1. Code certificates were not issued between April 2007 and March 2008.

2. Certificates are awarded only to homes assessed and certified under the Code assessment process. Certificates can be issued at design stage and post construction stage. Each dwelling assessed may have both a design stage and a post construction certificate. It is also possible for a dwelling to have only a design stage or a post construction stage certificate.

3. A Code level 0 certificate is awarded to a dwelling that has been assessed against the criteria set out in the Code Technical Guide but that has not met one of the mandatory requirements or obtained the minimum number of points to achieve Code level 1.

4. The "Percentage of certificates issued at each level" figures are rounded and displayed as whole numbers therefore when manually added may not add to 100%.
