

Part 1A - Effective enforcement

Code of practice for litter and refuse

September 2019

Contents

11A.0	Enforcement action – prosecution and other penalties .....	3
11B.0	Policy objectives .....	4
11C.0	Financial objectives .....	6
11D.0	Funding enforcement activity .....	7
11E.0	Training and professionalism .....	7
11F.0	Dual function civil enforcement officers .....	8
11G.0	Collecting evidence and standards of proof .....	8
11H.0	Keeping records.....	10
11I.0	Issuing fixed penalty notices in lieu of prosecution .....	10
	When not to issue a fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution .....	11
	Persistent offenders .....	12
	Issuing fixed penalty notices on private land .....	12
	Getting the offender’s details.....	13
11J.0	Issuing civil penalties for littering from vehicles .....	13
	Introduction .....	13
	Relationship between civil penalties for littering from vehicles and fixed penalties in lieu of prosecution.....	14
	Form of civil penalty notices .....	15
	Cameras, recording devices and evidence from the public.....	15
	Using the DVLA’s database .....	16

11K.0	Enforcement against young people .....	16
	Children.....	17
	Juveniles (aged 10 to 17).....	17
	Juveniles aged 10 to 15 .....	17
	Juveniles aged 16 to 17 .....	17
11L.0	Payment options.....	18
11M.0	Providing a quality service.....	20
11N.0	Considering disputes of liability, representations and appeals .....	21
	Exercise of discretion .....	22
	Handling disputes of liability to pay a fixed penalty issued in lieu of prosecution .....	22
	Formal representations and appeals against civil penalty notices for littering from vehicles .....	24
11O.0	Non-payment of fixed penalty notices in lieu of prosecution - prosecuting offenders 27
11P.0	Non-payment of civil penalty notices for littering from vehicles.....	28
11Q.0	Reporting .....	28
	Appraising enforcement .....	29

11A.0 Enforcement action – prosecution and other penalties

11A.1 Littering, the unauthorised distribution of free printed material, graffiti, fly-posting, and breach of a PSPO are all criminal offences, for which enforcing authorities may bring prosecutions in the magistrates' courts, or may issue fixed penalties in lieu of prosecution. If a littering offence is committed from a vehicle, litter authorities (district councils in England outside London) may issue a civil penalty which carries no criminal liability to the keeper of the vehicle from which the offence is committed. (See paragraphs 11A.5 to 11J.9 for more information on the relationship between these criminal and civil penalties.)

11A.2 Fixed penalties can provide enforcing authorities with an effective and visible way of responding to environmental crimes, and provide a lower-cost alternative to prosecution in the magistrates' courts. There is no obligation on an enforcing authority to offer an alleged offender the option of paying a fixed penalty. Equally, as a fixed penalty offers an option to discharge liability for an offence, an alleged offender may choose not to accept or pay a fixed penalty, and choose instead to defend the case in court (at the risk of being liable for a potentially higher penalty on conviction). Since issuing a fixed penalty notice is an alternative to prosecution, if an alleged offender does not pay a fixed penalty, the enforcing authority should be prepared to prosecute them for the original offence. Failure to follow up on unpaid fixed penalty notices will undermine their effectiveness as an enforcement tool. Therefore, the authority must ensure it collects sufficient evidence which can be used in court, is reliable and credible.

11A.3 In some circumstances, (domestic waste receptacle offences, and keeper liability for littering from vehicles), where criminal liability would be considered disproportionate, civil penalties are available to maintain the deterrent threat of enforcement. Civil penalty notices are not an alternative to prosecution, and an unpaid penalty notice may be recovered by the enforcing authority as a civil debt, or as if under an order of the county court. Since there is no opportunity for the recipient of a civil penalty to defend their case in court, authorities using these civil penalties must also provide a formal process for considering representations and appeals against these penalties (as set out in the relevant regulations).

11A.4 Fixed penalty notices should only be used for the offence for which they were created. Failing to abide by this rule may make prosecution for the original offence problematic if the case is pursued through the courts after a fixed penalty notice goes unpaid. This in turn could create further problems for an authority if it had employed such practices over a period of time.<sup>1</sup>

---

<sup>1</sup> This guidance relates to the use of enforcement powers under Part IV of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 to help keep land and highways clear of litter and refuse. Separate guidance is available on the use of 11A.5 In all cases, enforcing authorities have discretion about whether to take enforcement action in a particular case, and they may consider that other forms of sanctions or education may be more effective and appropriate in some cases. The overriding objective of enforcement action against environmental offences is to educate the offender and change their behaviour, and to deter others from committing the same offence. With this in mind, some enforcing authorities have successfully offered alternatives to formal enforcement action (such as completion of a stop-smoking programme as an alternative to a fixed penalty for littering cigarette ends).

11A.6 Community Payback (previously 'community service') is the work carried out by offenders who have an Unpaid Work requirement as part of their community sentence. It can be offered by the courts as an alternative to a custodial sentence. Community Payback is therefore not available as a sanction for littering offences, but may be available in cases of serious fly-tipping or criminal damage. The use of litter-picking as a sanction in itself must be handled with care, to avoid creating a perception that anyone seen litter-picking must be serving some form of penalty, which could deter law-abiding citizens from volunteering to take part in these activities.

11B.0 Policy objectives

11B.1 Taking proportionate and effective enforcement action against littering and related offences is a practical step that enforcing authorities can take to help them in delivering their statutory duties to keep relevant land clear of litter and refuse. As well as influencing the behaviour of those against whom enforcement action is taken, the use of proportionate enforcement can also help to deter others from committing offences which cause damage to local environmental quality. In turn, this will assist all duty bodies in keeping their relevant land and highways clear of litter and refuse.

11B.2 The principles of the Regulators Code apply to enforcement action carried out by local authorities. An effective environmental offences enforcement regime is one that is proportionate, consistent, targeted, transparent and accountable. Section 21 of the Legislative and Regulatory Reform Act 2006 states:

21(1) Any person exercising a regulatory function to which this section applies must have regard to the principles in subsection (2) in the exercise of the function.<sup>2</sup>

(2) Those principles are that—

(a) regulatory activities should be carried out in a way which is transparent, accountable, proportionate and consistent; other powers such as Community Protection Notices (see pg. 38) or civil penalties for domestic waste receptacle offences. Councils and other land managers must have regard to any relevant guidance when exercising their enforcement powers.

---

<sup>2</sup> For a list of these regulatory functions, see the Legislative and Regulatory Reform (Regulatory Functions) Order 2007 (as amended).

(b) regulatory activities should be targeted only at cases in which action is needed.

(3) The duty in subsection (1) is subject to any other requirement affecting the exercise of the regulatory function.

