

Application for a Gender Recognition Certificate (Overseas Legal Recognition Application)

Gender Recognition Act 2004

This form should only be used by applicants for a Gender Recognition Certificate who are applying on the basis that they have changed their legal gender under the law of an approved country or territory. Guidance on what constitutes legal recognition can be found on the GRP website.

A list of the approved countries or territories is available on our website and from the Gender Recognition Panel (GRP) administrative team. You should check the list to see whether you are eligible to use this application process. If your acquired gender HAS NOT been formally recognised under the law of a country or territory that appears on the list, you should not use this form to apply for a Gender Recognition Certificate you should use the form T450 'Standard Application for a Gender Recognition Certificate'.

Before you start, please read the document T455 'The General Guide for All Users' (The General Guide) which explains the gender recognition process.

Please note that the Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013 the Marriage and Civil Partnership (Scotland) Act 2014, The Civil Partnership (Opposite-sex Couples) Regulations 2019 and The Marriage (Same-sex Couples) and Civil Partnership (Opposite-sex Couples) (Northern Ireland) Regulations 2019 introduced significant changes into the gender recognition process, particularly for those who are married or in a civil partnership. The General Guide will explain the terms protected marriage and protected civil partnership and the options open to you.

Before completing the form, we recommend that you should read the document 'The General Guide' so that you are aware of the consequences of applying for a Gender Recognition Certificate and the options open to you, particularly if you are married or in a civil partnership.

The Guidance Notes (see 'Guidance on Completing the Application Form for a Gender Recognition Certificate – Overseas Legal Recognition Application') should answer most of the questions you may have. We recommend that you read the Guidance Notes before completing each section of the form. If you do find it difficult to complete on your own, you could ask a friend or someone from a support organisation to help you, or you can telephone the GRP administrative team on +44 (0) 2039368963.

You must complete sections 1, 2, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11 and EITHER section 3 or section 4, which ever applies to you and sections 7 or 8 if you are married or in a civil partnership.

Please use black ink when completing this form.

The information in this publication is available in alternative formats on request. Please contact the GRP administrative team on +44 (0) 2039368963 or grpenquiries@justice.gov.uk

4.5 Country or territory where your birth is registered

If you are unable to supply certain pieces of information in section 4, above, please use the box below to explain why (continue on additional paper if required and include it on the list of evidence you have supplied in section 10)

5. Overseas Recognition

You are applying on the basis of having formally changed gender under the law of a country or territory outside the UK that appears on the Gender Recognition Panel's list of 'approved countries or territories'. You must include documentary evidence of this with your application.

Please complete these boxes:

5.1 In which country or territory have you been legally recognised in your acquired gender?

5.2 What was the date of legal recognition?

You should list in section 10 the documentary evidence that you are providing to prove your statements in 5.1 and 5.2.

7. Marriage (please complete this section if you are currently married).

You may apply to the Gender Recognition Panel for a GRC while remaining married if:

- You were married under the law of England, Wales or Northern Ireland (your marriage is called a 'protected' marriage);
- Your marriage was solemnised in Scotland (your marriage is called a 'Scottish protected marriage');
- You were married under the law of a country or territory outside of the UK (your marriage is called a 'protected' marriage).

Your spouse will need to agree to the marriage continuing after your gender recognition by completing a statutory declaration.

7.1 Is your marriage a protected marriage or a Scottish protected marriage? Yes No

7.2. If your marriage is a protected marriage or a Scottish protected marriage do you and your spouse intend to remain married following your gender recognition Yes No

Please provide your original marriage certificate or a certified copy.

7.3 Has your spouse made a statutory declaration of consent? Yes No

7.4 If you answered Yes to 7.3, is it enclosed with this application? Yes No

Once section 7 is completed, please go to section 9.

8. Civil Partners

You may apply to the Gender Recognition Panel for a GRC while remaining in your civil partnership if:

- Your civil partnership was made under the law of England, Wales or Northern Ireland (your civil partnership is called a 'protected' civil partnership);
- Your civil partnership was made outside of the UK and is recognised as a civil partnership under the Civil Partnership Act 2004.

Your partner will need to agree to the civil partnership continuing after your gender recognition by completing a statutory declaration.

If your civil partnership was registered in Scotland it is possible for both partners to apply for a Gender Recognition Certificate at the same time. If successful you can be granted your full certificates together without the need to first end your civil partnership.

- 8.1 Is your civil partnership a protected civil partnership (registered in England, Wales, Northern Ireland or outside of the UK)? Yes No
If Yes proceed to 8.2
If No proceed to 8.5
- 8.2 Do you and your civil partner intend to remain in your protected civil partnership following your gender recognition? Yes No
If Yes please answer 8.3 and 8.4
- 8.3 Has your partner made a statutory declaration of consent? Yes No
- 8.4 If you answered Yes to 8.3 is it enclosed with this application? Yes No
- 8.5 Is your civil partnership protected Scottish civil partnership? Yes No
If Yes please answer 8.6
- 8.6 Are both you and your partner applying for gender recognition at the same time? Yes No

9. Payment

The fee for applying for a gender recognition certificate is outlined in a separate leaflet called T455 - 'The General Guide for all users'.

If you qualify for a fee remission you can complete the form EX160 - 'Apply for help with fees' on paper or online. The guide EX160A - 'How to apply for help with fees' can give you more information on how to apply.

If you fail to provide evidence, or the correct fee, your application will not be processed until the Gender Recognition Panel receives the correct documentation or payment.

9.1 Are you required to pay a fee of £5? Yes No, I'm applying for help with fees

Help with fees

11. Declarations

If your birth was registered in the UK, to process your application, the Gender Recognition Panel needs to pass your details to the relevant Registrar General. Similarly if your marriage or civil partnership was registered in England and Wales or Scotland and you are applying for gender recognition while remaining married or in a civil partnership, then the Panel will need to pass your details onto the appropriate Registrar General.

If you consent below, the Registrar General will contact you (if your application is successful) to inform you about options for your new birth certificate (and where appropriate a new marriage or civil partnership certificate).

I consent to the Registrar General contacting me in relation to the issue of a new birth/marriage/civil partnership certificate, as appropriate.

I certify that all the information given in this application is correct to the best of my knowledge. I understand that to make a false application is an offence.
