Freedom of Information request 2013-3220

Received 5th July 2013 Published 24th July 2013

Information request

Further to my initial question (https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/disability-living-allowance-claimants-with-other-benefits-who-are-affected-by-the-benefit-cap-26732013) can you please tell me:

- The breakdown of the 47,000 who would affected were they not exempt by local authority.

DWP response

The information you have requested can be found in the table below.

All households which include somebody who is receiving Disability Living Allowance (DLA) are exempt from the benefit cap. This is because DLA is awarded in recognition of the additional financial needs the recipient's disability can bring,

For the purposes of the benefit cap, a household or family unit refers to the benefit claimant, their partner (if they have one) and any child or qualifying young person for whom that adult or couple are treated as responsible when working out their Housing Benefit. It is possible, therefore, that in a household comprising two parents on benefit plus an adult child in receipt of DLA, there may be more than one household unit for the purpose of assessing whether the cap will apply - and that the unit comprising of parents receiving working age benefits would be capped.

Number¹ of those exempt from the household benefit cap (at both £350 and £500 cap limits) on the basis of their entitlement to Disability Living Allowance (DLA) by Local Authority: May 2013

Notes:

 Household numbers are rounded to the nearest 100. Areas with fewer than 100 households affected are denoted by "-" as additional disclosure control has been applied to these areas. For this reason figures may not sum to the total number of households estimated to be affected if the DLA exemption did not apply.
