA 5.006 REFERS)

Sponsor: Ops Dir, UK Ops

J11.001. United Kingdom and Crown Dependencies. Should the Armed Forces be called to provide assistance to the civil authorities, the officer to whom the application is made is at once to inform the Ministry of Defence (Operations Directorate, Head Operations (Military)) and their immediately superior authority. A request for assistance will normally be made to the Ministry of Defence by the relevant government department in accordance with UK MACA Policy and should be confirmed in writing. However, if a direct request for assistance is received, and standing arrangements do not provide otherwise, the Service Commander on the spot is to brief the requesting authority on the above procedures and report it to their superiors. Under exceptional circumstances where a sudden emergency has occurred, which in the opinion of the local commander demands an immediate intervention to protect life, alleviate distress, or a need to protect significant property, the local commander may act without recourse to higher authority in accordance with a standing Defence Council Order, dated 17 January 1983. In these circumstances, the local commander is to report as early as possible the matter and the action taken to the Service authorities mentioned above.

J11.002. Overseas, including UK Overseas Territories. In territories outside the UK and Crown Dependencies, the UK MACA Policy does not apply and, the principles governing the provision of aid to the civil power may vary according to local conditions and local laws. When necessary, separate instructions setting out the rights and duties of members of HM Forces may be issued by the MOD. If, by agreement of HM Government with the local government, HM Forces are employed on internal security duties, regard must be paid by the Commander both to local law and any existing emergency regulations affecting that employment. Any request for assistance will normally be dealt with through HM Representative and the Commander will always act in consultation with them. In exceptional cases where prior consultation is impossible, the Commander must inform HM Representative as soon as possible. "HM Representative" in this chapter means:

  a. In a foreign country, the British Ambassador.
  b. In an independent Commonwealth country, the British High Commissioner.
  c. In an overseas territory of the UK, the Governor or other officer administering the government of the territory.
  d. In the New Hebrides, the British Resident Commissioner.

J11.003. If a national emergency is proclaimed under the Emergency Powers Act 1964 (Section 2) or the Civil Contingencies Act 2004 (Part 2), the powers of the authorities will be regulated by Order in Council. The MOD will issue the necessary instructions to Commands affected.

J11.004. Where there is no proclamation, the Defence Council may, under the Emergency Powers Act 1964 (Section 2), in accordance with Instructions issued by them, authorise the temporary employment of service personnel on work which the Council has first approved as being urgent work of national importance. In this case, a Defence Council Order will be issued.

J11.005. Service personnel will normally be provided in cases of emergency for the following purposes only:
a. To maintain essential supplies and services.

b. To give assistance in the event of a sudden emergency such as a flood or widespread fire where sufficient civil resources cannot be mobilised in time.

c. To give temporary assistance to farmers in an agricultural crisis. Such assistance is to be carried out under the supervision of officers, petty officers, warrant officers, non-commissioned officers or leading ratings, who are to ensure that any instructions issued by the representative of the civil authority or organisation for the proper and safe performance of the work are observed.

J11.006. In a major emergency, MOD (Operations Directorate, Head Operations (Military)) is responsible for issuing overall directives and policy; planning, coordinating and controlling the assistance provided, including assistance provided by the RN, RM, the Army and the RAF; and any additional resources which may be allocated. Responsibility for planning, coordinating and controlling the assistance provided will be given to Commander Home Command (Army) in their capacity as the Standing Joint Commander (UK). For the delivery of military assistance at the point of need, the Standing Joint Commander (UK) will usually appoint an appropriate Joint Military Commander from one of the Army’s Regional Point of Command structure, or an equivalent from the RN/RM or RAF for operations in the maritime or air environments respectively. Joint Regional Liaison Officers, RN and RAF regional liaison officers are provided as necessary to assist with coordinating the military response at the local level.

J11.007. The Defence Council has, by order dated 17 January 1983, approved such work as is considered by a local commander, at the time when the work needs to be performed, to be urgently necessary for the purpose of alleviation of distress and preservation and safeguarding of lives and property in time of disaster, as urgent work of national importance and has authorised the temporary employment on such work of service personnel. Applications for this category of assistance may be made direct to the nearest service headquarters or unit. Such requests are to be handled in accordance with the guidance given in JSP 373, however, a local commander has authority to use their discretion in exceptional cases of emergency, particularly when danger to life is involved, to provide assistance immediately and without reference to higher authority. The local commander is to inform as soon as possible the MOD, Navy Command HQ, Army HQ or HQ Air Command (RAF), via their immediate superior authority, of any such assistance given.

Service Assistance in Disasters Overseas

a. Service personnel may be called upon to assist in relief operations following disasters overseas. Her Majesty's Representative (see para J11.002) is responsible for deciding whether there is a need for, and the extent of Service assistance.

b. Where United Kingdom forces are stationed in the country concerned and where very exceptional circumstances arise which preclude prior consultation with Her Majesty's Representative, a Service commander may offer immediate relief on their own initiative. If relief is accepted they are to inform Her Majesty's Representative, the Ministry of Defence, command headquarters and their own immediate superior as soon as possible of the action taken including the extent of the relief provided which must be kept to the minimum and in no circumstances is to exceed £20,000 in value.

J12.001. Every officer is responsible for ensuring that all persons under their command are acquainted with the provisions of the Official Secrets Acts 1911-1989, and with the need for strict compliance with those provisions. All personnel are to be reminded annually of their responsibilities under the Acts. On joining and leaving the Regular Services all personnel will sign declarations regarding the Official Secrets Act on Ministry of Defence Forms 134 and 135 respectively.

