

Evidence and a breakdown of your expenses with regard to the costs you state you have incurred due to my daughter being unable to take her car theory test

The car theory test fee of £31 is set by DSA and agreed by Ministers. The fee comprises of the amount we pay Pearson to deliver each theory test and our costs of theory test contract management, quality assurance of the theory test, theory test development as well as administration and support for the theory test.

We do not hold any information about how the fee we pay Pearson Vue is allocated to business expenses so we are therefore unable to supply this. We do hold details of how much of the £31 test fee is paid to Pearson Vue, but, this information is exempt from release under section 43 (commercial interests) of the Freedom of Information Act. A copy of this exemption and the required public interest test is attached at Annex B.

The information supplied to you continues to be protected by copyright. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including for private study and non-commercial research, and for any other purpose authorised by an exception in current copyright law. Documents (except photographs) can be also used in the UK without requiring permission for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder.

Most documents supplied by the Driving Standards Agency will be protected by Crown Copyright. Most Crown copyright information can be re-used under the Open Government Licence (<http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence/>). For information about the OGL and about re-using Crown Copyright information please see The National Archives website - <http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/information-management/uk-gov-licensing-framework.htm> .

Copyright in other documents may rest with a third party. For information about obtaining permission from a third party see the Intellectual Property Office's website at www.ipo.gov.uk.