Service Leavers’ Guide
Service Leavers’ Guide

This booklet has been produced to provide help and advice on a range of topics as you plan for your transition to civilian life. It aims to give useful information on the sort of help you can get, who can provide it and the action you need to take.

The information in this booklet is not a definitive statement of the law. All contact details were correct at time of publication.

This is an uncontrolled version once printed. Please check www.gov.uk for the latest version.

The Discharge Process

General
Before you leave, there are a number of important procedures to follow. To help you to make the necessary arrangements in the short time available, we have provided a timeline of events which appears on page 3 of this booklet. The Pension forecast request (AFPS Form 12) should be submitted using the form here.

Exiting Process
All units have their own exiting process. They will give you details of what is expected of you at unit level and you should follow that direction in conjunction with the advice given in this guide.

Medical and Dental
A full medical examination is required before you leave; this should be carried out approximately 3 months before your last day of service.

If you do not attend your Release Medical before starting your Terminal Leave, your discharge date may be delayed. At this appointment you may be given documentation for you to pass to your NHS surgery, you should ensure that you have a copy of any repeat prescription to pass to your new surgery.

There is no mandatory requirement or provision for Service Personnel (SP) leaving the Armed Forces to have a dental assessment or inspection prior to doing so. SP who wish to receive a last dental inspection and course of routine treatment whilst serving should do so by arranging an appointment at their unit dental centre at least 6 months prior to their anticipated leaving date. On discharge from the Armed Forces, SP will need to register with an NHS dental practice in order to be able to access NHS dental care. Their Service dental records will be archived centrally thereafter and are not forwarded onto their chosen NHS practice.

For those leaving the Armed Forces via their Personnel Recovery Unit or unit command (under Wounded, Injured, Sick protocols), additional positive handover support for your continuity of care will be put into place.

Health and Well-being
Leaving the Armed Forces can be a stressful time, so looking after your health and wellbeing is important. As part of this, make sure you register with an NHS GP and find a dentist wherever you settle after you leave – do not leave this until you urgently need to see a doctor or dentist. If you have a family, it is important that they register with an NHS GP and find a dentist too.

A good way to find out what NHS services are in your local area including any Veteran specific services is to visit the NHS website of your country. Details of these can be found on page 44.

When you do register with an NHS GP, tell them that you are a Veteran so they can put this in your patient notes. Being flagged as a Veteran will not only help to ensure that you are able to access Veterans’ priority health services, such as those for mental health, hearing loss, limb amputation and wheelchairs but as part of the Armed Forces Covenant, you may be able to receive priority treatment for a condition which relates to your time in service, subject to clinical need. See page 44 & 45 for more information.

As part of your registration you will need to complete a Family doctor services registration (GMS1). This is available from any GP surgery or online at www.nhs.uk (search for GMS1). If your new GP has problems obtaining your military records, you should contact the relevant single Service Disclosure sections to obtain copies.

For those leaving the Armed Forces who wish to receive a last dental assessment or inspection prior to doing so.

Your JPA Record
It is important that you keep your JPA record up to date, especially during the months leading up to your discharge date. Information from your JPA record is used for a number of different things including: pension payments, setting your reserve liability, delivery of your Certificate of Service, HM Armed Forces Veteran card, Veterans Badge, P45 and Will Form (if held).

You are able to change some of the details yourself whilst others require the assistance of Unit HR Admin. You must update your permanent home address details with your post discharge address. This is vital as your P45 and all other post discharge paperwork will be sent to this address. Once you have changed your permanent home address, ask your Unit HR Admin to annotate this address as your “Primary Address” on JPA. You should also update your Data Protection preferences. If you are unsure about any of this, you should approach your Unit HR Admin.

You can access your Statement of Earnings via the Internet, through the Defence Gateway site: www.defencengateway.mod.uk

For those Subject to Immigration Control
Seek guidance in order to ensure that applications for Settlement/Leave to Remain in the UK are made at least 10 weeks before discharge date, to enable access to public funds, housing assistance and eligibility to work upon discharge. You will have to pay for settlement.

These arrangements do not cover Northern Ireland, where the aim is that all patients should have access to treatment within a reasonable timescale.

For Foreign and Commonwealth Service Leavers Subject to Immigration Control
The MOD has the responsibility to notify the Home Office UK Visa and Immigration of non-British personnel who are discharged, or about to be discharged from Service. At least 12 weeks prior to discharge, it is the Service Leaver’s responsibility at their own expense, to regularise their immigration status and that of their spouse/civil partner and dependents with the Home Office UKVI prior to discharge.

Service Leavers Pack

Following your discharge date you will receive a Service Leavers Pack (SLP) containing your Certificate of Service, HM Armed Forces Veteran card, Veterans Badge and returned Will Form (if held). Please note, if the SLP is returned to DBS and not claimed within 6 months the HM Armed Forces Veteran card will be destroyed and you will need to apply to Vets UK to request a new card to be produced and the MOD Medals office for your Veterans badge to be issued. For a replacement Certificate of Service please contact the JPAC, Tel. 0800 085 3600. Your Will if it was held previously by the DBS Document Handling Centre (DHC) will be returned to storage.

The Certificate of Service contains all relevant information for your period of engagement and includes details from all assignments where multiple assignments exist. It is intended as a personal record and a summary document to pass to future employers.

A draft certificate will be produced at unit level and it is your responsibility to review the information contained and identify any errors.

Some information such as Reserve Liability will not appear on the draft certificate; this is because the information is not entered onto JPA until nearer your discharge date.

For all blank fields it is important that you understand what data should be present in order to check it is correct when you receive your finalised Certificate of Service. Your initial HM Armed Forces Veteran card will be produced automatically as part of the discharge process using your latest contact details and ID Card photo.

Private Email and Data Protection Compliance

You are encouraged to record your private email address (eg @hotmail.co.uk) on JPA under Personal Information. Your email address could be used to provide you with information both during your service and following your exit, in accordance with your preferences as recorded on JPA. You should record your Data Protection Legislation Compliance preferences by self-service or by submitting a JS Form JPA N003 (Data Protection Legislation Compliance Update by Proxy).

Mail

You must remember to give your discharging unit’s mail office a forwarding address. If you live in Service Families Accommodation (SFA) we recommend you use the Post Office redirect service. You can get more information about this from any Post Office or visit: www.royalmail.com

Personal References

If you would like a personal reference, your line manager, without obligation, may be able to provide you with one. You must arrange it yourself, please allow plenty of time.

Security

If you have travel plans remember to check with your security staff. This applies for 2 years from your discharge date, unless you have DV clearance, in which case it applies for 5 years.

Service Clothing and Equipment

These must be returned before you start your Terminal leave, but you will retain some items if you have a Reserve Liability.

Leaving MOD Accommodation

Occupants of Single Living Accommodation (SLA) should make arrangements to hand accommodation back. If you live in SFA your accommodation charges may go up if you do not move out. Make sure you notify Defence Infrastructure Organisation (DIO) of your discharge date. You can contact the DIO’s Loss Of Entitlement Team on:

Tel: 01904 41 8000
Email: DIOSDAccn-LOETeam@mod.uk

If you are vulnerable to homelessness, the MOD has a duty to refer you to the local authority of your choice (with your approval).

Terminal Leave

If you have completed your training and served over 6 months, you will be entitled to Terminal leave. You will get one day for each completed month of reckonable service up to a maximum of 20 days.

Terminal leave is the same as any other leave but you are free to take up paid civilian employment during this time.

If you are admitted to hospital during your Terminal leave make sure that your family, friends, or the hospital staff contact your unit to let them know the nature of your illness or injury and the length of time you expect to be in hospital. Your last day of service may be extended to cover the period you are an in-patient.

Armed Forces Act 06

You are subject to the Armed Forces Act 06 until your discharge date. Once you have left the Service you can still be charged with any offence committed against the Act while you were still serving, provided this takes place within six months of your discharge date. For the purposes of any disciplinary action you will be treated as an ex-Regular and will be tried by Court Martial.

Re-joining After Your Discharge Date

If you want to re-join the Services after your discharge date you should apply to a National Recruitment Centre. Re-joining will depend on your past record, an interview and current vacancies. If you re-join soon after leaving you may be able to do so in the same rate or rank held on exit. Your previous Regular reckonable service may count towards seniority, pay and pension. You are advised to check the impact on any pension/EDP payments/benefits prior to re-joining.

Please read the AFPS Re-employment Booklet MMP 116
Travel Entitlements on Discharge

If you discharge at your own request, travel expenses to your civilian address will not be paid unless you have more than 4 years’ service.

The amount you can claim will depend on your country of attestation and where you are serving at discharge. Once you know your discharge date, and where you will be travelling to, your discharging Unit HR Admin will be able to give you more information.

Applications for travel should normally be arranged through your Unit HR Admin and Unit Travel Office. They must give approval before any arrangements are made.

Claims for motor mileage allowance (MMA), actual public transport costs or additional fees should be made on JPA or through completion of a JPA Form F016.

You should make sure you submit all claims using JPA if you have access, if not, complete JPA Form F016 and submit manually to your Unit HR staff before going on Terminal leave.

Payments will be made through JPA direct to your bank account. JPA Form F016 can be obtained from your HR staff or downloaded from the JPA portal if you are unable to log onto JPA.