Restrictions on Travel to Certain Countries

J12.002. All serving and retired personnel are subject to special restrictions on travel abroad on leave to particular countries (see LANDSO 2221, the Defence Manual of Security (JSP 440), Volume 2, Chapter 21 and the Army Leave Manual (AC 13216)). On leaving the Service all individuals are to be reminded that these restrictions still apply to them and a copy of MOD Form 138 - Security Reminder on Travel to Certain Countries - is to be included with their discharge (or equivalent) papers.

Disclosure of Official Information

J12.003. It can be an offence against the Official Secrets Acts for a person to divulge, whether during or after a period of service with the armed forces, official information acquired by such a person during such service unless expressly authorized to do so. All personnel are forbidden to communicate any official information, including information about to be made public, to any person other than one to whom they are authorized to communicate it or one to whom it is their official duty to communicate it. The use of such information for personal controversy or for any private purpose during or after completion of service without due authority may be a breach of the Official Secrets Acts. Information acquired in an official capacity by any one seconded for service with another Government department is not to be disclosed without the express permission of that department. Details are found in LANDSO 2221 and the Defence Manual of Security (JSP 440), Volume 1, Chapter 11.

J12.004. Any information of a professional or technical nature that all members of the armed forces may acquire in the performance of their duty, or in the course of their official studies, is the property of the Crown and is not to be published in any form without the prior approval of the Ministry of Defence.

Restrictions on Use of Official Documents

J12.005. Official reports, correspondence and documents or magnetic media of whatever description, whether protectively marked or not, are the property of the Crown. The only legitimate use which personnel may make of official documents, or information derived from them, is for the furtherance of the public service in the performance of their duty.

J12.006. All official publications and documents produced in the course of official duty are Crown copyright, including correspondence, drawings, maps, photographs and musical and other artistic works. Photographs taken with official equipment or material, whether or not for authorized purposes, are also Crown copyright. Permission for reproduction, in whole or in part, for any non-official purpose must be obtained from The Stationery Office, in whom Crown copyright is vested, or from a person holding their delegated authority. Applications should be referred to the Ministry
Security of Official Documents

J12.007. Instructions governing the security of official documents, and in particular their protective marking, custody, handling and transmission, are contained in the Defence Manual of Security (JSP 440), Volume 1.

Visitors

J12.008. A commanding officer or head of establishment is to be satisfied that proper arrangements are made and orders issued to control the admission of visitors, and is to ensure that Ministry of Defence instructions governing visits to ships, units and establishments of persons not in Her Majesty's Service are carefully observed. These instructions are to be found in LANDSO 2221 and the Defence Manual of Security (JSP 440), Volume 2, Chapter 21.

Police and other Civilian Authorities' Reports

J12.009. Officers who seek the assistance of civilian authorities or organizations (eg the police or welfare organizations) to deal with problems concerning members of the forces are reminded that all reports from such authorities are to be treated as 'in confidence' whether they are so marked or not. These reports must not be quoted verbatim nor their source disclosed except to another Service authority, whose attention is to be drawn to their confidential nature.

Disclosure of Official Information to Courts

J12.010. Instructions regarding the disclosure of official information (either oral or documentary) to courts or in arbitration proceedings, and the giving of evidence by expert witnesses are contained in para 7.030.

PART 2 - ACTIVITIES INVOLVING THE USE OF OFFICIAL INFORMATION OR EXPERIENCE
(MOD Sponsor: DGMC)

J12.015. General Considerations. This Section sets out procedures for Service personnel to seek authorization to communicate with the media. A number of considerations should be taken into account before doing so, including:

   a. Is it in the defence interest?
   b. Does the benefit justify the time, cost and effort?
   c. Is there a risk to operational security or of disclosure of classified information?
   d. Would this compromise service ethos?
   e. Are there any patent, copyright, collaboration security or international relations implications?¹

J12.016. Purpose. These regulations govern contact between all Service personnel and the media, and for writing or speaking in public. These rules must be followed to ensure that operational security is upheld and standards of political impartiality and public accountability are met at all times.

J12.017. Applicability.

   a. These regulations cover all public speaking, writing or other communication, including via the internet and other sharing technologies, on issues arising from an individual's official business or experience, whether on-duty, off-duty or in spare time. These regulations are to be followed by:

      (1) all members of HM Forces who are serving in international organizations:- who are to observe the rules and procedures of that organization, but who remain subject to this regulation.

      (2) members of HM Forces who are serving in international organizations:- who are to observe the rules and procedures of that organization, but who remain subject to this regulation.

   b. These regulations remain in force until explicitly superseded.

Personnel who have left the Service

J12.018. Introduction.

   a. It is the policy of the MoD and the Armed Forces to be as open as possible about defence activities and to explain the reasons for Government policies and decisions, provided that essential security is not compromised. The MoD must also comply with relevant legislation, such as the Freedom of Information Act 2000 and the related public access rights that came into effect on 1 January 2005.

   b. As in any organization, it is important that all MoD personnel communicate in a manner that maintains and, where possible, enhances the reputation of the organization. All contacts with the media or public disclosure of information by members of the Armed Forces must be authorized in advance, where this relates to material or experiences gained in the course of official duties. Engaging in such activities without obtaining authorization at the appropriate level may be a serious disciplinary or administrative matter which could ultimately lead to dismissal, as would the acceptance of payments in contravention of J12.024 below.

