

Authority	Amount	Project description
Bedford	£134,546	No Recourse Accommodation Project: This funding will get migrant Eastern European rough sleepers off the streets tackling community concerns around encampments, community safety and anti-social behaviour. It will provide intensive support to migrants to engage with English language classes, access training and employment and secure long term accommodation.
Bexley	£819,000	A place for everyone - improving migrant data mapping and building community cohesion. The fund will help the borough gain more up-to-date information on the make-up of the local population. It will also support community building events and initiatives designed to help new residents settle, integrate and become self-sufficient. Community building activities will centre around existing communities too, in shared spaces. The project is aiming to increase understanding of the British way of life, increase all communities' contributions to Bexley's economy and increase civic participation and belonging.
Blackburn with Darwen	£261,994	Integrating Refugees and Migrants in Blackburn with Darwen: bid to improve English language in the migrant population and to provide additional temporary accommodation for migrants, thereby freeing up housing for the settled community. The grant will also fund a 'job club' to help migrants into training and education, which will relieve pressure on the services provided by the Job Centre to the resident population.

Bolton	£258,034	A project to target, deter and disrupt individuals responsible for the provision of poor quality housing and associated criminality to improve the quality of life for the local community affected by waste nuisance, overcrowding, noise and anti-social behaviour.
Bolton	£350,533	My Bolton Family: funding to carry out a range of cohesion activity in central Bolton, Brightmet and Tonge to encourage integration between communities and to reduce pressure on services.
Boston	£1,387,503	Inclusive Boston - A programme of projects aimed at bringing people together through sport, events and community assets; extending the availability of advice services; tackling rogue landlords and anti-social behaviour; strengthening community leadership and whole community volunteering opportunity and supporting the development of English language skills.
Bury	£80,000	Reducing the social impact of migration by improving partnership working with Police, Fire and Immigration Enforcement to tackle unsafe and poor quality housing, reduce fly tipping and anti-social behaviour and improve the area for all residents.
Camden	£530,586	Camden ESOL Advice Service: creating an overarching service for the delivery of ESOL across the borough and beyond . The service will result in improved English language skills in the migrant population, resulting in better community engagement and employment. The joined-up approach will also save the council money, time and resource which can be used to relieve pressures on services for the settled resident population. The project will also be used to assess the potential for a London wide solution.

Derby	£965,084	Work to undertake a population profile, tackle complex family issues and exploitation through an early intervention and support approach. Supporting migrants to understand social norms and expectations in the UK.
Enfield	£460,178	Operation Rogue Landlord: enforcement action against rogue landlords who exploit vulnerable people and families living in unsafe and poor housing conditions. Seeks to improve living standards for the private rented community; including reducing hazards; such as overcrowding, disrepair and fire and electrical safety issues, specifically in shared buildings. Prosecuting rogue landlords will also improve the public realm by reducing anti-social behaviour, noise, waste and criminal activity.
Fenland	£134,897	Wisbech Emergency Night Shelter – project to expand the Ferry Project Shelter by four beds and hire additional staff to provide an improved service to both settled community and migrant rough sleepers. This will redress a perception that the service is weighted towards supporting the Migrant cohort, and as a result will help reduce community tensions. The project aims to support clients into employment and training and to more efficiently access medical services, thereby reducing pressures on services to the resident community.

Fenland	£192,370	Private Sector Housing Enforcement, Operation Pheasant – a multi-agency partnership and Task Force to tackle poor housing conditions, organised crime, and gangmasters in Wisbech. This research and operation would result in enforcement action against rogue landlords and exploitative employment situations, thereby reducing anti-social behaviour, noise, waste and criminal activity in the neighbourhood. It will also reduce hazards in shared buildings where local people reside, including overcrowding, noise, sanitation, risk of fire and electrical issues.
Fenland	£136,000	Modern Day Slavery Support: identifying and supporting victims of exploitation and abuse by working with partners to signpost them to appropriate forms of support. This proactive and early intervention will reduce pressures on health and social services, saving time, money and resource to the benefit of the whole community. It will also create an improved and fairer employment market for both the migrant and the settled populations.
Fenland	£157,603	Parallel Lives project – identifying the Roma community across the East of England and improving their relationship with resident communities. This research will inform actions to help Roma communities engage with public services in a more efficient way, and to improve the relationship between settled and Roma communities. This will result in improving the safety and feel of the town, as well as reducing anti-social behaviour, crime and noise.

