

1) how many driving tests Cat B, were taken in the UK last year ?

2) what % of the tests taken were zero faults ?

Please find at Annex B a report providing statistics for Category B driving tests conducted in the UK for the last financial year (1 April 2011 to 31 March 2012).

In interpreting the report, you may find the following supporting information helpful.

- 1) The information in this report shows where no driver faults have been marked but the driver may have failed on a serious or dangerous fault.
- 2) The attempts count used in this report will include pass, fail and no results and may also include other categories apart from car where that category of test was taken prior to a car test.
- 3) The number of attempts is based on the driver number. If a driver changes their driver number (e.g. due to name change, loss of licence, etc.) the count of attempts will start again on the new driver number.
