- housing benefit
- income-based jobseeker's allowance
- income related employment & support allowance – ESA (IR)
- income support
- personal independence payment
- severe disablement allowance
- social fund payment
- state pension credit
- universal credit
- working tax credit

Council tax discounts, such as sole occupancy discounts, are not considered public funds for the purposes of the Immigration Rules.

If evidence shows an applicant received public funds when not entitled to them you must refuse their application, unless they are subject to an exception.

Exceptions

Before you refuse such an application you must check the conditions on the applicant's leave prevent them from receiving public funds. There are occasions when people who are subject to immigration control can claim benefits without it being classed as breaching their conditions. In these cases the fact they have claimed public funds will not affect their application for leave. For more information, see related link: Public funds that can be claimed due to exceptions.

To note: A person who would be able to claim public funds if they were in the UK cannot rely on such a prospective entitlement to assist them to meet the accommodation and maintenance requirements in the Immigration Rules when applying for leave.

Child and Working Tax Credits

You must always check to see if an applicant is claiming Child and/or Working Tax Credits.

Child and Working Tax Credits were included in section 115 of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999 on 1 April 2003, but were not added to the definition of public funds in paragraph 6 of the Immigration Rules until 15 March 2005. This means applicants who received either of these tax credits between 1 April 2003 and 15 March 2005, have not breached their conditions of leave, and you must not refuse their application for receiving these credits. You must, however, tell HMRC that tax credits were claimed.

NHS treatment does not count as public funds for the purposes of the Immigration Rules whether it is paid or unpaid. NHS treatment or planned treatment may lead to the refusal of leave on other grounds even though it is not classed as a public fund. For example, a person may apply for leave in a category under the rules when they are actually here to access NHS treatment. An immigration application might also be refused where the applicant has an outstanding NHS debt that meets or exceeds the threshold set out in the Immigration Rules or where an applicant fails to pay an Immigration Health Surcharge when required to do so. If a person has been granted leave to receive private medical treatment and it comes to light they have received NHS treatment, you must find out if the NHS treatment was the same they were granted leave for. However, a person falling under one of the following exceptions cannot be denied a tax credit on the ground they are subject to immigration control. Exception 1 A person whose leave to enter, or remain in, the UK is subject to a maintenance undertaking and who has been resident in the UK for a period of at least 5 years, beginning on or after their date of entry into the UK, or the date on which the maintenance undertaking was given, whichever is the later. This exception applies to both tax credits, CTC and WTC. Exception 2 A person whose leave to enter, or remain in, the UK is subject to a maintenance undertaking and the person who gave the undertaking has died, or, if more than one person gave the undertaking, all of them have died. This exception applies to both tax credits, CTC and WTC. Exception 3 A person who is subject to immigration control can still claim WTC if they are both: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• a national of a state which has ratified the European Convention on Social and Medical Assistance or the 1961 Council of Europe Social Charter• lawfully present in the UK This exception applies to WTC only, not to CTC. Exception 4

A person who is subject to immigration control can still claim CTC if they are:

- nationals of a state with which the European Community has concluded an agreement for equal treatment for workers in the field of social security
- lawfully working in the UK

This exception applies to CTC only, not to WTC. Countries covered by these agreements are Algeria, Morocco, San Marino, Tunisia, and Turkey.

Exception 5

Provided one member of a couple is not subject to immigration control, or is covered by one of the exceptions to the general exclusion, the couple are treated as though:

- neither of them were subject to immigration control (as if the other partner were not subject to immigration control)
- both of them were covered by the exception that applies to the other partner.

This exception applies to both tax credits, CTC and WTC

If one member of a couple is subject to immigration control, and the couple are entitled to WTC but not to CTC, there is no entitlement to the second adult element of WTC, unless the claimant subject to immigration control falls into exception 3 above.