11B.3 Enforcing authorities are expected to combine enforcement with education in order to change behaviour. Given the quasi-judicial nature of the enforcement process, enforcing authorities will need to balance the need for consistency with an approach which remains targeted and proportionate. A blanket 'zero-tolerance' approach when issuing penalties is unlikely to achieve this.

11B.4 In particular, enforcement action should not be taken if it would be disproportionate to the offence, for example against accidental littering. Paragraph 11I.7 sets out further guidance on when a fixed penalty may not be appropriate. Enforcement action may also be better targeted at specific problem areas or times, rather than applied across a whole local authority area.

11B.5 Enforcing authorities should communicate to the community their reasons for their use of enforcement, and make it clear that enforcement is about supporting the achievement of a clean and attractive local environment: in no circumstances should enforcement be considered a means to raise revenue. Any perception that enforcement activity is being used intentionally to generate income is likely to undermine the legitimacy of the enforcement regime in the eyes of the local community, which in turn may diminish the deterrent effect.

11B.6 Enforcing authorities should not view their enforcement regime in isolation. In addition to taking enforcement action, enforcing authorities should aim to reduce the commission of littering and other environmental offences through clear, well-designed communications, and the provision, regular emptying and maintenance of bins.

11B.7 Enforcing authorities should also publish, promote and explain their enforcement policies openly, so that the public can understand their approach. This should include details of:

- a. the offences against which enforcement action will be taken
- b. the level of penalty for each offence (particularly following any changes)
- c. details of any early payment discounts
- d. arrangements for issuing fixed penalties (by post, electronically etc.)
- e. policies on enforcement against juvenile offenders
- f. policies in the event of non-payment
- g. appeals (if appropriate)
- h. policies on the use of income from fixed penalties
- i. what records are kept, and how information associated with enforcement action is used.

Enforcing authorities may also choose to make clear their policies on when a fixed penalty should not be issued.

It is recommended that enforcing authorities explore the benefits of consistent, and possibly collaborative, approaches to enforcement with neighbouring authorities.

11C.0 Financial objectives

11C.1 The receipts from fixed penalties for environmental offences may be retained by enforcing authorities in accordance with the relevant legislation, and may only be spent in accordance with that legislation. Different rules on the use of receipts apply, depending on the enforcing authority and the offence:

Local authorities

Offence	Penalty receipts may be spent on functions relating to:
Litter Graffiti Fly-posting Unauthorised distribution of free printed material on designated land Littering from a vehicle (civil penalty)	Litter and refuse (including keeping land and highways clear of litter and refuse, and enforcement against littering and littering from vehicles); graffiti and fly-posting; controlling and enforcing against the unauthorised distribution of free literature
Nuisance parking	Road traffic, litter and refuse
Abandoning a vehicle	Road traffic, litter and refuse
Fly-tipping	Waste on land
Household waste duty of care	Waste on land
Failing to show waste documents	Waste on land

Other authorities:

11C.2 National Park authorities can use fixed penalty notice receipts for their own litter enforcement.

11C.3 The Broads authority can use fixed penalty notice receipts for functions relating to litter and anti-social behaviour.

11C.4 The Environment Agency must pay its fixed penalty notice receipts to the Secretary of State.

11C.5 The police must pay receipts from fixed penalty notices issued by Police Community Support Officers to their local authority.

11D.0 Funding enforcement activity

11D.1 Raising revenue should never be an objective of enforcement.

11D.2 Local authorities may spend the income from fixed penalties issued for littering offences on their functions relating to litter (including keeping their relevant land clear of litter and refuse, keeping relevant highways clean, and enforcement against littering), and on enforcement against graffiti and fly-posting offences. This may include spending on communications and education to abate littering, or on the provision of bins and other street litter disposal infrastructure.

11D.3 As far as is possible, enforcement should be self-financing, and neither national nor local taxpayers should be expected to meet any deficit. Any surplus income must only be spent in accordance with the provisions set out in the relevant enabling statute. We recognise that, for good governance purposes, enforcement authorities may need to forecast enforcement revenue in advance, but the effectiveness of enforcement activity should be measured in terms of improved environmental cleanliness, and authorities should not set targets for revenue or number of penalties issued.

11D.4 Enforcing authorities should run their enforcement operations efficiently, effectively and economically. Enforcing authorities must set fixed penalties, within the ranges specified in the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (England) Regulations 2017. They should select an appropriate level to reflect local circumstances, including local ability to pay.

11E.0 Training and professionalism

11E.1 If the service is to command public confidence and respect, it is essential to give enforcement staff at all levels the skills and training to do their jobs effectively, whether they are employed directly by the enforcing authority, or by a contractor. For parish council enforcement officers, it is a legal requirement that they attend a suitable training course.<sup>3</sup> Training should be seen as a legitimate and important aspect of running costs.

11E.2 The office processes involved are important and staff carrying them out need similar levels of skill, training and professionalism as the more visible on-street enforcement officers. Enforcement authorities should provide enough staff for the volume of work. They should also make sure that those staff (whether employed directly by the authority or by a contractor) have the skills, training, accountability, authority and resources to give the public a high-quality, professional, efficient, timely and user-friendly service.

---

<sup>3</sup> Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (England) Regulations 2017, regulation 12

11E.3 Authorities that outsource any area of environmental offences enforcement to private companies should ensure that the contractor and its employees meet the same standards as would be expected of the authority itself.

11E.4 Authorised persons carrying out enforcement activity on behalf of an enforcing authority (“enforcement officers”) should be identifiable from their dress code or badge, and carry a Police and Criminal Evidence Act (PACE) Notebook, or an equivalent electronic device, for recording evidence to support a fixed penalty or prosecution. Enforcement officers should also carry identification and evidence of their formal authorisation to issue penalty notices e.g. a warrant card.

11F.0 Dual function civil enforcement officers

11F.1 Enforcement officers may be authorised to carry out other functions in addition to environmental enforcement (for example, parking enforcement duties), or vice versa.<sup>4</sup> Enforcement authorities that choose to take this approach must ensure that neither function is compromised as a result of the integration of duties. Income from penalties issued under each regime should be kept separate.

11F.2 Staff or contractors authorised to issue fixed penalties in lieu of prosecution for littering or other offences will need separate written authorisation to issue civil penalties for littering from vehicles.

11G.0 Collecting evidence and standards of proof

11G.1 In the case of criminal offences such as littering, a successful prosecution will require evidence sufficient to prove the offender’s guilt beyond reasonable doubt. While a fixed penalty may be issued where the authorised officer has “reason to believe” that the offence has been committed, it will still be necessary to submit evidence proving the offence beyond reasonable doubt in order to prosecute the offender if the fixed penalty is unpaid. Failure to pursue unpaid penalties will undermine the threat of enforcement, and their effectiveness as a deterrent.

