If you are unable to accommodate yourself without the assistance of the Secretary of State, the exceptional circumstances in which bail accommodation may be provided are set out in the following guidance documents:

- Immigration Bail
- Immigration Bail Interim guidance

These documents are both published on GOV.UK: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/offender-management>.

If you consider that you meet the requirements set out in the guidance you can apply for accommodation using BAIL 409 - Application for Immigration Bail Accommodation (<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/application-for-immigration-bail-accommodation-exceptional-circumstances-article-3-echr-bail-409-form>).

You may be disqualified from renting private property because of your immigration status. To find out if you may have permission to rent, please enquire at your/their next reporting event, or see page 9 of the attached short guide: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/landlords-right-to-rent-checks-guide>

If you believe you have permission to rent, your landlord should request a check from the landlord checking service: <https://eforms.homeoffice.gov.uk/outreach/lcs-application.ofml>