- Self-sufficient person
- Student

- a person who is a Family Member of a British national where they have resided together in another Member State, the British national was a Qualified Person in that Member State (in the same way that an EEA or Swiss national would be a Qualified Person in the UK as described immediately above), and they have returned to reside in the United Kingdom

Exception 4

A national of, or a person who has come to live in the UK from, a country that has a reciprocal social security agreement with the UK which covers child benefit. Countries that have such an agreement are Barbados, Canada, Israel, Jersey and Guernsey, Mauritius, New Zealand and the former Yugoslavia (i.e. applies to Croatia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Serbia, and Montenegro, and the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia).

Exception 5

Persons who were entitled to child benefit before October 1996 are not excluded from entitlement to child benefit because they are subject to immigration control.

- contribution-based Employment and Support Allowance (ESA)
- Severe Disablement Allowance
- Social Fund payment (or discretionary support payment which replaces the Social Fund)
- Universal Credit

Please note that since 2014 limitations have been placed on access to certain public funds by EEA national jobseekers. EEA jobseekers must be resident in the UK for 3 months before they can claim Jobseeker's Allowance (income-based), Child Benefit and Child Tax Credit and can then only claim these benefits for 3 months unless they have a genuine prospect of employment. New jobseekers from the EU cannot claim Universal Credit or Housing Benefit. If you believe that an EEA national jobseeker may have accessed public funds they are not entitled to, please contact DWP and/or HMRC to check (see related links).

* Croatian nationals may be subject to transitional controls restricting their access to work and from being a jobseeker. Those subject to controls are not able to exercise Treaty rights as a jobseeker and so cannot access income-related benefits. For further information see link.

How to request information from DWP

What counts as a public fund Public funds that can be claimed due to exceptions Maintenance undertakings Confirming that a person has claimed public funds Disclosure of information Action to take when applicant has claimed public funds Description of benefits and forms of support Agreements between UK, the European Union and other countries Legal background	This page tells you how to structure your requests for information from the Department of Work and Pensions (DWP). State the full details of the suspected offence A person’s application for leave will be affected if they claim funds they are not entitled to. This information is very important and you must explain this clearly to the DWP. You must not be vague or treat the immigration offence lightly. Some example wording is below: ‘I am requesting information in relation to the subject’s application for leave to remain in the UK and a suspected immigration offence. I am investigating a suspect marriage’. State what information you need You must make sure your requests are as specific as possible. Different teams in DWP process requests with different levels of detail. If you need the details of dates and the level of benefits paid, you must make it clear in your request. You must provide the applicant’s current and previous addresses to DWP. This will help them trace the correct benefit customer and respond to your request quickly. Some example wording is below: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• ‘Has the subject claimed income support between 1 November 2005 and 1 November 2007?’• ‘Please confirm whether the subject has claimed benefits whilst at this address. I do not need the details of the dates claimed.’• ‘Subject has provided the following addresses in their application...’• ‘The foreign national partner has no National Insurance Number, can you please confirm if a clerical claim for benefit is held for this subject’	Related links Checking details with DWP DWP referral forms and addresses See also Checking details with HMRC Checking details with local authorities

State how the information will help your work

You must briefly explain how the information you are requesting will assist the Home Office's work and the effect of DWP not providing this information.

Some example wording is below:

- 'This information is needed to decide whether the subject will be granted indefinite leave in the UK.'
- 'This information is needed to decide whether the subject will be refused leave to remain in the UK'

State how all other lines of enquiry are exhausted

You may be able to get the information you need from sources other than the DWP. You must consider whether you are likely to get the information you need from the applicant. If this is not possible then you must explain to the DWP why this is the case. You must include a brief sentence to explain how failing to provide the information will affect your investigation.

Some example wording is below:

- 'The subject has withheld information. They have stated they have not claimed benefits but their bank statements appear to show receipt of job seekers allowance.'
- 'The subject has not included information in their application for leave to remain.'
- 'An allegation has been received regarding the subject'

Language to use and phrases to avoid

You must avoid jargon. DWP staff may not be aware of the different paragraphs of the Immigration Rules and the different Immigration Acts. Use simple and straightforward language that explains the importance of the information you need.