Please note – all claims may be subject to audit, so to avoid any delays, provide copies of receipts.
Resettlement, Jobs and Housing

Less than 4 years’ Service or compulsorily discharged: CTP Future Horizons

All Early Service Leavers (ESLs) that have completed less than 4 years’ service, or who have been compulsory discharged and had resettlement provision removed, will be referred to the CTP Future Horizons team.

Personnel are given employment support for up to two years, as well as addressing any barriers in gaining employment.

Alternatively, some may opt to go into education, apprenticeships, or training, and CTP Future Horizons will support ESLs in achieving their preferred goals.

4 – 6 years’ Service: Employment Support Programme (ESP)

The Employment Support Programme (ESP) can be accessed by eligible personnel up to one year prior to discharge and includes a one day Job Skills Workshop (JSW) to help with CVs, interview techniques and more. Plans can be discussed with a Client Service Advisor (CSA) and Service leavers can attend a wide range of job finding support, employment events, access (on a standby basis) to vocational training courses and access to the wealth of online information on the CTP website. Support continues for two years post-discharge.

6 or more years’ Service or medically discharged: Core Resettlement Programme (CRP) - continued

Service leavers gain access to the locked areas of the website containing regularly updated information on careers, jobs and regional trends, plus tools to help with CV preparation, planning the resettlement journey and self-marketing.

CTP also provide a large range of vocational training courses to fill any gaps between military and civilian qualifications or to retrain for a new career. They also run a wide assortment of employment events including nine large Employment Fairs around the UK.

Career Transition Partnership (CTP) Support

Most people spend more time planning their next holiday than they do planning their next career! MOD allows Service leavers the time and opportunity to plan for a successful future. From creating a CV through to learning interview skills, plus researching and applying for jobs, the wealth of support that CTP offers can help you not just with your first civilian job, but throughout your working lifetime.

The programme is delivered at 10 Resettlement Centres in the UK, along with the Resettlement Training Centre in Aldershot. It is vital that you can sell yourself effectively to employers through your CV or application form and CTP can show you how to translate your military skills into a focused marketing document. You are entitled to face to face support plus online access to resettlement planning through myPlan – your personalised area of the CTP website – and RightJob, the CTP’s dedicated jobs board where hundreds of employers are looking for ex-military personnel. CTP also offers excellent value vocational training courses designed specifically to include additional content to help fill any gaps in commercial knowledge.

Workshops and Briefings

The first step for most on the resettlement journey is the Career Transition Workshop (CTW), which enables Service leavers to identify and evaluate those skills and qualities gained during Service. This 3 day course gives attendees the time and opportunity to concentrate on their future and plan an effective use of their resettlement time. At the end of the workshop there is an opportunity to meet a Career Consultant who will be there to help create a personalised resettlement plan identifying the steps required to achieve an individual’s desired outcome and who then continues to support right up to discharge and for two years post discharge if required.

Other workshops include:

- ‘New Horizons – Moving Towards Retirement’ which looks at the many options for full or partial retirement
- ‘Self-Employment Awareness’ which considers some of the actions necessary to run a successful business.
- ‘Final Approach’ workshop acts as a refresher on the topics covered during the CTW but with more emphasis on interview practice.
- ‘Financial Aspects of Resettlement’ (FAR) Brief covers advice on financial planning.

Events

CTP runs a full programme of events introducing Service leavers to a range of employers, from nine large regional employment fairs with between 80-100 employers, to “live chats” with a specific employer. These offer an opportunity to research, network and gain insight into different careers as well as being able to apply for jobs.

The Tri-Service Resettlement Policy can be found in JSPS34.

You are responsible for dealing with your resettlement arrangements and, ideally, you will have already made contact with your Service Resettlement Adviser (SRA).

All personnel are entitled to resettlement support, consisting of time, financial support, training/upskilling, and career advice.

There are 3 lines of resettlement. The first line is your unit Resettlement Information Staff who offer you advice on your entitlement and the administrative process to access it.

The second line involves the Service Resettlement Advisor (SRA) who will give advice and guidance on the resettlement package that will best suit you.

The third line is provided by the Career Transition Partnership (CTP), a partnering agreement between the Ministry of Defence and Right Management Ltd, who are global career development and outplacement specialists and part of the ManpowerGroup.

The CTP provides an integrated service to leavers of the Armed Forces regardless of length of service. This includes advice, guidance, training and support to those leaving the military, and also incorporates RFEA - The Forces Employment Charity who provide lifelong job-finding support to Service leavers.

The amount of support available depends on your length of service and your reasons for discharge:

- 4 – 6 years’ Service: Employment Support Programme (ESP)
- 6 or more years’ Service or medically discharged: Core Resettlement Programme (CRP) - continued
- Workshops and Briefings
- Events

Service Leavers Guide | Resettlement, Jobs and Housing | 13
Online Support
Many Service leavers are happy to manage their own resettlement and a personalised CTP web area in myPlan, allows them to do this by enabling them to complete career assessment activities, compile a personal plan and a checklist and track their progress as well as giving them access to an interview simulator and a huge range of short videos made with major employers offering tips on all aspects of job search and interview. Used together with the support of their Career Consultant, this provides an effective way of ensuring success and resettlement planning.

Training Courses
As the MOD’s official provider of Armed Forces resettlement, CTP provides a range of training courses to help Service leavers succeed in the civilian workplace. Whether an individual is looking to back up their existing military experience with a recognised qualification or learn a brand new skill, CTP’s training programme is designed specifically with the needs of Service leavers in mind. Courses range from Cyber Security to Project Management, Accounting in a Small Business to Gas Installation, and all take into account the transferrable skills and personal qualities of Service leavers and are designed to give the best possible chance at interview. CTP Career Consultants are available to provide advice and guidance on choosing the right training aligned with each individual’s future plans and career aspirations with both the CTP and Preferred Suppliers who are quality monitored by CTP. Resettlement training is split into two categories, Contract Funded and Non-Contract Funded training.

Contract Funded
Training has been pre-paid by MOD and costs the equivalent of £26.70 per day from the IRTC grant for every day attended. No money actually changes hands; the grant is reduced at source. The IRTC grant of £534 “buys” up to 20 days of training and is the best way for an individual to use their resettlement allowance, as courses are heavily subsidised.

Non-Contract Funded
Training is paid for by the individual either using their resettlement grants, ELCs or by self-funding. Right Management, who are ELCAS registered, provides these courses and they are extremely good value for money.

Local Service Resettlement Advisors will advise on funding and entitlement. Further information can be found at: www.ctp.org.uk/resettlement-training

Job Finding
RightJob is the CTP’s online job finding service that lists thousands of live vacancies for Service leavers, with new ones being added every day. You can browse and search for available jobs by Industry, Location or Company Name, receive job notifications and alerts via email and submit job applications directly to employers.

RightJob is easy to use and compatible with smartphones and tablets, plus you’ll find video tips to highlight features on all key areas of the site. Registration is completed during the Career Transition Workshop.

The CTP will aim to establish the type of job you are looking for, your salary expectations and where you wish to work. This will be fed into the CTP job matching database. Finding suitable jobs for the database and matching Service leavers with the requirements of employers is a continuous process undertaken by the CTP Employment Team.

The CTP works closely with local, national and international organisations to source and match suitable job vacancies for Service leavers. You’ll receive regular job alerts based on the preferences listed in your online profile, plus employers can also search the database for Service leavers with the skills they’re looking for, and notify them of current vacancies.

The jobs on the database include all trades, grades, levels and functions, in all sectors of commerce, industry, charities and the public sector. You will also be able to access jobs beyond the UK through this database.

The Armed Forces equips its employees with a vast range of skills applicable to many industry sectors and the CTP targets a wide range of employers to promote the skills, experience and strong work ethos Service leavers bring with them after a military career. The employers themselves gain a high quality, no cost recruitment service and access to thousands of skilled and qualified individuals.

Most recently, the CTP recruitment service is being used by organisations such as Tesco, BAE Systems, Barclays, Openreach, Siemens, Jaguar Land Rover and Fujitsu, plus many more. Some of the key companies engaged with CTP and seeking to employ Service leavers can be found on the CTP website listed on the Employer Focus area at: www.ctp.org.uk/job-finding/directory

Educational Support
The Armed Forces Learning Credits Scheme helps support personal development. Standard Learning Credits (SLC) fund small-scale learning whilst Enhanced Learning Credits (ELC) are designed to provide help towards the cost of gaining further or higher education qualifications. During your service you may have registered for and made use of ELC which you can continue to claim for up to 5 years after your date of discharge. Service leavers with eligible service as defined in JSP822 who ceased to be members of the Armed Forces before 1 Apr 11, will have up to 10 years after discharge use their ELCs. Service leavers with eligible service as defined in JSP822 who ceased to be members of the Armed Forces between 1 Apr 11 and 31 Mar 16 will have until 31 Mar 21 to use their ELCs.

To help optimise financial support for Service leavers SLC or ELC can also be combined with the Individual Resettlement Training Cost (IRTCC) grant to pay towards the cost of tuition fees. If using ELC the learning must lead to a nationally recognised qualification at Level 3 or above (or national equivalent) on the Regulated Qualification Framework (RQF), Scottish Qualification Authority (SOA) or Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework (SCQF) and the course provider must be on the ELC Administration Service (ELCAS) approved list.

