

I've got something to say

The statements below are from actual victims who communicated with their offenders. The victims explained to their offenders the effect the crime had on them in a process called Restorative Justice. Here is what they said...

When we spoke,
I told the offender how his crimes impacted
my whole life.

Meeting my offender
gave me the opportunity to tell him how I felt.

Restorative Justice
helped me move forward
with my life.

Restorative Justice
meant that my voice
was heard.
