

1) The number of large goods vehicle (LGV) tests conducted from 10 September 2009 to date broken down by modules one to four

The number of LGV tests conducted from 10 September 2009 to 31 December 2010 broken down by module are:

Module 1 – theory test multiple choice	33,465
Module 1 – theory test hazard perception	33,278
Module 2 – theory test case study	11,993
Module 3 – practical test	54,446
Module 4 – practical safety demonstration	6,425

These figures are correct as of 27 January 2011.

2) The number of LGV drivers expected to go through Driver Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC) before the cut off date in 2014

The business case for Driver CPC estimated that 590,000 LGV drivers were anticipated to require a Driver CPC card. It should be noted that this is an estimated figure as no one, including industry trade associations, has been able to provide a definitive figure or a better estimate of the driver population.

This information has also been released as part of response to FOI request IA/02273/10, question 11 and is available to download on the DSA website:

<http://www.dft.gov.uk/dsa/General.asp?nc=9UOX&id=17395&cat=748>.

3) The number of driver qualification cards issued to date

The total number of driver qualification cards issued between 10 September 2009 and 31 December 2010 is 23,142. This figure is for all entitlements and includes initial qualification, periodic training, replacement cards and corrected/amended cards. This figure is correct as of 27 January 2011.

The information supplied to you continues to be protected by copyright. You are free to use it for your own purposes, including for private study and non-commercial research, and for any other purpose authorised by an exception in current copyright law. Documents (except photographs) can be also used in the UK without requiring permission for the purposes of news reporting. Any other re-use, for example commercial publication, would require the permission of the copyright holder.

Most documents supplied by the Driving Standards Agency will be protected by Crown Copyright. Most Crown copyright information can be re-used under the Open Government Licence (<http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence/>). For information about the OGL and about re-using Crown Copyright information please see The National Archives website - <http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/information-management/uk-gov-licensing-framework.htm> .

Copyright in other documents may rest with a third party. For information about obtaining permission from a third party see the Intellectual Property Office's website at www.ipo.gov.uk.