Additionally, Service leavers who are ELC registered and have completed the appropriate qualifying years of service, may have the opportunity to access a first full Level 3 qualification (equivalent to two GCE A levels or vocational equivalent), or a first higher education qualification (a foundation degree or first undergraduate degree or national equivalent) with tuition fees funded to a maximum of £9,000 per year of study under the Publicly Funded Further Education and Higher Education (PF FEHE) scheme.

This scheme commenced for Service leavers 17 Jul 08. An approved learning provider must be used. From the academic year commencing September 2015, Service leavers living in Northern Ireland who meet the scheme qualifying criteria, may be eligible to apply for PF FEHE support.

Help and Advice
For general enquiries about the learning credit schemes, your eligibility and the qualifications you wish to study seek advice from your single Service education/learning and resettlement adviser, not ELCAS.

The ELCAS role is to administer your application, not provide advice and guidance on your eligibility or education or resettlement needs.

Other Routes to National Further and Higher Educational Support

As well as the support for tuition fees through the Enhanced Learning Credits Scheme, there is separate Government financial help towards living costs for students wishing to study for their first HE qualification. The amount and type of help is different depending on whether you live in England, Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland, and will also depend on your household income and where you decide to study.

For students living in England the help is in the form of a loan, which needs to be paid back when you have left university and are earning over £25,725 per year, and a grant (which you do not need to pay back).

Extra non-repayable help is available for students in specific circumstances, for example for students with a disability, and for childcare.

Similar help is available for students living elsewhere in the UK.

The Joint Service Housing Advice Office (JSHAO)

What is the JSHAO?

The JSHAO is a Tri-Service focal point for civilian housing information for Service Personnel and their families wishing to move to civilian accommodation at any point in their career, and provides housing advice to those armed Forces Resettlement to assist the transition to civilian life. Delivered through briefings and Housing Matters magazine publication, JSHAO also manages the MoD Referral Scheme supporting Social Housing in conjunction with Local Authorities and their agents.

Housing Briefs

Civilian Housing: The Options briefings are held at over 60 military establishments across the UK, Germany and Cyprus. An annual programme is published and widely advertised at all Units, and available via the Internet on GOV.UK.

The briefs are for Service Personnel and/or their partner at any stage of their career, and are of particular importance to those in the last 2 years of Service or less, who have yet to sort their future accommodation plans out. The 2 hour briefs are designed to give information to allow Serving Personnel make informed choices on civilian housing.

Applications to attend any briefs at any location must be made by emailing the JSHAO Team directly.

JSHAO also offer an e-learning housing education tool via the Defence Learning Environment (DLE) (on google) for all those become available, or that applicants will be housed through the scheme.

For more information and application forms visit the JSHAO website or call the office and ask to speak to the MoD Referral Scheme Co-ordinator.

PAX and XPAX

Personal Accident Insurance

Already a PAX Policyholder?

Don’t worry, your cover doesn’t have to end.

Your PAX Personal Accident cover can continue by applying for XPAX. There will be no gap in your cover if you apply before or within 10 days of discharge.

This means you can benefit from:

✓ 24/7 worldwide cover
✓ Cover applies whatever your occupation
✓ Cover for sporting activities, traffic accidents and injuries around the home
✓ Cover for your spouse or partner under the Family Plan
✓ Free cover for your children under Family Plan or Individual Plan if you are a single parent
✓ No exclusion for death or injury contributed to by drink or drugs
✓ Monthly premiums by Direct Debit - no administration fees.

Specifically designed for members of the UK military, this type of insurance provides tax-free* cash payments if an insured person is killed or suffers the following as a result of an accident including:

• A permanent bodily injury
• A specified fracture
• A rupture to specified tendons which requires surgical treatment
• Torn ligaments to the knee or ankle joints
• Burns
• Injuries which lead to hospitalisation as an in-patient for over 5 nights.

The only difference in cover if you take out an XPAX policy is that cover for aviation, other than as a passenger, is excluded.

Not currently a PAX Personal Accident policyholder?

You can still apply for XPAX when you leave or at any time afterwards.

Please call 0333 363 4561 (from UK) or +44 20 8662 8102 (from overseas) or visit paxinsurance.co.uk for more information.

* The death benefit is paid tax-free to the deceased person’s estate, which may then be subject to inheritance tax.

PAX Personal Accident Insurance is underwritten by American International Group Limited which is authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority. The Personal Accident Insurance (excluding Personal Liability) is underwritten by American International Group Limited which is authorised by the Prudential Regulation Authority and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority (FRN number 202628).
Life Insurance

PAX Life

Following a competitive tender exercise, the contract for the provision of Life Insurance cover was awarded to AON UK Ltd. The insurance underwriters under this contractual arrangement with AON are AIG Life Limited (Life Insurance). Service Personnel leaving the service who require Life Insurance on or after 1 May 2018 will need to apply under the Life Insurance Scheme (PAX Life) arrangements. Please see 2018DIN01 061 for further details of the Life Insurance Scheme which will be known as PAX Life Insurance.

Existing SLI 365 Scheme members

Existing SLI 365 Scheme members will still be covered under their current policy with SLI 365 for Life Insurance until the end of their current policy term. Those who have existing SLI 365 Life insurance cover and do not wish to make any changes to their existing policies need take no further action. However, if you are leaving the service and currently pay for SLI365 by JPA and would like to continue cover then please contact SLI36 on 0330 134 8452 to arrange for future premiums to be collected by Direct Debit.

PAX Life Insurance

As you adjust to life outside the military, or are currently arranging your resettlement, it can be reassuring to know that your family are provided for financially should something happen to you. Available from only £7.97* a month, PAX Life Insurance has been specifically designed for members or ex members of the HM Armed Forces including the Army, Navy, Royal Marines or RAF. Life insurance is an effective way of providing security for you and your family.

PAX Life policy benefits include:

- A fixed lump sum will be paid if you die or are diagnosed as terminally ill1
- It can help you to pay off your mortgage, ease financial pressures or leave your family a financial safety net
- You will be insured anywhere in the world
- Cover is available for you and your spouse or partner
- It’s up to you how much insurance you need, up to a maximum of £240,000
- You can also choose how long you’d like it to last for, from 5 to 30 years.2

We offer guaranteed acceptance for current or previous British Armed Forces personnel up to the age of 50. Those who are over 50, and partners or spouses who are not British Armed Forces personnel, will need to answer a few simple questions about their health and lifestyle but we will provide an immediate decision after the questions have been answered.

Visit aiglife.co.uk/paxlife to find out more, or to purchase a policy online today.

Already a PAX Life policyholder?

Don’t worry, cover for yourself and if selected, your spouse or partner, will continue until the end of your chosen term at the same premium.

If you are currently paying by salary deduction you will need to call 0333 455 1546 to move over to paying by Direct Debit.

* Based on a 25-year-old non-smoker and £50,000 sum assured for a 30 year term. Valid as of 17-10-2018.
1 Subject to any exclusions included within your terms and conditions.
2 Cover must end before you reach your 71st birthday.

PAX Insurance is part of Aon UK Limited, which is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority. FP.PAX.293130
Pay

Pay Entitlement

You will be paid up to and including your date of discharge. Before the beginning of the month in which you are due to exit, or the start of your Terminal leave, you must contact your unit HR Admin staff to make sure your allowance entitlements are stopped on the correct dates.

Any overpayments or other Service debts will be deducted from your final pay and/or terminal benefits, where possible. If there are insufficient funds in the final pay and/or terminal benefits you will be contacted after your discharge regarding repayment of the monies owed. Any overpayments identified after your final pay and/or terminal benefits have been processed will also be recovered.

Address and Bank Account Information

All monies will be paid into the account used for your monthly pay unless you change the details on JPA. Where bank account allotments are in use, or more than one bank account is entered on JPA, you will need to ensure that priorities and payment instructions are correctly set up to receive the payment as intended. Any future correspondence will be sent to your nominated address.

You can change your address and/or account details on JPA online if you have access, otherwise your Unit HR Admin can make the changes for you.

If your service ends from an overseas unit and you want to be paid into an overseas account, you must have your CO’s approval, before emigrating to an overseas non EU country and accept liability for all bank charges and potential adverse currency conversion rates.

Payment of Final Balance

Your final pay will be forwarded on the payday of the month of discharge once any outstanding debts or overpayments have been recovered.

If you have any questions about your final pay and allowances, please contact:

Armed Forces and Reserve Forces Pension Schemes

This guide is not intended to replace the pension scheme regulations set out in various legislative instruments or the Your Pension Scheme Explained booklets for each pension scheme, which are available to view online. Visit GOV.UK by searching for ‘Armed Forces and Reserve Forces pension scheme guidance booklets’. Please ensure you have read the appropriate booklet for your scheme before you submit an application for AFPS benefits on JPA.

Armed Forces Pension Scheme 2015 (AFPS 15)

AFPS 15 was introduced on 1 April 2015 and the majority of members of the Armed Forces and Reserve Forces Pension Schemes have now joined AFPS15. Transitional Protection was granted to individuals who, as of 1 April 2012, had ten years or less to serve to reach their legacy pension scheme’s Normal Pension Age. If you have Transitional Protection, you will remain a member of the pension scheme you were in prior to 1 April 2015.

If you leave Service without Transitional Protection, you will retain accrued rights to the rules of the pension scheme you were a member of before the introduction of AFPS 15 and the entire pension you earned up to April 2015 is protected. If you leave with Transitional Protection and re-join the Armed Forces with a break of less than 5 years, you will re-join Armed Forces Pension Scheme 2005 (AFPS 05).

