Illegal Wildlife Trade

Illegal Wildlife Trade Challenge Fund Project funding

Last updated: May 2020

Illegal wildlife trade (IWT) is the fifth most lucrative transnational crime, worth up to £17bn a year globally. As well as threatening species with extinction, IWT destroys vital ecosystems. IWT also fosters corruption, feeds insecurity, and undermines good governance and the rule of law.

The UK government is committed to tackling illegal trade of wildlife products. Defra manages the Illegal Wildlife Trade Challenge Fund, which is a competitive grants scheme with the objective of tackling illegal wildlife trade and, in doing so, contributing to sustainable development in developing countries. Projects funded under the Illegal Wildlife Trade Challenge Fund address one, or more, of the following themes:

- Developing sustainable livelihoods to benefit people directly affected by IWT
- Strengthening law enforcement
- Ensuring effective legal frameworks
- Reducing demand for IWT products

Over £26 million has been committed to 85 projects since the Illegal Wildlife Trade Challenge Fund was established in 2013; five projects were awarded in 2014 (via applications to the Darwin Initiative), fourteen in 2015, fifteen in 2016, thirteen in 2017, fourteen in 2018 and thirteen in 2019 and ten in the latest round in 2020.

Project Title	Countries Involved	Lead Organisation	Priority Species	Brief Summary	Award	Project Dates	Round
IWT085: Social marketing to reduce demand for tiger products in Vietnam	Vietnam	TRAFFIC International	Tigers, Lions, Leopards	Vietnamese demand for tiger products threatens the future of the species. TRAFFIC's 2017 consumer survey found that 6% of Vietnam's urban population self-reported using tiger products; 64% of them would recommend these to others. Drivers of consumption include gifting, medicine, and good luck. This project will build on these behavioural insights and recent successes to reduce rhino horn consumption to implement a culturally relevant and carefully targeted social marketing campaign, aiming to stop consumption of tiger products of main user groups.	£400,200	TBC	Challenge Fund Round 6
IWT084: Tackling Illegal Wildlife Trade in the Nigeria-Cameroon Green Corridor	Nigeria, Cameroon	Wildlife Conservation Society (WCS)	African Elephant, Nigeria-Cameroon Chimpanzee, Lion, Pangolins (3 species)	This project will provide protection for a Nigeria-Cameroon transboundary Green Corridor for elephants, pangolins and chimpanzees. It will focus on where protection is weakest in Nigeria, and gather IWT intelligence around two key sites in Nigeria on criminal networks trading wildlife across the international border in Cameroon. Working with government and local communities, we will reduce IWT and improve regional security with improved transboundary inter-agency cooperation and capacity building.	£430,000	TBC	Challenge Fund Round 6

IWT083: Illegal trade & sustainable use of medicinal orchids in Nepal	Nepal	Lancaster Environment Centre, Lancaster University	Orchids (4 species)	Nepal hosts >100 orchids species traded for Ayurvedic and Chinese medicines, with widespread reports of population declines. Most trade is illegal, alongside a legal quota-based harvest system. This project will produce the first-ever baseline on the illegal trade, to integrate orchids into domestic policy and facilitate appropriate enforcement. Concurrently, the project will support legal, more sustainable harvest by rural communities, implementing the world's first orchid harvester self-reporting scheme, and exert-informed Population Viability Analysis to develop science-based management.	£134,840	TBC	Challenge Fund Round 6

All are threatened by poaching and illegal trade, primarily across the border into Thailand. In response, FFI will support six local communities at key trade routes to become active in addressing these threats, in exchange for support with development of sustainable livelihoods and improved resource management. This will be complemented with improved law enforcement.	£380,725	TBC	Challenge Fund Round 6

IWT075: Reducing macaw trafficking in indigenous territories of the Honduran Moskitia	Honduras	Wildlife Conservation Society (WCS)	Scarlet macaw, Great green macaw, Yellow-naped amazon, other threatened species in Honduras	Wildlife trafficking is driving Honduras's national bird, the scarlet macaw, towards local extinction. Despite existing legislation, trafficking continues rampant in the country's last macaw stronghold, the Moskitia, where an estimated 600 individuals survive. Our goal is to reduce wildlife trafficking, strengthen management and enforcement of indigenous territories, and improve local livelihoods for approximately 4,200 people across 3,300 km ² of the Honduran Moskitia, by providing technical support to 11 indigenous communities, decreasing nest poaching and coordinating enforcement with government agencies.	£299,594	Start: 01/04/2019 End: 31/03/2022	Challenge Fund Round 5

IWT061: Wildlife in Indonesia, Loss, Damage & Sanctions (WILDS)	Indonesia	Lancaster University, Lancaster Environment Centre	Wildlife in Indonesia	This innovative project will look at how sanctions against IWT can better reflect the injuries to society (e.g., on livelihoods, biodiversity, culture). It will compare international sanctions to IWT, and initiate international "best practices" standards. In Indonesia, it will work with experts and government officials to review sanctions, and provide expertise to quantify the costs of IWT on society. The project aims to apply these to a first-of-a-kind civil liability suit to hold IWT perpetrators financially	£297,238	Start: 01/10/2018 End: 30/09/2020	Challenge Fund Round 4

It is estimated that wildlife crime generates between $7 and $23 billion in criminal proceeds annually, yet anti-money laundering techniques are not often used to identify and prosecute culprits. This project will produce information and advice for public sector agencies and private sector banks in Africa and Asia to help them use anti-money laundering measures against wildlife trafficking syndicates	£332,234	Start: 01/07/2018 End: 30/06/2020	Challenge Fund Round 4
IWT058: Securing Africa's ivory: Developing gold-standard stockpile management systems	Uganda, Ethiopia, Malawi	Stop Ivory	Elephant	This project in partnership with national government will in put a robust ivory management system. Seized ivory is held in storerooms that can be vulnerable to corruption and theft. A robust management system stops seized ivory products from returning to the illegal supply chain. IWT057: Building capacity to reduce illegal trade of shark products in Indonesia	Indonesia	Centre for Environment, Fisheries and Aquaculture Science (Cefas)	Sharks and Rays	This project aims to improve the capacity of trade regulators. Indonesia is the world's third largest trader in shark and ray products. These products are often difficult to identify to species level, which makes it difficult to detect illegal traded. This project will support trade regulators and law enforcement officers to detect illegally traded species by developing a national training team and improved customs procedures	£353,832	Start: 01/07/2018 End: 30/06/2021	Challenge Fund Round 4

This project will be the first programme of targeted research into the transnational illegal pangolin trade with Uganda as the focal point. It will help to develop the information, and skills, enforcement authorities need to tackle the trade.	£399,203	Start: 01/07/2018 End: 31/03/2021	Challenge Fund Round 4
IWT055: Combatting illegal wildlife trade in the W-Arly-Pendjari (WAP) landscape	Benin, Niger	Zoological Society of London (ZSL)	Elephants, Lions and Cheetahs	This project will help strengthen the protection of wildlife.