J12.019. Maximizing Communications Effect.

a. Presentational aspects must be an integral part of all MoD activity and decision-making. It is a core task of all personnel to consider how to portray their activities in an interesting and accessible way, for both the internal and external audiences, and how to support the MoD’s strategic communications aim - to enhance the reputation of the Department and Armed Forces both internally and externally. Everyone should look for opportunities to explain what defence is about to the public and other stakeholders. When personnel can make a contribution to knowledge on the basis of specialized information and experience obtained in the course of their official duties, in particular, professional, scientific and engineering personnel, they should be encouraged to do so, so long as policy, defence and commercial interests are protected.

b. Any such participation in public discussions or contribution to knowledge of this kind must, however, be such as will not:

   (1) prejudice national security.

   (2) put at risk collaboration security.

   (3) create the possibility of embarrassment to the Government in the conduct of its policies.

   (4) bring into question the impartiality of HM Forces.

c. Although these principles apply primarily to the disclosure of information and for the discussion of political issues, they apply with equal force to the public expression, in the press or elsewhere, of opinions which are or could be embarrassing to the Government when given by individuals who are identified or are readily identifiable as Service personnel.

d. The Director-General, Media and Communication (DGMC) has ultimate official authority for internal and external communications including all matters related to contact with the news media and communicating in public. Members of the Armed Forces are to seek prior permission if they wish to write or speak or otherwise communicate in the public domain on Defence or related matters, before entering into any commitment. Personnel who are in any doubt about the need to obtain authorization are to take advice from the appropriate DGMC contact at J12.025 before committing to communication with the media or writing or speaking in public. DGMC has delegated some approval authority to Command Media Operations personnel who should always be consulted before approaching DGMC.

Contact details can be found at J12.025.

a. DGMC (specifically, D News Press Office and Regional Press Officers) are the department’s professional advisers on communicating with the news media and are the officially sanctioned channel for dealing with them. The guiding principle for all contact with the news media contact is that it must be referred to the appropriate D News staff indicated in J12.022 or, where delegations are in place, to the appropriate Command Media Operations branch. This includes proposals for communicating with the news media such as writing letters to newspapers, contributing to online debates, or participating in radio or television programmes (including phone-ins) on any topic related to official defence matters. It also includes contact with the media when attending outside events, eg at conferences and seminars, and invitations to media representatives to speak to briefings, courses or other departmental events. Invitations for Service personnel to take part in a radio or television programme are usually made by the broadcasting authorities through official channels, but a direct approach may sometimes be made.

b. If a journalist makes contact with a member of the Armed Forces requesting information that falls within the terms of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (or other information access legislation and regulations), or requests are received for contentious information from any source, the D News Press Office are to be consulted. If it is necessary to telephone a journalist who has submitted an FOI request to clarify or refine its terms, care is to be taken to avoid the conversation drifting to other matters. A note of the conversation is to be made immediately.

c. If approval is given to communicate with the media, the range of topics that can be covered – and the terms of the engagement (eg background, on the record) - will be agreed at the time of authorization. Individuals are not to comment upon or disclose official information beyond that agreement. The individual is to report back to D News Press Office or the Regional Press Officer who approved the contact so that any appropriate follow-up action can be taken and to protect individuals in the event of any subsequent misreporting.

d. Exceptionally, some Service personnel will have a general authorization from D News personally to speak to the news media, which must be recorded in their agreed formal job descriptions or terms of reference. These individuals are to ensure they keep records and inform D News Press Office or the Regional Press Officer of all media contacts and the information communicated. Additionally, they are to avoid comment on issues of a politically controversial nature.

e. Where casualties have occurred, the names of the persons killed or injured are not in any circumstances to be divulged until it is definitely known that the next-of-kin have been informed. The authority for the release of names of casualties rests solely with MOD.

f. Personnel who are in any doubt about the nature of a request are to speak to their line manager or chain of command, Command Media Operations branch, relevant Regional Press Officer, or to D News Press Office directly, using the contacts listed in J12.025.

g. Defence Press and Broadcasting Advisory Committee (DPBAC). Defence Advisory (DA) Notices are addressed to national and provincial newspaper editors, to radio and television organizations, and to some publishers of periodicals and books on defence and related subjects. (DA Notices are issued and amended on the authority of the DPBAC.) The Secretary of the DPBAC is available at all times to advise on questions that arise as to the application of a DA Notice to some particular set of circumstances. Any advice requested by the press as a whole on the publication of items of information which appear to come within the scope of a DA Notice should be referred to the Director of News in the MOD.

J12.021. Communicating in Public.

a. DGMC are the department’s professional advisers on communicating with the public. They will consult MoD policy branches as appropriate. Members of the Armed Forces are to seek prior permission if they wish to write or speak or otherwise communicate in the public domain on Defence or related matters, before entering into any commitment. All such communication must help to maintain and, where possible, enhance the reputation of Defence.
b. Examples of communicating in public are:

(1) publishing material (for example books, articles, papers for academic qualifications, or any other text, audio, still images, video or other content) or submitting material with the intention or likelihood of publication, in any medium (print or electronic) available outside government;

(2) self-publishing or otherwise releasing material on the internet or similar sharing technologies, for example through a blog, podcast or other shared text, audio or video, including via mobile devices;

(3) interviews with journalists using broadcast, print or electronic media;

(4) speaking at conferences, private engagements or other events where the public or media may be present;

(5) completing external organizations’ questionnaires, taking part in external surveys or polls, or contributing to external studies or research projects; this Regulation is not intended to prevent personnel from replying suitably to questionnaires from responsible publications such as Who’s Who. In any case of doubt the appropriate Security Directorate or the local Security Officer is to be consulted.