If you are a member of AFPS 15 when you leave Service, you will be entitled to pension benefits provided you have at least two years’ qualifying service.

Accrued Rights

If you were a member of a legacy pension scheme on 31 March 2015, you will have the value of your legacy pension benefits earned up to the introduction of AFPS 15, protected. This includes your Immediate Pension or the Early Departure Payment (EDP) and Lump Sum. You will be able to draw these benefits at the same time, as you would have expected to in accordance with legacy pension scheme rules. Your accrued benefits will be linked to your final rank and pensionable pay at the point of leaving service.

Pension at age 60

If you leave Service at age 60 or over, you will be entitled to a pension, which will be paid immediately.

Early Departure Scheme Payments (EDP)

If you leave the Armed Forces before age 60 but having reached age 60, and having served for at least 20 years, you will receive a one off tax-free EDP lump sum and an EDP income stream paid until your state pension age, when your deferred pension comes into payment. It is your responsibility to claim your deferred pension when it is due.

Deferred Pension

If you leave Service before age 60 having completed at least two years’ qualifying service, but not reached pension or EDP point you will be entitled to a deferred pension which is payable when you reach your State Pension Age. It is your responsibility to claim your deferred pension when it is due for payment.

The most recent information on how to claim your pension and the form to be complete is available on the GOV.UK website.

Pensions

Ill-Health Benefits

If your career is cut short by illness or injury and you have completed more than two years’ qualifying service, you will receive an ill-health award. The amount is based on a three-tier system:

- A Tier 1 award is made if you are deemed to be unfit for service in the Armed Forces because of physical or mental impairment but your ability to obtain gainful civilian employment is not deemed to be significantly impaired. A Tier 1 award provides a tax-free lump sum or if eligible, an EDP, and a deferred pension payable at your State Pension Age.
- A Tier 2 is awarded if you are deemed to have suffered a breakdown in health. As a result of which, your capacity for gainful employment is significantly impaired and is expected to remain so until you reach age 60.
- A Tier 3 award is made for the most serious conditions and is granted if you are deemed to have suffered a permanent breakdown in health involving incapacity for any gainful full time employment.

If a Tier 2 or Tier 3 is awarded, you will receive an ill-health pension, which includes an enhancement.

Commutation

AFPS 15 will not automatically pay you a pension lump sum. However, you can create a tax-free lump sum by ‘surrendering’ a part of your annual pension. This is known as commutation. HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC) currently allow up to 25% of your overall pension benefits to be taken as a tax free lump sum. The commutation rate is fixed at 12 to 1; so for each £1 of your pension you give up you will be ‘buying’ a lump sum of £12. The decision to commute your AFPS 15 monthly pension is permanent and made for life. The original pension cannot be reinstated or your decision reversed once accepted. The decision to commute must be made no later than one month before and no earlier than 6 months before your first pension payment is paid.

Inverse Commutation

If you qualify for an EDP, you will receive a tax-free EDP lump sum. You can choose to ‘give up’ your full EDP lump sum to increase the monthly EDP income. This is known as inverse commutation. The EDP is replaced at State Pension Age by the deferred pension. The decision to inversely commute the EDP lump sum must be made within the 6 months before it is due to be paid.

Resettlement Grant

The Resettlement Grant is intended to help you adjust to civilian life. You are entitled to a grant when you leave the Armed Forces provided:

- you have served at least 12 years in the Regular Armed Forces
- you are not entitled to any other immediate payments, e.g. ill-health benefits or EDP and you are not a member of the Reserve Forces.

If after receiving a Resettlement Grant, you are re-employed in the Armed Forces or employed as a full time member of the Reserves within 31 days of ceasing service you will be asked to pay back all of the payment.
Pensions

Armed Forces Pension Scheme 2005 (AFPS 05)

AFPS 05 was introduced on 6 April 05. If you were awarded Transitional Protection, i.e. those who, as of 1 April 2012, had ten years’ or less to serve to reach their Public Sector Pension Scheme’s normal pension age you will have remained a member of AFPS 05 when AFPS 15 was introduced in April 2015.

As a member of AFPS 05 when you leave Service, you will be entitled to pension benefits provided you have at least two years’ qualifying service. Your benefits are based on your final pensionable pay, that is; the greatest amount of pensionable pay you received for 365 consecutive days over the last three years’ reckonable service. This service starts from your first day of full paid service in the Armed Forces.

Pension at age 55

If you retire at age 55 or over, you will be entitled to a pension paid immediately and a pension lump sum (normally tax-free) of three times your annual pension. There is no further lump sum paid at age 65.

Early Departure Scheme Payments (EDP)

If you leave the Armed Forces before age 55, but having reached at least age 40 and have at least 16 years’ relevant service, you will receive a one-off tax-free lump sum and an income stream paid until age 65. At this point your deferred pension and pension lump sum (normally tax-free) are payable.

If after receiving an EDP you are re-employed in the Armed Forces or as a member of the Reserves you may be asked to pay back some or all of the EDP lump sum and the monthly EDP income will be suspended for the duration of the re-employment. If sufficient time elapses between the payment and the re-employment no repayment may be necessary. Please read the guide Armed Forces and Reserve Pension Schemes Re-employment available on GOV.UK.

Preserved Pension

If you leave the Armed Forces before age 55 having completed at least two years’ qualifying service, and a lesser number of relevant service, you will be entitled to a preserved pension and a pension lump sum (normally tax-free) of three times your annual pension, which is payable when you reach age 65. It is your responsibility to claim your preserved entitlement when it is due for payment.

The most recent information on how to claim your pension and the form to complete is available on the GOV.UK website.

Ill-Health Benefits

If your career is cut short by illness or injury and you have completed more than two years’ qualifying service, you will receive an ill-health award. The amount is based on a three-tier system:

- A Tier 1 award is made if you are deemed to be unfit for service in the Armed Forces because of physical or mental impairment but your ability to obtain gainful civilian employment is not deemed to be significantly impaired. A Tier 1 award provides a tax-free lump sum or if eligible, an EDP whichever sum is greater, and a deferred pension payable at your State Pension Age.
- A Tier 2 is awarded if you are deemed to have suffered a breakdown in health. As a result of which, your capacity for gainful employment is significantly impaired and is expected to remain so until you reach age 55.
- A Tier 3 award is made for the most serious conditions and is granted if you are deemed to have suffered a permanent breakdown in health involving incapacity for any gainful full-time employment.

If a Tier 2 or Tier 3 is awarded, you will receive an ill-health pension, which includes an enhancement.

Pensions

Inverse Commutation

You may opt to exchange the whole or part of your tax-free pension lump sum for an increase in the amount of taxable pension payable to you and your dependants. The value of the exchange is calculated by Veterans UK using the factors provided by the scheme actuary. Once the exchange is agreed, the pension lump sum is reduced by the amount exchanged, whether or not the pension that is to be increased as a result of the option actually becomes payable. For example, if you reduce your pension lump sum to improve both your and your spouse’s, civil partner’s or eligible partner’s benefits but they die before you, the exchange will not be reversed. This option can only be exercised within the six months before the pension is due to be paid, that is within six months of your discharge at age 55 or later, or within six months of your preserved pension becoming payable at pension benefit age.

Resettlement Grant

The Resettlement Grant is intended to help you adjust to civilian life. You are entitled to a grant when you leave the Armed Forces provided:

- you have served at least 12 years’ relevant service from 6 April 2005
- you are not entitled to any other immediate payments, e.g. ill-health pension or EDP and you are not a member of the Reserve Forces Pension Scheme, which does not offer a resettlement grant.

If after receiving a Resettlement Grant you are re-employed in the Armed Forces, or employed as a member of the Reserves, (either full-time reserve service commitment or additional duties commitment) within 31 days of ceasing service, you will be asked to pay back all of the payment.

Armied Forces Pension Scheme 1975 (AFPS 75)

Pension benefits are based on rank and reckonable service.

AFPS 75 is the pension scheme for members of the regular Armed Forces who joined before 6 April 2005. On 6 April 2015, members were given an opportunity to transfer all their service to Armed Forces Pension Scheme 2005 (AFPS 05).

If you were awarded Transitional Protection, (i.e. those who, as of 1 April 2012, had ten years or less to serve to reach their Public Sector Pension Scheme’s normal pension age) you will have remained a member of AFPS 75 when AFPS 15 was introduced in April 2015. If you leave the Service with Transitional Protection and subsequently re-join the Armed Forces with a break of less than 5 years, you will re-join AFPS 05, not AFPS 75.

Full Career (Maximum) Pension at age 55

If you retire with 34 years’ reckonable service from age 21 (Officers) or 37 years’ reckonable service from age 18 (Other Ranks), you will be entitled to a full career (maximum) pension and a lump sum (normally tax-free) of three times the annual rate of pension.

Immediate Pension

For Officers, if you have completed 16 years’ qualifying service from age 21, or 22 years’ qualifying service from age 18 (or date of entry if later) for Other Ranks, when you retire you will be entitled to an Immediate Pension and a lump sum of three times the annual rate of your pension. The lump sum is normally tax-free.