---

<sup>4</sup> ‘Dual Function Civil Enforcement Officers’, Department for Transport (2016), available at https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment\_data/file/609788/statutory-guidance-local-authorities-enforcement-parking-contraventions.pdf

11G.2 To issue a civil penalty for littering from a vehicle, enforcement officers have to be satisfied that, on the balance of probabilities, litter was thrown from that vehicle on the litter authority's relevant land.

11G.3 The enforcing authority will need to provide evidence of the offence either from direct observation or report including details of:

- a. the offence, including a description of the littered item(s)
- b. the date and time
- c. the location
- d. the name and address of the offender
- e. the age of the offender
- f. the offender's appearance
- g. the weather and light conditions at the time
- h. the enforcement officer's identification number
- i. the fixed penalty number

11G.4 If an offence occurs in which litter is thrown or dropped from a vehicle, additional relevant details should be noted, in order to cross match with the details from the DVLA's database, including;

- a. the make of the vehicle
- b. the model
- c. the colour
- d. the vehicle's registration

11G.5 The opening from which the litter was thrown (e.g. driver's side window) should also be noted when practicable.

11G.6 Enforcing authorities may take enforcement action on the basis of CCTV evidence, or evidence supplied by members of the public provided that, in the enforcing authority's opinion, the evidence is sufficient to meet the standards of proof relevant to the offence or contravention in question.

11G.7 Any photographs, video footage and notes taken by the enforcement officer about the circumstances should be kept as further evidence that the offence took place and to help resolve any disputes.

11G.8 Enforcing authorities should provide their staff with the appropriate equipment, training and guidance to collect such evidence in the circumstances that the authority has prescribed.

11G.9 Enforcing authorities should disclose their evidence at the earliest possible opportunity.

11H.0 Keeping records

11H.1 In order to operate a fair and effective enforcement system, enforcing authorities will need to keep records of:

- a. all penalty notices issued, and decisions taken at each stage from issue through to payment and prosecution;
- b. any disputes of liability for the alleged offence, or formal representations against a (civil) penalty notice and any applicable appeal;
- c. the evidence on which each penalty notice is based, for if the case goes to court.

11H.2 Enforcing authorities must ensure that the retention, storage, sharing or disclosure of any personal data is compliant with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

11I.0 Issuing fixed penalty notices in lieu of prosecution

11I.1 A fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution should only be issued when all of the following apply:

- a. the enforcement officer has reason to believe that an offence has been committed
- b. a fixed penalty notice is a proportionate response in the circumstances (see below for circumstances under which a fixed penalty notice should not be issued)
- c. there is sufficient evidence of the alleged offender's guilt to support prosecution if the fixed penalty is unpaid
- d. the alleged offender understands why the fixed penalty notice is being issued
- e. the enforcement officer believes that the name and address given by the recipient are correct

11I.2 A fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution must be issued to the person who is alleged to have committed the offence. Where possible, a fixed penalty notice should be issued on the spot and alleged offenders should be made aware of an offence at the time. If necessary, a fixed penalty notice can also be issued by post.

11I.3 A fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution must state all of the following:

- a. the alleged offence, for example, "littering"
- b. details about the offence, for example, what sort of litter was dropped
- c. where and when the offence took place
- d. the amount of the penalty to be paid (and if there's a discount for paying early)
- e. how the penalty can be paid
- f. when the penalty must be paid by (this must give the recipient at least 14 days from the date of issue) in order to discharge the alleged offender's liability to be prosecuted

111.4 A fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution should state how the penalty notice has been issued (in person or by post).

111.5 A fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution should not conflate the amount of the fixed penalty (which for littering may be up to £150) with the potential fine that could be imposed by a court on conviction for the offence (which for littering could be up to £2,500).

111.6 If the enforcing authority operates a process for alleged offenders to dispute their liability for the offence to which the fixed penalty relates, the fixed penalty notice should also include instructions on how to use that process, including:

- a. how, when, and where to send any relevant information
- b. what happens if the dispute is successful (i.e. no further action will be taken and the fixed penalty notice will be cancelled)
- c. what happens if the dispute is rejected and the offender doesn't pay (the offender should be prosecuted, unless the enforcing authority has other compelling reasons to cancel the fixed penalty notice)
- d. how to complain

When not to issue a fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution

111.7 Fixed penalty notices should not be issued if any of the following apply:

- a. there is no criminal liability – for example if the offender is a child under the age of 10 (the child's parents or legal guardian should be informed instead). See section 11K.0 below for further detail on enforcement against young people.
- b. enforcement action is inappropriate or would be disproportionate for the offence – for example, if the offender is vulnerable or it would not be in the public interest to prosecute (see section 11B.0 above)
- c. prosecution is more suitable – for example, if:
  - the offence is major, e.g. racist or other forms of abusive graffiti or fly-posting; deliberate smashing of glass; or the scale and effect of the offence merits prosecution
  - the offence constitutes racially or religiously aggravated criminal damage under section 30 of the Crime and Disorder Act 1998;
  - the offence is committed for reward, e.g. the offender is a registered waste carrier
  - the offence is committed by a persistent offender (see paragraph 111.8 below)
  - the offender is violent or aggressive
- d. If a littering offence is accidental - for example if something falls from someone's pocket. In order to maintain public trust in the legitimacy of enforcement action against littering, enforcement action should only be taken where there is evidence of an intent to drop and leave litter. It is not in the public interest to take enforcement action if there is not clear evidence that the individual intended to cause litter.

- e. If the behaviour in question does not fall within the terms of the offence for which the fixed penalty is available. For example, littering fixed penalties should not be issued for fly-tipping offences or waste receptacle breaches (for which other specific fixed penalty powers are available), or to try to sidestep or circumvent the “harm to local amenity” test in the legislation for household waste receptacle breaches.

Persistent offenders

111.8 Some people commit environmental offences deliberately and often, and may also fail to pay the fixed penalties issued against them. A person can be classed as a ‘persistent offender’ if there are two or more recorded offences by the individual. In such circumstances, a further fixed penalty is unlikely to be appropriate and enforcement authorities should consider prosecuting (if it is in the public interest to do so).

Issuing fixed penalty notices on private land

111.9 It is an offence to drop litter on any land within the area of a principal litter authority which is open to the air<sup>5</sup>. This can include private land, although it is not an offence to drop litter with the landowner’s consent.<sup>6</sup>

111.10 There are no explicit powers of entry associated with issuing fixed penalties against littering. To avoid any question over an enforcement officer’s right to carry out their function on private land, before entering private land to issue a fixed penalty in connection with littering offences committed on that land, enforcement officers should, where practicably possible, engage and consult landowners/occupiers to obtain their consent. This will also help to establish whether the landowner/occupier has given permission for litter to be dropped on their land (in which case, no offence is committed.)<sup>7</sup> Enforcing authorities may wish to discuss their approach to enforcement with the owners of large areas of private land to which the public routinely have access (e.g. shopping centres, retail parks, transport hubs etc.) in advance of any enforcement activity being undertaken there.