(6) contributing to any online community or shared electronic information resource available outside government, for example a bulletin board, newsgroup, wiki, on-line social network, multiplayer game or other information sharing application.

c. In all cases, the impact of the material must be considered carefully, both in terms of the effect on its intended audience but also on any unintended audience through any wider coverage by the media. All personnel are to make every effort to minimize the scope for misreporting and misrepresentation and avoid straying beyond the issues that they have been approved to speak on. Responsibility for seeking authority in sufficient time to allow proper consideration rests with the individual.

d. Use of Internet. MOD policy on the Acceptable Use of Information Technology and Telecommunications, which includes use of the internet, is in JSP 740; Security Operating Procedures (SyOps) for the system concerned may contain further restrictions on use. MOD’s Web Publishing Policy is contained in JSP 745. Further details may be obtained from DGInfo.

e. Membership of Institutes. Service personnel are free to join institutes, including the International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), the Royal Institute of International Affairs (RIIA), or the Royal United Services Institute for Defence Studies (RUSI), and may actively participate in the proceedings of those bodies. They are however required to seek guidance if they are in doubt about the propriety of their participation on any particular occasion.

J12.022. Authorization for Contact with the News Media and Communicating in Public.

a. Senior Personnel (1-star and above). All personnel of 1-star rank and above are to seek approval from DGMC before accepting any invitation to speak or write publicly – whether through the media or some other channel. Requests should be submitted at least seven days in advance to D News Press Office for media, and DCP Coord for other contact. For personnel of 2-star rank and above, Ministerial approval is required. This should be sought through DCP Coord.
b. Below 1-star - News Media. In all cases, personnel are to first go through their chain of command (Commanding Officer (CO) or Head of Establishment, Department or Division) to ensure that they are content that the proposed contact with the news media is in furtherance of Defence interests. Subsequent clearance is then required as follows:

(1) For Contact with Regional or Local News Media. DGMC Regional Press Officers have delegated powers of authorization from D News. In some instances authority has been delegated further to Command Media Operations staff. Where this is not the case – including for all controversial issues - Command Media Operations branches must ensure that the Regional Press Officer is informed of proposed contact at the regional or local level. The DGMC Regional Press officer will refer contentious issues to the D News Press Office. Where there is a risk of a regional or local issue becoming a national issue, D News Press Office will take over the lead handling responsibility. This reflects DGMC’s primacy in all matters relating to news media and communicating in public.

(2) National News Media. D News’ Chief Press Officers will be required to authorize all contact with the national news media, whether it be proactive or reactive. D News will seek advice as necessary from the single Service ADs in D Def PR and will judge whether Ministers need to be consulted.

(3) International Media or Contact with Media Abroad. Permission for any contact with international media in operational theatres is determined by DGMC in conjunction with PJHQ. Outside operational theatres, there are a significant number of visits which include interaction with foreign media. Where this occurs at local or regional level, it is normally sufficient for permission to be granted by the relevant Command Media Operations branch or defence attaché. Where there is the potential for foreign national media to be involved, D News Press Office is to be informed. Rules for contact with international media in UK are the same as per national media.

c. Exceptionally, some Service personnel will have a general authorization from D News personally to speak to the news media, which must be recorded in their agreed formal job descriptions or terms of reference, as set out at para J12.020d.

d. Below 1-star - Communicating in Public other than through the News Media. In all cases, personnel are to first go through their chain of command to ensure that the proposal furthers Defence interests, check the material is unclassified, that there are no operational security concerns and that the cost and effort is justified. If so, COs or Heads of Establishment may authorize the contact. But they must first take advice from the relevant Media Operations and/or Secretariat branch if there is any potential for controversy, media or national interest. If this is the case, subsequent clearance by DGMC is required, using the following channels (who will ensure D News are informed where media contact is involved).

(1) Navy personnel through their chain of command to the AD DefPR (Navy).

(2) Army Personnel through their chain of command to the AD DefPR (Army).

(3) RAF Personnel through their chain of command\(^2\) to the AD DefPR (RAF).

All personnel should bear in mind that apparently single-Service issues can have implications for the reputation of all three Services.

e. In addition:

\(^2\) RAF manuscripts are to go through PCB(AIR) in the first instance
(1) Scientific and technical material should be sent first to D Def Sy (S&T/Ind) who will forward it with their recommendations to DCP;

(2) Material on medical issues should be sent first to Service Medical Directors who will consult with DMSD (specifically with D Med F&S) if the topic is or could be controversial and will forward it with their recommendations to DCP.

f. The responsibility to observe and comply with the Official Secrets Act and with any other applicable laws, such as copyright or patent, lies solely with the individual. Classified or commercially sensitive material is not to be disclosed, and individuals are to avoid conflicting with MoD or government policy. The security or other national interest of collaborating countries must be fully protected, even where UK interests are not directly affected. Personnel should be aware that their comments might be reported and publicized.

g. Permission to publish outside MoD, if granted, will apply only to the material as submitted. Further permission is required if alterations of fact or opinion are made. The granting of permission to publish does not confer official endorsement of the material (either of its factual content or the opinions or views expressed) and this should be made clear to publishers.

h. Articles or notices for the in-house MOD or Service publications listed below on non-controversial topics can be submitted direct to in-house editors through COs or line management:

(1) Defence Focus.
(2) Globe and Laurel.
(3) Naval Review.
(4) Navy News.
(5) RAF News.
(6) Soldier Magazine.

