Clarification: Harassment, Alarm or Distress

Public Order Act 1986 Sec 5

Where an identified victim other than a police officer confirms that they have been subject to harassment, alarm or distress (Sec 5), and there is no credible evidence to the contrary, a crime will be recorded. Where police officers find offenders committing this offence and they issue a warning and the behaviour stops and no further action is taken by the officers and there is no specific victim (other than the police officer) the offence should not routinely be recorded as a crime.

Where officers in response to such behaviour implement a local diversionary scheme (e.g. 'red' and 'yellow' card initiative) but no further action is taken and there is no specific victim (other than the police officer) the offence should not routinely be recorded as a crime.

Definition – Legal: Harassment, Alarm or Distress

Public Order Act 1986 Sec 4

“A person is guilty of an offence if he:

(a) uses towards another person threatening, abusive or insulting words or behaviour, or

(b) distributes or displays to another person any writing, sign or other visible representation which is threatening, abusive or insulting, with intent to cause that person to believe that immediate unlawful violence will be used against him or another by any person, or to provoke the immediate use of unlawful violence by that person or another, or whereby that person is likely to believe that such violence will be used or it is likely that such violence will be provoked.

Public Order Act 1986 Sec 4A

“A person is guilty of an offence if, with intent to cause a person harassment, alarm or distress, he:

(a) uses threatening, abusive or insulting words or behaviour, or disorderly behaviour, or

(b) displays any writing, sign or other visible representation which is threatening, abusive or insulting, thereby causing that or another person, harassment, alarm or distress.”

Public Order Act 1986 Sec 5

“A person is guilty of an offence if he:

(a) uses threatening or abusive words or behaviour, or disorderly behaviour, or

(b) displays any writing, sign or other visible representation which is threatening or abusive, within the hearing or sight of a person likely to be caused harassment, alarm or distress thereby.”
9A Public Fear, Alarm or Distress (2 of 3)

Classification 9A excludes harassment offences under 8L.

General Rule: One crime for each specific intended victim.

Example 1: An elderly person has a group of youths outside her house swearing and shouting. She goes out and asks the youths to move away, but she receives abuse which distresses her and the police are called.

One crime (class 9A).

Application of the Rule

A Police Officer has the right to question anyone when investigating an incident, however that person has no duty to respond and no offence is committed if they fail to do so, indeed the caution before questioning about an offence reminds them that they do not have to say anything. Case law, including DPP v Orum and Southard v DPP should be considered. Some language, whilst unpleasant often forms part of day-to-day speech and the use of swear words or offensive gestures, without any aggravating factors does not constitute a notifiable offence, particularly when the only parties present are members of the Police Force.

Example 1: A report of a disturbance is made via CCTV, which is over upon arrival. Whilst making reasonable enquiries, the investigating officer approaches a bystander, who swears at the officer. The officer advises the person about his language and is again sworn at. The officer is annoyed and/or irritated by the person's behaviour.

This is not a crime, unless accompanied by aggravating factors as the mere use of swear words towards the officer does not constitute a notifiable offence.

Example 2: A report of a disturbance is made via CCTV, which is over upon arrival. Whilst making reasonable enquiries, the investigating officer approaches one of several bystanders, who swears at the officer. The officer advises the person about his language and is again sworn at and there is evidence that other persons present were harassed, alarmed or distressed by the disorderly behaviour or it is likely that persons present would be, having regard to the time, place and circumstances of the incident.

An offence under class 9A may be a consideration. Any aggravating factors or how it was determined that the likelihood of harassment, alarm or distress being caused and the description or details of such persons should be recorded in auditable form.

Example 3: An officer is conducting a lawful search of a person on the street and whilst doing so, is verbally abused by the detainee, but there are no aggravating factors and no other offences revealed.

This is not a notifiable crime, unless accompanied by aggravating factors as the mere use of swear words does not constitute a notifiable offence.

Example 4: An officer is conducting a lawful search of a person on the street and whilst trying to do so, is verbally abused by an associate of the detainee, to the extent where he feels threatened by the language and conduct of the associate and is impeded in the search.

An offence under class 9A may be considered, if the conduct was such that an offence of ‘Obstructing a Constable’ (non-notifiable) is not the most appropriate offence.
9A Public Fear, Alarm or Distress (3 of 3)

Whether to record: see also General Rules Section A and coverage box on class 8L classification page.