---

<sup>5</sup> But where land is considered to be “open to the air” by virtue of section 86(13) EPA 1990, i.e. because it is covered but open on at least one side, an offence of littering can only be committed on that land if the public have access (with or without payment) to that land (section 87(3) EPA 1990).

<sup>6</sup> Consent may only be given in relation to depositing litter in a watercourse, lake or pond if the same person owns all the surrounding land. (section 87(4B) EPA 1990).

<sup>7</sup> It is not an offence to fail to provide name and address details to an enforcement officer in connection with enforcement under a Public Spaces Protection Order (Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014, section 68).

11I.11 If a landowner/occupier seeks to prevent access to their land by authorised enforcement officers but has not given explicit consent to littering on their land, enforcing authorities should consider whether enforcement against offences committed on that land is in the public interest, particularly if the “victim” is unwilling to support the enforcement activity taking place. Any enforcement officer that remains on or re-enters land once the landowner/occupier has asked them to leave may be committing trespass.

11I.12 The validity of any enforcement action against the offender (either prosecution, or issue of an FPN) is not affected by whether either the offender or the enforcement officer has a legal right to access or enter onto the land on which the offence was committed.

Getting the offender’s details

11I.13 It is an offence if an alleged offender fails to provide the appropriate details, such as name and address, in order for a fixed penalty to be issued for the offences of littering, or unauthorised distribution of free printed material.<sup>8</sup> The police may be called to assist if the offender refuses to provide their details, or provides false details. A police community support officer (PCSO) may detain the offender for up to 30 minutes before a police constable arrives. If a person refuses to supply their details, or provides false details, they may be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale.

11J.0 Issuing civil penalties for littering from vehicles

Introduction

11J.1 The Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018 enable district councils in England (outside London), and the Council for the Isles of Scilly, to issue a civil penalty notice to the keeper of a vehicle from which litter is thrown.<sup>9</sup> In this context, “district” includes authorities which may call themselves district, metropolitan, borough, unitary or any other name: it simply means the council for the district. London boroughs have similar but separate powers under the London Local Authorities Acts 2007 and 2012.<sup>10</sup>

---

<sup>9</sup> SI 2018/171 <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/ukSI/2018/171/contents/made>

<sup>10</sup> London Councils has provided guidance to London boroughs on the use of these powers. <https://www.londoncouncils.gov.uk/download/file/fid/893>

11J.2 Under the Regulations, and in this guidance, enforcing authorities with the power to issue these civil penalties are known as “litter authorities”.

11J.3 A civil penalty is a civil fine which unlike a criminal penalty, does not carry the risk of a criminal prosecution.

11J.4 The ‘keeper’ of a vehicle is presumed to be the ‘registered keeper’, but evidence may be provided by showing that the vehicle was ‘kept’ by another person at the relevant time: the liability to pay the civil penalty rests with the keeper of the vehicle at the time of the offence.

Relationship between civil penalties for littering from vehicles and fixed penalties in lieu of prosecution

11J.5 Only one penalty, either a civil penalty, or a fixed penalty in lieu of prosecution may be issued in respect of any one littering offence. Either type of penalty may be cancelled by the enforcing authority at any time before it is paid (see section 11N.0 below for further information on cancelling penalties).

11J.6 If a civil penalty notice is issued but is then cancelled it before it is paid, a fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution may still be issued in respect of the same offence.

11J.7 If a civil penalty notice is issued and it is paid, no further enforcement action ((either a fixed penalty notice or prosecution) may be taken against anybody for the same littering offence.

11J.8 If a civil penalty is issued but, before it is paid either:

- prosecution proceedings are brought against anyone; OR
- a fixed penalty notice in lieu of prosecution is issued in respect of the same offence, the vehicle keeper’s liability to pay the civil penalty notice is discharged and the civil penalty notice cannot be pursued further. This applies whether or not any prosecution is successful.

11J.9 Therefore, if a civil penalty notice is issued and the recipient then provides evidence as to the identity of the litterer, the enforcing authority will need to consider whether this is a sufficiently compelling reason to cancel the original civil penalty (see paragraphs 11N.22 to 11N.38). The enforcing authority may also (separately) decide whether sufficient evidence has been provided to pursue criminal enforcement action (a fixed penalty notice or prosecution) against the alleged litterer. However, only one – or no – penalty notice may be issued and pursued in respect of a single littering offence.

Form of civil penalty notices

11J.10 A penalty notice for littering from a vehicle must state all of the following:

- the circumstances alleged to constitute the littering offence in question, including the registration mark (if known) of the vehicle concerned
- how long they have to pay the penalty (28 days from the date the penalty notice is given)<sup>11</sup>
- the amount of the penalty if paid within 28 days
- that the amount of the penalty will double if not paid within 28 days
- that the enforcing litter authority may recover any penalty not paid within 28 days in court
- [If applicable] details of any early-payment discount available if the penalty is paid within 14 days (including the amount of the discounted penalty, which must not be less than £50)
- details of how to pay (the name and address of the person to whom payment must be made, and the permissible methods of payment)
- that the recipient has a right to make representations to the enforcing litter authority
- the grounds on which representations may be made; and
- in general terms, how an appeal to an adjudicator can be made

11J.11 The description of the circumstances to constitute the littering offence should include a description of the litter alleged to have been deposited.

Cameras, recording devices and evidence from the public

11J.12 Enforcement action may be taken on the basis of evidence supplied by members of the public provided that, in the opinion of the enforcing authority, the evidence is sufficient to meet the relevant standards of proof. Enforcing authorities may decide to adopt a policy of only issuing a notice based on multiple public reports of litter from the same vehicle, or a pattern of behaviour.

11J.13 If evidence from a recording device (such as a CCTV camera or dash-cam in one of your own vehicles) is intended to be used in appeal proceedings relating to civil penalties for littering from vehicles, the enforcing authority will need to produce the recording(s), and a certificate stating the circumstances in which the record was produced must be provided (signed by a person authorised to do so by the litter authority which

---

<sup>11</sup> In the case of penalty notices issued by first-class post to an address in the UK, the notice is taken to be given on the second working day after posting (fifth working day in the case of an address outside the UK). If the notice is sent electronically, it is taken to be given on the working day immediately following the day on which it was sent.

installed the device).<sup>12</sup> The recording devices must be able to produce a record of the presence of a particular vehicle on the litter authority's land, and the date and time at which the vehicle is present.