Gravesham	£303,500	Better Life: A project to improve community cohesion between the migrant and settled resident population in Gravesham through the provision of English language lessons, in partnership with the Romani Slovak Czech community group. This project will improve the atmosphere of the neighbourhood and reduce anti-social behaviour; improve migrants' opportunities to work and contribute to local economy; and reduce the amount of public money spent on interpreter costs, freeing up funds for other public services.
Hammersmith and Fulham	£80,000	Migrant Housing Initiative: Investigating the link between migration and private sector housing to better understand the communities in Hammersmith and Fulham. Landlords exploiting tenants by renting unsafe properties and anti-social behaviour will be tackled and this will address complaints and concerns from residents. Housing standards for all will improve as the private rented sector becomes better understood and any future interventions will be targeted and therefore more successful and efficient.
Hertfordshire	£516,359	Bringing Communities Together: ESOL learning for migrants with embedded learning on British values and culture connected with existing local events to bring communities together.

Hull	£400,000	Tackling environmental standards in central Hull. This area based project responds to resident and service providers concerns by improving environmental and housing standards across central Hull. There will be greater Council presence to hear concerns and respond to these quickly. Local people will be encouraged to work together to take long term ownership of their area, with Council support. Action will be taken against rogue landlords.
Islington	£289,240	Migrant Rough Sleepers Employment and Accommodation: A pilot across Barnet, Enfield and Haringey to support Central & Eastern European migrant rough sleepers to enter regularised employment and low-cost accommodation. This will reduce migrant rough sleeping and unregulated employment. This pilot will reduce money and time spent on the resource-intensive task of reducing the incidence of encampments, thereby freeing these resources for other public services to benefit the settled resident population. It will also result in greater community cohesion, migrant contribution to the local economy and a fairer job market for all.
Kingston	£338,529	Kingston's ESOL and Integration Programme: To respond to high net migration and inequalities in Kingston by increasing access to English language tuition, volunteering; promoting integration and the navigation of services thus reducing pressure on services and improving community cohesion.

Kirklees	£820,470	This funding will enable Kirklees to build on positive work so far to establish communities who work together and support each other as they settle into the area. It will enable a programme of activities to build language skills, an understanding and awareness of local culture, and provide support to schools with a larger number of new pupils with limited English.
Lambeth	£314,000	Identifying and Enforcing Poor Housing Standards in Rogue Landlords' Properties. This project will reduce anti-social behaviour, crime, noise and waste, all of which are current concerns of the resident population. Ensuring long term tenancies will promote cohesive communities and increasing safety in housing will benefit settled resident and migrant populations.
Leicester	£19,900	Real English in Action: Offering English in real life situations to Hard to Reach Migrant Groups in Leicester. The project will result in improved employability, well-being and integration of migrants, resulting in better community cohesion for all. Migrants will also be able to use public services more efficiently, thereby reducing the pressures on services to the settled resident population.
Leicester	£55,500	ESOL for All: Offering English to hard to reach migrant groups in Leicester through classroom based English language tuition in order to speed up their integration into Leicester's wider community.

Lewisham	£208,736	Lewisham Rogue Landlords Project: Funding for two full-time officers to gather evidence for the prosecution of rogue landlords whose criminal behaviour is causing misery both for tenants and neighbours. Prosecuting rogue landlords will reduce anti-social behaviour, noise, waste and criminal activity in Lewisham. It will also reduce hazards in shared buildings, including overcrowding, noise, sanitation, risk of fire and electrical issues.
Manchester City Council	£449,650	Talk English Plus – A project to improve English language provision across Greater Manchester enabling migrants to communicate more easily thus reducing pressure on services and improving social mixing and community cohesion.
Medway	£200,000	Community Plus: Aims to inform, improve and develop relationships between migrant and resident communities through English language workshops, peer mentor schemes and employment support.
Milton Keynes	£718,758	Managing the impact of migration on community cohesion in schools in Milton Keynes by: recruiting Parent Ambassadors in 12 schools to support newly arrived migrant family integration; improving schools' knowledge and understanding of the diverse local communities; and linking mainstream schools with supplementary schools. The improved cohesion, through migrants' improved understanding of British values and better use of English will increase community safety and reduce prejudice-based incidents.

Newham	£275,000	Dedicated rough sleeping coordinator to work with Immigration and Compliance teams, police, the voluntary sector and neighbouring boroughs to tackle migrant rough sleeping to improve the safety in the town, as well as reducing anti-social behaviour, crime and noise linked to rough sleeping. Migrant Outreach Worker Post to assess support needs, refer to appropriate services and work with Routes Homes Service. Research project to explore localised evidence of Modern Slavery and exploitation linked to migrant rough sleeping in Newham.
Norfolk	£885,248	Suffolk and Norfolk – Project Safety Network: protecting migrant victims of domestic violence who are falling through the net. The project will save local police, the health service and council homelessness teams time and money, thereby freeing them up to support the resident community and respond to other issues.
Oxford City	£409,319	Rogue landlords and rough sleeping: proposal to tackle private rented properties that are not covered by the selective licensing scheme for HMOs, unlawful dwellings (“beds in sheds”) and encampments. Tackling these issues will improve the safety, look and feel of the town, as well as reducing anti-social behaviour, crime and noise.
Oxford City	£60,000	Data and evidence gathering: proposal to undertake research into modern slavery and trafficking and produce a report on the actions that should be taken to ensure more efficient and effective delivery of public services for the settled resident and migrant populations.