You must avoid words or phrases that could make DWP think your request is just for background information. Phrases that must be avoided are:

- 'subject could be'

	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 'subject is possibly'• 'this is potentially'• 'subject may be'• 'this is a routine check'

You must consider refusing the application under paragraph 322(3) of the Immigration Rules if they have claimed public funds but their conditions of leave state they cannot access them. This is because they have breached the conditions of their stay. For more information, see related link: General grounds for refusal.

If you find out an applicant has received public funds but you have confirmation this is the result of an administrative error, or because an exception applies, you must not refuse the application on the grounds the applicant has no recourse to public funds. If the applicant was clearly not at fault and they received public funds in good faith, the benefit paying department may seek repayment.

Have they declared they are in receipt of public funds on the application form?

All application forms include a section that asks the applicant to declare whether they have received public funds.

If an applicant has received public funds that have a negative impact on their application, but not declared this on their form, you must refuse the application under paragraph 322(1A) of the Immigration Rules. This is because they have not declared a material fact when making their application. For more information, see related link: General grounds for refusal. If a person has not declared they have received public funds but they can claim these because of an exception you must not refuse under paragraph 322(1A).

Was the Public Fund awarded as the result of an administrative error?

Where the applicant provides confirmation from the awarding body that the public fund was awarded following an administrative error, you must disregard it and not refuse the application on this basis. You must still consider whether the applicant is able to meet any maintenance and accommodation requirements as indicated above.

You must then check with the relevant issuing authority whether the amount of funds the sponsor receives would increase as a result of the applicant joining them. Paragraphs 6A and 6C of the Immigration Rules explains what the position is when an applicant is not claiming public funds themselves but their sponsor relies on public funds If a sponsor needs to claim more public funds to support the applicant, you must refuse the application. It is sometimes known as AA. Carer's allowance, previously known as invalid care allowance Carer's allowance is a benefit paid to help people who look after a disabled person. A person does not have to be related to or live with the person they care for. Child benefit Child benefit is a tax-free, regular payment made to anyone bringing up a child or young person. It is paid for each child who qualifies and is not affected by income or savings, so most people bringing up a child can get it. Since 7 January 2013, if either the claimant or their partner has an individual income of more than £50,000 a year, the person with the higher income pays an additional income tax charge (the High Income Child Benefit Charge) on some or all of the Child Benefit paid to them. Child tax credit Child tax credit (CTC) is a means-tested allowance for parents and carers of children or young people who are still in full-time, non advanced education or approved training. A person claiming this benefit does not have to be the child's parent to be eligible but they must be the main person responsible for them. Child tax credit can be claimed jointly as a couple but will only be paid to one member of the couple. Council tax benefit A person who needs financial help to pay their council tax bill may be able to get council tax benefit. A person may be able to get second adult rebate if they share their home with another adult who is unable to pay towards the council tax. The adult they share with cannot be their partner.	Related links Benefits that do not count as public funds External links Attendance allowance Carer's Allowance Child Benefit Child Tax Credit Council Tax Benefit Disability Living Allowance (DLA) Employment and Support Allowance (ESA) Emergency housing if you're homeless Housing Benefit Jobseeker's Allowance