11J.14 If it is intended to use recording devices to gather evidence in this way, enforcing authorities must also ensure that they remain compliant with other relevant legislation, such as the Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act 2000, and the Protection of Freedoms Act 2012.

Using the DVLA's database

11J.15 The Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency (DVLA) vehicle keeper database may be used to establish the ownership of vehicles used in connection with the commission of criminal offences, including littering. As set out in the Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018, a civil penalty may only be issued when a section 87 EPA 1990 criminal offence of littering has been committed from the vehicle.

11J.16 Access to the DVLA Web Enabled Enquiry system is available to all local authorities upon request. Local authorities without existing access should contact the DVLA at: Kadoeservice.support@DVLA.gov.uk

11J.17 For the purposes of issuing a civil penalty to the keeper of a vehicle from which litter is thrown, the "keeper" to which the penalty notice should be issued is the person by whom the vehicle is kept at the time when the littering offence in question occurs. In the case of a registered vehicle this is to be presumed, unless the contrary is proved, to be the registered keeper.

11K.0 Enforcement against young people

11K.1 Enforcing authorities should determine a consistent policy on whether enforcement action will be taken in respect of offences committed by people aged younger than 18, and how such enforcement will be carried out. They should work with both the youth offending team and children's services in designing this policy.

11K.2 As a matter of good practice, it is recommended that enforcement officers issuing fixed penalties to young people should:

- a. always be in uniform
- b. never touch a young person
- c. approach from the front, not behind
- d. identify themselves and show formal identification

---

<sup>12</sup> Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018, regulation 20

- e. ideally work in pairs

Children

11K.3 Fixed penalties are issued in lieu of prosecution. A valid fixed penalty therefore cannot be issued to a child under 10, as they are below the age of criminal responsibility. Enforcement authorities may contact the child's parents or legal guardian to make them aware of the offence.

Juveniles (aged 10 to 17)

11K.4 Fixed penalties may be issued to young people between the ages of 10 to 17. Different considerations apply to juveniles aged 10-15, and those aged 16-17.

Juveniles aged 10 to 15

11K.5 Fixed penalties should only be issued on-the-spot to 10 to 15-year-olds, if:

- a. the alleged offender is known to the enforcement officer; and
- b. the alleged offender's school has agreed to the use of fixed penalties

11K.6 Enforcement authorities should notify the alleged offender's parents or legal guardian as soon as possible.

11K.7 If the enforcement officer does not know the alleged offender, or the school has not agreed to the use of fixed penalties, officers should obtain the young person's details, and details of their parents or legal guardian in order to make further enquiries. If it is subsequently decided that a fixed penalty is suitable, it should be issued to the alleged offender in person with a parent or legal guardian present. If the fixed penalty must be issued by post, the alleged offender's parent or legal guardian should be notified at the same time.

Juveniles aged 16 to 17

11K.8 Enforcement officers should obtain all of the following details from the alleged offender:

- a. name
- b. address
- c. age
- d. date of birth

11K.9 They should also obtain the name and address of a parent or legal guardian of the alleged offender.

11K.10 The young offender should be informed that this information will be shared with their local youth offending team.

11K.11 If it is necessary to interview a young person under 17 under caution, an appropriate adult must be present.

11L.0 Payment options

11L.1 Enforcing authorities should offer people a range of facilities for paying penalty notices, including provision for accepting payment in cash.<sup>13</sup> Where they provide payment centres, these should be safe and accessible. Enforcing authorities should ensure that any payment facility (particularly telephone and online payments) can confirm any amount outstanding if part payment only has been received. The imposition of surcharges for payment by personal credit or debit card is not permissible.<sup>14</sup>

11L.2 If there are unusual delays with the postal system, authorities should make allowances for late payments made by post when considering whether a payment was received within the statutory period. Enforcing authorities may wish to keep the envelope that the payments came in, as the franking can be used as evidence of the date of posting.

11L.3 A fixed penalty notice is deemed 'paid' as soon as it is received by the enforcing authority. The enforcing authority should promptly close the case. An authority's systems should accurately record the day on which it receives payments so that no further enforcement action is taken.

11L.4 If a fixed penalty notice is issued in lieu of prosecution, recipients must be given 14 days to pay before any prosecution proceedings can be brought.

11L.5 Recipients of civil penalty notices have 28 days from the date of receipt in which to make the payment, otherwise the penalty will double. If a civil penalty notice is issued by first-class post, it is deemed to have been received on the second working day after posting (or the fifth working day, if sent to an address outside the UK).

11L.6 To encourage prompt payment, enforcing authorities may offer recipients a reduction in the penalty if paid before this deadline. The period during which a discount for early payment is offered must be no more than 14 days and to avoid confusion, it is recommended that it should not be more than 10 days. The minimum discounted penalty is set out in the relevant legislation:

---

<sup>13</sup> Section 88(3) EPA 1990.

<sup>14</sup> Payment Service Regulations 2017

Offence	Default penalty	Minimum full penalty	Maximum full penalty	Minimum discounted penalty
Littering	£100	£65	£150	£50
Graffiti	£100	£65	£150	£50
Fly-posting	£100	£65	£150	£50
Unauthorised distribution of free literature on designated land	£100	£65	£150	£50
Nuisance parking	£100	£100	£100	£60
Abandoning a vehicle	£200	£200	£200	£120
Fly-tipping	£200	£150	£400	£120
Household waste duty of care	£200	£150	£400	£120
Failure to produce a waste transfer note	£300	£300	£300	£180
Industrial and commercial waste receptacle offences	£100	£75	£110	£60
Failing to show waste documents	£200	£150	£400	£120

11L.7 Discounts for early payment may also be offered for civil penalty notices:

Contravention	Default penalty	Minimum full penalty	Maximum full penalty	Minimum discounted penalty
Littering from a vehicle	£100	Equivalent to local fixed penalty for littering		£50

Contravention	Default penalty	Minimum full penalty	Maximum full penalty	Minimum discounted penalty offences £65 - £150
Domestic waste receptacle offences	£60	£60	£80	£40

11L.8 Enforcing authorities may choose to send recipients of penalty notices a reminder letter. Again, it is recommended that these are sent out no earlier than 7 days from the date the penalty was issued. The reminder letters should inform the recipient of the following:

- a. how much they must pay
- b. when they must pay by
- c. what happens if they don't pay
- d. how they can make representations (civil penalties) or dispute their liability for the offence to which the penalty relates (penalties in lieu of prosecution)

11L.9 Enforcing authorities may also choose, in exceptional circumstances, to offer recipients the option of paying in instalments if they cannot afford the full amount. Until the full amount of a fixed penalty (in lieu of prosecution) is paid, the alleged offender's liability to prosecution is not discharged. Enforcing authorities should make clear when offering payment by instalments what the consequences will be if a payment is missed or the penalty is not paid in full within the time agreed. Payment plans should not offer repayment terms longer than 5 months, since any prosecution for a summary offence such as littering must be brought within 6 months of the alleged offence.