Oxford City	£308,535	ESOL and Cohesion: provision of English language lessons and other cohesion activities, to reduce pressure on services by improving migrants' understanding of how to use them efficiently.
Peterborough	£288,350	Shared Vision: to provide improved access to Citizens Advice Bureau (CAB) services to the established resident community in Peterborough. This additional resource is vital at a time when people are struggling to gain access to the advice service due to the growth in the population of the city and corresponding rising demand. Shared Vision will provide new advice services out in the community, based in GP Surgeries and community settings so that the resident community can quickly access the help they need in their local area.
Peterborough	£250,436	Rough Sleeper Support Services: To reduce the impacts of rough sleeping on our communities, including perceived fear of crime and ASB, and improve outcomes for EEA nationals who are rough sleeping by providing outreach support to enable them to leave the streets.
Reading	£390,181	A project to improve English language skills of the migrant population so that local skills shortages in the area can be addressed and job vacancies filled, to benefit the local economy.
Rochdale	£179,776	Operation Maverick - a partnership Enforcement team to disrupt and tackle rogue landlords and businesses, associated criminal activity and illegal immigration creating safer and more attractive neighbourhoods for everyone.

Sandwell	£337,054	Tackling Rogue Landlords who exploit vulnerable migrant communities living in very poor quality accommodation and protecting established resident communities through an area-based approach to controlling the private rented sector.
Sheffield	£835,000	Sheffield Community Investment Deal – community based project located in marginalised communities in North-East and East Sheffield, responding to concerns from local people with more on the ground officers, better organised local services and engaging established and new communities through community development initiatives to improve their areas.
South Holland	£127,250	The project will create safer and stronger communities by recruiting Community Wardens to work in identified hot spot areas of persistent actual and perceived anti-social behaviour which cause continued concern to residents. The wardens will support community cohesion through enforcement and education creating a greater awareness of expected behaviour and laws and legislation.
Southampton	£161,976	English as a Second Language: Project for ESOL provision in Bargate, Bevois and Freemantle areas of the City using providers from the Council's current framework agreement.
Southwark	£240,000	Southwark migration project - promoting mutual understanding of the diverse cultures in the borough and helping those with English as a second language to gain the skills they need for employment.

Tower Hamlets	£530,800	Welcome to Tower Hamlets: An integration and cohesion focused programme that connects with new migrant arrivals and so helps to reduce immediate pressures on local public services. Welcome packs introduce new arrivals to life in the borough, informing them about new social norms and expectations in order to help them adjust to different communities. English language lessons assist people in getting more involved with their wider community, and they also encourages better integration. Volunteering opportunities mean that migrants have the opportunity join in and to contribute in the borough.
Wakefield	£393,834	Community Harmony – Wakefield. The resident community have reported concerns around worsening street scene, increasing intolerance, hate crime and overcrowded housing. This programme centres on central Wakefield. This project will challenge problem landlords, ensure more migrants can speak English and improve relations between young communities through youth work and volunteering to make the streets presentable reducing community tensions and creating an inclusive and supportive community feeling in the target area.
Walsall	£665,551	Walsall People: a multi-themed proposal to support better community integration in Walsall; improve the living environment; improve educational attainment; safeguard some of the most vulnerable; reduce fly tipping; reduce anti-social behaviour and improve the private landlord housing provision delivered through a strong community sector and public sector partnership.

Waltham Forest	£1,015,080	Managing the Impact of Migration to Waltham Forest: Encouraging integration through community conversation classes, cracking down on rogue landlords and tackling rough sleeping. This project will improve the safety of the town, as well as reducing anti-social behaviour, crime and noise. It will also reduce hazards in shared buildings where local people reside, including overcrowding, noise, sanitation, risk of fire and electrical issues.
Westminster	£400,746	Through the funding of a multi-agency housing enforcement team, Westminster will use new and innovative methods to pro-actively identify poorly managed premises, expose rogue landlords and rogue lettings agents, and illegal migrant residences. There will be a focus on helping 'hard to reach' migrant communities being exploited in Houses in Multiple Occupation (HMO), and the team through targeted education programmes and increased intelligence-led enforcement, will improve the living standards for tenants and the surrounding community.
Worcester City	£291,120	Tackling the hidden issues faced by migrants across Worcestershire: Worcestershire will build intelligence to form a comprehensive approach to tackling rogue landlords; to take action against the hidden issues that migrants face.