If after receiving an Immediate Pension you are re-employed in the Armed Forces or employed as a member of the Reserves your pension may be abated. Please read the guide Armed Forces and Reserve Pension Schemes Re-employment available on GOV.UK.
Pensions

Preserved Pension
If you leave the Armed Forces before reaching the point when you become eligible for an Immediate Pension, but have completed at least two years’ qualifying service, you will be entitled to a preserved pension and a lump sum of three times your annual pension. This is payable when you reach the age of 60 for service before 6 April 2006 and at age 65 for service after 6 April 2006. The lump sum is normally tax-free. You can have all your benefits paid at age 60 but they will be actuarially reduced to reflect the early payment. It is your responsibility to claim your preserved entitlement when it is due for payment.

The most recent information on how to claim your pension and the form to be complete is available on the GOV.UK website.

Ill-Health Benefits
If your career is cut short by illness or injury which results in a medical discharge or you meet the ill health condition under the scheme, you may receive an ill health pension, provided you have completed more than 2 years’ qualifying service. If you are subsequently awarded either an award under the War Pension Scheme or payment under the Armed Forces Compensation Scheme, your ill-health award will be reviewed. The review will not result in any reduction to the overall value of the award and may in some cases result in increased payments.

Resettlement Grant
If you complete more than 9 years’ reckonable service as an Officer from age 21 (or date of entry if later) or 12 years’ reckonable service as an Other Rank from age 18 (or date of entry if later) and leave the Armed Forces with no other immediate pension benefits, you may qualify for a tax-free resettlement grant. This is paid to aid your resettlement into civilian life. If after receiving a Resettlement Grant, you are re-employed in the Armed Forces or employed as a member of the Reserves (either full time reserve service commitment or additional duties commitment) within 30 days you will be asked to pay back all of the payment. If the gap is more than 30 days but less than 121 days you’ll be asked to pay back some of the payment.

Pensions
Information on Aggregation of Previous Armed Forces Deferred Pension Awards
If you have re-joined the Armed Forces, are a member of the AFPS 75 or AFPS 05 scheme; and have a deferred pension award in either scheme, you are entitled to combine your most recent period of previous service with your current service. However, if you wish to aggregate you must apply to do so in writing to Veterans UK before your discharge date as applications cannot be accepted after leaving Service. The address for Veterans UK is on page 33.

If you have re-joined the Armed Forces, you are a member of AFPS 15 and have a deferred pension from AFPS 75 or AFPS 05 you cannot aggregate your deferred pension benefits with benefits paid under AFPS 15. Deferred pension benefits from different pension schemes can only be added together to form a single pension where the two single pension schemes are of the same design. As the AFPS 15 pension scheme is a Career Average Revalued Earnings (CARE) pension scheme, any legacy final salary pensions cannot be added to it.

Reserve Forces Pension Schemes
AFPS 15 was introduced on 1 April 2015 and the majority of members of the Reserve Forces have become members of the scheme.

However, those who cannot join AFPS 15 (this will only apply to those with Transitional Protection, i.e. those who, as of 1 April 2012, had ten years or less to serve to reach their Pension Scheme’s normal pension age) will remain in their current scheme. If they leave with Transitional Protection and then re-join the Reserve Forces with a break of less than 5 years, they will re-join Reserve Forces Pension Scheme 2005 (RFPS 05).

Reserve Forces Pension Scheme 2005 (RFPS 05)
Mobilised Reservists, or those on a FTRS or Additional Duties Commitment who cannot join AFPS 15 will become members of RFPS 05.

The pension paid for each period of service will be based on reckonable service and the final pensionable earnings at the end of that engagement (the greatest amount of pensionable pay received for 365 days over your last three years of service in each engagement). Each year of reckonable service is worth 1/70th of final pensionable pay up to a maximum of 40 years. In addition to your annual pension, you will receive a one-off pension lump sum of three times your annual pension.

Members of RFPS 05 can opt out at any time in favour of a personal pension arrangement. However, they should seek independent financial advice before considering opting out. If they opt out, while remaining in service, there is one opportunity to re-join provided they are under age 60 and can prove they are medically fit. If you retire at age 60 or over you will be paid an immediate pension and lump sum. Those who leave before age 60 will receive a pension paid at age 65. If your career is cut short by illness or injury and you are medically discharged having completed more than two years’ qualifying service, you will receive an ill-health award. The amount is based on a two-tier system. If you have a serious condition, covered by Tiers 1 and 2, you will receive an ill-health pension based on your actual service, plus a tax-free lump sum of three times your annual ill-health pension.

Full-Time Reserve Service Pension Scheme 1997 (FTRS 97)
FTRS 97 is the scheme applicable to those who gave Full-Time Reserve Service as a member of the Reserve Forces before 6 April 2005. It was closed to new entrants and those starting new commitments from 6 April 2005.
Pensions

Pension Taxation

In 2011, changes to government pension tax policy were introduced. Personnel are advised to read the latest rules on pension tax which can be found on the HMRC part of GOV.UK.

Lifetime Allowance (LTA)

The LTA is the overall value of the member’s pension pot and is tested at the point of discharge or retirement. From April 2019, LTA is £1,065M and index-linked to CPI thereafter – see www.gov.uk/tax-on-your-private-pension for the current rate. You will pay tax on pension savings if you breach your LTA; an actuarial factor is applied to calculate the reduction in annual pension to mitigate the charge. HM Treasury has introduced various forms of transitional protection, Individual Protection 16 (IP16) and Fixed Protection 16 (FP16) for members who will be affected by the reduction in LTA.

Annual Allowance (AA)

AA is the amount an individual’s pension pot can grow each year. In normal circumstances, those most likely to receive a tax charge will be OF3 and above who receive a significant pay increase as a result of promotion; Medical Officers / Dental Officers on accreditation; senior officers (OF7 and above). The standard AA limit remains at £40K.

Further Information:

- 2017DIN01-18 Rules for tapered allowance Annual Allowance for Pension tax relief in tax year 2016/17
- 2015DIN01-083 Pensions Tax - Scheme Pays or In-Year Leavers
- 2014DIN01 - 162 - Pension Tax Relief - Annual Allowance – Lifetime Allowance
- 2018DIN01-128 - This DIN explains how the Pension Tax AA is calculated for Tax Year 2018-19, and the measures in place to assist affected AFPS Members; Tapered AA; “De-registering” for the Self-Assessment Tax Return (SATR) process

Leaving in the current tax year

Where an AA tax charge is incurred, the effect can usually be mitigated by using the “Scheme Pays” process. (see DIN 2014DIN01-162 - Pension Tax Relief – Annual Allowance – Lifetime Allowance). If you are a senior officer or meet at least one of the criteria below, you should contact Veterans UK as soon as possible via the contact details on page 33 to request a pension statement. If you do have a tax charge, you can elect “Scheme Pays” to meet the charge.

You may have exceeded your in-year AA if you have been:

- Promoted from a lower to higher pay scale (AFPS05, AFPS15);
- Moved on to the Professional Aviator Spine (PAS);
- Promoted Early (AFPS05, AFPS15);
- Moved to higher rate of pension supplement for Specialist personnel;
- Promoted from OF4 or above;
- Accredited as Medical Officer Dental Officer at OF2 or above;
- Promoted with a length of service in excess of 25 years;
- Purchased added years or, made Additional Voluntary Contributions or have any kind of private pension;
- Subject to a Pension Sharing Order.

This list is not exhaustive.

Helping us to Help You

Pension contact details are on page 33. If you ring Veterans UK or Pension Paying Agent (PPA), you will be asked for your name, service number or PPA reference number and your National Insurance number. If you require a forecast of pension benefits visit GOV.UK and search for the Armed Forces pension calculator or search for Veterans UK Pension Forms and complete AFPS Form 12. If you have questions about your pension, generally or want to apply for payment of your pension, you should contact Veterans UK. You should also report any relevant change in your circumstances to them.

Payment of Pension and Related Benefits

Payment will be made within 30 working days (6 calendar weeks) of your discharge date, providing Veterans UK have all the correct forms and other information needed. Any lump sum on discharge will be paid into the bank account held on JPA. Instructions to split your pay between bank accounts will apply to these payments and you should amend your JPA instructions accordingly. The pension and EDP income stream is paid in accordance with the details provided on AFPS Pen Form1.

In the months leading up to the date you are due to leave the Armed Forces you are advised to make plans to cover any financial commitments that will occur during the 30 working days following your discharge.

Our Pension Paying Agent (PPA)

All pensions or EDP income are paid monthly in arrears by Equiniti Paymaster. Payment will not be made unless an AFPS application is submitted. Please make sure you give clear accurate information and Veterans UK receives it no later than 8 weeks before your discharge date.

If you want information about payments of your pension, deductions of tax or a change of address or account details you should contact PPA. Your dependants should also contact them in the event of your death.

Disputes and Complaints

Veterans UK aim to get things right first time but if you think there has been a mistake, please let them know. Your complaint will be acknowledged within 5 working days of receipt and a full response will be sent within 20 working days. If you are not happy with the way your complaint is handled, you can ask for it to be escalated.

After exhausting the MOD’s internal dispute resolution process members can contact the Pension Ombudsman, their details are:

Making a Nomination

AFPS Form 2 was introduced to give Service Personnel who are members of AFPS 05, RFPS 05 and AFPS 15 the ability to nominate one, or more than one person or organisation to receive their lump sum on death.

It is essential that on discharge any nominations made are reviewed to ensure that they reflect the intent of the maker. It is also vital to keep nominations up to date in retirement and AFPS Form 2 can be updated after leaving service if you need to change your nominee.