11M.0 Providing a quality service

11M.1 Enforcing authorities remain responsible for the whole enforcement process (including considering disputes of liability for the alleged offence), whether they contract out part of it or not. Authorities that outsource any area of enforcement to private companies should ensure that the contractor fulfils all the requirements set down for the authority itself.

11M.2 Enforcing authorities should offer individuals flexible and efficient ways to contact them, including e-mail and telephone. They should ensure there is an adequate audit trail to rebut any accusations of unfairness.

11N.0 Considering disputes of liability, representations and appeals

11N.1 Enforcing authorities should make sure that their processes for handling informal disputes of liability for the offence to which a fixed penalty relates, or formal representations and appeals against civil penalties, are efficient, effective and impartial. Decisions must be made on the facts and evidence presented, and processes must comply with all relevant primary legislation and regulations.<sup>15</sup> Authorities are encouraged to seek independent quality assurance of their environmental offences enforcement processes.

11N.2 Enforcing authorities should deal with offenders promptly and professionally. Authorities are encouraged to set time and quality targets for dealing with queries, in addition to any statutory time limits and those set out in this guidance. As good practice they should publish information about their enforcement activity (see paragraph 11B.6). Fair and efficient systems for carrying out this work should ensure that the number of cases going to prosecution or an adjudicator is minimised – so saving the authority time and expense – without allowing people to evade an appropriate penalty.

11N.3 Enforcing authorities should maintain a clear separation between the staff that decide on the issuing and processing of penalty notices and the staff that decide on disputes of liability/representations, to ensure that decisions are seen to be impartial. It is good practice for all disputes or representations to be considered by the service manager (or equivalent) who has delegated authority to consider them. All such disputes or representations should be addressed to them, and not the person that issued the penalty notice.

11N.4 Enforcing authorities should ensure that only fully trained staff make decisions on disputes of liability or representations against civil penalty notices, and should be clear on which officers have the authority to cancel penalty notices. Officers dealing with disputes of liability or formal representations against a civil penalty notice should be familiar with all aspects of environmental offences enforcement, particularly the legal nature of the process, so that they can judge whether or not a representation falls within the statutory grounds or the authority's guidelines for exceptional cases.

11N.5 Elected members and unauthorised staff should not play any part in deciding the outcome of individual challenges or representations.

11N.6 The process of considering disputes of liability, representations and appeals requires officers dealing with these aspects to be trained in the relevant legislation and how to apply it. They should be well versed in the collection, interpretation and consideration of evidence; writing clear but concise case-specific responses to disputes of liability, enquiries and representations; presenting the authority's case to adjudicators.

---

<sup>15</sup> See in particular Part 4 of the Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018

11N.7 Enforcement authorities have a duty not to fetter their discretion. They should approach the exercise of discretion objectively and without regard to any financial interest in the penalty or decisions that may have been taken at an earlier stage in proceedings. Authorities should formulate (with advice from their legal department) and then publish their policies on the exercise of discretion. They should apply these policies flexibly and judge each case on its own merits. An enforcement authority should be ready to depart from its policies if the particular circumstances of the case warrant it.

11N.8 It is in the interests of the authority and the individual to resolve any dispute at the earliest possible stage. Authorities should take account of the enforcement officer's actions in issuing the fixed penalty notice but should always give disputes of liability and representations a fresh and impartial consideration.

11N.9 Authorities should ensure that their legal departments are involved in establishing a processing system that meets all the requirements of the law. They should also consult them about complex cases.

Exercise of discretion

11N.10 The exercise of discretion should, in the main, rest with back office staff as part of considering disputes of liability, representations and appeals that are made to the enforcing authority. This is to protect enforcement officers from allegations of inconsistency, favouritism or suspicion of bribery. It also gives greater consistency in the enforcement of environmental offences regulations.

11N.11 However, the enforcing authority may wish to set out certain situations when an enforcement officer should exercise a degree of discretion, such as circumstances in which a fixed penalty should not be issued. The enforcing authority should have clear policies, instructions and training available on how to exercise such authority. These policies should form the basis for staff training and should be published.

11N.12 Local authorities should also recognise the role of councillors to raise issues on behalf of their ward constituents, and more generally, for councillors to scrutinise the manner in which the broader policy operates.

Handling disputes of liability to pay a fixed penalty issued in lieu of prosecution

11N.13 This section applies to fixed penalty notices issued in lieu of prosecution for criminal offences, including littering, and unauthorised distribution of free literature etc.

11N.14 Because it is offered in lieu of prosecution, there is no formal right of appeal against a fixed penalty notice. If an alleged offender does not accept their liability for the offence, there is no requirement on them to pay the fixed penalty. The assumption should always be that if a fixed penalty is unpaid, the case should be prosecuted, giving the alleged offender the opportunity to defend their case in court.

11N.15 Enforcing authorities should be motivated to work to keep cases out of the court where possible, as court processes are time consuming for all parties and can be expensive. To prevent unnecessary cases reaching the courts, it is therefore good practice for enforcing authorities to operate a process through which an alleged offender may offer evidence in mitigation, lines of defence or other relevant information that may not have been available to the enforcing authority at the time the fixed penalty notice was issued, and which may influence the authority's decision whether to issue a fixed penalty or take other enforcement action in that case. As this is an informal process, there are no fixed grounds on which such a challenge may be made.

11N.16 The basis on which an alleged offender might dispute their liability might include, but are not limited to:

- a. if the person issued with the fixed penalty notice was not the person that committed the offence – this might be the case if someone issued with a fixed penalty notice in person has given someone else's details to the enforcement officer
- b. if the person issued with the fixed penalty notice brings forward evidence, a statutory defence or other reasonable excuse that could undermine any later prosecution
- c. if evidence is provided that the person issued with a fixed penalty notice is in some way vulnerable and the enforcement of the fixed penalty notice would not be in the public interest
- d. if evidence is provided that enforcement would, for any other reason, not be considered to be in the public interest

11N.17 An authority may cancel a fixed penalty notice at any point. It can do this even when an undoubted contravention has occurred if the authority deems it to be appropriate in the circumstances of the case. Under general principles of public law, authorities have a duty to act fairly and proportionately and are encouraged to exercise discretion sensibly and reasonably and with due regard to the public interest.

