(3) Explanation of missed deadlines

In October 2010, the Department missed the following deadlines:

Deadline missed	Reason
Legislate through the Police Reform and Social Responsibility Bill (alcohol licensing)	Legislative timetables are provisional. We have adopted a cautious view of the timescales for delivering all legislative measures due to the unpredictability of pressures on Parliamentary time.
Legislate through the Police Reform and Social Responsibility Bill (directly elected individuals)
Introduce new system of temporary bans on new legal highs while health issues are considered by independent experts
Legislate through the Police Reform and Social Responsibility Bill (anti-social behaviour)	The Home Secretary set out the Government's direction on anti-social behaviour in her speech of 28 July. The Home Office has been working on implementing that vision so that police and other local agencies have the tools and powers to crack down on perpetrators. Work on the detailed proposals will be completed by the end of the year, with legislation to follow.
Develop options to pare back the police inspection and targets regime, especially targets and data requests imposed on the police by the Home Office	Proposals have been developed with HM Inspectorate of Constabulary and will be published in November 2010 as part of the Home Office response to the Policing in the 21 st Century consultation.

The status of missed deadlines from previous reports is:

Deadline missed	Status	Reason
Develop and consult on proposals to consolidate anti-social behaviour tools and powers to reduce complexity and provide effective interventions for police, local authorities and social landlords (Sep 2010)	Still not complete	The Home Secretary set out the Government's direction on anti-social behaviour in her speech of 28 July. We therefore delayed publication of our proposals, but are pressing ahead with operational change. We are allowing time for further discussions to take place, and we are testing options as we identify them during this time.