A nomination is revoked if:

- the nominated person pre-deceases the member; or
- the nominated person was divorced from the member after the nomination was made; or
- the current nomination pre-dates a marriage or civil partnership that has taken place on or after 1 December 2018 (this does not apply to marriages or civil partnerships before 1 December 2018).
Pensions

MOD will pay out any lump sums due to whoever is nominated on the form, regardless of any declaration of intent in a Will or elsewhere. Failure to update nomination forms could result in the wrong person receiving the benefit.

All nominations for death benefit must be kept up-to-date by completing the nomination form (AFPS Form 2). The death benefit nomination forms are legally binding and the benefit will go to the nominee. Completing a Will does not entitle beneficiaries of that Will to receive your death in service lump sum.

If you require further information on nominating an individual or organisation to receive your lump sum on death then refer to the Your Pension Scheme Explained booklet. Visit GOV.UK and search for Armed Forces and Reserve Forces pension related matters. You can request a claim form by contacting the free helpline, details at page 36, or you can download the form from GOV.UK.

Veterans and Compensation

We use the term ‘Veteran’ to mean all those who have served in the UK Armed Forces. It does not matter how long you served for or whether you saw active service.

War Pension Scheme and Armed Forces Compensation Scheme

The War Pension Scheme and Armed Forces Compensation Scheme are both no fault schemes which mean payment is made without admitting fault. It is entirely separate from personal accident cover, such as PAX or SLI. Therefore, any accident cover that you may already hold is not taken into account when determining an award.

Any payments you receive from another organisation such as common law damages (including from the MOD) or from a third party’s insurance will be taken into account.

Any payment you may receive is tax-free.

Who is eligible?

Armed Forces Compensation Scheme (AFCS)

All current and former members of the UK Armed Forces, including Reservists can claim for any injury or illness which has sustained, or made worse as a result of service, which occurred on or after 6 April 2005.

War Pension Scheme (WPS)

You can claim a War Pension if you are no longer serving in the UK Armed Forces and you have a condition which was caused or made worse by your service before 6 April 2005.

For more details of other eligible persons covered under minor schemes within the War Pension scheme rules go to GOV.UK.

How do I submit a claim?

To make a claim:

• You must submit a claim form to Veterans UK. You can request a claim form by contacting the free helpline, details at page 36, or you can download the form from GOV.UK.

• Any claimant who has served with UKSF must contact the Disclosure Cell prior to completing the AFCSWPS0001 claim form. If you served after 1996 you will be subject to the Confidentiality Contract. You must apply for Express Prior Authority in Writing (EPAW) through the Disclosure Cell, please call 0207 7562423 and tell them you need to apply for EPAW.

• Veterans UK staff (including its welfare service) and voluntary organisations can assist you.

• You can also use one of the ex-service organisations such as the Royal British Legion.

• Once a claim has been submitted, Veterans UK will inform you in writing of the outcome.

• If you are medically discharged and are entitled to an ill-health pension from AFPS, Veterans UK will automatically consider your case without the need for a claim form. This only applies if you have not already made a claim.

The Claim Process

Veterans UK will consider claims using evidence from Service and civilian medical records. You may have to go for a medical examination. You will be kept informed of the progress on your claim.

Death in Retirement

You must ensure that your next of kin or other representatives are aware that in the event of your death, they must inform your pension paying agent (if your pension is in payment) or Veterans UK Pension Awarding Branch. On receipt of the notification of death, a letter, next of kin form and an application for dependant benefits form will be sent to the informant of death in order that any benefits due can be paid and further nominations made for the future. Completing a Will does not entitle beneficiaries of that Will to receive your death in service lump sum.

If you require further information on nominating an individual or organisation to receive your lump sum on death then refer to the Your Pension Scheme Explained booklet. Visit GOV.UK and search for Armed Forces and Reserve Forces pension related matters. You can request a claim form by contacting the free helpline, details at page 36, or you can download the form from GOV.UK.

Commutation - Taking your Pension as a Cash Lump Sum

It is not possible to cash in your Armed Forces Pension or transfer out the benefits to a scheme that will allow this. However, if the total value of all your pension funds is worth less than £30,000 it may be possible to take the pension as a lump sum using either Trivial Commutation or Small Pot Commutation (this has a £10,000 limit).

War Pension Scheme (WPS)

When to Claim
Claims can be made at any time after leaving service.

What type of awards can I get?
There are two main types of WPS awards:

- Pension, an ongoing payment paid weekly or monthly
- Gratuity, a lump sum payment.

We work out our assessment of your disablement as a percentage. If we assess your disablement at 20% or more, we will pay you a regular pension.

If your disablement is assessed at less than 20%, we will normally pay you a lump sum called a gratuity. The amount depends on the extent of your disablement and how long you are likely to be disabled.

Ongoing payments will be calculated from the date the claim is received by Veterans UK.

What happens if I do not agree?
If you are unhappy with the outcome of your claim, you can appeal to an independent tribunal.

Armed Forces Compensation Scheme (AFCS)

When to Claim
Generally you have seven years to make a claim from the date the injury occurs. There are some exceptions to this such as late onset illnesses which arise after service has ended.

You can claim for a late onset illness at any time after the event to which it relates, as long as you do so within three years of seeking medical advice.

What type of awards can I get?
There are two main types of AFCS awards:

- Lump Sum Payments. For injury or illness, AFCS provides a tax-free lump sum payment for pain and suffering, the size of which reflects the severity of the injury/illness. Lump sum payments range from £1,236 to £650,000.
- Guaranteed Income Payments. For those with the most serious injuries and illnesses, AFCS also provides an income stream known as the Guaranteed Income Payment (GIP). This is a tax-free, index-linked monthly payment, which is paid after discharge, for life. A number of factors are taken into consideration when calculating the GIP; including lifelong loss of earnings in terms of both salary or pension, as well as lost future promotions as a result of the injury.

Where a claim is made after service ends, if GIP is awarded, the start date will be calculated from the date the claim is received by Veterans UK.

What happens if I do not agree?
First, you can apply for reconsideration. This involves another Veterans UK officer looking at your original claim again. If you are unhappy with the result, you can appeal to an independent tribunal.

Inheritance tax rules state death must be caused by active service against the enemy, eg death caused by an RTA.

Deaths that are caused by service whilst on active service against an enemy; whilst on duty carrying out defined emergency response activities similar to the civil emergency services; or because the individual was directly targeted for being a serving or former member of the armed forces may qualify for the estate being exempt from inheritance tax.
Other Benefits

The Naval Service Dependants’ Fund, The Army Dependants’ Trust, The RAF Dependants’ Fund and the RAF Dependants’ (Income) Trust

The above trusts provide immediate one-time payments to the dependants of deceased Service Personnel (including Reserve Personnel). The aim is to provide for their immediate needs without having to make a claim. The payments are normally paid within a few days to anywhere in the world.

Membership of the various schemes usually stops after leaving the Service. However, the Army Dependants’ Trust (ADT) has now extended membership, at no cost, to all ex-Army Regulars who have a Regular Reserve (RR) liability, for the period of their liability, provided that they were members of the ADT during their Regular service and that they complete their Annual Reporting Letter as required during their RR liability.

It is the responsibility of members of the family to report any death to the relevant MOD branch or ADT office, otherwise no award can be made.

Regular service leavers joining the Reserves, or those moving to and from FTRS contracts, should renew their membership for benefits to remain payable.

Full details are available from the addresses below.

State and Service Charities
Other Sources of Help – State and Service

General

Most Service leavers have a successful transition to civilian life and do not need additional support. However, some do experience difficulties, just like other members of society. This might happen shortly after leaving the Services or many years later. In these cases, support is available, both from the Government and local authorities and from charities. In addition to the many support systems for all members of society, there are a number of organisations that provide support specifically for the ex-Service community.

Armed Forces Covenant

The Armed Forces Covenant is a promise from the nation to ensure that those who serve, those who have served and their families are treated fairly. The Covenant brings central Government, local authorities, charities and businesses together to help support Service leavers and Veterans in their transition to civilian life.

To find out more about the Covenant, what it means to you and see some case studies:

Visit: www.armedforcescovenant.gov.uk

Employer Recognition Scheme (ERS)

The Defence Employer Recognition Scheme encourages employers to support Defence and inspire others to do the same. Service leavers are encouraged to consider ERS employers when searching for jobs, as these business’ demonstrably value the experiences and skills that the military veterans bring to the workforce.

Veterans Information Service (VIS)

Most Service leavers adjust to civilian life easily, however, some may require assistance later on. To help individuals that may be experiencing difficulties the Veterans Information Service (VIS) will contact all leavers one year after leaving the Services, provided the Veteran has given their consent. They will offer information and advice on where to go for any required support.

HIVE Information Centres

The HIVE Information Service provides information on behalf of the chain of command to the Service community and welcomes enquiries from Serving Personnel, dependants, partners, extended families, and the wider military community including Veterans.

An extensive range of information is available, focusing on relocation information, local area information, education, accommodation, health, employment and training opportunities, childcare and travel. HIVE Information Support Officers (HISOs) research answers to enquiries, have excellent links with Service and civilian agencies and are able to confidentially refer should there be a need for personal help or support.

Latest information from HIVES is available on the local HIVE blogs.