11N.18 Consideration should take into account the authority's own guidelines for dealing with extenuating, or mitigating circumstances. If the evidence or circumstances (including mitigating circumstances) provide grounds for cancelling the fixed penalty notice, then the enforcement authority should do so and let the individual know. If the enforcement authority considers that there are no grounds for cancellation, it should tell the individual and explain its reasons as soon as practicably possible.

11N.19 If the enforcing authority operates a process for disputing liability for an offence for which a fixed penalty notice is issued, it should ensure that, whatever routes are offered for alleged offenders to raise such a dispute, there is an adequate audit trail of the case, showing what decision was taken and why.

11N.20 It is also considered important that anyone who wants to take advantage of a process for disputing their liability to pay a fixed penalty is not disadvantaged by doing so. Where an authority offers a discount for early payment of a fixed penalty notice it should still be offered in the event of an unsuccessful dispute, providing that the dispute is lodged before the close of any relevant early payment window.

11N.21 Authorities should always make it clear that an individual whose attempt to dispute their liability for the offence is rejected may still choose not to pay the fixed penalty and instead choose to defend their case in court.

Formal representations and appeals against civil penalty notices for littering from vehicles

11N.22 The process for making representations, and appealing against a civil penalty for littering from a vehicle is set out in the Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Civil Penalties: Keepers) (England) Regulations 2018.<sup>16</sup>

11N.23 The recipient may dispute the issuing of a civil penalty notice at two stages:

- a. once a civil penalty notice has been served, an individual has up to 28 days to make a formal representation to the authority based on any one or more of the grounds for appeal set out in regulation 14 of the Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Civil Penalties: Keepers) (England) Regulations 2018; and
- b. if a representation is rejected by the enforcing authority, the individual may appeal against the Notice of Rejection to an independent adjudicator

Representations

11N.24 Representations must be made in writing. The Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018 set out 12 formal grounds on which representations may be made.

11N.25 A person to whom a penalty notice is given may make written representations to the litter authority if it appears to the person that one or more of the following grounds apply:

- A. Ground A is that the littering offence in question did not occur.

---

<sup>16</sup> <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/uksi/2018/171/contents/made>

- B. Ground B is that the person became the keeper of the vehicle after the littering offence occurred.
- C. Ground C is that the person had disposed of the vehicle to another person before the littering offence occurred.
- D. Ground D is that the vehicle was a stolen vehicle when the littering offence occurred.
- E. Ground E is that the person;
- was engaged in the hiring of vehicles at the time of the littering offence, and
  - was not the keeper of the vehicle at that time by virtue of a vehicle hire agreement
- F. Ground F is that the person was not the keeper of the vehicle for a reason not mentioned in grounds B to E.
- G. Ground G is that the litter authority was not authorised to give the person a penalty notice.
- H. Ground H is that the person is not liable to pay the fixed penalty by virtue of regulation 12 (Public service vehicles and licensed taxis etc.).
- I. Ground I is that liability to pay the fixed penalty has been discharged in the circumstances set out in regulation 13 (Discharge of liability where action taken against person who littered).
- J. Ground J is that the fixed penalty exceeds the amount payable under these Regulations.
- K. Ground K is that the litter authority has failed to observe any requirement imposed on it in relation to the imposition or recovery of the fixed penalty.
- L. Ground L is that there are compelling reasons why, in the particular circumstances of the case, the penalty notice should be cancelled (whether or not any of grounds A to K apply).<sup>17</sup>

11N.26 Litter authorities must consider any representations made on these grounds. The litter authority should acknowledge receipt of the representation and explain the process, including what supporting evidence must be supplied, and when a decision notice will be dispatched.

---

<sup>17</sup> Regulation 14

11N.27 The litter authority should consider representations as quickly as possible and serve notice of its decision on the person making the representations, within a maximum of 56 days of the service of the representations, whether or not it accepts that the ground in question has been established.

11N.28 A litter authority which accepts a representation must cancel the penalty notice and refund any sum already paid. Cancellation does not prevent the authority from serving another penalty notice for the same litter offence to another person.

11N.29 A litter authority which rejects a representation must serve a notice stating that the penalty must be paid unless an appeal is made to an adjudicator. A “notice of rejection” must state:

- the litter authority’s decision, and the reasons for it
- that the recipient has a right to appeal to an adjudicator against the litter authority’s decision, within 28 days of the notice of rejection
- the general form and manner in which an appeal can be made, and
- that the adjudicator has the power to award costs against either party<sup>18</sup>

11N.30 If, following an unsuccessful representation, a litter authority decides to offer a new discount period for prompt payment, it should set out the dates.

11N.31 If a litter authority fails to comply with the requirement to serve a notice of rejection which meets these requirements, it is deemed to have accepted the recipient’s representations and cancelled the penalty notice.

Appeals

11N.32 Regulation 18 of the Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018 provides for appeals to be considered by an independent adjudicator appointed to the Traffic Penalty Tribunal. Litter authorities have certain duties to make provision for the adjudication, such as the provision of administrative staff and facilities for adjudicators, and these duties must be discharged by the PATROL (Parking and Traffic Regulations Outside London) Joint Committee. More information about PATROL can be found online at: <https://www.patrol-uk.info/>

11N.33 The Traffic Penalty Tribunal operates a digital by default online appeal system – FOAM (Fast Online Appeal Management). Appellants submit their appeal, authorities respond online and upload evidence and the adjudicator publishes a decision online. In some circumstances, the adjudicator will conduct a telephone hearing with all parties invited to participate. All local authorities outside London that operate civil parking enforcement use this system. A dashboard enables authorities to manage their cases and includes reporting functionality. The tribunal also operates an Assisted Digital Support programme for people who are not able to appeal online.

---

<sup>18</sup> Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018, regulation 15

11N.34 If the adjudicator agrees that one of the grounds set out in regulation 14 (paragraph 11N.25 above) applies, the adjudicator must allow the appeal.<sup>19</sup>

11N.35 The adjudicator may also, where an appeal is allowed, give written directions to the litter authority which the adjudicator considers appropriate for the purpose of giving effect to their decision. A litter authority must comply with any such direction as soon as is practicable.

11N.36 An adjudicator may (despite not allowing an appeal) give a written recommendation to the litter authority that it cancel the penalty notice if the adjudicator is satisfied that there are compelling reasons why, in the particular circumstances of the case, the penalty notice should be cancelled. A litter authority must then reconsider whether to cancel the penalty notice, taking account of any observations made by the adjudicator, and within 35 days inform the appellant and the adjudicator in writing of its decision (and reasons for it where a recommendation is not accepted). If a litter authority fails to do so, it is deemed to have accepted the recommendation and to have cancelled the penalty notice.

