

Health of the Working Age Population

In 2018 in England, the employment gap between those with a long-term health condition and the overall employment rate was

11.5%

Employment rates

People with a long-term health condition in the UK say their health is a barrier to the type or amount of work they can do

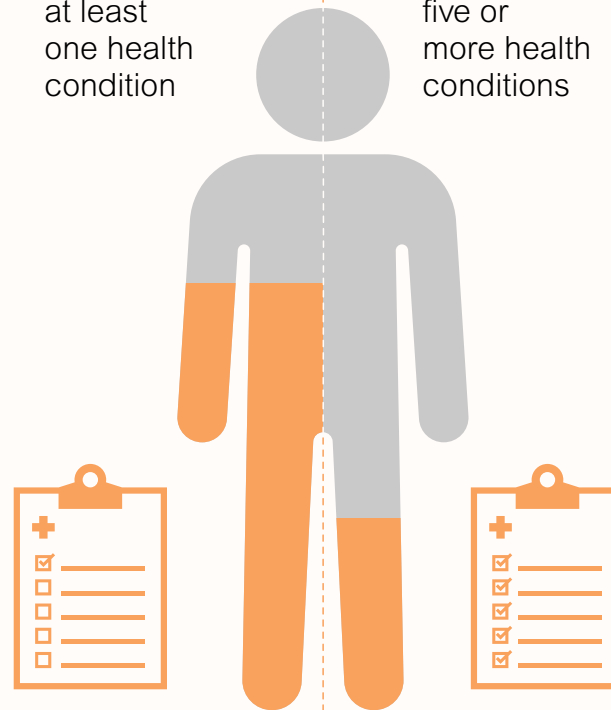

In 2019, employment rates of people with long-term health conditions

63%

at least one health condition

25%

five or more health conditions

The UK has an ageing population and workforce

There are over

9 million people

aged 50-64 in the UK who are employed

This number increased by more than 2 million since 2008

