The Armed Forces Covenant

An Enduring Covenant Between

The People of the United Kingdom

Her Majesty's Government

– and –

All those who serve or have served in the Armed Forces of the Crown

And their Families

The first duty of Government is the defence of the realm. Our Armed Forces fulfil that responsibility on behalf of the Government, sacrificing some civilian freedoms, facing danger and, sometimes, suffering serious injury or death as a result of their duty. Families also play a vital role in supporting the operational effectiveness of our Armed Forces. In return, the whole nation has a moral obligation to the members of the Naval Service, the Army and the Royal Air Force, together with their families. They deserve our respect and support, and fair treatment.

Those who serve in the Armed Forces, whether Regular or Reserve, those who have served in the past, and their families, should face no disadvantage compared to other citizens in the provision of public and commercial services. Special consideration is appropriate in some cases, especially for those who have given most such as the injured and the bereaved.

This obligation involves the whole of society: it includes voluntary and charitable bodies, private organisations, and the actions of individuals in supporting the Armed Forces. Recognising those who have performed military duty unites the country and demonstrates the value of their contribution. This has no greater expression than in upholding this Covenant.

Section 1: Principles Of The Armed Forces Covenant

1.1 We Age UK Nottingham & Nottinghamshire will endeavour in our business dealings to uphold the key principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, which are:

- no member of the Armed Forces Community should face disadvantage in the provision of public and commercial services compared to any other citizen
- in some circumstances special treatment may be appropriate especially for the injured or bereaved.

Section 2: Demonstrating our Commitment

2.1 Age UK Nottingham & Nottinghamshire recognises the value serving personnel, reservists, veterans and military families bring to our business. We will seek to uphold the principles of the Armed Forces Covenant, by:

- promoting the fact that we are an armed forces-friendly organisation by publicising our Armed Forces Covenant commitments through our website and displaying it in our reception. We will display the Armed Forces Covenant logo on our website, publicity material and on our letterhead;
- our HR Team supporting the employment of veterans young and old and working with the support of the Career Transition Partnership (CTP), in order to establish a tailored employment pathway for Service Leavers. We will recognise military skills and qualifications when shortlisting and interviewing for new paid and voluntary positions;
- working with the CTP to offer Civilian Work Attachments to those who are in the process of leaving the military
- striving to support the employment of Service spouses and partners, ensuring that any recruitment process does not put them at a disadvantage. We will introduce volunteers and members of staff to their local Age UK if they need to move to accompany their partner;
- endeavouring to offer a degree of flexibility in granting leave for Service spouses and partners before, during and after a partner's deployment. We will offer special paid leave for employees who are bereaved or whose loved ones are injured;

- seeking to support our employees who choose to be members of the Reserve forces, including by accommodating their training and deployment where possible by offering additional unpaid leave, where possible and practicable;
- offering support to our local cadet units, either in our local community or in local schools, where possible such as offering placements for their Duke of Edinburgh's Award;
- aiming to actively participate in local Armed Forces Day events;
- providing volunteer support to veterans and their families via Forces Friends;
- co-ordinating the Nottinghamshire Veterans Information Network bringing charities that work with veterans together;
- supporting older veterans and their families to access funding and support

2.2 We will publicise these commitments through our literature and/or on our website, setting out how we will seek to honour them and inviting feedback from the Service community and our customers on how we are doing.