Example 1: Man urinating in a public place. Although apparent that this is what he is doing, he is off a main thoroughfare, his penis is not visible and there are no aggravating factors, irrespective of the fact that passing members of the public may see him if they look in his direction.

This does not constitute an offence under the Public Order Act and should be dealt with in accordance with other relevant legislation.

Principal Crime: see also General Rules Section F

Where an offender is in the possession of an offensive weapon or an article with a blade or point and uses that weapon to make threats then an offence under 10C or 10D should be recorded provided the weapon has not been used in the commission of another notifiable offence.

Example 1: A man confronts youths outside his house swearing and shouting. He asks the youths to move along, but they pull out knuckle dusters and threaten him. The man runs back inside his house and calls the police.

One crime (class 10C).
9B Racially or Religiously Aggravated Public Fear, Alarm or Distress (1 of 2)

Classification 8M excludes offences under 9B.

Definition – Legal: Harassment, Alarm or Distress

Public Order Act 1986 Sec 4, 4A and 5.

See box on class 9A classification page.

Definition – Legal: Racially or Religiously Aggravated Harassment

Crime and Disorder Act Secs 31(1) & 32(1) (as added to by Anti-Terrorism, Crime and Security Act 2001 Sec 39).

31. (1) "A person is guilty of an offence under this Section if he commits-

a) an offence under Section 4 of the Public Order Act 1986 (fear or provocation of violence);

b) an offence under Section 4A of that Act (intentional harassment, alarm or distress); or

c) an offence under Section 5 of that Act (harassment, alarm or distress), which is racially or religiously aggravated for the purposes of this Section."

Section 31(1) does not require a course of conduct to exist.
9B  Racially or Religiously Aggravated Public Fear, Alarm or Distress (2 of 2)

Definition – Legal: Racially or religiously aggravated

Crime & Disorder Act 1998 Sec 28 (as added to by Anti-terrorism, Crime and Security Act 2001 Sec 39)

“(1) An offence is racially or religiously aggravated for the purposes of Sections 29 to 32 if-

(a) at the time of committing the offence, or immediately before or after doing so, the offender demonstrates towards the victim of the offence hostility based on the victim’s membership (or presumed membership) of a racial or religious group; or

(b) the offence is motivated (wholly or partly) by hostility towards members of a racial or religious group based on their membership of those groups.

(2) In subsection (1)(a) above-

"membership", in relation to a racial or religious group, includes association with members of those groups; "presumed" means presumed by the offender.

(3) It is immaterial for the purposes of paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (1) above whether or not the offender's hostility is also based, to any extent, on any other factor not mentioned in that paragraph.

(4) In this section "racial group" means a group of persons defined by reference to race, colour, nationality (including citizenship) or ethnic or national origins.

(5) In this section "religious group" means a group of persons defined by reference to religious belief or lack of religious belief.”

Classification 8M excludes offences under 9B.

General Rule:  One crime for each specific intended victim.

(where there is no specific intended victim, count only one crime).

Definition - Legal: Treason

Treason Act 1351

"... when a man doth compass or imagine the death of our Lord the King, or of our lady his Queen, or of their eldest son and heir; or if a man do violate the King's companion, or the King's eldest daughter unmarried, or the wife of the King's eldest son and heir; or if a man do levy war against our lord the King in his realm, or be adherent to the King's enemies in his realm, giving them aid and comfort in the realm, or elsewhere and thereof be provably attainted of open deed by the people of their condition ... and if a man slie the chancellor, treasurer or the King's justices ... assigned to hear and determine being in their places doing their offices."

Definition - Legal: Treason Felony

Treason Felony Act 1848

"If any person whatsoever shall, within the United Kingdom or without, compass, imagine, invent, devise or intend to deprive or depose our most gracious lady the Queen ... from the style, honour, or royal name of the imperial crown of the United Kingdom, or of any other of Her Majesty's dominions and countries, or to levy war against her Majesty ... within any part of the United Kingdom, or order by force of constraint to compel Her ... to change Her ... measures or counsels, or in order to, put any force or constraint upon, or in order to intimidate or overawe both houses or either house of parliament, or to move or stir any foreigner or stranger with force to invade the United Kingdom, or any other of Her Majesty's dominions or countries under the obeisance of Her Majesty ... and such compassings, imaginations, inventions, devices or intentions by any overt act or deed, ... " .