11N.37 An adjudicator must dismiss an appeal if the adjudicator concludes that none of the grounds set out in regulation 14 of the Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018 apply, or there are no compelling reasons why the penalty notice should be cancelled.

11N.38 Enforcement authorities should respond promptly to adjudicators concerning appeals and meet time limits set by legislation or the adjudicator's judicial powers.

11O.0 Non-payment of fixed penalty notices in lieu of prosecution - prosecuting offenders

11O.1 Should a fixed penalty notice go unpaid then the normal course of action will be to prosecute for the original offence in the magistrates' court. An enforcement authority must wait at least 14 days after issuing a fixed penalty notice before initiating a prosecution, and must begin legal proceedings for summary offences within 6 months of the offence (for summary offences).<sup>20</sup>

11O.2 Failure to pursue unpaid notices will discredit the use of fixed penalties in the locality, and will lead to declining rates of payment. The need to pursue unpaid fixed penalty notices must be considered in the development of an enforcement strategy and the necessary resources made available. It is not acceptable for an authority to decide

---

<sup>19</sup> Littering from Vehicles Outside London (Keepers: Civil Penalties) Regulations 2018, regulation 16

<sup>20</sup> There is no time limit for bringing proceedings in respect of offences that are triable either way, but proceedings for such offences should be brought as soon as possible as courts have discretion to dismiss a summons on the ground of abuse of process where there has been an unjustified delay.

after a fixed penalty notice has been issued that it does not have the resources to prosecute if the notice is unpaid.

11P.0 Non-payment of civil penalty notices for littering from vehicles

11P.1 Should a penalty notice be unpaid after the 28-day payment period has expired and no representations against the penalty notice have been made to the litter authority, then the amount of the penalty will automatically double (i.e. increase by 100%). At this point, it becomes a civil debt due to the authority.

11P.2 Debts arising from unpaid penalties can be registered with the Traffic Enforcement Centre (TEC) at Northampton Crown Court. Existing TEC customers can do this using contravention 75 and their existing prefix – individual identifier. New TEC customers should contact TECInsight@hmcts.gsi.gov.uk for further assistance.

11Q.0 Reporting

11Q.1 Reporting is an important part of accountability. Enforcement authorities should report regularly and consistently to help the public understand and accept enforcement and council use of taxpayers' money. In addition it provides management information for internal performance evaluation and comparison with other councils. Monitoring also helps the authority to identify where it needs to improve.

11Q.2 The Government believes that in principle all data held and managed by local authorities should be made available to local people unless there are specific sensitivities to doing so (e.g. protecting vulnerable people or commercial and operational considerations). The Government also expects local authorities to be transparent about how they spend taxpayers' money and the services they deliver. It is a statutory requirement for local authorities covered by the Transparency Code to comply with Part 2 of the Local Government Transparency Code 2015 which sets out the minimum data that local authorities should be publishing.

11Q.3 We consider that as good practice local authorities should publish the following information about their enforcement activity (for each of the environmental offences, including the new civil penalties for littering from vehicles):

- a. number of (a) fixed penalties notices and (b) civil penalty notices issued
- b. number of (a) fixed penalty notices and (b) civil penalty notices cancelled
- c. number of (a) fixed penalty notices and (b) civil penalty notices paid
- d. number of (a) fixed penalty notices and (b) civil penalty notices paid at discount rate
- e. number of prosecutions undertaken following non-payment of a fixed penalty notice (whether the case is concluded or not)

- f. number of prosecutions undertaken for environmental offences for which a fixed penalty notice was not offered
- g. number of civil penalty notices cancelled following an appeal made to an adjudicator
- h. number of civil penalty notices pursued as civil debts following non-payment
- i. number of fixed penalty or civil penalty notices written off for other reasons (e.g. procedural error, not in the public interest to pursue, alternative sanctions used etc.)
- j. total net income from (a) fixed penalty and (b) civil penalty notices for each of the environmental offences, and net income from civil penalty notices for littering from vehicles
- k. total spent on enforcement activity against (a) environmental offences and (b) littering from vehicles offences

11Q.4 Where external contractors are used, the full text of such contracts/legal agreements, should be placed in the public domain by the council - to provide additional scrutiny and reassurance that such contracts are not being used as a revenue raiser. The Local Government Transparency Code already requires that councils falling under the Code publish contracts over £5,000 and discourages the use of commercial confidentiality clauses to prevent such publication. As good practice, the Government would also encourage an annual breakdown of fines and revenue, which could be done through an annual scrutiny review.

Appraising enforcement

11Q.5 Enforcement authorities should monitor their environmental offences policies, enforcement regimes and associated regulatory framework (including fixed penalty levels). They should appraise them when reviewing their local plans, local development framework or community strategy and make recommendations for improvements to members. Enforcement authorities should keep abreast of developments in neighbouring authorities and look into the benefits of consistent, and possibly collaborative, approaches to enforcement.

11Q.6 Appraisals should take account of any relevant information that has been collected as part of the environmental offences enforcement process, in particular about the practical effectiveness of the scheme. They will benefit from interviews with enforcement officers, who are in a unique position to identify changes to environmental offences patterns, and with office staff, who see disputes of liability and representations and the reasons for them.

11Q.7 Enforcement authorities should consult locally on their policies when they appraise them. Enforcement authorities should maintain regular dialogue and joint activity where appropriate with on-street contractors.

The appraisal should take account of:

- a. existing and predicted levels of offending

- b. availability of relevant infrastructure, such as bins
- c. adequacy, accuracy and quality of signage and other communications
- d. level of enforcement necessary for compliance
- e. levels of penalties
- f. payment and prosecution rates
- g. the need to resource the operation effectively and ensure that staff are appropriately trained, and
- h. impact on the accumulation rates of litter

11Q.9 Enforcement authorities should judge the performance of contractors and staff according to how far desired objectives have been achieved. Outcome indicators might include compliance statistics, the number of appeals, and the localised impact that enforcement appears to have had on relevant offending and the accumulation rate of litter. Performance management of enforcement staff, including rewards or penalties, should never be based on the volume of penalties issued, nor on a fixed amount of revenue to be raised. Enforcement authorities should have a Service Level Agreement for enforcement operations “in house”, incorporating the specification terms and conditions required by the client department, just as for a contract with an external service provider. Any such Service Level Agreement should reflect these principles.

11Q.10 Where external contractors are used, private firms should not be able to receive greater revenue or profits just from increasing the volume of penalties, since this creates a contrary incentive to the overall aim of reducing the number of offences committed.

© Crown copyright 2019

This information is licensed under the Open Government Licence v3.0. To view this licence, visit www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence/

This publication is available at www.gov.uk/government/publications

Any enquiries regarding this publication should be sent to us at:
defra.help@defra.gov.uk