The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom

Her Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles of The Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We, Safeguard Engineering Limited, will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant that are:

- no member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen; and,
- in some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 Safeguard Engineering Limited recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- promoting the fact that we are an armed forces-friendly organisation by publicising our Armed Forces Covenant on our website and displaying the Armed Forces Covenant logo;
- seeking to support the employment of reservists and veterans, young and old, by tailoring on the job training and creating a new and specialised career path;
- striving to support the employment of Service spouses and partners;
- seeking to support our employees who choose to be members of the Reserve forces, this includes accommodating their training and deployment where possible;
- actively participate in Armed Forces Day.

2.2 We will detail how those personnel who fall under the Armed Forces Covenant will be treated and suitably honoured. This will be publicised, where appropriate, through SEL's social media outlets, company website and corporate literature. We will invite feedback from the Service community and our customers on our compliance with the spirit of the Armed Forces Covenant and where improvements could be incorporated into our business practices.