Additionally, subject to local orders, matters intended for ship and unit magazines, and for corps and regimental journals, may also be submitted direct to editors. COs must satisfy themselves that material intended for publication does not infringe security regulations and is generally suitable. For all publications, the same guiding principles apply that the material must maintain and enhance the reputation of Defence and every effort must be made to ensure that the material does not create an adverse impact. Internal publications that also have an external profile (eg if they are available on subscription or on the internet) must follow the procedures for external clearance at sub-para c and d above.

a. Experience shows that adversaries take a close interest in information put into the public domain by MoD and look for opportunities to use it to their advantage. All personnel are reminded of the paramount requirement to protect operational security. They are also to avoid actions that might damage relations with other nations. Personnel are not to pass on any classified or other information that has not been authorized for release, including to friends and family.

b. Instructions are contained in the relevant Security Manuals about the disclosure of information to:
(1) Members of Parliament;
(2) Foreign countries and foreign nationals;
(3) Committee members, consultants and defence lecturers;
(4) Contractors.

J12.024. Payment for Speaking to the Media and Public Speaking and Writing.

a. The principle applying to the issue of payments to serving personnel should be that they are paid once for their work. It is a normal part of the duties of serving Service and civilian personnel to explain their work in public and this should not attract additional payment. Serving Service personnel are not to accept payment, royalty or fee for any activity which would, or could be perceived to, involve the disclosure of official information or draw on official experience. This includes all contact with the media such as interviews, articles or briefings, and any other public disclosure (e.g. books, public speaking, conferences etc.). Where an organization offering payment insists on making a donation to charity, the choice of charity must lie with the organization offering the payment.

b. Payment to an individual for information or speaking may be authorized only if the subject matter falls entirely outside official work, or use of official information or experience, and has been prepared in an individual’s own time, without using any MoD resources. Examples could be historical works, fiction or regimental histories. COs or Head of Establishment, Department or Division should be consulted in the first instance to ensure this is the case. If in doubt they should take advice from their Media Operations and/or Secretariat branch who should in turn consult DGMC staff in accordance with para J12.022c if uncertain. If authority to proceed is given, individuals are to make clear that they are not acting in an official capacity.

PART 3 - PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICERS

(Sponsor: DDC via AMC)

Public Relations – General

J12.030. While observing the need for security and the confidentiality of many Service transactions, members of the Armed Forces have a responsibility for maintaining good relations with the public and the Press. The regulations in this chapter are supplemented by 2016DIN03-029 - Contact with the Media and Communicating in Public. ‘Press’ includes not only newspapers and periodicals but also other publications, radio and television, films, video, social media, and the Internet, ie all information media. It should be noted that the DIN also covers communicating in public and online engagement as well as contact with the media. The rules and authorisation procedures governing contact between members of the Armed Forces and Defence civilians and Parliamentarians are detailed in 2016DIN05-25 - Contact with Parliamentarians.

Visits by Press Representatives

J12.031. Commanding Officers must ensure that instructions governing the admission of Press representatives to HM ships, units and establishments and the facilities to be granted in connection with such visits, are carefully observed. If in any doubt whatsoever, early contact is to be established with Army HQ, AMC or the Command Media Staff if deployed as part of a Task Group.

Incidents Liable to Cause Parliamentary or Press Comment

J12.032. In general, the preceding regulations deal with the control of information and the release of it to the Press. It is equally important, however, that Commanders and senior officers and, as appropriate, officers in command of detached units should provide the Ministry of Defence, specifically the Directorate of Defence Communications (DDC) with the earliest possible official information of any incidents, occurrences or unusual events in which the Royal Navy, or the Army or the Royal Air Force is involved and which may be liable to form the subject of comment in Parliament or in the Press.

J12.033. When it is impossible for a full account of any incident to be rendered before the facts have been thoroughly examined, an incomplete account should be sent at the earliest moment, followed in due course by any detailed report considered necessary.

J12.034. Where such an incident occurs in a detached unit, the Commanding Officer is to inform the Ministry of Defence direct by immediate signal, and such other authorities as may be laid down in local orders. The Defence News Office is manned 24 hrs a day and can be reached on Main Building Ext. 87907 or through the Whitehall Operator.

ANNEX A(J) TO CHAPTER 12 PROCEDURE FOR SEEKING PERMISSION TO SPEAK IN PUBLIC, TO LECTURE, OR TO WRITE FOR PUBLICATION

Public Speaking

1. Applications for or proposals by Service personnel to make public speeches (see Note 1) or film, radio or television appearances, or to communicate with the press or other non-Governmental bodies are to be made as follows:

   a. Personnel serving in Ministry of Defence headquarters are to seek prior approval from the Director General Media and Communication (DGMC), through the appropriate Service Assistant Director Defence Publicity and the individual's director, or head of personnel division, department or division (see Notes 2 and 3). Two star officers and above must seek approval from Ministers. Exceptions to this rule are authorized for Meteorological Office Staff and for certain other individuals whose duties bring them into regular contact with the press, but the DGMC should be consulted in any case of doubt.

   b. Personnel serving outside Ministry of Defence headquarters are to seek the prior approval of the CinC or head of establishment, or of the officer, official or authority to whom their responsibility for giving approval in accordance with the regulations in paras J12.005 – J12.023 has been delegated. In unusual circumstances, or in any case of doubt, the CinC or head of establishment, or their authorized representative, is to consult the DGCC, through the appropriate Assistant Director Defence Publicity. If there is insufficient time for the necessary consultation the invitation should normally be refused (see Note 3).