Legislation: Other Treason

There are various subsequent Treason Acts: 1695 (three-year limitation period), 1702 (acts to hinder the succession); 1795 (plots to kill, maim, imprison the sovereign, his heirs and successors); 1814 (death penalty). The Treason Act 1842, Section 2, makes it an offence to attempt to injure or alarm the sovereign by, for example, presenting or firing a gun or striking with an offensive weapon, or throwing any substance. The terms of the section are wide.
62A Violent Disorder (2 of 3)

Definition - Legal: Riot

Public Order Act 1986 Sec 1

(1) "Where 12 or more persons who are present together use or threaten unlawful violence for a common purpose and the conduct of them (taken together) is such as would cause a person of reasonable firmness present at the scene to fear for his personal safety ..."

(2) It is immaterial whether or not the 12 or more use or threaten unlawful violence simultaneously.

(3) The common purpose may be inferred from conduct.

(4) No person of reasonable firmness need actually be, or be likely to be, present at the scene.

(5) Riot may be committed in private as well as in public places ...".

Definition - Legal: Violent disorder

Public Order Act 1986 Sec 2

(1) "Where three or more persons who are present together use or threaten unlawful violence and the conduct of them (taken together) is such as would cause a person of reasonable firmness present at the scene to fear for his personal safety ..."

(2) It is immaterial whether or not the three or more use or threaten unlawful violence simultaneously.

(3) No person of reasonable firmness need actually be, or be likely to be, present at the scene.

(4) Violent disorder may be committed in private as well as in public places ...".

Examples

1: Fifteen people act in a riotous manner on one occasion.
   One crime of violent disorder (class 62A).

2: Six people act in a riotous manner on one occasion.
   One crime of violent disorder (class 62A).

3: Two people act in a riotous manner on one occasion.
   One crime of affray (class 66).

4: A group of over 12 people act in a riotous manner on three separate occasions.
   Three crimes of violent disorder (class 62A).

Application of the Rule: Riot and Violent Disorder

Injuries in a Riot or Violent Disorder: Where crimes of violence against the person are connected with either a riot or violent disorder, count them in addition to the crime of riot or violent disorder.

Example 1: Two people suffer intentional GBH, and 10 others ABH, in the course of a riot.
   One crime of violent disorder (class 62A), two crimes of wounding (class 5D), and 10 crimes of assault with injury (class 8N).

Example 2: Five people suffer intentional GBH, and three ABH, in the course of a violent disorder.
   One crime of violent disorder (class 62A), five crimes of wounding (class 5D), and three crimes of assault with injury (class 8N).

Whether to Record: see also General Rules Section A.

In the case of a public order incident where on the arrival of the police there is no continuing disorder and no specific intended victim, the incident will not be routinely recorded as a crime.

Reasonable enquiries should be undertaken to identify specific victims and secure any supporting evidence which would enable further police action in terms of arrest or summons. Where enquiries fail to identify any victim or produce supporting evidence the incident will remain as a crime related incident. Where police arrive at a scene and witness disorder, they will deal with the matter appropriately and where notifiable offences are apparent record a crime in accordance with the Home Office Counting Rules.

Definition - Legal: Affray

Public Order Act 1986 Sec 3

(1) "A person is guilty of affray if he uses or threatens unlawful violence towards another and his conduct is such as would cause a person of reasonable firmness present at the scene to fear for his personal safety.

(2) Where two or more persons use or threaten the unlawful violence, it is the conduct of them taken together that must be considered for the purposes of subsection (1).

(3) For the purposes of this Section a threat cannot be made by the use of words alone.

(4) No person of reasonable firmness need actually be, or be likely to be, present at the scene.

(5) Affray may be committed in private as well as public places."

Definition - Legal: Bomb Hoaxes

Criminal Law Act 1977 Sec 51

"A person who-

(a) places any article in any place whatever; or

(b) dispatches any article by post, rail or any other means whatever of sending things from one place to another, with the intention (in either case) of inducing in some other person a belief that it is likely to explode or ignite and thereby cause personal injury or damage to property ...".

66 Other offences against the State or public order (6 of 7)

General Rule: One crime for each specific, intended victim.

Example: A group of offenders send hoax bombs to three individuals.
Three crimes (class 66).

If no specific, intended victim, count one crime for each offender or group of offenders.