Details of all HIVEs and links to HIVE blogs can be found at www.army.mod.uk/hives

Defence Transition Services (DTS)

DTS is a new organisation. It sits within Veterans UK and works alongside VWS to support Service leavers and their families to help them make the best possible transition from Service life. DTS will operate as part of the new tri-Service Defence Holistic Transition Policy (to be launched by MOD Autumn 2019).

The Chain of Command and those responsible for delivering in-Service welfare and transition support will identify potentially vulnerable Service leavers who in turn will be referred to DTS for ongoing support, advice and information before, during and after transition.

Both the VWS and DTS work alongside in-Service welfare providers and closely with local authorities, voluntary organisations, Service charities and other Government departments to ensure that those leaving the Armed Forces and existing Veterans and their families receive all the information and assistance they need to access the appropriate services and benefits.

Veterans Welfare Service (VWS)

The Veterans Welfare Service is part of the Ministry of Defence’s Veterans UK support function and provides one to one welfare advice across the UK and Republic of Ireland. It facilitates access to all appropriate services using a caseworker approach that offers professional help and guidance. VWS gives support to all Veterans, including those who are eligible to claim for the MOD pension and compensation schemes and their dependants.

Veterans’ Gateway

Veterans’ Gateway is your first point of contact to find whatever support you need, wherever you are, whenever you need it. As the gateway to a network of expert partners – both within and outside the Armed Forces sector - we can connect you with the right support quickly and easily, by assessing your needs at your first point of contact.

Access to Housing Advice

The Veterans’ Housing Advice service, initially provided by the Cobseo group of charities, and delivered by The Royal British Legion, Connect Assist and Shelter, has now been merged into Veterans’ Gateway. The service is accessible 24/7 and supported by a resident housing specialist located at the Contact Centre.

The team aim to support Veterans in finding, securing or maintaining accommodation by utilising the skills and resources of the Cobseo Housing Cluster, local authority contacts and other housing providers. Information can be accessed by telephone, email, live chat, social media and on the website by visiting Veterans’ Gateway/Seal Help/Housing.

Jobcentre Plus

Your local Jobcentre Plus will be able to give you advice on job hunting and advice on benefits. There are Jobcentre Plus offices throughout the country, but the national call number is:

Tel: 0345 606 0234

(Monday to Friday, 8am to 6pm).

Each Jobcentre Plus district has an Armed Forces Champion. Their role is to make sure that Jobcentre Plus offices in their district are providing support to the Armed Forces community; that includes Service leavers and their families. The Armed Forces champions do not routinely meet Service leavers or families, but if other Jobcentre Plus staff are unable to help, you can ask them to speak to their district Armed Forces Champion for advice on how to assist you.

Service Charities

Service charities are able to help Service leavers with finding a job. The two key organisations are the Regular Forces Employment Association (RFEA – for all ranks) and the Officers’ Association (OA – for commissioned officers), both of which are prepared to support former Service Personnel throughout their lives. Between them, they offer a national network of advisers who can provide a range of help.

SSAFA, the Armed Forces charity provides lifelong support to regulars and reserves, who are serving or have ever served in the British Army, the Royal Navy, the Royal Marines, the Royal Air Force and their families.

This includes emotional, practical and financial support that you can access by contacting them locally or through their national team.

More details can be found on pages 50 and 51.

Health and Wellbeing

Registering with an NHS GP and finding an NHS dentist
It is very important for continuing healthcare that you register with an NHS GP and remember to tell them that you have served. This will help your GP to better understand any service-related health conditions that you may have and ensure that you are referred, where appropriate, to dedicated services for ex-forces. You can find details of GPs practices on the NHS website at www.nhs.uk.

To register with an NHS GP, you should contact your chosen practice and ask to be included on their patient list. You will be asked to fill in a form so your medical records can be transferred to the practice. As part of this process, it is important to tell the GP practice that you are a Veteran and give your GP the paperwork that your military medical centre gave you, including any medical records. This will help to ensure your military health record transfers to your NHS health record. It will also give your GP information on your health and ensure that any ongoing care and treatment is continued.

The GP practice should flag in your patient notes that you have served. This helps to ensure that you are treated in line with the Armed Forces Covenant, meaning that you should receive priority treatment for a condition which relates to your service, subject to clinical need. It also means that where appropriate you can be referred to Veteran specific services, like those for prosthetics and mental health.

You may be worried about discussing elements of your time in service. NHS clinical staff are used to dealing with confidential and sensitive information and are bound by law to deliver a confidential service; if you have concerns about disclosing some information, you may wish to consider registering with a Veterans accredited GP surgery, if one is close to you. These surgeries often have clinical staff who have previously served in the military and thus understand the differences between military and civilian life.

It can sometimes take a while for your military health records to arrive at your NHS practice. If you have been getting hospital care or are having complex treatment, before you leave the services, you may be given a print out of your notes to give to your NHS doctor; if not, you should always ask. A good time to ask would be at your final medical examination, which is often done about two months before handing in your ID card.

If the NHS service you are dealing with is unaware of priority treatment, you are encouraged to tell them about it and ensure you have told them that you have served. You can also ask local health care commissioners, your local authority Armed Forces Covenant lead, or one of the national service organisations, such as the Royal British Legion to support you.

The NHS also provides dental care and it is important to find an NHS dentist as soon as possible, rather than wait until treatment is needed. If you have a family, they should also find an NHS dentist.

For more information on finding an NHS GP or dentist please visit the NHS website for your area, listed below. Information is also provided on accessing hospitals, opticians and pharmacists, as well as support for carers. You will also be able to find out about the dedicated health services for veterans that may be available in your area.

In England some of the priority services veterans can access are listed below:

NHS Veterans’ Mental Health Transition, Intervention and Liaison Service (TILS)

This is a dedicated out-patient service for serving personnel approaching discharge and Veterans who are experiencing mental health difficulties. It provides a range of treatment, from recognising early signs of mental health problems and providing early support, to therapeutic treatment for complex difficulties and psychological trauma. Help may also be provided with housing, employment, alcohol misuse and social support.

NHS Veterans’ Mental Health Complex Treatment Service (CTS)

This is an enhanced out-patient service for ex-forces who have military related complex mental health difficulties that have not improved with previous treatment. The service provides intensive care and treatment that may include support for drug and alcohol misuse, physical health, employment, housing, relationships and finances, as well as occupational and trauma focused therapies.

We know that families can be affected when their loved ones are unwell, so where required the TILS and CTS will support them to access local services to help ensure they get the right care and treatment.

Access to both of these services is through the TILS.

To find out more, visit:

Disability Service Centres (DSCs)

The NHS has nine DSCs across England, which have been selected to provide enhanced services to Veterans who have lost a limb because of their service in the armed forces.

More information about these centres can be found here:

Mobility equipment support

The Royal British Legion has a Veterans’ Mobility Fund, which provides specialist wheelchairs, orthotic equipment and other mobility related items for Veterans who have a service related injury and whose needs cannot be met through statutory services. To find out more, visit here.

Hearing loss and tinnitus services

If you have acquired hearing loss and / or tinnitus relating to your time in service, additional support can be funded through the Royal British Legion Veterans’ Hearing Fund. To access the service, you can be referred by your GP to your local NHS audiology department or an application form can be downloaded from the Veterans’ Medical Funds webpage.

Veterans and Reserves Mental Health Programme

The VRMHP will carry out an initial assessment of your needs and make recommendations for further treatment. Doctors are encouraged to refer to the VRMHP.

For more info on the VRMHP visit:

Big White Wall

Get support for your mental wellbeing

The ability to talk to others, particularly sharing our concerns and forging new relationships is central to our mental wellbeing. Big White Wall is your anonymous online support network, and our trained counsellors are on hand 24/7 - whenever you need us.

We are free to all military serving personnel, reservists, veterans and your family members (aged 16+).

Big White Wall offers a combination of services, including Peer to Peer Support through our moderated online community of members, self-assessments, guided support courses and a library of useful resources. As everyone is totally anonymous, there is no fear of stigma or judgement, and our Wall Guides are also on hand every day and every night, so there is always someone to talk to and every member can feel they are in a safe place.

Having worked with the Armed Forces community for several years, Big White Wall is experienced in supporting a wide range of issues such as stress, anxiety, depression, PTSD, family and relationships, alcoholism and bereavement. This also extends to loneliness and related issues in caring for those who have been injured.

Combat Stress

In addition to their routine work to help former Service personnel with mental health problems, Combat Stress operates a 24 hour helpline.

SSAFA, the Armed Forces charity provides lifelong support to regulars and reserves, who are serving or have ever served in the British Army, the Royal Navy, the Royal Marines, the Royal Air Force and their families.

WE ARE THE ARMED FORCES CHARITY
We have more than 130 years’ experience supporting our Forces, and help more than 73,000 people every year. We are immensely proud of our history, but we know times are changing.

We research and gather feedback, work with other organisations and measure our impact so we understand the changing needs of our beneficiaries. This means that we can provide the most effective support.

OUR PROMISE
The needs of our beneficiaries are constantly changing. So we change with them. We will carry on adapting our services to make sure the people we support get the help they need, now and in the future.

SERVING MEN AND WOMEN
We understand the unique demands of service life, whether it’s on UK soil or an overseas base. Whatever problems you’re facing – from debt or addiction to mental health problems – you can rely on SSAFA.

