The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom

Her Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles Of The Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We AFC Huish will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- no member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen
- in some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 AFC Huish recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our Football Club. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- promoting the fact that we are an armed forces-friendly organisation;
- seeking to support the wellbeing of veterans young and old by offering an inclusive environment in which to participate in sporting activities in some capacity.
- striving to support the wellbeing through Sport of Service spouses, partners and children where possible;
- endeavouring to offer a degree of flexibility for Service players, partners and children before, during and after a deployment;
- seeking to support our Players & wider footballing community whom choose to leave the Service, become members of the Reserve forces or take civilian roles within the area, by accommodating their training and deployment where possible;
- aiming to actively participate in Armed Forces Day;
- Provide a framework of support for Service leavers, Veterans and wider Armed Forces Community whom leave the area but wish to remain affiliated with AFC Huish.

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our social media platforms, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