2. It may be desirable and useful to seek permission in principle before embarking on the preparation of the full text where the activity is to be given advance publicity.

3. See also para J12.022 concerning payments for broadcasting, lecturing or writing for publication.

Lecturing or Writing for Publication

4. Application by Service personnel for permission to publish any book, monograph, article, letter or other textual material, to give a public lecture or to put forward any thesis for a degree or diploma are to be submitted in the first instance to the author's commanding officer or head of establishment. This includes the publication of official information for public access on the Internet or any other electronic or communications medium. Material submitted for open publication must be 'Unclassified' and applicants, or their commanding officers should seek guidance as necessary from the appropriate security authority. Unless covered by paras 3 - 4, applications are then to be submitted as follows:

   a. Navy and RM personnel to Assistant Director Defence Publicity (Navy) (AD Def Pub(N)).

   b. Army personnel to Assistant Director Defence Publicity (Army) (AD Def Pub(A)).

   c. Air Force personnel to PCB (Air).

   d. Equipment Capability, Defence Procurement Agency, DLO and Defence Operational Analysis Organization (DOAO) personnel to HQ Sy (S&T) 2.

   e. Other civilian personnel to the DGMC.
5. The clearance authority should refer material which appears to come within the scope of a 'DA' Notice to the Office of the Defence Press and Broadcasting Advisory Committee (DPBAC).

6. Material on scientific or technical subjects is to be sent by the author's commanding officer or head of establishment/Division including Ministry of Defence staff to HQ Sy (S&T) 2 who will forward it with their recommendations to AD Def Pub(N), AD Def Pub(A) or PCB (Air) as appropriate.

7. Material on Army and RAF medical subjects should be forwarded to the appropriate clearance authority through single service Medical Directors. Instructions for RN Service medical subjects are contained in BR 1991 (Instructions for the RN Medical Service).

8. No commitments or negotiations with private publishers or the organizers of lectures or discussion groups may be entered into before authority is obtained. Authors who wish to make forward plans or to give advance publicity to any such activity are advised to submit a brief synopsis of the text for approval in principle; the full text should then follow as soon as possible. Copies of the full text must not be forwarded to publishers or other outside bodies before full approval has been given and it must be made clear to any organizers that participation is subject to clearance of the full text.

9. Texts should be complete with illustrations, drawings, etc.. They should be typewritten and submitted in duplicate. Material for clearance should reach the appropriate clearance authority as soon as possible and not later than three (clear) weeks before it is required, as controversial and technical material or lengthy books may take a considerable time to clear. Cases of special urgency can be considered on their merits. If however, the work is based on or includes any element of official material, information or experience, additional problems of Crown copyright may have to be referred to the Ministry of Defence Library (Crown Copyright Section) and the agreement of The Stationery Office may have to be obtained before authority to publish can be given.

10. Applicants should state in the submission to their commanding officer or head of establishment whether or not:

   a. The work has been carried out in the course of official duties.

   b. Use has been made of official material (published or unpublished) either by inclusion of extracts from official documents or by the use of official documents as a basis for the work.

   c. The work includes non-official material (eg material obtained from a commercial or private source) and, if so, if the owner of the copyright has given written permission for its use.

   d. The work was done in official time, the author's own time, or both; if the last, the proportion should be stated.

   e. Official typing or reproduction facilities were used in preparing the manuscript.

   f. A fee or other payment is expected; if so, the amount should be stated (see para J12.002).

11. Applications should be referred to the author if the submission omits any of the above points on the MOD Form 655.

12. The individual's commanding officer or head of establishment, department or division should state whether or not they recommend publication when they forward the application to the clearance authority. Their comments should accompany that statement whenever they consider it necessary to comment on any aspects of the application and particularly where the material deals with scientific, technical or medical matters which are the concern of their establishment, department or division.

13. Permission to publish will apply only to the text as submitted; if any alterations, other than of a purely editorial nature, are made after permission has been given, further authority must be sought for the alterations. The granting of permission to publish does not confer official endorsement of the content of the text; statements tending to imply that official approval has been given, or references to the fact that permission has been granted, must not be included in any part of the text and are not to be made separately. A copy of the text will be retained by the Ministry of Defence for reference.

14. Material intended for publication in the journals listed below may be submitted direct to the editors, who will obtain clearance on policy and security grounds as necessary from Service Directors of Corporate Communications or from the Ministry of Defence publication clearance authorities as appropriate;

- RUSI Journal
- Naval Review
- Army Quarterly Defence Journal
- British Army Review
- Air Clues
- Navy News
- Soldier
- RAF News
- Dockyard newspapers
- The Officer

15. Subject to local orders, matter intended for ship and unit magazines, and for Corps and Regimental journals, may also be submitted direct to the editors. Commanding officers must satisfy themselves that material intended for such publications does not infringe security regulations and is generally suitable, having regard to all the considerations set out in this chapter.

16. Articles or notices concerning social or athletic matters which do not contravene the provisions of security regulations may be published without authority from the Ministry of Defence.

Notes:
1. Public speeches should be submitted for prior clearance under the procedures for lectures (para 4) if their text is likely to be published afterwards, or quoted by a broadcasting authority, newspaper or magazine, either in whole or in part if they contain scientific or technical data, or if they comment on procurement Executive projects, so that they may be fully cleared in all respects, including Crown copyright aspects.