In Northern Ireland, support will be introduced for the rate rebate element of housing benefit or universal credit. Disability living allowance Disability living allowance is a tax-free benefit for children and adults who need help with personal care or have walking difficulties because they are physically or mentally disabled. This is sometimes called DLA. Discretionary Support Payments (included in definition of public funds from 6 April 2016) The Welfare Reform Act 2012 abolished the part of the discretionary Social Fund which provided crisis loans and community care grants. Funding has since been passed to local authorities in England to deliver local support aligned with their existing services, and to the devolved administrations. The definition of public funds in paragraph 6 of the Immigration Rules includes the powers under which local authorities in England and the relevant authorities in Scotland and Northern Ireland may make discretionary payments. Employment and support allowance From October 2008, employment and support allowance (ESA), income-related ESA (IR) and contribution-based ESA (C) replaced income support and incapacity benefit for new claims where these benefits have not been paid before. If a person is paid ESA because of paid contributions, for example ESA (C), it is not classed as public funds. If a person is paid ESA because of an income related allowance, for example ESA (IR), it is classed as public funds. Emergency housing if you're homeless This is not a benefit but a range of services for people in need of social housing. - housing assistance under homelessness legislation

There are certain circumstances where housing assistance must never be treated as public funds. For more information, see related link.

Housing benefit

This is paid to a person who is on low income and needs financial help to pay all or part of their rent.

Jobseeker's allowance

A person of working age but unemployed and actively seeking work, may be able to get jobseeker's allowance (JSA). A person can receive income-based jobseeker's allowance if they have not paid enough national insurance contributions or only paid contributions for self-employment and they are on a low income.

Jobseeker's allowance paid because of paid contributions, for example JSA (C), is not classed as public funds. For more information, see related link: Benefits that do not count as a public fund.

Income support

A person who cannot work full-time and does not have enough money to live on, may be able to get income support.

Pension Credit

This is payable to older people who have reached the qualifying age for the benefit to bring their weekly income up to a minimum amount. It is made up of two elements. These are the 'guarantee credit' element and the 'savings credit' element (which may be payable from age 65). The qualifying age for Pension Credit is gradually going up to 66 in line with the increase in the State Pension age for women to 65 and the further increase to 66 for men and women.

Personal independence payment

On 8 April 2013 the government introduced a new benefit called personal independence payment for eligible working age people aged 16 to 64. Eventually disability living allowances will be withdrawn.

Personal independence payment is based on an assessment of individual need. The assessment focuses on an individual's ability to carry out a range of key activities necessary to everyday life. Information is gathered from the individual, as well as healthcare and other professionals who work with and support them. Most people will also be asked to a face to face consultation with a trained independent assessor as part of the claim process.

Severe disablement allowance

A person may have been able to claim severe disablement allowance (SDA) if before April 2001 they were unable to work for at least 28 consecutive weeks because of illness or disability. It is no longer possible to make a new claim to SDA but if the person is already receiving the allowance, they will continue to receive it. It is classed as a public fund.

Social fund payment

The social fund consists of several benefits:

- a budgeting loan is an interest-free loan intended to help spread the cost of certain one-off expenses over a longer period
- Sure start maternity grants are lump sum payments to help pay for things for a new baby: they do not have to be repaid
- funeral payments are to help with the basic costs of a funeral which the applicant or partner are responsible for arranging
- cold weather payments are made to some people getting income support or income-based jobseeker's allowance and to all people getting pension credit: this is to help towards extra heating costs when there is a spell of very cold weather in the area where they live
- winter fuel payments are made to people aged 60 or over to help towards their winter heating costs

In 2013 (following the Welfare Reform Act 2012) some parts of the Social Fund (crisis loans and community care grants) were abolished. New support in the form of discretionary payments by local authorities in England and devolved administrations in Scotland and Wales (see Discretionary Support Payments above) was introduced. In Northern Ireland the Social Fund will continue to make these payments until the introduction of Discretionary Support, which is currently planned for Autumn 2016. You should contact the relevant local authority or DWP if you believe someone has received a social fund or discretionary support payment.

Universal credit

Universal credit is a new single payment for people who are looking for work or on a low income. It is aimed at helping claimants and their families to become more independent and simplifies the benefits system by bringing together a range of working age benefits into a single streamlined payment.

Working tax credit

Working tax credit is a payment to top up the earnings of low paid working people. People can claim this whether employed or self-employed. A person does not need to have children to qualify.

For more information on each of these benefits, see related links.
