FYI

REDACTED, just getting our response signed off which I'll send to you.
Important point - this hasn't closed the station down - it is in commissioning phase and due to generate commercially at end of year. West burton A station (coal) is generating as normal although one unit is on planned outage

Please see below and attached a transcript from BBC Radio Nottingham this morning, as requested.

BBC Radio Nottingham, News, Mon, 29 October 2012, 08:00:00 – 08:00:46

Duration: 0.46

Interviewer/ee details: Presenter, Hannah Meredith

Presenter: Five people have been arrested at a Nottinghamshire power station on suspicion of trespass. More than 10 people who are thought to be climate protestors have attached themselves to water towers at West Burton Power Station. Hannah Meredith reports.

Hannah Meredith: The protestors from a group called 'No Dash For Gas' gained access to the site around 1:20 this morning. Five people have been detained on suspicion of aggravated trespass. The group says up to 17 people have climbed two water towers and attached themselves to the structures. Searches are ongoing to find others who may have gained access. West Burton Power Station is due to open a new turbine, which it claims is greener and they plan it later this week. We have contacted EDF Energy which runs the plant, now waiting for a response. Police are yet to comment further.

Kind regards,