VETERANS OF ALL AGES
We work with older veterans and the increasing number of working-age veterans. From mentoring to housing advice, we have tailored our services to make sure we provide the best support possible.

MILITARY FAMILIES
Life in the Armed Forces can put a strain on family life. We’ve developed specialist services to make sure loved ones also have the support they need – with everything from healthcare and adoption to settling into life on the base.

NEED TO TALK?
SSAFA’s Forcesline is a free and confidential helpline. We provide advice and information for serving personnel, reserves, veterans and their families and is completely independent of the chain of command.

ADVICE AND SUPPORT

War Pensions and Armed Forces Compensation Scheme Advice
If you’ve suffered an injury or illness due to Service the Legion can help with appeals to both the War Pensions Scheme and the Armed Forces Compensation Scheme. Our Independent Inquest Advice service can also help if a family member has died in Service.

“The Legion really helped with my compensation claim and made the process simple. It’s nice to know professionals are there to help and guide.”

Financial Guidance
If you’re having trouble paying the bills, or you think you could be entitled to benefits that you’re not yet receiving, our team can help. Our advisers know how complex life in the Forces can be and they’ve got the specialist knowledge to help you get back on your feet, and www.moneyforce.org.uk is full of financial tips designed for Service people.

“Without the help we received from The Royal British Legion we would not be living in our home now. We’re extremely grateful for the amazing support we received.”

Immediate Needs Grants Scheme
If you’re going through a crisis and need help to meet sudden, unexpected expenses, the Legion may be able to help you. We can’t provide cash, but we can help with essentials such as food or clothing in times of need.

“I could not afford to replace my fridge freezer as it was old and beyond repair. You kindly financed a new one, I was delighted!”

The Legion provides lifelong information, advice and support for the Armed Forces community. Our beneficiaries share a background from the Royal Navy, British Army and Royal Air Force – either as serving personnel, Reservists, veterans or close family members.

Though the Legion is a national organisation, we work in local communities across the UK, delivering advice and support where it is needed most.
Poppyscotland provides life-changing support to the Armed Forces community living in Scotland, both regular and reserve. We help those who have served, those still serving, and their families, including partners, widows, widowers and children.

Welfare Support Service
Poppyscotland’s Welfare Support Service has a national capability and is delivered by staff who are equipped and trained to support individuals and families who may have multiple and complex needs.

Tailored Support and Funding
Our grants are wide-ranging and can cover home repairs, rent deposits, household goods, clothing, home start-up, mobility aids & adaptations, as well as other areas of need.

Advice
Our Kilmarnock & Inverness Welfare Centres offer advice, information and support through one-to-one contact across a range of areas, including employment, finances, benefits and housing. The Armed Services Advice Project (ASAP) provides advice through trained advisers across Scotland and a national helpline.

Employment
Our employment services include training grants, employment support for those with mental health issues, and a 5-day residential employability course.

Breaks
Short breaks can be awarded where it would be beneficial to a client’s wellbeing. These are assessed on a basis of welfare need and means.

Your Reserve Liability, Responsibilities and Opportunities

Reserve Liability
At the end of your service in the Regular Forces you will normally have a compulsory reserve liability. The length of your liability and the circumstances when you may be brought back into service depend upon your Service, rank, age, the type of commission or engagement which you entered into. This also applies to Foreign and Commonwealth personnel who settle in the UK.

Ratings/Marines/Army Other Ranks and Airmen who enlisted from 1 April 1997

If you enlisted, re-enlisted or extended your service in the Regular Forces on or after 1 April 1997, you will be subject to the legislation contained in the Reserves Act (RFA) 96. Generally, ratings and marines who do not complete 22 years’ service enter the Royal Fleet Reserve for a 3 year period followed by a 3 year Recall Liability. Ratings and marines who do serve 22 years or more have a Recall Reserve liability of 6 years or until the age 55 years whichever is the sooner.

Officers

Army Officers who were commissioned on a Short Service Commission prior to 01 Jan 16; up to 8 years or on extension to 12 years, on giving notice to terminate their service will enter the Regular Reserve for up to 6 years reserve liability for call out or for the balance of their engagement whichever is the shorter. Officers commissioned after 01 Jan 16 on a Short Service Commission of up to 12 years, on giving notice to terminate their service will enter the Regular Reserve for up to 6 years reserve liability for call out or for the balance of their engagement whichever is the shorter. On giving notice to terminate their service Officers serving on a Short Service Commission can elect to have a full Reserve Reserve liability up to age 55.

Army Officers who hold a Regular Commission on giving notice to terminate their service will enter the Regular Reserve and have a liability for call out up to age 55. Officers granted a Regular Commission after 01 Dec 16 will have a liability for call out up to age 60.

On leaving the RAF, officers serving on permanent commissions in the RAF in the rank of Group Captain or below and commissioned before 1 April 1997 have a recall liability until their 60th years. 1* and 2* RAF officers have a recall liability until age 65, and 3* and 4* have a liability until 67. RAF officers commissioned on or after 1 April 1997 and who hold permanent commissions have a liability to recall until age 55 years or for 18 years from the time of leaving the RAF, whichever is the sooner.

Generally, ratings and marines who do not complete 22 years’ service enter the Royal Fleet Reserve for a 3 year period followed by a 3 year Recall Liability. Ratings and marines who do serve 22 years or more have a Recall Reserve liability of 6 years or until the age 55 years whichever is the sooner.

Training Liability

A member of the Regular Reserve Forces can be required to train for up to 16 days in aggregate, in any one year or for such other periods as may be prescribed, none of which shall exceed 36 hours at any one time without your consent. You may also volunteer to train or take part in exercises.

Duty to inform your Service Personnel Centre

You have a legal duty to inform your Service Personnel Centre (SPC) of any circumstances which may affect your call-out or recall. These would include any change of name or address. If you believe you have become medically unfit for service in the Armed Forces, or you plan to move overseas or be abroad for a period of over 3 months.

Members of the Army Regular/Recall Reserve will receive an annual reporting letter which will be sent out on the anniversary of their discharge from the Regular Army. Reservists should complete the enclosure to confirm their contact details and status and return it to the AFC. For members of the Regular Reserve, both Officers and Soldiers, the successful completion and return of the enclosure will entitle to a payment of an annual reporting grant of £250.00. This grant is payable only for the first 5 years of any liability.

Failure to Respond

Failure to respond to a call-out or recall notice without lawful granted or reasonable excuse is an offence under the Reserve Forces Act 1996 which may be dealt with by the civil courts or by court-martial.

Opportunities

As an ex-Regular there are many and varied opportunities to serve full-time, such as on Mobilised Service, full-time Reserve Service or Military Provost Guard Service for example. Other opportunities exist, including serving on Additional Duties Commitments which is based on attendance rates of pay Reserve Service Days (RSDs) and is classified as part-time work. Notably, the Future Reserves 2020 Programme is about Defence’s aim to make better use of its Volunteer Reserve Forces and in this regard Volunteer Reserve Service offers an excellent opportunity to those ex-Regular personnel who are eligible and would like to remain in Service, but with a different commitment. As such you may also wish to consider re-engaging to, or at some future date enlist into the Volunteer Reserves (Royal Naval Reserve, Royal Marines Reserve, the Army Reserve or the Royal Auxiliary Air Force). More information on the respective Reserve Forces is on the following pages and via single Service websites.

Royal Navy Officers serving less than 16 years have a 4 year Royal Fleet Reserve(c) liability. Royal Navy Officers serving over 16 years or more have a Royal Fleet Reserve(c) liability to age 60.

LEAVING THE FULL-TIME ARMED FORCES?

CONSIDERED THE RNR?
The RNR comprises civilian volunteers and ex-Service personnel who train in their spare time to enable the Navy to meet its operational commitment. There are 13 units across the UK and NI, some of which have detached units in other major towns.

Commitment
As a member of the RNR you will normally join List 3 where you must complete: 12 days of Operational Capability Training (OCT) and 12 days of Support Activity (SA) training. This could include the opportunity to work for the Naval Regional Commander (NRC).

SA and NRC activity takes place either on evenings (equal to ¼ day of duty) or at weekends at the parent unit, another regional unit, or at an RN establishment.

The venue for the annual 12 days continuous OCT might be on board a ship, manning a shore headquarters (UK or overseas), or at a military establishment, usually in the UK.

There is also the added financial incentive that can make up for a reduction in earnings after leaving the Service. I would and do, highly recommend the reserves to any ex-service personnel.

As a member of the RNR you can maintain your military skills and get paid for doing it. You receive pay and other expenses for the time you put into the RNR. In addition, an annual tax-free bounty is payable to those who satisfactorily complete the annual training commitment.

Rewards

As a member of the RNR you can maintain your military skills and get paid for doing it. You receive pay and other expenses for the time you put into the RNR. In addition, an annual tax-free bounty is payable to those who satisfactorily complete the annual training commitment.

The Cadet Forces

As you leave the Services, you’ll have plenty to do to get settled in to life as a civilian.

But, after a while in civvy street, you may well miss Service life and its camaraderie. So, why not consider joining the cadet forces as an adult volunteer?

You’ll be able to put your valuable skills and experience to good use by helping to develop and inspire young people all over the country to achieve more in life.

In return, we offer fun and friendship with like-minded people. You could also learn new skills yourself and get nationally-recognised qualifications of real value in the civilian world – oh, and you’ll be able to wear uniform again!