2. Because service in the Ministry of Defence is likely to be regarded as conferring a special degree of authority or importance on statements made by an official speaker, Ministerial approval will be sought by the DGMC in all cases concerning personnel serving in the Ministry of Defence.

3. Normally, permission to express views on politically controversial issues will be refused. For any exception to this rule, the DGMC will seek the prior approval of the Secretary of State for Defence.
CHAPTER 13
ESTATE, WORKS AND LANDS

The Defence Estate

J13.001. The Defence estate consists of all land, water and buildings and other structures owned or used by the Ministry of Defence and the Armed Services.

J13.002. Top Level Budget (TLB) holders are responsible for the efficient management of the Defence estate. Within the Ministry of Defence, the Defence Estates (DE) provides a defence wide strategic overview of the management of the estate and maintains the full range of professional services to assist the TLB holders in the discharge of their responsibilities.

Responsibility for Works Services

J13.003. Works services are divided into projects and property management. Financial limitations set by the Treasury determine the separation between the two categories.

J13.004. Specific guidance on property management and projects are contained in Joint Service Publications (JSPs) 434 (Property Management) and 435 (Works Projects).

J13.005. The responsibility for the planning, design and construction of works projects to meet Service requirements and for the management of existing buildings in the United Kingdom and overseas lie with the appropriate budget holder, with policy, procedural, contractual and technical guidance available from central Ministry of Defence sources. Exceptions to this are:

a. Royal Engineers (RE) are responsible for works services on operations, in overseas locations not staffed by the DE, RN or RAF when the operation is mounted.

b. Particular commitments for restoring overseas airfields to their operations state with all speed: these situations occur in the event of hostilities when it is not possible for the normal Ministry of Defence works services procedures to effect repairs immediately and RE are ordered to do so by the CinC.

J13.006. The DE provides a central focus for works policy regarding projects, property management, upkeep of historic buildings and liaison with governmental and non-governmental departments, including local authorities. It is responsible for the promulgation of "in-house" professional technical advice, standards and procedures on works matters; procuring technical expertise from industry on behalf of budget holders; and letting works contracts. It also acts as an interface between the construction industry and Ministry of Defence works staff. It is responsible for rationalization of the Ministry of Defence estate including sales and acquisitions of land and buildings.

J13.007. The Ministry of Defence is required to fulfil its statutory obligations concerning the upkeep of buildings which are listed or scheduled as ancient monuments (protected buildings). Budget holders, with advice from the DE, are responsible for providing the necessary funding and estate management.

Property Management

J13.008. Management of the Ministry of Defence estate is the responsibility of appropriate TLB holders who appoint Property Managers (PRPMs) to oversee the works maintenance programme for one or more establishments within the estate. Depending upon the size of the establishment a PROM may have an assistant (an assistant PROM (APROM)) or in the case of the RAF, an OC Works Services Flight (OCWSF). The PROM represents one or more budget holder’s interest as clients and is able to call upon advice from two professional civilian sector organizations, the Establishment Works Consultant (EWC) and the Works Services Manager (WSM), and from the DE. The PROM is the designated officer in the works maintenance contracts let to the EWC and WSM.

J13.009. The EWC is a commercial professional organization, contracted to supply PROMs with multi-disciplinary professional advice, and for determining the condition and maintenance needs of the estate; the forward planning and budgetary information required to meet these needs; how to maintain the asset value within the funds allocated; and quality control. The EWC provides an independent audit of the WSM. The EWC is appointed by the DE, after open competition, on a fixed fee contract except for those appointed under the tied-site arrangements and on those sites served by RE personnel.

J13.010. The WSM is a separate commercial professional organization and is appointed in a similar way to the EWC. The WSM implements the property management programme, under the direction of the PROM, using approved subcontractors or directly employed labour.

J13.011. The PROM will interface with regional offices of the DE for advice on buildings, property management, works technical advice and lands issues.

J13.012. Details of property management are contained in JSP 434 (Property Management). Further guidance can be found in JSP 414 (Management Strategy) and advice and instructions issued periodically by the Ministry of Defence.

Capital Works Projects

J13.013. Whenever it is proposed to construct, refurbish buildings or other facilities where the cost is estimated to be of project proportions either for the use or benefit of Ministry of Defence personnel or upon land appropriated for such use, the user is to submit the proposal, through the chain of command, to their TLB holder (or lower budget level depending upon levels of financial delegation). Once the TLB holder, after seeking appropriate advice from the DE and specialist advisers, has agreed to the proposal and included it in the management plan, a project sponsor and subsequently a project manager, will be appointed to take the project forward. Financial limitations set by the Treasury as laid down in JSP 414 (Management Strategy) will determine which projects will have to be submitted to the Ministry of Defence for approval. Specific guidance is available in JSP 435.

J13.014. No changes or modifications are to be made to any works brief without the authority of the authorized sponsor and/or budget holder given in accordance with JSP 435.

J13.015. On project completion the project sponsor is to form an acceptance board convened by the appropriate budget holder, for works certified by the project manager as being satisfactorily completed. The function of the board is to provide the mechanism to formally accept the project and assume the responsibility for the subsequent maintenance and management of the facility by the property manager. Further details are contained in JSP 435.

