Freedom Of Information Request: 0800-15

Thank you for your request for information which we received on 4 August 2015. In your request you asked:

Would it be possible to have a copy of the letter you sent to the Zimbabwe minister on the subject of the lion killing, [under the freedom of information act]?

I can confirm that the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) does hold information relevant to your request. I am pleased to enclose the letter which we can release to you.

Once an FOI request is answered, it is considered to be in the public domain. To promote transparency, we may now publish the response and any material released on gov.uk in the FOI releases section. All personal information in the letter will be removed before publishing.

The information supplied to you continues to be protected by the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including any non-commercial research you are doing and for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder. Most documents supplied by the FCO will have been produced by government officials and will be protected by Crown Copyright. To re-use Crown Copyright documents please consult the Open Government Licence v3 on the National Archives website.

Information you receive which is not subject to Crown Copyright continues to be protected by the copyright of the person, or organisation, from which the information originated. You must ensure that you gain their permission before reproducing any third party (non-Crown Copyright) information.

Please contact me if you have any queries about this letter.

Yours sincerely,

Illegal Wildlife Campaign Coordinator

We keep and use information in line with the Data Protection Act 1998. We may release this personal information to other UK government departments and public authorities.
