

The number of serious and dangerous faults incurred against each of the top 10 reasons for failing a car practical test at Lower Gornal, Stafford, Wednesbury and Wolverhampton driving test centres in 2010/11

At Annex B, you can find the number of serious and dangerous faults incurred against each of the top 10 reasons for failing a car practical test at Lower Gornal, Stafford, Wednesbury and Wolverhampton driving test centres in 2010/11. You should note that a candidate can incur more than one of these faults on a test and the figures provided do not equal the number of candidate that failed their test.

Please note that the top 10 reasons for failing a car practical test is based on serious and dangerous faults incurred on the car practical test. It does not take into account those candidates that failed the car practical test because they incurred 16 or more driver (more minor) faults with no serious or dangerous faults committed.

The information supplied to you continues to be protected by copyright. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including for private study and non-commercial research, and for any other purpose authorised by an exception in current copyright law. Documents (except photographs) can be also used in the UK without requiring permission for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder.

Most documents supplied by the Driving Standards Agency will be protected by Crown Copyright. Most Crown copyright information can be re-used under the Open Government Licence (<http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence/>). For information about the OGL and about re-using Crown Copyright information please see The National Archives website - <http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/information-management/uk-gov-licensing-framework.htm> .

Copyright in other documents may rest with a third party. For information about obtaining permission from a third party see the Intellectual Property Office's website at www.ipo.gov.uk.