Naming or Renaming of Barracks

13.016. When a barracks, camp or road is to be named or renamed a suggested name is to be submitted by the command or headquarters concerned for approval by the TLB holder concerned. If the proposal affects more than one TLB holder and there is conflict between the TLB holders, the matter is to be referred to the Ministry of Defence (DGS). If the proposed name is that of a Member of the Royal Family or a famous person who has died within the past 20 years, the Royal Assent or the agreement of the next of kin of a deceased person for such use will be obtained by the Ministry of Defence (PS 12(Army)). It is undesirable for the names of persons in the following categories to be used for the naming of barracks, camps and buildings within establishments and married quarters:

a. Serving members of the armed forces.
b. Retired officers re-employed and remunerated from public funds.
c. Serving members of the Civil Service.

13.017. The command or headquarters will publish the new name in its routine orders.

Reappropriations and Disposal of Buildings

13.018. It is the duty of a commanding officer or head of a service to bring to notice any reappropriation that, in their opinion, would lead to economy and be of advantage to the Service. Applications are to be submitted to the next headquarters, which is to consult the appropriate Higher Level Budget (HLB).

13.019. Subject to the following conditions, a reappropriation may be sanctioned by the appropriate HLB holder:

a. Only accommodation or buildings, other than Service Families Accommodation (SFA), authorized in the Services Accommodation Code (JSP 315) or Barrack Synopsis will be considered.
b. Space assigned to mobilization stores is not taken.
c. The cost of any works services involved is to be within delegated powers of approval and are subject to funds being available at the appropriate budget level.
d. A special or unauthorized issue of furniture or equipment is not involved.
e. In the case of an effective work of defence, the reappropriation must not affect the object for which it was constructed.
f. Accommodation stores to meet the new requirement are available locally without detriment to normal maintenance requirements.

13.020. All other cases require the sanction of the appropriate TLB holder. Each proposal is to be detailed on AF K1318 in duplicate, and is to be accompanied by a letter explaining the necessity of the service and the benefits to be derived from it. It is important that the plans should be in sufficient detail to illustrate clearly to anybody not personally acquainted with the situation the effect of the proposals and the structural alterations involved.

13.021. A board assembled to report on reappropriations, on sites for buildings, on new buildings or on SFAs considered unfit for further occupation, will consist of a field officer or retired officer Grade 2 as president; the project sponsor in the case of new buildings; a regimental officer; the PROM or APROM; a DE (works and/or land) representative; the OIC barracks; in the case of SFAs, a medical officer; and a representative of the Defence Housing Executive (DHE); and any other officers or civilian consultants concerned, according to the matter to be considered. The regimental officer will not be required if a regimental field officer is president. At the discretion of the convening officer, warrant officers or senior NCOs from the formation concerned may be detailed in place of the officers other than the field officer.

13.022. In minor cases not affecting SFAs it will be unnecessary to assemble a board, but the opinion of the commanding officer of the unit and of other officers concerned is to be obtained.
13.023. HLB holders are to maintain a master register of all reappropriations and misappropriations.

13.024. Proposals for the demolition of Ministry of Defence (Army Department) buildings are to be dealt with as follows:

a. When forming part of a general modernization or rebuilding scheme, all proposals for the demolition of temporary or permanent buildings are to be submitted and dealt with as part of that scheme.

b. When connected with a reappropriation proposal covered by para J13.015 the proposals are to be submitted to the appropriate TLB holder on AF K 1318.

c. When the buildings or huts are situated on Ministry of Defence land that has been declared surplus, their demolition and subsequent disposal should be agreed between the TLB holder and the DE.

d. All proposals for the demolition of temporary huts and temporary structures, other than at a, b, and c, are to be authorized at HLB level.

e. Advice on proposals that affect listed buildings or ancient monuments or buildings in Conservation Areas must be sought from the DE.

Responsibility for Lands Services

J13.025. Budget holders retain responsibility for the overall management of all Defence land (land for the built estate, training land and ranges). The DE undertakes a variety of lands related tasks as an agent of the budget holder. Issues such as environmental protection are covered by management plans drawn up by the budget holder with the assistance of the DE.

Management and Disposal of Redundant Land and Property

J13.026. Ministry of Defence land and property is to be kept under continuous review by TLB holders, commanding officers, heads of establishments and, in the case of the Army, division or district commanders, in consultation with their local DE office. Land for which there is no foreseeable Defence use is to be declared surplus. Whenever the function of an establishment changes, a re-examination of holdings is to be carried out by the reviewing authority to see whether it is still necessary to retain all the land and buildings. The caretaking of unoccupied property for which there is a continuing Defence requirement is to remain the responsibility of the TLB holder.

13.027. The decision as to whether caretaking of redundant holdings is necessary or desirable will be agreed between the TLB holder and the DE. On advice of the DE, who are responsible for arranging for the caretaking of all redundant land and property in the process of disposal, the TLB holders will retain full financial responsibility for the funding and provision of essential maintenance services and security until the point of sale. The appropriate HLB holder, through the PROM, will provide the necessary management.

J13.028. In cases where only part of an establishment has been declared redundant and is awaiting disposal, the unit occupying the remainder of the site will be responsible for any caretaking and maintenance which may be necessary; exceptionally this will not apply where the occupation comprises only a retained SFA site or when the occupying unit is so small as to be incapable of this task. The DHE retains the responsibility for management of the SFA site, working through the responsible budget holder.
J13.029. Whenever a property is suspended from disposal, the responsibility for care and management of the property will return full to the TLB holder.

J13.030. Specific guidance on site closures and disposal actions will be contained in a site closure guide to be published by the DE as a JSP.
