

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: 17 May 2013 14:10
To: Pubs Consultation Responses
Subject: Comment Additional to Online Response

Hi,

I think that the threshold number of premises for identifying pubcos should initially be 500 as suggested by the government. However, it seems sensible to reduce this number after any system is established to include smaller pubcos. I'd suggest reducing the threshold to 100 after two years and reduce it to 50 after a further two years.

Regards

This email was received from the INTERNET.

Communications via the GSi may be automatically logged, monitored and/or recorded for legal purposes.