Example 1: A group of people are found to be producing racially inflammatory leaflets.
One crime (class 66).

Affray: One crime for each incident of affray. Where crimes of violence against the person are connected with an affray, count the violence against the person offences but not the affray.

Example 1: Two people cause an affray in the course of which:
(i) four people are assaulted.
Four crimes of assault (class 5D or 8N according to injuries sustained).
(ii) no-one is assaulted.
One crime of affray (class 66).
(iii) the two offenders sustain minor injuries, amounting to no more than grazes, scratches, abrasions, minor bruising, swellings, reddening of the skin, superficial cuts, or a ‘black eye’ during the commission of the affray.
One crime of affray (class 66). Do not count any assault separately. The minor injuries in this case are not considered to constitute a violence against the person offence.

(Note: This applies only where the police come across the incident, or a third party reports it and there has been no separate allegation of assault. Where a ‘call for service’ has been received alleging an assault, the assault should be recorded, even if the other parties submit counter allegations. Counter allegations of assault should be considered in line with current guidelines for recording these.)

Breach of Criminal Behaviour, Non Molestation Order or Restraining Order: All breaches of criminal behaviour orders, harassment injunctions/restraining or non molestation orders must be recorded as crimes in addition to any other crimes disclosed which must then be recorded in accordance with the provisions of the HOCR.

Example 1: A person enters a prohibited area identified in a Criminal Behaviour Order granted against him/her, and causes an affray whilst there.

Two crimes (class 66): one of breach of Criminal Behaviour Order (66/98) and one of affray (66/1).

If the condition of a Criminal Behaviour Order is not to commit a notifiable crime and such a crime is committed, count the notifiable crime and the breach of the Criminal Behaviour Order.

Example 1: A person burgles a house in breach of a Criminal Behaviour Order.
One crime of burglary - residential (class 28E) and one breach of a Criminal Behaviour Order. (class 66)
66 Other offences against the State or public order (7 of 7)

Bomb Hoaxes: In the case of bomb hoaxes record the crime based on the location of the offender unless this is unknown or cannot be traced.

Example 1: A person makes a hoax call that a bomb has been placed at a location in force area ‘A’. The origin telephone number shows this to be a telephone kiosk located in force area ‘B’.

One crime (class 66) recorded by force B location of suspect.

Example 2: A person makes a hoax call to a venue in force area ‘A’ that a bomb has been placed at that location. The origin telephone number is not logged or cannot be traced.

One crime (class 66) recorded by force A.

Whether to Record: see also General Rules Section A.

In the case of a public order incident where on the arrival of the police there is no continuing disorder and no specific intended victim, the incident will not be routinely recorded as a crime.

Reasonable enquiries should be undertaken to identify specific victims and secure any supporting evidence which would enable further police action in terms of arrest or summons. Where enquiries fail to identify any victim or produce supporting evidence the incident will remain as a crime related incident. Where police arrive at a scene and witness disorder, they will deal with the matter appropriately and where notifiable offences are apparent record a crime in accordance with the Home Office Counting Rules.

Example 1: An anonymous caller reports a disturbance outside a public house. On arrival, witnesses report a heated argument having taken place.

(i) No victim of violence (or persons acting on their behalf) can be traced. No other information is available. Register an incident in accordance with NSIR but do not record the crime.

(ii) Witnesses report that there was a fight, and further investigation locates a victim who confirms actual bodily harm.

One crime of assault - Sec 47 ABH (class 8N).

(iii) Several onlookers report acts threatening violence, and they confirm that they feared for their safety.

One crime of affray (class 66).

(iv) A caller reports being subjected to actual bodily harm in a nightclub. Police identify the ‘offender’, who makes a counter allegation of ABH. Witnesses saw the fight, but don’t know who started it.

One crime of assault - Sec 47 ABH (class 8N). The counter allegation should be considered in accordance with current guidance and, if reported by the victim, a second offence Recorded. As there has been a ‘call for service’ from a ‘victim’, recording an affray would not be appropriate.

Example 2: A supermarket receives an anonymous phone call from someone claiming to have poisoned some items of food there. A search reveals no evidence of this.

Record a crime under 99/99 – Threaten or claim to contaminate or interfere with goods with the intention of causing public alarm, anxiety, economic loss, etc. Public Order Act 1986 Sec 38(2).
